(2) If the policy is not paid up, then the capitalized value of the pension will be deducted from the face value of the policy and instead, the beneficiary will receive the paid-up value of the portion deducted, plus the excess, if any, of the face amount of the insurance over the capitalized value of the pension. If the policy has been in force at least six months and the beneficiary is the wife or husband or children, or both, of the insured, at least $500 will be paid as well as the paid-up value of the remainder.

WHO MAY BE NAMED AS A BENEFICIARY?

Where the insured is married, the beneficiary must be the wife or husband, or children, or both. If the veteran is single, the beneficiary must be the future wife or husband, with a parent, brother or sister, named as a contingent beneficiary to receive the insurance money should the veteran die unmarried.

CAN RE-ESTABLISHMENT CREDIT OR PENSION BE USED FOR VETERANS INSURANCE?

Yes, this is one of the purposes for which the re-establishment credit may be used. Premiums may be deducted from pensions also, if requested.

IF THE VETERAN BECOMES TOTALLY DISABLED, WHAT HAPPENS?

If this occurs before the veteran reaches the age of sixty years and he is not in receipt of full pension for the disability, no further premiums need be paid.

ARE THERE ANY RESTRICTIONS AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE, OR OCCUPATION?

In addition to being free of occupational restrictions, the insurance also is free of restrictions as to travel and residence.

EXAMPLES OF MONTHLY PREMIUMS PER $1,000 INSURANCE

AGE	Payable for 10 years	15 years	20 years	Payable till age 65	Payable till age 85

ALBERTA FOLKLORE QUARTERLY—

THERE HAS RECENTLY come off the press the first issue of a new publication "Alberta Folklore Quarterly," published by the University of Alberta. It is intended by the aid of this quarterly publication to keep alive some of the early stories and records of the early experiences of a number of our first settlers. The book is not without humor, for among other things it relates some of the tall stories pertaining to the early days. As a change of diet for this column (it is spring anyway) we are reprinting two or three of the stories in the hope, if not expectation, that like a spring tonic the reading of them may be a help in shaking off that morbid feeling which the end of winter usually produces.

> "The most famous tall story in Alberta is probably the chinook yarn often attributed to Dave McDougall, once of Morley, and to Fred Stimson, once of Pekisko.
> In the Dave McDougall version witnesses claim that he said: "One day I was traveling by sleigh from Morley to Calgary. The snow was mighty deep. I was half way to Calgary when I saw a chinook was slippin' up behind me. I whipped up the hoss, but the faster we went the harder blew the warm wind. 'Twas all I could do to keep the front runners on the snow . . . lookin' back I saw my little dog swimmin' along behind."
> Or as a variant, Dave might relate: "I was goin' one mighty cold day from Morley to Calgary in my wagon. I was sittin' up in front drivin', and a squaw was ridin' in the back end of the rig. I felt a chinook slippin' up behind us, and by drivin' like blazes I kept ahead o' the wind. When we got to Calgary I had frozen feet, but the squaw had a sun stroke."

In an article by J. K. Macdonald entitled "Klondikers" appears the following:

> "It was natural, however, that healthy bodies and active minds should have some outlet sometimes. One form this outlet took was the playing of practical jokes. Of these, one was "pulling the badger". In those unenlightened days before we had the benefits of a higher civilization or knew there were such things as depressions or the dole there were places called "bars", at last so I have been told. Those were places where (allegedly) unregenerate men gathered to partake of alcoholic refreshment, and it was to these bars the practical joker turned to find his prey. Assume an innocent citizen (if it were possible for anyone in such a place to be entitled to be called "innocent" to be quietly partaking of what in those days was the equivalent to the modern coca-cola or chocolate sundae, and that up to him came floating several cheerful and loquacious souls.
> "Have you seen him?" asks one. "The finest wild animal of his type I ever saw. You sure have to be careful, though, he doesn't get at you." This goes on until the innocent citizen, his curiosity aroused, asks what it's all about. "Why, haven't you seen the badger?" "No, what badger?" The cheerful ones explain that in a stable near the Columbia Hotel, about a block away, there is a wonderful specimen of a badger, probably the largest and handsomest ever seen, and one he should not, must not, miss seeing.
> His curiosity further aroused, the innocent one is escorted to the stable where in its dark interior there is faintly to be seen a barrel lying on its side; from a stake near its open end a stout chain disappears into the interior. "He's denned up inside," say the cheerful ones. "You'll have to pull him out, but be careful." With many warnings to see that the beast does not spring on him, the victim seizes the chain, gives it a terrific pull, and at the same time springs far back to safety. From the barrel there comes clattering at the end of the chain not a badger, but a battered metal receptacle which shall be nameless except to say that it is purely an article of bedroom utility. The victim, realizing that it is "on him," leads the way back to the bar to purchase absolution and to help gang up on the next likely-looking prospect."

An article entitled "Some Northern Trails" by Norman Soars, gives us the following:

> "What is folklore? How old or how oft repeated does a story have to be before it can be regarded as a folk tale. Perhaps this depends partly on the historical background of the country from which it comes.
> In most of Alberta, our history goes back little more than one hundred and fifty years, so that some of the stories of the early days of the railroads can almost be regarded as folklore. The story, for instance, of the lady on the E.D. & B.C. train that, on one celebrated occasion, took two weeks to reach Edmonton has been repeated often enough. When the lady told the conductor that she must get to the city, he replied that she should not have got on the train "in that condition." Her retort was that she hadn't.

The writings in Folklore Quarterly are not all light and humorous, there is much interesting historical material, which, lacking a publication of this kind would gradually slip into oblivion and be forever lost.

AN EASTER THOUGHT

The frosted gates of Springtime swing ajar,
While wolves of winter linger round the zone,
And nature waits for breezes from afar,
To softly whisper through the regions lone.

But hope pervades the early beams of morn,
That joy and strength may crown the mid-day hour,
And kindly bloom make bright the path forlorn,
While light and warmth reveal increasing power.

So may the Easter morn bright vistas hail,
New paths of service and unselfish love,
The faith to grasp the Hand that does not fail,
The task below, unstinted grace above.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT'S BANG'S DISEASE CONTROL POLICY

Farmers and stock owners, who wish to have their calves vaccinated under the Alberta Government Bang's Disease Control Policy, should complete the application forms and sent to the office of the Provincial Veterinarian, Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, not later than May 1st for spring inoculations, and not later than October 1st for fall inoculations.

It has been decided that vaccinations under this Policy will be done during two months of the year only. Stock owners should get in touch with their nearest qualified veterinarian or their District Agriculturist for further information.

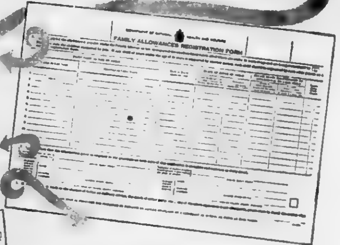
REGISTER NOW for FAMILY ALLOWANCES

Family Allowances will be paid every month for every eligible child under 16 years of age. First cheques will be mailed in July, 1945. Family Allowances are being paid to help parents in the care of their children, to help pay for medical, dental and nursing services—for better food, clothing and shelter, and to assist in equalizing opportunities for all children.

Registration forms have been mailed to every family. Fill in your form as soon as received. It is very simple—only seven questions—and information is given below to help you complete the form accurately. Do it right away in the interests of your children, as cheques can only be mailed to those eligible families which have completed and returned the Registration Form.

If you do not receive a form through the mail, please ask for one at the nearest Post Office.



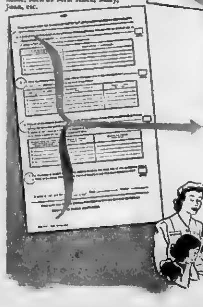
QUESTION 1. PRINT IN BLOCK LETTERS (LIKE THIS) the names of your children under 16. Write out the month of birth, then give day and year. Write name of place where each child was born. Complete each line by stating your relationship to child and if father and mother are applying, fill in both "relationship" columns.

QUESTION 2. Here the father and mother must both sign if both are at home. Then give the address to which cheques should be mailed. PRINT THIS IN BLOCK TYPE (LIKE THIS) under both signatures. The mother should not sign her husband's first name. She should sign her own first name, such as Mrs. Alice, Mary, Joan, etc.

QUESTION 3. If only one person has signed under question 2, state the reason why the other signature cannot be given. Give details—don't say Father or Mother is "away"—state where and for how long.

QUESTIONS 4, 5, 6 and 7 on the other side of the form must also be answered either "Yes" or "No". If the answer is "No" to questions 4, 5 or 6, state details giving name of child, or children concerned. In the case of No. 5, if you have any children under 16 not living with you, list their names, give the reason and the complete address at or where they can be visited. If the answer to No. 7 is "Yes", give the details required.

INCOME TAX: So that nobody will benefit from both Family Allowances and a full income tax deduction for their children, the income tax deductions for children will be reduced by the amount received from Family Allowances. Parents, therefore, have the choice of claiming—or not claiming—Family Allowances. Those uncertain as to whether or not they will benefit are advised to apply for the Family Allowance.



PARENTS YOU ARE HELPING YOUR CHILDREN WHEN YOU REGISTER FOR FAMILY ALLOWANCES multiply by millions!

You've often watched the teller stamp your cheque. Every day, in every branch of every bank in Canada, cheques are being scrutinized, stamped and recorded. During the war years, this daily flow of cheques through your bank has swollen to a torrent. Deposit accounts are more numerous and active than ever before. This increase reflects the tremendous activity of Canadian life and business. Production, purchases and payrolls have all reached record levels.

In addition, three-quarters of a million men and women in the armed services must get their pay, and their dependents receive allowances regularly.

The handling of this wartime volume of cheques is quite apart from numerous special services which the banks have undertaken—the delivery of millions of Victory Bonds and the sale of countless War Savings Certificates; ration coupon banking; subsidy payments to producers; foreign exchange operations.

Yet all this extra work has been carried out at a time when new help has had to be trained to take the place of more than 8,500 bank workers now in uniform.

ATTENTION FARMERS

Since the infestation of Canadian Thistle on the lake shore areas within the M.D. of Beaver, No. 72, has been a concern to the farmers throughout the district, arrangement has been made through the Agricultural Service Board to give some attention to this problem. The Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture is prepared to supply a certain quantity of suitable grass and legume seeds to seed down the infested areas. The Municipality of Beaver has undertaken to give some assistance in the matter of personnel. Therefore, any farmer residing within the M.D. of Beaver who has a Canadian Thistle problem on the lake shore adjoining his land, may write to the office and ask that assistance be given to him. It is hoped that those farmers wishing to take advantage of the policy should write during the month of April or at the latest, the first week in May, explaining their case. Upon receipt of these applications the District Agriculturist and a Weed Fieldman will visit the areas concerned. It is expected that the farmers will prepare the seed bed. Seed will be provided and the area seeded down under the supervision of the Weed Fieldman.

Farmers writing in to the office for this assistance should give the legal location of their land and the lake shore of which they want seeding to be done. State the acreage involved.

M.D. BEAVER, No. 72.

COMMUNITY LEAGUE

The April Meeting of the league was held in the Town Hall Tuesday, 3rd. The president, Mr. Chandler was in the chair.

R. Harrison, A. Bigland, and Ed. Kallal were elected as a committee to further the membership of the league, also it was moved by W. Bellamy and seconded by A. Elliott that ladies be taken into the league as members.

It was reported that the Pictures taken at the Farm Mechanics school have been published in Farm Magazines and thus Tofield has received publicity all over Alberta. These pictures will later be shown as movies through the Department of Agriculture promotion schemes.

The report on the carnival was given and the net proceeds of $462.20 was realized, a full report of the carnival appears at the end of this.

Further discussion on Hall plans. These plans have not come back from the architect and a special meeting will be called as soon as these plans are received. Moved by R. Burchard, seconded by W. Bellamy, that we call the Hall, Tofield Memorial Hall. Carried.

A Committee composed of A. Elliott, H. Chandler and S. Sears, was appointed to arrange a Supper Meeting for Wednesday, April 11th.

M.D. Beaver Have Two Day Session

The M.D. of Beaver held its statutory meeting on Tuesday, April 3, continuing to Wednesday, April 4th.

The report of the returning officer, Mr. N. Solberg was given, in which it was announced that for division two Mr N. Laskosky had been elected, for division three Mr. E. A. Moen has been re-elected by acclamation, and for division six, Mr. Wm. Lucas had been re-elected. Mr. W. D. Bruce was elected a member of the Vegreville Hospital Board.

There were present at the meeting Reeve Anderson; Councillors Giebelhaus, Laskosky, Lucas, Moen, Ovens and Swabey.

It was mentioned that arrangements had not been made for the election of a member for the Viking hospital district. The present member it was understood is willing to continue and it is likely that through the Department of Municipal Affairs arrangements will be made for him to do so.

The election of reeve then occupied the attention of the council.

Councillor Moen moved that Reeve Anderson continue as Reeve.

Councillor Giebelhaus moved that Councillor Ovens be nominated for reeve.

Councillor Lucas moved that nominations close.

A secret ballot was taken and resulted in four votes for Anderson and three votes for Ovens.

Councillor Ovens immediately congratulated Reeve Anderson on his re-election.

Reeve Anderson expressed his thanks to council saying that he hoped he would do better this coming year as reeve than he did last year and asked for the support and co-operation of all the councillors.

Councillor Giebelhaus spoke regarding the reeveship saying that he believed the office of reeve should be based on seniority of service.

Councillor Ovens moved that the election of Reeve Anderson be unanimous. The motion carried unanimously.

Reeve Anderson formally congratulated Councillors Lucas and Moen on being re-elected and welcomed the new member, Councillor Laskosky, to the council table.

Councillor Lucas moved that Councillor Moen be deputy reeve for the ensuing six months.

Councillor Laskosky moved that Councillor Ovens be deputy-reeve for the ensuing six months.

Councillor Swabey moved that nominations close.

The voting resulted in Ovens 5, Moen 1 and Councillor Ovens was declared deputy reeve.

On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus, the second Friday of each month will be the regular meeting day.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens, the matter of electing standing committees was tabled.

The minutes of the previous meeting were adopted as read.

Regarding banking arrangements it was stated that last year the office used the Treasury Branch for treasury vouchers received in payment of taxes and also for most local accounts. The question of exchange on school requisition cheques was discussed at some length. It was suggested that an amount sufficient to take care of school requisition cheques be kept on deposit with the Royal bank at Holden. If this was done a saving of approximately one hundred dollars in exchange would be effected. In discussion it was brought out that while a saving in exchange could be made by opening an account at Holden it was also possible that some exchange privileges granted by the Bank of Montreal would be lost.

Councillor Moen moved that we carry on our banking the same as we did last year.

Councillor Ovens moved that we deposit enough money in the Royal Bank at Holden to take care of the school requisition cheques.

Councillor Swabey moved that the banking and exchange question be tabled in order to get further information.

Councillor Swabey's motion carried.

Letter from Dept of Municipal Affairs stating that the M.D. now had a new number. In the renumbering of the M.D's of the province, M.D. of Beaver's number was now 72.

Letter from Department of Public works acknowledging request for road grant decided upon at the last meeting. The request was for $22,000.00.

Patriquin & Johnston wrote accepting the appointment of auditors for 1945 and banking council for same.

Dept of Munitions and Supply saying they were unable to sanction the purchase of an Adams grader.

Another communication stated that the Austen patrol grader recently ordered was also unprocurable.

Letter from Dept. of Lands and Mines referring to the appointment of honorary fire guardians. Last year councillors were appointed.

Moved by Councillor Ovens that members of council be honorary fire guardians with power to appoint assistants if necessary.

It was decided to order eight cases of gopher poison which will be distributed throughout the M.D.

Adjournment for lunch.

Reconvening:

Mr Hafso of Viking representing a gravelling company of that town interviewed council regarding gravelling contract. Council were unable to state specifically just how many miles it intended to gravel as the government grant had not yet been announced. However a sufficient mileage was agreed upon so that Mr. Hafso could make out a contract.

Dr. Cutsungavich, M.H.O., of Holden interviewed council and spoke regarding a dental service to be given to school children within the M.D. He said that 60 to 80 per cent of the children require dental treatment. He suggested that the council sponsor and finance a program that would involve the engagement of a full time dentist, the approximate cost of everything being $8000.00. The school board, he said, apprehensive of a large mill rate had rejected the suggestion. The doctor spoke at some length and council promised to give it further consideration.

Messrs. Bruce and McCauley of Tofield and Mr. Stambaugh of Bruce interviewed council on behalf of the Victory Loan committee. Mr. Stambaugh gave an enthusiastic talk saying that the money was available in the bank accounts of Canadian citizens and was really needed to carry on the war to a successful conclusion and to bring the last Canadian boy home.

Mr Bruce said the central committee were asking 16 per cent more from individuals in this campaign than it did in the last. The large companies and financial institutions had already put the bulk of their reserves into Victory Bonds. Buying Victory Bonds was using the money and saving it at the same time. All banks will loan money on Victory Bonds as security at three and a half per cent. The bonds draw three per cent.

Mr. McCauley said the two previous speakers had covered the subject quite fully and he would like to thank the M.D. for the support it had given the war finance committee in previous loans and hoped for generous support in the coming loan campaign.

Councillor Laskoski asked the delegation what the commission to salesmen was, saying he had been told that it was a good thing for the salesmen.

Mr. Stambaugh replied that on the long term bonds the commission to salesmen was one-quarter of one per cent and on the short term bonds, one-eighth of one per cent. In most cases this did not even cover the cost of travelling. Most of the sales work was done as a patriotic duty.

Mr. Kabish interviewed council regarding the purchase of N.E. 10-47-14. After much discussion it was decided to advertise the land for sale and have Mr. Kabish make his offer. The land was Mr Kabish's grandfather's homestead and later was owned by his mother.

A large delegation from the north side of the M.D. interviewed council regarding the gravelling of a road north, then east and then north to the Vegreville highway. Most of the work requested would be in Councillor Moen's division and some in Councillor Lucas' division. There must have been over twenty people in the delegation most of them directly addressing Councillor Moen. The councillor handled the situation extremely well and the delegation went away satisfied with Councillor Moen's statement that he intends to do some gravelling and that he will give immediate consideration to their request. It was the largest delegation seen there, literally swamping the little office.

Mr. Joe Sadownyk would like a bad hole of considerable length near his farm filled in. Councillor Lucas said the difficulty was in getting some one to do the work. This is an old complaint and if at all possible an effort will be made to fill in this place.

Mr. Maisey interviewed council and said that Councillor Swabey, J. W. Letourneau and himself had visited Mr. Wilson of the Dept. of Agriculture re the weed problem. Mr. Wilson said the Dept. would give all the assistance possible, but only as regards government land, not M.D. or privately owned land. This applies chiefly to weedy patches around lakeshores.

Discussion ensued as to whether a permanent weed inspector, or as he will be more popularly known, a field man, should be employed. It was felt

CATTLE MARKETINGS HEAVY DURING JANUARY

For all Canada 72 per cent more cattle were sold in January, 1945, than for the corresponding month in 1944. The 1945 grand total was 165,-880 head of cattle, whereas 1944 total was 96,163. Increases were substantial for steers up to 1050 lb. for all grades. Increases for steers over 1050 lb. were for grades, choice, good and medium. However, there was a decrease of sale of steers grading common. Sale of heifers was up for all grades.

During the month of January 1945, 36,270 veal calves were sold as compared with 26,358 for corresponding month 1944. This is an increase of 38 per cent.

WEDDING

NORDIN—ROGNESS

Baskets of pastel shaded spring flowers formed the setting in First Baptist church Thursday for the marriage of Miss Doris Orlina Rogness, daughter of Mrs. E. Rogness of Kingman, Alta., and L.S. Verner E. Nordin, RCNVR, son of Mrs. Sigrid Nordin of Hay Lakes. Rev. Daniel Young performed the ceremony.

Entering the church to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Barber Smith, the bride wore a gown of white silk taffeta. The fitted bodice which fastened down the front with self covered buttons, was made with a sweetheart neckline, elbow-length sleeves and a torso waistline, from which fell a full gathered skirt. Her floor-length veil of white net was held in place with a band of small white flowers. She wore long white gloves and carried pink roses. Her uncle, Mr. D. B. Anderson, of Dinant, Alta., gave her away.

Bridesmaid, Miss Alvina Pelz, was gowned in mauve silk taffeta styled with a full skirt, short puffed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Her small hat to tone was trimmed with veiling and she carried a colonial bouquet of spring flowers.

Mr. Lenart Nordin, the bridegroom's brother, was best man, and L. Coder Gordon Cockroft, and Tel. Robert Russell, both of the RCNVR, were ushers. Mr. Armin Falkenberg sang "Because."

A reception to relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom was held in the banquet room of the Royal George hotel, where the bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, white tapers, and spring flowers. Mr. O. Grahn proposed a toast to the bride.

Mrs. Rogness, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue two-piece ensemble with gray accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Nordin, the bridegroom's mother, was in navy blue and white with a corsage of red roses.

L.S. and Mrs. Nordin left later on a honeymoon trip south, the bride travelling in a gold and black printed jersey frock with black hat and accessories and a beige topcoat. On their return they will live temporarily in Edmonton.

SHOW BIG INCREASE GASOLINE TAX YIELD

An increase of nearly $650,000 in gasoline revenue collected by the provincial government during the past year has been officially reported, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

The actual amount of provincial revenue from this source was $3,226,-000, compared with $3,144,000 during the previous year. It is claimed that this jump in revenue is due mainly to an increased number of motor trucks in operation.

During the year there was a decrease in motor licenses issued, the number being 91,500 which was 1,200 below the figure for the previous year.

There were only 1,040 applications for license refunds, compared with 2,200 the year before.

Labour Minister Mitchell has stated there are 100,000 jobs available in Canadian industry. This number will be increased when farmers in winter jobs return to farms.

IN MANY WAYS BETTER THAN Cash

Managing a farm is in many ways similar to managing any other business. That is why reserve savings in liquid form are so helpful to a farmer.

Victory Bonds provide the handiest form in which savings can be kept with safety. Their security is without question. They represent money owing to you by the Dominion of Canada, just as dollar bills do. And . . . better than dollar bills . . . they earn interest for you every day you hold them; even when put away for safe keeping in a bank vault or in a safe. They pay double bank interest.

You can get cash for Victory Bonds if you need cash in an emergency. Any bank will buy them from you. You can borrow on them, without any formality. Simply take them to any bank and get the loan you need. The interest the bonds earn pays a large part of the bank interest on the loan.

So, realize this fact, Victory Bonds are better than cash because they earn interest.

Buy Victory Bonds to have cash where you need it, when you may need it. Buy Victory Bonds to help maintain your country's war effort.

You will want cash if you plan to improve your home when the war ends . . .

You will want cash if you plan to improve your live stock . . .

You will want cash if you plan to build new barns or install new barn equipment . . .

WELL DONE—

IN COMMON WITH seven hundred other weeklies and a large number of dailies and periodicals, the Mercury has received formal thanks from the Red Cross central office for its share in the Red Cross drive for funds which was conducted in March. It is quite likely that the publicity given the Red Cross drive by the press in general and other publicity mediums, played its part in the successful conduct of the drive, but greater thanks are due and no doubt tendered, to that very large group of voluntary workers who in a large measure were responsible for the collection of ten million dollars and more. Also it goes without saying that thanks are due to that great army of givers whose hearts were sufficiently generous to make the collection of such a large sum possible.

In the area in which this paper circulates, contributions were generous and numerous and the great majority of citizens may take pride in their record. Many a wounded person, many a homeless and hungry family, many a lonely prisoner of war will, when succored in their hour of need, rise up and call your name blessed. No greater reward could be asked or given.

GROWING PAINS—

THERE IS ONE MEETING of the year which is taken seriously by every rural councillor. The meeting at which the budget for the year is approved is always a source of concern. Councillors the world over like to lower taxes, yet with very few exceptions, Councillors the world over are faced with the necessity of raising them. Increasing demands upon public funds for the variety of sometimes essential, but always desirable services, keep councillors guessing how they can give their electors what they ask for or should have in the way of services, and at the same time keep tax levies from rising too rapidly.

Since the advent of the automobile there has been a great and ever greater demand for roads, and as one councillor expressed it at the M.D. of Beaver meeting on Tuesday, there is no sign of a let up. Many farmers will tell councillors frankly they do not mind some increase in taxation if they are provided with a good road from their farms to the nearest market centre. The days of the hand operated scraper, even the horse drawn drag, are gone and in their place power driven machinery does the work presumably better, faster, and at no greater cost. Councils all over the province which ten years ago would have considered gravelling roads as something like reaching for the stars, now discuss freely and with absolute composure, that topic. At Tuesday's M.D. of Beaver meeting a delegation of 20 ratepayers specifically requested that somewhere around 15 or 20 miles of road be gravelled. No doubt the councillors concerned will do their utmost to conform to the wishes of the delegation, but it should be pointed out that as public services to ratepayers gradually increase, tax levies cannot help but follow the same trend.

MUNICIPAL DISTRICT OF BEAVER MEETING

that if the weed eradication project was to mature and become effective, a full time field man was necessary. Mr. Roddick of Ministik who had been recommended, interviewed the council regarding the appointment and on motion of Councillor Ovens Mr. Roddick was engaged at a salary of $125.00 per month with a promise of a raise in the future if he was satisfactory. Mr. Roddick will be supplied with a motor cycle for travelling.

Letter from D. Inkster re surveying. This was filed for future reference if needed.

Councillors Lucas and Swabey reported having inspected the big road unit jointly owned by M.D. of Beaver and M.D. of Eagle. It appeared to be in good condition. A meeting between representatives of M.D. of Beaver and M.D. of Eagle to discuss a possible settlement regarding this outfit is being arranged.

On the motion of Councillor Moen, Pete Wiens will be recommended for a trapping permit for muskrats on his place.

On the motion of Councillor Lucas, Mr. Love will be given authority to repair grader, reimbursement to be the use of the grader for two months.

Moved by Councillor Ovens that we adjourn until 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, April 4th.

Meeting adjourned 6.15 p.m.

WEDNESDAY SESSION

On Wednesday morning very shortly after 10 o'clock all councillors were present and Reeve Anderson called the meeting to order.

Continuing the business as outlined on the agenda and carried over from the previous day.

Councillor Giebelhaus suggested that a committee be formed to interview the Council of the M.D. of Eagle that day. He said that with the rapid approach of weather suitable for road work is was necessary to know whether the M.D. of Beaver would have the use of the elevating grader unit or not. On the [illegible] of Councillor Moen, Reeve Anderson and Councillors Giebelhaus and Swabey were appointed a committee to journey to Two Hills and interview the M.D. of Eagle council, then in session there. Committee arranged to start immediately after lunch.

Making out the 1945 budget and setting the mill rate then occupied the attention of the council. This is a lengthy and detailed procedure and involved the checking over of all 1944 expenditures and receipts of major importance. The total estimated revenue for current year was $263,046.38, and the estimated expenditure was the same. Of course in actual practice expenditures and receipts will not be even, but the reason for the budget is to arrange matters so that there will be as little difference as possible. From the estimated expenditures the mill rate is set at a figure which will bring in approximately the same amount as [illegible]

MILL RATES

The following mill rates were approved. Social service, 3 mills; Clover Bar S.D. 17 mills; Holden S.D. 18 mills; Lamont S.D. 17 mills; Vegreville S.D. 16½ mills; Camrose S.D. 16 mills; Viking Municipal Hospital, 3 mills; Vegreville Municipal Hospital, 2 mills; Hospital Agreement, 1 mill; Municipal Purposes, 17 mills. The total mill rate for any one parcel of land would be the mill rate for the S.D. in which the land is situated plus the mill rate for the Hospital District in which the land is situated, plus 17 mills for Municipal Purposes, plus 3 mills for Social service.

The by-law covering the above mill rate was given its 1st, 2nd and 3rd reading.

Adjournment for lunch.

Reconvening:

Councillor Moen mentioned the half holiday arrangement saying that business places closed on Wednesday afternoons while the M.D. office closed Saturday afternoons. He wondered if Wednesday would be as satisfactory to the office staff as Saturday. The office staff when questioned, favored Saturday and the present half-holiday arrangements were left as they were.

Some old age pension matters were given attention, as also were some Mothers' allowance problems.

Councillor Laskosky said he had been approached by a ratepayer requesting that the M.D. underwrite a hospital account until fall. It was explained that the council contributed 75c per day to the hospital for every ratepayer receiving hospitalization. Fifty cents of this was deducted by the hospital from the ratepayer's bill and the 25c was retained by the hospitals to take care of any non-payments. The council was of the opinion that it could not underwrite the hospital account of any ratepayer.

A number of hospital accounts were checked as regards bona-fide residents.

On the motion of Councillor Laskosky, Harry Tkaczyk was appointed a pound keeper. The pound will be situated in the Holden area.

On the motion of Councillor Moen, A. J. Katkac's account for damages claimed due to a black mare getting into his field, was rejected. It was felt that the horse could hardly have done that much damage and the claim was quite old. The horse in question was sold for $1.00.

Poundkeepers will be allowed $10 per year for keeping pounds in good repair commencing Jan. 1, 1946. Payment will be made the end of the year.

Some land deals were given attention. On the motion by Councillor Ovens, Mr. Lindstrom of Viking will be offered S.W. 15-48-13 W4, for $1500 cash or $1800 on time.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens, N.W. 20-47-13 W4 will be sold to N. R. Ebeltoft of Viking for $400 cash.

An offer was received for the N.E. 24-49-14 W4, but it was pointed out that this quarter had not been valued. Arrangements were made to have its value appraised and the offer for its sale advertised in the local papers.

Quite a number of lease arrangements for 1945 were made.

RATE OF WAGES — PUBLIC WORKS

The rate of wages to be paid for labor connected with public works was arranged as follows: Man, per hour, 60c; horse, per hour, 10c; foreman, per hour, 70c; tractor on construction for small or average size, per hour, $2.00; tractor on construction for large types, per hour, $2.50; tractor, extra heavy, as arranged by councillor; dragging with any size of type drag, per finished mile, $1.00; maintaining with 8-ft. maintainer, per finished mile, $1.00; maintaining with 10-ft. maintainer, per finished mile, $1.25; Catman, per hour, 90c; grader man, per hour, $1.00; third man, per hour, 60c; Operator, No. 20 patrol, 60c; Operator, No. 311 grader, 75c.

A petition signed by a number of ratepayers from the Hay Lakes area requesting the opening of road from the N.E. corner of sec. 31-49-20, running west and south to the S.W. corner of sec. 26-49-21. Reeve Anderson being away on Municipal business, and this petition covering a road in his division, the matter was tabled until he was present.

A letter from James Fahy regarding a fence across a road allowance was tabled. It was announced the subject matter of a reply to this letter had been previously mailed.

Moved by Councillor Laskosky that we request the government to build bridge on road running north and south, just south of Holden.

On motion of Councillor Lucas, the Reeve and Secretary were empowered to sign contract with Gelco Construction Co.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens, returning officer Solberg will be requested to take the necessary proceedings to obtain nomination for representative on the Viking hospital board.

The following rates of pay in connection with Municipal elections were agreed upon. Deputy returning officer, $6.00 per day; Clerk, $5.00 per day; Rent, private house, $3.00; Rent, public building, $2.00; posting notices, 50c; Enumerators, $5.00 per township, 10c per name.

On the motion of Councillor Lucas, the Reeve, Deputy-reeve and Sec.-treas., were appointed signing officers for the M.D.

Communication was received from the assessor and assistants regarding hours of work. They stated that they would accept rates of pay previously agreed upon, but could not be bound to assess any particular number of parcels each day. Rainy days would impede their progress, while on fine days, many hours could be put in. In other words the assessor and assistants were asking to be put on straight time at $10 and $8, a day, respectively.

A number of accounts were presented and on the motion of Councillor Lucas were passed for payment.

Councillor Ovens moved that the meeting adjourn until 10:00 a.m., Friday, April 13.

The What And Where Of Pensions

By Richard Hale

Ottawa—A considerable difference exists in the rates of pensions for members of the women's divisions and men in the active forces. Provision is made for the payment of pensions for disabilities resulting from injuries or disease and for dependents in case of death under the same conditions as contained in the Pension Act for the men. There is also provision for pensions for dependent parents or children. The difference in rate, however, is very marked. In the case of a lieutenant, and all the ranks below that, only $720 a year is payable as against $900 a year awarded to men. In ranks above that of lieutenant the rate is proportionately lower also.

The Legion has been raising strong objections to this difference and has argued the case on the basis that a woman who is disabled is just as badly handicapped as a man who has suffered similar disability.

However, the argument advanced by the government is that the rates of pay are less between the services and therefore the pension rate is decreased accordingly.

Since the order-in-council was passed giving authority for pensions to the women's services the rates of pay have been raised and while they are still not equal to the rate received by a man, it would seem that some increase in the pension rate is indicated.

The Legion believes that there can be little argument against equalization of pension rates as between men and women serving in the forces. Furthermore, should a woman lose her life on service and leave a dependent child, it is unfair that such child should receive less pension as an orphan, than is paid to the orphan child of a man.

In the latter case the pension is $360 per year, but only $288 for the orphan child of a member of the women's divisions. The Legion will continue to press for complete equalization of pension for the women.

THIS IS AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT BY YOUR GOVERNMENT ABOUT COAL

This year the mines must be kept working during the Spring and Summer. Unless they get a steady flow of orders, they will lose their miners to other employment. It is absolutely imperative that the miners keep at work in the mines.

The transportation situation also is likely to become serious. The railways are now in a position to haul coal from the mines to the dealers' yards, but later will be busy hauling grain.

The coal dealers have had difficulties this past winter with delivery labour, and if they are to deliver all the coal required by their customers, it will be necessary to keep their employees busy every working day in the year.

So that your dealer may do his part in keeping the mines busy during this war emergency, get him to fill your bin as soon as possible.

POWER FARMING

"Best hired-man I've ever had!"

... That drum of Imperial Oil fuel for tractors means a lot these days to the hard-pressed short-handed Canadian farmer. It's the power behind his tractor—a "hired man" that works for just a few pennies a day, and speeds up ploughing, seeding, harvesting and many other jobs around the farm.

With farm labour scarcer than ever this year, it's vital to keep your farm machines on the job. Safeguard their performance, increase their life by using dependable Imperial Oil Lubricants and Fuels designed for farm service. Your friendly Imperial Oil Agent will bring them to your door. But it is important that you place your order now so that you will be assured of having the products you need in good time.

WILL IT STOP NOW? OR GO ON?

This picture of an anxious group of London citizens is taken from a moving picture film, "V-1" which will be shown in many rural areas of Canada as part of the Eighth Victory Loan program. The film shows this group of men digging into the wreckage of homes destroyed just a short while previously by a robot bomb. As they work they hear and see another of these dreadful messengers of death approaching. Note the intense anxiety in the faces of these workers as they speculate whether or not the robot will stop and fall as it reaches them, or will pass on to another target. The film is one of the most vivid picturizations of robot attacks in England which has been produced.

MINISTIK

The Ministik A.F.U. will hold their next meeting at Ministik Hall Wednesday evening, April 11.

Mrs. Roland and Elevyn visited at the home of her son, Russell, over the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Bob Smith and family visited at the home of her parents for a few days in the Easter holidays.

Miss Nora Barnes and her cousin, Miss McDonald were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Barnes.

Mr. Warner's brush cutter is operating on the farm of A. Kleinschroth.

There was a good attendance at the moving picture and dance last Friday night. The dance did not start until after 12 o'clock and broke up about 4 o'clock. The next picture show will be April 27 (Friday). Keep this date in mind, folks.

Jack Roddick has started to saw lumber.

Mrs. W. Whitford has been sick for the last week or two with the flu. Now the nice weather is here we hope to see her feeling her own self again.

Eddie Wenzel has taken a week off and gone home on a visit to his parent's. Steve Baumgartner went with him to see the country, about 50 miles north.

Mrs. Baumgartner received a letter from her son Pete last week. He is, or was at the time of writing, in Belgium. He says the people there are treating him like a prince. Good bed to sleep in and good eats and drink, in fact they can't do too much for him. He expects to get his 30 days leave to come home sometime in June. Good luck, Pete.

The regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held on March 7th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Davenport with 7 members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with the singing of "God Bless our Canada." The minutes were read and adopted, and correspondence was read by the secretary. New suggestions were discussed for our roll call, which was answered this meeting with the name of a modern song. Bulletin was read by Steve Baumgartner and Bill Roddick, topic "Gardening." Meeting adjourned, after which an hour of games and a grand lunch brought a pleasant evening to a close.

On March 21st, the regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner with 7 members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with the singing of "There'll Always be an England." Minutes were read by the secretary. Arrangements are being made for a dance to be held on April 13th. Make it a date. Have you got your tickets on the Sweater and socks to be raffled soon. All proceeds going to help fix our hall. Roll call was answered by "My favorite vegetable." Meeting adjourned and a social half hour and a delicious lunch brought our evening to a close.

WARN MOTORISTS OF DEADLY FUMES

Deadly carbon monoxide fumes continue to take their toll of the unwary motorists. In recent weeks, reports have come to hand of more of these fatalities. One case also involved a motorist who had been careless of the necessary precautions and as a result, had a narrow escape from death.

"Under present weather conditions make certain that car windows are open and that there has been a check-up of vehicle equipment. That is the way to protect one against dangerous carbon monoxide," says one car authority.

One of the dangerous practices in winter is to allow the car engine to run with all windows closed and also the garage doors closed. Such drivers are inviting trouble and disaster.

FORMER RESIDENT OF THIS DISTRICT PASSES ON

William Wilde, former resident of the Tofield district, passed away at Victoria recently. [illegible] weeks longer he would have been 90. He leaves one son, Fred, and two daughters, Mabel and Irene, all of Victoria. A year ago the Victoria paper published the following regarding the deceased gentleman.

"White-bearded and agile, William Wilde tomorrow will celebrate his 89th birthday. Nattily dressed when he came into the Daily Times, he said: 'I never felt better in all my life,' and did a short buck-and-wing dance to prove it.

"He is a real cockney, born within the sound of Bow Bells.

"In 1904, Mr. Wilde came to Canada with his wife, who died when she was 84. Behind him he left a 100-acre farm which, he said, was right where the Battle of Hastings was fought in 1066.

"On reaching Canada, he started farming outside Edmonton, and came to Victoria in 1927. He now lives with his son, Fred Wilde, at 'Copper Beeches', Colwood, where he likes to spend his time pottering in the garden. The day before he came in, he said he had weeded three paths and strung up two rows for sweet peas, believing he could not be happy without some work to do.

"He does not carry a walking stick and still reads without his glasses, although he said his son gets after him once in a while for not wearing them.

"He has two ambitions. One is to reach 100 years of age. 'I'm on the last lap of the home stretch now,' he said. The other ambition is to see the end of the war.

Bardo Male Chorus To Sing At Tofield

WILL SUPPORT PRE-VICTORY LOAN RALLY

Arrangements have been completed for the appearance at Tofield of the Bardo Male Chorus. This well-known musical organization will sing at Tofield on Saturday evening, April 21st, commencing at 8:15 sharp. Their appearance will be in support of the Eighth Victory Loan drive which gets underway the following Monday. In addition to the chorus, there will be an address by Mr. MacDonald, a Victory Loan speaker of experience and a returned veteran of this war. It is also expected that there will be a picture depicting V1 bombs dropping on London, shown. This is one of the highly rated war pictures. A few instrumental numbers will round out a worth while evening's entertainment.

The committee in charge of this evening is endeavoring to provide better seating for the hall and hope that the general public will attend in good numbers to hear the Bardo Male Chorus and to enjoy the other features of the program. Ushers will be on hand to show you to your seat. Admission is free, and all are invited. Remember Saturday, April 21, Variety Theatre, Tofield, at 8:15 sharp.

VICTORY LOAN SALESMEN FOREGATHER

The Victory Loan salesmen met at a dinner party at the Royal Alexandra Hotel on Friday last. The Divisional organizer was present and gave a splendid sales address. A few musical numbers rounded out the evening.

PHOTOGRAPHS WANTED

The publicity section of the Victory Loan committee is endeavoring to arrange a Victory Loan window on the south side of Bruce's store. The committee would like to receive photographs of men and women who have enlisted from this district for display in the window. War souvenirs are also welcome. Kindly leave at the Mercury Office or the Post Office.

WEDDING

OTHEN—EAGLESHAM

A wedding of local interest took place on April 6, at the Central United Manse, when Miss Jean Eaglesham, only daughter of Mr and Mrs. Eaglesham, was united in marriage to Pte. Charles E. Othen.

The Rev. E. H. Budsall performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a chocolate brown wool suit, with a brown hat trimmed with flowers and veiling. She had brown accessories and wore a corsage of talisman roses and carnations.

Marguerite Myers was bridesmaid and wore a gold wool suit, brown hat and accessories and a corsage of sweet peas.

Richard Donald was best man.

Mrs. Eaglesham chose for her daughter's wedding a navy tailored suit, mauve hat and accessories.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the Legion for the bridal party.

Later in the afternoon a luncheon for 30 guests was held at Mrs Orgille's where the table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. After the luncheon Miss Judy Jones sang a few very delightful songs.

Pte. Charles Othen and his bride will spend their honeymoon in Edmonton.

IF IT SHOULD BE A DRY YEAR

At about this stage in the last war livestock producers in South Alberta were going great guns. They were riding the crest. Steers, the 1200-pounders, were bringing $200 a head on a Chicago market that was wide open to us, and hogs were selling around $45 for a 220-pounder. Everything else was in proportion with wool selling around 72c a pound and range ewes changing hands at better than $20 a head. It looked like a first rate edition of heaven.

Then disaster struck. It wasn't a sudden slump in livestock prices. These held good throughout 1919, for more than a year after the war. The real disaster was drought which struck with fury in 1919. It turned winter in October and stayed winter till the next May. After a very poor crop there was no hay, little straw and no grain. Cattle and sheep men paid $80 a ton for poor quality hay to put their herds through. One rancher hauled $700 worth of feed daily from Lethbridge to his ranch for five solid months—figure out what that cost.

BARDO

Professor Mol of Camrose Lutheran College will conduct services at Bardo Church on Sunday, April 15th, at 11:00 a.m.

Bardo congregation will hold a three day meeting at the church on June 29, 30 and July 1st, to commemorate their fiftieth anniversary.

Bardo Sunday school started classes on Sunday, April 8th, with Ingolf Brekan as superintendent in charge.

Rev. G. Ostrem held christening services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Foshaug, his given name is Richard Dale. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schultz.

The Ladies' Chorus presented their Easter cantata "Easter Sunrise," to a large audience at the church on Easter Sunday. The Chorus made quite an impression in their white gowns and their singing was exceptionally good.

Members of the Chorus are: Mrs. I. Moen, Mrs. G. Hendrickson, Mrs. J. Stauffer, Mrs. N. Falkeid, Mrs. L. Foshaug, Mrs. P. Bjornson, Mrs. L. Severson, Mrs. C. Rude, Mrs. Juliette Johanson, Irene Rude, Alice Broughton (director), Corrine Haukedahl (pianist), Eulah Haukedahl, Norma Kindley, Iris Bjornson and Doreen Moen.

Bardo Luther League held a candle light service at the church on March 29th, to honor those in the armed services from this community, namely: Carrie Brekan, Edna Steen, Bud Steen, Jack Lerbekmo, Milton Jevning, Clifford Jevning, Merlin Foshaug, and Talbert Foshaug. Rev. Ostrem was in charge and Theone Berreclotl and Iris Bjornson read the bible verses during the ceremony. The candles were lit by a relative, they being, Mrs. Alma Foshaug, Mrs. P. Lerbekmo, Mrs. A. Kindley, Mrs. N. Falkeid, Mrs. J. Johanson, Mrs. A. Johnson, Norma Kindley and Ingolf Brekan. An honor roll was presented to the congregation from the Bardo Ladies' Aid. Program: Devotion, Alice Sondahl, Recitation, Alton Anderson, Trio, Alice Broughton, Leroy and Menrad Finseth; Reading, Martin Hagen and a song by the Male Chorus.

Mr. and Mrs. Menrad Finseth entertained the Y.P.S. social at their home last Monday night.

Mrs. Geo. Hendrickson is holding meetings in the Edmonton district, doing organization work for the W.C.T.U.

G. McFadzean, H. Chandler and A. Francis held a meeting at the Bardo school recently in support of a Municipal hospital. A committee composed of O. Anderson, A. Kindley, G. Hendrickson and M. Bender was appointed to canvass the district for support.

Many from here were in Ryley last Monday to hear Mrs. Nellie Peterson, C.C.F., Vice-Pres., speak.

Home for the Easter holidays: Alice Broughton in Camrose, Carrie Brekan and Alice Dahlen, Edmonton; Wyonne and Carmen Rude, Viking; Doris Hendrickson, Ila Moen and Andy Helberg, Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Broughton and Ernest Broughton, Camrose, were local visitors on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. Arnold Steen returned home last Tuesday from a three-month's visit in Washington and Oregon.

Botolf Bjornson has returned home after a two months visit at Salmon Arm, B.C.

Bud Steen, RCAF, Calgary was home on a three-day leave.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Lerbekmo have received word that their son, Cpl. Jack Lerbekmo, has arrived in England.

Muriel Finseth has been unable to teach the past month, being ill with rheumatic fever.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Bjornson, Mrs. P. Lerbekmo, Alice Broughton and Ivar Moen attended the funeral services of J. H. McLean, held at Holden on March 29th.

Correction In the write-up of the Male Chorus, the name of Ole Bortness was omitted from the list of members who signed up in [illegible] when the Chorus was organized.

The Bardo Male Chorus will take part in the Victory Loan Rally, to be held at Tofield on Saturday, April 21.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Johnsrud moved last week to their farm near Ryley.

Mr. [illegible] Mrs. G. Norland are moving this week to their farm west of Tofield.

COMMUNICATION

RED CROSS WORK MUCH APPRECIATED

Mrs. M. C. Hammond,
Red Cross Branch,
Tofield, Alberta.

Dear Mrs. Hammond:-

Enclosed please find official receipt No. 96, 97, 98, and 99. It took a whole book to write receipts for your wonderful shipment.

It was nice to get so many lovely things. We are so grateful to the Mennonite Brethern for their donation, and to our good friends the Lakeshore Workers, also the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Secord, Mrs. G. Carter, Mrs. McCarthy and Mrs. Roles for their donations.

The little felt slippers were quite useful. We thought the ones made with two colors clever, clever and attractive. All the work from your Branch was excellent as usual. Please thank your members for the care and time given to this work. Your requisition is going out today.

With kind regards.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. R. Proctor,
Convener of War Work.

SMUT---THE FARMER'S ENEMY

Smutty grain is heavily discounted in grade and price by the Government's Inspection Department. Now is the time to think about treating grain intended for seed. Ceresan and Leytosan are the best treatments. For detailed information about the best methods of applying Ceresan and Leytosan see the nearest Searle Agent.

The Business Of Farming Requires RESERVES

"READY MONEY" is the common term for what businessmen call "Reserve Funds". In any language, "Ready Money" is a handy thing to have.

None realize this need more than a farmer : : : for in the business of farming there are so many times that extra money is needed . . . for bills that must be met . . : to take advantage of opportunities . . . "to turn a dollar" with profit.

There are many times when a farmer needs "extra money". Without a reserve fund he must either sell something "for what he can get for it" or borrow, if he can get a loan.

Victory Bonds provide a safe and convenient form in which to keep savings until needed. Victory Bonds earn double bank interest. When you have Victory Bonds you can get a loan from any bank at any time without any formality, and the interest the bonds earn pays a large part of the interest on the loan.

Victory Bonds can be bought for cash which you have saved or bought on convenient deferred payments with money as you get it.

Buy Victory Bonds to provide a reserve of working capital for your farm. Buy them, too, to help maintain your country's war effort. They pay interest these two ways.

THOSE KALLALS—

SOME LONG TIME AGO when it was depression we all were worrying over and not war and rehabilitation, there was a world wide grain exhibition held at Regina at which Ed. Kallal won a signal honor with Tofield district grown wheat, which he exhibited. At a banquet sponsored by the Board of Trade at which Ed. Kallal was the guest of honor, one of the outside speakers said in effect, "it is confusing for a stranger to refer to any one of the Kallals, there are so many of them. True or untrue, it is a fact that the Kallal family has figured in, among other things, the front line of agricultural progress by consistently winning awards. This is all the more creditable and outstanding because these awards are not won by luck or chance, but only after much painstaking effort.

This week at the Annual Spring Stock Show, Lawrence Kallal, who, incidently, is but eleven years of age, won first place in the children's beef calf feeding competition. His award is the Prince of Wales Challenge shield. This calf was also judged the best of the whole show. Competition in this event is very keen and great credit is due as well as hearty congratulations to the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kallal. At the same show this year, Joe, another son, came second in the baby beef competition. Last year, a daughter, Dorothy, came first in Herefords and reserve champion for all breeds, and another daughter, Margaret, now in the army, won first place in judging. To top it off Paul, another son, goes off to Italy and is awarded the Military Medal. Some years ago in a Junior grain exhibition for all Canada held at Toronto, Joe Kallal came first and Ed. Kallal came second. These are sons of Ed. Kallal sr. Joe is in the airforce, has completed a tour of operations and was recently awarded the D.F.C.

The value of expert agriculturists to any district cannot adequately be measured by their own accomplishments. Their example is widespread and it is with pleasure we note that the Tofield district is well represented at this Spring's Stock Show. In the Hereford class children's calf feeding competition, Audrey Moore came fourth and Bill Miskew twelfth and thirteenth.

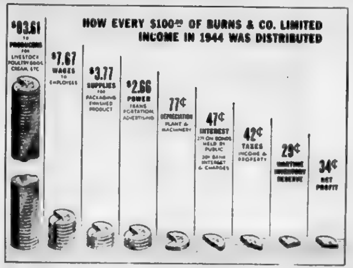
ATTENTION FARMERS

Since the infestation of Canadian Thistle on the lake shore areas within the M.D. of Beaver, No. 73, has been a concern to the farmers throughout the district, arrangement has been made through the Agricultural Service Board to give some attention to this problem. The Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture is prepared to supply a certain quantity of suitable grass and legume seeds to seed down the infested areas. The Municipality of Beaver has undertaken to give some assistance in the matter of personnel. Therefore, any farmer residing within the M.D. of Beaver who has a Canadian Thistle problem on the lake shore adjoining his land, may write to the office and ask that assistance be given to him. It is hoped that those farmers wishing to take advantage of the policy should write during the month of April or at the latest, the first week in May, explaining their case. Upon receipt of these applications the District Agriculturist and a Weed Fieldman will visit the areas concerned. It is expected that the farmers will prepare the seed bed. Seed will be provided and the area seeded down under the supervision of the Weed Fieldman.

Farmers writing in to the office for this assistance should give the legal location of their land and the lake shore of which they want seeding to be done. State the acreage involved.

M.D. BEAVER, No. 73.



RYLEY

Miss Fredbourne of the Women's Extension Service Dept. of Edmonton met with the 3R and Double II club girls at the home of Mrs. J. L. McPherson.

Laverne Helley, his wife and son, spent the week end at the home of his mother, Mrs. T. Helley.

Art Anderson returned Tuesday evening from Edmonton where he has been undergoing treatment for wounds received overseas. He has to undergo further treatment.

Norman Anderson came home last Wednesday and is spending his leave with his wife and family. He is ably assisting Freddy Johnson in renovating the house which Johnny and Tracy expect to move into in the near future, the former Lori residence.

On Sunday evening Charlie Teare received the sad news of the death of his mother at Aubourne, Nebraska, U.S.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holte have moved onto the farm recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. L. Umphrey.

The Little Theatre are installing new stage settings in the Ryley Community Hall. The Ryley High School donated $10.00 toward the new set-[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Magneson and daughter Helen, were visitors Sunday at Ed. Magneson's. Bernice returned with them to Camrose where she will resume her studies at Camrose Luther College.

Mr. Shaw was in Edmonton on business Tuesday. Mrs. Shaw is staying on in Edmonton for a few days visiting with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Hulbert went to Edmonton on Tuesday where they will spend a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Umphrey have moved into the farm home recently purchased by Wm. Winsness.

Mr. Howard Steen was taken to the University hospital. He has been poorly for a long time. Mr. and Mrs. C. Teare are looking after Howard Jr.

Miss Peggy Hansen of Red Deer has joined our Treasury Branch Staff. We hope she will enjoy her stay in Ryley.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hosler have moved to New Sarepta, where Mr. Hosler has been transferred to a better position with the Woodland Dairy.

After several weeks of anxious waiting, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Greig have received word from their son Val, who was with the Canadian Forces in Italy. Jim Geddis is in Belgium now.

Fresh news has been received of Stan and Ida Lennox. Stan has gained up to 140 pounds and is now able to be up and about after his illness, caused from malnutrition after their harrowing experiences in a Japanese prison camp in the Philippines. They are eagerly awaiting the day when their transportation to U.S.A. can be arranged, where they will be reunited with their two daughters.

The Ryley Community League is holding a meeting Thursday evening at 8 p.m., when plans for the summer months will be discussed. Chief amongst plans to be discussed will be the Ryley Cemetery, which has long been an eyesore and disgrace to the Community. The Memorial Hall will also be brought to our attention.

Rev. Ostrem, Mr. Mosey, Mr. Lawrence Butler and Bob Ireland were out to the Cemetery one day last week and burnt off the long grass in the Cemetery.

Mrs. E. A. Kales and infant daughter Judy of Edmonton, and Miss Lorna Hay spent their Easter Holidays at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hay.

The Ryley High School play, "For Pete's Sake" will be presented on Friday, April 20th, in the Ryley Community Hall. The Students hope to see a full house as they have worked hard in preparing for this programme, which is said to be as good as last year's. This year they have a Male Quartette which is being coached by Mrs. Ed Mehus. It will be nice to hear them sing that evening, unless they get cold feet at the last minute.

Miss Lorraine Magneson spent her Easter holidays at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Magneson.

Pte. Bob Bendiksen left on Wednesday evening this week for Petawawa, Ont., after spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bendiksen.

Pte. Laurenz Hamula, formerly of Ryley but now of Edmonton, was home on leave, which he spent in Edmonton with his parents.

Mrs. H. Ireland and daughter Doreen, came home Monday evening after spending their Easter holidays in Camrose at the home of Mrs. R. K. Westmancoat. They met "Red" when they were leaving and he wished to be remembered to all his Ryley friends. He is working in the C.N.R. station at Camrose.

It was nice to see Cpl. Art Mehus making the short cut to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mehus, Tuesday morning. It almost seemed like old times.

Mrs. Dan Hunka returned from the Misericordia Hospital before Easter. Her daughter, Mrs. Raydar Knudtsen accompanied her and will stay with her mother for a couple of months.

THIS STORY IS BASED ON AN ACTUAL CASE
"Tough years those . . . but the BofM sa[illegible]me through"

JOHN HALEY, retired farmer, was talking to his son who was now running the farm.

"Yes, Ronnie, they were tough years but that was before you were born. Your mother and I came [illegible] back in 1900 [illegible] all we had was this square mile of land with a shack, a ramshackle barn and a bit of fence [illegible] oh yes, and a mortgage. And we had to haul water two miles and drive twenty to market."

"Gosh, Dad, it must have been mighty hard sledding [illegible] I have a cinch today."

"Well," said the old man, "it would have been a sight harder sledding if that young manager of the Bank of Montreal hadn't stuck by me. There were some years when I had bad luck with my little herd and the crops were poor, when I'd have just gone under if he hadn't given me a hand.

"Funny, you know, he always used to say I was a good credit risk because I used to haggle with the people I bought cattle from and when I wanted a loan [illegible] I almost always asked the Bank to advance [illegible] part of the cost.

"[illegible] risk or not, the Bank stuck by me. [illegible] for that you wouldn't be running this [illegible] farm today and getting first prizes for your A[illegible], and—what's more—doing a good war job."

THIS true experience is typical of thousands of customer relations with the Bank of Montreal. The John Haleys get on in life because of their determination, enterprise and self-reliance. It is they [illegible] have made Canada what she is today [illegible] the [illegible] greatest trading nations of the world.

If you need a loan for the better operation of your farm, or for assistance in your personal affairs, we will be glad of the opportunity to discuss, in confidence, your plans and problems with you.

What does YOUR FARM NEED?

How often have you said "If I could only raise the money!" Well, if you could, what would you do to improve your farm and increase your production?

Would you build a modern barn?
or buy new machinery?
or modernize your house?
or electrify your farm?

You can raise short term money from your bank; and long term money from other institutions by way of mortgage. But there are some things you would like to do which require loans that are neither long nor short . . .

That is where the banks, operating under the new Farm Improvement Loans Act, can help you. The gap has been filled. "Intermediate" loans at a specially low rate can now be obtained for periods of two or three years—or even longer, in cases up to ten years.

So, if you have a project in mind to improve your farm, drop in and talk it over with your local bank manager. Ask him what he is now empowered to do to help make your farm living more attractive and your work more profitable.

He will tell you—and show you—that your bank is just as eager to meet the sound credit needs of the farmer as of the merchant or manufacturer.

If you want to build a modern barn or buy new equipment

or electrify your farm

or modernize your house

. . . then have a talk with your bank manager about his new powers under the Farm Improvement Loans Act.

TOWN COUNCIL

Meeting of the Municipal Council of the Town of Tofield, held Monday, March 26, at 8 p.m.

Communications: Dept. of Municipal Affairs with respect to balance of 1944 requisition for Social Services Taxes and quoting authority for responsibility for arrears for past years. The 1944 balance of $216.40 was ordered remitted, and advice to the effect that the remainder would be remitted when collected.

With respect to policing the town, R.C.M.P. advised that Towns of over one thousand are the only ones they can accomodate just now.

Dept. of Education advising that authority must be obtained for levy of mill rate in excess of two, on rural lands within Tofield School District No. 1939. This has been asked for.

Mr. J. W. Cookson asking assistance in providing legal roadway for a small piece of land he wishes to sell, situated within the "Y". Council were of the opinion they could not help him much.

Board of Public Utility commissioners giving their ruling on lands within Town limits, which had previously enjoyed a special rate of taxation. Only those owning over 40 acres in extent will now have this privilege, with one exception, and the rate could now be increased to 40 mills on land under the special rate.

Dept. of Municipal Affairs advising they could not consent to any reduction in Equalized Assessment amounting to $243.00 for the current year.

MUNICIPAL DISTRICT OF BEAVER, NO. 73

Public Notice is hereby given that there has been introduced in the Council of the Municipal District of Beaver, No. 73, a by-law of which the following is a short synopsis:

The By-law provides for an agreement between the Municipal District and each Hospital listed hereunder, whereby the Hospitals shall provide hospital care and treatment, for which they are equipped, to all residents of the Municipality (who do not reside within a Municipal Hospital District) whom, during the currency of this agreement, may apply for admission to any of the Hospitals, and who, in the opinion of a qualified medical practitioner, require hospital care and treatment, under the same terms and conditions and at the regular rates which prevail for the general public at the Hospital on the date of the patients admission, except that daily ward charges shall be fifty cents (50c) per day less than the said regular rates.

The Agreement further provides that the Municipal District, upon payment by it to the Hospital for the care and treatment of a resident, (as set out above) at the rate of seventy-five (75c) cents per patient day, shall be freed of all further liability for such hospital care and treatment.

The list of Hospitals is as follows:

The Royal Alexandra Hospital, Edmonton.

The General Hospital, Edmonton.

The University Hospital, Edmonton.

The Misericordia Hospital, Edmonton.

Lamont Public Hospital, Lamont.

Mundare General Hospital, Mundare.

Bardo Male Chorus Here Saturday

As a prelude to the opening of the Victory Loan drive in this area, a concert will be held at the Variety Theatre commencing at 8.15 on Saturday night.

The Bardo Male Chorus have kindly consented to sing which will be an entertainment treat of excellence in itself. They have many numbers and have aroused appreciation and enthusiasm wherever they have previously sung.

There will also be shown a few reels of instructive and entertaining war pictures including a picture of the robot bombs falling on London. This has been classed as one of the more dramatic war films. It is short, only running ten minutes but packed with dramatic interest.

Mr. MacDonald of Edmonton, supervisor of Northern Alberta Units, will give a short interesting address. J. A. Richardson of Lindbrook has kindly consented to act as chairman.

Admission is free and the committee in charge is hoping for a good attendance. The program will be good and will get underway at 8:15 ending about 10:30 p.m.

Victory Loan Drive Starts Monday

Early Monday morning all across Canada thousands of enthusiastic salesmen will, with satchel under arm, be out soliciting Eighth Victory Loan subscriptions. The over all amount of the loan is one billion, three hundred and fifty million dollars. This huge quota is broken down first by provinces and then by units and the Tofield unit's share of this huge sum is $165,000.00.

The committee and salesmen, both local and district, are the same as in previous drives with Geo. B. Bruce as chairman and A. J. H. McCauley as unit organizer.

The Ryley sub unit has been added to the Tofield area for this drive. Previously they were with the Holden unit. The quota to be reached is the largest ever undertaken by the unit here and while the prospects for success are bright enough, success will only be attained by the energetic work of all concerned and the full co-operation of the investing public.

Here He Is

Lawrence Kallal and the Hereford Steer which came first in the children's calf feeding competition. The calf was also judged best of all breeds in the show in competition with open entries.

WEDDING

CAMPBELL—OSLUND

A lovely wedding took place on Saturday, April 14th, at the United Church, when Jean, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. J. F. Oslund, became the bride of Francis J. Campbell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Campbell. Rev D. K. Allan officiated.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, looking lovely in a floor length gown of white sheer, a finger-tip veil and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her ensemble was completed with silver slippers and white gloves.

Miss Jean Innes was bridesmaid and was dressed in a blue sheer floor length gown, with chapel veil to match. She carried pink carnations.

Matron of honor, Miss Myrtle Anderson from Ryley, wore a white sheer floor length gown with a white chapel veil. She also carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Bernard Chandler. Messrs. J. Chalmers and W. Roloff, were ushers.

The wedding music was played by Miss Margaret Dodds and during the signing of the register, Miss Betty Stinson sang "Dawn."

After the ceremony a reception was held in the basement of the church, where many friends gathered to wish the young couple much happiness. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, and pink and white streamers decorated the room.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Campbell left on the evening train for Edmonton where they will spend a short honeymoon. They will take up residence in Tofield.

Francis J. Campbell was a member of the Canadian Army and spent two years overseas, and has since been discharged due to medical reasons.

The bride's mother chose a delft blue dress with white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother wore apple green for her son's wedding with brown accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses.

FAREWELL DINNER

About 75 friends of Father Smeltzer gathered in the Royal Alexandra Hotel dining room on Sunday and sat down to a farewell dinner. The Rev. Father received many good wishes for his future well being and there were many expressions of regret because of his departure. A copy of the presentation address and also a copy of the Rev. Father's farewell sermon will be found on page three.

Mrs. W. C. Swift left Thursday morning for a visit at Summerland, B.C.

DEVILLE

The pie social and dance which was held at the school on the 6th, was very successful.

Quite a few attended the ball game last Sunday between Deville and Hastings Lake, but we are unable to give you the correct score.

Mrs. A. Morrow and Muriel have returned home after spending some time at the coast.

Miss Stella Widowicki is home after being in the General hospital for nearly two weeks where she underwent an operation. She is recovering very slowly—we all wish you the best of luck Stella.

Some of the young folks from around attended the dance at Lindbrook last Saturday. All reported a good time.

Mr Llewellyne is still home on leave after serving for four years overseas.

Mrs Ben Shank is still in the hospital. We all wish her a speedy recovery and hope to see her home soon.

Mrs. S. Cherkas and boys from Endiang spent a week visiting the Wdowicki family.

Miss Stella Steflasyn is staying with her aunt at Shonts.

A few from here also attended the wedding dance at Ardrossan. All reported a very good time.

Pte Victor Todd is expected home from overseas where he had been wounded for the second time.

Some of the older folks are down with the flu. To all we wish a speedy recovery.

It looks like Harry Ward has got Tony Miller's truck going again.

Two nurses were down to the school lately to let everyone know about the T.B. clinic in Edmonton where everyone will be examined free.

Deville is planning on holding a sports day and dance some time next month.

McKENZIE

Pte. Charles Roberge was welcomed home this week, returning home after serving with the army in England and Italy. Mrs. Roberge is expected to arrive from England soon.

The Englehams are driving a Plymouth car.

Bert and Anna Berild were visiting home folk this week.

Mr and Mrs. Englesham entertained a number of guests on Sunday.

Friends in the district gathered together on Wednesday evening to welcome Charlie Roberge home.

RYLEY

The Little Theatre interviewed Extension Department of the University of Alberta, Dramatic Section, regarding stage settings and fixtures. The Extension Department kindly loaned drapes to the Little Theatre for the time being until they could get their own curtains. They have installed the riggings in the ceiling of the stage from which drapes and interior settings are hung. The Little Theatre hope before the year is out they will be able to present their own productions.

The Nigger Minstrel presented by the Round Hill Elks performed before a capacity house. They made a creditable showing considering one of their "end men" was very late in making his appearance.

Mrs Tillie Killian and Bernice, and Irene Dearon attended Miss Jean Oslund's wedding in Tofield last Saturday afternoon.

On Thursday evening a surprise party was held in the Parish Hall for Ole Brannes who left for Vancouver Sunday morning, where he will make his future home, having purchased a store there. Unfortunately the party was arranged at such a short notice that many who would have liked to attend, were unable to do so.

Rev. Ostrem arrived back in Ryley Wednesday morning after spending a few days at Rose Valley, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Alf Anderson spent the week end in the home of Mrs. Hans Krogen. They came to attend Miss Jean Oslund's wedding in Tofield last Saturday, when their daughter was Jean's Maid of Honor. The past months they have been at Whitecourt where Alf is the janitor of the Radio Station and Ragna has been the cook.

Mrs Lance Umphrey spent Thursday night and Friday in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Nelson of Holden, who have purchased the McVittie house, are busy these days painting and papering before moving in.

Miss Sylvia Ritlow of Camrose, formerly of Preeceville, Sask., is visiting with Rev. and Mrs. Ostrem this month.

The Community League met last Thursday evening in the Oddfellows Hall. The president, Mr. Lawrence Butler presided in the chair. Mr. Greig, secretary treasurer, gave the financial report which showed that $627.40 had been taken in since the League started last summer. Of this amount there is a clear profit of paid. Improvement of the Cemetery and election of officers were the $621.40 after a bill of $6.00 has been main points of business to be discussed. It was suggested that blueprints should be made and tapeline should be used to mark out the plots, then all tombstones, etc., should be removed and a grader used to level off all the cemetery plot, then sow grass seed over the lot. Tapeline and blueprints to be used to re-mark the plots. Village Council had agreed to pay $150.00 toward improving Cemetery. It was suggested that all plotholders who objected to having their plots levelled off, should put in their objections by writing by a certain given date. The cemetery is to continue to be under the jurisdiction of the Village Council. And it was also suggested by Mr Butler that plot holders should petition Village Council to draw up a set of by-laws regarding cemetery. A motion was made and accepted that Community League should proceed as planned and outlined the night the Community League executive met with the Village Council. The Memorial Park came up next for discussion. It was decided to lay a concrete strip around the whole lot this summer. The concrete should be 3" in width and 18" in depth. Mr. Holman's plans for Park should be followed. A concrete slab with a brass plate bearing the names of the boys in the services will be erected in the Park. Mrs. McPherson suggested a Recreational Memorial of some kind should be erected. A committee was appointed to find means of raising funds for this project and ex-servicemen should be consulted as to what form this Recreational Memorial should be. Mrs. C. McPherson was appointed convenor of the Committee with Mrs. Hay and Mrs. Ireland as assistants.

The election of Community League executive was left till May 3rd as Mr. Butler and Mr. Greig were nominated to serve again this coming year, but had to decline owing to the pressure of their own business matters. No one present agreed to hold office so it was put off till the next meeting on May 3rd. Meeting adjourned.

Sunday School at 10 a.m.

Norwegian Service at 11.00 a.m. conducted by Rev. Ostrem. The Lenten Penny-a-meal boxes should be turned in at this meeting.

The International Luther League Rally will be held on April 29th in the Bethel Lutheran Church. A candle light service and special music will be part of the programme. Everybody is cordially welcome.

Tofield Community League

The League sponsored a very enjoyable supper meeting at the Royal Cafe on Wednesday, April 11th. The purpose of this meeting was threefold, first the members thought it was time that we should have a social evening again and to let the ladies in on some of the league's activities. Secondly, to bid farewell to two of our most ardent supporters, Rev. Smeltzer and Mr and Mrs. Bert Everitt. Mr. Chandler, our president, gave the message of farewell finishing with the group singing Auld Lang Syne. Father Smeltzer and Bert ably answered this message. The third part of our program was taken up with the hall discussion. It was hoped when this supper was planned that we would be able to present the Hall plans, but they were not finished in time. Mr. F. Imler gave an outline of the plans proposed and some discussion took place. The plans will be ready in a week and a meeting of the League as well as all interested will be held to discuss them.

Miss Ethel Brown is substitute teacher for Miss Muriel Finseth who was unable to finish the term of school owing to illness.

Congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Campbell. Several from our district attended the wedding at the church on Saturday.

Mr. C. A. Ingram returned from Victoria, B.C., after spending the winter there. He was the guest of his sister, Mrs. G. W. Sears, for a week, after which he went up to Edmonton.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Robert Dunham on Sunday. He was a real old timer of our district, having spent some forty years here. We extend our sympathy to the brothers and sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. William Davison and Stanley Sears took in the stock show in Edmonton on Thursday.

Mr. A. F. Schultz spent a few days in Edmonton. He also attended the stock show.

Mrs. J. H. Ingram and daughter, Mrs. John Nickerson, were passengers to Edmonton Friday.

We are sorry Mrs. Geo. Williams is not responding to treatments as well as was hoped for, in an Edmonton hospital. Her husband was called to her bedside the first of the week.

Mrs. Mabel Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. Brown and son Dennis of Beaver, visited their mother and grandmother, Mrs. E. McMullen on Sunday. Mrs. M. Brown remained to help care for her.

Mrs. J. Nickerson and daughter, Jeanne, stayed a week at the J. H. Ingram home while their home was being moved in town.

Mr. Holmes trucked fattened steers to Edmonton Tuesday for Stanley Sears.

Miss Ella Brown entertained her friends on her birthday during Easter week. Also Doreen and Shirley Lee entertained at an Easter party.

Mr. Malcolm Johnson of Williams Lake, B.C., attended the funeral of his brother-in-law, the late Howard Stine. He returned to his home Saturday taking his ten-year-old nephew, Howard, with him where he will make his home.

F.O. Allan Harrison returned home Saturday after getting his discharge from the R.C.A.F. in Calgary. After a week's course at the University in Edmonton, he will take up work for the Soldiers' Settlement at Peace River.

The Ladies' Aid held their monthly meeting and house warming at the A. J. Williams' home on April 4. Mr. and Mrs. Williams are to be congratulated on their new home. After the business session of the Ladies' Aid, Mrs. Appleby, on behalf of the ladies of the community, presented Mrs. Williams and Mrs. B. Cookson framed pictures. Mrs. Cookson built a new house last year. A large gathering was present and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon. Money paid out by the Ladies' Aid at the meeting, $50.00 on minister's salary; $15.00 Red Cross; $8.00 toward Sunday School supplies. There was $2.00 left over from the Christmas boxes that too was turned in toward the Sunday school. The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Martin Lawson.

Miss Esther Coombes has taken a position at the hotel in Viking.

Mr. and Mrs. Brooms of Miquelon were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Henderson.

LOST—A GUINEA PIG

"Last night I left a small box containing a guinea pig in bedroom D of Car X-100 on 'The Montrealer'," wrote a resident of Bellows Falls, Vt. to J. C. Webber, stationmaster at the Canadian National Railways Central Station, Montreal.

"I was travelling from Philadelphia to Bellows Falls. If you can locate this box (brown shoe box with string) will you kindly forward it to me. Naturally, I want the animal alive and if you could arrange to put a piece of lettuce or carrot in the box, I would appreciate it very much."

This little animal was discovered amid the bustle of the Canadian Customs premises.

MINISTIK

Mr. E. Nix, student, will be here for the summer. His first service will be the first Sunday in May, 6th.

There was quite a number from this district attended the Free Chest X-ray Clinic for T.B. It was held in the Fire Hall in Edmonton south. The results will not be known for 6 weeks from the date of the Clinic, Thursday, April 12th.

The motion picture show and dance will be held at the Hall on Friday, April 27th. Everyone come and have a good time.

Alex Kleinschroth and George is away for a few days finishing Mr. Clark's new house at Deville. Mr. Clark will be moving into the new house this spring.

Mr. Koding bought a Hereford bull at the Edmonton sale and a fine animal he is. Mrs. Koding is out on the farm mothering a bunch of young chicks.

We hear Archie Bose has bought a farm at Fultonvale and will soon be moving down there.

The draws on the Ministik raffle were made at the Hall on April 13. The sweater was won by Miss Margaret Oliver and Miss Sheila Holland of Fultonvale got the pair of socks. This raffle brought the sum of $26.45 which will go towards helping with the work of the Hall. Our sincere thanks to the ladies who so kindly donated the sweater and socks.

The regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held on April 4th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hennessey, with 10 members and 2 visitors present. The meeting opened with the singing of O Canada. Minutes were read and adopted. Letters were read from Keith Williams and Steel Murdoch thanking the Juniors for parcels. More parcels are to be sent shortly. Delegates for Farm Young People's week were chosen, Lorna Hennessy and Lloyd Grummett being named. Our dance proved a success and the draw was made for the sweater, donated by Mrs. Grummett. Miss Margaret Oliver was the lucky winner and the socks, given by Mrs. Jack Reddick, were won by Miss Sheila Holland. We wish to thank all who made our evening a profitable one.

The Bulletin was read by Ralph Leech. Roll call was answered by "Mother's christian name" Meeting adjourned. A pleasant evening was closed with an hour of music and a nice lunch.

HE HAS Sacrificed YOU HAVE Served

● You have reason for just pride if you have done all you could do, on the home front, to support the gallant effort of our men in active service.

If you have denied yourself pleasures and comforts to buy Victory Bonds . . . you, too, have played a part in helping your country's war effort.

You have worked and saved and lent your savings to your country. Without this help from you . . . and from millions of her citizens, your country could not have maintained the prominent place she now occupies among the freedom-loving nations.

Canada has the use of your savings to help to win victory. (You will have this money to use for your own needs later.)

Perhaps you wish you could have done more. Well, you will be asked to do more. Men who have come back will tell you that there is lots to do yet. Canadians are on active service, on the fighting fronts. More money is needed to support their effort.

You are asked to keep on working and saving and you will be asked to put more savings into Victory Bonds. They are the best investment any Canadian can make; an investment that every Canadian should make.

THEIR FRIEND—

THE PEOPLES OF THE WORLD were shocked and grieved to learn last week of the sudden passing of Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States of America. For many years now and particularly since the world has been engulfed in war, Franklin D. Roosevelt has been looked upon by millions of people, both within and without the United States as something more than a great statesman, something even closer than a great President, he has by millions of people scattered far and wide, been looked upon as a personal friend. His occasional broadcasts upon matters of American and world wide interest, going into millions of homes with kindly tone and faultless diction, has enshrined him in the hearts of millions of people to whom statecraft and politics were unopened books. His opening sentence of two potent words "my friends," immediately, almost miraculously, tore down the veil of form and formality and speaker and listeners became blended in harmony of thought and expression.

It is in the natural order of things that the mantle of eternal earthly sleep should fall upon all. When this hour comes and the great divide is crossed, there is sorrow among those left, but to the departed, who knows? but that a more glorious existence awaits in which influence for good upon here on earth is magnified many times. Many years ago in its fiction contribution to the Easter season and resurrection, The Saturday Evening Post published a story in which one scene was a hospital ward and the characters, two nurses and a dying old man. In conversation the two nurses spoke of death, it's meaning and the prospects for a happy existence beyond the veil. Said one in effect: "I believe the measure of your future happiness is governed by the true love and devotion bestowed upon you here." It was an excellent Easter story but it was fiction and was intended as such. But surely if the nurse's analysis of the hereafter is in any degree whatsoever true, a glorious hereafter awaits the late lamented President, for there are few men in history who have played such an active part in a turbulent world as he, or upon whom was bestowed more love and admiration. The millions of people whom he spoke to through the medium of the microphone were, he said, his friends. By the same token and with true sincerity, he was their friend.

A GOOD CANADIAN—

THERE ARE MANY REASONS given why Canadians should buy Victory Bonds. Some of them appeal to patriotism, such as the support of the men and women serving this country overseas. Some of the reasons stress the good business and investment part of the purchase, pointing out that a few sizeable government bonds are a splendid protection against the so-called rainy day. But to us the most important reason why Canadian men and women should buy Victory Bonds is because they are themselves Canadians.

One's comfort, environment and living standards are chiefly a matter of comparison. The welfare of one individual is judged in comparison with the welfare of another and it is by this comparison that one decides as to whether he is well off or not. In this respect it can be pointed out that of all the people's in the world during the past five years Canadians have been as well or better fed, clothed, housed, employed, entertained, informed, enlightened, educated and governed. To be sure there are flies in the ointment, that this or that problem could, in the belief of some people, have been handled better by the government. That the recruiting system, financial system, industrial man power question could all have been managed better. Granted that when looking back it can be seen where mistakes occurred, but again granted that even with these mistakes, Canadians, the stay at home ones, have had to endure less hardship than the people of almost any other nation in the world. Canadians, due to the gallantry of her sons and daughters and the gallantry of the sons and daughters of her allies, have been able, as it were, to occupy a grandstand place and witness by newspaper and radio the unfolding of tragic and historical events. Witness them beyond the sound of booming guns, secure from death dealing bombs; out of the path of invading and ravishing armies and with a sense of security that only distance plus adequate protection could give. Here and there across this wide dominion licking flames of war as it were, have reached across the seas and seared many a household. To those homes, to those loved ones, a nation's sympathy is extended, remembering that with sorrow of this kind, mostly silently borne, goes matchless pride.

The floating of Victory Bond issues, is Canada's way, and the way of most English speaking countries, of at least partly paying for the cost of the war. One may have his or her ideas of the "financial system," but with all or any faults it may have, it is better than the forced labor camps or the political concentration camps. The number of people who have become enmeshed in camps of this kind during the past few years staggers the imagination. These people, did they but live in Canada, and did they but have the opportunity and wherewithall to purchase Victory Bonds, would believe themselves to be living in a heaven upon earth and literally jump at the chance. Don't fool yourself that you are making a great sacrifice when you buy Victory Bonds, you are not, you are simply becoming a financial partner in a national concern in which your money is needed and in which your fellow partners are fellow Canadians. You are assisting in preventing the introduction of tyranny here and its destruction elsewhere. You are lending your aid to a process that out of the darkness of war, horror and destruction, may come the shining light of peace, truth and achievement. You are simply being what all of us desire and hope to be, a good Canadian.

Farewell Sermon By Father Smeltzer

Today as you all know, is the day on which I am to bid you farewell, and first of all I wish to thank all of you for the many kindnesses shown to me during the past seven years when I have been your Pastor. I am sorry that I am unable as yet to tell you who your new Pastor may be, however I would ask you to show him the same respect and co-operation that you have shown to me in the past. As St. Paul says, a priest is called from among men, and appointed to those things that appertain to God. So, no matter who your new pastor may be, he is worthy of your respect and reverence, for he wears the mantle of the priesthood of Jesus Christ.

Man, as you know, is a creature made up of body and soul. With his body he belongs to this earth, he is of the earth earthly and as such he is a citizen of an earthly nation. As regards his spiritual soul, man is made a little less than the angels, crowned with glory and honour and called to be a child of God and a citizen of the Kingdom of Heaven. Now as I leave you, I would ask you first of all to be good citizens of the Kingdom of God. God made us to know Him, to love Him and to serve Him. Through baptism you were raised to the dignity of the children of God. Strive to be worthy children of your Heavenly Father. First of all, be faithful to Sunday Mass, for by that sacrifice you give to God fit honour and worship. You acknowledge God's supreme dominion over you and your total dependence upon Him. Then I ask you as you value your immortal souls to receive frequently the sacraments of Penance and the Holy Eucharist. When Christ said to his Apostles, "receive ye the Holy Ghost, whose sins you shall forgive, they are forgiven them, and whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." He gave them that power to cleanse your souls from sins that you might stand before God without spot and be for Him an acceptable people. The Holy Eucharist was given to you as the spiritual food of your souls and that Christ might enter into you and be with you to strengthen you and to guide you on the road to Life Eternal.

I would ask you likewise to always dwell together in Charity. When Christ said farewell to His apostles He said "a new commandment I give unto you—that you love one another"—and He added "By this shall all men know that you are my disciples that you love one another." Or again when He was asked which was the greatest commandment He answered, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart and with thy whole soul, and with all thy strength and all thy mind" and the second is like unto this "thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Now our neighbor is mankind of every description, whether he be white or black, and irrespective of race or creed. Remember the first one to question the brotherhood that should exist among men was the first murderer. When God asked Cain where his brother Abel was, he answered, "Am I my brother's keeper?" With this awful example before us, let us put all hatred out of our hearts and love all men as befits children of God and brethren of Jesus Christ.

As I said before, you are citizens of an earthly nation. And I ask you to be good, obedient citizens of this Canada of ours. We have sent our young men forth to battle and we are pouring all we can produce into the holocaust of war. Do not imagine though that once victory comes that we will have all we hope for. War is like a fire and we send our armies like firemen to put out the fire. They put out the fire but they do not rebuild the house. There will be many years of thought and labour and effort before society can be rebuilt throughout the world. Even in our own country we see that there must be many changes in our economic set-up before we can have everyone enjoying the fruits of this earth as they should enjoy them, or even have all the required necessities for a decent living.

Now as regards the various methods proposed to remedy our ills, first of all I would say that man's right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness as it is aptly stated in the preamble to the American Constitution, is not something given you by any government, nor is it something that any government is allowed unjustly to take away. These rights were given to you by your Creator when he made you with a free will and put into your heart a desire for happiness.

I wish also to utter a word of warning with regard to systems which their sponsors say will make this country a heaven on earth. Something is never given for nothing in this world. Either their promises are false or else you will pay for those things by heavy taxes or by loss of liberty, or by both. Those words spoken when mankind was driven out of the Garden of Eden are still true "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread." You can expect nothing without working for it on this earth and you will not and cannot have heaven in this life.

Be then intelligent citizens of your country, study its problems and study the proposed remedies. If those remedies are good, if they do not violate justice and if they promote the common good, work for them. Work together with your fellow citizens, irrespective of race or creed, to bring about better things. Your government will follow the will of its people, that is the essence of democracy.

There will be many and violent attacks upon the Church in the days to come. You will hear it said that the Church is the enemy of liberty and progress. To answer that charge I would ask who it is but the Church that teaches the dignity of each human person, teaching us that we are all children of God and brothers in Christ. Remember that every change is not progress. Human nature, prone to evil, can without Divine guidance, go more easily backwards than forward. These charges against the Church are as false as were those witnesses who said "We have found this Man perverting our nation and forbidding to give tribute to Caesar, and saying that He is Christ the King."

Remember that Christ's kingdom is in this world but not of it. And if the Church sees any system proposed that would interfere with your eternal salvation, she will condemn that system. Have nothing to do with those things the Church condemns for in them there is the loss of God and the danger of eternal death.

Now as I offer up for you and with you for the last time, the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, let us each one offer himself or herself to Jesus, our Divine Master, let us pray for each other and ask Jesus to keep us all in his grace so that no matter whether death comes to each of us soon or late, we may all dwell together safe for eternity in the arms of our Heavenly Father.

FAREWELL ADDRESS OF THE TOFIELD PARISH TO REV. FATHER SMELTZER ON SUNDAY, APRIL 15th, GIVEN BY CONSTABLE E. C. R. WOODS, (R.C.M.P.)

Reverend Father Smeltzer:

As you have already guessed we are here today to wish you our formal farewells.

Living in such turbulent times, changes are, it seems, the order of our days, which must be accepted—but so often are to be deeply regretted. We most certainly will miss you, Father.

Throughout all the years you have been in charge of our parish, you have indeed served as "Another Christ". You have inspired us by living the virtues. And as happens so often Father, now that you are leaving us, we perhaps for the first time realize just what manner of man you have been and are! Because you asked nothing for yourself, and were most grateful for whatever was done for you, we have often forgotten that we could have been more generous. You have followed your Master very closely while living among us Father. You have certainly lived as poorly as the family in Nazareth, and never once did you complain. I repeat again Father—truly, you have lived here in our midst as "Another Christ" and we shall long remember you for the splendid example you have given.

What a sublime calling is yours—You have baptized our children, making them children of God—you have joined them in marriage—and sometimes, prepared them for death. Yes Father, you may be appointed to another parish, but your work for us will go on through the years, and we will be grateful for having known you.

Of course Father, you will be in Edmonton and when the open road brings you our way, you will be welcome in our homes.

Our prayers and good wishes go with you Father, for the success of your work in your new parish and that you will find great happiness in this new field of service.

And now Father, we ask you to accept this gift, a very small expression of our deep gratitude to you. I am happy to make this presentation to you, Father.

SPRING'S REVERSE

The blue bird and the lark were here,
The robin's laughter and his measur'd song;
And while the lion slumber'd deep and long
Kind April called her gentle children near.

But Leon woke in savage rage,
And charg'd the lenient north with whips of steel,
That caused the springing brooklets to congeal,
And drove the songsters to their shelter'd cage.

But not for long, the zephyrs wake,
The birds steal forth from nook and forest shade,
The sun moves kindly through the warming glade,
While grateful praises from earth's shadows break.

—S. C. Vance, Kingman.

U.F.W.A. NOTES

Undaunted by a heavy snow storm there was a good attendance of members at the April meeting of the U.F.W.A. which was held at the home of Mrs. A. Torrie.

Several visitors were also present, some of whom became members.

The Roll Call, "School Day Memories" was well responded to, and enjoyed by all.

Definite plans for a Summer conference (local) were held over until members of the Provincial executive had been heard from as to time and personnel.

Mrs. I. C. Olson gave a very good paper on "Co-operation" stressing the aims, and results to be gained.

Mrs. A. Haukedahl read the monthly bulletin on "Handicrafts."

A pieced quilt top was turned in for the local Red Cross and another one planned for the coming month.

Late in the afternoon the meeting was shocked to learn of the sudden death of President Roosevelt. Every member was saddened by the loss of a great and good man, who was a steadfast friend to Canada in her time of need.

The time and place of the next U.F.W.A. meeting will be announced later.

Sunday School	11:00 a.m.

At both services last Sunday, tribute was paid to the late President Roosevelt.

At the evening service, the new Communion Table was dedicated. It is a gift to the congregation from Mr. and Mrs. John Cookson. A very large number of communicants partook of the Lord's Supper. Six new members were added to the Communion Roll.

The Schoolroom of the Church is being beautifully re-decorated by the members of the Young Women's Association. They are to be heartily commended for the fine job they have done.

The Easter Thankoffering service held in the Church on Tuesday afternoon by the W.M.S. was well attended. Mrs. Norman Campbell, Holden, gave a most interesting and inspiring address. Mrs. Torrie was soloist. Everyone present felt it had been a delightful gathering.

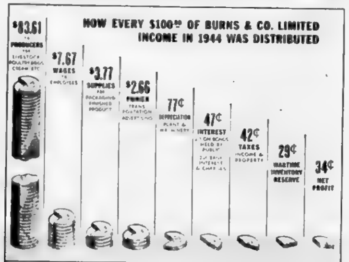
Farmers Get 83c of Burns' Income Dollar



Farmers who are the primary producers of products processed and distributed by Burns & Co. Limited, received more than 83 per cent of every dollar of the Company's income in 1944. The above graph shows clearly how every $100 of income was re-distributed by the Company, from $83.61 to the farmer and $7.67 in wages to employees, down to 34 cents net profit.

M.D. OF BEAVER HOLD ADJOURNED APRIL MEETING

The adjourned April meeting of the M.D. of Beaver was held at Ryley on Friday last. A detailed report of the meeting will appear in our next issue.

TOFIELD DISTRICT JUNIORS DO WELL AT EDMONTON STOCK SHOW

Showing keen interest and absorbing valuable knowledge 'teenagers from this area did quite well at the Edmonton Spring Stock Show. In addition to the outstanding success of young Lawrence Kallal, others from this area were in the prize-winning class also.

In the girls stock judging competition Doris McGinitie came fifth and Jean Torrie sixth. In the boys judging competition Robert Roloff came fifth and Kenneth Brown 6th. As mentioned last week in the Hereford class, children's calf feeding competition Audrey Moore came fourth and Bill Mishew twelfth and thirteenth.

Note: The Tofield Calf Club will meet in Tofield, Saturday at 1:30 for judging practice.

ATTENTION FARMERS

Since the infestation of Canadian Thistle on the lake shore areas within the M.D. of Beaver, No. 73, has been a concern to the farmers throughout the district, arrangement has been made through the Agricultural Service Board to give some attention to this problem. The Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture is prepared to supply a certain quantity of suitable grass and legume seeds to seed down the infested areas. The Municipality of Beaver has undertaken to give some assistance in the matter of personnel. Therefore, any farmer residing within the M.D. of Beaver who has a Canadian Thistle problem on the lake shore adjoining his land, may write to the office and ask that assistance be given to him. It is hoped that those farmers wishing to take advantage of the policy should write during the month of April or at the latest, the first week in May, explaining their case. Upon receipt of these applications the District Agriculturist and a Weed Fieldman will visit the areas concerned. It is expected that the farmers will prepare the seed bed. Seed will be provided and the area seeded down under the supervision of the Weed Fieldman.

Farmers writing in to the office for this assistance should give the legal location of their land and the lake shore of which they want seeding to be done. State the acreage involved.

M.D. BEAVER, No. 73.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT CONTROLS

"It was nearly the unanimous opinion that during the transition period the Dominion government should continue to exercise the increased powers it has had in wartime. The chief problem, they feel, is to determine how long that transition will last.

THE LITTLE WEEKLY PAPER

Folks may prize the city dailies with their editorial views,
With their boasted circulation and their telegraphic news,
With parliamentary speeches and the same old party song,
And their so-called brainy essays
which are always dry and long.
They may prize the great trade journals or the classic magazines,
With its illustrated stories and the science in between—
But the one I hail with gladness which I long so for to come
Is that little village weekly which they send me down from home.

'Tain't no twenty-page edition for it has but only four
But they breathe the breath of comfort and I always long for more.
'Tain't what folks would call artistic,
for at times its dim and blurred
But it only serves to interest, and
I make out every word.
It is mostly bright and cheery, though sometimes my heart is bled,
As I read a black-lined notice that some old-time friend is dead.
But there's far more joy than sorrow in the messages so sweet,
Of that little village weekly, that away back country sheet.

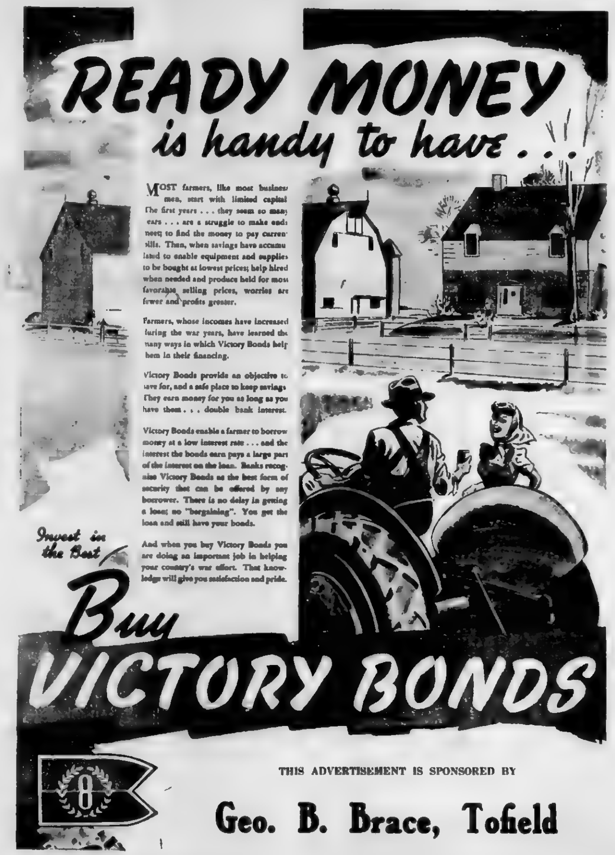
Vol. XXIX, No. 52 Thursday, April 26, 1945 $2.00 Per Year. In U.S.A. $2.50

A Message From The Chairman and Unit Organizer

Once again we are appealing to the people of Tofield and Ryley areas for generous support of the eighth Victory Loan. Our quota as applied to this loan has been again raised from previous ones. This is partly due to the inclusion of the Ryley area within our terrtory and partly due to the national overall increase. Our present quota of $165,000, is nearly four times the amount of our quota in the first Victory Loan drive, but we are quite confident that with the co-operation and loyal support of the committee, salesmen and general public, this quota will be reached. We would like to express our thanks to all those who in previous loans helped us to meet our objective and also to those who already in this drive are working hard to this end. This issue of the Mercury, which could truthfully be called Victory Loan issue, contains many sponsored advertisements. The national, provincial and unit Victory Loan committees appreciate very much the valuable aid given in this manner, knowing full well, that the additional publicity given in this way does make the work of the salesmen easier and does increase the aggregate amount of bonds sold. No message would be complete without referring to the service rendered to the cause of freedom by the armed services. If we here at home tackle our objective with the same enthusiasm and determination with which they are tackling theirs, success of the Victory Loan drive is assured.

GEO. B. BRACE, Chairman.
A. J. H. McCAULEY, Unit Organizer.



MOST farmers, like most business men, start with limited capital. The first years . . . they seem so many years . . . are a struggle to make ends meet; to find the money to pay current bills. Then, when savings have accumulated to enable equipment and supplies to be bought at lowest prices; help hired when needed and produce held for most favorable selling prices, worries are fewer and profits greater.

Farmers, whose incomes have increased during the war years, have learned the many ways in which Victory Bonds help them in their financing.

Victory Bonds provide an objective to save for, and a safe place to keep savings. They earn money for you as long as you have them . . . double bank interest.

Victory Bonds enable a farmer to borrow money at a low interest rate . . . and the interest the bonds earn pays a large part of the interest on the loan. Banks recognise Victory Bonds as the best form of security that can be offered by any borrower. There is no delay in getting a loan; no "bargaining". You get the loan and still have your bonds.

And when you buy Victory Bonds you are doing an important job in helping your country's war effort. That knowledge will give you satisfaction and pride.

SEED TREATMENT AND SMUT PREVENTION

Most of the smut diseases of cereals are readily prevented by simple, inexpensive methods of seed treatment, according to Dr. A. W. Henry, Professor of Plant Pathology, University of Alberta. That such smut diseases are likely to increase in prevalence if farmers fail to treat their seed is indicated by data recently gathered in western Canada.

Recommendations of general treatment of seed grain in Alberta and the putting of these into practice, have helped materially to reduce losses from smut and other diseases here. Alberta's record is reasonably good but there is still room for improvement. We need still more of that type of insurance for our grain crops which is provided by seed treatment with recommended fungicides.

THE BRITISH POSITION

In order to live directly Great Britain must import about $4 billion worth of raw materials a year. Before the war approximately 60 per cent of imports was covered by exports. Britain was then a creditor nation and received a billion dollars a year from investments abroad. $600 million a year was obtained from shipping and other items brought the total up to [illegible] billion a year [illegible].

Britain's expenditures during the war have made her a debtor nation to the extent of about $15 billion. She has liquidated most of her investments [illegible]. British shipping [illegible] that under the control of the United States. Britain's huge investments in natural rubber are menaced by the production of synthetic rubber on North America.

Great Britain is and has been the main market for Canada's surplus farm production. Delegations from the United Kingdom have been visiting Canada and saying that the British are anxious to buy a substantial proportion of their food needs from Canada in the post war years, but that payment will have to be made in goods and services. It must be obvious that the British have no other alternative. If Canada expects to sell several hundred million pounds of pork to Britain each year after the war Canada must buy British goods to that extent. The same is true with wheat beef poultry and dairy products. Canada now should be planning and facilitating the exchange of trade.—Wheat Pool Budget.

FARM MORTGAGE DEBTS IN ALBERTA REDUCED 31 PER CENT IN 1944

Farm mortgage debts in Alberta were reduced 31 per cent in 1944 according to the report issued by The Dominion Mortgage and Investments Association.

The amount owing by Alberta farmers on mortgages and agreements for sale is now less than half what it was seven years ago.

The Association bases its estimate on the experience of 30 life insurance trust and loan companies. Since these companies have a substantial investment in farm mortgages and agreements for sale and since the farms which are security for these mortgages are located in all sections of Alberta Saskatchewan and Manitoba the experience of these companies can be taken as representative.

The total amount owing by Alberta farmers on mortgages and agreements for sale to these 30 companies at the end of 1944 was $19 millions. This compares with $27.8 millions at the end of 1943, $39.7 millions at the end of 1937.

Proportionate reductions were made in Mortgage indebtedness in 1944 by Saskatchewan and Manitoba farmers, the percentage reduction in the amount owing being 13.5 per cent in Saskatchewan and 29.4 per cent in Manitoba.

The total amount owing to these companies on farm mortgages in the three prairie provinces combined now stands at $80 millions as compared with $129.2 millions at the end of 1943 and 164.6 millions at the end of 1937.

Mortgage principal and interest payments by farmers were larger in 1944 than in any previous year. The increase in payments received in Alberta in 1944 as compared with 1943 was 10.4 per cent. For the three prairie provinces combined the increase was 22 per cent.

Thousands of prairie farmers have paid off their mortgages in recent years and now own their farms free of debt. The number of Alberta farmers indebted to these 30 companies has declined from 13,177 in 1937 to 9,331 in 1943 and 7,403 at the end of 1944. For the three prairie provinces combined the figures are 54,422 in 1937, 42,297 in 1943 and 32,600 at the end of 1944.

Farm real estate held by life insurance trust and loan companies in the three prairie provinces is now at the lowest level in many years. During 1944 these companies sold 4,486 parcels of farm real estate. The aggregate sale price was $16.7 millions. All cash was received for 1,426 properties. These figures disprove the charge sometimes made that life insurance, trust and loan companies desire to become large land owners and to control the farm lands of Western Canada.

Seven women are among the 400 doctors in the Royal Canadian Navy. They do the same work as the male doctors and have equivalent rank and pay.

Establishment of a Canadian legation in Cuba has been announced by Prime Minister King. Emile Vaillancourt of Montreal will be the first Canadian minister to that country.

CONTROL OF ANNUAL WEEDS POST-SEEDING CULTIVATION

The problem of annual weeds, of which Mustard and Stinkweed and others on the heavier soils is of foremost importance, present a difficult problem. Usually a few days after the grain is seeded in the ground, Mustard, Wild Buckwheat, Stinkweed and Lamb's Quarters emerge and compete with the grain for food, moisture and light. Harrowing the crop at this stage of growth to destroy weeds has never become a generally accepted practice. Under favorable conditions, it is possible to kill a large percentage of the weed growth without damaging the grain crop, especially wheat.

The following suggestion is offered to farmers to try out.

1. Since no suitable implement is available for post-seeding cultivation a light harrow with short, heavy, sharp teeth is recommended. These harrows should be dragged at a fair speed, at least three and one half miles per hour.
2. Crops should be seeded at a uniform depth of about three inches.
3. Watch the germination of the seed very carefully. As soon as the shoots on the seed are about one inch long, this is the time to do post-seeding cultivation. Under favorable conditions this may occur in about eight days after seeding.
4. Harrow this field quickly and thoroughly. In this way any annual weed seeds that have germinated may then be killed. This type of harrow will not injure the grain shoots materially. Under normal conditions, a few days after this post-seeding cultivation the grain will appear above the ground. By the time the weed seeds of the remaining weeds germinated the grain crop will be at least four inches above the ground. The grain crop may be able to shade out the weeds. The cereals in this way will be able to compete with the weeds quite favorably.

There is one item in this suggestion which might prove not feasible. If it should rain during the period when post-seeding cultivation should take place, then such cultivation can not be carried out at the proper time. This method of cultivation has been carried out to a limited extent in Saskatchewan and in a few cases in southern Alberta.

It is suggested that the farmers in this area try this method on a small acreage.

G. A. MOSSEY,
District Agriculturist.

INFLATION AND CONTROL

"There'll be even more danger of inflation after the war . . . and it wouldn't be wise to relax controls till this is over," Harry Dewar, Halifax, reporting for the Maritimes, stated. "Moncton said it would be a good idea to make the wartime powers of government apply to other emergencies as well, like depressions for instance, so we could deal with them on a national scale."

Montreal Forum secretary, Margaret Howes: "They feel that the interests of Canada can best be served by having federal controls continue for some time after the war emergency has passed. They don't see how we are going to avoid inflation, maintain full employment or carry our weight internationally unless the Dominion government continues to have extra powers."

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL—

READERS OF THE MERCURY will remember the publication a few weeks back of an editorial concerning the treatment of a bank clerk who risked his life while protecting the bank's property. In a claim for damages the judge lamented that he could not give judgement in favor of the clerk because of technicalities. At the time we said the technicalities should have been waived and the judge act according to his considered judgement. We also thought, but did not say so, that about $2500.00 and a job for life, conduct warranting it, would about fix things up. Therefore we are pleased to publish the concluding chapter in the story with the quotation: "All's well that ends well."

Brigadier-General D. C. Draper,
Chief Constable,
Toronto, Ontario.
Dear Sir:

I am happy to have received a generous reward of $200 from the Toronto Police Commissioners in connection with the bank hold-up at Dundas Street and Ossington Avenue in March of last year. At the same time I feel that The Canadian Bankers' Association has suffered unjustly in the resultant publicity. The implication has been conveyed, doubtless inadvertently, that the Association should have rewarded me.

The facts are that I have been excellently dealt with by my employers, The Bank of Toronto, in this very matter. After the hold-up in which I was injured my hospitalization was paid by the Bank, I was given an extended leave, and my expenses paid on a holiday trip covering some three months. On my return, the Bank compensated me to the extent of $2,000 in cash. Following this I was promoted and my salary has been increased. My employers asked me not to give publicity to these rewards, but I feel it necessary in the present circumstances to mention them.

As I have previously stated, bank employees are not eligible for Association rewards, which are intended for the general public. Each individual bank is left to reward its own employees. This arrangement is no doubt based on considerations of public safety.

I am handing a copy of this letter to the press and respectfully ask you to bring it to the attention of the Police Commissioners.

Yours truly,
(sgd.) DOUGLAS S. KING.

RECORD SHIPMENT OF EGGS BY TRAIN

Montreal, April 16—What is believed to be the largest number of eggs ever to be loaded into a single railway refrigerator car in Canada passed through here recently over lines of the Canadian National Railways. There were 328,320 eggs in the 912 cases packed into the car. The shipment came from Edmonton, Alta. and was en route to an eastern Canadian port for export. The 27,360 dozen weighs 52,500 pounds.

"In pre-war days, such a consignment would have required practically two railway reefers", stated H. H. Sparling, chief of transportation for the National system. "To fill every square inch of space in the car, the cases were piled six layers high with 152 cases to a layer, only the overhead-iced type of refrigerator car, which was developed by C.N.R. mechanical and perishable traffic experts, can be loaded this new way," Mr. Sparling said.

"PRINCE HENRY" GOES TO THE ROYAL NAVY

Vancouver, April 16—The "Prince Henry" which has just been turned over to the Royal Navy for service against the Japanese, was once the flagship of Canadian National Steamships fleet carrying thousands of tourists along the Pacific Coast to Alaska. Built in Birkenhead, England, she was launched in 1930, christened by Miss Ishbel Macdonald, daughter of Ramsay Macdonald, then Prime Minister of Great Britain.

Built at about the same time were her two sister ships, the "Prince David" and the "Prince Robert". They were hailed as "the embodiment of everything that is the latest in ship construction" with luxurious accommodation for 375 first-class passengers. All three went to war and played a prominent part in the invasion of Europe.

LOVE FINDS A WAY

Winnipeg, April — Love found a way to get around naval regulations at the C.N.R. station in Winnipeg when members of the crew of H.M.C.S. "Prince David," formerly of the Canadian National Fleet, arrived on leave.

It was a happy re-union for Petty Officer John Trevor when he was greeted by his wife, but the better-half was just plain Mrs. John Trevor, instead of Sub-Lieutenant Trevor, which is her naval rank. Had she appeared at the station in uniform as Sub-Lieutenant, she would not have been able to embrace her husband nor accord him the welcome she would want to give after 15 months separation due to his lower rank.

The former C.N. luxury liner played an important part in the invasion of France and has since seen action in waters far distant from the English Channel where she participated in D-Day operations. The "Prince David" is now undergoing re-fitting.

INCREASE BARLEY ACREAGE

Increased acreages in barley in the 1945 cropping programme are necessary to maintain live stock production at present levels. Shortages of feed barley are already noted in some areas and these shortages will become more apparent unless increased acreages are planted.

The central and northern sections of Alberta are normally live stock areas where mixed farming over a period of years has been the soundest farm practice. The tendency last season was for many farmers in this area to increase their acreages in wheat and decrease them in oats and barley. At the same time hog production in these same parts has declined. With a policy of limited marketings of wheat to be applied to the 1945 crop, farmers must recognize that the safest market for grain is through live stock and that the feed most generally suitable for this purpose is barley.

A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, strongly advises farmers in the northern and central section of the province to sharply reduce their wheat acreages and increase their acreages of coarse grains in order to provide feed so necessary in a mixed farm programme.

What every housewife should know... about SUGAR FOR CANNING

For tasty, nourishing and economical winter desserts, most Canadian housewives will again do some preserving this year . . . jams, jellies and all kinds of fresh fruits.

Sugar is still very scarce. We must continue to conserve our supplies.

This year, the allowance for home canning will be the same as in 1944—ten pounds per person. Be sure to use your ration sparingly.

HOW TO GET SUGAR FOR CANNING

Instead of special home canning sugar coupons, twenty extra preserves coupons in Ration Book No. 5 are being made available for the purchase of sugar for canning.

These coupons are good for half a pound of sugar each or the stated value in commercial preserves, for they are the same as any of your preserves coupons.

You may use any other valid preserves coupons to purchase sugar, also at half a pound each.

No exchange is necessary. Your grocer will accept any valid preserves coupons when you purchase sugar for canning.

There are now only two kinds of coupons for sugar. The regular sugar coupon, good for one pound of sugar, and the preserves coupon, worth half a pound of sugar.

"Invest in the Best"

THEY slog ahead with the dirt and anguish of modern war.

They slog ahead—reduce another pillbox—capture another village.

They keep on driving the enemy back until he breaks.

And what of us at home? In comfort, safe, clean, without fear of sudden death or wounds. Sometimes happy enough, but still worried. And we want to help. We'd like to be in there with them until it's over and then come home together. Few of us can do that but surely we can help. We have helped before by buying Victory Bonds and we can do that again. We can keep on providing the money for all their needs; to keep them equipped, to keep them strong and healthy; to care for them if they are sick or wounded and soon, we hope, to bring them safely back to us.

There is a real way to help. We can purchase generously in the 8th Victory Loan.

M.D. Beaver Buy Victory Bonds

An adjourned April meeting of M.D. of Beaver council was held at the district's office on Friday, April 13.

There were present Reeve Anderson; Councillors Giebelhaus, Laskoski, Lucas, Moen, Ovens and Swabey.

Communications: Letter read from Brownlee, Baldwin, and Brownlee regarding a claim of Mr. Otto. Mr. Otto was claiming $176.00 for damage allegedly done to his auto while travelling on the road. The case was scheduled for trial at Viking, May 4.

Letter from the War Assets Corporation regarding the purchase of a motor cycle. They advised that so far no motor cycles had been released from government stores for resale. The M.D.'s application would be kept on file.

Letter from Public Utility Commissioners regarding the estimates of receipts of Lamont School Division.

Letter notifying council of the annual meeting of the Hay Lakes Drainage District.

Letter from Dept. of Agriculture regarding unemployment and farm relief.

Application for work by Mr. Ed Hicks, Tofield. Councillors Anderson and Swabey announced this had already been taken care of.

Letter from J. D. Adams Co. informing council of inability to obtain motor grader and suggesting that council re-order and make a fresh application to the Board governing these permits.

Letter from Wilkinson and McLean regarding the purchase of road equipment and also one from Fred Dohlman, Winfield, Alta. regarding gravelling equipment.

A number of hospital admissions were checked.

The [illegible] M.D. of Eagle council at the last meeting reported that the [illegible] had [illegible] held and an agreement [illegible]. It was agreed that M.D. of Beaver should [illegible] for the M.D. of Eagle [illegible] graded road [illegible]. The M.D. of Beaver [illegible] come into possession [illegible] elevator grader [illegible] tank house [illegible] with the staff.

Council [illegible] with this arrangement and also passed a resolution [illegible] of the committee.

The year's [illegible] the [illegible] was discussed at some length [illegible] being $40,000.00.

On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus it was decided to set aside $10,000.00 from the [illegible] for a machinery [illegible] and that the [illegible] divisions.

A number of [illegible] were checked over and revised.

Grants for the year were considered and agreed upon as follows: Holden Rabies Board $100.00, [illegible] Home [illegible] $100.00, Canadian Institute for the Blind, [illegible] Army $50.00.

A [illegible] and the [illegible] M.D. was read and checked.

Mr. Ward of the Alberta Treasury Branch [illegible] interviewed council regarding the M.D. using the Ryley Treasury Branch [illegible] and explained that there would be no exchange at all [illegible] the M.D. [illegible] to the school division or to ratepayers. The Treasury Branches also proposed to operate a tax receiving service through which ratepayers at a distance from the central Municipal office could pay their taxes in their own trading centres. They would be given an interim receipt and an official receipt later mailed to them from the M.D. office. Council promised to consider the matter later in the [illegible].

On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus a special grant of $500.00 was made to the Canadian Red Cross Society.

A delegation from the Ryley Telephone Co. requested some assistance in moving telephone poles closer to the property line. On the motion of Councillor Ovens this was left to the discretion of the councillor concerned.

J. Jones interviewed council saying that he had been on compensation and asked if he was still on the road staff. Council considered he was.

A delegation from the Palmer Local of the A.F.U. interviewed council regarding road construction. This is in Councillor Laskosky's division and the councillor proceeded to explain how he had his road work lined up so as to serve the maximum number of ratepayers. The explanation caused Councillor Ovens to remark that he had never seen a young councillor take hold of things so efficiently before. The delegation seemed satisfied.

Councillor Swabey moved that $15,000 worth of Victory Bonds be purchased.

Councillor Ovens moved an amendment that $20,000 worth of Victory Bonds be purchased. The amendment carried.

On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus it was decided to do all banking business through the Treasury Branch at Ryley.

Councillor Moen moved that $10,000 of the surplus funds now in the bank be set aside for the purpose of building an office at Ryley with the necessary grounds in connection. Carried.

It was decided to call for tenders for the M.D. building at Tofield.

Councillor Giebelhaus, Moen and Swabey were appointed a committee to suggest a permanent plan regarding the use of the large road machinery as applied to the different divisions.

In reply to a petition Council recommended that the Walters Garage, Ryley, be made a retail gas outlet.

Councillor Lucas moved that a committee be appointed to secure a site, permit and plans for new office building. Carried. Reeve Anderson, Deputy Reeve Ovens and Councillor Moen were appointed as a committee.

Adjournment for supper.

Re-assembling after supper Council decided to engage Ed Hicks for road work.

Went over and passed a number of hospital accounts and other accounts and formally passed them for payment.

Council adjourned at 9:00 p.m.

FROM "JUSTICE"

Across the world where all men grieve,
And grieving strive the more,
The great days range like tides, and leave
Our dead on every shore.
Heavy the load we undergo,
And our own hands prepare,
If we have parley with the foe,
The load our sons must bear.
Before we loose the word
That bids new worlds to birth,
Needs must we loosen first the sword
Of Justice upon earth;
Or else all else is vain
Since life on earth began,
And the spent world sinks back again
Hopeless of God and man.

"Justice" by Kipling, published in the Wheat Pool Budget. Written October, 1918.

Next meeting of the Ryley Community League will be held on May 3rd. Election of officers for coming year will be held. Reports on Ryley Cemetery and Memorial Park will be given.

Two lads travelling through from Vancouver to Ontario were employed last week and planting trees in the Memorial Park.

The Oddfellow and Rebecca Lodge will commemorate the 126th anniversary of the Lodge by attending the morning services in the United Church next Sunday morning at 11 a.m. sharp.

Mrs. Lillian O'Brien is spending a few days in Edmonton with her mother and relatives prior to her brother Allan's departure for overseas duty.

Mrs. Dan Bendiksen and daughter Joan, spent a couple of days in Edmonton last week.

Johnny and Tracy Jevning celebrated Johnny's birthday last Friday by moving into their new home, the former Lerl residence, which incidentally was Tracy's girlhood home.

Henry Holte is driving the new milk truck recently purchased by the Woodland Dairy.

Nick and Pearl Kushinir have purchased the house recently vacated by Jevnings.

The United Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Cyril Freeman next Wednesday afternoon, May 1st. Mrs. Charley Young and Mrs. Myrtle Thorsley will be the hostesses.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid will meet in the Parish Hall next Thursday afternoon, May 3rd.

Mrs. James Gough will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Butler for the next eleven months during her husband's absence. He has been transferred to Prince George and is serving with the Signal Corps.

Mrs. Holley has been in Edmonton for several days visiting with her mother, Mrs. Fred Lundin and her sister, Mrs. Halberg.

Mr. Marshall our Federal Social Credit member is busy arranging for seven meetings which he will hold in the Bruce constituency. No [illegible] dates have been set as yet, excepting one for Viking on June 6th.

Premier Manning has been invited to be one of the guest speakers for the May 17th celebrations which the Lutheran Ladies are going to hold. Premier Manning hopes to be able to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bendiksen have received word that their daughter Kathleen, has arrived safely in England. She is the only WREN from this district.

A Social Credit meeting was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McPherson last Monday evening. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 7th.

Among other Edmonton visitors this week were Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McPherson, Mrs. L. Butler, Mr. Alfred Thorsley, June Holley and M. O'Brien.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gray of Tofield were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bendiksen on Sunday for dinner. Later they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Johnson.

On Saturday evening the Bethel Lutheran Sunday School teachers gave a party for the members of the Sunday school in the Parish Hall. Games were played which all the youngsters seemed to enjoy very much. One lad suggested we should have a party every Saturday night. Lunch was served including ice-cream, which seemed to touch the right spot. We regretted the absence of the Krogan family who were unable to come due to scarlet fever.

The High School play "For Pete's Sake" was a "howling" success. All the caste were suitably adapted to the roles they took. Mugsy and Jasmine were especially good in their parts, although a great deal can be said for ALL the members of the caste. They played to a capacity house and took in $254.00 that evening. Some expenses will have to come out of that amount. Mr. J. D. McDonald ably assisted by Joan Tanberg, Jean McMullen and Helen Kirklund, directed the play. Members of the cast were: Joan Tanberg, Verna Godmunson, Faye Solberg, Jean McMullen, Bernice Oslund, Helen Kirkelun, Neil Jevning, Robert Ireland, Stanley Solberg, Donald Bendiksen, Jimmie Goodall and Larry Butler. Congratulations Ryley High. Here's hoping you do as well in your exams.

Mrs. Mohus is busy these days on a V-day programme to be held some evening after V-day. Let us hope and pray it comes soon.

REMEMBER the big V-day Thanksgiving service to be held in the Ryley Community Hall at 3:00 p.m. when V-day comes. Keep it in mind and let us all turn out to praise and thank God for His goodness to us in sparing our land, Canada, from the terrible bombings that others have had to face and for His mercy and goodness to us each day.

FARMERS AND FIGHTERS—THE FORGOTTEN MEN

During wartime two groups of men are held in the highest of esteem. The soldiers who fight the battles and risk their lives, and the farmers who grow the essential foodstuffs to feed the fighting men. When peace comes, history tells us, these two groups are usually sadly forgotten.

Let us hope that after this war soldiers and farmers alike will be better remembered. Many promises are being made to give assistance to farmers, but in my humble opinion all the plans proposed, and all the promises made put together to help farmers, are nothing like as important as the one simple act of freeing trade from government obstructions, so that the farmers' produce can be sold without hindrance to the people of the world who badly need food.

There is but one way for Canada to free trade, and that is to lower, better still to eliminate altogether, the trade-strangling tariffs which still exist; which tariffs crucified our farmers after the last war, and which will most seriously harm farmers and all of us again after this war unless they are torn down. Without making any plans, proposals or political promises, our Canadian government can easily eliminate, even in one day, these evil tariffs. Farmers should insist upon it being done.

Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister

... he is

So FAR above the earth only a twisting, twining, vapor trail marks his furious pathway through the skies, many a Canadian fighter pilot whirls his Spitfire in combat, high above the droning bombers.

In combat he is alone. But our hearts are with him as they are with every fighting son of Canada—slogging infantrymen, sweating artillerymen and every sailor on every fighting ship.

Our hearts are with them. But that is not enough. Our money must be there, too, equipping them, caring for them in sickness and in health—the tangible token that, in more than spirit, they do not fight alone.

In every Victory Loan Canadians have shown that their hearts are in the right place. There were more than three million buyers of the 7th Victory Loan. In asking you to purchase the 8th Victory Loan Canada gives you another opportunity for your unstinted help and offers you a sound financial investment as well. You loan your money at 3% interest, paid half-yearly, until the due date. Victory Bonds are backed by all the wealth and natural resources of the Dominion. They can be readily converted back into dollars in an emergency. And they may well be the mainstay of your post-war planning.

In our school books we learned that—"for want of a nail the shoe was lost—for want of a shoe, the horse was lost—and for want of a horse the battle was lost."

Yes, often something that seems relatively small is the hinge upon which a major event hangs. To-day, we all desire that our boys overseas shall return home quickly—but it is only by every one of us doing the utmost in our power that this desire will become an accomplishment.

The 8th Victory Loan is here. Let every one of us lend our money, so that our boys may come home sooner.

Victory Loan Campaign Making Progress

With the hoisting of the new Eighth Victory Loan Flag on the flagstaff in the centre of main street, Tofield, by M. C. Hammond (official flagman) the Eighth Victory Loan Campaign officially got under way in this area. There was no special ceremony, M. C. hoisted the flag alone and the drive was on.

The task in this campaign for all Victory Loan workers is greater than ever. The tremendous war expenditures makes it necessary that all Canadians should lend a hand in financing. That this is most easily and profitably done is quite true, but it is also true that many people have to be contacted and signed up.

PRE - VICTORY LOAN CONCERT

On Saturday, arranged by the publicity section of the Victory Loan Committee, a splendid pre-Victory Loan concert was held at the Varsity Theatre. The program, commencing with "O Canada", consisted of moving pictures, vocal and instrumental numbers and an address by Regimental Sgt.-Major MacDonald.

The high light of the program was the singing of the Bardo Male Chorus a singing aggregation that would do full credit to a city, but who are really a group of farmers who train and sing for the joy of it. They gave nine numbers in groups of three and upon each appearance on the floor were heartily applauded. Singing unaccompanied, their harmony was simply wonderful.

Mr. Muir of Edmonton presented 30 minutes of pictures "Left of the Line," a picture showing Canadian troops in action and "V1" a picture showing the robot bomb damage in London.

Mr. Herb Chandler gave two excellent saxaphone solos and Mrs. Stinson and Betty rendered a very fine pianoforte duet.

Mr. J. A. Richardson of Lindbrook was chairman and in his introductory remarks placed emphasis upon co-operation by all in connection with the coming Victory Loan drive.

The concert closed with the National Anthem.

After the program the ladies connected with the program were entertained by Mrs. Bruce at her home and the gentlemen were entertained by the publicity committee at the United Church basement. The United Church Young Women's organization served a splendid supper.

...and bring him home soon Amen

AMISK CREEK

Pastor Ostrom conducted service at the Amisk Creek Church last Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Patterson entertained relatives and friends at a buffet luncheon, Sunday afternoon, April 15, in honor of Mrs. Patterson's mother, Mrs. F. Moen, who reached the age of 93 years April 13. Mrs. Moen, who received many presents and tokens of good wishes, is still quite active and although she leaves her home very seldom, she nevertheless takes a keen interest in what is going on.

Mrs. A. Elvestal and Mrs. M. Vikne from Grand Prairie spent several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Annebo.

Mrs. G. Hudson with her baby daughter of Edmonton, is visiting at the home of her parents here, Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson.

Recent city visitors included Mr. and Mrs. C. Erickson and Mrs. E. A. Moen, Mr. E. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Olson.

Congratulations to Lawrence Kallal, on the awards won at the Edmonton Spring Show. We are certainly very proud of our young farmer.

The Amisk Creek Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Flaaten on May 1.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. C. Johnsrud is again confined to her bed.

Program Arranged For V-E Day

A meeting of the Tofield branch of the Canadian Legion was held at the Town hall on Wednesday evening with president Captain MacCullie in the chair. In addition to members of the Canadian Legion, a number of other town folk were invited to attend. A. B. Clutterham acted as secretary.

The object of the meeting was to arrange a program commemorating the cessation of hostilities in Europe. Present understanding is that the ceremony will be held on the day following what is officially designated as V-E day. A special program was drafted along lines suggested by the central office and will include invocation, prayers, hymns, and songs. A special choir is being composed for the occasion to lead the singing and the road in the vicinity of the cenotaph will be roped off as a no-thoroughfare area.

The Canadian Legion, I.O.D.E., Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and school children will form on the ground immediately north of the C.N.R. station and march to the cenotaph at 2:30 p.m.

The complete program as drafted by the secretary follows:

Time set for the Service: 3:00 p.m. at The Tofield Cenotaph.

Opening, O Canada, by choir and those in attendance.

Invocation, by Rev. Seamon Krup.

Hymn, "All People that on Earth do Dwell"

Scripture Reading, Psalm 46, by Rev. S. Krup.

Prayer of Thanksgiving by Rev. D. K. Allan.

Prayer of Remembrance by Rev. D. K. Allan.

Last Post, Bugler Chandler.

Silence of Remembrance, one minute.

Reveille, Bugler Chandler.

Prayer of Dedication, Rev. D. K. Allan.

Hymn, "O God our help in Ages Past"

Benediction, Rev. D. K. Allan.

God Save the King.

THREE LOCAL SOLDIER BOYS HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Two of the Eaglesham boys and Allistair Swinton arrived in Edmonton on Tuesday and immediately travelled to their homes in Tofield. All three boys have been over for five years and have seen much active service. They were among quite a group of Tofielders that left in the early days of the war and they report most of the other boys quite well and anxious to return home also.

RYLEY

On Saturday morning, May 5th, the members of the L.D.R. are serving a May Day breakfast from 7:00 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. in the Parish Hall.

Everyone is cordially invited.

Harold McMullen returned a couple of nights ago, after a month's holiday at the west coast, where he visited his maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Herman in Bellingham, Wash. He has his discharge from the air force.

Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McPherson are leaving for Edmonton where Dr. McPherson will attend the Social Credit Caucus. In the evening they will attend the Earl of Athlone's banquet.

The Committee appointed by the Community League to work on the War Memorial proposals met the other night at the home of Mr. J. L. McPherson to draft a letter to boys and girls in the services to ask for their suggestions on a War Memorial.

Mr. Guy Sykes had a nasty fall last Friday morning which resulted in he having to go to Edmonton to consult an eye specialist [illegible] injury done to his left eye.

We regret to report the death of Mr. Ed Jacobson in [illegible] hospital on Tuesday evening. Funeral services will take place Friday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. in the Lutheran Church.

All the students turned out Tuesday afternoon to clean up the school yard.

Among Edmonton visitors this week were Mrs. Ruby MacPherson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry [illegible] and also Mrs. Jevning who went up with her uncle, Mr. Sykes, to consult an eye-specialist.

Mrs. Jonsted has suffered another stroke. We hope she will soon be on the road to recovery.

Kathryn Goertzen's [illegible] was taken to Edmonton by Henry to enter a hospital for treatment after suffering a stroke but had to come home as all the hospitals were full and there was no room for her.

Health and Hygiene books, Posters and Essays entered into the W.C.T.U. contest, which is held annually, were judged Saturday afternoon. [illegible] were Mrs. A. J. Thorsley, Mr. Parsons and Mrs. [illegible]. Great care and time has been taken in some of the entries. Next year we hope we will see some of the older ones also entering this contest.

Mrs. Shank and [illegible] Daniel were visitors at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Ostrom this last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Pope Sr. have returned from their trip to the west coast. They report they had very unsettled weather while they were there.

Mr. Harold Parsons received the sad news last night of his nephew's death by drowning at Dawson Creek.

The Lutheran Church was well filled on Sunday evening when the local Luther League observed the International Luther League Day holding a candlelight service. Mr. Moe of the Camrose Lutheran College was guest speaker. He stressed the great need of a new building with more classrooms, dormitories and a gymnasium. The enrolment is double of what it was when the college was first built. The new building is a $300,000 building, and he is confident that it can be realized with the help of earnest friends who realize the necessity of Christian schools and training. After the service, lunch was served in the Parish Hall.

UNITED CHURCH

Sunday School at 10:00 a.m.

The service usually held at 11:00 a.m. will be held in the evening at 8:00 p.m. Rev. Geeson will conduct the services.

LESLIE ROGERS SERIOUSLY INJURED

We regret to report Leslie Rogers, former [illegible] of Tofield but of late years proprietor of the Blue Willow store, situated on highway enroute to Edmonton, met with a very serious motor accident on Friday last. He was on his way to Edmonton travelling in a car driven by a passer by. He was enroute to visit Mrs. Rogers who was a patient in an Edmonton hospital when another passenger car, travelling in the opposite direction, collided with disastrous results. Leslie was the more seriously injured [illegible] passengers in both cars, suffering, so we understand, very severe [illegible] and fractured hip [illegible] many minor [illegible]. He was taken to an Edmonton hospital where his condition is [illegible] serious.

GIRL GUIDE NOTES

[illegible], provincial field secretary of the Girl Guides, was guest speaker here Monday night at a meeting of the I.O.D.E. and Girl Guides.

She gave a very interesting talk on the history of the Girl Guides and the work they are doing in the war. After a popular lunch, served by the ladies, the evening was brought to a close with a sing song.

V

MRS. EVERITT GUEST OF HONOR AT FAREWELLS

On Thursday evening last, Mrs. [illegible] Bruce entertained a number of [illegible] bridge in honor of Mrs. B. Everitt who left Tofield to make her home in Edmonton this week end. A very tasty lunch was served and [illegible] enjoyed themselves.

On Saturday evening at the McCauley home, court whist was enjoyed by another gathering, who wished her good luck in her new home. Mrs. McCauley and Mrs. Stinson were hostesses. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

V

Volley Ball Team Formed

Under the direction of David Doone a junior volley ball team has been [illegible]. The team comprises of Bill Bruce, Bob Love, Bob Currie, Jimmy Yakabuski, Jimmy Nahrebeski, Stanley Ewanowich, Bill Ewanovich, and Isaac Szwedchuk. Dave will direct these boys through the summer and hopes to make a fine team.

Bond Sales Good But Not Spectacular

The weather has not been ideal for country canvassing since the last publication day. Cold winds together with slowly melting snow made getting around on side roads difficult. Even so, salesmen have been active and each day have seen the number of applications and total amount subscribed increase. As compared to similar units, we are doing quite well, much better than some, while at the same time not achieving the high over-quota percentages obtained by some units. We'd just like to give a little pat on the back to our adjoining neighbor to the east, the Holden-Bruce unit, under the chairmanship of Mr. Blake, and Mr. Stambaugh, unit organizer. This unit was one of the very first to gain its pennant and at last report was in the 170 per cent of quota bracket.

HERE'S HOW WE ARE DOING

Fourth day, 117 applications for $82,500.

Fifth day, 152 applications, for $106,100.00.

Sixth day, 187 applications for $118,050.00.

Seventh day, 198 applications for $119,200.00.

Eighth day, 249 applications for $130,200.00.

Ninth day, 273 applications for $136,450.00.

Tenth day, 303 applications for $152,450.00.

TOWN OF TOFIELD

ATTENTION OF RATEPAYERS

Town Council have completed arrangements for hauling garbage away during the Summer months. A Spring Clean-up will be made [illegible] as feasible, after which garbage will be collected every two weeks.

Ratepayers are asked to render every assistance possible, by having garbage piled up compactly and supplying containers of some kind which are easily handled in emptying.

J. E. STINSON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

$2,000,000 HIGHWAY FOR NORTHERN AREA

Opening of a new northern highway is in prospect, something of particular interest to motorists, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

This is a 350 mile highway running from Grimshaw north of Peace River, to Great Slave Lake. It has been estimated that the cost of construction would be more than $2,000,000.

The federal government has announced that it is prepared to make an appropriation, to provide for the completion of the northern road, at the next session of parliament, probably in August.

The plan involves an agreement between the provincial and federal governments. Under this pact, the province would bear the cost of improving the highway from Peace River to Fort Vermilion. From Fort Vermilion to the northern boundary of the province, the dominion would bear two-thirds of the cost and the province the balance. For the rest of the highway which lies in the Northwest Territories, the dominion would carry the entire cost.

Along the route of this highway are the famous Alexandra Falls, which would prove a major attraction to motor tourists. The country also provides good fishing and big game hunting.

CANADIAN FARMERS' RECORD

The record of Canadian farmers during the war years is something of which the nation might well be proud. The farmers of Canada have provided the people of this Dominion with an enormous quantity of food at relatively low prices during the entire five and a half years of war. No nation anywhere in the world has been better fed. Food production has very nearly doubled during the war years.

In addition to supplying ample food for Canadian people, the farmers of this country have supplied great quantities of food to the people of the United Kingdom: wheat, pork, beef, dairy and poultry products and so on. In fact in November, 1943, Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada, stated "Without the help of the Canadian farmers Britain would have lost the war two years ago." Since the war began Canadian farmers have supplied the British people with over three billion pounds of pork.

Furthermore, Canadian farmers have supplied food for Greece, Russia, South Africa, Bermuda, India, Egypt, France, Belgium, Greenland, Iceland, British West Indies and a number of other countries.

Last year prairie farmers provided several hundred million bushels of grain to feed United States livestock at a very critical time, thus preventing a serious depletion in the herds and flocks so vital to that nation. Then when Eastern Canada suffered a severe drouth in 1943 prairie farmers supplied millions of bushels of feed grains, thus saving the herds and flocks of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces.

All this has been accomplished by a group of aging farmers bereft of hired help and without an adequate supply of farm implements. Furthermore, the prices received were moderate and substantially below the levels prevailing in World War 1. For instance, the average farm price of wheat during the present war is only 72 and a half cents a bushel as compared with $1.48 a bushel during World War 1. The prices of other farm products have been kept down by official decree so that the cost of living in Canada has risen only about 18 per cent after five and a half years of war. —Wheat Pool Bulletin.

HELP BRITAIN BY GROWING VEGETABLES

Britain has shipped a large part of her precious meat reserves to Europe for the purpose of aiding those who are in dire distress. The United States and Canada, therefore, are straining every effort to send all the meat they can to Britain. We can all help by eating less meat. One of the best ways of making up for some lack of meat is by consuming more vegetables. No food with such high nutrients can be grown in such large quantities and with such little labour as vegetables. Farmers can easily grow their own vegetables.

Certain vegetables are high in the precious vitamins A and C. They are broccoli, mustard and cress, brussel sprouts, spinach, cabbage, tomatoes, cauliflour and lettuce. Other vegetables have considerably less nutritive value: turnips, carrots, peas, radishes, parsnips, runner beans and onions. Still others have practically no nutritive value: asparagus, cucumber, celery, marrow and pumpkin.

Vegetables such as lettuce, tomatoes, mustard and cress, eaten raw, give the consumer the full content of vitamins, but improper cooking can easily lose most of the vitamins contained in vegetables. All housewives, therefore, should learn the proper way to cook vegetables so as to preserve most of the valuable nutrients they contain. A nutritious vegetable stew is a full meal and a right royal dish for any table.

More than 1,100,000 Canadian women, almost twice the number working in Canada in 1939, are in the armed forces and gainfully occupied. A recent survey indicated that fewer than half the married women now working want to stop at the end of the war.

SUGAR SAVERS

Tested tips on sugar economies help Mrs. Jack Canuck to save on the household sugar ration budget; Add sugar to stewed fruit after cooking and while it is still warm. Cook dried fruits in the water in which they have been soaked. Little or no sugar will be needed for sweetening. Bake the sweeter fruits with a little water and baste them with the liquid. Make pudding sauces with left over canned fruit syrups. To sweeten cold drinks use canned fruit syrup or plain sugar syrup made with equal quantities of boiled sugar and water. Add half a cup of raisins to desserts and reduce sugar by two tablespoons. Reduce sugar by two tablespoons in making pre-war desserts. They will taste just as good.

MINISTIK

COMMUNICATION

The Ministik Community,
Dear Mrs. Grummett, Sec.,

Well, well, what a wonderful surprise awaiting me tonight, dear folks! Yes, I received an Easter parcel including an Easter card. You know before this arrived, and of all times, day before Easter Sunday, it looked very grim in that respect. When a fellow is in the line as we are, one thinks very little about anything else but duty, but this will be a real memory.

Thanks a million, I certainly appreciate your kindness and the good work towards keeping out all the home boys, who are trying hard to free the world of tyranny and strife in order that you all back there can live as a free country should live. Every morsel of your parcel was much appreciated, so hope you carry on your [illegible] work.

Let's pray that this will be the last Easter, as a matter of fact, the last occasion or day you "have" to send another. It should be over very shortly as the news is wonderful today. Let's wish for a Victory. I have not been able to contact any of the boys from home who were already over here, so cannot tell you the score in that respect.

In case you are interested folks, I am waiting for my well earned leave back to England so hope to get it shortly. Well I must call this off for now, but before I go, thanks a million once again for your parcel and your thoughts. Till I hear again, cheerio and God bless you all. Plenty of luck.

Your sincere soldier,
Doug George.

There was a nice attendance at the Movie picture show at the Hall on Friday, Apr. 27. After the show there was a dance which broke up about 3:30 o'clock. Everybody had a good time. Watch for the next date in May for the picture show and dance.

Some of the community drove into Edmonton last Sunday to see the big bomber which was on show on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Ernest Nix, Student, will be on hand next Sunday, May 6th. This will be the first service of the summer series, so try and make it a good one.

Mr. J. Baumgartner and family and Helen were visitors at the home of their parents last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnes attended the [illegible] of their daughter Kay last week. Congratulations Kay!

The U.F.W.A. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. F. [illegible]. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. F. Swabey on Tuesday, May 8th.

There were quite a number of young folks attended the dance at Lindbrook last Saturday night. They reported having a good time.

Mrs. H. Heitman's father from Viking is visiting the family for a few days.

Archie Boss is a very busy man just now. He is moving to his new home in Fultonvale. I wonder when the great event is to happen?

We are all sorry to hear about Mr. Rogers' accident. The latest report is (Monday night) that he is still unconscious. Mrs. Rogers is also in the hospital.

Besides the Hoover family living at Hastings Lake, there is one at Ministik living on the Carter place, comprising of 4 adults and 3 or 4 children.

WAR CHARITY FUNDS CONTINUE

War charity funds for Allied relief are being authorized within certain limitations to resume their operations. Through recent Prices Board regulation purchase and collection of goods by these groups was restricted to permit by the Department of National War Services. Now war charity funds are permitted to ship their collections of used clothing and foods made before February 20. Local voluntary organizations which applied for permits, including V bundles, may acquire specified types of used clothing and footwear and other articles for shipment abroad. Also a National campaign for specified types of used clothing may be held by Canadian United Allied Relief Fund.

More than 200 local War Charity Funds have been given permits up to June 30, to continue shipping new goods to relieve bomb victims in the United Kingdom. The Canadian Red Cross and I.O.D.E. work programs will continue.

Prices Board Chairman Donald Gordon explained suspension of purchase and collection of goods necessary to ensure claims of all relief organizations upon Canadian supplies should be coordinated with production and distribution covering war and essential civilian and relief requirements. Demand both at home and abroad exceeds supply of Canadian goods, Mr. Gordon pointed out. In addition to supplying our armed forces and the civilian population, Canada is being asked to share supplies among a variety of agencies serving a common or similar purpose.

Is this all you have put aside for next winter

The coal you will burn next winter will have to be mined this Spring and Summer and hauled by the railroads to dealers' yards before harvest.

There will be plenty of coal if everybody cooperates by buying at once—and keeping the mines in operation.

Everything depends on YOU . . . Be wise. Fill your bin today.

AFTER SEEDING CULTIVATION

Some years ago a farmer in Saskatchewan who had been using a rod weeder on his summerfallow left the implement on the far end of his field, and, after seeding this land to wheat in the spring, pulled home the rod weeder in gear through the field. This operation left a noticeably clean strip of wheat through the crop which was otherwise quite weedy.

On the prairies the summerfallow is highly rated as a method of growing and destroying annual weeds in preparation for the next grain crop. Usually the seasons are too dry to do this job effectively. After passing through a cold winter and with moist soil in the spring, conditions are often right to start these weeds. To obtain a stand of grain and help control soil drifting the summerfallow is worked early in the spring and seeded to wheat. Usually when this grain emerges there is also a blanket of weeds to compete against the growing crop.

To test the effect of light tillage after seeding the grain crop on fallow a test at the experimental station, Scott, Saskatchewan, includes the use of the rod weeder, says G. D. Matthews, superintendent at Scott. After five years this, by what is indicated as the best procedure, has resulted in an average increase of three and a half bushels per acre for wheat, four bushels for oats, but [illegible] difference in yield for barley.

Some fear was expressed that rod weeding early sown grain a week after seeding might make the soil more liable to drift, but this has not been the case on the loam soil at the station. The rod weeder was operated just beneath the surface without crushing the surface lumps. Maximum benefits were obtained on summerfallow which was both worked early and sown early, when no visible damage was done by light tillage a week after seeding.

Most prairie farmers have observed that the earliest sown wheat has the heaviest infestation of weeds. A week after seeding these weeds are soft gray threads and in this baby stage when most forms of life are at their weakest they are easy to destroy. There are some tillage operations which may be difficult to justify, but this light tillage of grain after seeding promises to pay big dividends. —Wheat Pool Budget.

NYLON TO FIGHT ON

Victory in Europe will not end the war demands for nylon. Because when the demand for parachutes tapers off, nylon will be used to line automobile tires for the war against Japan; nylon will be used for mosquito netting in the Pacific where cotton rots. nylon will also replace cotton in making hammocks. Nylon will continue the fight through many similar uses. After the Germans surrender there are still the Japs to finish.

THE FUTURE OF WOOL

There is in store in the United States 1,000,000,000 pounds of wool, of which 750,000,000 pounds are owned by British and other foreign interests. That total supply is sufficient to last the U.S. for two years and next spring will show a clipping of at least 400,000,000 pounds. American sheepmen are frightened about the prospect and efforts have been made to raise the already high U.S. tariff on foreign wool by 50 per cent. It is said the government is opposed to that policy.

U.S. manufacturers of woolen products claim they cannot compete with Great Britain where weavers get only one-fifth, the American wage, and France where the pay is $6 a week compared to $32 in the United States.

The Commodity Credit Corporation since April, 1943, has bought the entire U.S. domestic wool crop at ceiling prices. For the better grades of the 1944 clip they have paid $1.18 per pound, clean basis, which was fifteen cents more than the price of similar foreign wool. The C.C.C. has agreed to continue buying all the domestic production up to June 30, 1946.

MATRICULATION REQUIREMENTS FOR EX-SERVICE PERSONNEL

The Registrar of the University, Mr. A. E. Ottewell, states that there appears to be some uncertainty and confusion in the minds of some ex-service personnel and also of some high school teachers as to what is required in order to obtain standing in matriculation subjects and admission to the University.

The University of Alberta requires that ex-service men and women attending regular high schools must take and pass the regular Grade XII Departmental Examinations in the subjects which such students may respectively need to complete their matriculation standing.

Any such student should, before beginning high school work, write to the Registrar of the University and secure approval of the proposed matriculation program.

INQUIRIES REGARDING TEACHER-TRAINING

In view of the fact that all teacher-training in Alberta is in future to be given by the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta, students who would apply ordinarily to either the Edmonton or the Calgary Normal Schools for admission next September are requested to write to the Dean, Faculty of Education, University of Alberta, for information regarding next term registrations. Application forms will be mailed upon request.

Information regarding teacher-training programs will be mailed before May 30th to all Grade XII classes in the Province, it was learned from Dr. M. E. LaZerte, Dean of the Faculty of Education.

MORE BARLEY IS NEEDED

A shortage of barley for feed purposes is apparent in many heavy producing live stock areas of the black and grey soil belts. This shortage is due to increased demands for barley for live stock feed in all parts of Canada and because of the expanded market existing at the present time for barley of malting quality. It is true also that farmers decreased their acreages of barley in 1944 in order to grow more wheat.

If hog production is to be maintained to meet national requirements then farmers and feeders should make immediate plans to provide themselves with adequate barley supplies. Any feed barley that is needed before the 1945 crop is harvested should be obtained without delay. When railway cars become available shipments will increase to outside markets and barley shortages now acute in some districts are anticipated in many others. To maintain the live stock industry so essential for national requirements and equally essential to the farm economy of the black and grey soil belts an increased acreage of barley is needed in 1945.

There are still ample supplies of commercial barley of good germination in areas where this acreage should be increased. This grain, cleaned for seed, can be used to advantage in increasing acreages to avert similar shortages another year.

SEED CLEANING

In spite of the fact that the fanning mill is considered one of the most important items of equipment on Alberta Farms there are still large quantities of small weed seeds being sown annually with cereal grains. The fact that their removal is a comparatively simple process probably accounts for the fact that less care is used in operating the fanning mill than is desirable.

Small weed seeds in cereals have a habit of settling down out of sight. Seed that may seem perfectly clean when viewed in bulk may yet contain an astonishing number of small weed seeds. When cleaning grain, a check on the result should be made periodically. This can best be done by spreading out a sample of the cleaned grain on a sheet of paper, or other flat, light coloured surface, and sorting the grain carefully. The seed must be spread thinly enough so that all impurities can be seen.

A little care at cleaning time may save hours of work and machinery wear in the future.

Selling The Salesmen

The number of words that have been used to sell Victory Bonds are legion. Powerful words, persuasive words, and on occasions, rare, it is true, perhaps coercive words. But this advt. is particularly drafted with the idea in mind to sell the Victory Loan Salesmen. Across Canada there are thousands and thousands of them and they differ in personality as much as any cross section of the country possibly could. But they have one thing in common—an unfaltering loyalty to the cause they have undertaken to aid.

Particularly in the rural areas such as covered by most of the Tofield—Ryley unit salesmen, regardless of what you hear to the contrary, commissions are small and are not the inducing factor of the salesmen's call upon you. He is doing a patriotic task, assist him by receiving him courteously and cheerfully, quickly buying all the bonds you can.

SUPPORT GIVES THEM CONFIDENCE

"An army can move only as fast as its supplies." That truth is well established.

Engineers and infantry need artillery support. All need ammunition . . . food . . . ; and they need moral support . . . proof that we, at home, are doing all we can to back them up.

Attack wins objectives. Support wins Wars.

And that is where we, on the home front, fit into the war programme. We must furnish support. We must buy more Victory Bonds.

Bear in mind that part of the money which Victory Bonds provide is used to buy foods which Canadian farmers produce and which is needed to feed our fighters and the fighting forces of our allies.

Victory Bonds are a good investment . . . the safest place that you can put your savings. You should buy them to have money for things you want to do when the war ends. (In case of emergency you can get cash for them.) All the money you invest in Victory Bonds comes back to you eventually. Meantime your bonds earn 3% interest.

WAR FOOD AND PEACE

Some years ago we published the results of an investigation we made into 800 years of war. Professor Pitirim A. Sorokin, of Harvard University, later made a similar study of 2,500 years of war. The results of it all reveal that during a [illegible] period the world has [illegible] war approximately half the time. The [illegible] ies also reveal that no league [illegible] or organization of Great Powers [illegible] up to prevent wars has [illegible] successful in doing so. That [illegible] or later, the usual [illegible] Great Powers [illegible] themselves. No [illegible] fore, it seems [illegible] assumption that Great Nations [illegible] ed together will [illegible] to preserve the peace. [illegible] most Great Powers [illegible] heres to who [illegible] first law of Nature. The [illegible] rule, the [illegible] take who ha[illegible] the power [illegible] should keep who can.

The records [illegible] 17th century was [illegible] period up to modern times but the [illegible] present 20th century exceeds all war in casualties and destruction to life and property. Apparently [illegible] the world throughout the ages has not learned much. There were, however, two long periods of peace. The first, under the ancient Roman [illegible] the Pax Romana [illegible] and then during the latter half of the 19th century.

LACK OF FOOD CAUSES SOME WARS

No one common cause could be found that brings [illegible] wars. It is significant, however, that during the comparatively peaceful period of the 19th century, [illegible] the free exchange of goods and commodities, [illegible] or part of the world, and there are indications, too, that the Romans in their time made trade easy. While, therefore, [illegible] no one cause [illegible] quarrels yet every [illegible] own reason [illegible] hunger existing in large areas and among millions [illegible] tion that can easily lead [illegible] and the records show that [illegible] often has led to war, for [illegible] well said "that hungry people do not always [illegible] fully."

Out of all this comes sufficient knowledge to show that if food, and incidentally other materials needed for the welfare of people, could be produced in abundance, and could be made available to the people of the world, that one important cause of war would be removed.

In the past, unfortunately, political boundaries and controls exercised by governments have followed strictly international lines. Governments, therefore, when they attempt to benefit a small group of their own people, by setting up obstructions to trade in the way of tariffs, quotas, discriminations and other hindrances, seem to have failed to realize that they were bringing irritation, suffering and hardships upon others, and so were actually sowing the seeds of future wars, and ironically enough, while doing this that they were in the end bringing similar hardships and suffering upon the very groups which the tariffs and obstructions to trade were set up [illegible] to benefit.

The world is [illegible] of mutual interdependence for the living of all the people [illegible] for the very existence of [illegible] so when international trade [illegible] then the [illegible] of hundreds of millions of people is taken away from them, confirming the truth of the statement made some time before this last war that "If goods [illegible] will."

TIME WE LEARNED THIS SIMPLE LESSON

Is it not time then, we might ask that the governments of the world learned this simple lesson, that regardless of any attempts that may be made to enforce peace on defeated countries [illegible]

Dormancy in Seeds

PEACE IN EUROPE

After five years, eight months, and six days of bloodshed, destruction, and human suffering, the war in Europe was brought to a successful finish. The unconditional surrender was signed by Col.-Gen. Gustav Jodl as the new chief of staff for the German army.

The Armistice became official at 12:01 Tuesday, but to avoid further loss of life and destruction, the cease fire was ordered Monday around 3:00 a.m.

It was signed for the Allied supreme command by Lt.-Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, chief of Staff for Gen. Eisenhower.

It was also signed by Gen. Ivan Susloparoff for Russia and by Gen. Francois Sevez for France.

Gen. Eisenhower was not present at the signing, but immediately afterward Jodl and his fellow delegate, Admiral Hans Georg Friedeburg, were received by the supreme commander. They were asked if they understood the surrender terms imposed upon Germany and if they would be carried out by Germany.

They answered yes.

Germany, which began the war with a ruthless attack upon Poland, followed by successive aggressions and brutality in internment camps, surrendered with an appeal to the victors for mercy toward the German people and armed forces.

After the full surrender, Jodl said he wanted to speak and was given leave to do so.

"With this signature," he said quietly in German, "the German people and armed forces are for better or worse delivered into the victors' hands.

"In this war which has lasted more than five years both have achieved and suffered more than perhaps any other people in the world."

V-E Day In Tofield

The news of the German surrender and official cessation of hostilities in Europe reached Tofield on the morning radio broadcasts. Throughout the day there was a quiet manifestation of thankfulness that the war in Europe had actually been brought to a close but there was no special celebrating or merrymaking.

In the evening a special V-E service was held at the United Church at which a large number of citizens were present. Rev. D. K. Allan gave an inspiring and suitable message. The spirit of the day was one of thanksgiving.

On Tuesday, which was officially designated as V-E Day by Prime Minister Churchill, the Tofield branch of the Canadian Legion, under the presidency of Captain McCullie and secretaryship of A. B. Clutterham, arranged a V-E service at the Tofield Cenotaph. The event was a complete success and will rank as one of the outstanding gatherings of Tofield and district folk.

The Canadian Legion, including soldiers of the last war and this war under Capt. McCullie, the I.O.D.E., the Boy Scouts in charge of Blake Clutterham, the Girl Guides in charge of Miss McGuffy, and the school children in charge of their respective teachers, paraded from the station to the cenotaph. The parade was headed by a band hastily organized by bandmaster Herb Chandler. The band played excellently both before and after the ceremony and the leader and personnel are to be highly complimented on their performance.

Arriving at the Cenotaph, the previously published program was carried out including Invocation and Scripture reading by Rev. Seamon Krup, and prayers and dedication by Rev. D. K. Allan. Bernie Chandler sounded the Last Post and after one minute of silent prayer, sounded the Reveille. Hymns were sung by those attending, led by a specially organized choir. The program opened with "O Canada" and closed with "God Save the King."

After the ceremony the veterans and soldiers were entertained by Capt. McCullie.

BAND PERSONNEL

The band under bandmaster Chandler made such a favorable impression on Tuesday that we thought the public would like to know of whom it was composed. Gathered together hurriedly, it really played wonderfully well, much to the credit of the leader and themselves. Here they are: Herb Chandler (leader); Geo. McFadzean, Bernie Chandler, Rex Boyles, Duke Chalmers, Harvey McGinitie, Shirley Stinson, Keith Appleby, Jimmie Yakabaski, Billy Mitchell, Don Stinson, Betty Stinson, Ralph Harrison.

Having made such a good showing on Tuesday there were many requests that the organization be continued. Therefore band practice each Monday will be a regular event.

The thanks of the Legion are extended to all those who helped in any way to make the V-E program the outstanding event it was.

Maude Wildman Becomes Bride of F.O. R. McKenzie

Spring flowers formed the setting for the wedding at St. Stephen's college chapel Tuesday, May 1st, of Maude Selma, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Wildman, of Tofield, and F.O. R. E. MacKenzie, RCAF, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. McKenzie of Regina. Rev. McElroy Thompson of Metropolitan United church performed the ceremony.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Mr. J. M. Henderson of Tofield. She wore a classically simple gown of ivory satin, and a tulle veil with a pleated tulle coronet. She carried a cascade bouquet of roses.

Miss Margaret Mitchell, a cousin of the bride was maid of honor. Miss June Walkinshaw was bridesmaid. They wore similar frocks, Miss Mitchell in turquoise blue and Miss Walkinshaw in yellow. They wore flowers in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of spring blossoms in pastel colors.

Mr. Robert Murphy was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. MacKenzie, parents of the groom, came from Regina to attend the wedding.

The reception was held at the south side home of Mrs. D. W. Warner, who was smart in gray with a modish navy sailor and corsage of roses. Mrs. W. A. Mitchell of Tofield wore a gray two-piece dress with navy accessories, for her niece's wedding. She also wore a corsage of roses.

Rooms throughout the house were done in snapdragons, sweet scented stocks and daffodils.

Afterwards the couple left for their home in Vancouver, the bride travelling in turquoise blue with hat to tone, and coral shag coat.

RYLEY NEWS

It was with heartfelt thanks and humbleness to God, we received the news of Germany's unconditional surrender early Monday morning. The High School students held a thanksgiving service of their own, led by Helen Kirkeluned, school president. On Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, a quiet but impressive V-E thanksgiving service was held in the Ryley Community Hall. The school children and staff marched from the school and took their places in the front benches reserved for them. The Hall was filled to capacity, some having to stand. Rev. Ostrem led the service, assisted by Rev. Gesson of Holden. Mr. Honeyball was usher and passed the hymn sheets. Opening hymn, "O God, our Help," followed by reading of Psalm 46 in unison. Then one minute of silence for those who had given their lives in the service of their country. Rev. Gesson led in prayer. Hymn "A Mighty Fortress." Rev. Gesson then gave his message "Occasion for Thanksgiving" made us realize more than ever what an occasion for thanksgiving it was. A hymn "Faith of our Fathers" was sung, followed by Rev. Ostrem's message "Facing our Responsibilities" showed us where we had failed as a so-called christian nation, in neglecting our responsibility in having our family altars and Sunday worship. And we should do our best to change this condition and build christian homes and have the family altar in order to receive God's blessing by dedicating ourselves to Him. After Rev. Ostrem's message [illegible] rose and stood in silence while Mrs. Honeyball played the American National Anthem in memory of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. Closed with singing "God Bless Our Lads" and "God Save the King." Rev. Ostrem pronounced the benediction.

On Tuesday evening a V-E day concert was given, made up of both sacred and secular numbers. This was opened by a group of ladies dressed in long white dresses and each bearing a flag of an allied nation, marching up to the platform and standing at attention in two lines facing each other while "O Canada" was being sung. The entire programme still reflected the quiet, reverent spirit of the day before. Rev. Gesson opened with prayer after O Canada. The intermediate school sang "Abide with me" under Mr. Harold Parsons' direction. The orchestra played the "Old Rugged Cross," Mrs. Mehus singing two of the verses through the microphone. Mr. Halte sang "Beyond the Sunset." Mrs. Jacobs, Mrs. H. Moen and Mrs. Mehus sang a couple of trios at the last moment, instead of the quartettes they had planned as one member of the quartette was indisposed. Mrs. J. L. McPherson gave a reading "Peace." The High School male quartette, Henry Goertzen, Bob Ireland, Neil Jevning and Larry Butler, sang a number, "The Bulldog on the Bank." Then Harold McMullen was given a big hand and encored when he played the accordian. He appeared again later in the programme. Greta MacPherson sang a solo "Always in My Heart." Then the orchestra played "Home on the Range" in honor of the late F. D. Roosevelt. The flag drill was the final and most striking number on the programme, the ladies who appeared earlier in long white gowns bearing the flags, taking part. During the first part of the flag drill, Mrs. Geddes, who carried the Stars and Stripes, moved to centre front with the spot light centred on her, stood with flag held in front of her while the ladies sang one verse of "Faith of our Fathers, living still" in honor of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. The final scene was the ladies grouped behind and on each side of a V lit with electric bulbs in red, white and blue. Rev. Gesson closed with the Lord's Prayer. Dr McPherson had given a speech on our boys when they get back and our relationship to them, earlier in the programme.

Svere Kongsrud is home on furlough at present.

Tommy Grier was home for the week end. He is stationed at Wetaskiwin.

Vivian Holley and son, and Annie Leades and her young son were visiting in Ryley this week.

Walter and Kay Norton have an 8½ pound baby boy, born on April 26th in Edmonton.

Hon. E. C. Manning will be guest speaker at the May 17th celebration to be held in Ryley Community Hall. Bardo Male Chorus will also take part in the programme.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Sykes had to have his left eye removed as a result of his fall about ten days ago. He is still in the hospital.

Recently two of our boys met in Germany. They were Bob Freeman and Olaf Kirkelund. I can imagine them comparing notes on all that had happened to them since they played "Police and Robbers", not so many years ago.

Mrs. C. Young and Mrs. Hay left Tuesday morning for Edmonton where they will attend the W.C.T.U. convention being held in the First Baptist Church.

Mr. M. Hostlund is a patient in St. Mary's Hospital at Camrose.

Mrs. M. R. Letourneau Passes On

On Monday, May 7, 1945, Mrs. Marie Rose Letourneau of Tofield, passed away in Edmonton at the age of 75 years. She is survived by two daughters: Mrs. C. C. Spence of Edmonton, Mrs. R. Woodford, of Calgary; one son, John W. Letourneau of Ryley, Alta., two sisters, Mrs. Annie Forrest of Prince Albert, Sask.; Mrs. Blanche Lefebvre of St. Paul; one brother, Henry Verboncoeur of Duluth, Minn., and seven grandchildren. Her husband predeceased her in 1922 and one son, J. O. A. Letourneau in 1939. Mrs. Letourneau came to the Tofield district in 1892 and has resided almost continuously since that time. Funeral services were held from St. Francis church, Tofield, at 10.30 a.m. Thursday, May 10. Father N. L. Schmeltzer conducted the service and interment took place in the family plot. J. E. Stinson, funeral director, Tofield.

Mrs. Letourneau enjoyed the friendship of very many people in and around Tofield. She took a very keen delight in her yard and grounds which she kept spotlessly clean and in which she loved to work among her flower beds. She knew every bloom and almost every leaf on the place and never tired of showing visitors new growth when and wherever it appeared.

BARDO

Many from here attended the Camrose Lutheran College rally at Camrose last Sunday. Mrs. G. Hendrickson and Irene Rude, representing the W.M.F. and L.D.R., spoke at the rally. A sum of $50,000 is to be raised for a new college building.

Bardo and Grand Forks school will hold their festival concert at the Bardo school on Friday, May 11th, commencing at 8.30 p.m.

Mother's Day program at Bardo church has been postponed to a later date.

Mrs. Ivar Moen, Mrs. Benny Anderson and Mrs. Juliette Johanson, are attending the W.C.T.U. convention in Edmonton this week, as delegates from the Bardo local.

Bardo Male Chorus will take part in "Norway's Independence Day," celebrations at Ryley on May 17th.

With the general election on June 11th, our only hope for better conditions in Canada, is to put a C.C.F. government in Ottawa.

Botolf Bjornson is canvassing the district for members and election funds for the C.C.F., with gratifying results.

Quota Pennant Flying

The Tofield-Ryley Unit reached their Victory Loan quota of $165,000 by Saturday last. Since that day increased subscriptions have carried the total value of bonds sold to over $200,000. This is really a splendid showing and congratulations are due to all those connected with the organization.

HERE'S HOW WE ARE DOING

Eleventh day, applications increased to 350 for $158,400.

Twelfth day, applications increased to 354 for $163,400.

Thirteenth day, applications increased to 378 for $197,650.

Fourteenth day, applications increased to 400 for $204,450.

Fifteenth day, applications increased to 414 for $207,350.

Sixteenth day, applications increased to 435 for $212,150.00.

This is 128.5 per cent of quota.

LINDBROOK

An appropriate Victory Thanksgiving ceremony was held in the school at 11 a.m. May 7th and in the hall at 9:30 p.m. After the ceremony the children rendered a goodly number of choruses and were assisted by the audience.

P.O. Stanley Cowden has completed his tour of operations as a navigator on a Lancaster bomber according to a telegram received here. You will see his picture in Bruce's store window. Stanley took his high school training at Lindbrook.

Star Bracegirdle arrived home on Wednesday morning after a three year's absence in Ottawa where she holds an important position in the Bank of Canada.

We regret having to say that Leslie Rogers' condition is becoming critical. He has not regained consciousness since his accident.

Lawrence Gill lost a granary with his seed grain in it. The building took fire from a smouldering straw butt.

R. A. Smith has a fine 1937 Chevrolet.

I. Brown has a Willys Knight 1936 model.

Mr. Bracegirdle has Mr. Kleinschroth building a new combined garage and warehouse.

Pte. William Lancaster of Wainwright spent the week end at home.

A truck from New Sarepta owned by Mr. Sinke stalled west of the store. The brakes wouldn't hold and the truck rolled off the grade backwards, damaging a hind wheel and smashing a window.

The Neufeldt family have moved into Tofield.

The Victory Loan Committee and particularly the Lindbrook canvasser wish to thank those who bought bonds and for their cheerful, wholehearted support of their country.

Joe Beef is trucking gravel from near Cooking Lake to Bardo.

OBJECT MATRIMONY

New farm machinery is rationed in Canada and most sales of old machinery must have prior Prices Board approval, but the overall situation can hardly compare to Britain's if the following advertisement from Lincolnshire Chronicle is an example. "Owner of tractor wishes to correspond with Widow who owns a modern Thrasher; object matrimony; send photograph of machine."

Four $750 research fellowships, tenable at the University of Saskatchewan here, will be awarded annually by the Saskatchewan government to assist graduate students in research work relating to the development of the natural resources of the province and resultant industries.

KETCHAMOOT

Our sincere sympathy is extended to the Letourneau family in the loss of their mother.

Mr and Mrs Allistair Swanton were guests of the Sears family Monday evening.

Our teacher, Miss Muriel Fosseth, is back on her job. We hope her health continues so she can finish out the term. She is boarding at the Berreclath home.

Miss Evelyn Sutton who is attending high school in Holden, spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. Albert Sutton.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray and son Malcolm of Lakeshore and Mrs. A. Lee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs G. W. Sears received word that their son Albert was ill with rheumatic fever in a hospital in England. He expected to be up shortly and then on his way home.

Mr. J. H. Ingram visited his brother and sister, Mr C. A. Ingram and Mrs Owens, who has both been ill, in Edmonton on Sunday.

Mrs Robert Berreclath is attending the W.C.T.U. conference in Edmonton. Her mother, Mrs. L. Carlisle, is caring for the family in her absence.

We are pleased to welcome home one more of our boys. Roger Ray returned home Tuesday after several years overseas.

Mrs Martin Lawson entertained the Ladies' Aid at her home Wednesday afternoon of last week. Some twenty members and visitors were present. A pleasant afternoon was spent even if our President forgot to come. The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Torvel Nemoland.

Mrs. Clifford Appleby returned home Sunday after a week's visit with her parents near Vegreville.

Mr and Mrs. G. W. Sears and Stanley were guests of the McCrea family in Vegreville on Sunday.

We regret to report that Mrs. E. McMullen is very ill at her home.

BLOOD DONORS STILL NEEDED

TO BLOOD DONORS IN THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

With the fighting in Europe at an end, our efforts are still needed. Blood Donor Clinics will be continued and their continuance is definitely associated with your voluntary effort of giving your blood. The Red Cross hopes that instead of seeing a decrease in donations there will be an increase, so that there will be an adequate supply to be used in our Military Hospitals at any time, as this material is a vital factor in restoring our wounded men's health when they are forced to undergo an operation.

EPIGAEA (THE MAYFLOWER)

I wandered at large from the foot of the pine
Through the close-crowding laurel that bordered the farm,
To the haunts of Rhodora and the evergreen vine,
While the season unfolded its vigor and charm.
I felt the soft mosses yield under my feet,
As I pressed the low branches that purple in flower,
'Till I spied the rich clusters with jewels replete,
Half hidden from sight in the cool morning hour.
I drew the shy stem from the dark frosted mould,
And held the bright gems in the light of the day,
A treasure of nature more sightly than gold,
An emblem of virtue, the flower of May.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES AND INCOME TAX

THE following announcement will help to clarify the relationship between Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for dependent children. Family Allowances are payable from July 1st, 1945, and the registration of children is now taking place.

The Family Allowances Act was designed to help equalize opportunities for all children, and when the Act was passed, Parliament approved the principle that there should be no duplication of benefits by way of Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for the same child. An amendment to the Income War Tax Act will be made to deal with this duplication. In the meantime, however, the Government proposes, for the last six months of 1945 during which Family Allowances are payable, to remove duplication by adjusting the income tax credits received for children.

It is natural that parents in the low income groups will be expected to receive maximum benefits from Family Allowances. Partial benefits will be received, however, by parents with incomes up to $3,000.

The table below shows the effect of the adjustments which the Government has decided to make. For convenience and simplicity the benefits received by each income group are shown as a per cent of the Family Allowances received. The table shows:

(a) Heads of families receiving incomes in 1945 of $1200 or less will benefit to the extent of the full amount of the Family Allowances received. As they are not required to pay income tax, there is no duplication to remove.

(b) Heads of families receiving incomes in 1945 in excess of $1200, but not in excess of $3,000, will in effect retain the full value of their present income tax credits and in addition a percentage of the actual Family Allowances received.

(c) Heads of families with incomes in excess of $3,000 will retain their full income tax credits for children if they do not receive Family Allowances. These taxpayers may, however, apply for Family Allowances to protect themselves against a possible decrease in income at a later date which might bring them into a lower income range where they would benefit from Family Allowances. In such cases if the income remains in excess of $3,000, the income tax credits for children would be reduced by the full amount of Family Allowances received.

NOTE:—This table applies to married persons and others having the status of married persons for income tax purposes. For the relatively small number of single persons supporting children and not having married status for income tax purposes, and for members of the Armed Forces, special tables can be obtained from the Regional Director of Family Allowances in each provincial capital.

Family Allowances will be paid in full

In all cases, those who apply for and are eligible to receive Family Allowances will receive them in full, month by month. See scale below:

SCALE OF MONTHLY ALLOWANCES FOR THE FIRST FOUR CHILDREN

For each child
Under 6	$5.00
From 6 to 9 (inclusive)	6.00
From 10 to 12 (inclusive)	7.00
From 13 to 15 (inclusive)	8.00

Where there are more than four children under 16 in the family, the monthly allowance for each child after the fourth will be reduced in accordance with the provisions of the Family Allowances Act.

As far as is possible, to take care of the adjustments necessary to avoid duplication of benefits, current income tax deductions at the source will be adjusted to take into account the new situation when Family Allowance payments commence. This will avoid placing an awkward burden on the taxpayers at the end of the year.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES ARE NOT TAXABLE

Special attention is drawn to the fact that the income ranges used in the table above refer to taxable income, and any amounts received as Family Allowances should not therefore be included in calculating income for this purpose because Family Allowances are not taxable.

Family Allowances are also additional to dependents' allowances for servicemen's families and military pensions.

For children registered after July 1st, 1945, Family Allowances will be paid as from the month following the month when registration is made. Family Allowances are not paid retroactively.

Published under the authority of
Hon. BROOKE CLAXTON, Minister,
Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa

PEACE IN EUROPE—

MONDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY of May, nineteen hundred and forty-five, will long be remembered as the day on which one of the greatest announcements in history was made. Europe, officially at least, was once more at peace. After more than five years of fighting and destruction of cities, destruction on a scale such as the world had never before seen, the guns were to be silenced, bombs from aeroplanes were to cease dropping and those magic words anxiously awaited during long dreary years were a reality, the war in Europe was over.

The announcement was not unexpected, the daily news bulletins preparing the people of the world for it, yet when it did come and was recognized as being literally true, it had a stunning effect upon a large portion of those people privileged to hear it. In spite of its imminence, the announcement demanded an immediate reversal of reasoning. From now on thoughts would be centred on not who was going over the Atlantic to fight the Germans but rather thoughts would conjecture on who would be coming home. And then the sobering realization would come that not all who went over would come back, that a few from this community, and almost every community across Canada would remain and lie there, an everlasting tribute to their gallantry and sacrifice. Looking forward, one year of war, two years of war, three, four, five years of war seemed an interminable period of time, yet looking back despite the tremendously important national and international events which have occurred during the past five years, it does not seem so very long since that winter's day when a troop train whizzed by a group of citizens who were assembled at the station to wave farewell and Godspeed to men on the train. We didn't see much, the train went by very quickly, but there was a feeling of forced buoyancy tempered with regret that the boys we had all seen grow up, at school and at play, on skates and astride their bicycles, were being whirled into a sterner, harsher existence, an existence where the flower of manhood often fell and the shock of battle was commonplace. As the months and the years came and passed, men and women too from this community and every community across Canada, left their homes and districts and joined what perhaps will come to be known as the greatest crusade in all history. To these men and women whose sacrificial motives were pure, have been added a lustre that all time cannot dim. The sanctity of truth in high places was at stake, an empire was in peril, a continent almost submerged beneath a wave of tyranny and to those who were able to go forth and help, there was a challenge and a glorious opportunity. To those hundreds of thousands who did go will come, we believe, recognized or unrecognized, adequate reward. Despite its seeming inconsistencies and blind alleys, life is not a matter of chance, but of cause and effect with unseen motives playing their part as well as those that are obvious.

Now that the tide has turned and the trek is toward home instead of away from it, we all should be as zealous in peace as in war to see that returning men be given their just due, which means a place in society which includes a job, a home and good living conditions. No amount of material well being in and by itself will ensure contentment and happiness, but the lack of material well being is almost sure to bring about discontent and unhappiness. To our statesmen, great and small, is thrown a challenge equal in importance to that accepted by the returning men and women themselves when they donned the King's uniform. We hope and trust, and we are sure the statesmen do also, that they may be equal to the task.

Unfortunately, the surrender of Germany does not bring about an immediate era of "Peace on Earth." Japan still holds large areas of stolen territory, including large blocks of China, Dutch East Indies and British Malaya. Both the British and Americans have suffered treacherous indignities at the hands of the Japanese and both nations are anxious to reclaim their territory and to administer a decisive defeat to the Nips. This despite the fact that the Japanese warrior is a brave and resourceful fighter, they are likely to do. Weight of mechanical excellence will probably be the cause of the Japs downfall. Let us hope that the year 1945 will see the end of the Pacific war also.

DODDS DOTTINGS

The Mennonite Young Folks have a worthwhile church project in the form of co-operative efforts, the proceeds from which are donated to church work. For one such project, the young folks recently cleared a large quantity of scrap iron from the farm of Noah Wideman to another location in a few hours. Another time they fixed about a mile of fence for a farmer in a few short evening hours by co-operating this way. By so doing, the young [illegible] are helping out the church and the man shortage at the same time. One alone can do very little, but altogether, a great deal can be [illegible]plished.

We are glad to welcome back home Mrs. Ernest Andersen after a few month's sojourn in Edmonton with her son Robert, who is attending school there.

Messrs. C. Buggs, E. A. Moen, F. Grey and Mrs. A. J. Thorsley were in Holden for a C.C.F. meeting on May 1st.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Ben Owen and Mr. Peter Reil are both ill in an Edmonton hospital. We wish them both a speedy recovery and return home.

Many of the residents in this area attended the V-E day religious Thanksgiving Service in Ryley Community Hall conducted by Rev. Ostrem of Ryley and Rev. Gleeson of Holden. The hall was packed to the door.

Local schools closed at noon on Monday, V-E day. Solberg school had a special V-E day program instead of the usual morning exercises on May 7.

MR. JAMES BOWNESS SHAW

Mr. James Bowness Shaw, another pioneer resident of this vicinity, who came to his farm a few miles east of Dodds about 1902, and left here to reside in Edmonton a few years ago, died there at the age of [illegible] years, recently. He leaves to mourn his loss, besides his wife, one son, Arthur Edward of Caroline, Alberta, one daughter, Mrs. A. H. O. Forgan of Edmonton, also eight grandchildren, among them being Mrs Y Roth of this district.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon, May 1st, at the Salem Mennonite Church, near Dodds and interment took place in the adjacent Mennonite cemetery. Bishop J. B. Stauffer and Rev. H. D. Stutzman officiated. The pallbearers were: Messrs. H. Glasener, O. Hjelter, J. B. Stauffer, H. Stauffer, Ezra Yoder and M. A. Bender.

Mr. Joseph Lauber, now resident on the old M. R. Gordon farm, have purchased a quarter section of land from Mr. Robert Plotree, on which he and his wife and family will eventually reside.

W.O. Kenneth Waleman, RCAF, who has been a prisoner of war in Germany for some time was liberated a short while ago and is now in England awaiting transportation home.

Mrs. Sword, one of the pioneer residents of this district, died in New Westminster, B.C., recently at the the age of 94 yrs., and the body was brought to Edmonton for burial. Mr. Ole Beron of Dodds was one of the pallbearers.

Mrs. Sword lived here till about five years ago, when she and her daughter, Mrs. Jessie McKenzie, moved to the coast. The grandson, Edward McKenzie, joined the Canadian Army and is now overseas.

Since August, 1943, when prosecutions were first undertaken under National Selective Service regulations in Canada, 2,060 charges were laid with 1,468 prosecutions.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES AND TAXABLE INCOMES

In discussing the methods developed to avoid duplication of [illegible] Tax credits and Family Allowances, announced last week by the Department of Finance, the Hon. Brooke Claxton, Minister of National Health and Welfare emphasized the fact that the Family Allowances Act was passed primarily to help equalize opportunities for children of parents with low incomes. Because of this the [illegible] income group will receive maximum benefits from Family Allowances.

Mr Claxton pointed out that under the Act everyone with children under 16 years earning $1200 and less will benefit in full by Family Allowances; those earning between $1200 and $3000 will benefit in part, while those whose incomes are over $3000 will get no benefit from Family [illegible].

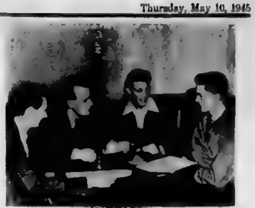
According to the Finance Department's statement those people earning between $1200 and $3000 a year will receive Family Allowances greater than the adjustment in their income tax which is necessary to eliminate duplication of benefits.

For instance a family living on $1300 a year with three children, aged 13, 12 and 7 will receive a Family Allowance of Eight dollars a month, Seven dollars a month and six dollars a month—a total of $21 a month. This would amount to $126 for the six months from July—when Family Allowance payments will start—to December, 1945.

According to the table provided by the Department of Finance, this family will get the full tax credit for its children and will also retain 90 per cent of the Family Allowance of $126. This means the family will be better off at the end of 1945 by the sum of $113.40.

In another example, quoted by Mr. Claxton, a family living on $2100 with a Family Allowance of $126 for the half year, will be able to retain full tax credits and, in addition, will retain 50 per cent of the Family Allowances, a sum amounting to $63.

Those who apply for and are eligible to receive Family Allowances, that is those with children under 16 years of age will receive them in full each month. Adjustments to remove duplication with income tax deductions will be made when income tax is paid, Mr. Claxton stated in conclusion. As far as possible, current income tax deductions at the source will be adjusted to take care of the parent's new status when Family Allowance payments commence.



PRAIRIES WIN

The Prairies produced the two best contestants in the recent nation-wide contest of "Sports College", a joint project of the Y.M.C.A. and the CBC heard Saturdays at 6.30 p.m. CDT. Keith Cruickshank, of Calgary, Alta., was the winner, and Bob Leadingham, of Indian Head, Sask., the runner-up. Their answers won them a trip to Toronto, tickets to the Stanley Cup playoffs, and participation in a broadcast to the College's 80,000 members. Left to right Bill Bessey, announcer; Lloyd Percival College director; Keith Cruickshank and Bob Leadingham.

The dollar volume of cheques cashed in the 33 clearing centres in Canada during 1944 was $60,677,000,000, an increase of 12.8 per cent over 1943, and the largest amount ever recorded.

ODDS & ENDS

Statistics show that while the trend is toward smaller Canadian families, Canada is still a country of large families.

The needs of war are reflected in the production of rope in Canada which advanced from 8,300,000 lbs. in 1929 to 18,300,000 pounds in 1943.

Of 475,000,000 pounds of meat produced in Canada in the first quarter of 1945, 215,000,000 pounds were set aside for export.

Michael Barkway, recently appointed BBC Canadian representative, will make Toronto his headquarters. He was previously chief of the radio section of the psychological warfare division at General Eisenhower's (SHAEF) headquarters.

The Canadian National Council on Physical Fitness has endorsed the principle of establishing community recreational and cultural centres as war memorials.

Opportunities for ALL

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister

YOUR Liberal Government under Mackenzie King has taken practical steps to see that every Canadian after the war shall have a wide-open chance to make a real success of his life. It can be done by giving everybody the opportunity to get ahead faster and go farther.

Isn't that what you want — a chance to make your own way IN your own way?

Here are definite, practical steps which the Liberal Government has taken (not just talked about, but taken) to make this Canada a better place to work in and bring up your children.

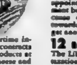
You will have to decide whether you want the men who devised these measures to carry them through, or whether you wish to entrust your own and your family's future to others.

1 Reconstruction
Plans for jobs for 900,000 more workers than in 1939; and 60,000 more each year as the population grows. Every kind of enterprise will be encouraged. The Liberal Government has already set up the machinery: the Department of Reconstruction.

2 Foreign Trade
Liberal objective: Sixty percent increase in value over Canada's pre-war export trade. This means thousands of jobs, and is based on the number of jobs created by Canada's normal export trade.

3 Credit for Enterprise
The Liberal Government set up the Industrial Development Bank to provide money at low interest for long terms to help enterprising Canadians to develop new business. Another step towards creating full employment.

4 Exports Encouraged
War-torn countries will want to buy tremendous quantities of Canadian goods. To facilitate this, the Liberal Government has set up the Export Credit Insurance Act to do two things: (1) to insure Canadian exporters against loss, and (2) to make loans to foreign governments under contract to Canadian exporters.

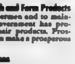
5 Farm Improvement Loans


Your Liberal Government has made low interest loans available to farmers to finance their work and make improvements.

6 Guaranteed Markets
To provide farmers with a better wartime income, the Liberal Government made contracts for definite quantities of important products at agreed prices—notably bacon, eggs, cheese and beef. These contracts have worked out so well the Liberal Government extended many for longer periods.

7 Family Allowances
From July next, Family Allowances are to be paid monthly to assist parents in raising their children—$250,000,000 a year direct spending power in the hands of people who need it most.

8 New Homes for Canadians
The Liberal Government's new $400,000,000 National Housing Act enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to own their own homes. In the first year after Germany's defeat, at least 50,000 dwellings will be built.

9 Returning Veterans


Gratuities, benefits and grants of $750,000,000 will enable men and women of the Armed Services to apply their energies in building the prosperous Canada for which your Liberal Government has been planning.

10 Floor Prices under Fish and Farm Products
To protect farmers and fishermen and to maintain prices, the Liberal Government has provided floor prices under their products. Prosperous farmers and fishermen make a prosperous Canada.

11 Better Labour Conditions
In co-operation with organized Labour, the Liberal Government has confirmed collective bargaining, provided unemployment insurance, appointed labour representatives on government boards. (More than 600,000 workers, because of the Liberal Government's attitude towards Labour and the labour movement, now get annual vacations with pay.)

12 Reduction in Taxation
The Liberal Government will gradually reduce taxation when the European war is over to free spending power and to give Canadians every opportunity for prosperity, employment and freedom.

What you have done in war—you can do in peace. You can do your part by supporting the Liberal Candidate in your constituency.

Fred Johnson shot off one side of his double barrel shot gun when he took a shot at some crows Wednesday morning. Fortunately he only creased the palm of his hand.

Mrs Alma Wiklund and her two daughters, also Marian and Lillian Davich, were visitors in the home of Alma's sister, Myrtle.

The War Memorial Park was a scene of great activity on Wednesday afternoon, when Mr. McDonald of the Lacombe Nurseries, supervised the planting of $100.00 worth of shrubs and trees. Sidewalks had been measured and laid out previously, ready for cinders which will be a base for cement walks next year. Several ladies were present as well, and showed they knew what a shovel was meant for. They were Mrs. Cough, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. McPherson and Mrs. Mehus. Mrs. Mehus was also busy carrying water to quench the thirst of the shovellers. High school boys were shovelling too, as well as the men and ladies mentioned.

At the Community League meeting held on the 3rd of May, Mr Butler and Mr. Greig agreed to stand as executive committee of the Community League for another year and finish the work they started re the War Memorial and Cemetery. Everyone is very well satisfied with their decision.

Tofield, Alta.

[illegible]—11 May, the Minister for Air personally and the Chief of the Air Staff on behalf of himself and all the ranks of the Royal Canadian Air Force congratulate you most heartily on the award of the Distinguished Flying Cross, made to you on March 27 by His Majesty the King. Arrangements will be made to have this medal presented to you at a later date stop Delay in advising you of this award made to you while serving overseas is deeply regretted.

R.C.A.F. Records Officer 927.

THANK YOU !

The publicity section of the Tofield-Ryley Victory Loan Committee wish to thank all those who loaned photographs and war trophies for window display. Much interest was shown by the general public in the collection of photos and trophies and no doubt the kindness of those who loaned the photos and trophies helped materially in the oversubscription of our quota.

The photographs are now at the Tofield Mercury Office. Will those who can kindly call for theirs. After one or two weeks if there are any left we will arrange for their delivery.

MRS. M. McCONNELL HONORED

Mrs. M. McConnel was pleasantly surprised last week when a number of ladies gathered in her honor. After a social afternoon a delicious lunch was served by the ladies. Mrs. McConnel was presented with a gift from her many friends. Those present, were: Mrs. G. Abernethy, Mrs. J. Wood and Arche, Mrs. Bethel, Mrs. R. Seale, Mrs. Wm. Seale, Mrs. J. Appleby and Mrs. C. Appleby, Mrs. Googlein, Mrs. Innes and Mrs. Rogers.

Heavier Seeding

Recent investigations show that wherever the soil contains good reserves of moisture heavier seeding will produce a higher yield. Heavier seeding, too, helps to control weeds. To sow generously is therefore good practice.

M.D. Buys Caterpillar and Letourneau

Ratification of the machinery committee's action in purchasing large Diesel tractor and carrymore at Saskatoon recently was given at the regular May meeting of M.D. of Beaver, held at the M.D. office at Ryley on Friday and Saturday, May 11, 12. The price paid for the unit was $18,650 and a bulldozer at a cost of $2000 was ordered to complete the unit. It is expected that the unit will commence work in the west end of the M.D., being more suitable for road construction in hilly terrain than the elevating grader unit.

There were present at the meeting Reeve Anderson, Councillors Giebelhaus, Laskosky, Lucas, Moen, Ovens and Swabey.

Mr. Richie of the Dept. of Public Works was present and the morning session was chiefly devoted to matters concerning the government road grant, which this year has been set at $6000. Councillors from their regular public works allocation will authorize a like sum, and the work to be done with this money is to be done on fairly large projects. The government grant of $6000 and the councillors allocation of $6000 will be divided in Divisions as follows: Division one and seven, $2500; Division two, $2500, Division three, $2000; Division four, $5000; Division five, $1000; Division six, $2000.

The S.E. 36-48-14 W4 was sold to Mr. W. McMullen of Bruce for $350, $200 cash, $150 in the fall.

Adjournment for lunch.

Reconvening. Mr. Gotha of the Gotha Gravelling Co., Viking, interviewed Council regarding location and mileage of gravelling contracts. Arrangements were made to commence work at once.

Mr. Steve Umrysh interviewed council regarding S.W. 7-47-14 W4. This quarter has been sold at a previous meeting to Mr. Straka, but ministerial approval had been refused. The quarter had been willed to Mr. Steve Umrysh by his father, but there was an uncompleted sale agreement with Iron Creek M.D. entered into by the deceased gentleman. Council were sympathetic to the request of Mr. Steve Umrysh and on the motion of Councillor Ovens, agreed that Mr. Umrysh could rent the land at one-third of the crop. If any more money has been or is paid by Mr. Umrysh than necessary, Mr. Umrysh will be reimbursed.

Mr. Place interviewed Council regarding N.E. 31-49-13, valued at $550; S.E. 31-49-13, valued at $350; and S.W. 31-49-13, valued at $450. Mr. Place signified his willingness to pay these figures but wanted all or none. Upon investigation it was found that some of this land was under lease and as Mr. Place wanted land for this season's pasture, no business was done.

Representative of the Watrous Ltd. featuring Allis Chalmers road machinery, interviewed council but no business was done.

Mr. Rogers, road gravelling contractor interviewed council regarding road gravelling contracts. He was informed this season's contracts were all completed.

Report of N. M. Solberg, returning officer, announcing election for the appointment of W. J. Kelley as the M.D. of Beaver Viking Hospital representative was read.

Mention was made regarding the receipt of a synopsis of recent amendments to Provincial acts of parliament. An interesting feature was the information that the province will now pay 50 per cent of the cost of keep of aged and inform ratepayers. Formerly Municipal Districts had to bear the full cost of this. Information was also given in the synopsis regarding the work and organization of the agricultural committee.

Mr. Grierson of the Union Tractor and Harvester Co. interviewed Council regarding the purchase of road building equipment. He said that while permits for previous orders had not been granted, he hoped the council would stay with him.

Councillor Giebelhaus moved that Council order a bulldozer for the V-8 caterpillar tractor recently acquired and also a motor road patrol. The resolution was lost. Councillor Moen moved that we purchase a bulldozer for the V-8 caterpillar tractor recently acquired. This motion was carried and Mr. Grierson said that delivery could be made in the matter of a week or so.

Afternoon adjournment.

Reconvening: A letter from Andrew Fimeth re general assessment reporting progress of assessor and assistant assessors was read.

On the motion of Councillor Lucas the third and final reading of by-law No. 35 was given. This is a by-law covering the usual agreements with various hospitals.

Third and final reading of by-law No. 34 selling the N.W. 20-47-13, W4 to Mr. Ebeltoft was given. This was on the motion of Councillor Ovens and ministerial approval of the sale had already been obtained.

Information was received that a bounty will be paid on coyotes between April 1st and October 15th. The bounty is $25.00.

Letter from the office of the highway commissioner announcing that they were unable to put in a new bridge between sections 14 and 15, 48-16 W4. This was in reply to a request by Coun. Laskoski that they do so.

Letter from Dept. of public works re application of Albert J. Hirsch for a lease of road allowance. Council were of the opinion that the road allowance requested by Mr. Hirsch was used as a road and could not see their way clear to give the necessary recommendation.

A letter from public administrator re the estate of the late Michael F. Hand. This was in reply to a letter from the secretary as to whether any reimbursement would be made to the M.D. for moneys expended in connection with the funeral. The matter is under consideration.

On the motion of Councillor Lucas, the secretary and assistant secretary will be allowed to attend the Municipal Refresher course and convention to be held in Edmonton, June 20, 21, 22.

Councillor Moen gave a report of a Northern Alberta Municipal Districts Association convention held at the Royal George Hotel in Edmonton on April 20. The report was formally accepted by Council.

Secretary announced that the court hearing in which Mr. Otto was claiming damages done to his car due to faulty road conditions, had been heard at Viking and that he had been present. Evidence of interested parties was given and the decision is still to be announced.

Letter from Mr. Lennoch regarding lease moneys due. He stated he would remit soon but would be unable to do so before the May meeting.

Letters from Beulah Home, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Salvation Army and the Red Cross Society, acknowledging grants recently made, were read.

Letter from the Beaver Lake Calf Club asking for a grant was read. This was tabled until information could be obtained as to the number of Calf Clubs in the M.D.

Adjournment for supper.

Reconvening: Councillor Laskoski moved that the Holden Drainage Board be asked to build bridge between sec. 14 and 15, 48-16-W4. on road, and that the M.D.'s share of the expenditure be paid when rendered. On the motion of Councillor Ovens the third reading of the by-law arranging for the purchase of $20,000 worth of Victory Bonds be given. Carried.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens $10,000 worth of Victory Bonds is to be set aside for the building of a Municipal Office. Carried.

Letter was read from Mr. Shaw, manager of the Ryley Treasury Branch. There appeared to be a little misunderstanding regarding exchange arrangements but this is expected to be straightened out in the near future.

Letter from University of Alberta hospital announcing that there would be a decrease in the rate of persons who are a responsibility of the Dept. of Veterans Affairs. Council decided to wait for further information and will agree to do what the Northern Alberta M.D. Association agrees to do in this matter.

Letter from St. Mary's Hospital, Camrose, announcing that they intend to enlarge their hospital. There is a possibility though no definite assurance was given, that the hospital may eventually become a Municipal hospital.

Councillor Swabey gave a report of the machinery committee. He said he had been informed that a caterpillar tractor and Letourneau was for sale at Saskatoon. The committee decided to inspect the outfit and after inspection, decided to purchase it for the sum of $18,650. It is expected the unit will arrive in Tofield some time this week. The committee was composed of Councillors Giebelhaus, Ovens and Swabey.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens the report of the committee was accepted and ratified.

A ratepayer wrote requesting reimbursement for feed given to a pig that had strayed on to his land. Council were unable to make reimbursement as the pig should have been impounded within the prescribed time.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens Council adjourned at 9:00 p.m. to meet again at 10:00 a.m. the following day.

LOAN MAY REACH A QUARTER OF A MILLION

As there was a slight slackening off in Victory Loan subscriptions due to V-E day and the activities connected therewith, all local units in Canada were requested to continue the canvas for another week.

Up to Monday night there had been 406 applications for $225,350.00.

At this time there were several more applications in sight and it was expected that before the close of business this coming Saturday, the Tofield—Ryley Unit would have subscribed a quarter of a million dollars. This is good going.

C.C.F. CHRISTIANITY AND WORLD BROTHERHOOD

One of the boasts [illegible] made by the political parties defending the capitalist system of competitive enterprise is that free enterprise is "Christian" and so inferring that Socialism is not Christian. Of course we know that the people who speak for "free" or "private" enterprise are really not concerned about freedom of opportunity for the masses of the people at all, but are only concerned about the "freedom" of monopoly corporations to exploit the people.

However for the sake of argument let us suppose that we have true competition. Is it Christian?

I.O.D.E NOTES

The local school children are participating in an Empire Day program sponsored by the I.O.D.E. on Wednesday afternoon, May 23rd, at 2:30 p.m. in the Variety Theatre. A cordial invitation is extended to all parents, members of the I.O.D.E. and anyone interested, to attend.

BUY COAL NOW WHILE YOU CAN

This year there must be no "slack season" at Western mines. Every miner must be kept working if you are to be sure of your next winter's supply of coal.

Do not rely on being able to order coal later on. You might have to wait days, or even weeks, for delivery. Get your dealer to fill your bin as soon as possible.

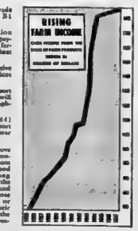
NOW THERE'S A FUTURE IN FARMING

Under Liberal Government, Farm Incomes Rose Steadily

Liberal Action for Agriculture

Here are some of the practical steps which your Liberal government has taken for your benefit:

1 Guarantees of minimum prices for farm products.
2 Trade agreements with 20 countries.
3 Debt cancellation took $225 millions debt off farmers' shoulders.
4 Took import duty and war exchange tax off farm equipment.
5 Saved apple industry by special marketing agreements.
6 Premiums paid on high grade cheese and grade A and B1 hogs.
7 Wheat Acreage Reduction and Prairie Farm Income payments made in 1941 to tide farmers over until market for wheat found.
8 Export contracts, operative until 1947, act as floor prices under farm products.
9 The above, with the Export Credits Insurance Act, will maintain farm incomes throughout post-war period.
10 Appointed (August 1944) Agricultural Prices Support Board to guarantee for post-war security to farmers' incomes.
11 To enable farmers to improve their working and living conditions, your Liberal Government has provided for intermediate and short term credits by amending the Bank Act and passing the Farm Improvement Loans Act, and further, has arranged that those wishing to build new homes or repair, extend or renovate their present homes can borrow the money under the National Housing Act.
12 Inaugurated annual farm production programmes through co-operation between the Department of Agriculture and farmers' organizations in every part of Canada.



Cash income from the sale of farm products (millions of dollars)

KEEP IT UP!

ONE out of every three men working in Canada is on the farm. Agriculture is the nation's most important industry. Since 1939, your Liberal Government has kept farming at the top of its list for action. Look at the panel (left).

Although 25% fewer men have been available for farm work, production has increased more than 40%—a splendid record of achievement for victory!

Even before the war, by securing foreign markets, taking off surpluses and stimulating home consumption, your Liberal Government assisted in raising total farm income by 45%.

During the war, the farmer for the first time was put in the sound position of knowing exactly how he stood financially. He was protected against increases in his costs of production and guaranteed a market at fixed prices for a specified volume of produce. In 1939 farm income was $772,000,000; in 1944 it was $1,817,000,000, an increase of over a billion!

After the war, your Liberal Government has arranged to keep farm incomes up by floor prices on farm and fish products, and by foreign trade . . . to improve farm living conditions by Family Allowances, National Housing Plan, Farm Improvement Loans Act, and other social measures . . . and to secure agriculture's future by conservation of soil and other natural resources together with farsighted projects for irrigation, road and other improvements as soon as manpower and materials are available.

When you vote Liberal you act for your own and your family's continued welfare.

ROAD WORK MANAGEMENT—

IT IS, WE BELIEVE, quite safe to say that every Alberta enlarged Municipal District is made up of a number of divisions with a particular councillor representing each one of the divisions. If there is any departure from this plan we have yet to learn of it. There are many advantages to this set up and few disadvantages but it is an arrangement that should be watched carefully as the very size of the enlarged M.D.'s and the fact that each councillor represents a particular division has a tendency to cause councillors to think in terms of divisions rather than in terms of Municipal District, which is something that should be guarded against First and foremost, a councillor represents and works to the interest of the ratepayers of a Municipal District and secondly he is councillor for one particular division. Harmony and a genuine effort for co-operation on the part of all councillors is essential for the well being of any M.D.

In the matter of road work management and accounting, the divisional system is very pronounced. Early in the year a certain sum of money is budgeted for public works. This sum is divided according to the number of divisions and each councillor has his share of the total to spend. If he spends more than his share he has that much less to spend the following year, if he spends less, he has that much more to spend when conditions warrant it. This is the present procedure in the M.D. of Beaver and is, we believe fairly general throughout the province. There is however, another matter pertaining to road construction affecting the M.D. as a whole and the different divisions, which the M.D. of Beaver, despite repeated attempts, have been unable to arrive at a satisfactory arrangement. This is in connection with the use of large road construction units and the method of accounting concerning their use. Another matter which has received much attention, and upon which a unanimous agreement seems as far off as ever, is the appointment of a road work supervisor. This man presumably would be responsible to individual councillors for work done in their respective divisions, and the councillors still remain responsible to the ratepayers. Briefly expressed, the councillors would control general policy and the road work supervisor would control actual work and technique.

Going back to the method of book-keeping as applied to the divisional use of large units. If, out of his public works money any councillor wishes to purchase a relatively small piece of equipment and keep it for use within his own division there appears to be no good reason why he shouldn't do so. But the larger machinery units involving an expenditure beyond the range of divisional budgets should wholly belong to the Municipal District. Now, as divisional road work budgets are kept separate and credits and debits carried forward from year to year, it is necessary to have some workable system whereby each division pay the Municipal District a stipulated sum per hour for the use of these large units.

In addition to a stipulated sum per hour for the actual use, another stipulated sum per hour should be charged the divisions for a repair fund. This would avoid any one division being swamped with repair charges due to the machine breaking down in any division, due in part to work done in other divisions. We like this arrangement.

As regards the appointment of a road supervisor, suggestion that such a man be engaged has come partly from troubles due to man power shortage and excessive repair costs, and partly from the fact that a councillor cannot visit road work projects as often as he should to maintain efficient production.

The road work supervisor question has been brought up on numerous occasions but strangely enough the matter has never been brought to a vote, it apparently being the hope that if and when such an appointment is agreed upon, it will be unanimous.

As a newspaper we can readily see the desirability and advantages of such an appointment, even financially it could work out all right, the M.D. would get more more work done for a certain sum of money spent. But we can also see, and we feel in honor bound to say this, that during the past year at least, the Council has spent a great deal of money without the resort to their budget for public works, mostly machinery. It is true that much of the equipment ordered has been denied a permit which of course means no expenditure, but we believe it distinctly unwise to order on the assumption that equipment can't be delivered anyway.

Getting back to the appointment of a road supervisor. Inasmuch as the road building season is short, we would suggest that young Harold McMullen who is now on the office staff of the M.D., be given a course (sounds like the airforce) in road construction. A fellow who trained for operational flights over enemy territory, should be able, if willing, to handle this. A direct connection between office and road work gangs should prove beneficial all round.

HURRAY for TODAY!

V-DAY means not a thing to this husky young rascal, unless it is his Daddy's coming home. This little citizen is happy any day so long as he's well fed and feeling fine.

Yet he — above us all — is the one to shout for joy today.

Is it not for him — and for millions of bright faces of his generation — that men have been willing to suffer and to lay aside their freedom — but by but — so that one day they might have it complete, secure?

Even so — the fruits of Victory are not alone for those too young to know the privations of war . . . not alone for posterity.

Here and now, men and women of our generation — scarred and wearied by long, grinding years of war — shall know the blessings of a new born day.

This new day is for the common man . . . for greater social justice, for broader opportunity to enjoy a richer, fuller life.

No thinking citizen here in Canada, or in any land touched by war, would believe for a moment that our problems are past.

The prospect ahead is no easy one . . . Yet it cannot daunt the hardy stock of Canada — the men and women who carved this nation out of a wilderness, who the eight years have taught the good [illegible] down to the last Victory Loan — down to the last [illegible]

No, the prospect is hard, but a new spirit is abroad. We Canadians, like all our Allies who have [illegible] fought with us, have been chastened by the [illegible] and we are determined — by the effort of the individual [illegible] by the effort of the community — to bring a better, stronger, healthier world out of the raging storm through which we have passed.

This is a day for cheering not simply for victory over dictatorship, but for the assurance we have of the dawn of a better day.

This message is published as an expression of faith in the future of Canada by the Bank of Montreal, which has been working with Canadians in all walks of life since 1817.

CHECK-UP OF FARM WORKERS ON POSTPONEMENT OF MILITARY CALL-UP

A check-up on a sample of farm workers who are on postponement of military training is being undertaken by National Selective Service, according to an announcement made by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour.

At the present time over 100,000 men in agriculture are on postponement of military training, and the sample check will cover about 10 per cent of these cases.

Expressing grave concern over the shortages of labour faced by the farming industry this year, the Labour Minister pointed out that heavy food production in Canada is even more essential than in the earlier years of the war. "It is the intention" Mr. Mitchell said, "to see to it that men given postponement of military training for the purpose of working in agriculture, shall work at that industry. While the assistance men from the farm have given to other hard pressed industries during the slack season on the land is much appreciated, it is impossible to let men from the farm leave that industry the year round."

The Labour Minister added that the 100,000 young farm workers who are on postponement, being in the prime of life, are a highly important section of farm manpower. "We cannot afford", the Minister added, "to allow a single one of these men to just walk off the farm to work in another industry when his services are essential to food production."

The Minister also added that if any farmer knows of any man on postponement for farm work who has left the farm without authority of National Selective Service, he should report the fact to the nearest Employment and Selective Service office, in the interests of food production.

RYLEY NEWS

Last Thursday evening, Premier Manning spoke before a large audience in the Community Hall when the Bethel Lutheran Ladies' Aid held their May 17th celebration. He pointed out that the Norwegian people as a whole had three chief characteristics: (1) Their love for freedom; (2) Their loyalty to the Motherland; (3) Their religion.

He also spoke on post-war plans and that instead of putting so much value on material things we should seek Divine Guidance and live the way God intended us to live. He also pointed out whereas in former days all main thoroughfares led to the Chapel, now, in the blueprints being made for post-war Europe, the main streets and thoroughfares led to the docks and business centres, which is to be deeply regretted as no lasting peace can be based on materialistic or worldly things. Mrs. Mohus sang a Norwegian solo. Dr. McPherson introduced Premier Manning and gave a little speech on the Norwegian people. Having lived with one and among them for so many years, he thought he knew them quite well, and that he had picked the best of the bunch. The Flag Parade of the United Nations was very effective. Milton Lillo played a violin solo.

After the programme a collection was taken for European War relief. Then lunch was served by members of the Ladies' Aid in the Lutheran Parish Hall.

Mrs. Manning and Mr. and Mrs. N. E. James accompanied Mr. Manning from Edmonton. A request was made for Mrs. Manning to be introduced to the audience and Rev. Ostrom as chairman, asked her to come up on the platform and say a few words, which she did very charmingly.

Mr. J. L. Hay is in Calgary this week as a representative at the United Church Conference being held there.

Henry and Charlie Hill were visitors to Edmonton on Tuesday, combining business with pleasure.

Mr. Ward, inspector for the Treasury Branch has been in Ryley the past two days.

Several letters have already been received from boys overseas, in reply to one sent by the Community League, asking them what their wish was in regard to a War Memorial Project. A letter is now being drafted to the boys on this side as to their views on the proposals sent to the boys overseas which were as follows:

1. To furnish a ward in some Military Hospital.
2. Club room and Library.
3. Bowling Alley.
4. New Skating and curling rinks with comfortable dressing rooms.
5. Improving the Sports Ground.

If any of them had any further suggestions they have been requested to give them.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hastlund of Red Deer were in Ryley Monday to see their father, Mr. M. Hastlund, who has been poorly for some time. Mrs. Hastlund is not feeling very well either.

Ed. Glenross came home Saturday evening to spend a few days with his family.

Mr. Marshall, our Federal member of Parliament will speak in the Community Hall on May 28th. Dr. McPherson and others will also take part in the meeting.

Ryley Baseball enthusiasts have been up on the ball diamond the last couple of evenings watching the Ryley High School and Senior baseball players practising for coming sports during the summer season.

MILITARY CALL-UP NEW PROCEDURE

The Minister of Labour, after conferring with the Minister of National Defence by telephone, announces that the following decisions have been made in respect to "call ups" for the Army.

(1) On and after this date, call ups for the Army are suspended.

(2) Arrangements have been made that volunteers will be enrolled for the war in the Pacific and there will be an opportunity for any men who wish to do so to volunteer for this service.

(3) Any men ordered for medical examination who were due to report prior to May 7, 1945, must do so and be medically examined, however, those who are found fit for the Army will not be called for military service for the present.

(4) Any men who have been called to report for military duty on May 7 or on a prior date, who have not reported and are consequently delinquent, must do so and if found medically fit will be enrolled in the Army.

(5) Any men who have been called to report for military service on a date after May 7, 1945, will be given transportation and sent home and will not be enrolled for Army service unless they volunteer for service in the Pacific.

SCHOOL CHILDREN ATTEND EMPIRE DAY CEREMONY

The annual Empire Day [illegible] sponsored by the Dr. Tofield Chapter of the I.O.D.E. was held at the Variety Theatre on Wednesday afternoon.

Headed by the town band and marshalled by their teachers, the youngsters made quite a showing marching down main street. The younger children immediately behind [illegible] wore long white trousers which gave them a smart appearance. The parade was formed with the young children in front and the older students behind.

Arriving at the hall the band excellently played a selection and the children and others filed inside. The meeting was under the chairmanship of Mr. J. E. Stinson and the program included an opening address by him and also addresses by Rev. Krup, [illegible] Mr. Chandler. The band played [illegible] Canada and the National Anthem [illegible] rendered three [illegible] selections during the program. Miss Stinson rendered some piano forte selections and the students of Miss B[illegible]'s room sang, [illegible] The [illegible] excellently performed a flag drill.

Mrs. Webb, on behalf of the I.O.D.E. thanked the band, the school staff and teachers for coming and making possible a very successful Empire Day program.

Invasion Of Britain: Trojan Bluff Won

By Harold Hobson in the Christian Science Monitor

London, May 17—It is now possible for the first time authoritatively to answer the question whether the Germans ever attempted the invasion of England. A few days ago Field Marshal Gen. Gerd von Rundstedt declared that Germany never made any actual effort to implement the plans it had prepared for landing on British soil, although they carried out certain experiments and dress rehearsals.

These presumably account for the various invasion stories, supported by the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] War Office [illegible] [illegible] a [illegible] myth.

[illegible] Alan Brooke [illegible] [illegible] the Germans could have [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] could have been [illegible] [illegible] has gone ground [illegible].

The fact [illegible] the fall of France [illegible] They know that the British [illegible] at the middle of 1940 was far more [illegible] than was guessed even in the United States, which always took a more serious view of the matter than did Britain itself.

The day on which full gravity of the war position broke upon British authorities was May [illegible] 1940. On that day the Germans, in their victorious [illegible] France, reached Boulogne, and it became evident that the invasion of England was an imminent possibility.

The Southern Command, therefore, counted its guns. It found that it possessed 54 guns [illegible] with which to repel any possible invasion attack. It had ammunition for only a few of these. Immediately, the Southern Command began to delve into stores it had not examined for years. On June 21—the day that Hitler imposed his armistice terms upon the French—by dint of its rummaging it was able to increase its armament to 146 guns. The most modern of the added guns came from World War I; the rest from the Boer War.

This poverty of material was matched by a manpower shortage. There were only 22 divisions in the country, and though the southeastern coast was defended more powerfully than any other sector, it had only 46 men to the mile.

The only armoured division in the whole island was the 2d Armoured Division. The plan was to defend the coast with regular troops, all of whom were instructed that under no circumstances [illegible] retire, or permitted, the second line of defense was to be provided by the Home Guards, while behind these detachments of the regular army were not ready to take buses at a moment's notice to be sent wherever they might be needed.

Some of these buses, on which mobility of Britain's defense depended, were 11 years old. They could not go faster than 25 miles an hour and hadn't any brakes. This describes the situation on Sept. 7, 1940, when the great air blitz opened on London full blast.

That night the watchword for the beginning of the invasion was "Cromwell." In error, some home guard commanders got hold of this, and on their own initiative tolled the church bells, the official signal for the invasion, in various parts of southern England.

The alarm was given in places as far apart as Oxford in the Thames valley and Christchurch on the Channel coast. Nevertheless, the invasion had not started. The Germans were, in fact, beginning to wonder whether they would ever be able to undertake it.

As late as Sept. 13 they still were bringing more and more invasion barges to Channel ports. But on Sept. 21 the German forces began to be evacuated from the Channel. Thus on the day when fire watching became compulsory in Britain, Berlin published its first anti-Bolshevik cartoon of the war, and the threat of invasion came to an end.

John Bracken — The Man

John Bracken, the son of a farmer Ephraim Bracken and his wife, Alberta, was born in a log cabin in Ellisville, Leeds County, Ontario, on the 22nd of June, 1883.

Here, briefly chronicled, are the main events in the life of John Bracken:

1898 - Student at Brockville Collegiate, Ontario.

1902-5 Student at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. He won four scholarships, the Governor-General's Medal, was top honours student and class medalist. Here, too, he met Alice Wylie Bruce.

1906 - Young Bracken went to Winnipeg as representative of the Seeds Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

1907 - In the neighbouring Province of Saskatchewan, John Bracken became Superintendent of Fairs and Farmers' Institutes and Secretary of the Provincial Livestock Association.

1910 - John Bracken was appointed Professor of Field Husbandry at the new University of Saskatchewan. He took the first train to Guelph, Ontario, married Alice Wylie Bruce. Four sons were born—three of whom are now on Active Service with the Navy, Army and Air Force.

1920 - Already the author of two books on agriculture, John Bracken became President of the Manitoba Agricultural College.

1922 - John Bracken accepted the leadership of the Progressive Farmer Government, was sworn in as Prime Minister of Manitoba.

Now began the political life of the most continuously successful political leader the Empire has produced in this century. Since that day—from 1922 to 1942—John Bracken has never been defeated.

1932 - The Liberals joined John Bracken's farmer government.

1940 - All the other political parties, including the C.C.F. and Social Creditors, threw in their fortunes with a great leader forming a wartime Coalition Manitoba government.

1942 - The year of John Bracken's great decision. John Bracken, the Progressive, accepted the national leadership of a great resurgent people's party—The Progressive Conservatives.

ROYAL COMMISSION ON VETERANS' QUALIFICATIONS HOLDS FIRST MEETING

The initial meeting of the Royal Commission on Veterans' Qualifications was held this morning in the Department of Labour, Ottawa. In opening the meeting Col. Wilfrid Bovey of Montreal, Commission chairman, stressed the importance of the Commission and asked the co-operation of Provincial Governments, Trade Unions, and other groups with a responsibility or interest in detailed arrangements for the return of members of the Armed Services to civilian life, and more especially to civilian jobs.

After indicating the great variety of educational and occupational courses given to members of the Armed Services, both as part of military training and for cultural improvement (as in the case of the Canadian Legion Educational Services and special courses operated by the Armed Services themselves) the chairman suggested that the Commission should make arrangements so that each person discharged from the Armed Services would be provided with a certificate showing his educational and occupational improvement as a result of the training which has followed enlistment.

Colonel Bovey laid emphasis upon the part of the Provincial Governments in relation to the work of the Commission, particularly in regard to recognition of educational courses. In this connection he said: "It will then be our duty to visit each Provincial Government since these alone are responsible for the granting of educational certificates and to make such arrangements with them as will result in ex-service personnel being in possession of suitable documents."

The chairman announced that the three Defence Departments have already undertaken the preparation of reports in covering all types of instruction given within the Forces, and that one highly qualified officer from each Service has been assigned to the Commission as a technical adviser.

Stressing the "appalling importance" of the task facing the Commission the chairman expressed confidence that its task will be accomplished expeditiously and satisfactorily with the co-operation of the Provinces, Trade Unions, employers and Federal Departments which may be in a position to assist.

SAFETY IN AGRICULTURE

Most people think of a farm as a quiet, safe place compared to the city. Noisy factories, shops or mills seem much more dangerous than a wheat field or a quiet farm home, but accidents take the lives of more farm workers than are killed in any other industry. One may wonder why this toll is so great. The majority of farmers and agricultural leaders have done very little about accident prevention. As a result a terrific toll of farm accidents has been piled up. The records indicate that, if you work in agriculture, your chance of an accidental death is over twice as great as when you work in either the manufacturing or the trade and service industries.

About 50 per cent of the fatal and non-fatal farm accidents are the result of the careless operation of tractors. Falls are another cause of farm accidents—falls in stairways, barns, etc. Other hazards are the use of motor fuels, explosives and other combustible materials. Electricity also can be a death trap if used the wrong way.

R. T. Stephanson, Agricultural Engineer for the Alberta Department of Agriculture, stresses the importance of simplification of farm work in the prevention of accidents. Easier ways of doing work contribute to safety because they reduce fatigue. An overworked farmer doesn't have time to think, and if he doesn't think, accidents are bound to happen. The man who gets things done is the man who places safety first.

FARM RADIO FORUM PLANS FOR 1945-46 SEASON

Calgary, May 11—At a recent meeting of the provincial Farm Radio Forum committee held in Edmonton, the past season's activities were reviewed and plans laid for a new program that will start in late October. Although Farm Radio Forum is a Canada-wide program, each province makes its own local organization and sponsorship. The provincial [illegible] are administered through the office of the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, Calgary, and the work is supervised by a committee of five persons: viz. Donald Cameron, Department of Extension, University of Alberta; R. M. Putnam, Agricultural Extension Service, Department of Agriculture; H. Young, director, Alberta Farmers Union; Miss E. Birch, secretary, United Farmers of Alberta, and J. R. McFall, secretary, Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

The committee was not entirely satisfied with the achievements of the past season's activities but it was decided that the program should be sponsored for another year, as many listening groups have been very enthusiastic and feel that Farm Radio Forum has been a factor in building up a co-operative community spirit amongst their neighbours.

Further plans for Farm Radio Forum will be made at a conference of inter-provincial representatives to be held in Winnipeg on May 28 to 31. Alberta will be represented at this conference by Miss E. Birch, secretary, United Farmers of Alberta; Miss A. Hadden, acting secretary of Farm Radio Forum in Alberta and J. R. McFall, secretary, Alberta Federation of Agriculture.

Later in the season the Alberta Farm Radio Forum committee will undertake an extensive publicity and organization campaign, the object being to double or triple the number of listening groups. To make this campaign a success it will be necessary to solicit the support of all active forums and other farm groups such as locals of the United Farmers of Alberta and Alberta Farmers' Union.

THOUSANDS OF CARS WILL GO ON SCRAP HEAP

Owing to the shortage of tires or other needs, thousands of cars will be taken off the highways this year in Alberta and other parts of the dominion. It has been estimated that 1,000,000 cars will be "scrapped" in the U.S. for the same reason.

Officials of the Alberta Motor Association have again appealed to car drivers to take extremely good care of their car tires this year.

Rubber manufacturers have stated that while new synthetic rubber production will be available during the latter part of 1945, it is doubtful that this will give much relief this year, either to passenger cars or commercial vehicles.

"Let every car owner be extremely good to his tires this year," said the general sales manager of one large rubber manufacturing company when on a recent tour of Alberta.

MUSKRAT FARM SCHEME

The muskrat population in its natural habitat North of the North Saskatchewan River dropped so low last fall that it became necessary to close the season. South of the river, however, large numbers of muskrats in small ponds, lakes, sloughs and marshes were in evidence, particularly on ponds and lakes within the confines of farmers' [illegible].

It has been customary in the past for farmers and ranchers to drain off sloughs, either on their own or adjacent land, with the idea of securing more land for cultivation or for the production of hay. In many cases the drainage of slough bottoms has produced valueless land in that it has run to alkali, cat-tails or both. In such cases the land has no value for the raising of either hay or crops, and any value from water conservation and sand point is lost. Added to this such drainage was found to be lowering the water table in such an area, which resulted in wells of the district running dry, necessitating their being deepened to secure an adequate water supply.

In Southern Ontario and Northern Manitoba projects have been developed for rehabilitating muskrats on marshes on lakes [illegible]. At one particular area Ducks Unlimited raised the water level of a slough which spread over land controlled by two municipalities. The original idea was to raise the water for the protection of ducks, but it happened to be an excellent muskrat slough and immediately the muskrats began to increase. The municipalities were persuaded to take over this slough and develop the rats, raising them under their supervision, which resulted in the income from this slough being so great as to permit reduction in taxation to the people living in these two municipalities and at the same time to give an increase in social services.

The same scheme can definitely be applied on Alberta farms on a smaller scale. Any individual owning a marsh, slough or small lake on his land, providing such land is within a fence, should be shown that the revenue from same in the matter of raising muskrats will in many cases far exceed the revenue to be obtained from the growing of hay, and at the same time, by keeping the water levels up in the district, the benefit of conservation of water will continue. It should be explained to farmers that the matter of draining sloughs may often result disastrously in conditions which may follow.

In the case of two or more residents whose lands border the same lake or slough a joint permit for [illegible]rat farming may be secured, providing that no access to the lake exists by a road allowance running through or between the two of the parcels of land. Applications for all permits must be accompanied by a map showing the location of the slough in relation to the owner's holding.

Application from individuals for muskrat farming have at times been made where ownership of the slough does not exist with the applicant, whose original idea was to take muskrats illegally from marshes or sloughs on Crown lands. Such infraction of the regulations subjects action of this kind to prosecution of the offender.

It is quite possible to increase the revenue on a farm by the combination of water protection and supervision of muskrat life existing in such water areas, such supervision of course being carried out on a proper conservation basis, which will permit revenue of this nature to continue from year to year.

REPORT REVEALS VAST SCALE OF OPERATIONS

The Annual Report of Imperial Oil is a dramatically illustrated booklet with pictures that cover the Company's vast operations throughout Canada, and in the South American republics of Venezuela, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru.

In 1944 the Company sold nearly one billion 400 million gallons of petroleum products in Canada. For this it received 183 million dollars out of which it paid 128 million for raw materials, freight and sales taxes; 35 million for operating expenses, including wages, and nine million for income taxes. Its net profit from producing, transporting, refining and distributing these products [illegible] under ten million dollars or equivalent to a little less than three quarters of a cent per gallon.

WILD OATS CONTROL
(Office District Agriculturist)

The wild oat seed, unlike commercial grains, shatters or becomes detached from the plant while it still contains a high percentage of moisture. The seed must lose this original moisture and later receive a further supply before germination will take place. It would appear that the drying of the kernel is accompanied by certain changes or processes within the seed itself. This process is called "after-ripening". The length of time required for drying will, of course, depend on weather conditions and soil moisture condition immediately following the shattering of the seeds. This in turn determines to a considerable degree the length of time cultivation should be delayed after harvesting the crop. Burying the current season's crop of wild oats in moist soil by cultivation, before the after-ripening process is complete, may indefinitely postpone its germination. Such seed will remain dormant until brought to the surface and dried, or until the soil in which it is buried is stirred by cultivation and allowed to dry out, permitting the after-ripening process to be completed.

Since this is a dry spring the soil is fairly dry. The wild oats on the surface will lose moisture and therefore after-ripen. Hence it will become germinable. As soon as there is rainfall the seeds will sprout and grow. Under these conditions it is reasonable to expect a heavy crop of wild oats in the grain this year.

W. A. MOISEY,
District Agriculturist.

COUCH GRASS CONTROL

Couch grass, once one of the most troublesome weeds in Alberta has met its master in the form of the one-way disc. Before the advent of the one-way, the common method of [illegible] couch grass was to rip up the sod and endeavour to bring all the roots to the surface where the sun would kill them or where they could be raked up and burned. The labour involved was tremendous and the success attained often out of all proportion with the labour and expense involved.

The one-way disc gives an entirely new approach to the problem. Now thorough, shallow cultivation which will eliminate the top growth and starve out the roots does the job more economically and more effectively. In addition the roots of the plant are left in the ground to decompose and add fertility to the soil.

Cultivation should commence about the middle of June advises H. J. Mather, Supervisor of Weed Control. The discs on the tiller must be sharp and the machine properly adjusted. If a heavy growth of grass is present the field should be mowed before cultivation begins. Six or seven operations with the one-way at intervals of two weeks will do the job. The fields must be cultivated during August and September as soon as green blades appear on the surface and until solid freeze up. Should cultivation be neglected during threshing season the whole summer's work may be wasted.

In the year after fallowing, seed the field to barley at 2 and 2 1-2 bushels per acre in order to crowd out any weakened plants which might remain. If soil drifting is a problem, seed to fall rye late in the season. This will hold the couch grass in check and permit the eradication programme to be completed after the rye has been harvested the following year.

John Bracken — The Farmer

On the 11th of December, 1942, John Bracken stood in the Auditorium in Winnipeg before a great concourse of people. John Bracken — the Farmer — was accepting the leadership of a great resurgent people's party. In ringing tones he was speaking of "The People's Charter". And the soul-searching [illegible] of this man of the soil with his vision of Canada, of Canadians and the "world of plenty that lies within our grasp" was deeply moving.

Picture the background of this man—this moment. John Bracken, the farm boy, on his [illegible] farm in Ontario, milking, haying, carrying in the wood, plowing . . . then young Bracken, honours student at the Ontario Agricultural College going to Manitoba as representative of the Department of Agriculture . . . then to Saskatchewan as Superintendent of Fairs and Farmers' Institutes and Secretary of the Provincial Livestock Association . . . then, later, John Bracken, author, writing books about farms, farming, farmers . . .

And now years later, in Winnipeg, John Bracken, the farmer, is speaking of "the right of farmers and other primary producers to a fair share of the nation's income." Notice the simplicity of the language he uses, clear, concise — sincere.

"During the last decade," he is saying, "farm income fell to such a low average as to become [illegible] great concern in our Canadian economy. It is the responsibility of the nation to see that this [illegible] shall not be perpetuated."

Then, suddenly his voice rises, becomes even clearer, more incisive. "I may say quite frankly that if it had not been for that plank in your platform which provides for a square deal for agriculture, I would not be here."

Two years later, in Alliston, Ontario, — again the same simplicity, the moving sincerity.

"I am an agrarian," said John Bracken, "and I am a Canadian . . . who seeks to correct the [illegible] injustice of our day — the unfairly small share of the national income that goes to farmers [illegible] and farm workers." Then, with a statesman's enlargement of vision, he added, "When the [illegible] to the farmer is removed, the economy of Canada as a whole will be strengthened."

No one could be less parochial in his outlook — more deeply concerned with national welfare than John Bracken, the farmer who embarked twenty years ago on a career so successful as to be without precedent in contemporary political history within the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Liberal Working Plan for Full Post-War Employment...

For Veterans—$750,000,000 to get them started in good paying jobs in industry, on the land or in business for themselves as each of them chooses.

Housing—$400,000,000 to finance the biggest building scheme this country has ever known.

Family Allowances—$250,000,000 a year to lessen the burdens of parenthood and to equalize the opportunities of young Canadians for success and happiness.

Export Credits—We've got to have exports if we're going to have jobs. Your Liberal Government has arranged to finance war-wrecked countries who will be good customers later.

Industrial Development Bank—Your Liberal Government has set up machinery to help enterprising Canadians develop new business.

Farm Loans—One man in every three in Canada works on the farm. To help them get better equipment, your Liberal Government has arranged that they can borrow the money they need for better working and living conditions.

Floor Prices—The Liberal Government's policy is that when farmers and fishermen prosper, so do other Canadians. It has therefore taken action to put a floor under the prices of farm and fishery products.

Reduction of Taxes—Your Liberal Government believes in jobs first. To this end, taxes will come down to free spending power.

• • • •

These are just some of many steps in the Liberal Government's Working Plan to ensure full employment after the war. In addition it has stimulated tremendous private savings in Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates; put through Unemployment Insurance, set up a special Department of Reconstruction staffed by experts. In fact all its policies are directed to the same end—a "high and stable level of employment and income."

JOBS! Jobs with bright futures for the young men and women coming out of the Armed Services with the best part of their lives before them! Jobs for all! Jobs with big prospects and good, reliable money that will keep its buying power! After all the hard work, sacrifice and self-discipline which has brought us through the war, the people of this country have earned a brighter future in a better, juster, grander Canada than we have ever known!

LOOK how much Canadians have accomplished, here on the home front, even without the energy and initiative of all the vigorous young people now in uniform, and their zest for daring! What is there Canada can't do with them back on the home team? Why, with their help, we Canadians are headed full speed for the greatest period in our history!

THE all-important question today is the civilian staff-work and leadership which we call "government." The Liberals have a working plan. It's big and bold! Parts of it are outlined for your judgment in the left-hand column. It has been designed with the aid of the keenest minds in every phase of industry, agriculture, labour and learning. The plan will work. In fact it is already bringing results. It will continue to do so! The Liberals can tell you this with confidence because they have had successful experience in operating nation-wide plans.

VOTE for your Liberal candidate. Make sure the team which made this plan for full employment shall see it through—and win the peace!

About Insects

The bulletin on small fruits, announced in our last article, has a twin brother named "Field Crop Insects in the Prairie Provinces." This last publication has been prepared in response to a very wide-spread demand for reliable information on the identification and control of insects that thrive at the expense of field crops.

Line Elevator Companies esteem it a great privilege to offer this bulletin to prairie farmers and rural schools. The information is up to date and authoritative, having been prepared by specialists in the laboratories of the Division of Entomology, Science Service, Dominion Department of Agriculture and in the Department of Entomology, The University of Manitoba.

This bulletin is not a textbook but merely a handbook. It will serve as a useful guide to the most destructive of our field crop insects and to the best methods of control at our disposal. In all there are forty-one excellent illustrations of which eight are in full colour. Aside from its practical value in connection with crop protection, this publication provides some very interesting reading.

Copies are available free of charge to prairie farmers, teachers and pupils in the three Prairie Provinces from local [illegible] through any Line Elevator agent or from Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg or Calgary.

ETERNITY---ETERNITY
Where will you spend eternity?
It's Heaven or Hell
For you, for me,
Where will you spend eternity?

There is one question God will ask everyone---"What did you do with Jesus?"

To those who accept Him, God will say, "Enter thou into the joy of the Lord."

To those who reject Him, God will say "Depart from me, ye workers of iniquity, I know ye not."

How will you answer Him? You have a Heaven to gain and a Hell to shun. Receive Jesus and live.

RYLEY NEWS

Ryley Softball and baseball teams took part in the Empire Day Sports held at Dodds last Thursday. The Ryley Girls' Softball team won over the Bardo girls, 24-6, winning the $10.00 purse. They played Dodds and lost 17-11, thereby bringing home the Consolation prize of $5.00.

Ryley Baseball team beat Lakeshore team and won the $15.00 purse. The game between Ryley and Dodds was "called" as it got too dark to continue the game. Each team got $10.00.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Roland Booth, a son on Friday, May 25th.

Dennis Manderson is attending a short course in Agriculture at the University of Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. Honeyball spent the week-end in Edmonton where they attended the meetings held by Bob Letourneau. Mr. Honeyball also had the pleasure of attending the banquet given in honor of Bob Letourneau last Saturday evening at the Macdonald Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs Eaton and Mrs. Sewell Booth motored to Edmonton to hear Bob Letourneau speak last Sunday. Mrs. Booth also took the opportunity to see her new grandson.

Lt. G. D. Bendiksen came home Sunday from overseas. The whole community welcomed him back and hope it won't be long before all our boys are home again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Flaseth motored to Edmonton Sunday and brought Martin back with them. He will be home for a few days in order to regain strength from a recent illness.

A Community League meeting was held Tuesday evening in Walter's Garage. They are considering building and raffling a bungalow, but have to make enquiries as to the legality of this procedure. Another meeting is to be held this coming Monday evening, June 4th.

Mr. Ray Magnuson took Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Johnson and their son Keith to Edmonton last week where Keith had to undergo treatment for a mastoid and bronchial pneumonia. We wish him a very speedy recovery through this column and report that his little school-mates in Primary School have done so in a more specific form by sending him a gift and also personal letters.

Mrs. Fred Manderson was a visitor to Edmonton, Tuesday, to see her daughter and little grandson.

Mrs. Bob Greig is going to North Battleford on Friday to visit her daughter Lizzie and her husband.

Mrs. Geddes, Mrs. Butler and Mrs. Mehus were busy in the Memorial Park Tuesday afternoon, planting 100 flowering plants which had just been obtained by the Community League.

The Community League are putting on a Barn Dance in the south-west corner of the town pasture on June 8th.

While unloading lumber across the tracks Tuesday afternoon, Johnny Jevning's team ran away from him. Fortunately no one was hurt, although they tore down across the tracks and down the alley between the hotel and Butler's, toward the Lutheran church, and swung around back to the Livery barn where Sam Aleck's had parked his car, which looked a trifle worse off for its encounter with the livery wagon.

On Monday evening, Mr. James Marshall, federal member for Camrose, spoke in the Ryley Community Hall before an audience of about 100 persons. This coming election was the most important one in the history of Canada and we would do well to think seriously when we cast our votes. One statement he made which he wished we would remember, even if we forgot everything else said, was, "Know the truth and the truth shall make you free." It was interesting to learn that Mr. Blackmore's name was on the list as a delegate to the San Francisco conference until a couple of speeches were made against the present Monetary system, during the last Parliamentary session in Ottawa, then his name was withdrawn as a delegate.

The Double D and Three R members are holding an "Achievement Display" in the Oddfellows Hall on Monday evening.

P.f.c. Donald H. Ireland was released from a German prison camp on April 29th, and is on his way back to the States, according to word recently received by his Mother.

Mrs. George Hendrickson of Bardo will speak at the next Lutheran Ladies' Aid, June 7th. Her topic will be on Temperance. All are cordially invited.

UNITED CHURCH

Sunday School	10:00 a.m.
Church Services	8:00 p.m.

Being the first Sunday of the month.

Dr. A. E. Archer, Paul L. Farnalls, Speak Here

In support of their Liberal candidature in the forthcoming federal election, Dr A. E. Archer, liberal candidate for the Vegreville constituency and Paul L. Farnalls, liberal candidate for the Camrose constituency, held a joint meeting at the Variety Theatre on Wednesday evening. The attendance was quite small, but those who did attend showed great interest in the addresses given.

W. C. Swift was chairman of the meeting [illegible] briefly introduced Mr. Farnalls and Dr. A. E. Archer. He said both gentlemen had long and honorable careers in the community in which they lived and were worthy to represent the electorate of their respective [illegible] at Ottawa. The chairman called on Mr. Farnalls to address the gathering.

Mr. Farnalls gave a short resume of the more important legislation passed by the Liberal administration, touching upon family allowances, price control, agricultural policy, etc. He said he was definitely a free trade man and believed the removal of restrictions upon domestic and international trade would help to solve a lot of the problems now worrying us.

Dr. Archer said that the constituency of Vegreville was the most densely settled farm area in Western Canada. The population was 52,000 of which less than 6000 lived in towns or villages, 22 per cent lived north of the Saskatchewan river and 60 per cent lived south of it. The population was drawn from many racial groups but were all good Canadians. Tofield was on the extreme southern border. There were 23,000 names on the voters' list.

The speaker touched on many subjects and gave an excellent and interesting address. These included liberal policies contributing to the present prosperity; price control; income tax technique; parliamentary committees studying post war conditions; labor policies; family allowances; unemployment insurance; health insurance and other matters.

The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

EMPIRE DAY THOUGHT

The sphere enlarges but the flag is true,
And loyal feelings turn to Britain's shore,
While far off lands the song of hope renew,
And broken towers lift their praise once more.

And soaring wings encircle yonder drome
Where nations treat of lasting peace and light---
The faith and honor and the guarded home,
The broaden'd justice and the common right.

ANY SUGAR?

The Tofield Sports Day Committee is asking for small donations of sugar. The proceeds from the com[illegible] sports day, as for some years past, will be given to the Canadian Red Cross Society. To make the booth function successfully there must be plenty of cold lemonade etc., (pop is scarce and hard to get) and to make cold drinks the committee has to procure some sugar. If you can spare a cup full the committee will be very grateful. Leave it at the post office.

HONORED AT TEA

Mrs. George Holmes entertained a number of ladies at her home on Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs E. C. Woods, who will be leaving shortly for Rocky Mountain House, where Cons. Woods has been transferred.

SQDN.-LDR. CHESTER ALVIN RONNING

DODDS

Dodds Sports were held on Victoria Day, May 24. In spite of a dull cold day, there was a large and enthusiastic crowd present. Tofield, Ryley, Round Hill, Camrose, Bardo, Holden and Lakeshore, were well represented, as well as the "home town" and other points. From a recreational as well as financial standpoint, the day was satisfactory. The gate receipts were beyond expectation and the hot dog and hamburger stand, pie stall and refreshment booth were kept busy with sales every minute, it seemed. The baseball and softball games were interspersed with races of one kind or another, and the day culminated in a dance in the Womens Institute Hall at Round Hill.

Results of Baseball. 1st game Lakeshore 1, Ryley 3; 2nd game, Dodds 6, Bardo 0; 3rd and final: Dodds 1, Ryley 1.

Basketball results: 1st game Ryley 28, Bardo 6. 2nd game: Ryley 11, [illegible] 20.

The proceeds from the Sports Day swells the treasury of the Athletic Association. Mr. Leo Gudmundson is manager of the ball team and Mr. Elmer Anderson, umpire.

MINISTIK

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES SUNDAY, JUNE 3

Looma Vista, Sunday School	10 a.m.
Public Worship	11 a.m.
South Cooking Lake:
Sunday School	2:30 p.m.
Public Worship	3:00 p.m.
Ministik	8:30 p.m.

The Ministik Young People's held their second meeting of the summer last Tuesday in the Hall. These meetings are open to all young people who can attend. A full program of sports, studies and devotionals is planned. A weiner roast is planned for next Tuesday, June 5th at Kleinschroth's. Softball will be played at the school in the early evening and a weiner roast will follow.

The election fever has yet to hit Ministik. Although there is a good deal of speculation as to what party will form the next government, there have been no signs of active electioneering in the Hall. Do all candidates in the Vegreville riding know how Ministik is going to vote automatically?

There is lots of activity on the land, however. The men are busy putting the crop in, and should be about finished this week. It can't be said that the weather has held operations up this spring. Now for a little moisture.

About the only social news we have been able to glean this week is that Mrs. William Whitford has returned from her visit to Calgary. She spent two weeks with her son Sid and his family there, and reports a quiet, restful time.

A Rummage Sale and dance to be held in Ministik Hall June 8th. Good music and lunch served. Admission 35c. Funds to be set aside to be used to welcome service men home. Bring anything suitable for sale.

The committee has received letters from the following boys thanking the community for parcels and cigarettes received: Douglas George, Sid Rowland, Steele Murdock, Frank Grummett, Ronald Grummett.

$4,000 RAMS

Winnipeg—A pair of Corriedale stud two-shear rams, valued at $4,000 each, passed through Winnipeg a few days ago on Canadian National lines, on the last leg of a long journey. They were placed aboard a Canadian freighter at Wellington, New Zealand, several weeks ago and were consigned to breeders in New York and Ohio states.

The valuable animals, in splendid condition after their long sea voyage, were given special care by the Canadian National Express for the balance of the journey.

HASTINGS LAKE

On Sunday evening, May 27, Winnie Bruce had some friends in to help her celebrate her 17th birthday. A very enjoyable time was spent.

We hear that Gnr. Frank Dunham is now in Germany.

NATIONAL REGISTRATION CONTINUES

The National Registration, commenced in August, 1940, is still in full force and effect, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, stated today.

"The fact is", the Labour Minister said, "that in addition to its use for the military call-up, the National Registration is used for a number of other government purposes. It has been used for tracing people for the Dependents' Allowance Board, for tracing the relatives of those discharged from the Armed Services, and for tracing people in various other ways. Also, it is tied in with certain other Dominion and Provincial regulations, which make its continuance for the present quite necessary."

The Minister pointed out that under the Registration, everyone, 16 years of age and over is required to carry a registration certificate. If the certificate is lost or becomes unreadable, it must be replaced by application to the nearest Post Office. Also, persons who change their address or who marry are required to notify National Registration through the Post Office. Young persons on reaching the age of 16 years are required to register.

The Minister said that some people seem to assume, and to assume erroneously, that because no more men are now being called for military training under the military call-up, the National Registration has been abandoned.

MUTUAL HARVEST ASSISTANCE BETWEEN CANADA AND U.S.A.

A special arrangement between Canada and United States for mutual harvest assistance in the Prairie provinces and the mid-western United States has again been put into operation, it was announced today by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour.

It would be difficult to estimate how many combines will cross the border between the two countries", he said, "as the size of the harvest is yet very uncertain. The arrangement, however, will enable a number of machines with crews to take part in the movement with a minimum of formality when they are needed. A similar arrangement has been in operation during the past few harvesting seasons in order to make the fullest use of farm labour and equipment for wartime harvesting in the two countries."

This year Canadian operators with their crews and equipment may enter United States as early as June 1st. The latest date for the return is September 15th. Later in the summer when Canadian harvesting commences the United States crews and equipment may enter Canada and be permitted to remain until December 31st.

FOR THE DAWN

Security with Freedom!

Your Vote on June 11th can bring lasting security to your work, your home, your family!

Security for your WORK

Here are some of the definite, practical steps taken by the Liberal Government to give security to home and family by assuring well-paid post-war jobs for everyone:

For Veterans — The most generous plan of any United Nation to get returned men started in the type of work each of them chooses. The Liberal Government is determined that every man and woman coming home to Canada shall return to the land of greatest opportunity in the world.

For Workers — About a third of all Canadians depend on exports for their livelihood. Liberal plans provide for increasing our exports 60% in value over those of 1939.

For Farmers — Acting on the belief that all Canadians prosper when farmers do, the Liberal Government has arranged that they can improve their farms and equipment under a new loan plan and has arranged to put a floor under the prices of farm and fishery products.

To stimulate employment for all, the Liberal Government has created a special Department of Reconstruction which is now in operation and which will co-ordinate private and public enterprise.

Security for your HOME

The Liberals believe that the home is the heart of the nation. They aim to give Canadians every possible facility to build and furnish better homes! With Government assistance you can build a home in the country, town or city. This will make jobs for the building trades, and those who make building supplies—and those who manufacture household equipment and furniture.

New Homes for Canadians — The Liberal Government's new $400,000,000 National Housing Act, now on the statute books, enables hundreds of thousands of Canadians to get money at low interest and on long, generous terms to build, renovate or enlarge their own homes. Now that Germany is defeated, plans are already in operation for at least 50,000 dwellings.

Other practical, workable measures for the security of your home are the Liberal Government's laws for Unemployment Insurance and liberal Old Age Pensions.

The Liberals believe in doing what can be done, as soon as it can be done. If returned to power on June 11th, they will carry on and expand the sound, constructive work already started.

Security for your FAMILY

Family Allowances — Starting in July, parents who benefit least from income tax exemptions will receive Family Allowance cheques [illegible] month to help them get better food, clothing, shelter and education for their children so they can grow into healthy, vigorous Canadian citizens. These cheques will amount to between $200,000,000 and $250,000,000 a year. As direct spending power, this will do much to help in achieving the Liberals' objective of full employment.

Health — A National Health Plan will ensure that everybody shall be taken care of while they are sick and the best measures medical science can devise shall be employed to prevent disease.

Despite the efforts of Drew, Bruce, Bracken and other reactionaries, the Liberals are determined that human interests, the needs of men, shall be placed before "business as usual".

The Liberals have faith in Canada, a united country, and in their ability to continue to build, with your support, a more abundant life and greater opportunities for Canadians.

Help build this new order of security with freedom. Protect the social gains already made. Vote for your Liberal candidate on June 11th.

"small business" ISN'T SO SMALL!

Ordinarily one Canadian in every six gainfully employed, earns his livelihood in a "small business." It may be a farm, a store or a lumber-yard; an architect's office or a service station. Taken together, these individual enterprises provide a very substantial part of Canada's total jobs—must continue to do so after the war.

During the years ahead many people who dropped small business for war reasons will want to return to their accustomed or new ways of making a living. Thus old businesses will be revived. Many new ones will be started by returned men and people now in war industries. The commercial banks will do their part to afford assurance that no sound credit requirement need be left unserved in the field of small business.

As such businesses grow, they create additional job openings; that has been the pattern of Canadian enterprises. Most large companies began in a small way. And practically all could name some bank which played a part in their growth by providing the loans they needed to finance their day-to-day operations.

Your bank stands ready to serve businesses, small or large, well established or just starting out. Banks do not initiate such businesses—but they do furnish necessary working capital and many other forms of banking service.

No fewer than 94 out of every hundred establishments in the manufacturing, wholesale, retail and services fields are small, employing less than 15 people. Together they employ 37% of all the workers engaged in these classes of business.

BE SURE TO VOTE—

MONDAY, JUNE 11th is now only a comparitively short time away and on that day Canadians will decide what party or group will be the "government" of Canada for the next four years. With each voter there rests a great privilege and upon each voter there rests a great responsibility, for however easily we of this era in Canadian and British history may have come by the franchise, there have been times when free choice by the individual via the secret ballot was non existent and voters voted pretty much as their economic masters expected them to vote. So perhaps even before an individual considers who and what he or she should vote for, there should be a realization that the right to mark a secret ballot and the assurance that every ballot so marked will be correctly classified and counted, is a privilege and responsibility which one can only suitably acknowledge by actual participation. To forget the privileges of the franchise is the first step in losing them.

In the last Dominion election there were many voters who did not cast their votes, which to say the least, constituted a direct loss to the nation, because if a true expression of public opinion is to be received, all those Canadians who have electoral voices should be heard from on election day. One hundred per cent voting is not to be expected, but previous percentages could be vastly improved. If you have a vote on June 11th, if at all possible, cast it.

In its twenty-seven years of publication, this paper has never believed it wise to advise electors how to vote. It is not that we are afraid to offend this or that person or party, but because we feel that individual voters prefer, or at least should prefer, to do their own political thinking. Moreover, we have always believed, and still do, that a local paper may properly become a beast of burden as regards local matters but that provincial and dominion politics constitute too much dead weight.

Here at Tofield we are practically on the borderline between two constituencies. The dividing line is only a few hundred feet south of the Mercury building, running by the elevators. In the Vegreville constituency there are four candidates in the field: Dr. A. E. Archer (Liberal); Wm. Halina, (Labor Progressive); Anthony Hlynka, (Social Credit and present member); and Michael Tomyn, (C.C.F.) Of the four perhaps Dr. Archer is the only one known to any great extent around here. In the Camrose constituency there are Russel Bowes, (Progressive Conservative); Paul Farnalls, (Liberal); J. Marshall, (Social Credit); and Chester Ronning (C.C.F.)

Every dominion election is important, despite its simplicity, voting is important, but of all dominion elections since confederation, it is doubtful if any election demanded as much careful thought on the part of the electorate as this one. The next few years, certainly the next year or eighteen months will demand the highest degree of statesmanship from all countries if anything like peace and trade and commerce is to come into full play. Every elector should study the main points of each party asking for support and then cast his or her vote according to considered judgment. Be sure to vote.

HOW TO CONTROL HOUSEHOLD INSECTS

Now that heavy blankets and winter clothing are being stored away for the summer, care, forethought, and vigilance must be exercised to prevent damage by moths and carpet beetles. Materials of animal origin, such as wool, fur, hair and feathers, are the special objects of attack by these insects, and should not be left undisturbed for long periods, particularly during the summer, in cupboards, attics, trunks or other receptacles, unless precautions have been taken to protect them. Articles to be stored should be thoroughly brushed and beaten, preferably in strong sunlight, and placed in well-made trunks or chests with tightly fitting lids, or in cotton or paper bags, or cardboard boxes sealed with paper strips. Wrapping clothing in two thicknesses of strong wrapping paper is recommended, provided care is taken to see that the edges of the paper are turned so that moths cannot gain entrance.

One pound of fresh napthalene flakes, or of paradichlorobenzene, scattered among the garments in an ordinary sized trunk assures protection. When using moth-bags, several ounces of one of these chemicals may be enclosed in each bag as an additional protection, but the chief precaution should be to see that there are no tiny holes in the bags. Clothing not protected as above should be examined and carefully brushed at frequent intervals, or, if valuable, such as furs, should be placed in cold storage.

Often the insects will be found issuing from neglected trunks, forgotten pieces of clothing in attics, basements, closets, furniture or developing in collections of lint in floor cracks, and behind baseboards. Infestations may also occur in woolen lint and debris which has collected in the horizontal portions of cold air shafts connected with hot-air furnaces in homes. Adult insects may be killed with a fly spray. Further information on the control of some common species of household insects—moths, flies, fleas, cockroaches, silverfish, ants, and bedbugs—will be found in publication No. 627, a copy of which may be obtained by writing to the Publicity and Extension Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

KINSMEN WALK THE LAST MILE

No weakening of effort, nor letdown of enthusiasm, is apparent in the outstanding War Service Effort of the Kinsmen Clubs—the supplying of milk for British kiddies. Britain's need . . . their need . . . is being met to the very end of the struggle, and, in the early weary days of reconstruction and rehabilitation.

The Kinsmen Club are celebrating the hoped for last months of war by sponsoring a coast-to-coast week in which all their Clubs will participate by organizing money-raising projects such as Tag Days, Carnivals, Bingos, Dances, etc. Thus, in a nation-wide appeal for Britain's sake, during June 9th to 16th, Kinsmen will seek necessary money to send Britain the milk that is needed now more than ever—now that the liberated countries cry for food.

While the BBC announces from England a cut in the ration of powdered milk and rice, German civilians have been gloating to find out that even in the last few days of war for Germany, England has had only one half as much food and drink as these enemies of Freedom have enjoyed. Of course, the British rations were, what has been termed, adequate. The fact remains that during the course of the war Great Britain was rationed more severely than our enemies. Her rationing restrictions continue. For example, we now read of "one and tuppence worth of meat, two ounces of butter, two ounces of tea, and the two pints of milk a week".

It is true that, with the splendid co-operation and response of Canadians, Kinsmen Clubs have shipped 26,217,360 quarts of Milk-for-Britain and have so contributed very substantially in helping to meet wartime deficiencies in the diet of British youngsters. The Kinsmen rightly feel that they must "finish the job" . . . that they must continue to meet the need of these children in England, Scotland and Wales. Milk-for-Britain Week, 1945,—enthusiastically supported as it will be—may, however, prove a climax of Kinsmen Effort . . . of a job well done.

BARDO

Oline Marthea Hagen was born Jan. 5, 1856, near Elverum, Norway. She emigrated to Park River, North Dakota in 1887 and was united in marriage to Ole Hagen, July 9th, 1887. In 1902 she moved with her husband and five children to Haight, Alberta, and in 1906 the family moved to Bardo where she resided ever since. In 1926 she made a trip to the old country to visit her birthplace at the age of 71 years.

Mrs. Hagen took an active interest in church work and the Ladies' Aid. After a short illness, she passed away on Wednesday morning, May 16, 1945.

She is survived by two sons, Martin of Bardo and George of Sexsmith, and one grandchild, Donna Marie. She was predeceased by her husband and three sons, Ingvald, Olaf and Oscar, and one grandchild, Donna [illegible]

Funeral services were held at the Bardo church on May 19, with Rev. Ostrem and Rev. A. Vinge of Camrose officiating. A trio by Mrs. L. Severson, Mrs. L. Foshaug and Muriel Ness was sung, and solos by Muriel Ness and Rev. Vinge. Pallbearers were: Michael Erickson, Albert Haukedahl, Ivar Moen, Axel Kindley, Geo. Hendrickson and Bennie Anderson. Interment took place in the Bardo cemetery. J. E. Stinson, funeral director.

Floral tributes: The Family; Mr. and Mrs. H. Jensen, Mr. and Mrs. N. Sand; Mr. and Mrs. A. Haukedahl and family; Mrs. Helberg and family; Mr. and Mrs. O. Floten and family; Bardo Ladies' Aid; Bardo Congregation; Mr. and Mrs. A. McCauley.

Memorials: To Bethany Sunset Home and The Shepherd: Mr. and Mrs. I. Foshaug and family; Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Pinseth and family; Mr. and Mrs. R. Ross and family; Mr. and Mrs. B. "Hyrden" "The Shepherd", Bardo Ladies' Aid; Bardo Congregation.

We extend our sympathy to the Hagen family in their bereavement.

The Bardo Ladies' Chorus, under the capable direction of Alice Broughton presented their Easter cantata at the Camrose Lutheran church on Sunday, May 20. The Ladies' Aid served dinner to the Chorus and friends from Bardo in the church parlors following the program.

Many from here attended the sessions of the Columbia Mission convention at Armena on Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Hendrickson was hostess to the Bardo W.C.T.U. at her home on Tuesday evening. Local delegates gave their reports on the convention in Edmonton.

Bardo Cemetery Society will hold their annual clean-up day at the cemetery on Wednesday afternoon, June 6th.

Bardo friends motored to the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. John Ness near Camrose on Sunday, to celebrate Mrs. Ness' birthday. A purse of silver was presented to Mrs. Ness. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mrs. P. Lerbekmo, Alice Broughton and Muriel Finseth, local teachers, attended the A.T.A. meeting in Tofield last Saturday

Many from here attended the Norwegian celebration at Ryley on May 17. Rev. Ostrem acted as chairman. Program: Scripture and prayer, Rev Ostrem, Flag drill by the Ryley ladies; Solo, Mrs. E. Mehus; Violin solo, Milton Lillo; Remarks, Dr. J. L. McPherson, Address, Premier Manning; Greetings, Mrs. Manning; Presentation to Ryley Community League by Premier Manning; Four numbers by the Bardo Male Chorus. The Chorus deserved a mention in the Ryley news as we went with a friendly spirit to assist in celebrating Norway's Day of Independence. A collection was taken for the Norwegian Relief Fund. Lunch was served by the Lutheran Ladies' Aid in the Parish Hall following the program. Our thanks to the Ryley ladies for the swell lunch.

The Bardo Male Chorus and Bardo friends want to take this opportunity to express their thanks to the Victory Loan Committee and the Tofield ladies for their hospitality and reception tendered them at the Victory Loan concert and banquet. The Chorus will be glad to sing in Tofield again at some future occasion.

FARMS ARE WHAT YOU MAKE THEM

Far greater advantage could be taken of the land around many farm buildings. Too often, such land is used merely as a site for the house and barns without any thought having been given either to planning the arrangement of these buildings or of the use of the vacant space surrounding them. Some of that space may or may not be used for gardens, lawns, and corrals, but in many cases we find much of it being used as a collecting ground for implements, broken evenere, discarded machinery and numerous other things that accumulate around the farm.

One of the first steps in farmstead improvement is to provide a special place for farm equipment and other necessities. Without a plan, a farm consists of buildings, fences and yards. With a plan it can become a well organized enterprise. Attractive and well arranged farm surroundings do much to foster a spirit of quiet contentment and enhance pride of ownership. Suggestions for planning your own particular farm home surroundings, either in beautifying the home grounds or arranging the farm buildings for greater economy and convenience, may be obtained from the Farmstead Planning Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

RUSSEL J. BOWES
Progressive Conservative Candidate
CAMROSE

Russel J. Bowes, who has farmed for over a quarter century in Alberta, is the Bracken candidate in Camrose riding.

The son of a farmer, he was born at Portage la Prairie, June 18, 1891. He received his education there and started farming with his father. Then he went to British Columbia where he spent four years ranching and in railroad construction.

Bowes was overseas for three and a half years in the Great War and on his return started farming on a Soldiers' Settlement Farm three miles east of Camrose, Alberta. He still resides on this farm which he has improved and to which he has added by buying nearby land.

For fifteen years he was a counciller in the Lloyd George Municipal District. When the district was absorbed into the new enlarged Municipal District of Camrose, Mr. Bowes was the first reeve, which position he still holds.

Active in all community affairs, Bowes is a member of the Masonic and Moose lodges, a member of the Camrose Board of Trade, and was a member of the former Camrose Fair Board. For years he served on the local district school board.

The candidate is married and has two sons and three daughters.

APPOINTMENT, SPECIALIST IN NUTRITION

Hon. D. B. MacMillan announces the appointment of Miss Beryl Joyce Lewis as Specialist in Nutrition for the Department of Agriculture. Miss Lewis is a native of Nova Scotia and a graduate in Home Economics of Mount Allison University, Sackville, New Brunswick. Following graduation from this University she entered the field of Hospital dietetics and was Dietitian in the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax. Miss Lewis was then appointed as Dietitian at Cedarcrest Sanatorium, Hartford, Connecticut, which position she held for five years. At the end of this time she became Dietitian and Housekeeper at Fairview Hospital, Great Barrington, Massachusetts, which position she held for three years.

Miss Lewis is completing her Master of Arts degree at Teachers College, Columbia University in June of this year. She has majored in Nutrition, with particular reference to the community aspects of this important field. As Specialist in Nutrition, Miss Lewis will be responsible for the development of the Nutrition Program under the Women's Division of the Department of Agriculture, and will also be available to assist other Departments and organizations interested in the field of Nutrition.

The Minister stated that Miss Lewis would arrive in Alberta to commence her duties on August 1st.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

Late Blight of Potatoes

In 1847, ninety thousand Irish people set out for Canada. Two thousand died on the way. Many others emigrated to the United States. In an 18-month period (1846-47) relief costs, in Ireland, amounted to nearly forty million dollars, and the relief was far from generous. Suffering in Ireland was appalling.

This unhappy state of affairs was brought about by a fungous disease of potatoes known as "Late Blight." At that time the cause of the disease was unknown and while plant scientists argued, worried and experimented, the Irish people went hungry. Serious losses also were suffered in England and western continental Europe.

Today, we know how to control this disease. Serious damage has been common in central and southern Manitoba for the last three or four years, and local infestations have been recorded in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Therefore, all potato growers should be on the lookout and be prepared to employ measures for control. Line Elevator agents have been provided with a supply of illustrated circulars in which the disease is clearly described and control methods outlined.

Control is comparatively simple and cheap. Ask the local elevator agent for Line Elevators Farm Service Circular No. 8—Summarized from information provided by Dr. J. E. Machacek, Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Winnipeg.

Tofield Air Here Killed In Action

A former member of the Northern Alberta Aero club, Sqdn. Ldr. Jack E. Beirnes, D.F.C., of Edmonton and Tofield, was killed Friday in a flying accident overseas, according to word received.

Ranking among the top RCAF "trainbusters," Sqdn. Ldr. Beirnes was commanding officer of the famed City of Montreal Wildcat squadron. He has completed 2½ operational tours with the RCAF.

His wife, the former Miss Gwendolyn Firth and son, Gordon, reside with her mother, Mrs. W. G. Firth, of Ste. 6, Whitmore apts. Sqdn. Ldr. Beirnes is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beirnes of Tofield.

The flier, who was posted to the Wildcat Typhoon squadron in June, 1944, accounted for 22 Nazi locomotives in sweeps across the continent. He was decorated for his outstanding skill in an attack on a bridge south of Caen on the Orne river.

He was appointed officer commanding the squadron in August, 1944, and completed his second tour in December, when he arrived home for leave. After his leave he rejoined the squadron as its commanding officer.

A younger brother, Donald, was killed overseas with the RCAF in 1942, and another brother, Arthur, recently was discharged from the army.

Mrs. L. H. Wachs of Silvis, Illinois, arrived Monday morning to visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mick O'Brien and Lilian, and also her sisters, Mrs. J. L. McPherson and Mrs. Fred Imler of Tofield, and her brother, Alfred Thornley. She will be here until the end of the month.

The Edith Cavel Rebeccah Lodge met Tuesday evening and conferred a degree on Mrs. Ruby MacPherson, a new member. After their regular meeting they sponsored a shower on Miss Kaye Carr, who is to be married to Mr. Glen Hillered shortly. The shower was open to the public and was very well attended. When Kaye appeared in the doorway, Ted Graftaas and Noah Solberg escorted her to a gaily decorated chair done in pink and white. Then Clara Mae escorted Glen to a chair beside Kaye, but the poor lad had to kneel at Kaye's feet before he was permitted to sit beside her. We will draw a curtain over his willingness to do so or not. The gifts were carried in to Kaye by four members of the Rebeccah Lodge. One gift, a decorated wash tub was filled with presents, and carried in by two of the members, while the other two carried in the remaining gifts. The shower was a grand success. Lunch was served by Lodge members.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingvald Lillo and Mrs. Lillian O'Brien are among the recent visitors to Edmonton.

The Community League is sponsoring the Ryley Sports Day this year. The Committee met Monday evening and decided to hold the Sports Day on June 27th. Several committees were appointed to take charge of the various jobs entailed in a successful Sports Day. Names and Committees will appear in next week's issue.

Mrs. George Black and son David of Vegreville spent the week end in Ryley when Corporal MacQueen MacPherson, Mrs. Black's brother, came home on a 48 hour leave and spent it with his family, Ruby, Greta and Hughie.

Mrs. Bill Parks, nee Lenora Sykes, and daughter Maxine of Halifax, arrived in Ryley Wednesday morning to spend a couple of weeks with her father before going to Vancouver where they will make their future home.

We regret to hear that Mrs. Pete Slind is very poorly and hope that she will soon be feeling better.

Mrs. Bertha Hay, buyer for the J. L. Hay general store, was in Edmonton on Friday combining business with pleasure.

It won't be very long now before the new Eggery will be open to business.

Someone saw in Ryley? Churchill and King holding a caucus with Secretary Eden? ? ?

Last Sunday afternoon the Ryley High School softball and baseball teams were in Tofield playing Tofield teams. The Ryley softball (girls) lost to Tofield 13-7. Ryley High School baseball team won over Tofield 10-5.

WEDDING

FRANCIS—SHUPE

A wedding of widespread interest to Tofield and district took place in the Tofield United Church, which was prettily decorated with spring flowers, on Wednesday afternoon, of Miss Irma Shupe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shupe of Tofield and Mr. Arthur Francis. Rev. D. K. Allen performed the ceremony.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a turquoise blue dressmaker suit, a small white hat with shoulder length veil and a corsage of American Beauty Roses. Her only ornament being a string of pearls, gift of the groom. The matron of honor, Mrs. Louise Lovell, sister of the groom, wore a tailored suit of navy blue, a navy and white sailor hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Mr. Stanley Glover was best man and ushers were Robert Lovell and Earl Francis, nephews of the groom.

Mrs. J. E. Stinson played the wedding marches. During the signing of the register, Mrs. A. Torrie sang "With this Ring."

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held in the garden of the bride's parents, where more than 150 guests were received.

Mrs. Shupe, mother of the bride, received in a fuchsia ensemble with black accessories and wore a corsage of Talisman roses.

The four-tiered wedding cake was flanked on each side with candelabra and pink and white tapers. Rev. Allen proposed the toast to the bride. The couple left later for Banff and Jasper. The bride travelling in her wedding suit with British tan top coat and accessories to match.

United Church News

SUNDAY, 10th JUNE

This day marks the 20th Anniversary of the United Church of Canada. Twenty years ago, the Congregational, Methodist and Presbyterian Churches were united into one. It is the largest Protestant denomination in the Dominion. The past 20 years have been filled with deeds of service for God, for the Church and for the people. Hitherto has the Lord blessed us and helped us, and on this anniversary we begin a crusade for Christ.

Come and hear about this great venture and enlist in the carrying of it through.

Services:

Lakeshore	11:00 a.m.
Ketchamoot	2:00 p.m.
Tofield	7:30 p.m.
Sunday School	11:00 a.m.

Last Sunday Mrs. T. R. Murray gave a report of the Alberta Conference held in Calgary from 22nd to 28th of May. Mrs. Murray was lay representative. The report was well arranged and covered very fully the procedure of the conference. The congregations of Lakeshore, Ketchamoot and Tofield greatly appreciated the address of Mrs. Murray and learned much of the work of this court of our church.

It was with deep sorrow, we heard on Monday morning of the death of Squadron Ldr. Jack Beirnes, D.F.C. This congregation has lost a promising member and this community has lost one who was highly respected, admired and loved by all. Jack was one of the finest types of young manhood, and our sincere, most heartfelt sympathy is extended to his dear wife and little son, to Mr. and Mrs. Beirnes and Arthur, to Mrs. Firth and Pat and all the loved ones.

We cannot think of him as dead,
Who walks with us no more
Along the path of life we tread;
He has but gone before.

Ours are they by an ownership,
Nor time nor death can free,
For God hath given to love to keep,
Its own eternally.

Baseball

The Tofield hard ball team started the season in fine style with their first win against Lakeshore at the Dodds Sports, winning $6.00. The score was 2-1.

The second game was played in Tofield on May 27, Tofield winning 8-3 against Lakeshore.

On May 30th, Tofield met Lakeshore at Mackenzie, winning 12-10. Tofield lost the fourth game, 10-5, playing against Ryley at Tofield. They will meet the Ryley team at Ryley on June 7th.

The players are: Bill Roloff; Kenn Bailey. Bill Mitchell; Bob Lovell; Bob Roloff; Don Bailey; Tony Kallal; Bill Ewanovich; Doug Barnes; Johnny Sirdar; and Earl Ross. Bill Davison is coach and manager.

The Tofield girls started off well too, winning their first game against Ryley, 13-7.

DESCRIBES LONDON ON V-E DAY

The following excerpt is from a letter received by Mr. McCarthy from his sister in London.

". . . and what excitement, with an underlying seriousness. I've seen London flood-lit many times, but never saw it looking so lovely as that night. The Houses of Parliament were the first buildings we saw and I'll always remember the beauty of them. The "Union Jack" was flying from the centre tower, which had been left dark and a light arranged to fall on the flag only, it looked as tho' it had been carved in glass, all the flags on the floodlit building had been treated in the same way. Whoever was responsible for doing it, was a real artist, and too, intended everyone to know they were Our Flags, and not the one Hitler said would be there.

The King and Queen came out on the balcony after midnight, after which we wandered home, stopping at Hyde Park corner to watch the huge bonfire.

COUCH GRASS CONTROL

It has been observed that many farmers use spring tooth harrows to cultivate fields infested with couch grass. If we keep in mind that in a well established stand of couch there is in the neighborhood of four tons of [illegible] just about impossible [illegible] the surface. Also, [illegible] into the soil be[illegible] teeth of har[illegible] one trying to [illegible] above method [illegible] beyond his [illegible]

[illegible] grass starts [illegible] in the field Har[illegible] alters the rootlets [illegible] These rootlets grow [illegible] plants. In several [illegible] whole field is polluted [illegible] thus the efforts to [illegible] land are defeated.

The farmers now to take advantage of this fact Just as soon as the couch grass begins to head out, cut the growth close to the ground, with a mower Put up the grass for hay or burn it This operation should be done quickly Then use a one-way, and cultivate thoroughly The aim is to starve the roots some more. The green blades should not be allowed to manufacture food and store it in the roots

The field needs to be cultivated at, at least, ten day intervals, especially at the beginning. This cultivation must be done during the harvesting and threshing season and right up till hard solid freeze-up

Since the roots contain plant sugar, a rotting action will start and all the roots will die

In the following spring the field should be sown shallow, to barley, the seeding should be on the heavy side. Thus the barley will have a tendency to crowd out any weak plants of couch grass

In the fall thresh the crop, or stook it, and cultivate the soil again, so as to make sure that every couch grass plant is eradicated

CONTROL OF WILD OATS

"My [illegible] all summer [illegible] most of the summer last year, yet this spring wild oats is coming up thick ahead of the wheat" Such is the average comment by most farmers. What is the reason? Here is the answer in part. On May 22, 1945, we picked up 100 kernels of wild oats from the surface of the stubble that was in crop last year It must be kept in mind that we had a very dry spring, therefore the wild oats had an opportunity to 'after-ripen'. On May 23, one hundred kernels of wild oats were planted Here are the results Within fourteen days 50 kernels sprouted What happened to the other 50 kernels? They are dormant in the soil although growing conditions are ideal These dormant wild oats kernels still need to 'after-ripen.'

In trying to summerfallow this land, three problems must be kept in mind 1. The germinable wild oats must be allowed to germinate and grow for at least three weeks 2 The stand of growing wild oats must not be allowed to produce seed 3 The dormant wild oats should be after ripened as much as possible

What type of field work will be most beneficial? Here is a suggestion Delay plowing Cultivate shallow but thoroughly and frequently Do not burn the stubble It will help to prevent soil drifting Probably 'oneway' is the best implement, if properly adjusted

SOLDIERS' REHABILITATION COURSES AT UNIVERSITY

Col E H Strickland has been appointed Director of Rehabilitation Courses for returned soldiers. Hundreds of soldiers have already indicated an intention to study at the University and the University may be forced into a quarter or three-term system to take care of them. By a three-term system, students could enter and begin work in September, January or May. Accomodation and staff are already taxed to the limit and the University faces great difficulties.

Special arrangements are now being made to house the wives of married returned soldiers in the vicinity.

RELAX TRUCKING TRANSIT CONTROLS

Announcing removal of the 35-mile limit on trucking operations and restrictions on retail and wholesale deliveries, Munitions Minister Howe said that screening of gasoline rationing for trucks by oil control will continue Transit control regulations except those requiring permits for milk and cream collections were also removed.

Yearly mileage limitations imposed by gasoline rationing will continue.

Among Prices Board orders rescinded were restrictions on wholesale and retail deliveries, pick-ups and deliveries by laundries and dry cleaners, and the use of vehicles by theatres for advertising purposes. The ban on retail deliveries of less than $1-worth of goods was removed some months ago.

SQDN.-LDR. JACK BEIRNES, D.F.C.—

DURING THE COURSE of a war in which millions of men and women have been engaged, the sense of value upon human life to those observing the conflict from a distance becomes chaotic. We read of hundreds, of thousands, of millions of casualties, and after a momentary shudder of horrified surprise, calmly turn to the next item in the paper or proceed to go about our business. Perhaps it is better so, life could not be lived continuously within the shadow, there must be some sunshine.

But there comes a time, to some soon, to others late, when tragic news concerning the loss of one life strikes harder and with more terrifying effect than the printed report of thousands. This is true not only regarding the immediate family concerned, but equally so with a whole community. The one life lost was the family's, the community's, ours; we sense the loss and suffer accordingly. Unfortunately early this week word was received of the accidental death of Squadron Leader Jack Beirnes, D.F.C. It seemed truly ironic that after doing more than two tours of operation, with many of the trips being particularly hazardous, Jack should fall victim to an accident after, as far as Europe was concerned, guns were silenced and bombs ceased to drop. Jack had gone far in the Air Force and was a very skillful pilot. Long before war broke out he was desirous of becoming a flier and in 1936 was hammering at the gates of the R.A.F. at London, England, asking to be taken on the strength. After returning home via the Panama Canal he returned to London in 1937 or 1938 and again tried to enlist in the R.A.F. He was not of the swashbuckling, destruction for destruction's sake type, but rather flew for the joy of flying. We quite well remember in the early weeks of the war, in commenting upon the enlistments then having taken place, which among whom was his young brother who just then was beginning to feel the majesty of the swagger cane and who later, having transferred from the artillery to the air force was to "fly into the sunset and never return." Regarding these enlistments Jack said, "Don't you think they are a little hasty?" But later when public opinion was more settled, when the danger of German aggression was better understood, when the need for help was realized, Jack was in there pulling his full weight. That he was a man of ability and courage is widely known. On more than one occasion as a skillful pilot he has received special mention and the decoration of Distinguished Flying Cross was an award for bravery and skill. It is with sorrow that we have to write of his death and trust that a kindly Providence will minister to his loved ones.

We wish we did not have to write this and it is in no "holier than thou" spirit in which we do so, but long before the sad news of Monday was received, the thought to write something on this subject had occurred again and again. Jack Beirnes was a local product, we do not know whether he was actually born here but he could not have been very old when he came with his parents. He enlisted early in the war, by virtue of ability and bravery was awarded the D.F.C., was written up and pictured in British and Canadian publications, was particularly skillful in attacking trains carrying war equipment to the enemy and then came home on leave or to stay, no one knows which. He was met by his parents at Edmonton, his wife having met him in the east, and a few days later came on to Tofield where he was again greeted by his parents, but as far as we could see, his parents were the only two people specifically at the station to welcome him back to his home town. We repeat, as far as we could see, there was not even one Tofielder specially there to greet him.

THE WEATHER—

WE HAVE NEVER KNOWN it to fail. We can guess right on a number of things but there are two that have us completely stumped, the weather and elections. There is not much use bothering about the election just now because in any event, the citizens of Canada will decide it to their liking (maybe) on Monday and any statement from us regarding the result now is not going to have much effect on the fortunes of Mr. King, Mr. Bracken, Mr. Coldwell or Mr. Blackmore. But this weather business, that's different. We have a private remedy for "continued dry," all we have to do is to gaze wisely at the horizon and write to the effect it is quite likely to remain dry, and presto, before the ink is tight on the newspaper it has started to rain. This is really a boon to mankind, if you know what we mean. Take Mr. King, Mr. Bracken, Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Blackmore, they will go on eating no doubt whether they get their heart's desire on Monday or not. But take the farmer now, if it doesn't rain, crops won't grow and farmers won't have anything to eat and country editors are likely to lose a few pounds in weight too, Anyway, just now we can't see the barometer and just to bring comfort to the dusty and afflicted we will say that the weather forecast for June is continued warm and dry, which if past experience is any guide, really means the farmers in this area will have plenty of moisture.

MODERN HAY MAKING METHODS

(Experimental Farms News)

High quality hay cannot be produced unless the hay is cut at the proper stage of maturity. When grasses and legumes are cut at the proper stage of maturity they can be cured with a higher percentage of green colour and feed values. Grasses should be cut for hay either just before or when they are in bloom. Sweet clover and alfalfa should be cut when about ten per cent in bloom; and the clovers—red, alsike, and white—should be cut when fifty per cent in bloom, says G. E. DeLong, Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta.

Leaving hay too long in the swath results in excessive drying and bleaching and a loss of the natural green colouring and considerable feeding value. Excessive drying in the swath in the case of legumes results in the shattering of the leaves on the ground which greatly reduces its nutritional value. Much better hay will be produced if it is only wilted in the swath and raked and cured in the windrow or coil before damage from bleaching or leaching occurs.

Rain damage is a problem in hay making on which the farmer has little control. Possibly the best way to reduce this damage is to shorten the time between cutting and storing as much as possible. Modern haying methods and equipment make this possible.

One of the greatest savings which can be made in hay harvesting is that which is possible when hay is tall enough to cut with a binder. A power binder will cut as much hay as about three horse-drawn mowers.

A small rubber-tired tractor equipped with a power take-off cutter bar and pulling a tandem mower will cut a 13 foot swath, and, travelling at normal speed, will cut as much or more acreage than four horse-drawn mowers.

Most of the commercial and home made sweeps developed for cars, trucks and tractors, are larger and will handle more hay in a shorter time than the horse-drawn sweeps in general use. The tractor combined sweep and stacker of the "Jayhawk" type appears to be meeting with general approval. The various types of "overshot" and "pole" and "boom" stackers are all good, and their use makes it possible to erect large, well-built stacks which will reduce damage from weathering in the stack to a minimum.

The advantages of storing hay as cut feed are not fully appreciated by most farmers. The cost of running the hay through a cutting box and blowing it into a barn loft is approximately the same as the cost involved in unloading it with a hay fork or slings. Further advantages of cut feed are that the same space will hold three times as much tonnage of cut feed as loose hay, that there is little or no waste when cut feed is fed, that cut feed can be stored and will keep in good condition for several years. Low cost field storage for cut feed can be provided by building a silo type structure of long poles and woven wire. A combination of good crops and such a field storage structure with the necessary modern sweeps and cutting box makes it possible for four men to put into storage approximately fifty tons of hay per day.

Much of the radium produced in Canada goes into the manufacture of radioactive, or "luminous" paint. A very minute amount of radium will render a very large tonnage of paint radioactive. Radium employed thus is non-recoverable.

Canadian farmers in 1945 will seed about 870,000 fewer acres to wheat than they did in 1944, owing to the wheat surplus now jamming prairie elevators. This acreage will instead be given over to oats, barley and flax.

FARM YOUNG PEOPLE'S WEEK

The advance registration for the 27th Annual Farm Young People's Week, to be held June 7th to 14th, at the University of Alberta, is the heaviest on record. At the present time about 200 have registered, and the expectation is that the attendance figures may reach 300. A feature of the Week this year is the selection of 25 boys and girls from the Wheat Pool sub-districts by the Alberta Wheat Pool. These young people will be in attendance at the Week with their expenses paid by the Pool.

JUST PLAIN SENSE!

The Canadian people have made a magnificent contribution to the common victory in Europe.

The Liberal administration can say with honesty and justice:

This is the Government which has directed Canada's war effort at home and abroad.

This is the Government which during the war worked out a program of full employment and social reform.

These things are now a matter of record and of common knowledge.

On the basis of its record the choice of Prime Minister King's party to form the next Government of Canada is a matter of just plain sense!

Let the Liberal Government finish its work

To The Electors Of The Vegreville Constituency

I am appealing to you for your vote on June 11th, as a supporter of the present Government.

In most respects, our Government has provided strong, efficient leadership in our magnificent war effort. They have directed this huge enterprise with honesty and distinction. They have introduced policies which have meant much to the farmers—90 per cent of the voters of this Constituency live on farms. They have introduced two measures as the beginning of a plan for social security.

Regarding the Family Allowance Act of 1944, every member of the House of Commons, who was present, voted in favor of the Bill. Commencing in July, 1945, cheques which will amount to approximately ONE MILLION DOLLARS ($1,000,000.00) will go to families in this Constituency every year.

This Government has been active making plans for the introduction of two important measures. They are a Health Insurance Bill, and a Bill to extend Old Age Pensions to all; and to lower the age limit. These bills were almost ready to be introduced into Parliament, but it was necessary to have a Provincial-Dominion Conference, before this could be done. I strongly endorse these measures and will give them full support.

The floor level for the price of farm products, which are to be provided for under the Agriculture Prices Support Act, should at all times be high enough to be fair and adequate. The price control regulations and the controls which insure orderly marketing, should be retained as long as necessary. The whole question of the freight rate schedule and the unequal burden born by Canadians in this Province because of freight rates, requires careful study and forceful action.

I have lived in your midst for many years and know your problems. It would be an honor to try to serve you.

Sincerely,

A. E. ARCHER

The W.C.T.U. are serving a lunch in the Parish Hall next Wednesday afternoon, June 13th, 2.30 to 6.00 p.m. Everyone is cordially invited.

Mr and Mrs. Dan Bendiksen and Joan and Mr and Mrs. Oscar Knudslein and Diane, were visitors in Ray and Ethel Scaber's home in Round Hill last Sunday. Fishing and hunting are Dan's and Os are chief hobbies, but they got initiated into a new one last Sunday when they killed two garter snakes.

[illegible] little girls were playing in their daddy's car just outside their kitchen window. So intent were they on their play, that they scarcely noticed a tap on the windshield. Later their parents noticed a sunburst design right in the right hand corner of the windshield and upon looking closer, uncovered a 22 bullet buried in the metal rim of the windshield. Upon questioning the children, the oldest one recalled hearing the noise, but she never thought anything about it. On another occasion a bullet whizzed past the head of a lady in her own yard. And also on still another [illegible] occasion, a bullet winged past the head of a person [illegible] the open space on the land [illegible] by Jennings. These incidents took place practically in town or just outside of town limits, and it would be a terrible and serious thing if someone should lose their life or [illegible] through such carelessness. [illegible] it would be a terrible [illegible] for anyone who would be responsible for such an accident. An Achievement Tea was sponsored by the Double D and Three R clubs on Monday evening in the Oddfellows Hall. The course taken up by the two clubs this year was "Good Grooming." The work done by the girls was judged by Miss Fraser of the Edmonton Extension Department and Miss Wholey, District Home Economics at Camrose.

The highlight of the evening was a Fashion Parade demonstrating the kind of wardrobe girls in the R and Double D should have. The company was composed of all types of wearing apparel from bathing suits to evening gowns. Ribbons were given for prizes [illegible] the winner of the highest marks in each group will get a free [illegible] course at Olds this summer.

Miss Fraser and Miss Wholey each gave an outline of the work undertaken by the club members. It was decided that the course taken next year will be "Home Decoration." The girls of the clubs presented Mrs. Moisey and Mrs. MacPherson each with a fancy china cup and saucer for their help during the past year. A 25c lunch was served by the members after the parade. Prize winners: Verna Gudmundson, 1 first; Glenna Freeman, 2 first and 2 seconds; Greta MacPherson, 1 second and 1 third; Marian Jevning, 1 second; Doreen Goodes, 1 second; Jean Tandberg, 1 first, 1 second, 1 third; Joyce Tandberg, 3 firsts, 1 second; Bernice Anderson, 1 third; Helen Kirkeland, 1 first, 1 second.

BEAVER M.D. MEETING

The M.D. of Beaver Council met in regular session at the district's office at Ryely on Friday, June 8. There were present: Reeve Anderson in the chair, Councillors Giebelhaus, Lashoski, Lucas, Moen, Ovens and Swabey. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. Monthly statement for May was perused and filed.

Communication from the Calgary Power Co. was read expressing regret for recent interruptions in power service. They stated that very high winds caused unavoidable damage to lines, etc.

Communication from the Canada Ingot Iron Co. regarding recent order for a "99M" motor grader. They explained that the Canadian authorities had sanctioned this purchase and that the order had been forwarded on to Washington for final approval. Generally when a purchase was sanctioned by the Canadian authorities, the Washington authorities sanctioned it also.

Letter from War Assets Corporation regarding the district's recent enquiry for a light truck or car. They explained that at the present time they had no such vehicles to sell.

Letter from Dept. of Mun. Affairs regarding the sale of 5 acres to Mr. E. A. Moen. Dept. stated the municipality was not authorized to sell land to a sitting councillor.

Communication from the Viking Fish and Game Association re bounties on magpies. In discussion it was brought out that magpies were becoming an increasing menace. Considerable discussion took place concerning this, the concensus of opinion being that if reliable contacts could be made to receive the magpie legs, council was agreeable to pay a bounty. It was, however, related that previous experience of councils paying bounty for the eradication of pests was not always satisfactory. The matter was finally left over for further consideration.

It was decided to hold Court of Revision at the next council meeting, to be held July 12. This applies to some business assessments and the few farm assessments, but has nothing to do with the complete Municipal assessment now being made.

A number of admissions of ratepayers to hospitals were [illegible].

Communications from the Mothers' Allowance Dept. and the Old Age Pension Dept. were read, and the suggestions contained therein acted upon.

The secretary stated that the minutes of the meeting of the Machinery committee had not yet been approved. He would like a definite understanding as to what arrangements between divisions in regard the use of machinery had been made. It was agreed to adjust work and repair expenses as between divisions up to Dec. 31, 1944. Commencing 1945, a new system by which each division will be charged so much per hour for the use of large units, will come into effect. After considerable discussion the following rates were agreed upon: No. 10, large Letourneau and cat, $6.00 per hour; No. 12, 10-yard Scraper and cat, $4.00 per hour; No. 811, Road Patrol, $4.50 per hour; No. 14, Elevating grader and D7 cat, $[illegible] per hour; No. 7, Cat and blade or bulldozer, $3.00 per hour; D-8 Cat and scraper, $6.00 per hour; No. 20, Patrol, $1.75 per hour.

On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus, the above schedule was officially adopted.

It having been agreed that all large road building units were to be the property of the M.D. as a whole, and for record purposes their use charged against the divisions using them, it was pointed out that Division 7 had expended $1300.00 on the construction of a road for the M.D. of Eagle. This was in connection with an early arrangement by which Division 7 was to come into possession of an elevating grader unit. On the motion of Councillor Ovens it was decided that the $1300 expended by Div. 7 on road for the M.D. of Eagle, be credited back to Div. 7.

Mr. Sam Hamilton of the Adams Machinery Co. interviewed Council regarding renewing order for motor grader. The order was given some long time ago, but failed to pass the Canadian authorities. The new order would receive further consideration. Moved by Coun. Ovens that the necessary papers be signed to reorder a motor grader. Carried.

On the motion of Coun. Moen, Reeve Anderson will investigate a complaint by John C. Klassen, regarding a lease and fencing.

Mr. Moreland interviewed council and he requested a road out from his farm. He said he had been many years without a road and there had been investigations in past years, but no results. Councillor Giebelhaus said that Mr. Moreland's position presented quite a problem for a councillor. There was no road out except to cross a river and there was no bridge. He believed sufficient land should be bought and a road out built. This was agreed upon and at the same time Mr. Moreland agreed to give the M.D. a considerable quantity of gravel.

Moved by Coun. Giebelhaus that we try to obtain a 66-foot strip of land, either from Mrs. Field's quarter or from Mr. R. Kay's quarter, this to be used as a roadway. Carried.

Some discussion took place regarding the amount paid road work employees to operate automobile. On the motion of Coun. Swabey it was decided that 50c per day be paid for each working day for car for each

Calf Club Achievement Day

Achievement Day for both Tofield and McKenzie Calf Clubs was held at Tofield on Friday, June 8th.

Vernon Walker won the Grand Championship of the two clubs, and a cup donated by Happy Holmes. This calf sold to T. Eaton Co. for 36c per pound.

The T. Eaton Co. bought the five top calves, prices ranging from 30c per pound for the championship to 15c for the fifth.

The greatest gain in weight during feeding period was made by the calf fed by Pauline Francis (456 pounds). We believe this is a record.

The calves were placed by Mr. Black and Mr. Mitchell of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Lampitt, a former District Agriculturist and now a local man, placed the judging prizes.

The Championship Class was placed by W. A. Marshall of T. Eaton Co.

Mr. W. A. Moisey, our District Agriculturist, was in charge of arrangements.

The following is a list of the winners, prizes and donors from the McKenzie Club.

WEDDING

LINDGREN—BRAY

A wedding of local interest took place at Sumas, B.C., United Church, when Gladys Lucy Bray of Sardis, B.C., became the bride of Albert Roland Lindgren, formerly of Tofield. The wedding was held on June 8th at 8:00 p.m., the Rev. H. T. Allen, performing the ceremony. The bride was given away by her father, and wore a brocaded satin gown, made with sweetheart neckline, tight bodice, with full skirt entrain. She wore a full length veil of imported Brussels lace, held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of dark red roses. Mrs. Fleming Campbell was matron of honor and senior bridesmaids were Mrs. John Pruden, sister of the groom, and Miss Gwen Bray. Miss Grethyll Bray was junior bridesmaid.

The groom was supported by Mr. Fleming Campbell.

During the signing of the register Miss Evelyn Zink sang "Because."

A reception was held at Athelity hall, those receiving being Mr. and Mrs. J. Bray, parents of the bride and Mrs. John Pruden, sister of the groom. The decorations included a beautiful floral archway and pink and white streamers. Mr. Perry of Chilliwack proposed the toast to the bride, the bridegroom suitably responding.

The happy couple will spend a honeymoon at Victoria and other points on the island and will later take up residence at Chilliwack, B.C.

LIBERALS RETURNED

ALBERTA STRONG FOR S.C.

The general policies adopted by the Liberal government will, after Monday's voting, most likely be continued. Well buttressed by Quebec, the Liberal government were returned to power and will likely have a working majority.

Alberta showed a distinct preference for Social Credit, winning 13 of the 17 seats in the province. This is a gain of 3.

In Vegreville constituency, the sitting Social Credit member, Hlynka, received 6,111; Archer, Liberal, 4,124; Halina, Labor Progressive, 2,921; and Tomyn, C.C.F. 1,342. There are still a few polls to hear from.

In Camrose constituency, Marshall, the sitting S.C. member received 6,471; Ronning, C.C.F., 2,222; Faralls, Liberal, 2,277; Bowes, Progressive-Conservative, 1,720. There are still a few polls to hear from.

A. P. MOAN DIES SUDDENLY

Mr. A. P. Moan of Mannville died suddenly on Wednesday while visiting at the home of one of his sons at Wetaskiwin. He had, the previous day, attended the funeral of Mrs. Moan's brother.

Mr. Moan will be remembered by many Tofielders as being manager of the Co-op store here. He was here about six or seven years, moving to Mannville to take a similar position in 1940. He leaves a loving wife, several sons and daughters, and a number of grandchildren.

Mrs. Eva Kale and daughter [illegible]dith came home last Friday to visit at the home of Eva's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hay. They will be staying till next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Mr. Ingvald Lillo is in the Royal Alexandra hospital where he will be for several weeks, undergoing special treatment. He has not been very well since suffering a slight stroke last fall. We all hope that when he returns he will have fully regained his health.

Mrs. Ralph Hulburt is in the Royal Alex where she underwent an operation on her hip. We all hope that the next couple of months will not seem too long while she is recuperating.

Mrs. Andrew Finseth is expected home from the hospital where she has been the past few days having a thorough check up and undergoing special treatment.

Mrs. Doris Ogrodnick (nee Nord) who was taken to the Royal Alex toward the end of last week is getting along favorably after her appendectomy operation, we are very glad to report, as her condition was considered serious at the time.

Mrs. J. L. Hay and Mrs. Eaton are hostesses this afternoon to the members of the W.M.S. The meeting is being held in the United Church.

The house which is being occupied by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. MacDonald, has had its first two coats of stucco.

The W.C.T.U. tea which was announced for this Wednesday, was postponed to Wednesday, June 20th.

Mrs. Fred Lundin, formerly of Ryley and now of Edmonton, is spending a few days in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helley.

A new addition is being added to the back of the telephone office, in order to make more comfortable living quarters for the chief operator, Mrs. Ruby McPherson and her family.

In spite of the gray skies, everyone is looking more cheerful, as they try to avoid mud puddles and water

"Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." John 1:29.

Modern Theology and thought no longer agree that this is so. They say a person can be saved and have a changed life and heart by church membership, Baptism, doing the "Best you can," and many others, but the Bible teaches one way and that is through Christ Jesus. Allow me to give you a verse of scripture, II Cor. 5:17 "Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Old things are passed away; behold all things are become new."

The old way has always worked where modern theology and thought have always failed.

Take Christ for forgiveness of sin, a changed heart and eternal life.

Mrs. Merrick is visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H. Merrick here.

ELECTRICITY TAKES THE SMALLEST PORTION OF THE COST-OF-LIVING DOLLAR

With the cost-of-living dollar being called upon to go much farther nowadays, it is interesting to note the very small and gradually decreasing portion that is allotted for Electric Service.

This insignificant amount has always been one of the smallest items on the family budget, and while today other prices show no such trend, the average cost of your Residential Electricity is actually 36% below what it was in 1931.

This company is proud of its achievement in having bettered the service to its customers and at the same time lowered its cost.

MINISTIK

UNITED CHURCH
SUNDAY, JUNE 17th

Leoma Vista:
Sunday School	10:00 a.m.
Worship	11:00 a.m.
South Cooking Lake:
Sunday School	2:30 p.m.
Worship	3:00 p.m.
Ministik	8:30 p.m.

The Ministik Young People's meeting last Tuesday was in the form of a weiner roast. Held at Kleinschroth's it was a perfect evening in every way. There was a fastball game at the school first, then the crowd adjourned to where the fire had been built. On the program there was a "Slip Quiz" game, won by Ray Patterson, eats, a sing song, and vespers. Especially good was the large turnout. Let's make it continue that way. Next meeting is a week from this coming Tuesday.

The Rummage Sale and dance in aid of the "Welcome Home" fund for Ministik boys in the services was well attended at the Hall last Friday week. Mrs. Grummett who was in charge of the arrangements and who organized the whole affair deserves a great deal of credit. Mr. Bacheldor was auctioneer and proved quite capable of getting that last bid every time. A tidy sum of around $30 clear was realized for the fund over the evening. With so much enthusiasm and willingness to co-operate, a really worthwhile welcome home for the boys is assured.

STATEMENT OF RUMMAGE SALE AND DANCE

Taken in	$48.65
Expenses	18.65
	$30.00
Donation	1.00
TOTAL PROCEEDS	$31.00

Now that the big election excitement has abated somewhat, all that remains is to wait for the soldier vote and count heads again. All Ministikans did not vote, but we dare say that the proportion that did is as good as anywhere in the country.

Last Thursday week Miss Ruth Whaley, the UPWA demonstrator was at the Hall to show the ladies how to make dress-making forms. Quite a revealing business, we'd say. "Do I really look like that?" one of the ladies was heard to ask as she surveyed her completed model. Since there is still some work to be done on them, the ladies met last Monday at the home of Mrs. A. J. Leach. There will be another meeting this coming Monday at Mrs. Leach's. Any ladies who would like to have a dressmaker's form modelled to fit, are invited to come next Monday. Materials needed:

1 yard of 30" underwear tubing.
1 roll of 1" gummed tape.

A letter has been received by the committee from Keith Williams, expressing appreciation for cigarettes received from the community.

On May 30th the regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kleinschroth, with seven members and four visitors present. The meeting opened with the singing of "Carry On". Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. A report of the dance was given and the proceeds given to the hall board. Delegates for our Farm Young Peoples' Week were chosen. Those attending are Miss Margaret Oliver, Joe Davenport, and Steve Baumgartner. Correspondence was read by the Secretary. Roll call was answered by the name or make of a tractor. Meeting adjourned, social hour of music and a nice lunch brought our evening to a close.

puddles. The long awaited for and prayed for rain is here, and we should all be thankful to God that the crop and garden situation is brighter than it was a few days ago.

The Barn Dance held last Friday night was well attended.

Dan Bendiksen, Oscar Knudslien, Freddy Johnson, Elmer and Stanley Anderson and Ed Chappel motored to Boyne Lake last Friday to fish. They returned Sunday night with quite a few fish which they shared with other folks who are fond of fish.

Oscar Johnson who is serving in the Royal Canadian Navy, was married in Vancouver a week ago last Saturday. Martin Dahl was best man and the wedding reception was held in the Mans Dahl home in Vancouver.

Oscar Knudslien is ill with pneumonia. Here's hoping for a speedy recovery.

Merle Hillerud was married in Vancouver last Saturday evening. More particulars later.

Oscar Johnson came home for a few days leave last Friday evening. He left again on Monday for Vancouver.

TOWN COUNCIL

Met Monday, June 4th, 1945, all members present.

Approved minutes of last meeting. Communications:

Alberta Assessment Committee advising that they would hear the appeal of Alberta Wheat Pool on their dwelling in Tofield and would be at the Town Hall on Thursday, June 7 at 3:00 p.m.

Calgary Power Co. Ltd., apologizing for recent interruptions due to high wind in Wetaskiwin District.

Union of Alberta Municipalities advising that their convention would be held in Calgary on June 28th and 29th. Advice was also in hand that the Refresher Course put on by the Dept. of Extension for Secretary-Treasurers, would be held on the 20, 21, and 22nd. The Secretary Treasurer was authorised to attend the Refresher course in Edmonton.

Some discussion took place as to programme of putting in cement and plank sidewalks and tenders to be advertised later in the month.

Lots 33-35-36-37 and 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, Block 5, Plan 9200S were sold to H. M. Bennett for $100.00.

Lot 8, Block 18, Plan 3999 AC was sold to N. E. Scott for $25.00.

Lot 12, Block 21, Plan 3999 AC was sold to Ed. Hicks for $25.00 with a stipulation that the brush be kept cut at all times to a distance of 10 feet, North and West from the S.E. Corner of the lot.

Lot 21, Block 6, Plan 9200 S was sold to Mrs. Annie Gerzanich for $25.

May statement was approved and accounts passed for payment.

Lot 10, Block 10, Plan 9200 S was the subject of some comment and the Calgary Brewing Co. Ltd., to be consulted with a view to selling it to them.

The laid down cost of a car of gravel was to be obtained from the Department of Public Works.

Meeting adjourned.

M.D. BEAVER MEETING

outfit, employee to pay for own gas, oil and repairs.

Communication from Mr. Larson of Poe regarding extra allowance. Secretary was instructed to write Mr. Larson and suggest that he follow the advice of Dr. McPherson.

A representative of the Western Steel Manufacturing Co. interviewed Council regarding the purchase of steel culverts. As council had recently ordered a carload of steel culverts, no business was done.

The minutes of the Agricultural Service board meeting were read and formally accepted by council.

The question of a conveyance for the newly appointed weed supervisor again came up for discussion and on the motion of Counciller Ovens, the reeve and secretary were authorized to purchase a half ton truck.

The sale of the Municipal Office Bldg. at Tofield came up for consideration. Offers had been received from W. Worton of $1050, payable in 3 yearly payments of $350. Also an offer from J. E. Stinson of $900 cash. Mr. Worton stated that he wished to withdraw his offer and Council did not consider the offer of Mr. Stinson large enough to warrant acceptance.

First and second reading of a bylaw covering the sale of lot 14, block 3, Kingman, to Rosa Wolters, was given.

On the motion of Coun. Ovens the offer of N. Anhill to purchase the N.E. 30-48-17 for a total price of $2000 was not accepted. Mr. Anhill requested extended terms.

Adjournment for supper.

Reconvening:

On the motion of Coun. Lucas, M. Pinseth will receive $6.00 per day for annual assessment, but no mileage.

It was decided to hold the first meeting of the recently appointed building committee on Thursday, June 14 at Ryley. The committee was comprised of Reeve Anderson, Coun. Moen and Ovens.

First and second reading of a bylaw authorizing the borrowing of $10,000 if necessary, was given.

It was announced that the Provincial gov't. intended gravelling highway no. 14 from South Cooking Lake east to Bruce. On the motion of Coun. Moen it was decided to request the govt. to continue the gravelling project from South Cooking Lake into Edmonton. Also if the govt. is contemplating building a new road coming east, that they follow the railroad.

On the motion of Coun. Lucas a number of accounts were formally passed for payment.

To complete previous business, two by-laws were given the third reading.

On the motion of Councillor Lucas the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting is scheduled for Friday, July 13.

PROVINCIAL STAMP DAY ON JUNE 29th

One of the things that is causing concern to the National War Finance Committee of Canada is the attitude which seems to be prevalent throughout the Dominion with regard to any further financing due to the termination of hostilities in Europe. The prevailing opinion seems to be that now that the war in Europe is over that no more money will be required to get Canada back to a normal basis. Nothing could be further from the truth. There is a tremendous amount of work to be done. The war in the East has yet to be won. The young men and the young women of Canada have to be brought home and rehabilitated. The manufacturing concerns which have been devoting all their time and energy in war production have to be reconverted to peace time requirements. All this requires a tremendous amount of money.

On Friday, June 29th a provincial wide Stamp Day is to be held and it is the duty of every citizen of this Province to show that they still retain their sense of responsibility by buying War Savings Stamps through their local merchants on that date.

Since the beginning of the war, the cost of living has risen in Canada about 18 per cent, as compared to 60 per cent in World War I.

A full platoon of Chinese soldiers, most of them Canadian-born, have just finished basic training in Canada, and are eager to get into the fight against Japan.

HAVE YOU REGISTERED YOUR CHILDREN FOR FAMILY ALLOWANCES?

1,200,000 FAMILIES have already registered for Family Allowances. Approximately 100,000 families who are entitled to register and who will benefit, have not yet registered.

Family Allowances cheques will be mailed in July.

If you want to receive your first cheque, register now. If you delay your registration any longer, it may not be possible to deal with your application in time to send you the first cheque.

If you have children under 16 and if your income is under $3,000 a year, you will benefit from Family Allowances. If you have not registered, and intend to do so, please act at once! Family Allowances Registration forms have been mailed to every family. They can be obtained at the nearest post office or by writing to the Regional Director of Family Allowances in the capital of your province.

FAMILY ALLOWANCES AND INCOME TAX

When the Family Allowances Act was passed, Parliament approved the principle that there should be no duplication of benefits by way of Family Allowances and Income Tax credits for the same child.

Family Allowances cheques will be paid in full every month. But for the last six months of 1945 an adjustment will be made to avoid duplication of benefits. The table below shows the effect of this adjustment and will enable taxpayers to determine the extent to which they will benefit from Family Allowances.

TABLE SHOWING EFFECT OF ADJUSTMENT FOR 1945

NOTE:—This table applies to married persons and others having the status of married persons for income tax purposes. For the relatively small number of single persons supporting children and not having married status for income tax purposes, and for members of the Armed Forces, special tables can be obtained from the Regional Director of Family Allowances in each provincial capital.

The BENEFITS: The Family Allowances Act was passed to help equalize opportunities for all children. The monthly allowances will assist in providing medical, dental and nursing services, better food, better clothing and shelter.

Family Allowances are additional to dependents' allowances for servicemen's families and military pensions.

Furthermore, Family Allowances are NOT taxable. You do not add these monthly payments to your total income when computing your income tax.

In the column at left is an explanation of the relationship between Family Allowances and Income Tax deductions for children. From the table given you can determine quickly the extent to which you will benefit.

REGISTER NOW!

If you intend to apply for Family Allowances but have not already done so, please act at once—in the interests of your children. Remember, the first cheques will be mailed in July, but only to those who have registered and are eligible to receive Family Allowances.

SCALE OF MONTHLY ALLOWANCES FOR THE FIRST FOUR CHILDREN

For each child
Under 6	$5.00
From 6 to 9 (inclusive)	6.00
From 10 to 12 (inclusive)	7.00
From 13 to 15 (inclusive)	8.00

Where there are more than four children under 16 in the family, the monthly allowance for each child after the fourth will be reduced in accordance with the provisions of the Family Allowances Act.

N.B. TENNIS FANS

No shortage of tennis balls for the 1945 season is anticipated, the Prices Board assures. 1945 tennis balls, made from reclaimed rubber, will be about 90 per cent as efficient as pre-war variety. Tennis ball cans will still be few, though 1945's supply has already been converted to containers for blockbuster bomb fuses.

ALBERTA FEDERATION STUDIES BEEF MARKETING

Calgary, June 12—At a meeting of the Board of Directors, Alberta Federation of Agriculture, in Calgary on June 8, a very full discussion of the beef cattle marketing situation took place, and a resolution was passed asking the Canadian Federation of Agriculture to present their views and requests to the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Last autumn's experience was that large numbers of cattle were marketed, causing a congestion at the yards and plants of our terminal markets, and, as a result, the producers were forced to accept depressed prices for their beef and, in many cases, were exposed to shrinkage and yardage charges.

There is every indication that a similar condition will arise this coming fall, and the producers feel that steps should now be taken to meet such an emergency should it develop.

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture strongly recommends that the Dominion Department of Agriculture, through the Canadian Meat Board or a special export board, take immediate steps to facilitate the orderly export of surplus beef cattle to the United States. Such a movement would relieve congestion on our marketing and processing facilities and would again establish contacts with the American markets.

It is not their wish that these cattle should flood the United States market; nor should they be sold for at prices out of line with our present ceiling price for beef. It is not the intention of the western producers to shirk their responsibilities in filling the present wartime commitments and contracts made with the United Kingdom, but such obligations should not be met at the expense of the livestock producers, nor should their position on the United States market be jeopardized.

CANADIAN APPLE FIRST HOME TOUCH

The first thing that greets an invalided Canadian soldier, sailor or airman as he comes aboard the Canadian hospital ship "Lady Nelson" to commence his journey home from overseas is a nice shiny Canadian apple, stated Chief Steward Robert Buckles of Halifax, N.S., a supply being always available for this purpose.

"It's the first touch of home and their eyes light up as the apples are handed to them," continued Mr. Buckles. "Ice cream is also available and we endeavour to supply them with whatever they want in the line of food."

The "Lady Nelson" a former queen of the Canadian National Steamships West Indies Fleet, is manned by officers and crew of the company, who operate the ship for the Canadian Government.

"Here comes our cheque Mummy!"

All over Canada, in cities, towns, villages and on farms, hundreds of thousands of men and women watch for the postman to bring dependents' allowance cheques as other people look for pay-day. They are people of all ages whose breadwinners are away on active service. They include returned men not yet back in civil life.

And soon there will be hundreds of thousands more back from the war. They will receive cheques to help them buy civilian clothes, to go to college, to get technical or vocational training, to start in business for themselves, or to set up as farmers or fishermen.

The banks have to be prepared to cash all official cheques for these and a dozen other purposes—and to do so anywhere in Canada without charge. In fact, the banks supply Canada with the nationwide machinery to facilitate a grateful country's plans for restoring service men and women to civilian life.

This is a tremendous task. It will entail a vast amount of bookkeeping. But you can be sure that your banks will take it in their stride without impairing regular banking service.

MOBILE X-RAY UNIT PASSES 110,000 MARK

A farmer's wife from near Macleod had the distinction of being the 110,000th person to be x-rayed by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association's mobile chest X-ray units at 10:30 a.m. on May 31st.

Totals to May 31st are as follows:

Number x-rayed	110,127
Probable tuberculosis:
Active	307
Inactive	1,[illegible]
Other abnormalities	2,[illegible]

Other abnormalities include just about every condition to be found in the chest. Evidences of pleurisy, rib fractures, enlarged glands, etc., have been found, as well as heart conditions of various kinds, tumors, abscesses, silicosis, scoliosis and many other abnormal conditions.

A large number of the active cases found early in the campaign have already completed their cures at the sanatorium and have returned to their homes.

The Alberta department of health operates the two units, which were bought by the A.T.A. and local Seal committees out of the proceeds of the Christmas Seal campaigns.

Another Election

The method used in the election of Alberta Wheat Pool delegates ordinarily provides that one-half of the total number of sub-districts shall be elected each year. Due to the fact that there has been a rearrangement of the boundaries of the sub-districts, seventy new delegates will have to be elected this year. The 35 delegates in the odd-numbered sub-districts will be elected for two-year terms and the 35 in the even-numbered sub-districts for one-year terms.

Nomination blanks have been forwarded to each member of the Wheat Pool together with a list of members in the sub-district; also full instructions as to the method of nomination. Nominations must be in the Alberta Wheat Pool office, Calgary, by 5 o'clock on the afternoon of June 30th, 1945.

It is important that all Pool members should interest themselves in this matter. Any ten members can nominate a candidate for the office of delegate.

PETER OLSEN SLIND

On June 19th, 1945, Mr. Peter Olsen Slind of Ryley, passed away in Edmonton at the age of 75 years, 8 months. He is survived by his wife, one foster son, Donald Robertson of Ottawa, Ont., one sister, Mrs. Jennie Solem of Minnesota, two brothers and two sisters in Norway. Funeral service will be held from the Lutheran Church, Ryley, at 2 p.m., Thursday, June 21. Rev. G. Ostrem will conduct the service and interment take place in the local cemetery. J. E. Stinson, funeral director, Tofield.

BASEBALL

On Sunday, June 17th, before a good sized crowd, Tofield split a double header with Lakeshore. Tofield won the first game against the Lakeshore Juniors, 6-4.

In the second game, Tofield was severely defeated by the score of 18-3. At the end of the second inning Tofield had a two run lead, but Lakeshore laid down such a barrage that they were able to run the final score up to 18-3.

On Monday, June 18th, Ryley and Tofield met at the Tofield diamond, Tofield winning the tussle by a score of 6-2.

The boys, all of whom are still quite young, appreciate the attendance of the general public at the ball games. It gives them encouragement in endeavoring to maintain the good reputation of the town as a sporting centre.

Clerk Of The Kirk Session

An interesting letter was received by Mr. A. J. H. McCauley this week. The letter was addressed to "Clerk of the Kirk Session," and was from an ordained minister of the Church of Scotland, and who in October 1915 was born quite close to Tofield. The writer, Charles Armour, was taken to Scotland by his father in 1922, his mother having died here in 1921. Quite likely a number of residents will remember this family and will be interested to know that Charles is occupying a very honorable position in life. Here are extracts from the letter:

Santa Maria de Oro 44,
Temperley, F.C. Sud,
Argentina.
29th May, 1945.

Mr. A. J. H. McCauley,
Clerk of the Session, Tofield,
Alberta, Canada.
Dear Mr. McCauley,

". . . Perhaps I can best begin by saying who I am. I am Charles Armour, an ordained minister of the Church of Scotland, who has worked for six years as one of the Assistants in the Presbyterian Church in Buenos Aires, Argentina, having been ordained in St. Gile's Cathedral, Edinburgh, Scotland, in April 1939. In October 1915, I was born in Tofield where my father farmed Lakeview Farm until 1921, when, on my Mother's death, he left there, coming home to Scotland in 1922, where my brothers and I received all our education. Although I have not had time to consult with my Father on the matter, I should think that it would be in your church that I was baptized, and it is in the cemetery of Tofield that my Mother is buried. I still have aunts and many cousins living in Edmonton, and my youngest brother visited them in 1942; I am not sure if he visited Tofield also."

". . . I would be interested to know about your church and also to know something about Tofield. I hope that you have obtained a suitable minister for your charge, and that God blesses you all richly in your work for Him in that corner of His vineyard. Before coming out here, and before the war complicated plans for living so much, I had hoped to return to Scotland via the United States and Canada. Perhaps I shall still be able to do that, and perhaps I shall return to my native town some day, and perhaps even have the pleasure of preaching or at least worshipping in the first Church I ever attended. I fear my little boyhood memory of it is of two young boys working very hard blowing the bellows for the organ . . . or would that have been in the church in Edmonton? I am very vague about so long ago."

". . . When I was quite a small boy in Scotland I was visited by Mr. Hall who used to farm the land near to Lakeview, if I remember rightly, and I can remember his being very good to us when we were very small children. I think it is his aunt who owns a farm in Scotland which is farmed by an uncle of mine. If he should still be about Tofield would you give him my greetings and perhaps mention this series of coincidences which has impressed me so much, and caused me to take up your time with this rather long and perhaps strange and unexpected letter. Perhaps it may even be that you or some of your Kirk Session knew my family. In the end of the day the world is not very big!"

". . . My work in this country is mainly in English, but I also have a small Spanish speaking congregation, and have been for some years an official of the Confederation of Evangelical Church of the River Plate. The question of religious liberty is an urgent one in these parts in these days."

With sincere Christian Greetings,
Yours sincerely,
Charles Armour.

Sports Days Are Here Again

TOFIELD SPORTS JULY 2ND

July 1st this year comes on Sunday and Tofield's Sports and Celebration day will be held on Monday, July 2nd. It is the Midsummer holiday of the year, Canada's birthday, and the day when working cares are cast aside and everyone turns out to watch the ball games, play a few of the side stalls and most likely attend the big dance at night. Hot dogs and all the eats the law allows, which is plenty, will be available, and no matter whether you like your drinks hot or cold, you can be pleased, for there will be an abundance of hot coffee and cold lemonade. July 2nd is going to be a big day at Tofield, come on in. An added attraction this year is a real live Tofield band, and they play real well too. Be sure to hear it.

RYLEY SPORTS, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 27

Ryley is all pepped up over the coming Sports Day, Wednesday, June 27th. Everything that can be done to make the day a real success is being done and there will be few dull moments in Ryley that day. The usual baseball and softball tournaments are arranged for, together with athletic events of many kinds. The dance at night of course will be a fitting wind-up to a day of pleasure, and all in all, it will be fun being in Ryley on that day.

Bardo Lutheran Church Fiftieth Anniversary

The Bardo Lutheran Congregation south of Tofield, Alta., will commemorate its Fiftieth Anniversary in a meeting June 29, to July 1st, inclusive. (Last summer the community celebrated its 50th anniversary by an immense Old Timer's picnic.)

The congregation was founded in 1895 by the Rev. B. Anderson and is the first congregation of Canada District of the N.L.C.A. to observe a Golden Jubilee.

Visiting speakers will include the former pastors: A. T. Hjortaas of Macrorie, Sask., O. K. Blomlie, Tacoma, Wash., A. M. Vinge, of Camrose, Alta; as well as Dr. H. N. Ronning of Valhalla, Alta., whose home was in Bardo several years, Rev. M. S. Johnson of Edmonton, Missionary Gerhard Ostrem of Colombia, South America, and Rev. Benjamin Ostrem of Rothsay, Minn.

The Norwegian Lutheran Church of America will be represented by the Executive secretary, Dr. A. J. Bergsaker, Minneapolis, Minn.

The theme: "BUILDING THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, PAST, PRESENT and FUTURE".

Music will be furnished by the Bardo Male Chorus, the Ladies' Chorus, and also a joint massed choir. Music will also be contributed by the Grue Brothers of Armena, and from Camrose Lutheran College from Kingman, Ryley and Viking.

Meals will be served in the Church basement by the Ladies' Aid, and visitors will be billeted in the various homes.

In connection with the [illegible] anniversary of the church, a printed program containing a historical sketch of the Bardo Lutheran Church and affiliated organizations, has been prepared. It was written by Mrs. Geo. Hendrickson, daughter of the late P. B. Anderson, for many years a well known figure of the Bardo community and a grand-daughter of the late Rev. Bersvend Anderson, first minister of the Bardo Lutheran Church.

PRESENTATION MADE TO CONS. WOODS

About fifty persons assembled at the Variety Theatre on Friday evening, June 8th, to say farewell to Cons. Woods, who was due to leave shortly for Rocky Mountain House.

Mr. Geo. Holmes was Master of Ceremonies and presided at the piano during the community singing.

Mr. Bigland gave a short address and presented Cons. Woods with a pen and pencil set, together with a purse of money. Constable Wood suitably responded.

The evening concluded with an enjoyable lunch.

—V—

Mrs. Tuner and son of Edmonton spent the week end at the A. W. Holmes home.

Cpl. Sid Worton left Tuesday for Vancouver after spending his leave in Tofield and Camrose.

United Church News

As I write my last Church notice to the "Mercury", I am deeply conscious of the many favors Mr. Worton has extended to me. Through this medium, he and his staff have been exceedingly generous and kindly in giving space to the Church, in advertising its services and its many other events. I wish to express my sincere appreciation and thank him for all these kindnesses.

On Sunday, 24th of June, I come to the close of a 12-year pastorate in Tofield, Ketchamoot and Lakeshore. These have been happy years for Mrs. Allan, myself and family. I have enjoyed ministering to such fine, sympathetic and appreciative people.

Only the real fruits of a ministry are known to God.

But your increased interest in the Church, in spiritual things, in the growth and development of the Sunday School, has been encouraging and helpful. Again and again many have spoken of the inspiration and good cheer the preaching of the gospel has brought them. May the future of your lives be bright with moral and spiritual achievement.

Mrs. Allan has played an important part in my ministry and her missionary zeal has deepened the missionary interest of our congregation.

So many have said, "we will miss you"—that's exactly how we feel also—"we will miss you."

We have sought to take our share in many other interests in the community and rejoice indeed, we were able to help in the welfare of the district.

Mrs Allan and I [illegible] all for being so [illegible] and kind during our stay [illegible] Tofield and district [illegible] always have a treasured place [illegible] and may your community [illegible] crown your [illegible] endeavours.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES SUNDAY, JUNE 24

Looma Vista:
Sunday School 10:00 a.m.
Worship 11:00 a.m.
Hastings Lake 3:00 p.m.
Ministik 8:30 p.m.

The Ministik Young People's will meet next Tuesday evening. There will be ball at the school first, and teh meeting will follow at the Hall. All young people who can come are very welcome.

Last Friday week the Juniors held a dance at the Hall in aid of the Hall Board. A good turnout was reported and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Next Friday, June 29th, the National Film Board will again show pictures at the Hall. Something special in the way of a feature is expected. A dance will follow as usual.

We are glad to report that Mr. Frank Swabey, who has been in hospital with a case of bronchial pneumonia, is doing very nicely. In fact, by the time this reaches you, he may be out of the hospital. Mrs. Swabey and young son Lawrence, have been in the city staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence.

Yesterday was a most important day for the Hennesseys. Miss Lorna Hennessey was among the graduating class at the Leduc consolidated High School. Mr. and Mrs Hennessey planned to be present at the ceremonies. Congratulations Lorna, and best wishes.

Miss Margaret Oliver, Steve Baumgartner, and Joe Davenport, are back home after the University Farm Young People's Week. They report an interesting and instructive time. Several other Ministik young people went in for the final day of the week.

Mr. Baumgartner and Steve are busy working overtime these days doing a bit of breaking.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leach were hosts at a large birthday party last Sunday for their twin grandchildren, Norma and Norman Smith of Lindbrook. The twins were eight years old on Friday. A large party of Uncles and Aunts, sisters, cousins and friends gathered to make it a real houseful. Everything was eaten except the candles on the cake, and we understand that one young fellow tried them, too.

Mr. Fred Singer has left the district for a few weeks on business.

DODDS

In a recent game of baseball on the diamond here, Dodds beat Round Hill 14-7. At a game in Ryley on Friday evening, Bardo beat Ryley 6-0.

At a softball game between Standard School and Amisk Creek-Ingram team, the score was 3-0 in favor of Standard.

Miss Borghild Sundlie was the guest of honor recently at a party held at the Dodds Coal Mine residence. About forty persons attended and presented Miss Sundlie with a purse of money. She is leaving shortly to spend the summer at Lake Louise.

Mr. Alf Oas broke his shoulder whilst helping remove a conveyer at the Dodds Coal Mine last week and will be unable to work for a time.

At the Dominion Election on June 11, Dodds poll backed Chester Ronning, CCF candidate. Voting was: Ronning 34; Marshall 9; Bowes 3; Farnalls 1. Although not elected, Sqdn.-Ldr. Ronning made a good showing, coming in second place.

Across the Dominion the CCF made a good showing in the number of individual votes cast for the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, voters are gradually coming over to the CCF way of thinking, a slow, sure and thorough foundation is being built.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Voegtlin are holidaying in Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Boettiger returned home recently after a month's holiday in the States.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brenneman and family of Montana, U.S.A. are visiting relatives here.

German measles have broken out in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lauber. Those having it are quarantined for the time being.

Bishop John Stauffer dozed for a second or two when passing the Blue Willow Store, whilst driving his car to Edmonton last Friday. The car ran into the ditch, hit a telephone pole and overturned. Mrs. Stauffer and Miss Verna Stauffer were slightly injured, but Mr. Stauffer was unhurt. The car was badly damaged. Lucky for them the accident was no worse.

Miss Borhild Sundlie was hostess to the Dodds Red Cross at the Dodds Coal Mine residence last Thursday. The collection including lunch, mystery parcel and fines amounted to $18.22. The Red Cross sent in 12 sand Army girls' suits in their last assignment to Edmonton. The Society received a letter from Mrs. Proctor congratulating them on the excellent work put into these suits. The next meeting will take the form of a quilting party at the home of Mrs. Beitz on Thursday, July 12.

Mrs. Ed. Wacks of Silvis, Illinois, U.S.A., and Mrs. Jim Thorsley and Robert of Ryley, were Monday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Thorsley.

Mr. Alfred Thorsley is working in Ryley building an addition to the telephone office living quarters, now occupied by Mrs. McQueen McPherson and family.

Word has come to hand that Standard School came first on the list of schools taking part in the school track meet held in Tofield last Friday, gaining over 200 points. A detailed report of these points will be given later when particulars have been received. Congratulations, Standard School.

Mr. Peter Rell returned home recently much improved in health, after a prolonged stay in the Royal Alex hospital, Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Owen and Gerald have moved from the old McKenzie farm on to the Torger Reinart farm, which they recently bought. We wish them every happiness in their new home.

GRADUATE NURSES STILL NEEDED

The situation in regard to the supply of graduate nurses and hospital attendants is still serious practically all across Canada, according to Mrs. Rex Eaton, Associate Director of National Selective Service. However, Selective Service, in co-operation with the nurses' associations, has met with some success in meeting the situation particularly through the establishment of joint committees of the nurses' associations and Selective Service.

The situation now appears to be the most difficult in the Prairie Provinces.

"Literally hundreds of graduate nurses", Mrs. Eaton stated today, are still required. Through appeals to nurses to accept new assignments immediately a former assignment has ended, through the nurses staggering their vacations, and through nurses declining less essential requirements, a good deal of the deficiency has been made up."

Mrs. Eaton also stated that the hospitals are now somewhat better provided with workers, other than graduate nurses, who are so necessary for hospital operation.

THERE'S ENOUGH IN THE SUGAR BOWL...

If we all share equally

We Canadians, together with the citizens of the United States and Great Britain, will eat less sugar during the balance of 1945.

To meet our own needs and the urgent requirements of our Allies and the liberated countries, our share of the reduction must total nearly 200,000,000 pounds of sugar during the rest of the year.

To assure fair distribution of what is left, the sugar ration is to be cut by five pounds during the next seven months by reducing the monthly allotment to one pound in June, July, August, October and December. In September and November, the allowance will remain unchanged at two pounds.

The ten pound sugar allotment for home canning, represented by twenty extra preserves coupons, remains unchanged. Two regular preserves coupons will continue to become valid each month.

ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS ABOUT SUGAR

Q. How does Canada get its share of world sugar supplies?

A. World stocks are pooled by the Combined Food Board of the United Nations which allots sugar to Canada, United States and Great Britain on a uniform per capita basis.

Q. Where does the rest of the world sugar supply go?

A. To other claimants, including liberated areas, European neutrals, Russia, the Middle East, New Zealand and other sugar-importing countries. Approximately one-half of this total is destined for liberated areas.

Q. Is there less sugar in the world today?

A. Yes. Because needs are up and production is down, world sugar stocks reached a new low at the beginning of 1945. By the end of the year, they will be down again, this time to a dangerous minimum.

TO OTHER COUNTRIES
WORLD SUGAR STOCKS
4,300,000 TONS
3,000,000 TONS
JAN 1945
DEC 1945

Q. Why is there more demand for sugar?

A. The rising demand largely reflects the needs of liberated areas.

Q. Why is there less production?

A. World sugar output is lower for these reasons:

1. Enemy occupation of some sources such as Java and the Philippines. Java, of course, is still in Japanese hands and although the Philippines are liberated, production is not expected to be restored until late in 1946.
2. Other export countries have experienced serious shortages of labour and fertilizer.
3. Record drought conditions and hurricanes have also cut into production in the important West Indian area.

INDUSTRIAL AND QUOTA USERS WILL ALSO GET LESS

Effective July 1, 1945, sugar made available to industrial users, such as bakers, biscuit and breakfast cereal manufacturers, makers of soft drinks, confectionery and candy, and jam and wine manufacturers, will again be reduced.

A further cut is also being made in the allotment to quota users, such as public eating places, while similar reductions are being made by the Armed Forces in the sugar quotas for service personnel.

LILAC TIME—

WE SUPPOSE THAT if you searched an encyclopaedia and looked up the word lilac, much information concerning this June visitor could easily be obtained. To those people intensely interested in botany in general, or the lilac species in particular, knowledge of the life cycle, past history and future possibilities of this magnificent and gorgeous June wonder, would no doubt be very satisfying. But like many other things, book knowledge, however profound and accurate, so often falls short of actual experience, and for sheer satisfaction concerning this beautiful flower, burying one's nose in a cluster of blooms, excites more enthusiasm and admiration than the most learned article concerning it ever written.

When the snows of late winter and early spring have all gone, and the ever increasing warmth of May sunshine brings forth early foliage, this is but a fore-runner to the luxuriant growth of June, the one month in the year on these western prairies when green verdure is really heart satisfying. It is when the background of green foliage and the carpet of green vegetation is at its best, the familiar purple-hued flowers of the lilac bushes make their appearance. Giving off a perfume unsurpassed by nature, and blooming with a luxuriance beautiful to behold, surely the lilac bush was part of the summer splendor which enthused the poet and caused him to exclaim "What is so rare as a day in June."

There was a time when prairie town and farm homes were devoid of trees, shrubbery, and fragrant bloom. These were days of toil and struggle during which the men and women of other lands spaded in and commenced the task of home building, but now among the very many developments toward a more luxuriant standard of living can be classed the thousands of beautiful homes and grounds replete with foliage and bloom, where once the buffalo roamed or the sod shack was a trade mark. Throughout this district, both on farms and in towns and villages, the splendor of the lilac, together with its fragrance, is now at its best. There are many lilac bushes and they all at this time have beauty, and no doubt there are many others to equal in beauty and fragrance those which we have observed in the yards of the people in the town of Tofield. In Abbott's yard there is a very large and tall lilac bush at present loaded with blooms. But probably the bank of lilac bushes in the yard of Mrs. Chapman sr., excels in beauty and fragrance anything that we have seen to date. If this writing appears to you just a little protracted or tiresome, or even exuberant, you must blame the beauty and fragrance of this bank of lilacs for it.

"A ROSE BY ANY OTHER NAME"—

INFALLABILITY IS SOMETHING we never strictly laid claim to. It is true that the Mercury does try to avoid making mistakes, but once in a while we do get picked up regarding an error which shouldn't have occurred. Last week in the Co-op ad we printed the word "watermelon" in good size display type with two L's. Needless to say there should only have been one. There really isn't any excuse and any defence, however brilliant, would be futile. The dictionary says one L and who are we to dispute its authority.

Last Friday at Tofield under the direction of Mr. L. Olson, assisted by the staffs of the different schools competing, the sub-unit track meet was held. There were several hundred boys and girls present many of whom were accompanied by their parents and older folk, and altogether there was a sizeable crowd on the grounds. Lakeshore ladies had a refreshment stand and served watermelon (with one L.) But if you really wish to plumb the depths of human knowledge and the cavernous depths of a small boys stomach and learn of its capacity for watermelon, you should have seen it disappearing slice by slice that day. In Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet, Romeo with passion says to Juliet:

"What's in a name? That which we call a rose,
By any other name would smell as sweet."

So, while we are not excusing an error, we would like to say that regardless of how many L's went into its spelling, the Lakeshore ladies sliced with as much enthusiasm and pleasure, and Tofield area young folk devoured with as much delight, watermelon, ripe and luscious.

PIGS NEED SHADE TO MAKE GOOD GAINS

A pig which receives a set-back in the weanling stage, from whatever cause, is a more expensive pig to raise than one kept in good health and growing condition from birth to market. A. J. Charnetski, Live Stock Supervisor, states that a set-back pig will often require an extra hundred pounds of grain for each hundred pounds of gain. For example, a healthy pig under farm conditions will produce one hundred pounds of gain for every four hundred and fifty pounds of feed consumed. An unthrifty pig will require at least five hundred and fifty pounds of feed to make the same gain.

Sun scalding is a serious business in swine production. Sun scalded pigs, to reach market weight, require as much or more feed than do fall and winter pigs, and the present high price of grain makes it inadvisable to ignore this fact. A temporary pole and straw shade may be built cheaply in a hog run. It should be constructed on high, well drained, fresh ground. The south side may be much lower than the north side to provide more protection from the sun. A shade of this kind should not be used for more than two years, after which it may be dismantled and a new one built on fresh ground. Periodic change of location in this way will do much to prevent excessive dust accumulation and worm infestations.

AT A DISADVANTAGE

A woman of title was giving a garden party for her household staff and estate employees.

Old John, the gardner, had just stepped onto the tennis court to play against the chauffeur, when the footman hurried up to him and explained: "John, her ladyship says you can't play tennis in braces."

To which John replied: "You can just go back and tell her ladyship that I'm no good at this game unless I have both hands free."

AMISK CREEK

The Amisk Creek Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. E. A. Moen, Tuesday, July 3rd.

Rev. Ostrem will conduct service at the Amisk Creek Church Sunday, June 24, at 11 a.m.

Election results at the Amisk Creek Poll: Ronning, C.C.F., 14; Marshall, Social Credit, 14; Farnalls, Liberal, 8; Bowes, Progressive Conservative, 1. Returning Officer, C. J. Kallal; Poll Clerk, Carl Erickson.

Several Amisk Creekers attended the wedding Saturday at the Lutheran Church, Ryley, of Glenn Hillerud and Katherine Czar. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Moen and family were guests at the wedding reception held at the home of Mrs. H. Moen.

Neighbors and friends surprised the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bruha one evening recently. We were sorry that the bridegroom was not present, he had gone to the city in the morning and did not return until it was all over. However, in spite of that fact, all spent a most enjoyable evening, becoming acquainted with Mrs. Bruha, who was presented with a chenille bedspread from those present. The ladies served a very delicious luncheon.

Recent city visitors: Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Olson, Glenn Olson, Marvin Moen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Erickson.

Mrs. H. Hillerud is spending this week with her daughter Beulah, who is teaching near Bruce, while Mr. Hillerud is away on a fishing trip. Expect he will bring back a "fish story" if not a fish.

Miss Pearl Patterson, R.N. of Vancouver, is holidaying at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Patterson. She will also visit friends at Cereal, Alberta, before returning to the west coast.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Moen, Mr. and Mrs. C. Erickson, motored to Innisfree last Sunday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murray (nee Myrtle Moen). Their wee son, Bayne, celebrated his first birthday anniversary.

Miss Gladys Olson and Mr. M. Brimacombe of Edmonton, weekended recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brenneman and family from Creston, Montana, are visiting relatives and friends throughout the district.

The Amisk Creek school took part in the track meet at Tofield last Friday.

Carl Erickson, as delegate from the Dodds A.N.U. local attended a sub-district convention at Camrose on Monday night.

The pupils of the Amisk Creek School sent $18.00 to the Red Cross, proceeds from raffling a box of chocolates, donated by the teacher, Miss Beatrice Baptist. Mrs. Klassen was the lucky winner. Donald Erickson, who sold 60 tickets, won the prize given by Miss Baptist to the pupil selling the greatest number of tickets

RESERVE ARMY TO CARRY ON

To All Members of the Reserve Army, Military District No. 13

No doubt, during the past few weeks you have been asking yourself "Is it worthwhile carrying on my training with the Reserve Army?" a rather important question, namely

Are there any arguments or reasons why we should not go on?

First there seems to be an idea current among the people of Canada that the war is over. Let us not forget that we still have a very healthy war on our hands, in which we, as Canadians, have hardly begun to fight as yet. This is a war too, against an enemy even more fanatical and if possible even a little tougher than the Germans. No reason there for slackening our efforts.

Next, some of you are saying you merely carried on till the men overseas came back, to take over. Men are returning now, but are they able, or ready, to step in and take over? Not yet, they are all busy getting re-established, or are recovering from disabilities. Very few of them will be joining you for a year or two yet, and your job is to carry the Reserve Army on.

Another question that many of you have asked is, "Is the Reserve Army needed now?" The best reply to that question is this: "The Reserve Army is the old N.P.A.M., better equipped, better trained than the N.P.A.M. ever had a chance of being: Did the N.P.A.M. quit when the general opinion was that any Defence Force was unnecessary? No, it carried on, in spite of criticism and even active opposition, to become the foundation of the Canadian Army Overseas.

If the N.P.A.M. had not carried on, it is doubtful if a Canadian Army would have been able to mobilize in 1939, and later to become the backbone of the Defence of Great Britain during the hectic days preceding, and following Dunkerque.

Don't think that the need for home defence has passed, the country still needs you.

DAY OF MOURNING

Jews throughout the world are mourning the unparallelled tragedy that has befallen their people. No fewer than five million Jewish men, women and children have been massacred at the insensate and insatiable behest of the German fuehrer, who has willed the extirpation of their race. The magnitude of the crime against humanity staggers the mind and appals the senses. That it has been carried out methodically and systematically all but eludes credibility; but the documented evidence of a cloud of witnesses exists to shock the world into comprehension.

Jewry's dreadful night is ending. Today, as Jews the world over stand in silent meditation on the great tragedy that has befallen their brethren, their fellow-men can but join them in prayer that such desolation may never again be seen, and resolve that tyrants perish before they can work their evils on mankind.

MEN ON POSTPONEMENT

Mobilization Registrars are presently sending letters to all men on occupational postponement under the military call-up, advising them that while their postponements are extended until further notice by reason of their employment, they are not free to change their jobs.

Therefore, from now on, it is not necessary for either a man on postponement or an employer to request from the Rgistrar a renewal of postponement of military training.

The text of the letter given out by the Minister of Labour today is as follows:

> This is to inform you that your present postponement of Military Training is extended until further notice. Your postponement, therefore remains in effect.
> If you are engaged in agriculture, you must not leave that very essential work to work outside of agriculture unless you first obtain a permit to do so from a National Selective Service Officer.
> If you are employed in an essential or war industry other than agriculture, you must not change your employment without first obtaining a permit from a National Selective Service Officer.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell, commenting on the letter, said that maintenance of production required that men on postponement continue at the essential jobs because of which their military training was postponed. Speaking more particularly of farmers who were posponed, the Labour Minister pointed out that "this year we must produce all the food nature will provide, so that the Labour Department will spare no effort to see that Canada's overworked farmers, who have done so splendidly in past years, are given the help of every available man.

"No men now in agricultural employment, according to existing law, may leave farming work without a permit from an Employment Officer, and all Offices across Canada have been instructed to check any suggestion of a movement from the farms."

The Minister stated also, "that our offices are seeing to it that men who have farming experience are directed back to agriculture, just as [illegible] their employment in war [illegible] slackens."

SAILOR PAYS UP

Vancouver: Conscience-stricken individuals often send money to railway companys in return for services rendered which they did not acknowledge in the usual way. Not many, however, appear in person to discharge their obligations. A middle-aged seaman in the Merchant Navy, a follower of Father Divine, did. He came into the Canadian National office in Vancouver and handed in $60, in return, he said, for free rides he had taken on freight trains between Winnipeg and Sudbury and Vancouver and Kamloops.

NEW REFERENCE BOOKLET PROVIDES CANADIAN FACTS

A handy, pocket-size work of reference, "Quick Canadian Facts," published by the Forward Publishing Co. Limited, Toronto, provides useful data for those interested in Canadian affairs on a wide variety of subjects. The students will find in it significant figures on manufacturing, agriculture, natural resources, the national income, the national debt and numerous other matters of importance. There is a chronology of Canadian history, with special war

The booklet contains a special section on the rehabilitation programme for servicemen, explaining concisely the benefits to which they are entitled in the way of war service gratuities, vocational training, etc., and their rights to re-instatement in jobs held before enlistment.

Another up-to-date section deals with the family allowances scheme, summarizing its financial provisions and its estimated cost, which, on the basis of official figures, is equivalent to about 60 per cent of the total expenditure for all purposes in pre-war Federal budgets.

A convenient feature of the booklet is its spiral wire binding, which permits it to lie flat no matter at which page it is opened.

'Steamship Special' for Child War Guests

BACK TO BRITAIN: Child war guests who came to Canada from Great Britain in 1940, when 6,000 of them were carried in Canadian Pacific ships, now are returning to the Old Country. A group of them are shown above at dinner in the Windsor Station coffee shop prior to boarding a C.P.R. "steamship special" for the east coast. Among [illegible] the trip were R.A.F. dependents like the wee Scottish-Canadian (right), enroute to Falkirk and her R.A.F. father, who trained and married in Canada.

APPOINTMENT OF ASSISTANT TO DIRECTOR OF PURCHASES AND CHAIRMAN OF THE ALBERTA MARKETING BOARD

Mr. D. C. Boyes, prominent for many years as an executive with the Oliver Farm Implement Corporation in Western Canada has been appointed assistant to Mr. G. A. Clash, Director of Purchases and Chairman of the Alberta Marketing Board, Mr. W. D. King, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry, announced today.

Mr. Boyes was born in Sioux City, Iowa in 1895 and came to Canada in infancy with his parents, who established a farm at Neepawa, Manitoba. Mr. Boyes was educated in public and high school and in commerce in Manitoba. He entered business with the Garden City Feeders at Brandon. After four years he joined Hart Parr Tractors as Western Canadian sales supervisor with headquarters at Portage La Prairie, until 1923 when headquarters were moved to Regina. For eleven years he was celegated as the company's Canadian representative to the parent factories.

In the fall of 1928 when the company was reorganized as Oliver Limited, in Canada he went to the new company and remained until 1932 as supervisor of salesmen. In that year he entered business for himself.

In 1942 he joined Bechtel Price Callahan for operations on the Canol Project, where he had charge of personnel and the supply base at Calder.

WHAT ABOUT DANDELIONS?

London: A new and revolutionary weed killer, which kills weeds while leaving grass and cereal crops unharmed, has been discovered by research scientists of Imperial Chemical Industries, England.

The weed killer, which is known as Methoxone, is now being tried out on a nation-wide basis by I.C.I. and the Ministry of Agriculture.

Trials already carried out have shown that when the weed-killer is applied at the rate of one pound per acre, weeds such as yellow charlock, wild radish and pennycress, growing in grain, are killed but the crop is unharmed.

An outstanding factor in this remarkable discovery is that weeds can be eliminated in the early stages of growth so that they have no chance to rob the crop of the food available in the soil.

Another important advantage is that methoxone completely eliminates buttercups in grassland, thus making available increased food for cattle.

WARTIME TAXES

A sign painted on a New York bank building would have startled our grandfathers, but apparently goes unnoticed in this age of war taxes:

"Remember, part of all you earn belongs to you."

Synthetic rubber, produced at the Canadian Government-owned Polymer Corporation at Sarnia, Ont., is now being sold for less than the 1941 price of natural rubber.

ENROUTE HOME

Word has been received that several of the boys enlisting from here have docked at Halifax and are on their way to their homes. Mrs. Burnett received word that her son Ted has arrived in Canada, and Mrs. Leo Burnett of Edmonton has received word that her husband is at Halifax. Joe Kallal is also reported having landed and also Dan White.

P.O. Frank Dunn has had a happy re-union with his folks at Deville. Frank was shot down over Germany and has spent many months in a German prison camp. For several months he was reported missing.

WEDDING DANCE

A wedding dance at which a large number of town and country folk were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Art Francis, was held at the Lindbrook Hall on Wednesday night.

A very enjoyable time was spent by those attending and Mr. and Mrs. Francis were rated tops as hosts. Music was played by local musicians and the usual midnight supper was part of the evening's entertainment.

I.O.D.E NOTES

Members of the Dr. Tofield Chapter, I.O.D.E. will be on hand in the local stores all day on Friday, June 29th, in connection with the Provincial Stamp Day Drive. Town and country citizens responded well last year and we will be grateful for a similar co-operation this year. A tremendous amount of money is still required to win the peace.

Photographic lenses for war purposes are tested by Canadian scientists for accuracies up to a millionth of an inch by placing a lens of known spherical accuracy against the one to be tested and then passing a beam of light through them both. "Interference patterns" in the shape of curves and lines show up any flaws in the new lens.

Hepatine, a Canadian-developed drug, has been of great service in World War II as a gangrene preventive. Applied to the end of the severed artery in a small metal tube, the drug keeps the blood from clotting and maintains emergency circulation till proper attention can be obtained.

An open air party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Cole and family on Sunday afternoon on the Athletic grounds here, when a number of neighbors and friends met to bid them farewell and wish them god-speed in any new venture they might undertake. Mr. and Mrs. Cole have been proprietors of the O.K. store for the past five years, have built up the business considerably and made many friends.

On behalf of those present, Mr. Leo Gudmundson presented Mr. and Mrs. Cole with a purse of money. In replying, Mr. Cole said the people had been too good to them, had given them too much business, so that there was too much work for Mrs. Cole and himself to manage, hence they had to seek an easier job in another locality, although they were loathe to leave the many friends they had made in the Dodds community.

Three weddings were held in the Mennonite community recently. On June 21st, the Good—King wedding; on June 22, the Slabaugh—Mitchell wedding; and on June 24, the Yoder—Roth wedding; details of which will undoubtedly be given by the Mennonite correspondent. We wish all three couples every happiness in their wedded state.

Farewell Gathering

At a gathering of nearly two hundred members and friends of the Tofield United Church, Thursday evening, a farewell service was tendered to Rev. and Mrs. D. K. Allan, who are leaving to reside in Edmonton.

With over 40 years service in the ministry, Rev. Allan is retiring by terminating a 12 year pastorate in Tofield and District.

A splendid program presided over by Mr. Bert Lovell, was held in the church, when solos were sung by Mrs. Torrie, Mr. Jack Cookson and Mr. R. Murray. A piano solo by Mr. McCauley and a duet by Mrs. Lawson and Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Stinson accompanied at the piano.

Tributes were paid to Rev. and Mrs. Allan by Mrs. Mel Wood on behalf of Lakeshore; Mr. Chas. Whillans for Ketchamoot, and Mr. G. B. Brace for Tofield. Mr. Jack Cookson gave the farewell address and expressed the sincere wish of all that Mr. and Mrs. Allan would be spared to enjoy their leisure for many years to come. Mr. Geo. Cook-[illegible] of all congregations, presented Rev. Allan with a purse, and Miss Joan Webb presented Mrs. Allan with a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses.

In accepting the gifts, Rev. and Mrs. Allan replied feelingly to the many tributes paid to them and expressed their thanks for the many kindnesses shown to them during their stay in Tofield.

At the close of the program a delicious lunch was served by a number of the ladies of the congregation. Mrs. Geo. Brace and Mrs. G. Chapman poured coffee.

Sunday evening, Rev. D. K. Allan preached his farewell sermon to a large congregation. The service, assisted by the Junior Choir, was very impressive and all present realized what a spiritual benefit they had received from the Rev. and Mrs. Allan's ministry.

Other presentations were made to Mr. and Mrs. Allan by the ladies' aid and women's missionary society of the church, also by the Palestine Masonic lodge, of which Mr. Allan is a member.

McKENZIE COMMUNITY ANNUAL PICNIC

The late coming rains this year, made it necessary for the annual picnic held by the McKenzie Community to be postponed from Friday till Saturday. Despite this fact, the greatest financial success ever, was obtained.

Four senior and three junior hard ball games were played in which McKenzie took an active part. Dodds emerged the winner of the senior event and Tofield of the junior. Three softball games were also played.

The takings at the booth was a tremendous success.

We wish to express our appreciation to the people of the community for their support and especially to the ladies for their pies, salads, etc. as well as their enthusiastic help on serving.

Our thanks are expressed to these people for their courtesy and help: Mr. Brace, Mr. Owen, The Tofield Mercury, and others. We are grateful for the splendid attendance and for the support given by Bardo, Ryley, Dodds, Tofield, Weslake, and Ross Creek. The finances raised by our annual community picnic, is used to further all good sports throughout our community.

Wedding

COFFEY—WILSON

Of interest to many Tofieldites, was the wedding Tuesday evening of last week, in First Baptist Church, Edmonton, of Miss Cleo Wilson to Mr. Cortes Berton Coffey of Vancouver, formerly of Edmonton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Coffey, Edmonton.

The bride, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus B. Wilson of Tofield, is a prominent member of the Edmonton Civic Opera society, in which she was a pianist for the orchestra.

For the ceremony, baskets of peonies decorated the church. The guest pews were marked with white tulle bows. Rev. Daniel Young officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a simple wedding gown of white brocaded satin, styled on princess lines. Her fingertip veil fell from a Mary Queen of Scots headdress. She carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas.

Miss Fay Wilson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She was in a gown of white cut crepe also styled on princess lines and she carried a bouquet of spring flowers.

Mr. Bert Coffey, the groom's father was best man.

Organist was Mrs. Barber Smith, and during the signing of the register Mrs. K. I. Mitchell sang "O Perfect Love."

A reception was held afterwards at the Royal George Hotel, where the bride's table was laid in white linen and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake and bouquets of lilacs.

Mrs. J. W. Morton, aunt of the bride, received, wearing a navy blue printed dress and small navy hat. Mrs. Wilson, the bride's mother, was unable to attend her daughter's wedding on account of illness. Mrs. Coffey was in purple with a purple and white straw hat.

The couple left for a short honeymoon at Calgary and Banff, the bride travelling in a pale blue dressmaker suit and topcoat with navy accessories. They will take up residence in Vancouver.

LINDGREN—HARTZ

A wedding of local interest took place at the Lutheran Church, Hagne when Miss Tina Hartz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hartz of Hazle, became the bride of Mr. Clark A. Lindgren, son of Mr. Otto Lindgren of Tofield and the late Mrs. Lindgren. The groom is well known here being associated with the Rasmussen and Lindgren welding establishment.

At the same time and place, Miss Winnifred Hartz was united in marriage to David Wamsley of the Canadian army. The double ceremony was attended by quite a number of friends of both wedding parties and after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the brides, followed by a wedding dance.

HOME ECONOMICS AND SHOP WORK EXHIBIT GOOD

The annual exhibit of the home economics class under the direction of Miss Isabel Robinson and the shop work class under the direction of Mr. Hardy, was held at the curling rink on Monday. As in previous years there was a great variety of articles exhibited, all of them showing care and workmanship. There was a kitchen table that would do duty for the busiest housewife and for relaxation there was a fireplace well and sturdily made. In the more fancy wood work there were several handsome bowls, a turned candlestick, end tables, writing table, cupboards, smoking stands, etc. A new innovation was the complete electrical system of a car, a number of radios and watch straps, and examples of tinsmithing in the way of scoops.

The home economics work ranged from a simple sewing job to a complete ladies' suit. Suits, dresses, skirts, pyjamas, towels, sweaters, and other sewn and knitted articles were included in the exhibit.

TOFIELD BAND ORGANIZES

On Monday last the Tofield Band held a meeting and were formally organized. Geo. McFadzean was elected chairman, Rex Boyles secretary and Shirley Stinson, librarian. Herb Chandler was appointed band leader.

The band wishes to acknowledge with thanks a cheque for $10.00 received from the Dr. Tofield Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

Mrs. Johnston of Edmonton spent a couple of days visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Don Hardy.

Flt. Sgt. Ted Burnett arrived home Wednesday morning from overseas.

Pte. M. Donnelly, who has recently arrived from overseas, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. Bray.

MEN COME HOME

Montreal, June 23.—Twenty three special trains carrying 8,200 service personnel returning from overseas, left Halifax by Canadian National Railways on June 20th for all parts of Canada. This made a total for five days of 33 specials, with a passenger list of 12,750. Returning army men leaving for their homes from the boatside took 12 specials, air force personnel, 9. Another train will have miscellaneous detachments, while one special carried sailors of the Royal Navy.

The heavy movement got under way June 15th with the departure of five army and two air force specials. Four specials left the following day, three carrying army dependents and one navy personnel. The third day witnessed the departure from Halifax of three C.N.R. hospital trains with wounded from the hospital ship "Letitia" while two more trains left on Tuesday, June 19th, with wounded brought home on the "Llandovery Castle."

[illegible] ENTERING U.S.

Welcome news for Alberta motorists who plan to make trips to the United States during the holiday season has just been received by the Alberta Motor Association.

The U.S. authorities have increased the gas allowance for Canadian motorists entering the U.S. Instead of the former 15 gallons allowed, the ration has been increased to 20 gallons, covered by two coupons, each good for 10 U.S. gallons.

While the U.S. gallon is not as heavy as the Canadian, this additional fuel allowance will be welcomed by drivers.

It is all the more so in view of the announcement that the U.S. has relaxed border crossing restrictions on Canadians visiting the U.S. for 30 days or less.

While the allowance is increased for motorists entering the U.S., a note of warning against Canadians using up their coupons in the hope of the dominion's allowance being further increased this year has been sounded by federal government officials.

It has been stated there is no immediate prospect of the gas ration being increased or being lifted in Canada.

In recent years, Canadian farmers have overcome a multitude of difficulties. Despite labour shortages, storm and weather hazards, they have consistently increased production, and harvested the record crops so vital to a nation at war.

They have been handicapped, by lack of proper distribution facilities, in getting produce to market, farm-fresh. Many who realize the time and labour a General Motors truck would save, look forward hopefully to the time when they are again available.

That time is coming . . .

The time when Victory signals a General Motors change-over from war to peace production . . . the time when all the experience, engineering skill and productive power now being used by General Motors to fashion tough, durable armoured vehicles, will be directed towards the production of sturdy, General Motors trucks — dependable, great-hearted trucks that will mean less work and worry, more leisure and prosperity for farmers and producers everywhere.

"HAS ALLAN BEEN IN?"—

IT ISN'T WITH ANY disrespect to the reverend gentleman's proper title, that off and on each Thursday morning at the Mercury Office, someone would ask "Has Allan been in?". As intimated in the very fine compliment paid the editor and staff in the United Church notes last week, a visit to the Mercury Office by the Reverend Allan was a weekly occurrence for over a decade. We got to expect him, welcome him, and derive pleasure in the few minutes chat which generally took place upon each visit. So much so, should Rev. Allan come in while the editor was out, there would be a query "Has Allan been in?" Any little thing that the Mercury has been able to do for the benefit of the church or clergy, has been willingly and gladly done. Yes, we'll miss the reverend gentleman's weekly call, and we did appreciate his recognition of what little favors we have been able to give, knowing full well that we, too, were benefitted by the weekly insertion of the church news. The Mercury sincerely hopes that the Rev. and Mrs. Allan may be spared to enjoy many years of well earned retirement.

THE CASE OF THE GREEN BOX—

MANY YEARS AGO it was the custom of novel writers to entitle their books "The Green Door," "The Brown House," and "The Scarlet something or other." For all we know, they still do. There were mysteries and murders and general mushiness, and what went on behind the Green Door would, and did, fill a book. But The Case of the Green Box is something altogether different. It is as open and above board as sunlight and as a harbinger of goodwill, is the equal of any share the wealth plan. For some years now the people of the McKenzie district have held their Sports Day in June, and like any other Sports day, nickles, dimes, quarters, to say nothing of more pretentious currency, has to be taken care of. Some would use a shoe box, a cigar box, or any old thing at all, but McKenzie set a style and created interest by the use of a brightly painted green cash box. After the sports come the disbursements, and the finance committee, this year being Lars Olson and Miss Walker, followed precedent and set out with the box on their modified share the wealth trip. Visiting the places where accounts had been incurred, the box was opened, the correct amount paid out, the receipt put in, and the lid shut tight. They leave a train of pleasant memories and happy associations. The green box, we understand, is the property of Mrs. Moos, and is annually loaned for the occasion.

WHERE THERE'S A WILL THERE'S A WAY—

FOR SOME WEEKS representatives from many nations have been conferring at San Francisco. The desired objective was a workable plan by which world peace could be maintained. This week with all due ceremony, representatives of these nations signed the World Security Charter, the provisions of which have been written, corrected and rewritten by experts many times during the past six weeks. As the representative of each nation signed this important world document, he gave a short address expressing hopes that the deliberations and work from those assembled, and the provisions of the charter would result in peace and security to all mankind. To President Truman of the United States was given the honor and responsibility of saying the final word. His remarks, necessarily brief, were nevertheless forceful. He said in effect, that the provisons of the World Security Charter could only be carried out if the nations concerned had the will to do so. Herein lies the kernel of the whole peace and war question. As peace settlements proceed there will be many contentious points to be settled and as the different countries of the world gradually resume peace-time trading activities, there will be old and new trading spheres to chart and perhaps even worry about. But if the will for peace is greater than the will to profit, world peace is likely to be maintained. It is altogether likely, as suggested by General Smuts of South Africa, that a permanent force will have to be created and maintained to keep world order. But as children we were taught "where there's a will there's a way" and if this is true in personal affairs, surely it should be true in the greatest undertaking peoples of the world have ever attempted, that of outlawing war.

They Must Be

Before the hostilities with Germany ceased, a Yorkshireman, visiting London for the first time, found himself in a certain famous thoroughfare. "Which side is the War Office on?" he asked a passing soldier.

The soldier, looking rather startled, exclaimed: "On ours, we hope!"

From April 30th, 1944, to the end of the year, Canada delivered 450,000 tons of munitions, strategic materials and food to Soviet Russia. Total value of this material was $187,000,000.

During the war with Germany, over 100 vessels formerly used only on Canada's great inland waterways, plied the Atlantic run. At least 20 of these freighters were torpedoed and sunk.

Hydroponics, the science of soilless agriculture, has been used during the war to provide fresh vegetables and fruits for Canadian servicemen in distant outposts.

Up to the end of March 1945, Canadian warships had taken part in the sinking of 23 submarines, the probable sinking of eight more and the probable damaging of seven others.

GREEN FEED FOR GROWING CHICKS

Green feed is important for growing chicks. In this connection the Poultry Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture advises the sowing of a good green pasture plot, preferably alfalfa. The brooder house should be moved frequently throughout the season to a new location in this green pasture. The pasture should be cut with a mower every week or so to promote fresh, tender growth.

RETAIN 1944 HONEY PRICES

Honey prices will remain substantially the same as last year, the Prices Board announces. In Zone 1, which includes the prairie provinces, the farmer's ceiling price to consumers who supply their own containers of 10 pounds or less, is set at 17 cents per pound for No. 1 white honey and 15 1-2 cents for other grades. Maximum price ceilings are also set on sales made direct from producer to consumer where the producer supplies the container.

GUARD THAT RATION BOOK

Consumers who lose their ration books could save unnecessary trouble to both themselves and the ration office if they took a few prior precautions, says C. G. McKee, regional rationing superintendent, Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

"Fill in cover spaces provided for address and telephone number, Mr. McKee advises. "This will facilitate easy return to consumers by the ration office where stray ration books must be taken."

"It is a criminal offence to use ration books which do not belong to a consumer of the same household, but ration books which do not carry the additional details of address and telephone number are more open to abuse if they fall into the wrong hands." Mr. McKee explained.

SOCIOLOGY AND HISTORY SCHOLARSHIPS

With the commendable objective of promoting wider understanding in a world in which the problem of minorities is bound to loom large, the Manitoba Historical Society will award twelve-month fellowships to competent students of sociology and history who may wish to carry on such work. One annual fellowship of $2,000 is the plan, with provision for an alternative of two $1,000 grants-in-aid to mature scholars. Editorially, the Winnipeg Free Press has pointed out how Winnipeg's wide variety of racial groups has enriched that city, building up "here in Canada something native and indigenous, something very much our own."

FARM FUELS

(Christian Science Monitor)

Peoria, Ill., June 4—The farmer, like the packinghouse operator, may soon be using all his product, "including the squeal."

As an indication of what progress is being made in this direction, it has been discovered that corncobs, oat hulls, peanut shucks, cottonseed hulls and similar things have real value.

A process has been discovered at the United States Department of Agriculture's Northern Regional Research Laboratory here which gets 90 to 95 gallons of liquid motor fuel from a ton of corncobs or cottonseed hulls. About half of this is in the form of ethyl alcohol, according to Dr. O. E. May, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural and Industrial Chemistry, which operates the four regional research laboratories in the nation.

To look further into the motor fuel possibilities, a special plant will be built here. Its object, according to Dr. May, is to get "operating and economic answers on the commercial conversion of these farm wastes into useful industrial products." The research will be carried on in close cooperation with other investigations already under way with such liquid fuels as alcohol, butanol and acetone.

POISON IVY MAY SPOIL HOLIDAY

Of all skin-irritant plants in North America, poison ivy is one of the worst, and it finds most victims in the summer time. It grows under a variety of conditions, wet or dry, shaded or exposed, and in any soil from fine sand or rocky ground to rich soils in woods. It is seldom found in cultivated land but it is plentiful in stretches of unoccupied areas, or in secluded nooks and corners which children love to explore.

When picnickers happen upon what seems to be an ideal spot in an open space by the shores of a wooded lake, their first thought should be of the possible presence of poison ivy. Some people are immune to its poison some of the time but all people are not exempt from infection all of the time. Poisoning is the result of contact with any part of the plant—leaves, flowers, and roots—or from clothing, boots, and tools that have the oily juice of the ivy on them.

The initial stage of poisoning is a mild itchy sensation, followed by the development of blisters which on breaking become painful, oozing sores. The treatment is to wash thoroughly with strong laundry soap in running water as soon as possible after suspected contact. Use plenty of soap. By washing immediately before the oil of the ivy has had time to penetrate the skin, poisoning may be avoided. Otherwise, when the irritation becomes apparent, medical aid should be obtained as soon as possible.

LIMIT RATIONING FARM MACHINERY

Effective July 1, rationing of new farm machinery and equipment will be limited to 25 items in short supply, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

Purchase of the following items still requires approval from farm machinery rationing officers: corn pickers, tractor plows; tractor mounted plows, one-way disc, tiller or harrow plows; tandem tractor disc harrows, single wide disc harrows,12' or over, spring and stiff tooth field cultivators; tractor mounted cultivators, tractor mounted or semi-mounted mowers; side delivery rakes, hay loaders, pick-up hay balers; grain binders (horse and tractor drawn); corn binders, potato diggers; combine or reaper threshers, windrowers or swathers; threshers; ensilage harvesters, standard and row crop tractors, garden tractors; rubber-tired gears or trailers; power potato sprayers or dusters; fruit or orchard power sprayers; pressure water systems and power pumps.

This action follows Board policy of taking machinery off the ration list as soon as the supply situation warrants and reflects a substantial increase in production of new machinery and attachments for the next production year. Machinery will be distributed to provinces in proportion to their average sales during 1940, 1941 and 1942.

CANNOT LEAVE FARM JOB

Suspension of call-ups under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations does not mean that men on postponement of military training for employment in agriculture are now free to engage in other industry, A. MacNamara, Director of Selective Service, said today.

Instructions have been sent to local Employment Offices that any man on postponement to engage in agriculture, who is working in another industry, is to be compulsorily directed back to a farm job.

The Selective Service Director points out that the need for maintaining food production at high level is still very great, and that the farms are still in urgent need of men.

"Heigh-Ho, Come to the Fair"

As a combined source of information and amusement, the country fair has few competitors. It is one of the few attractions having an equal appeal to men and women, old and young. The best livestock in the community are there; the most recent improvements in farm machinery are on display, neighbours from near and far meet, often for the first time since the last fair; tests of skill, strength and luck are available to all, exhibit buildings are packed with interest and information, and a full day is rounded off in the grandstand.

The exhibit of The North-West Line Elevators Association has established an enviable reputation on the fair circuits. This year, matters of almost universal farm interest will be featured. An attractive display showing the most important features and advantages of farm electrification will occupy the centre of the exhibit. The remaining space is devoted to weeds, insects, fertilizers, potato diseases, small fruit culture, and testing cereal seeds for smut. Everett Robertson, B.S.A., will be on hand to advise on the various farm problems with which the exhibit is concerned. Don't fail to visit us at one of the following points: Brandon, Weyburn, Portage la Prairie, Yorkton, Melfort, Lloydminster, Vermilion, Vegreville, Red Deer, North Battleford and Prince Albert.

Now Is The Time To Deliver Your Wheat Through Pool Elevators

For the remainder of the present crop year, that is, up to July 31, farmers may deliver any quantity of wheat they wish. After July 31, however, the 1945-46 delivery quota of 14 bushels per authorized acre will be in effect. This quota, set by the Wheat Board, will apply throughout the province and deliveries will be definitely limited to the amounts allowed to each farmer under it.

Now is the time, therefore, to get your wheat delivered, unless you wish to keep it on your farm as a reserve. The place to take it is your local Pool elevator. It is your elevator, built by you to give service at cost. It will be to your advantage to use it.

Quisling Shuns Guilt At Victims Graves

(By M. Lorimer in the Christian Science Monitor)

Oslo, June 21---Visibly shaken and bewildered, the man who gave the world its most odious word for traitor turned from the mass graves of his countrymen in Trandum Forest. With his own eyes, Vidkun Quisling had seen shocking evidence of the German terrorism his puppet regime had abetted.

"And what," a newspaperman asked him, "do you think of what you have seen?"

He pondered the question momentarily. Then he replied.

"This will, of course, have a very serious effect on our relations with Germany."

Just that. No hint of his own terrible responsibility, or of the magnitude of the torment which the Quisling type of traitor unleashed in so many stricken lands.

As all Norway read with horror of the new series of disclosures of German crimes here during the five years of occupation, Quisling was taken from his cell in Oslo June 19 and bundled into a police car. He had no idea where he was going or for what purpose.

It was not until he and three carloads of armed police guarding him reached the scene of the frightful evidence of mass executions that he learned the reason for the trip.

Even in the forest, Quisling was not told. But it was not necessary to do so. His eyes absorbed the gruesome testimony of his master's handiwork.

In all, 15 mass graves of Norwegian victims of the Gestapo now have been found in Trandum Forest, near Gardemoen---one of the Germans' most important military airports, about 20 miles north of Oslo. The exhumation of seven thus far has been completed and has produced 90 bullet-ridden bodies, nearly all bearing signs of torture.

As Quisling shied from the first ghastly pit, he turned to Police Chief Nordlormme and asked what it was all about. Then he was told---with all the details and with the implications to him and his henchmen. His [illegible] returned to the pit as he stood silently with no show of emotion.

As he was led from grave to grave, word of the presence of him spread through the crowds of visitors in the woods. These crowds have grown in size daily, since the first gruesome revelation on June 16 by SS Obarfuhrer Oscar Hans, who had charge of 12 Trandum mass executions.

People began surrounding the party which was guarding Quisling, and he became restless and asked to leave. A home-front guard waved a Sten gun at him, and Quisling hastily assured the guard he had no intention of fleeing.

At two of the graves Quisling saw some of his former henchmen at work uncovering bodies of Norwegian patriot victims. He could not turn away so he stood gritting his teeth while observing the work. The police chief took this opportunity to give Quisling further details of how the Germans shot and buried his countrymen.

As Quisling was led back to the car, he was asked, "Could you have believed such a thing?"

"No," was his reply. "I never expected this," and he sighed audibly.

At the road, a crowd had gathered about the three police cars. As Quisling entered one of them, the crowd jeered and hissed.

The Oslo morgue, where work of identifying corpses is proceeding, now is filled to capacity. As bodies reach there, they are being carried in by former members of Quisling's cabinet. This demonstrates Norwegian determination that "Quislings" must be impressed with the enormity of their crimes.

Morgenbladet, commenting on Quisling's visit to Trandum stated: "Now Norway's No. 1 Nazi has seen how the Germans treated the Norwegians, and perhaps he will not be so chipper the next time he faces the court."

Reports continue about new discoveries of war crimes elsewhere in Norway. One of the most recent came from Bergen, telling of the discovery of one pit containing 23 corpses, identified by a former Nazi executioner---now awaiting trial---as former Yugoslav prisoners of war.

TWO DANGEROUS WEEDS FOUND IN M.D. BEAVER

Two bad weeds have been located within the M.D. of Beaver, which should be of concern to everybody. These are new weeds in the district. We are very much concerned with them because they are very difficult to control and practically impossible to eradicate.

In the western part of the municipality a large patch of Hoary Cress was located. This weed is very persistent. It has tremendous, extensive, deep, wiry, tough, root system. The roots spread sideways deep underground so that the plowing does very little damage to them. Wherever Hoary Cress abhor it completely crops have not the slightest chance to grow.

Men who have had experience with Hoary Cress abhor it completely.

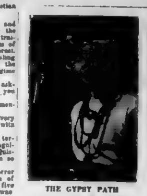
In the eastern part of the municipality we located a patch of Leafy Spurge: This weed also, has extensive root system. Some literature states that roots penetrate the soil down about 18 feet. In the field the weed grows luxuriantly. If Leafy Spurge becomes thick, farm crops have not a slightest chance to survive.

For identification purposes, we have growing plants. At present, these growing specimens can be seen in Ryley in the window of the Office of District Agriculturist. Shortly we expect to have potted plants for demonstration in neighboring towns.

In the meantime we urge every farmer who happens to be in Ryley, to take a look at these weeds.

After all, the farmer himself is his best weed inspector.

Jack E. Roddick,
M. D. Weed Fieldman.



THE GYPSY PATH

There's a gypsy lilt to Elena Peshakova's soprano voice, come from singing Russian ballads and cosmopolitan folksongs. This week she returns to the CBC Trans-Canada network as soloist in "Romany Trails", beginning Tuesday, July 3, at 7:30 p.m. CDT. She will be heard in gypsy songs of many nations, singing in the language from which the songs sprang.

JUL 7 [illegible]

BARDO

The Bardo Lutheran congregation commemorated its fiftieth anniversary at a three-day meeting, June 29th to July 1st, at the Bardo church. This was held in conjunction with the Edmonton Circuit convention. The congregation was founded in 1895 by the Rev. B. Anderson and is the first congregation of the Norwegian Lutheran Church in Canada to observe a Golden Jubilee. Only six of the original members are still living, they are: Mrs. Pernille Moen, Mrs. Barbro Finseth, Mrs. Lena Qualley, Mrs. Lars Johnson, George Bruce and Olaf Jevning. Speakers at the convention and anniversary were: Rev. O. Blomlie, Tacoma, Wash.; Rev. B. Ostrem, Bethany, Minn.; Rev. M. Johnson, Edmonton; Rev. Gerhart Ostrem of Colombia, S.A.; Dr. A. J. Bergsaker, Minneapolis; Rev. Vinge, Camrose; Rev. G. Ostrem, Ryley; Professor Mel, Camrose and Mrs. G. Hendrickson.

Music was contributed by the Bardo Ladies' Chorus; Mixed Choir; Male Chorus, all under the direction of Alice Broughton, and a joint mass Choir, directed by Rev. Blomlie. Also music by the Grue Brothers, Armena, and from Camrose College, Kingman Octette and Ryley and Viking.

Three sessions were held each day attended by large audiences. On Sunday an estimated crowd of five hundred people were present. Eklund's Radio Sound service from Camrose was on hand to bring the speaking and singing to those outside the church.

Meals were served by the Bardo Ladies' Aid in the church basement, on all three days. Visitors from far and near were billeted in the various homes in the community.

Many from here are attending the "Camrose Week" church sessions held at Camrose July 1---8.

Neighbors and friends gathered at the Anderson home on Sunday, June 24th to celebrate Mr and Mrs. Bennie Anderson's Silver Wedding anniversary. A short program was given, Scripture and prayer, Johnny Walker, Talk, Rev Ostrem, and two numbers by the Male Chorus.

On behalf of the community, Rev. Ostrem presented the honored couple with a purse of silver, a coffee table from the Sunday School by Ingolf Brekhan, and silver spoons from the Male Chorus by Pete Bjornson, and a bouquet of roses from the boys. Refreshments were served by the ladies. Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and hope they may see their Golden wedding anniversary.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Good (nee Hilda King). Mr. and Mrs. Good will make their home at Acadia Valley, Alta.

The Ivar Moen, Geo. Hendrickson, R. Heiberg families, Mrs. I. Eggen and Geo. Foshaug, attended the graduation exercises at the Camrose college. Graduates from here are: Ila Moen, Doris Hendrickson and Andy Heiberg.

Ivan Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Johnson, La Glace, passed away in an Edmonton hospital, resulting from a fractured skull, caused by being thrown from a race horse he was training. Mr Johnson is a grandson of Mrs. I. Eggen and a nephew of Mrs. E. Rude, Mrs. I. Moen and Pete Eggen. Our sympathy to the family. Mrs. I Moen left for La Glace last week to attend the funeral and for a visit with relatives.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs Alvin Steen at the Royal Alex hospital, on July 1st, a daughter.

Customers of Jake King's milk route met at the King home on Tuesday for a surprise party on Mr. King. On behalf of those present, Lester Severson presented Mr. King with an occasional chair for his faithful and efficient service on the milk route he has served for seven years. Refreshments were served by the ladies. Mr. King is quitting the milk route, and Henry Holte of Ryley has taken over the milk hauling.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Johnson and family of La Glace, are local visitors.

Home over the week end. Muriel and Esther Ness, Mrs. Walter Scott, Carey Brekhan, Edmonton; Pte. Merlin Foshaug, Calgary; Ila Moen, Doris Hendrickson, Camrose; and Wyonne Rude, Viking; Margarette Rudd, Camrose, visited here with her sisters, Mrs. M. Hagen and Mrs. L. Foshaug.

Ivar Moen, trustee of Holden School Division, took a refresher course at the University in Edmonton last week.

Students at Bardo and Grand Forks schools have been writing exams for the past two weeks.

Bardo and Grand Forks schools will end the school term with a picnic on Friday, July 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Foshaug have built an addition to their house. Olaf Stokan is the carpenter.

Pete and Botolf Bjornson are building a dwelling house for the Alberta Wheat Pool in Vegreville.

Bardo Athletic Association will hold their annual Sports on Wednesday, July 11th, at the Ivar Moen farm. Baseball: Ryley, Dodds, Lakeshore and Bardo. Softball: Ladies' teams competing. Horseshoe; Target shooting; Volley ball; Junior baseball and races.

Hot dog stand and Refreshment booth on grounds. Take a holiday and attend the Bardo sports.

Ratepayers' Meeting

On Thursday night last the Lindbrook Hall was well filled with ratepayers of M.D. of Beaver. The meeting was called to discuss the increase in municipal taxation.

Mr. Ronald Murray was asked to be chairman and in addition to him there were on the platform, Reeve Anderson, Councillors Giebelhaus, Lucas, and Swabey, representing the M.D. of Beaver and Mr. Ivor Moen representing the Holden School Division. Sec.-Treas. McMullen of M.D. of Beaver was also on the platform.

In opening the meeting the chairman said this was quite a large turn out and was an excellent way of talking anything over that was troubling us. He went on to explain that as there was no prepared agenda, he had arranged for someone to write down a number of questions as they were asked from the audience. The questions would then be taken up one by one. He called upon the audience to ask the questions.

Here are the questions asked.

What is the reason taxes have been raised 25 to 30 per cent?

What is the one mill rate for hospital put on for?

What is the purpose of raising school tax?

Has the large unit anything to do with tax raise or would taxes have been raised anyway?

Does Provincial Government get anything out of special assessment?

Why is it necessary for the council to buy Victory Bonds?

Why is assessment raised on property adjacent to the highway?

Does provincial government exact three mill social service whether taxes are paid or not?

Why did the council pay secretaries for wheat acreage reduction work?

Why buy a truck for the weed inspector?

Why were the teachers' salaries raised this year?

The chairman then announced the questions one by one and called on those present on the platform most likely to make an explanation to do so.

Among those speaking were Reeve Anderson, Councillors Swabey, Lucas, Giebelhaus, Secretary-treasurer McMullen, Trustee Ivor Moen. From the floor short talks were given by Mr. Richardson and Mr. Olson, Mr. Melsey, [illegible] Brown, Mr. F. M. Baker, M.L.A., and Mr. Nichols.

Generally the explanations given were satisfactory, yet at the close of the meeting it was obvious that all the doubt had not been dispelled.

It was a rather difficult meeting to report as there were so many questions and viewpoints on them. But here are one or two boiled down explanations.

Question one---Expenses in general have risen. Road building machinery has been purchased and some requested road work completed.

Question two---The M.D. has an arrangement whereby ratepayers get a reduced rate in certain hospitals. This only applies to ratepayers not in a Municipal Hospital District. Those in a Municipal Hospital District do not have to pay the mill rate.

Question three---School Divisions have the power to make requisitions and Municipal Districts must levy to meet them. School expenses are generally higher.

Question four---Difficult to say except to state that an over all picture of Canadian life shows increased revenues and increased costs. It is quite likely the smaller M.D.'s would have been compelled to raise taxes also.

Question five---If the new proceeding general assessment is meant, no.

Question six--- The council would like to buy more road machinery but it is not available. They had a surplus of funds and put some of it into Victory Bonds so as to get the benefit of interest combined with adequate safety. There was also the patriotic motive.

Question seven--Assessors received instructions at Edmonton.

Question eight---Social Service Tax is now requisitioned by the government in a lump sum. Three mills just about covers the requisition. The requisition has to be paid whether all the taxes are paid or not.

Question nine---Secretaries received no municipal funds for wheat acreage reduction work. It was government money expressly intended for those who did the work.

Question ten---Most suitable method of transportation. This will be taken up in a special article published later.

Question eleven---To meet increased cost of living. Teachers are not yet over paid.

The chairman, Mr. Murray did an excellent job in handling the meeting which at different times tended to become boisterous. He called for adjournment about 11:45 p.m.

Sports Day Big Success

Opening with martial music played by a marching band and favored with fine weather, the Tofield Red Cross Sports day on Monday of this week, went off like a charm. The attendance was perhaps one of the largest in recent years and the attractions were well up to previous standards. As usual baseball was the major attraction with ladies' softball, foot races, horse shoe throwing, all having their supporters. The old time games were there and many got fun and some got profit from them. A new innovation was an archery contest.

One feature of the day, and a very pleasant one was the number of young fellows present who had returned from overseas. We probably did not notice them all but we did see Johnny Berald, Joe Kallal, Lee Burnett, John Moore, Ted Burnett, Bob Haycock, and Percy McIlratney.

Another feature of the day was the popping up of old timers who had left the town years ago. We noticed J. W. Carter of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hay of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Alf Chambers of Nanaimo, BC, and Mrs Pa[illegible] of Edmonton. An old timer, at least so far as the pitching box is concerned, was seen in the person of Howard (Scotty) Lee. He pitched a game for the locals.

BASEBALL

The tournament opened up with a game between McKenzie and Ryley. This was Ryley's unlucky day and McKenzie finished the seven inning game with a score of 10-0. Bill Mc[illegible] pitched for McKenzie and M. Murray was catcher. Don Bendixsen hurled for Ryley and Stan Solberg caught.

Tofield and Bardo then played a very close game, Tofield winning out by a score of 2-1. At times this game developed into a pitchers' duel at other times smart fielding saved the day. This is true of both teams. Lee pitched and Berald caught for Tofield, the battery for Bardo being Lampitt, pitcher and Schultz catcher.

Lakeshore and Ryley then took the diamond playing a close and interesting game. The battery for Lakeshore was Cunningham and Jones and for Ryley, Williams and Thomas. The score was 3-4 for Lakeshore.

The final game was between Tofield and McKenzie. Joe Kallal and J. Berald was the battery for Tofield and Phillips, Lee and Jones was the battery for Lakeshore. Tofield piled up a commanding lead in the early innings, Lakeshore scoring well in the later innings. The score was we believe, 9-8 for Tofield.

SOFTBALL

There were three good games of ladies' softball. In the first game, Kingman beat Miquelon Lake. In the second game, McKenzie beat Tofield and in the third game, Kingman beat McKenzie.

RACES

The usual foot races were run off and to the younger folk particularly, this was real fun.

THE BOOTH

The booth did a land office business. The problem was to get supplies, the people were clamoring to buy them. Hot dogs [illegible] and the booth was more like Mother Hubbard's cupboard at the close of the day than anything else.

THE GAMES

Hoop-la, Crown and Anchor, Milk bottle, all had their share of patrons. Some people won and those that didn't had fun anyway.

THE DANCE

As usual the dance was a "grand success." The hall was filled to capacity and all apparently were enjoying the music and dancing.

FINANCIALLY

There are no figures available yet but indications are that the day was a financial as well as in all other respects, a success.

The music played during the day by the Tofield band was much appreciated by those present. It livened up the proceedings and gave a festive atmosphere to the day.

HILLERUD—CZAR

Of [illegible] Ryley and Warwick districts was the marriage in the Bethel Lutheran Church at Ryley, of Miss Ka[illegible] Czar, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Czar of Warwick, to Gus Hillerud, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hillerud of Ryley. Rev. G. Ostrem officiated at the service.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore an afternoon gown of turquoise with brown accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Miss Beulah Hillerud as bridesmaid, wore an afternoon gown of pale yellow with harmonizing accessories and a corsage of [illegible]. Mr. Marvin Moen was best man.

The Road Ahead

A COLUMN FOR SERVICE PEOPLE

By William Stephenson

This week, we propose to try and cover the entire rehabilitation scheme. Space is limited, so we can not put in all the ifs, buts and whereases, but generally speaking the programme follows these lines.

At discharge, veterans get (a) $100 clothing allowance (b) transportation home (c) one month's extra pay, plus allowances (d) a complete medical and dental check-up.

About a month after discharge the average veteran gets his first Gratuity cheque. A veteran's War Service Gratuity is computed on the basis of his length and sphere of service: $7.50 for every month of service in Canada, $15.00 for every month of service overseas, seven days pay and allowances for every six months of service overseas. This is paid to him in monthly instalments until the amount is used up.

If a veteran left a job to join up, he has a right to go back to it, if he wants to. If the veteran wants a new job, he will get all the assistance he needs from the Dominion Employment Service. If it's a Civil Service spot he wants, and he is a pensioner or saw overseas service, he gets preference over civilians.

If the veteran needs training, he can take either vocational or university training, with all fees paid and living expenses taken care of. The living allowance is up to $60 a month for a single man, $80 for a man and wife and additional allowances for dependent children.

Should the veteran want land, there are three types of settlement provided. (1) Full-time farming—if qualified. (2) A home on a small plot of land outside town—if he has a steady job, or if he is an experienced commercial fisherman. A maximum of $6,000 is provided for these purposes.

Perhaps the veteran wants neither training nor land settlement. In this case the re-establishment credit is available. This is a grant, not a loan, and consists of $7.50 for each month of service in Canada, $15 for each month of service overseas. It may be used for (a) acquiring a home or reducing a mortgage (b) repairing a home (c) buying furniture (d) business capital (e) buying tools (f) buying a business (g) payment of premiums on a Government insurance policy.

While he awaits returns from a business or a farm a veteran is eligible, if single, for $50 a month or if married, for $70 with extra money for children. He is also eligible for out-of-work benefits, for unemployment insurance, hospital treatment and benefits while temporarily ill.

If the veteran receives a medical discharge, the Canadian Pension Commission decides if he is entitled to a pension. The Casualty Rehabilitation Section will help him find a job where he can be 100 per cent efficient.

On returning to his community, the veteran will find that citizens' committees have been set up to assist him in job and housing preference, with advice on careers and opportunities, legal problems, personal problems and so on. In post war Canada the veteran is going to play an important part and anything that will help him in his task will get an A 1 priority.

CHANNEL ISLANDS GRATEFUL FOR RED CROSS FOOD PARCELS

(The Prime Minister of Canada acknowledged Mr. Gardner's letter and forwarded it to the Canadian Red Cross.)

"CARFIN"
Victoria Road,
Guernsey.
New Year's Eve, 1944.

The Prime Minister,
Ottawa, Canada.

Sir,

As an ordinary "man-in-the street", an inhabitant of Guernsey, and at the time of writing under the occupation of German Troops, I write to thank you and the Canadian people for the first of our Red Cross parcels which I have received today, and I shall post this letter to you immediately we are relieved from this state, and again in touch with the outside world, from which we have been entirely cut off for seven months to date.

No doubt the Island's Bailiff, on behalf of the inhabitants will write you an official letter of thanks, but I would like you to know how just an "Ordinary Individual" feels about it all.

As you see, I have set myself a hard task, for mere words seem totally incompetent to express my heartfelt thanks for the timely arrival of this wonderful parcel, containing things we have not seen for such a long time and for which we were—in all truth—starving! From 11 stone in 1940 when the Germans first occupied the Island, I am now down to 8 st. 4 lbs., one of many similarly affected, but the contents of your Government's wonderful parcels will soon enable us all to "pick up again".

It has been a wonderful sight to see Channel Islanders—British subjects—going through the streets today, carrying home their Canadian Red Cross Parcels, many with faces streaming with tears of joy and gratitude. The unpacking of them has created us once again into veritable children for sheer excitement. Not only physically, but mentally the relief at receiving these parcels is tremendous—to know that one has that much longed-for "extra" after starvation rations.

Our next parcel will undoubtedly—we are informed—be one from New Zealand, but, welcome as it will certainly be, it is only natural that my first "thrill" will be that I experienced on receiving my Canadian parcel.

Unable to avoid repeating myself, I again say that no mere words can express my real feelings, and so—I can only say to you, your Government and your people . . . from the bottom of my heart . . .

Thank you! . . . and . . . God Bless you!

Yours sincerely grateful,
(Signed) Chas. W. Gardner.

May 9th, 1945: FREE AT LAST—thanks be to God—with our Troops taking over the Island this morning! Church bells are ringing, flags gaily flying and women openly weeping for sheer joy. What is a marvellous coincidence is that today we have another, and probably the last—issue of a Canadian Red Cross Parcel! We are all so happy again and so very grateful!

(Signed) C. W. Gardner.

(Excerpt from letter dated June 15th, 1945, from Mr. B. C. O'Neill, 16 Board Street, Jersey, Channel Islands, to Mr. T. W. O'Neill of Wychwood, P.Q.)

"During the occupation years we had a pretty lean time, especially from D-Day to VE-Day, and if it had not been for Canadian Red Cross parcels it is certain half the population would have starved. These parcels definitely saved our lives, so let the Canadians know this and tell them how grateful we all are."

LONDON. Until normal conditions are restored to European food production, Britons will tighten their belts still further. The following are some of the steps taken at the end of May to reduce the country's food stocks.

Sugar: This year's Christmas bonus of half a pound has been cancelled and other reductions necessary to bring Britain's stocks down by 100,000 tons will be made.

Oils and Fats: To be reduced by about 350,000 tons by the end of July, 1945.

Shredded Suet: To be rationed.

Soap: Stocks to be reduced by one-eighth except for young children and babies.

Bacon: Weekly ration to be reduced from four to three ounces.

Meat: British consumption will be down to 100 pounds per head in 1945 compared with 115 pounds in 1944.

GRATEFUL SALESMAN

A travelling salesman, whose territory is between New York and Rutland, Vermont, and a clerk in the Lost and Found Department at the Canadian National Railways' Central Station, Montreal, have decided they should be friends. The traveller boarded a train at New York bound for Rutland, carrying a case of valuable jewellry.

After alighting from the train, which soon sped into the night, the salesman realized that his valuable samples were still on the Montreal-bound express. After word was flashed to Montreal, the bag was discovered under a seat and returned on the next train by the clerk. "Nice chap to know," thought the salesman as he mailed his thanks with a $10.00 reward.

MINISTIK

The last Movie Picture Show was held at the Hall on Friday night, June 29th. It is to come back here in September. There was a good attendance at the show and a better one at the dance which followed.

Mr and Mrs. Stanley Williams of Edmonton were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Leach over the holiday week end.

John Baumgartner and family of Edmonton spent the holiday week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner.

Frank Baumgartner is doing a little breaking just now.

Mrs. C. Seacrest and daughter Mabel of Edmonton spent a few days visiting Mr. J. Heinze.

Rev. Larue and wife, Mr. R. Torrance, Miss Margaret Smith and Miss Margaret Latter were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leach on Sunday.

We were pleased to see Mr. Francis Dunn at the dance on Friday night. The Germans must have treated him well for we all thought he looked fat and healthy.

We are pleased to report that Frank Swabey is on the mend and hopes to be home again in the near future.

People of this district were pleased to hear that Leslie Rogers is out of the hospital and is coming along fine.

T.B., the Great White Scourge of former days, is being beaten by medical science. At the present time in Canada, even under crowded wartime conditions, the mortality rate is less than 52 per 100,000 people, while in 1926 it stood at 86.

KILL POTATO BEETLES NOW

The potato beetles are busy again, and should have their potato eating, egg laying activities checked without delay. Since one female potato beetle may lay 1000 eggs in a season, the destruction of one beetle now may result in a considerable saving of labour and crop at a later date.

Potato crops should be observed weekly, and sprayed or dusted as necessary to take care of successive hatchings. The following dusts recommended by J. L. Eaglesham, Supervisor of Pest Control, will be found effective:

1: Arsenate of lead, 1 part; Hydrated lime, 5 parts.
2. Arsenate of lime, 1 part; Hydrated lime, 10 parts.
3: Paris Green, 1 part; Hydrated lime 15 parts.

Any one of these mixtures may be dusted on the foliage of potato plants after a dew, using for this purpose a thin cloth or a real duster. A small hand duster is more effective and economical than the use of a cloth. Flour may be used in the mixture instead of hydrated lime.

Arsenate of lead, arsenate of lime, or Paris Green may also be made into sprays by leaving out the hydrated lime and adding water. Spraying cannot be done effectively with a sprinkling can. If a sprayer is not available, the dust method should be used. In addition to the poisons mentioned, several good proprietary dusts and sprays are on the market and may be obtained from your druggist or seedsman.

Full details of the preparation and use of dusts and sprays can be found in circular No. 62, "Control of Garden Pests in Alberta," which is available free of charge on application to the Extension Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

THERE'S ENOUGH IN THE SUGAR BOWL...

If we all share equally

We Canadians, together with the citizens of the United States and Great Britain, will eat less sugar during the balance of 1945.

To meet our own needs and the urgent requirements of our Allies and the liberated countries, our share of the reduction must total nearly 200,000,000 pounds of sugar during the rest of the year.

To assure fair distribution of what is left, the sugar ration is to be cut by five pounds during the next seven months by reducing the monthly allotment to one pound in June, July, August, October and December. In September and November, the allowance will remain unchanged at two pounds.

The ten pound sugar allotment for home canning, represented by twenty extra preserves coupons, remains unchanged. Two regular preserves coupons will continue to become valid each month.

ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS ABOUT SUGAR

Q. How does Canada get its share of world sugar supplies?
A. World stocks are pooled by the Combined Food Board of the United Nations which allots sugar to Canada, United States and Great Britain on a uniform per capita basis.

Q. Where does the rest of the world sugar supply go?
A. To other claimants, including liberated areas, European neutrals, Russia, the Middle East, New Zealand and other sugar-importing countries. Approximately one-half of this total is destined for liberated areas.

Q. Is there less sugar in the world today?
A. Yes. Because needs are up and production is down, world sugar stocks reached a new low at the beginning of 1945. By the end of the year, they will be down again, this time to a dangerous minimum.

Q. Why is there more demand for sugar?
A. The rising demand largely reflects the needs of liberated areas.

Q. Why is there less production?
A. World sugar output is lower for these reasons:
1. Enemy occupation of some sources such as Java and the Philippines. Java, of course, is still in Japanese hands and although the Philippines are liberated, production is not expected to be restored until late in 1946.
2. Other export countries have experienced serious shortages of labour and fertilizer.
3. Record drought conditions and hurricanes have also cut into production in the important West Indian area.

INDUSTRIAL AND QUOTA USERS WILL ALSO GET LESS

Effective July 1, 1945, sugar made available to industrial users, such as bakers, biscuit and breakfast cereal manufacturers, makers of soft drinks, confectionery and candy, and jam and wine manufacturers, will again be reduced.

A further cut is also being made in the allotment to quota users, such as public eating places, while similar reductions are being made by the Armed Forces in the sugar quotas for service personnel.

RATEPAYERS' MEETING—

SPEAKING WITH ONE OF those present at last Thursday night's meeting of ratepayers of the M.D. of Beaver held in the Lindbrook hall, the remark was made to us that the Mercury might have something to say regarding it. "But then," the speaker continued, "I suppose whatever you say will be wrong." To this statement we replied, "that is one of the hazards every newspaper must run." So, in commenting upon the meeting and the purpose for which it was called, all we ask for or desire is that our writing be taken in the spirit in which it is written, which is that of co-operation with the council to the ultimate well being of the ratepayers.

At the outset perhaps it is well to say we were never enamored with the immediate enlargement plan. We believed, and still do, that the chief advantages of changing from the nine township M.D.'s to those of twenty-seven townships or more, lie more in the future than in the present and that it would have been better to let the plan lay over until after the abnormal conditions created by war had at least partly subsided. But as the change over was done somewhat in the manner of a surgeon taking adhesive tape from the flesh, a quick sharp pull and the hurt is gone, there is nothing to do but to accept conditions as they are and shape up accordingly.

We have been privileged to attend almost every meeting of the M.D. of Beaver since its organization. The council as elected by the ratepayers, are well representative of Canadian citizenship. They take their duties seriously and certainly do not treat the rise in municipal and school taxation lightly. During the making up of the budget which is really an estimate of the year's expenditures, over and over again, reference is made to the possible mill rate with the idea that it should be kept down to the minimum. The subject is never treated lightly, it being the expressed desire of every councillor that the mill rate be made as low as possible. To offset the desire to keep municipal taxes down, there is the increasing demand by ratepayers for improved facilities, mostly but not altogether, connected with roads. Each councillor remembering the demands made upon him both in private conversation and delegations to council meetings, strive to effect the maximum of improvement, occasionally at unexpected cost. If, in his zeal for the well being of the ratepayers, the mill rate has to be raised, he hopes the ratepayers will understand. We do not mean by the above that that we are in accord with everything the M.D. of Beaver has done. As a matter of fact on some matters the councillors differ in opinion among themselves. It is not to be expected that you would find seven men with exactly the same view point on every subject. In this is to be found the essence of democratic principles, that different opinions are respected and that the majority rules. More often than not, but not necessarily always, the majority is right. The council of the M.D. of Beaver is just one among many thousands of Canadian public bodies which, under abnormal conditions, are endeavoring to conscientiously serve the ratepayers who elected them.

Municipal government is, with the passing of the years, becoming more complex. Increasing demands in the way of school requisitions have steadily risen. In this regard it is only fair to say that in some people's opinion the welfare of the child is the only worthwhile consideration. Consequently, if it is laudable and good business to dispose of schools like the old Ketchamoot school and have them replaced by schools like the present one, it must be remembered that this cannot be brought about without considerable expense. Health protection too, is something that has come into prominence in late years. Replacing the old time M.H.O., which at one time was the next thing to an honorary position, we now have health divisions with doctor and one or more nurses. There are increasing demands made upon municipal councils for the support of the aged and infirm, the partial hospitalization of ratepayers, grants to charitable and other worthy institutions, their percentage of old age pensions and Mothers' allowance, and besides a dozen and one other things that seem to creep into municipal affairs, including the newspaper which at least should be worth what it costs. There has recently been formed an agricultural committee which is the result of a recent act passed by the legislative assembly. This has involved the engaging of an agricultural weed supervisor, whose salary is paid by the Municipal District and the Provincial Government on a fifty-fifty basis. Facilities for travel will have to be provided if full benefit of the man's time is to be obtained, but if the weed menace is only half as bad as those qualified to judge tell us it is, and the employment of a weed agricultural supervisor is instrumental in keeping the weed menace in check, or even improving existing conditions, the innovation appears to be a wise one, even though it does cost some money.

To attempt to explain why taxes have risen except in general terms without recourse to a maze of figures would be futile. In general the cost of running a municipality has increased, and while some ratepayers would say you should dispense with this or dispense with that, it would be difficult to find any one thing upon which the ratepayers were unanimous. As an example, one ratepayer at Thursday night's meeting stated that in his belief the Health Unit was not worth what it costs. Another ratepayer immediately took issue and in a statement of services rendered and costs incurred, said that there were 3000 children in this health unit and it cost the ratepayers $2.00 a year per child for what health protection the health unit was able to give. In this year's budget there had to be included provision for a general assessment. This will cost in the neighborhood of $8000. It is something ordered by the Dept. of Municipal Affairs and which, if the M.D. of Beaver Council had had its way, would have been postponed until economic affairs became more stabilized.

Before concluding, we would like to say something concerning the M.D. of Beaver council's purchase of Victory Bonds. There was no mistaking the concensus of opinion at the meeting, namely that ratepayers should not be taxed so that the council may buy Victory bonds. Actually, Victory bonds purchased by the M.D. of Beaver were purchased with a double purpose. Firstly, there was a patriotic motive, and secondly, there was the investing of a considerable surplus in interest bearing securities of a high order. Perhaps strictly legally speaking, it is not the function of an elected Municipal council to buy Victory bonds with the ratepayers' money. Yet we can think of a goodly number of worse things they could do. For over twenty-five years we have been living in a town that has owed close to a hundred thousand dollars upon which interest had to be paid out. If we were living in a municipality that had close to a hundred thousand dollars owing it and upon which it was receiving interest, we certainly would not be complaining.

We do not consider it of paramount importance to mention that at this time the average farmer, due to his bettered financial condition, is well able to pay more, and readily agree that the mere ability to pay more is no justification to demand more. But we do consider it of paramount importance that ratepayers take an interest in the affairs of the municipality and come to know something of the thought and endeavor that goes on behind the scenes in order to make the municipality function at all. For some years now, the Mercury has tried to present a true picture of the council doings. Occasionally we have made some comment. When we have done so, we have expressed wholely and solely our own views without any direction from anyone. We do not pretend that we have done a one hundred per cent job, perhaps not even a good job, but we do know that any comment by us on municipal matters has been straightforward, honest and without guile.

DODDS

Mr. Harry Glassner left last week for Ohio to visit his four brothers after an absence of thirty-nine years. Mr. Glassner expects to be gone about one month.

At the Ryley Sports on June 27: Dodds Girls' baseball team won over the Ryley girls, 19-17.

The final baseball game at Ryley Sports was won by Dodds against Lakeshore, 5-3.

Miss Verna Gudmundson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo. Gudmundson of Dodds is taking a 5-week P.T. course at the Dominion-Provincial Youth Training Centre at Calgary in July.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Stauffer at the Royal Alex hospital, Edmonton, on Monday, July 2, a son, a little brother for Lawrence. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson and two children of La Glace, Alberta, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Kjarvog of Ryley and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Rude of Dodds.

Over fifty folks of this community met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Hjelter last Tuesday evening to honor Mrs. Elgin Cole, who, during her five year's stay here has helped in the Red Cross and the Ladies' Aid and other community projects. On behalf of the Red Cross, Mrs. A. J. Thorsley presented Mrs. Cole with a gift of chinaware, and Mrs. Hjelter presented her with a similar gift from the Trondhjem Ladies' Aid. In a few choice words, Mrs. Cole expressed her thanks and said that she would always cherish pleasant memories of Dodds.

Mr. E. A. Moen returned home on Saturday evening from attending a special meeting of the Alberta Wheat Pool, June 27-29th. He is the delegate for G 7.

Telegraphist Louis Johnston, Can. Navy, son of Mrs. Jim Johnston of Ryley, late of Dodds, is home on leave from Sidney, N.S. He was on the H.M.S. "Digby" minesweeping in the Atlantic. He has volunteered for Pacific duty.

Stoker 1st Class Lloyd MacDonald, Can. Navy, of Edmonton, stationed on H.M.S. "Frigate" Kirkland Lake, is visiting his uncle, Mr. Jim Johnson and other relatives in the Ryley and Dodds vicinity.

Although it is not generally known two other metals besides iron possess magnetic properties—nickel and cobalt. Canada is the world's greatest producer of nickel; the town of Cobalt in Ontario was named after the large deposits of the metal located there; and Steep Rock, a subterranean iron mine in Western Ontario which was only uncovered after the entire lake was diverted, is now producing iron which rivals the famous Swedish iron.

LONDON — Spoons and forks, plated according to a new British process, retain a lustre equal to silver without any treatment beyond washing in soap and water. This process called speculum-coating, has been developed by scientists. It can be applied simply and directly to any metal, giving exactly the appearance of silver. Tests have shown, however, that speculum-coated metal, which has the same reflectivity as silver articles when new, registers 400 per cent higher reflectivity in one month's exposure under identical conditions. Acids such as lemon juice and beer have absolutely no effect on its silver lustre. Other advantages of the coating are that it does not scratch or flake, even when articles are severely bent or twisted. It is so tough that an average coating of one two-thousandth of an inch is adequate to give excellent protection.

Speculum plating is already being used in the United Kingdom on a wide range of products including all types of household goods and fittings.

A quick method of converting ordinary cargo ships into refrigeration vessels utilizing the naturally low temperature of the Atlantic Ocean together with an easily installed insulating material, was the idea of a Canadian scientist.

Canada is the world's greatest producer of pulp and paper.

Pulhems, the system of physical and mental classification used by the Canadian Army, has been of great value in personnel selection.

Maybe, now, you'd like a Tractor...

Queenie and Dobbin have done a fine job and their useful day is not yet past.

But maybe you want to speed up your farm operations with tractor ploughing, cultivating, seeding and harvesting.

Maybe you want to do many things for the improvement of your farm . . . repair your barn or build a new one, fix up the fencing or drainage, buy a new bull to build up the quality of your herd, install an electric system or improve the present one.

And what about seed, feed and fertilizer? What about your livestock? All these things need money—more money, probably, than your bank balance will allow. If that's the case with you, call on the manager of our local office and discuss, in confidence, your financial needs. You will like the kind of consideration he will give your plans and problems.

A dye for mixture with tank paints to indicate the first presence of mustard gas, was one of the first war orders filled by the National Research Council of Canada. The dye, in use under the most difficult conditions, turns cold when mustard gas is present, enabling infantrymen to don gas masks.

The Paint Laboratory of the National Research Council is responsible for a new anti-condensation coating for the underside of ships' bulkheads—a non-inflammable, cheap paint which breaks up water drops before they can condense, thus preventing water from dripping on the sailors.

WEDDING

GOOD—KING

Rev. J. B. Stauffer solemnized the marriage on Thursday, June 21st, at 2:30 of Miss Hilda Marie King, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. Jake King and Mr Lloyd Good of Arcadia Valley, Alta. Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was gowned in brocaded white taffeta.

Her bridesmaids, Miss Beulah Good, sister of the groom and Miss Marjorie Yoder, cousin of the bride, wore identical gowns of peach crepe. The groomsmen were Messrs. Leonard King, brother of the bride, and Aaron Hostetler. After the wedding ceremony a wedding supper was served for about 200 guests at the home of the bride. Those attending from a distance were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Good and family.

The home was beautifully decorated with white and peach gladioli and centred with a three tiered wedding cake. The dining room was decorated with white and peach streamers, also [illegible] and [illegible].

They were the recipient of many beautiful gifts, among them being a set of silverware from the bride's parents and wool bed throw from the groom's parents, and a dinner set from the young people.

The happy couple are spending their honeymoon at Carstairs and Banff after which they will reside on the farm at Arcadia Valley.

For travelling the bride chose a [illegible] suit. Best wishes of the community are extended to them.

YODER—ROTH

The marriage of Miss Lady Elberta Roth and Mr Wayne Yoder was solemnized in a Sunday evening ceremony at the Mennonite church. Bishop J. B. Stauffer officiating.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mr and Mrs Lee Roth. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Yoder. The bride was lovely in a white sheer supper length gown. Her bridesmaids, Miss Edna Wideman, cousin of the bride, and Miss Erna [illegible] Roth, were dressed in pink and [illegible] respectively, both wearing slipper length gowns. The best men were Mr Ernie Good of Carstairs, and Leonard Wideman. After the ceremony the happy couple left for a few weeks honeymoon in Ontario. For her going away costume, the bride chose a jersey silk dress and a navy top coat with black accessories. A reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents, July 20th at 8 o'clock.

SLABAUGH—MITCHELL

At the home of Bishop J. B Stauffer occurred the marriage of Rev Dan Slabaugh of Guernsey, Sask., and Mrs Mitchell of Duchess, Alta., at 8 p.m. on Saturday evening. They are spending their honeymoon at Carstairs, Alta., attending the church conference, and later visiting the bride's mother in Wash. U.S.A. A wedding supper was served to 50 guests.

KENNEDY—LATAM

The wedding of Mrs. W. Jane Latam and Mr. James Kennedy was solemnized at McKernan Lake Community Hall on June 30th, at 2:00 p.m. The Rev. Alex Stewart officiated.

The bride was gowned in sheer mauve with matching hat and brown accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations. Her attendants were her sister-in-law and Mrs. Fred Orton. Both were gowned in navy blue and wore corsages of red carnations.

The groom was supported by the bride's brothers, Mr. H. H. Phillips and Mr R. C. Phillips of Tofield. The flower girl, Miss Sharon Lee Brathe, great grand-daughter of the bride was dressed in white and carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

After the wedding, a reception was held in the hall.

Those attending were. Rev. Stewart, Mr and Mrs. R. Patterson, Mrs. A Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. W. Pollard, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Campbell, Mrs. Tom Bourne and son, Mrs. Sally Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. J McCaffery, Mr James Ackley, Mr and Mrs. D. Buchanan, Mr. Wm. Hay, Mrs. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Fee and son, Mrs Bringes, Mr. J. Sweeney, Mr. Chas A Barbner. The bride's son and daughter-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Owen Eaton of Tofield, her grandchildren, Mr and Mrs. W. S. Campbell, Cpl and Mrs. Leslie Herndon, Mrs. Kenneth Brathe and Miss Rita Eaton, the great grandchildren, Edith Edna, Elsie, William, Marie, Lorna, and Dale Campbell, Charles, Ivy, Irene, Audrey, Jean and Joyce Herndon, and Miss Sharon Lee Brathe, one niece, Miss Daisy Phillips. The evening ended with dancing, music being supplied by Ronald Telford and his orchestra.

MINISTIK

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES JULY 15, 1945

Looma Vista	11:00 a.m.
S. Cooking Lake	3:00 p.m.
Ministik	8:30 p.m.

Although this is a bit late now (the news department having broken down last week) the Ministik Young People's went down to Lakeview Saturday evening, June 30th, for a little ball, and also to meet the guest preacher, Mr. Gerald Larue and Mrs. Larue. After refreshments, the party sat around the fireplace, and in the expansive mood encouraged by such surroundings, swapped a few good tales. Altogether, it was a very pleasant evening. The Young People have decided to meet each week from now on, except when announced otherwise. There will be a meeting this coming Tuesday. All young people who can come are welcome.

Last Monday saw the Ministik Community picnic, held at Swabey's beach, Cooking Lake. It was a perfect day for a picnic, and the fact that this was the first community picnic for a year or two, made it all the more enjoyable. The ladies provided very fine lunches, there was some good (?) ball, and some very fine races. In the ladies' rolling pin throwing contest, Mrs. Frank Baumgartner proved herself away out in front in this department. Better watch your step, Frank! All in all, it was one of the finest picnics we've seen.

By this time Miss Joan Hennessy has completed her first week at the summer session of the University. Mr. Hennessy is having a little visit in Calgary with his father and two brothers. It is the first such reunion for them in over thirty years. Mr. Hennessy Sr. has been a visitor here for the past few weeks, returning to his home in Calgary last week.

We are sorry to see that Bobbie Barber has had an accident with his arm. Though apparently no bones were broken, having his arm in a sling decidedly put a crimp in Bobbie's fun at the picnic last Monday.

Good news is Frank Swabey's return home from Edmonton along with Mrs. Swabey and young Laurence.

Mrs. Patterson of Winnipeg, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Davenport, was expected here during the week for a visit at the Davenport's.

Today is the big day for the Swabey's of Ministik and the Lawrences of Edmonton, and Laurie and Ronnie in particular. As the wedding bells ring merrily today, all friends in Ministik and district join in wishing these two God's blessing and every happiness in the years that lie ahead. Best wishes, Laurie and Ronnie!

Gerald LaFever is at present visiting at the Grummett's. Gerald has now received his discharge and is enjoying a well-earned vacation.

The regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Leech with 7 members present, on June 20th. The meeting opened with the singing of "Good Luck". Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, correspondence was read and discussed. Letters from Don and Frank Grummet and Eric Barber, telling us they received their parcels O.K. were read by the secretary. Roll call was answered by the name of a horse on your farm. Margaret Oliver gave us a very interesting report on her week spent at the Farm Young People's Week. Meeting adjourned. A social half hour and a nice lunch brought another pleasant meeting to a close.

On July 4th the regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Oliver with 5 members present. The meeting opened with the singing of "God Bless Our Canada." Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. A letter from Steele was read, thanking us for his parcel which arrived on his birthday. Roll call was "whistle the first line of your favorite tune." Steve gave us his report on his week spent at Farm Young People's Week which was enjoyed by all. Meeting adjourned. An hour spent in games and a nice lunch closed our evening.

LINDBROOK

Flight Lieut. Martin Shpha was a visitor at the Richardson home on Sunday. He has made 48 trips.

P. J. Warkentine has been sawing lumber this week for his new house on the Jobb place.

F. Gould is sawing lumber.

A number of friends were at the Goubault home Sunday to meet Robert.

The members of the Chemistry I class were all successful, which is as much a relief to their teacher as to the members.

Lars Olson and Arkie Richardson are serving an apprenticeship at building on the A. J. Harrison house.

Jean Schmalzbauer and Anne Ewart left for Olds for the summer Tuesday. They will attend the Calgary Stampede, the Ewart brothers are also attending.

Mr. Hooper's grandsons from Edmonton are visiting her this week.

A fine crowd met at the Hall Monday to welcome home Sandy Scott and his bride. We wish them well.

Delegation Interview Minister Re North Road

On Thursday last, a delegation, composed of E. Geoglein, Geo. McFadzean, R. Murray, A. Steen, J. Swabey, G. Walker and W. Worton, interviewed the Minister of Public Works, Hon. W. A. Fallow with reference to gravelling the north road, thus connecting the Edmonton-Wainwright highway and the Edmonton-Vegreville highway. The "north road" runs north from Tofield school. The party were introduced by Mr. Floyd Baker, M.L.A.

The Minister gave an attentive and courteous hearing to the argument presented that the road be taken over by the government and made a secondary highway.

He replied that much would have to be done. The road allowance would have to be made wider, which would mean the acquiring of land on one or perhaps both sides of the road. His chief difficulty now is the scarcity of civil engineers. He now has projects to which the department is committed, held up due to lack of engineers.

He promised to give it his attention and send an engineer down to look the road over in the very near future, which we (The Mercury) understand that he has already done.

TOWN COUNCIL

Met Tuesday, July 3, 1945 at 8 p.m. Members present: Mayor Ewitt, Councillors Francis, Scott, Patterson, Kalial and Allan.

Approved minutes of last meeting on motion of Councillor Patterson.

Communications. Alta. Assessment Commission attaching order that appeal of Alta. Wheat Pool against assessment of their dwelling, had been sustained at the figure set by the Court of Revision.

Dept. of Municipal Affairs advising that Equalized Assessment had been reduced from $[illegible] to $[illegible], valid until further notice.

Board of Public Utility Commissioners approving the estimates for the current year. An appointment had been previously arranged with them, and Councillor Scott and the Secretary-Treasurer had attended and received a very appreciative hearing outlining the financial position of the town. The Board of Commissioners advised that they were taking the matter up with the debenture holders and would in turn let us know their progress.

W. H. B. Sharp, Calgary, stating that he expects to be able to take over the operation of the Variety Theatre about the end of July or early August. Council were quite willing that he do so. Verbal notice had accordingly already been given to the operator who comes to Tofield weekly.

Dept. of Municipal Affairs, Collection Dept.: offering to accept $[illegible] as a compromise of arrears of Social Services Taxes accumulated during the years 1936 to 1943. Council were still of the opinion that the arrears are no responsibility of the Town, but in order to give the Dept. the benefit of the doubt as to any collections which might have been made and not remitted, we offer them $150.00 in full settlement.

Lot 32, Block 6, Plan 9200 S was sold to Mrs. Annie Gerzanich at $25.

Lot 10, Block 10, Plan 9200 S was sold to Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd., for $150.00.

Lot 19, Block 7, was sold to Searle Grain Co. Ltd. for $25.00.

Auditor's Statement to May 31, and the June Statement by the Secretary-Treasurer was ordered incorporated in the minutes, and accounts passed for payment on motion of Councillor Scott.

A. Tomko made application to open up a Shoe and Harness Repair Shop on Lot 32 Block 11, Plan 9200S. Council had no objection and the Lot could be sold to him at $50.00.

Some discussion took place concerning garbage collection and Council were appreciative of the co-operation of most of the ratepayers in providing containers. A few however, have not done so, and the secretary was instructed to insert a notice in the local paper asking that containers be provided.

A letter is to be sent to the Dept. of Public Works asking them to take over the fourteen miles of secondary road which links Highways 14 and 15.

Meeting adjourned.

I.O.D.E NOTES

We wish to thank the citizens of the town and country who bought stamps from the I.O.D.E. ladies in the various stores on Provincial War Stamp Day, June 29th. The Stamp sales were lower than in 1941 as due to various reasons there were fewer people in town that day. However we are grateful to all who bought stamps and trust the monthly sales of War Stamps will receive added support.

The members of the Dr. Tofield Chapter, I.O.D.E. are planning to make Personal Comfort Bags for Service Women Overseas and to donate articles to fill same as in 1944. Will members take notice that the bags are to be ready for shipment by the September meeting. Thank you

SCOTT—OLIVER

The marriage of Irene Annie Oliver, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs Stanley Brown, to Mr. Alexander Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Scott of Lindbrook, was solemnized at the United Church in Tofield on June twenty-seventh, at three o'clock. Rev. Allan officiated.

Miss Betty Stinson was the pianist. The church was prettily decorated with lilacs and honeysuckle.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage.

The groom was supported by his friend, Walter Lindgren. The ushers were Gordon Ray and Kenneth Oliver, cousin and brother of the bride.

The bride was daintily attired in a floor length, white sheer gown, with shoulder length chapel veil and pink coronet style bridal wreath. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Her maid of honor, Miss Muriel Ray, cousin of the bride, wore a floor length white sheer over blue, with blue accessories, and carried a bouquet of snapdragons.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. The dining room was decorated with a large white bell and streamers of white and mauve, and bouquets of lilacs. At the bride's table were seated, the bride and groom and their attendants. The tea service was presided over by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Peter Lee, who wore powder blue crepe with navy accessories. The bride's mother wore gold crepe with brown accessories, and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a gray suit with white accessories and corsage of pink carnations.

A delicious lunch was served to some seventy five guests. The toast to the bride was proposed by the bride's uncle, Mr. Roger Ray, and ably replied to by the groom.

The happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to Banff. The bride chose a tan suit with brown accessories and top coat for her going away costume.

The young couple will make their home in the Lindbrook district.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. R. H Thomas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Logan, Miss Betty Lee and Miss Nola Cookson of Edmonton and Mr. Gillies of Ardrossan.

HAGEN—BERILD

Peonies in shades of red, pink, and white, banked the chancel of the Central Lutheran Church, Edmonton, Tuesday, for the marriage of Bertie Berild, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Berild, of Stromsund, Sweden, and Mr Palmer Hagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hagen of Camrose, Alta. Rev. M. S. Johnson performed the ceremony.

Mr. Ole Berild, the bride's brother, gave her away.

For her marriage, Miss Berild's gown was white satin, styled simply with long tapering sleeves, a high rounded neckline, and full skirt. Her fingertip veil of misty blue tulle was gathered to her head and secured at either side with a cluster of cream rose buds and pink sweet peas. She carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Miss Alfrida Berild was her sister's bridesmaid. She was frocked in pale yellow sheer, with a chapel veil and carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli and mauve sweet peas

Best man was Mr. Harold Ellenloaf, of Donalda, and ushering the guests to their places were P.O. John Berild, RCAF, just returned from overseas, and Mr. Albert Mayo of Edmonton.

Organist was Mrs Albert Mayo

Forty guests attended a reception held later at the Corona hotel, where Miss Freda Stauffer and Miss Jean Baptist received with the wedding party.

Leaving for Calgary and Banff, Mrs. Hagen wore a three piece gabardine suit of smoke blue, black accessories, and a corsage of cream roses.

The couple will be at home shortly at Donalda.

Messages of congratulations included a cablegram from Mrs. Hagen's parents in Sweden.

Out of town guests included Mr and Mrs E. A. Moen, Mr. and Mrs. S. Pearson, Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Jahrstud, Mr. and Mrs. C. Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. J. Jacobson, all of Tofield; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roberts of Innisfail, Mrs. H. Holmberg of Rose land, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Albers of Edberg, Mr. Frank Johnstud of Tofield and Miss Donalda Pearson of Tofield.

DEVILLE

Miss Eileen Morrow has returned home from the hospital after being there for some weeks due to illness. Glad to see you back Eileen, hoping we see you walking again soon.

Quite a few from around attended the [illegible] at Uncas last Friday. A ball game between Garden and Deville was played, the score being 21-0 in favor of Deville.

Last Sunday two games were played at the Deville ball diamond. First a game between Weslake and Deville, score, 14-12 in favor of Weslake. The second game was played between Weslake and Mundare, score 8-5, again Weslake being the winning team.

We are sorry to report that Kay Goslin had the misfortune to fall off a horse last Friday. She was unconscious for half an hour, but was fortunate not to have any bones broken.

Deville boys took down to Uncas Sunday, July 8th, to play ball against Garden. The score was 11-10 in favor of Garden. Better luck next time, Deville.

Those that spent the week-end of July 1st at home were Peggy and Jean Morrow, Helen Stefiuk, Irene [illegible] and Jean Coats accompanied by a girl friend.

Miss [illegible] Stephens from the city week-ended at the Stefiuk home.

George Goslin from the Navy is home on leave. He will leave for the Pacific shortly.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunn (nee Ellen Morrow) a baby girl. Congratulations.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Emery Phillips, a baby boy. Congratulations.

Mrs. M. Kn[illegible] (nee Eva Shanks) and baby Sharon, are holidaying at the home of Mrs Shanks.

Can't Eat Your Tractor and Have It Too

BY JOHN GOULD IN THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

A fellow up the back road a piece is in an awful fix. This fellow is of the old school and he is consequently smart. Most of the things he knows are so. And he believes with some justification that oxen are the only fit power plant for a farm. Oxen put, in the language of the [illegible] and Angus breeders, oxen have a salvage value. They can be changed in to steaks, roasts and stew [illegible] than you can wink, and [illegible] of the plowing, sowing, and reaping they have contributed is chalked up as net profit and you also have money in the bank.

Horses and tractors do not lend themselves to this necromancy, and this farmer eschews them on that account. He also points out that horses need harness at an added expense, and tractors do not stop when you thump them on the nose with a stick and yell. This man continues to do his farm work with steers except that various conditions now prevalent seem to have dealt him a low blow.

Last fall, just as this fellow was going to lay out some work for the winter, a man drove into his yard and said he was looking for a handy yoke of steers, something not too heavy, but clever enough to yard a little wood. The fall is sometimes [illegible] a good time to dispose of a yoke, because somebody else will then have the pleasure of feeding them all winter, and if you dispose of sufficient head you may have some [illegible] hay to sell in March. But our friend said he wouldn't sell his cattle.

The visitor expostulated, waved his arms, paraded [illegible], and finally brought out his wallet and laid $450 on the kitchen table. Our friend wiped the tears from his eyes and shoved the money in his pocket whereupon they went out and loaded the yoke on a truck.

Now this buyer was a liar. He was also a meat peddler and he spent the $450 with every expectation of profit and every intention of beefing the creatures, and no intention [illegible] world of yarding any wood. Not long ago he was in this vicinity again and he bought a veal that weighed [illegible] pounds including tail and hide, and he cleared said veal with the OPA and then journeyed into a nearby county and sold over 900 pounds of meat off this veal including [illegible], lamb, fowl, frankfurters, pickled pigs feet and stifling beef.

In the meantime, some of the farmers have awakened to this opportunity, and some are honest, and some are patriotic, and some don't ask questions. Anything faintly resembling lord beast or fish [illegible] to draw a crowd, and they say shipyarders stand up and bid against each other for a piece out of the [illegible]. Causes and effects need no discussion here, even if the principles of this publication permitted such shooting, but it is interesting to consider what has happened to our friend up on the back road.

All his life he's been taught that oxen, after their draft days are over, are properly bestowed [illegible]. All his life [illegible] work, [illegible] buying a new yoke [illegible] —believing [illegible] sensible [illegible] ed by [illegible] lieved that [illegible] said he wanted [illegible] he wanted to yard [illegible] ways before [illegible] round, he said he wanted to buy some [illegible] f. Never before have [illegible] assembled.

A year [illegible] time to sow. [illegible] of the back road began, [illegible] looking for a likely yoke, [illegible] but not too heavy, for his work. And everywhere he went he [illegible] the butcher had already [illegible]. All those who still had steers for sale were willing to part with them at prices comparable to [illegible] played by the men who came around after dark. Whenever our friend asked about buying steers he was [illegible] "Legal, or Black Market?"

Naturally he said legal, because he wanted to plow—but soon he found that the price was always [illegible] who wants to plow [illegible] isn't technically in the [illegible] category, and neither [illegible] market. In between is a [illegible] system of rules and regulations [illegible] a fellow going north doesn't [illegible] what time the train pulls out for the south. A fellow looking for a yoke of good, old fashioned steers for plowing seems to be the unhappy victim of circumstances, and [illegible] on the back road is [illegible] about it.

[illegible] maddest of all [illegible] sneering and snide remarks [illegible] quest. The once [illegible] straightforward [illegible] of buying some neat cattle for draft is now a shifty, sneaky, [illegible] traffic, and everywhere [illegible] in his honest way [illegible] he's a crook, and ought to be [illegible] as a saboteur and a comforter of the enemy.

VETERANS' QUALIFICATIONS COMMISSION STARTS PROVINCIAL HEARINGS

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister [illegible] announced that the Royal Commission on Veterans' Qualifications began on Monday (June 25th) its series of sittings at [illegible] provincial capitals by [illegible] Toronto.

Since [illegible] meeting in Ottawa early in May, the Commission has been [illegible] at Montreal where it has established headquarters.

[illegible] the Commission will confer with Provincial representatives of the educational authorities. It is expected that the Commission will [illegible] sittings in time to resume in Vancouver on July 3rd. The Commission will then travel back east, [illegible] the capitals in turn.

Headed by Dr. Wilfrid Bovey of McGill University and the Canadian Legion Educational Services, the Commission is recommending upon the granting of credits in civil life, whether in employment or in educational courses, for the training received by Canada's Armed Services [illegible]. Already the Royal Commission has submitted to the Labour [illegible] nearly 300 recommendations for the use in civilian pursuits, [illegible] with the Services, and as well the Commissioners have submitted an interim report of [illegible] pages, reviewing the field of their enquiry.

The [illegible] will be accompanied [illegible] by the liaison officers from the three branches of the Armed Services and the Legion, who have been participating in the enquiry.

The Commission will sit in Edmonton Tuesday, July 10th to Thursday, July 12th.

THREE MASQUETEERS

The three men chiefly responsible for CBC's new Trans-Canada network summer series of drama-fantasies, "Once Upon A Time," which began Sunday, June 3, at 5.00 p.m. CDT., are here, as our whimsical artist has caught them. Left to right: Roy Locksley, conductor; Esse Ljungh, producer; and Ray Darby, author. While the quaint figures of Darby's fancy float about in the pictorial stratosphere, Locksley wields his baton, Ljungh consults his stop-watch and Darby shoulders a mighty pen.

THIS, TOO, SHALL PASS AWAY

A mighty monarch in the days of old
Made offer of high honor, wealth and gold
To one who should produce in form concise
A motto for his guidance, terse, yet wise;

A precept soothing in his hours forlorn,
Yet one that in his prosperous days would warn,
Many the maxims sent the king, men say,
The one he chose, "This, too, shall pass away."

Has some misfortune fallen to your lot?
This, too, will pass away, absorb the thought
And wait—your waiting will not be in vain,
Time gilds with gold the iron links of pain.

The dark today leads into light tomorrow;
There is no endless joy, no endless sorrow,
Only the sunny soul respects its God.
Since life is short, we need to make it broad;

Since life is brief, we need to make it bright;
Then keep the old king's motto well in sight,
And let its meaning permeate each day
Whatever comes—"This, too shall pass away."

LAGGING APPETITES TEMPTED WITH EASILY MADE DISHES

What is more maddening than to spend hours in a hot kitchen preparing meals for a family that merely picks at them with the excuse that "it's too hot to eat."

The solution is to plan meals that are easy on the cook and at the same time tempt family's lagging appetite.

Today's recipes from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture were chosen with these points in mind. The Cream Scones, quicker to make than cake and much easier on sugar, are at their best when oven fresh. But they may be baked in the cool of the morning and will reheat beautifully in the top of the double boiler or in a pan fitting into the top of the tea kettle.

CREAM SCONES

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
OR 2¼ cups sifted pastry flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
2 teaspoons sugar
Half teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons mild-flavoured fat
1 egg
Half cup milk

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Work in fat with a pastry blender, fork or fingertips. Reserve a small amount of the egg white, beat the rest of the egg and add with the milk. Toss dough on a floured board, pat and roll ¾ inch thick. Cut in squares, diamonds or triangles. Slightly beat the egg white, dilute with 1 teaspoon water and brush over tops of scones. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees F, about 15 minutes. Makes 16 small scones.

CHEF'S SALAD, HONEY DRESSING

2 heads green leaf lettuce
2 green onions
10 radishes
4 hard cooked eggs
1 cup diced cooked meat

Break lettuce into small pieces. Slice onions, radishes and hard cooked eggs. Add meat and honey dressing; mix lightly. Six servings.

HONEY DRESSING

Mix thoroughly:
⅓ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons honey
Half teaspoon salt
One-eighth teaspoon pepper
Half teaspoon dry mustard

IVORY CREAM

1 tablespoon gelatine
One-quarter cup cold water
1 cup boiling water
One-third cup sugar
1 egg yolk
One-eighth teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup top milk or light cream
1 egg white

Soak gelatine in cold water 5 minutes. Dissolve sugar in boiling water, add to gelatine and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add beaten yolk, salt and vanilla to top milk. Add to hot gelatine mixture. Cool until thick but not completely set, then beat with a rotary egg beater until light and frothy. Fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Pour into a mould and chill until firm. Serve with crushed fresh fruit. Six servings.

MEAT WILL BE RATIONED

One and one third pounds of meat per person per week will be the new ration to Canadian consumers on resumption of meat rationing shortly, says Prices Board Chairman Donald Gordon.

It is expected to take nearly two months to get the machinery for meat rationing again in order, but commercial slaughtering controls came into effect, Monday, July 2. On Friday, July 13, the Prices Board again will introduce Canadians to meatless days in restaurants, scheduled for Tuesdays and Fridays. Housewives also will be asked to co-operate in conserving meat on these days.

Announcements forecast all meats and meat products will be covered in the new Canadian ration. Plastic tokens will be introduced to cover smaller purchases of meat, according to the Ration Administration.

Former meat ration in Canada of two pounds per person per week, designed to ensure equitable distribution, rather than conserve supplies. Shipping lines and refrigeration facilities then limited wholesale shipments of meat overseas. Now Canada is pledged to share her abundant meat supplies with the liberated countries of hungry, war-torn Europe.

BANKS TO PERFORM ANOTHER SERVICE

Toronto, July 3—"Starting sometime this month the banks, through their branches all over Canada, are called upon to perform still another service to the public. They must and will be ready to negotiate the new government cheques issued under the Family Allowances legislation," said S. M. Wedd, President of The Canadian Banker's Association, in a statement issued here.

"Official estimate is that 1,466,000 individual cheques will be issued by the government each month," he continued. "Most of these cheques will be presented at the branch banks for encashment or deposit.

"All government cheques are cashed by the banks without charge.

"The banks willingly accept this added opportunity for serving Canadians many of whom, perhaps, for the first time, will come into contact with the banks and with the useful services they perform.

"We shall welcome all of these people and aim to cash Family Allowance cheques with speed and efficiency. At the same time it is my duty to stress the need of the banks for co-operation on the part of all who receive these cheques.

"Recipients of Family Allowance cheques can help themselves and the banks by remembering four simple requirements:

1. The need for proper identification at the bank.
2. The need to make sure that cheque is correctly endorsed.
3. The need to guard against losing cheque after endorsing and before cashing it.
4. The importance of going to the bank in the morning hours if possible.

"First of all, of course, is identification, a bank must be sure that the person presenting the cheque is the right person; therefore, if the holder of a Family Allowance cheque is not known in the local bank, he or she should take into the bank when presenting it, somebody who is known in the branch. This will help to obviate delay and misunderstanding.

"Next, is the endorsement on a cheque—it must be endorsed exactly as it is made out to the payee; after it is endorsed the payee should take no chances of losing it or having it stolen before it is cashed.

"Recipients can help very greatly also by using the banks during the easier hours of the day rather than during their busiest hours.

"No doubt many cheques will reach the banks through merchants who cash them for their own known customers. Merchants and storekeepers would be well advised to make sure of the identification of any person offering a cheque and to make sure also that the cheque is endorsed exactly as it is made out."

ERGOT OF CEREALS AND GRASSES

(Science Service News)

During the last three or four years, the occurrence of ergot in cereals and grasses has been frequently reported in the Prairie Provinces. Rye is the most susceptible cereal, but barley, wheat (especially the durums), and sometimes oats are also attacked. Brome, couch (twitch), Western rye, and many other cultivated and native grasses often become infected. Recent tests, says A. M. Brown, made at the Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Winnipeg, have shown that the ergot attacking cereals is the same as the one affecting the grasses. This is important, because the ergot produced on grasses is a source of infection for cereals.

In infected plants, hard, horn-like, purplish-black growths, called sclerotia or ergot bodies, develop in the heads. These bodies are highly poisonous to man and beast. By the time an infected crop matures, many of them have already fallen to the ground. The rest remain on the plants and get mixed with the seed or are blown out with the straw when the crop is threshed. Ergotty grain should not be used for human food or fed to livestock, and livestock should not be fed or have access to the straw of an infected crop or heavily contaminated hay.

Ergot bodies that fall to the ground lie dormant there all winter, those mixed with the seed are distributed over the field when the seed is sown. Both germinate about the time grasses and cereals are in flower, and produce slender stalks at the tips of which are borne small round knobs. In these knobs are numerous needle-like spores that are shot out into the air and are carried by the wind to the plants. The spores come in contact with the flowers and infect them. The result is that the infected florets produce ergot bodies instead of kernels.

There are three important methods of controlling ergot, all of which should be practised. The first is to prevent ergot bodies from forming on grasses growing on waste land and along fences and road allowances. Such grasses should be cut when in the flowering stage or shortly afterwards. The second is to plough down after harvest the ergot bodies that fall to the ground. The third is to sow seed that is free of ergot bodies.

Most of the larger bodies can be separated from the seed by the ordinary cleaning methods, but small or broken ones are more difficult to get rid of. The most effective way of eliminating them is to immerse the seed in a strong brine, made by adding 40 pounds of common salt to 25 gallons of water. The bodies float to the surface and can then be skimmed off. Immediately afterwards, the seed must be thoroughly washed in water and spread out to dry, otherwise injury to germination is likely to result from the salt of the brine.

CANADA THISTLE SERIOUS PROBLEM IN THIS AREA

RIGHT NOW Canada thistle is a very serious problem in grain fields in this area. Since Canada Thistle is a perennial and establishes root system in a previous year, it has come well ahead of the grain, which is suffering from lack of moisture. If these plants are examined, it will be noticed that buds are being formed and very soon they will flower. It is strongly recommended, where the patches are thick that the Thistles be cut with a mower so as to prevent formation of seed and infestation of new areas. It should be kept in mind that the weakest state of Canada Thistles is during flowering stage. That is why we strongly urge everyone to cut dense patches of Thistles whenever possible.

Report No. 27, Weeds and Their Control states as follows:

"The eradication of Canada Thistle entails the exhaustion of the food reserves in the root. In the spring these roots are quite thick and fleshy. As the season progresses, some of the food reserves are used in the development of the plant, and it has been found that there is a gradual reduction in the size and weight of the root system until the flowering period has been reached. From then until freeze-up, plant food is again stored in the roots so that they go into the winter in a thick, fleshy condition, similar to their spring appearance.

POLYMERIZED

PURITY "99" MIRACLE GASOLINES

MEANS . . .

ECONOMY

"Polymerization" of Purity and Miracle "99" gasolines means extra mileage — as much as 12% by actual test—because the uniform molecules produced by the process give smoother, cooler operation.

PERFORMANCE

"Polymerized" gasoline achieves higher octane standards with a lower lead content. Your motor operates closer to its rated capacity at lower temperatures, with a notable improvement in all-round performance.

LONGER MOTOR LIFE

Marked improvement in carburetion given by "polymerized" gasoline, with cooler motor operation mean longer life for your motor. "Polymerized" gasoline reduces the danger of burned valves.

Okinawa: Grim Preview of Japan

By JOHN BEAUFORT in the Christian Science Monitor

In their 82 embattled days on Okinawa, fighting men of the United States Tenth Army experienced a harsh preview of the defense which may be expected when the time comes to assault Japan. In at least four major respects, the Okinawa campaign produced evidence which well may affect the tactics to be used for the invasion of the Japanese homeland.

We now know that our early estimates were from 25 to 40 per cent under the number of Japanese troops in the Okinawa garrison. We discovered early that our heavy artillery weapons were closely matched by the defenders who surprised us with their volume of fire.

Although the enemy was expected to fulfill his promise to send out mass attacks by suicide pilots, our naval losses of 9,731 men and an unannounced number of ships were perhaps even heavier than anticipated.

These facts are on the hard side.

We also found that before flame and explosion had turned southern Okinawa's green hills a naked, haggard gray, Japanese troops were surrendering in batches. A single day's bag of prisoners reached an estimated 1,700 and the total now is about 10,000. These capitulations are not yet fully interpreted in their relation to an eventual landing on Nippon, but they do evidence a crack in the Japanese warrior's mental armor.

Early in the campaign, Lieut. Gen. Simon B Buckner told correspondents he hoped the Japanese would begin surrendering in "droves" before the battle was over.

The pressure of the campaign, plus intense surrender propaganda by leaflets and loudspeakers, produced twice as many prisoners as were taken in all the other previous central Pacific campaigns combined.

Whatever the full significance of this new twist in Japanese behavior may be, it has disclosed a point at which surrender becomes preferable to annihilation. Malnutrition and discouragement over long months resulted in considerable postbattle surrender on Guam and Saipan, but Okinawa marked the first occasion of large scale surrender by Japanese in the heat of battle.

The Japanese soldier wishing to surrender faces a precarious dilemma. Seeking self-survival against all the rules of war as he has learned it, he knows he stands a good chance of being shot by his own superiors for attempting to give himself up.

Furthermore, Japanese behavior has bred such long-standing mistrust among American marines and infantrymen that a good many of our men are inclined to shoot and ask no questions on the theory that the only trustworthy Japanese is one infiltrated with lead.

Notwithstanding the wholesale capitulation in the final days, the Japanese never fought a more stubborn fight than at Okinawa. They challenged us not only with the weapons long familiar—small arms, machine guns, automatic weapons, and mortars; they also fired an amazing volume of artillery ammunition.

Never before had American fighting men in the Pacific faced such artillery fire as the doughboys and leathernecks faced at Okinawa. Furthermore, for the first time, they were encountering massed fire—as many as 4,000 shells on a small sector of the front in a single night. The Japanese had enormous quantities of everything from mortars (including the "ashcan" spigot mortar already encountered on Iwo Jima) to eight-inch coastal guns.

Along with the rest of their defenses, the Japanese put their big guns underground. Though not new, it was a far more extensive application than ever before of the cave fortress.

One of the sobering aspects of an invasion of Japan is the possibility that the Japanese will have developed in their homeland a more extensive version of the underground defenses.

According to one office, Okinawa didn't just "lend" itself to defense. The Japanese made the greatest possible use of this terrain gift of hills, cliffs, escarpments, and ridges. They even dug concealed back doors into the Okinawa burial vaults and used these tombs for gun positions, apparently on the theory that the Americans would not violate these sacred mausoleums.

For this reason, the amount of metal, explosive, fire bombs, and flame-thrower fuel expended to burn and blast the Japanese out of the now famous Shuri Line and other positions quite possibly exceeded anything of the kind used in other Pacific campaigns. There never was an hour during those 82 days and nights when the enemy was not under fire by at least some of our Army and Marine artillery pieces, by naval guns, or by planes.

The job of finding the caves was as difficult as the terrain and Japanese ingenuity could make it. Locating an entrance perhaps two feet wide and four or five feet high in a ridge anywhere from 50 to several thousand yards away is just about like finding a knothole in the dark at 100 paces.

The Japanese were estimated by one officer to have about 500 artillery pieces on Okinawa. Each gun had a cave. Some guns could be moved from one cave to another or from one entrance to another within a cave. Some working on a "Jack-in-the box" technique would be hauled into position at a cave opening and fire a few rounds; then the gun would be withdrawn and the trapdoor closed. This was just one aspect of the problem.

There were caves for food, ammunition, and living quarters. As on Iwo Jima, Peleliu, and elsewhere the underground works sometimes were several stories deep, with rooms connected by corridors—a crude, military application of the subterranean-city idea in the German film fantasy "Metropolis." Soldiers fought from caves and many civilians took refuge in them. For countless thousands, these underground caverns became burial vaults when American demolition teams closed the entrances with dynamite charges.

Often, after a cave had been sealed, the Japanese would dig it open again. One important supply cave was reopened six times before Tenth Army artillery closed it for good. In many cases, a tunnel would traverse a hill, with openings on both sides.

Sometimes there is an inclination to deride Japanese buried defenses as a symbol of war concept which appears almost tacitly to admit defeat. Such assumption, arguable to a point, can over-simplify the matter dangerously.

Whatever may have been the basic military thinking which designed, ordered, and supervised this prodigious burrowing, the effectiveness of the caves was as apparent as their location was difficult.

The dug-in, well-camouflaged defenses gave aerial reconnaissance and photo interpretation perhaps their most difficult assignment. This may be one reason we so seriously underestimated Japanese strength on Okinawa.

Ordinarily, from photographs of an island's installations, airfields, ports, etc., trained photo interpreters can give a reasonably accurate estimate of ground defences. Studying the photo interpreters' reports in conjunction with other information, planning officers can do some fairly effective guessing about the enemy strength to be encountered.

But the estimated Japanese garrison at Okinawa on D-Day (April 1) was between 60,000 and 80,000 Japanese. Latest Japanese casualty figures, including prisoners, total more than 110,000. This is almost twice the original lowest estimate and 30,000 more than the original highest estimate.

Part of the discrepancy may be accounted for by the fact that it often is possible to make only the broadest estimate of the number of men sealed in a cave. But the foregoing figures also can be useful in throwing further light on the reasons Okinawa took 82 days to capture and cost 46,319 American casualties.

Rehabilitation Information Committee

"If we know our boys" said a great many people in this country, "the first thing they'll want when they get discharged is a long holiday . . . about three months. They'll act just like kids getting out of school. They'll lounge around, doing nothing but eat, sleep and loaf, with no crotchety sergeants or brass hats to salute."

As a matter of fact, this generally holds good—but not for any three months, according to figures in possession of the Rehabilitation Information Committee. For the first couple of weeks after he gets that all-important slip of paper which informs all and sundry that the undersigned is no longer a member of the active forces of his country, the repatriated veteran enjoys life to the full, with little thought for the future. He sees his wife, Children, mother or sweetheart that he's only known in his dreams for so long. He drops into the drug store for the old familiar chocolate malted, hangs around the ball park playing catch. He gets out the old casting rod and goes fishing. In short, he does everything he has wanted to do for a long time.

But then he realizes that all these things used to be fun because there was a gang of his old friends to work and play with. Now all his old pals are working long hours, or waiting on the other side for their turn to be repatriated.

Loafing doesn't seem as enjoyable as he thought it would be. Something seems to be lacking. Soon, it all begins to pall. And so he decides that he has to take the plunge back to a civilian job.

Statistics compiled by veterans welfare officers from coast to coast show that about 40 per cent of the veterans soon decide to go back to the job that is waiting for them.

Quite a few from around attended the picnic at Uncas last Friday. A ball game between Garden and Deville was played, the score being 23-0 in favor of Deville.

Last Sunday two games were played at the Deville ball diamond. First a game between Weslake and Deville, score, 14-12 in favor of Weslake. The second game was played between Weslake and Ministik, score 8-5, again Weslake being the winning team.

We are sorry to report that Kay Goslin had the misfortune to fall off a horse last Friday. She was unconscious for half an hour, but was fortunate not to have any bones broken.

Deville boys rode down to Uncas Sunday, July 8th, to play ball against Garden. The score was 19-10 in favor of Garden. Better luck next time, Deville.

Those that spent the week-end of July 1st at home were: Peggy and Jean Morrow, Helen Stefisen, Irene Vice and Jean Clark accompanied by a girl friend.

Miss Phyllis Stephens from the city week-ended at the Stefisen home.

George Goslin from the Navy is home on leave. He will leave for the Pacific shortly.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunn (nee Ellen Morrow) a baby girl. Congratulations.

Campbell, Western Lines passenger representative, Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and since October 1, 1942, on loan to the Dominion government and in charge of the Canadian Wartime Information Board at Washington, has been promoted to the post of general publicity agent for the company, according to an announcement by D. C. Coleman, chairman and president. Mr. Campbell succeeds John Murray Gibbon who retired on June 30th.

WORLD OF WHEAT

TARIFF POLICIES

Another Government has been elected for Canada. The policies the new Government will adopt during the next five years will have a profound influence upon the welfare of the people of Canada. No group will be more affected by the Government's action than our Prairie farmers, for our farmers depend for their welfare mainly upon the export of a high proportion of their agricultural products.

This new Government has committed itself to a policy of increasing exports. For decades past the new governing Political Party has believed in the reduction of tariffs. The lowering of tariffs is an issue not only with Canada but with many other countries in the world. All countries are beginning to feel that the high tariff policies which gripped the world after the last war were wrong, and brought misery and suffering upon millions of people. Let us hope for the sake of the well-being of our Prairie farmers that the Government will put into effect its long stated policies of endeavouring to increase our exports by the lowering of tariffs, so as to permit the importation into Canada of a greater volume of foreign goods, which goods form the only real money the foreigner has with which to pay us for the wheat, flour and other agricultural products so badly needed by the people of the world. The citizens of these Prairies are quite within their rights in pressing their elected members, and the Government itself, to proceed with their avowed policy of lowering tariffs.

CONDENSED FOOD

A California university professor has developed a condensed material which can be supplied at 38 cents a pound (enough for ten meals) delivered in Europe. It is composed of dehydrated lima beans, soy grits, potatoes, cabbage, parsley, tomatoes, onions and leeks, with a blending of seventeen flavoring ingredients such as paprika, garlic powder, onion powder, sweet basil and bay leaf. For heightened nutrition quantities of vitamin A and B and niacine are added; also calcium and iron. To prepare for consumption water must be added and the whole cooked for half an hour and a bit of fat added for taste. One shipment has been sent to France to be fed to tuberculous children.

NAIL POLISH FOR PICKING TOMATOES

"New Agriculture" published in the United States tells a story of how a farmer's wife solved a tomato picking problem that arose on her husband's truck farm. The women tomato pickers hired by the farmer were certainly energetic enough but their poor judgement was ruining half the crop, because the tomatoes they picked were either too ripe or too green. The farmer was at his wit's end. He did not know what to do, but his wife did.

She called in an acquaintance of hers, a professor of the Faculty of Agriculture at Purdue University, Indiana. After several hour's observation, the professor decided that the cause of the trouble was the women's inability to remember the exact shade of red for picking. As he watched, an idea struck him. Why not mix a shade of nail polish the color of ripe tomatoes so that the women could have a standard guide at their finger tips all the time. It worked and sure enough whenever a woman reached for the tomatoes she picked only the ripe ones.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

The Old, Old Story

It was with great satisfaction that we read a statement issued by the Dominion Experimental Station, Lethbridge, to the effect that if farmers fail to control soil drifting, the necessary measures will, some day, have to be enforced. We are apt to forget that democracy entails personal responsibility as well as privilege. Too often we [illegible] the former and cling to the latter.

Soil drifting has been very [illegible] in parts of Western Canada this year. It should be recognized as a prelude to catastrophe and given the widest possible publicity; but, probably because we are accustomed to it, little is spoken by [illegible] and little written in the press.

It is annoying and costly to the farmer to have his seed blown out or seedlings cut to pieces with drifting sand. The most [illegible] long-suffering housewife [illegible] bad company when floors and furniture are covered with layers of soil, and when pantries and clothes cupboards become dust bins. But these experiences are trivial in comparison with the permanent damage done to productive soils.

Government agriculturists are almost always conservative in their claims; but over and over again officials of the Dominion Department of Agriculture have declared that soil drifting can be controlled. The recent warning from Lethbridge is timely and we dare not disregard it.

FARM TRENDS IN U.S.A.

Writing in the Christian Science Monitor, R. H. Markham says that a general change is coming over agriculture in the United States and that tenancy is increasing. In 1935 about 45 per cent of all American [illegible] farmed by operators [illegible] the size of farms [illegible] is accompanied by [illegible] farm youth from the country to the city. Most [illegible] life and factory work [illegible] farms, milking [illegible]. Vegreville M.P. Thanks His Electors

To the Electors of the Vegreville
Federal Constituency:

It is with a deep sense of gratitude that I wish to thank my electors for the splendid support they have given me at the polls on June 11th. May I also thank all those who in so many ways have contributed so generously to our success. I know, too, that many of my supporters worked hard to give me such a large majority. I thank them sincerely for all they have done.

Especially do I wish to mention my supporters in the Armed Services, both overseas and in Canada, who have given me the largest share of the service votes from the Vegreville costituency, and who believed in my sincerity. A young airman, formerly of Lavoy, Alberta, had this to say in his recent letter to me:

> "Here in the United Kingdom awaiting repatriation after nearly five and a half years of service overseas.
> "I sincerely believe that you will work hard for us young lads, who have given our all, and endeavour to give us a chance to start anew to get adjusted to civil life."

Truly, not only will I work hard for the "young lads who have given their all", but I will do my utmost in urging the Government to stand by our young lads as loyally and as devotedly as the young lads stood by Canada.

As for my electors at home, I desire to say that when I was first elected to the Canadian House of Commons in 1940, it was then that I fully realized the responsibility with which my constituents entrusted me. I resolved then to work in the best interests of my constituency and in the best interests of Canada. This I have tried to do in my humble way and will continue to do—with faith in the people I represent and with faith in the great future of Canada.

ANTHONY HLYNKA,
Member of Parliament for Vegreville.

1. HELP CARRY ON THE WAR—
Every possible dollar will be needed to bring the war to a successful conclusion. THEREFORE, every dollar you lend enables you to play a vital part in the great fight for freedom.
2. CURB WASTEFUL SPENDING—
To retard spiralling prices and rises in the cost of living, income must be diverted from unwise purchases and made available for war use. WAR SAVINGS mean money put aside to aid essential war production.
3. PROVIDE A NEST EGG—
Following every major war there is a period of economic re-adjustment. The man who has taken his share of WAR SAVINGS will find this money very useful during this transition period.

PROTEIN SUPPLEMENTS FOR SWINE

An interesting result of swine feeding trials at the University of Alberta during the past year, and one that bears out previous results was mentioned recently by Professor J. P. Sackville. Pigs fed grain alone without any protein supplement, failed to reach desirable market weight until between 8 and 9 months of age, compared to slightly over six months in the case of those receiving a protein supplement. In addition, the feed cost of putting on 100 pounds of gain was definitely in favour of the latter.

The shortage of certain protein supplements, such as tankage, said Professor Sackville, suggests the possibility of using a larger proportion of such available vegetable products as alfalfa meal and linseed oil meal. The findings developing out of last year's feeding trials have shown first that of all the individual protein supplements (and this does not include dairy by-products) tankage has given the best results in terms of feed required for 100 pounds of gain, as well as cost of putting on 100 pounds of gain. On the other hand, it was shown that a supplement made up of 30 per cent tankage, 35 per cent alfalfa meal, 35 per cent linseed oil meal, together with 5 per cent ground limestone and 5 per cent salt, gave quite satisfactory results. It would appear that 20 per cent tankage is about the minimum that should be considered and 35 per cent alfalfa meal is about the maximum that can be used to advantage, and this only under conditions of an extreme shortage of animal protein.

WHEN GRATEFUL DROPS RETURN AGAIN

Like tears of gladness, when saints o'erhang the morn,
Those drops that cluster on the hopeful pane,
The barren pastures and the fields forlorn
New freshness take and hope revives again.

Earth languished long with cherish'd hope deferr'd,
The cloud hung darkly, yet parted 'ere the rain
The leaf survived, the song of watchful bird,
The petals droop'd above the fertile plain.

Our eyes look up from weary scenes below,
The powers unseen control the seasons all,
Hearts oft forget when generous gifts o'erflow,
And gems of mercy round our footsteps fall.

The source of lasting virtue does not change,
His Will would teach us of the things Divine,
The richer fields beyond our narrow range,
The visions clear that human life refine.

S. C. Vance, Kingman.

COMMUNICATION

Sir:

Regarding to protest meeting held in the Lindbrook Hall. The farmers had a grievance and were sincere in calling the meeting. For a group of farmers the council knew remarkably little. I was sorry to see Mr. Anderson take a smart alec attitude, his favourite reply to any and all questions being "I don't know." Even the school trustee left seven mills he could not find where, it was lost and it was quite a joke to him. It seems the council has decided to do their best to reduce the taxpayers to the conditions in the hungry thirties, what will they do with the farms. At the Lindbrook meeting the only one in favour of increased taxes was Mr. Baker, he put his hand up.

In regards to the roads, if it rains a few minutes they are no better than years ago as they are maintained to hollow out the road with a shoulder on each side to hold the water. Public opinion always has an effect on spending by council. I would like to see more meetings held.

C. M. OULTON.

ANOTHER SCOUT SAVES A LIFE

Fifteen year old Bud Perry, Napanee, Ontario, Boy Scout, is credited with saving the life of 11-year-old Billie Harvey when he got into difficulties while swimming in the Napanee River. Perry dived to the rescue and brought the unconscious boy from the bottom of the river. Bringing him ashore he applied artificial respiration which he had learned in the Scouts. Dr. D. B. Hall who took over the respiration on his arrival stated that but for Perry's prompt action the Harvey boy would have lost his life.

Vernie Valan, Edmonton, is at the C. Erickson home here.

Alfred Lovell of the RCNVR is home on leave prior to taking part in the Pacific campaign. Enroute home from Shelbourne, N.S., he visited Toronto, Hamilton, and Detroit.

WEDDING

SEARS—McCREA

Pink and white peonies made a lovely setting at St Stephens Chapel, for the marriage of Miss Jeanne McCrea, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McCrea of Vegreville, and Stanley Sears, second son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sears of Tofield. The wedding took place on Saturday, July 14th, at 4 o'clock, Rev. Allan of Edmonton conducted the ceremony.

The bride, entering the chapel on the arm of her father, was lovely in a floor length gown of white sheer, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, full skirt and short shirred sleeves. She wore white lace mitts, a finger-tip veil, caught with pink and white sweetpeas, and carried a bouquet of pink and white peonies. Her only ornament was her mother's pendant.

Miss Margie McCrea was her sister's bridesmaid and wore a rose sheer floor length gown with powder blue accessories. She carried pink and white peonies.

The groom was attended by Mr. Harold Schultz of Tofield.

Mr. A. J. H. McCauley of Tofield played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Rennie Woon of Barrhead sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the banquet room in the Royal George Hotel.

Mrs. McCrea, mother of the bride, received in rose crepe with navy accessories, and a corsage of tea roses and cornflowers. The groom's mother, Mrs Sears, received in blue crepe with white accessories and a corsage of red roses and white sweetpeas.

The bride's table was centred with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake laid on a lace table and flanked on either side with sweet peas and peonies.

The toast to the bride was proposed by [illegible] D. K. [illegible] and was ably replied to by the groom.

The young couple left that evening for a honeymoon trip to Banff. The bride chose as her going away costume, a tree dressmaker suit with navy accessories.

LAWN SUPPER AND BAND CONCERT

Many from Bardo are attending the Edmonton Exhibition this week.

Tofield Community League

The meeting held in the Town Hall opened with Mr. Chandler in the chair. A report was given on the success of the Calf show sponsored by the League. Mr. L. Olson and H. Warner tendered thanks to the league for their effort in making the show a success. Tofield, through its efforts through the league, possibly will be made a centre for a large show covering an area east to Viking and west to Hay Lakes, with a number of calf clubs participating. By thus enlarging the Calf Show here, it would make a better drawing card for buyers and make shipping of the animals better for the buyers due to larger quantities.

Much discussion took place on the buying of the Cowin Huts for the new proposed Hall. These huts are now available through Muttart Lumber for approximately $1500.00 each. We need two of these. A motion was passed to make negotiations with view of purchasing the huts. A committee was appointed and were to report back to the league their findings at a meeting to be called the next day or so.

HOME FROM OVERSEAS

John Snell of the Canadian Army, who has served overseas for several years, arrived home in Tofield on Thursday morning.

RYLEY

WEDDING

MacLEOD—TANDBERG

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on July 13th at 3:00 p.m. in the Calvin United Church, when Miss Eileen Tandberg, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Imler of Tofield, was given in marriage to Constable Wm. MacLeod of Westlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacLeod of Regina. Peonies and ferns made a lovely bower-like setting for the ceremony. Preceded by Miss Fern Imler as maid of honor, and Joan Tandberg as bridesmaid, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. She wore a slipper length gown of ivory satin. The skirt was full and gathered in graceful folds to the pointed bodice with a deep waistline, and a yoke of lace. Long sleeves which tapered to a point at the wrist. She wore a chapel veil of white tulle held in place by a coronet of white flowers, and carried a bouquet of ophelia roses and baby mums. Her only ornament was a necklace of clear crystal beads.

Miss Fern Imler wore a slipper length gown of blue sheer and Miss Joan Tandberg a slipper length gown of peach sheer. Both wore a coronet of peach colored organdy flowers and carried a colonial bouquet of sweet peas and roses in harmonizing colors.

The groom and his best man, Const. Pool of Tofield, were both dressed in their scarlet uniforms. Pte. Donald H. Ireland and Kenneth Imler were ushers.

The reception was held in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. McPherson. The rooms were tastefully decorated with vases of columbines. Between 150 and 200 guests attended the reception. The bride's table was laid with a lovely hand embroidered madeira table cloth and centred by a three-tiered wedding cake. Miss Joyce Tandberg was in charge of the guest book and wedding gifts.

For travelling Mrs. MacLeod wore a brown suit with white accessories, and for a corsage, she wore the centre of her bridal bouquet. After a honeymoon at Regina beach, Banff and Jasper, they will make their home in Westlock where Constable MacLeod is stationed.

The Bible Camp at Hastings lake is in full swing. One hundred and thirty registered there the first day and evening, more are expected later. All who have had the privilege of attending Bible camps have blessed memories of the blessings received there in fellowship with other Christians.

Mrs. Tillie Killian left last Saturday morning for Vancouver, where she is visiting former Ryleyites.

The Elementary Room Pupils under Miss Wallin's supervision, recently had a raffle for the Red Cross. The prizes consisted of an afghan which was won by Mr. Pete Davich, a lunch cloth won by Cyril Freeman and a tea towel won by Mrs. Lillo. From these proceeds a sum of $23.00 was sent to the Red Cross. Keep up the good work, kiddies.

SHOWER

On Tuesday, July 10th, a fancy cup and saucer shower was given in honor of Miss Eileen Tandberg in the home of Mrs. J. D. MacDonald, Mrs. Theodore Bendiksen assisting. Entertainment for the evening consisted of making a Bride's Scrap Book. Guests were placed in different groups and were provided with scissors and magazines from which they cut to-pics, trousseau and linen requisites for a bride's "hope chest" and new home, and pasted in the scrap book. A dainty lunch was served and all had a very enjoyable evening.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Bob Geddes and daughters Doreen and Merle, had a very sad homecoming. They had been away to see their son Bob, his wife and infant son, and were looking forward to welcoming Jim back from overseas. They came back to find their home and furniture ruined by fire and smoke. No insurance was carried so it is a great loss and our sympathy goes out to them in their misfortune.

It is with deep regret and a sense of shock and loss that we report the sudden passing of Mrs James Eaton through a fall on Tuesday evening. Our deepest sympathy goes to Mr. Eaton and Frances in their great loss. Their memories of her as a loving and a cheerful helpmate and mother will be very precious to them and also to us who knew her as a very earnest and sincere Christian. We have the blessed hope of meeting again some glad sweet day.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Edwards are spending a week's holiday in Edmonton.

MINISTIK

The dance held at the Hall on Friday, 13th, was well attended. It was put on in aid of the Hall fund.

The next dance will be held on July 27th. The proceeds will also go towards the Hall fund. Come everybody and have a good time and at the same time help to support and improve your Hall.

Don Evoy of Fultonvale is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kleinschroth for a few days.

Miss M. Latter was a week end visitor at the home of Mr and Mrs A. J. Leach.

Mr C. Spencer of Grand Prairie was a week end visitor at the home of Mr and Mrs C B Leach.

Mrs. H. Williams arrived home from the Coast last Friday. She is looking fine after her holiday.

The Sec. of Ministik,
Mrs. N Grummett.

Hello there dear friend, I'm just dropping you a few lines to thank you as usual for the 300 cigarettes I received from the Ministik Club through you as secretary. I wish to thank you very kindly in trying to make the boys over here happy. Cigarettes is simply the greatest means of doing just that believe me. One of these days not in the too distant future I hope to be able to thank you all in person. I hope you and all are very well and in the best of health. I'm [illegible] fine, but as you probably know, am patiently awaiting my [illegible]. I hope it's not too long before my time comes. Say hello to anybody concerned in the helping to make the soldiers from [illegible] I must close for now, so please keep up the fine work. I sure do appreciate everything you do for me back there.

P.S. Oh yes I must thank you also for putting my last letter of thanks in the Mercury. Bye-bye for now, and hope to hear from you soon again.

Your sincere friend,
Bing

Letters have also been received from Eric Barber, Frank and Donald Grummett thanking the community for cigarettes received.—G.G.

Denmark Looks Back And Ahead

Denmark was for five years and a month an important sector of Germany's totalitarian war economy, but at this moment of economic chaos in Central Europe, it can resume at least a measure of independence in economic activity. Fundamentally Denmark's economy comes out of the war intact. There has, however, been some change in the relative importance of the different branches of economic life and a period of readjustment will be necessary.

During the five years of occupation, Denmark's economy went through several distinct phases. The first phase, which ended roughly in the middle of 1942, was marked by the gradual exhaustion of the stocks of agricultural and industrial raw materials imported from overseas. During this phase direct German interference was slight, although Danish exports were monopolized by Germany. From June, 1940, to June, 1942, the total number of pigs decreased from 3,218,000 to 1,141,000, that is by 65 per cent. The reduction of poultry was even greater, and it seemed at that time that Denmark's most important export industry would be completely ruined. But the cattle herds, which numbered over three millions at the beginning of the occupation suffered only small losses. Before the war Denmark's large livestock industry needed, on an average annual net imports of more than 600,000 tons of cereals and roughly 800,000 tons of oilcake.

During this phase of wholesale slaughter of pigs and poultry, Danish farmers, organized in highly efficient co-operatives, were forced to expand the area under cereals and oilseeds while the area under root crops, particularly potatoes and sugar beets, was maintained at the pre-occupation level. From 1942 to 1944, that is, the phase of expanding arable land, cereal harvests increased and the prospects for the 1945 harvest are reported at the moment to be good. This is a considerable success for the highly efficient Danish agriculture. It cannot, however, be doubted that the land was worked to the utmost and especially during the 1944-45 season, without adequate supplies of fertilizers, which could no longer be imported from Germany. But the actual production of fodder was sufficient for a considerable increase in the number of pigs during 1943, and at the end of 1944 the number of pigs had reached roughly two million, or double the number in June, 1942.

At the end of 1944, there were signs that the farmers' efforts could not prevent a general deterioration in economic conditions. German demands for foodstuffs increased, the shortage of fodder became acute, and this time a heavy slaughter of cattle could not be avoided. This is how Danish agriculture stands at the moment of liberation. If the harvest of cereals and root crops yields an output equal to that of 1943 and 1944, food supplies for the Danish population will be secured and will be the highest on the whole continent. The rations were comparatively high in the last five years. The bread ration was higher than in Germany, the sugar ration was twice as high as in Britain and the fat ration was 40 per cent higher than the British ration. As soon as shipping tonnage is available for imports of fodder and fertilizers, Denmark could in a very short time resume exports of bacon, butter and eggs on a large scale. There is no doubt that Denmark could then play an important part in preventing starvation in other parts of the Continent.—From 'The Economist,' London, England, May 12, '45.

WESTERN WORKERS RELIEVE ONTARIO FARM LABOUR SHORTAGE

Following an interview given to the press by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell at Toronto yesterday, concerning the results of the movement of harvest workers from the Prairie Provinces to Western Ontario, the office of the Minister of Labour here in Ottawa today issued a statement giving further details on these transfers. [illegible] to the number of more than 1,000, recruited under the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labour Program, have reached Ontario up to [illegible] Active [illegible] of men to the East has now been [illegible] but when the movement is completed [illegible] about 2000.

The men from Western Canada will be a major factor in easing farm labour shortages in southwestern Ontario, according to Dominion and Provincial farm labour officials. This is the largest number of farm workers yet recorded in a West to East movement in four years' operation of the policy of long distance transfers of farm labour.

Commenting on the movement the Labour Minister stated "Ontario farmers have expressed complete satisfaction with the help received from Western Canada. This is further assistance of the success of the Farm Labour Program and assurance that all crops will be harvested, with maximum food production in Ontario this season."

The Ontario farm labour shortage has been aggravated as a result of a heavy and early harvesting of winter wheat and the need for workers in the sugar beet and fruit growing areas.

Farm workers on the Prairies were recruited by Dominion and Provincial farm labour officials, who were assisted by rural municipal secretaries. The Labour Minister added that he fully expects that the efforts of the western officials will be repaid by a return movement of farm workers from Ontario to the Prairie Provinces, once the Ontario harvest is mostly taken off.

The efforts of the Prairie officials were supplemented by newspaper and radio announcements, while the Dominion Government, through the co-operation of a low rate granted by the railway companies takes care of the cost of transportation, except for $5.00 which each man is required to pay toward his return fare. Care has been taken that only those men who can be spared from their farms during the slack period between spring seeding and the Western harvest are allowed to volunteer. Agricultural production in the worker's own locality is not allowed to become affected.

COMMUNICATION

Alberta Farmers' Union,
Edmonton, Alberta.
12th July, 1945

The Editor,
Dear Sir:

In view of the interest now being taken in Freight Rates owing to the appeal made by the Railway Companies for an upward revision, we direct the attention of your readers to the following resolution passed in February, 1944 by the Alberta Farmers Union.

THAT WHEREAS Western Canadian Prairie Provinces and the Province of Alberta in particular have been subjected by authority of the Government of Canada to the imposition of crushing railway freights, outward as well as inward bound, whereby the trade, industries and agriculture of this province have been penalized and their success obstructed, and

WHEREAS the shipping of freight [illegible] to the Province of Ontario free of freight as at present [illegible] manufacturing in the Province of Alberta has been obstructed and if continued should be opposed [illegible] to equivalent [illegible] rate of other prairie Provinces.

WHEREAS Alberta imports in round figures about 80 per cent of its goods used from extra provincial points the incidence of these railway freights affect every home in this province. Thus hardware and canned goods from Montreal to Edmonton or Calgary pay two and a half times the freight on the same goods transported from Montreal across the mountains to Vancouver, and

WHEREAS we censure the continuance of special privileges in respect of Railway lands by the Government of Canada whereby the taxation base of this province and many municipalities has been narrowed.

THEREFORE WE REQUEST the Provincial Government to make representations to the Dominion Government with a view to getting relief in respects of the Freight Rates to Alberta, because Alberta public lands and minerals were in large part alienated for the purposes of main line construction. That such land and mineral alienation was paid for so far as land [illegible] were concerned by the three prairie provinces out of nine. That in Alberta this transfer of Railway lands amounted to 13,120,000 acres.

A copy of this resolution has been sent to Premier Manning, also Edmonton and Calgary Chambers of Commerce.

Yours truly,
H. E. NICHOLS,
Secretary, Alberta Farmers' Union.

FARMS FOR VETERANS

There may have been a time when farming was a haphazard sort of business, operated by rule-of-thumb, but that's certainly not the case in 1945. And it is certainly not the case when it comes to the Veterans' Land Act. This important part of the machinery of rehabilitation is functioning at the present time, and will continue to function, with the clear purpose of seeing that the men who elect to turn from war to agriculture are the men who can make a success of it.

There was criticism voiced at the way this aspect was handled after the last war. This disappointment arose from the haste in establishing a large number of veterans on the land within 18 months of the end of the war. In that period, 15,000 men were placed on the land. It was also stated that some of the veterans of 1914-18 [illegible] land that was poorly suited to agriculture. And there was also the fact that men were placed on the land who were temperamentally unsuited to the life. You have to have an aptitude for farming, just as you have to have an aptitude for being a doctor, a lawyer or a bookkeeper. You have to have the knack, and the [illegible] for it.

A major advantage of the present [illegible] is the fact that this time there is a trained settlement staff. This was not the case after the last war.

Re-establishment of the veteran [illegible] putting stress on the [illegible] vocational guidance. [illegible] the advice given [illegible] when the man discusses the process of farming with [illegible] he'll be up [illegible] to find out whether he's going to like the life, and whether his wife will like the life. The advantages and the disadvantages of farm life are underlined, and the veteran is asked to see the picture in its true perspective.

The government will help the veteran to finance land, buildings, stock and equipment up to $6,000. The maximum amount that can be expended for livestock and equipment is $1,200. The veteran makes a down payment of 10 per cent of the cost of the land and buildings in instalments which may be extended up to 25 years. The rate of interest on this is three and a half per cent. The government absorbs the balance of the cost, which is approximately 24 per cent. In addition, if he has complied with the terms of the contract for 10 years the money which he obtained for equipment and livestock becomes an outright grant. After 10 years, or after the veteran has paid all his instalments, whichever is the longer period, the veteran is given the deed to the property.

But the government's interest in the veteran goes past the purely financial aspect of the situation. Personal counselling helps the man to know the type of farming he likes best, whether it be in wheat, fruit, livestock or any of the other phases of agriculture.

There is no intention of extending financial aid to veterans for establishment on land that is unsuitable for settlement purposes and the administrators of the Act are working in close co-operation with the federal and provincial departments of agriculture and Canadian agricultural schools in pursuance of this policy.

And loneliness, that bugbear of land settlement, is also receiving attention. It is the intention of those in charge to see that the veterans settle in communities that are well established, and where there is a reasonable standard of social services established.

49th BATTALION—(LOYAL EDMONTON REGIMENT) ASSO.

The Annual Church Parade of the 49th Battalion (Loyal Edmonton Regiment) Association, will take place at Edmonton on Sunday, July 29th, 1945. The Parade will "Fall in" on the Market Square at 9:45 a.m. and move off at 10:30 a.m. The service will be held at the Parliament Building grounds as usual. Medals and berets will be worn with brassards on the right arm. Motor cars will follow the parade both going and returning to pick up those who find the march too much for them. The 2nd (Reserve) Battalion has been invited to attend and a cordial invitation is extended to all ranks of the 1st Battalion who have been returned to Edmonton, to take part in the Parade. Captain The Reverend E. T. Scragg, Chaplain of the Association, will conduct the Service.

The annual luncheon after the parade will not be held this year due to the impossibility of making suitable arrangements.

The Brass and Bugle Band of the 2nd Battalion will play for the parade. Lt. Col. L. C. Harris, will command the Parade.

Minimum Wages

Well informed farmers are glad to acknowledge their debt to professional agriculturists. They know that improved varieties of crop plants and methods for protecting plants and animals from diseases, insects, etc., are developed largely through the work of scientifically trained men. By and large, these men are grossly underpaid. Men with similar, sometimes inferior ability, training and experience commonly earn much more in other professions. Most of our scientific agriculturists are in government employ. Salaries of professional workers are, in general, much lower in departments of agriculture than in other government departments.

Entirely aside from fair treatment, two considerations merit the immediate attention of farmers. In recent months several of our best workers have received very attractive offers from the United States. These offers will probably increase in the near future, and many will be accepted as "exit permits" become available. Good-bye to our best men.

The second consideration is this. Students must decide early in their university careers what type of work they will follow. If they discover that six to eight years of university training in agricultural science—a costly business—will be rewarded with a salary little better than that demanded by unskilled labour, they will turn to something else. In other words, we cannot expect to continue to get first-class talent for third-class pay.

At Meaford, Ontario, where Canadian volunteers for the Pacific war receive their preliminary training, the treacherous swamps, heavy undergrowth and swarming flies are said to closely approximate conditions in Burma and New Guinea.

By the end of 1945, the war will have cost every Canadian an estimated $1300.

BODY LICE AND RED MITES OF POULTRY

With the arrival of the warm weather the Poultry Branch is experiencing the usual increased number of inquiries regarding the treatment for body lice of poultry and red mites in poultry houses.

If the birds, house and equipment are treated early and the treatment is repeated in ten days time and again in thirty days, and then once every four months, there should be few if any of these parasites to be found in any flock, says C. W. Traves, Poultry Commissioner. In fact, if the three treatments in thirty days are thorough and the once every four months treatment is practiced, there should be none of these parasites to be found.

BODY LICE: Several species of body lice affect domestic poultry. All are equipped with biting mouth parts and live upon the skin and feathers of the birds and spend their entire life on the fowl. They are extremely active, thus causing constant irritation. They are most easily detected around the vent and under the wings.

TREATMENT: The most common remedy is the use of nicotine sulphate commonly referred to as Black Leaf 40. A small amount is painted along the top of the roosts just before roosting time. The warmth of the bird's body causes fumes to rise through the feathers, killing the lice. Treatment should be repeated in ten days' time to destroy lice that have hatched after the first treatment.

Sodium Fluoride is often used as a dust, a pinch being placed under the vent and wings. Ointments also are used, but the nicotine sulphate treatment will be found to be the most efficient.

RED MITES: Unlike lice, the so-called mite does not live on the birds and is a blood sucker. It hides under the perches, in cracks along the walls, or in dark corners and in the nest during the day, and feeds on the birds at night. When present in any number, the under side of the roosts and along wall cracks show an accumulation of grayish material as though sprinkled with pepper.

TREATMENT: Thoroughly clean the drop boards, roosts, nests, walls and floors first thing in the morning, burning all material. Thoroughly spray the walls, drop boards, nests and roosts with a good disinfectant solution (three parts coal oil to one part crude carbolic), paying particular attention to cracks and crevices. Paint the bottom joints and ends of the roosts with a strong disinfectant.

At this time of year particular attention should be given to the growing pullets and cockerels, and to the range shelters. Young stock will not develop rapidly and evenly if irritated by body lice and their roosting quarters are infested with mites. It should be kept in mind that these parasites also are carriers of many of our poultry diseases.

WE'VE SEEN IT

Another type of trickster is the mischievious spirit of the Northern Indians known as Wah-Sak-O-Jak. The spirit is able to assume the shape of any or all the animals. This gift of course, makes him a master prankster.

One time Wah-Sak-O-Jak was out hunting with Muskwa, the bear. They had been hunting for days and so unsuccessfully that they were beginning to eye each other suspiciously. Finally Wah-Sak-O-Jack began to rub the juice of wild cranberries into his eyes. He explained to the bear that the juice made his eyes bright and keen. The bear tried it and was temporarily blinded; whereupon Wah-Sak-O-Jak grabbed his tomahawk, whacked him over the head, skinned and ate him.

When Wah-Sak-O-Jak had finished his meal his stomach was greatly distended, so he went to a birch tree that was growing with a double trunk. He squeezed in between the two trunks and commanded the tree to close up and press his stomach back to normal. The tree, however, closed so tightly that Wah-Sak-O-Jak was held prisoner until he grew so thin that he was able to squeeze out.

Wah-Sak-O-Jak was terribly angry. He went and got a long switch and gave that tree a vicious beating. You can still see the marks of the beating on the trunk of any birch tree.

Holden Health Unit Report

The regular quarterly meeting of the District Board of Health of the Holden Health Unit was held in the Board Room of the Holden School Division No. 17, at Holden on July 11, 1945. The meeting was called to order by the Chairman, A. Lefsrud, at 2.25 p.m.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted on the motion of C. Barber, seconded by H. Reddick. Carried.

Moved by A. Lefsrud, seconded by J. Rozmahel that Miss Murray be appointed as one of the signing officers for cheques issued by the Health Unit.

Moved by A. Lefsrud, seconded by C. Barber, that the appointment of Miss Elsie Salamandick as Secretary-Technician be ratified, her salary to be according to the schedule.

The quarterly report for the period April 1st to June 30 was read and adopted on a motion by J. Brown, seconded by J. Rozmahel.

Moved by H. Husby, seconded by J. Rozmahel that the three local papers be requested to print the quarterly reports, and minutes of the board meetings in an effort to publicize the work done by the Health Unit. Carried.

The meeting was then adjourned by the Chairman.

The following is the quarterly report:

HOLDEN HEALTH UNIT STAFF

Miss Marion Murray, B.Sc., R.N.
Miss Eugenia Fedchuk, R.N.
Mr. John Donnan, Sanitary Inspector
Miss Elsie Salamndick, Secretary-Technician.

HEALTH BOARD MEMBERS

A. Lefsrud, Chairman, Viking; F. H. Reddick, Viking; Chas. Barber, Viking; A. Dupuis, Bruce; Hans Husby, Holden; A. W. Foran, Holden; John Brown, Tofield; J. E. Stinson, Tofield, (town); J. P. Rozmahel, Viking (town); E. M. Erickson, Supt. Holden School Div., Holden.

QUARTERLY REPORT

To the District Board of Health,
Gentlemen:

This report covers the work done during the three month period from April 1 to June 30, 1945.

PERSONNEL:

Miss Salnes, our Secretary-Technician left on May 15 to be married. Up to the end of this quarter her position had not been filled and the secretarial work was carried on by the other staff members.

Dr. Cutsungavich left the employ of the Health Unit on June 1. We wish them both a happy and successful future.

Miss Elsie Salamandick commenced her duties as Secretary-Technician on July 9th.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES:

Considerable time was spent in communicable disease control. Chicken pox was prevalent throughout the district with 127 cases reported. Mild cases of measles and whooping cough occurred. Our control of communicable diseases is hindered by the fact that people do not report the cases till they have spread through several families. Possibly with further publicity we will have better co-operation from the teachers and ratepayers in this respect.

In the prevention of Tuberculosis, 48 field visits were made. Contacts of known or suspected cases who had not been previously x-rayed, were Mantoux tested. The positive reactors were referred to the Tuberculosis Division for further examination and x-ray.

IMMUNIZATION:

The inoculations and vaccinations were continued at the regular Baby Clinics.

At the request of the Department of Health an attempt was made to determine the adequacy of the reinforcing doses for Scarlet Fever.

308 Dick tests were done on children who had previously received the five inoculations of Scarlet Fever Toxin, and the reactions were read the following day. To the 23 positive reactors, or those children who were no longer immune, 1 cc. of "D" Scarlet Fever Toxin was given as a reinforcing dose. After an interval of approximately 4 to 6 weeks the Dick tests and readings were repeated on 20 of this test group. Of these 2 continued to show a positive reaction. Further testing will be necessary next fall to procure a sufficient number of suitable children. This information is vital in determining the effect of the reinforcing material. Previously the reinforcing dose used in this unit was one-half cc. of "C" Scarlet Fever Toxin.

SANITATION:

Routine sanitary inspections were carried out.

Milk samples tested during this quarter were found to be above average with the exception of one which tested low for butter fat.

It is hoped that during the next quarter some improvements can be made in the sanitary facilities and conditions present in many of the schools.

Respectfully submitted,
MARION MURRAY, B.Sc., R.N.,
Public Health Nurse.

Berlin Was Eager For Occupation

By J. EMLYN WILLIAMS, in The Christian Science Monitor

Berlin, July 12— Strange though it may seem to the outside world, the dominant feature of the final battle of Berlin was the eager expectancy with which the population awaited the arrival of the enemy forces.

This was told to me by a man who lived in Berlin throughout the war, in a detailed account of the final phases of the struggle for the Reich Capital.

The German people had grown weary—weary of war, of the Nazi regime which had become so revolting that even the enemy was welcome as a liberator. Finally, the terrific strain of the battle inside the city led them to await occupation even by the Russians with eagerness, although they had counted on occupation jointly by the Americans and British also.

During the battle of Berlin, the population was about 3,000,000, mostly women and children. That a city of such size should have been converted into a battlefield at the end of a war already lost was generally considered by the populace as an act of madness on the part of those in power.

As one man said during the shelling, "If the front could not hold the enemy, how could they expect Berlin to do it?"

One of the most amazing features of this amazing battle was the complete absence of news—a situation especially strange to any metropolis. No newspapers, no radio, no telephone, no mail, no transport, no chance of contacting friends, not even of going into the next street but one, for to venture into the middle of the road was dangerous.

One's knowledge of events was restricted to a stretch of about 100 yards each way from one's house along the same side of the street. Sometimes a courageous man or woman ventured to pump for water or to go to the baker's for bread. Upon returning the adventurer would be questioned for information like an ancient mariner returning from a visit to strange continents in days of old.

"Apart from this we knew nothing—for all we knew, hostilities might have ceased long before, with Berlin fighting a lone battle," my informant told me.

"Naturally," he added, "under such conditions rumors played a great role—rumors as weird as the mood of the persons spreading them.

"Here are some I noted in my diary on the first day of the battle, (April 23):

"'The Russians are in Steglitz, a suburb of Berlin. The Americans cannot make headway because the Russians are fighting them.'

"'The British and Americans have broken off diplomatic relations with the Russians because the Russians are attacking Berlin alone.'

"'The new American President Truman has made Hitler a peace offer.'

"'Goebbels killed in action in northeast Berlin.'

"Gradually the battle was closing in around us, and we began to become acquainted with its various phases and noises, phenomena common to the soldier but new to the city population. I well remember the first report of a group of civilians lying in the street. We somehow could not believe that shellfire could kill civilians.

"Someone reported the Nazi Party leaders in a terrible temper and hanging men who refused to fight.

"A dairyman announced, 'The bread factory informed me this morning not to expect any more bread from there.'

"Continual guessing: Where are they? Why don't the Americans and British come? How is it they don't want to be in Berlin when it's occupied?"

"On the night of April 25, disappointment was great in our street when the rumor went round that German reinforcements from the Elbe front had been brought to the city and forced the Russians out of a number of outlying suburbs. Fancy there being disappointment among the besieged at a rumor they were being relieved! Yet it was so, for all knew the war was lost already and the first reaction was that the battle might continue to drag on endlessly and needlessly.

"Hopes rose again Thursday morning (April 26) when sounds of fighting were heard in the distance and one ex-soldier recognized them as tank spearheads. Soon people were active trying to sort out and burn anything they thought might arouse the anger of the enemy—war books, photos of soldiers and even of relatives, swastika emblems, etc.

"Soon, however, despite the anxiety felt at the approach of the Russians alone and of the absence of the other Allies—due to anti-Russian propaganda over long years—calm reigned and one heard views of this kind being expressed in public. I jotted some down in my diary:

"'I never could join in jubilation when we invaded other countries. I almost was ostracized for this by my friends at the time.'

"'What did we do in Rotterdam? Now we are getting it in the neck ourselves and we quite deserve it.'

"'I am a German—yes, but I am only a German if I am free to voice my views, I have a right to them.'

"Preparing our meals, of course, was a problem. We risked eating on the first floor, but only too often a spoon would be left in a saucepan, a fork or plate and a half-peeled potato on the table while we scurried down to shelter as shells whined overhead, bombers roared across the sky, or the strange swish, swish, swish of projectiles from the 'Stalin organs' was heard.

"The rumble of cannon fire continued without end. One no longer heeded the lesser firing. Sometimes there were noises like the unloading of heavy weights onto concrete pavements. The din at times was ear-splitting.

"Shelters were only dimly lighted by candle or kerosene lamp. The picture of 20 or more persons lying side by side on their makeshift bedding in these shadowy cellars was like a scene from a macabre play. Yet, looking back, we recall we felt warm and comfortable—such is the effect of company on one's outlook.

"Reports came in that the Russians already had reached this or that part of the city where some of our friends lived. So they were out of the war. We thought of them enviously, though at the same time wondering how they were faring under Russian occupation.

"A new sound reached our ears, the firing of machine guns and the cracking of rifles. The battle was coming nearer, the streets were deserted and covered with bricks, tiles and tree branches. The overhead wires of trolley cars hung limply down to the ground. Clouds of smoke were rising all around us and at night the sky was red in all directions.

"Soldiers later began to appear in our street, looking worn out and exhausted. 'What's to become of Berlin?' we asked one who took cover in our doorway. 'Rubble and ashes,' he answered laconically.

"On Monday, April 13, the smell of smoke was everywhere. The Russians were infiltrating through the gutted houses. It is madness to continue, said everybody. Peering through the curtains of the first-floor window was like looking at a newsreel of the war.

"Suddenly someone said the Russians were attacking our street from both sides. What did we think? It will soon be over. But not so quickly. That evening came a new rumor that a Bavarian general by the name of Wenk had managed to bring his army into the Tiergarten (the park in the center of the city). Nobody stopped to ask how that could be possible, where he had come from, etc. Instead our hopes sank to zero that night. Was this terrible battle never going to end?

"Then came the memorable Tuesday of May 1. We were all sleeping in a shelter when the air raid warden rushed in and said, 'The Russians are in our street. They are laying telephone wires.' We should hardly have believed it if awake, in our sleepy condition it was too much like a dream. But soon one of our number who had gone out to [illegible] returned enthusiastically saying he actually had talked with a Russian soldier.

"Blankets flapped to the ground and we all rushed out. Others evidently had the same idea, because before even [illegible] a group of Germans similar to our own. Yes, they certainly were not German soldiers, but Russians in light yellow-green uniforms [illegible] have burst through the barricade that barricade put up by order of the Nazis which had caused us so much unnecessary suffering.

"These Russian soldiers looked well fed. We studied them; they were friendly. They grinned [illegible]. Suddenly a gun carriage appeared with something red hanging from it. It was a Red flag. Big lumbering tanks followed. In one was a Russian officer. What would he do to us—arrest us, order us back indoors? He just passed by taking no notice.

"A small truck bearing a German number plate with headlights burning brightly approached from the other direction. Gracious, were the Germans coming back? But at the wheel sat a grinning Russian soldier. Another sauntered along playing a concertina.

"Then a German civilian carrying a sack of potatoes on his back. Then another. That was the signal for us to scatter in all directions with buckets and bags. At the [illegible] beyond the barricade stray [illegible] of potatoes were being [illegible]. Now was our chance to get [illegible] needed bread. At the [illegible] some persons were [illegible] the grocer's shop. Others were [illegible] filling large cans with [illegible].

"All around us were [illegible] machine guns and in tanks. In another mood we probably should have not gone farther. But as it was, we pressed to the baker's shop. F[illegible] Albrecht, motherly as always, though much more tired and [illegible] than usual, handed each [illegible] one half a loaf of 'black bread' without money and without [illegible] also without coupons.

"Back in our street again. What's that? A column of German soldiers filing by the first war prisoners we had seen—being led by soldiers pointing the way with rifles. There was another German, but he was lying face downward at the [illegible] . . . Then we had our first breakfast since 1933 that was not under Nazidom's shadow. What a meal of freedom! we thought.

"The shooting continued but even that did not matter. Drifting clouds of smoke still obscured the sun from time to time, and the smell of burning filled the air. We peeped through a window. In the street below someone was tying a white handkerchief round his arm. Occupation had begun. What does new experience hold in store for us Germans?"

For the last two or three years Canadian schoolchildren have collected enough milkweed plants to keep the pilot plant at the National Research Council busy all winter. The scientists are studying ways to extract the high rubber content from milkweed plants.

POSTPONE ACTION

The special meeting of Alberta Wheat Pool delegates held in Calgary from June 27 to 29 inclusive decided to postpone action on the proposal to loan $150,000 to Canadian Co-operative Implements Limited. The matter will be brought up again at the annual meeting which is held on the fourth Tuesday in November.

The motion to take such action was moved by Elmer Clay, seconded by Lester Lee, and was carried by a vote of 34 to 36, ten delegates being absent at the time of voting.

There was a sharp division of opinion among the delegates. Those favoring the loan maintained that there was need for a strong co-operative farm implement distributive business in Canada, that the present system of distribution is wasteful and expensive, that the evidence brought out at the sittings of two royal commissions justified such a move on the part of the farmers, and that a good start had been made in raising substantial funds in loans to the extent of $1,100,000 from the three prairie governments and from the Wheat Pools of Manitoba and Saskatchewan (see last week's Budget). The Alberta Wheat Pool was expected to provide its share, namely, $150,000 of the prospective Wheat Pool loans of $500,000.

While it was evident from the discussion that the delegates were in sympathy with the proposal to establish a co-operative method of distributing farm machinery and were willing to lend the project financial support as individuals, a majority of them were opposed to using Alberta Wheat Pool funds for the purpose. These funds, they argued, are the property of the members of the Alberta Wheat Pool, who during the early years of its operations, 1923-28, contributed two cents out of each bushel delivered to the Pool for the purpose of building up elevator reserves and approximately one per cent of the selling price of the grain [illegible] for the [illegible] reserve. These two reserves now aggregate approximately $4,000,000. Many of the farmers [illegible] them are [illegible] many others have ceased farming [illegible] and are not making use of the elevator facilities into which they put their money fifteen to twenty years ago.

Those who opposed the motion to lend part of these reserves or moneys thereto, to C.C.I.L. did so on the basis of their belief that:

1. As trustees of the reserves of Alberta Wheat Pool, their first obligation was to reserves holders who, having for any reason ceased farming, should have their investment returned to them as soon as practicable.

2. That the investment made by farmers (in the reserves of Alberta Wheat Pool) who are now deceased should be paid back to their respective estates as soon as practicable.

3. Farmers are much more prosperous now than they were in 1924 and in the years immediately subsequent thereto when they provided over $4,000,000 [illegible] of their incomes to the reserves of Alberta Wheat Pool, and should therefore, have little difficulty as individuals in finding the money needed to launch C.C.I.L.

4. If farmers as individuals put their own money directly into C.C.I.L. they will have a direct financial interest which will tie them into the new organization more closely than if the same amount was loaned on their behalf by Alberta Wheat Pool.

[illegible] Brown of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Co-operative Implements Limited, addressed the meeting at some length, giving a history of the organization. The first meeting was held on July 24th, 1940, and the original idea was for the provincial governments to loan $500,000 and the farmers and cooperatives a like amount.

In the first year shares to the extent of $218,000 were sold to prairie farmers, [illegible] being sold in Alberta) and the membership totalled [illegible]. Subsequently, it was considered that the capital was insufficient and the drive was resumed in 1944. At a conference held in Winnipeg last summer the prairie premiers obligated their governments to loan $750,000 on condition that $750,000 was raised by share subscription from farmers and a loan of $500,000 was obtained from the Wheat Pools and other co-operatives. To date, over $750,000 worth of shares have been sold to farmers. The [illegible] was for a million dollars and Manitoba's quota of $222,100 has been exceeded [illegible] has Saskatchewan's quota of $420,000. Of Alberta's quota of $300,000, $400,000 has been raised through the sale of shares.

While the main objective of the C.C.I.L. is distribution, a manufacturing plant has been purchased at Winnipeg at a cost of $300,000 to make certain small lines of machinery. The results of operation have been satisfactory, [illegible]. The organization also [illegible] $30,000 to enable the National Farm Machinery Co-operative manufacturing plant at Shelbyville, Indiana, to extend its operation. Of this subscription $10,000 has been [illegible] cash. —Wheat Pool Bulletin.

OTTAWA INTERESTED IN FORTHCOMING SESSION

With the assembly of Parliament only two weeks away, and with Mr. King in the process of getting a seat, politics is again one of the main topics in Ottawa's famous 5 p.m. cocktail party circles.

Every Scotsman within hailing distance of the Capital is sending his approval of the Prime Minister's choice of ridings. Glengarry is one of the great areas of Scottish culture and development in Canada with a glowing history, and no Scotsman need be told about Prime Minister King's own Scottish ancestry.

The other political topic is the impending Dominion-Provincial Conference which it is confidently expected will succeed, instead of suffering the same ignominious fate of its predecessor. That bust-up was the talk of the town for weeks and many stories of the exhibitions of selfishness, short-sightedness and sheer stupidity are being retold. If the men who foregather here early next month want to be great figures in Canada's history, they will certainly not duplicate any of the weird manoeuvering of 1941.

The Government has for some weeks now had a small army of experts preparing the way, like John the Baptist, for the coming of millennium when the Provinces will lie down with the Dominion in peace and gentle cooperation. It will be one of the [illegible] of the forties, and the [illegible] of Canada for the next [illegible] of a century and, in [illegible] may well be settled at this forthcoming meeting.

MAIN HIGHWAY WORK NOW IN FULL SWING

Road crews are making progress with projects on this year's program of the provincial public works department, according to reports received by the Alberta Motor Association. There is $1,000,000 for main roads.

Under suitable weather conditions, progress is reported on the reconstruction of sections of the Calgary-Edmonton highway. Some complaints were made over the condition of the detours and these were investigated recently by the minister, Hon. W. A. Fallow.

One of the main projects is the rebuilding of the road from Edmonton south to Millet. This was on the 1944 program but had to be delayed, due partly to wet weather conditions last year when it was impossible to make the progress hoped for.

Officials say that work also is going ahead on the Calgary-Crossfield reconstruction project which is being completed this season. Another of the major 1945 jobs now under way is straightening and gravelling of the main highway link between Coutts and Lethbridge. Crews are working from the southern end and it is expected some 50 miles will be finished this season.

TOWN OF TOFIELD

Town Council wish to express their appreciation of the co-operation of most of the ratepayers in providing containers for garbage which is a great help in collecting it. Full co-operation is asked by all, and once more it is requested that some effort be made to secure some kind of containers, and avoid having your garbage left behind.

J. E. STINSON,
Secretary-Treasurer.

Canada's Dominion Department of Agriculture has made extensive tests to determine what fruits and vegetables have strong enough tastes, smells or colors to withstand the process of dehydration.

Rationing helps the FARMER
HERE'S HOW!
- Rationing assures everyone a fair share of scarce foods. Without rationing farmers might get all the butter they need, they might not get sugar. City dwellers might get sugar but no butter.
- Rationing helps to keep prices steady.
- Rationing has assured farmers sufficient ammunition to protect their crops and livestock.
- Rationing makes it possible for farmers to get coupons to feed harvesters and other transient farm workers.
The FARMER helps Rationing
HERE'S HOW!
- By collecting and turning in the coupons acquired against the use and sale of butter and the sale of honey and rationed maple products.
- By writing to the Local Ration Boards for application form RB 77 as SOON as they know definitely that transient labour will be needed to feed extra help hired for periods of less than two weeks.
Rationing is not intended to add unnecessarily to the burden of Canadian farmers who, faced with shortages of labour, materials and machinery, have continued to respond to repeated calls for greater production.
It is a protection against waste . . . shortages . . . inflation.

RETURNED VETERANS AND UNIVERSITY TRAINING

Returning veterans from overseas possessing a grade 12 status or who have had previous University training, which they desire to continue, have been taken care of in the matter of housing in quarters close to the University, as stated by Lt. Col. E. Brown of the Alberta Government Veterans' Welfare Commission. A number of huts or buildings have been taken over jointly by the Alberta Government and the municipal authorities from the War Assets Corporation. They will be turned into 400 reconverted suites fitted with showers and other modern equipment. Rents for same will run from [illegible] to $25 per month according to size and a reasonable flat rate covering gas, light and water has been arranged.

Colchicine, a drug with the strange ability to double or triple the number of chromosomes in most plants, is being investigated by Canadian biologists.

HONORED AT SHOWER

In honor of Miss Irene Oliver, whose marriage took place on June 27th, Mrs. Charley Sears, Mrs. John Bower and Mrs. Roy Lee entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Lee.

The table was laid with a white lace cloth centred with a huge, three-tiered wedding cake made from cardboard and decorated with white crepe paper and silver leaves, and topped by a silver horse shoe and [illegible] with pink and white flowers and silver leaves. The cake was for the gifts for the bride.

The room was decorated with pink and green streamers centering above the bride's chair, from which was suspended a white wedding bell. Pink and white [illegible] roses and lilacs completed the room decoration.

A mock wedding, in which Mrs. [illegible], Mrs. Pansy Ingram, and Mrs. [illegible] were the principals, was the highlight of the afternoon's entertainment. In the [illegible] contests held, Mrs. Stanley Brean and Mrs. Barbara Appleby were the prize winners.

Mrs. Pansy Ingram escorted the bride to the gift table to the tune of the wedding march and presented the gifts.

Miss Marie Ray and Miss Nellie [illegible] assisted Miss Oliver in opening the gifts, after which Miss Oliver very fittingly thanked her friends.

A dainty lunch was then served, Miss Oliver passing the two bridal cakes presented to her.

STOP SPREAD OF SOW THISTLE AND CANADA THISTLE

As it is now the middle of July, all Canada Thistle and Sow Thistle are in bud or breaking into blossom. Now is the time to cut them and stop millions of seed from blowing around our country. Every Thistle we cut now will help towards controlling these two weeds.

All farmers who have roads along their farms, are responsible for the weeds from their fence to the middle of the road allowance.

This job does not take long so let us all start now and see what an improvement we can make.

EMERGENCY

Never one to shirk responsibility, comedian Alan Young has announced his intention of operating for the international audience right through the summer months. Here he is in one of his many expert roles, that of Dr. Young, calling for suture and sponge, while standing guard over a pretty patient. The Alan Young Show is heard over the CBC network on Tuesdays, at 7:30 p.m. CDT.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEES

When Johnny left for basic training he may have thought he didn't have a friend in the world, but when he comes marching home, he'll find that a lot of people in his home town appreciate what he's done and want to pitch in and help him get back on his feet.

Over 500 Citizens' Committees made up of ordinary people, businessmen, church folk, service club members, neighbours—have been organized in towns, cities and villages all across Canada to see that the veteran gets a square deal. They know he's been through a lot and want to help him. They want to see that he gets the kind of job he likes, that he will profit by training he is advised about, that his family will get the best possible accomodation. If he wants advice, they'll give it to him freely—on business, economic or personal matters.

Quietly and unobtrusively, the Citizens' Committees go about making life easier for the returned man by helping him in his troubles and lending an understanding ear.

One young RCAF veteran, taking a course in Toronto, did not seem to be doing so well. His instructors investigated. They found that his wife at home had just had a baby, and that he was short on cash to pay hospital bills. A quick call to the Committee in his home town sent a man hurrying to the hospital, where arrangements were soon made to pay for the cost of Junior's arrival, with the ex-airman repaying the cost in monthly amounts that fitted his budget. In no time everything was smoothed out, and the young airman was going full speed ahead with his studies.

Rehabilitation, as the government realised, is a three-fold job, involving the enactment and administration of laws, the determination of the veteran himself, and the co-operation of the community, which is the part played by the Citizen's Committees.

Committees vary in size from one city to the next. Some have only the one committee looking after everything, others, particularly the big places, have a central committee and numerous sub-committees such as housing committees, church committees, etc.

In dozens of different ways, depending upon the ingenuity and goodheartedness of the townsfolk, the Citizens' Committees do their best to make the returned man feel at home. One community writes him a letter before he's even discharged, telling him what they are planning. Another sends him a certificate of appreciation, a "thank-you" card printed on the best paper available. Another town sends him a personal letter with an enclosed mimeographed sheet, asking him what he'd like to do, and what they can do for him.

Another place waits till he's been home a couple of months then sends him a personal letter to find out how he's getting along. In almost every case they find there's some little adjustment that can be made, some problem—business, economic or otherwise, in which the experienced men of the Committee can be of service.

All over Canada—in big cities and small villages—when Johnny comes marching home, the Citizens' Committees are on the job to make him feel that his welfare is the country's first consideration.

TO-DAY'S TALL STORY

A ship's gunner, home on leave, was sitting with his cat before the fire. His wife had to go visit some relatives and warned him to keep an eye on the fire.

She went out. The gunner fell asleep. Two hours passed. The fire died. The wife returned. She took one look at her husband sleeping before the dead fire, and screamed: "Fire!"

The husband leapt to attention, tore open the door of the oven, rammed in the cat, slammed the door, and cried, "No. 1 gun ready!" —Seahorse.

OBITUARY

MRS. IDA EATON

On July 17, 1945, Mrs. Ida Eaton, wife of James Eaton, passed away at her home at Ryley at the age of 60 years, 3 months. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Frances Mumford of Timmins, Ont., one brother Chas. Merritt of Kincardine, Ont. Remains were forwarded to Kincardine, Ont., for interment. J. E. Stinson, funeral director, Tofield.

BEAVER LAKE MUTUAL TELEPHONE CO. HOLD MEETING

On Monday evening, a general meeting of the Beaver Lake Mutual Telephone Co. at McKenzie was held, attended by the shareholders, when it was decided to rebuild the main line running north from Tofield. They have been informed by the Dept. of Public Works that the road allowance from Tofield to the Chipman corner is to be widened, adding 16½ feet on each side, and were also advised to set their telephone poles back accordingly. A power post hole digger is being built by Mr. R. Rasmussen and work on the project will commence soon.

GORGEOUS PEONIES

Mr. C. Oulton, who lives just west of Tofield, has at least two hobbies, raising wild fowl and the growing of peonies and gladioli. Last week Mr. Oulton brought the Mercury a generous bouquet of gorgeous peony blooms. He told us that during the dry spring weather he carried water daily to his flowers, the reward for which he is now reaping. The blooms were really beautiful and our appreciation was spontaneous and genuine.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend my thanks to those from Kingman and Miquelon, who helped us when we had the misfortune of having our house and contents destroyed by fire.

John H. Lee, Arthur and Margaret.

NOTICE

My wife, Sylvia Zawithoski, having left my home, I will not be responsible for any debts incurred by her.

Dated July 12, 1945.

LOCAL & PERSONAL

CANADIAN LEGION MEETING

A meeting of the Canadian Legion will be held in the Town Hall on Wednesday, July 25th, commencing at 8:30 p.m. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kenney of Rimbey spent a couple of days in Tofield this week, visiting at the Murray home. They attended Miss Lorene Wood's wedding.

Miss Loretta Rose spent a few days in Edmonton.

Mrs. Bert Lovell and Jean, and Mrs. Earl Moore and family are holidaying at Cooking Lake.

Miss Margaret Dodds from Edmonton was in Tofield on Wednesday of this week. She was the soloist at Miss Lorene Wood's wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Martens of Wembley have been visiting in the Tofield district for the past two weeks. They notice several improvements made during the three and a half years they have been away and have enjoyed their brief stay here very much. Mr. and Mrs. Martens were here for about fifteen years before leaving for the Grande Prairie country.

Mrs. M. L. Anderson from Howick, Que., is visiting with Mrs. Johnstone Ferguson. Mrs. Anderson is Mrs. Ferguson's sister.

Bob Lovell and Duane Warner left on Friday last for Jasper where they will spend their holidays. The boys shipped their bikes up and expect to see quite a lot of the country before coming home.

NO JAP BALLOON

Charles Paubet, a farmer of Giscome, which is 24 miles east of Prince George, B.C., on the Canadian National Railways, thought he saw something bright and shiny floating in the sky over Giscome. It may, he thought, be a Japanese balloon loaded with explosives. Knowing what damage could be caused by an enemy balloon setting fire to the forest so near the big lumber camp at Giscome, Paubet got out his rifle and brought the thing to earth. It turned out to be a meteorological balloon sent up by weather experts.

The balloon and its equipment were dispatched by the finder to Prince Rupert. Apparently Mr. Paubet was a little disappointed that the balloon wasn't Japanese, because in the accompanying letter he said "Am returning herewith your 'FAKE.'"

WEDDING

FRANCIS—WOOD

On July 18th, at three o'clock, a wedding of much local interest was solemnized at the Tofield United Church, when Margaret Lorene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, was married to James Francis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Francis of Viking.

Bouquets of peonies and blue and white streamers were used to decorate the church. The Rev. R. B. [illegible] officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her [illegible], chose for her wedding dress, a slipper length white sheer, with white lace mitts, and a long veil held in place with red rose buds. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas. Her only ornaments was her mother's pendant. She was attended by her sister, Luella, dressed in slipper length gown of blue sheer carrying yellow gladioli, and wearing a coronet of yellow flowers, and Evelyn, dressed in pale blue sheer, carrying pink peonies with matching coronet.

The groomsmen were Robert Bown of Ranfurly, cousin of the groom, and Bill Rollans of Viking, cousin of the bride.

Ushers were Douglas Murray and Vernon Majakey.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Stinson. During the signing of the register, Miss Margaret Dodds sang, "I'll Walk Beside You."

The ceremony was followed by a reception to seventy guests in the church basement, where the bride's mother, wearing navy blue with light blue accessories, and a corsage of red roses, received with the groom's mother, who was dressed in figured jersey with white accessories and corsage of talisman roses and corn flowers.

The bride's table, set under a bower of streamers was laid with a crocheted table cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by four candles. Guests were served by members of the Young Womens' Association.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. T. B. Murray.

The couple left for a honeymoon at Banff and Jasper. For travelling the bride wore blue and black figured dress with white accessories, and a tan top coat.

On their return they will reside on a farm north of Viking.

Out of town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bown and Robert, Ranfurly; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Francis and Anne, Viking; Mr. and Mrs. Alf Toverud, Viking; Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorward, Viking; Mr. and Mrs. D. Dorward, Viking; Mr. and Mrs. G. Cottrell, Viking; Mr. and Mrs. H. Rollans and Bill, Viking; Mr. J. Majakey and Vernon, Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kenney, Rimbey; Miss Vivian Shaw, Edmonton; Miss Margaret Dodds, Edmonton.

NO MERCURY FOR TWO WEEKS

The only way the Mercury staff can take a holiday is to close up the place. Consequently, there will be no Mercury for August 2nd and 9th. We don't know where we are going but some time next week will be on our way.

Old Timer Passes On

Mrs. Annie Margaret Tofield, widow of Dr. J. H. Tofield, founder of this town, died here Friday last. Mrs. Tofield was 84 years old.

Mrs. Tofield was born at Newcastle, England. She came to Winnipeg in 1882, to Edmonton in 1883, and to Tofield with her husband in 1897. It was in Edmonton that Mrs. Tofield met and married Dr. Tofield. He was the RCMP physician stationed in Edmonton at that time. She was a nurse before her marriage. Both Dr. [illegible] Mrs. Tofield were prominent in the affairs of the Northern Alberta [illegible] ers' and Oldtimers' association, and were widely known throughout the central and northern part of the province. He died in 1918.

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Annie Margaret Tofield, widow [illegible] the late Dr. J. H. Many Ryley Activities

Last Thursday afternoon at 3 p.m., a simple but impressive Memorial service was held in the United Church in memory of the late Mrs. James Eaton, who passed away very suddenly on July 17th. Rev. Gesson led the service. His message was taken from several scripture passages pertaining to our readiness when the call comes and of the Home prepared for us. Later that evening, Mr. Eaton left by the flier for Kincardine, Ont., where the mortal remains of Mrs. Eaton were interred last Monday afternoon. Our sympathy goes to Mr. Eaton and his daughter Frances in their loss.

George Manson, D.D.G.M. paid an official visit to the Ryley I.O.O.F. No. 75 when they held their meeting Tuesday evening.

Miss Bernice Kallan spent a week in the city visiting Helen Romanuik who is taking a course at McTavish Business College.

Janice Lee Aiken is visiting her aunt and uncle, Lillian and Mick O'Brien.

Mrs. J. L. McPherson accompanied Doctor to Edmonton when he left to attend the special Parliamentary Session being held in Edmonton now.

Pte. Alfred Oslund is home on furlough for a few days. He is staying with Bernice and his mother.

Pte. Bob Bendiksen and a buddy, Pte. Bob Buck, were home over the week end visiting Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bendiksen.

Ryley Senior Ball team made another attempt without success, to beat the Dodd's team.

Sgt. R. K. Westmancoat of Dundurn, Sask., was back in Ryley over the week end on business and visiting friends and relatives. Bob recently underwent an operation on his leg, and is taking his furlough now while recuperating.

Brian Westmancoat and a friend Lloyd Chapman of Camrose, pedalled all the way from Camrose on their bikes early Sunday morning and spent the day. They left Monday noon by bike.

Several families from Ryley spent Sunday at Hastings Lake Bible camp. Among those present were: Henry Holte's, Henry Lee's, Wessners', Ed Magneson's, Hans Kroganes', Pinsotho and Ireland families. The weather was ideal for the outing.

Mix Bros. of Edmonton are here in Ryley with their bulldozer excavating on several jobs. Among them the basement for the bungalow being built by Mick and Lillian O'Brien, a rain water cistern near the Ryley Community Hall, which will supply water for skating and curling rinks this coming winter, the basement for the Community League "Raffle" House.

I saw Ed Mehus having the large show windows of his barber shop cleaned by Sam Aloch.

The house recently purchased by Nick Kushnir from John Jevning, has been moved to the location purchased for it, just east of Holtop's.

Several families spent a week camping at Lake La Nonne recently. They reported having had a grand time and caught quite a few fish. Among the campers were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Chappel, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Knudslien, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bendiksen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Anderson, Agnar Nord and Roy and Ruth Davick, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Anderson.

Donald Bendiksen and Bob Ireland have a contract to paint the buildings on Martin Lawson's farm in the Ketchamoot district.

Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Magneson gathered in the Bethel Lutheran Parish Hall on Tuesday evening to honor them on the occasion of their silver wedding. Rev. Ostrem was master of ceremonies. The hall was tastefully

HIGHLIGHTS OF C.C.F. CONVENTION HELD AT VIKING, FRIDAY, JULY 20th, 1945

Bruce constituency C.C.F. held its annual convention in Hilliker's Hall, Viking, Friday, July 20, 1945. In spite of hot weather, dried out condition, and special happenings of the week there was a goodly number of members and visitors present.

The spirit of the meeting was aggressive, progressive and enthusiastic interest was sustained throughout, each and all being heart and soul out and out for the C.C.F., and the accomplishment of the aims thereof.

Mr. John Heslup, Viking, President, gave a report of the year's work. He mentioned the fact that in the past year we had had two campaigns on which our interest had been centered. Now we must prepare for a provincial election in [illegible] by building up a strong organization with a strong membership with [illegible] strategy. The vote for the C.C.F. candidates in the recent federal election doubled the 1940 vote. That shows that the C.C.F. is not a dead issue but a very live one, which will continue to grow livelier as the days go by, if each individual C.C.F.-er does his or her part, said Mr. Heslup. The [illegible] report was read by the [illegible] report was ready by the secretary treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Thornley of Tofield. Miss Edith Hanson of Viking acted as assistant secretary for the convention.

Mr. S. Lefsrud, Viking, gave reports on election campaigns. Due to the co-operation of the assistant campaign managers and the membership of the Bruce constituency C.C.F. the Federal campaign carried itself, stated Mr. Lefsrud.

Mr. John King, Edmonton, Prov. Secretary, C.C.F., was present and gave a short talk. Among other things, he said: "C.C.F. has a hard battle ahead. A more intense organization campaign must be carried on [illegible]. The stronger we grow the more opposition is to be expected. The strength of the C.C.F. movement depends on the strength of the [illegible] C.C.F.-er," stated Mr. King.

The officers elected are: Pres., Mr. John Heslup, Viking; Vice-Pres., Mr. Lars Peterson, Holden; Sec.-Treas., Mrs. A. J. Thornley, Tofield; Directors, Messrs. O. M. Holmberg, Viking; Bill [illegible], Bruce; F. Koehl, [illegible]; C. Bugge, Ryley; F. A. Moen, Tofield; H. Tomchuk, Holden; S. Lefsrud, Viking; S. Williamson, Sedgewick; Miss Edith Hanson, Viking.

Delegates to Prov. C.C.F. convention at Edmonton (if any) were Messrs. John Heslup, Viking; R. S. Peterson, Viking; E. A. Moen, Tofield; R. Booth, Ryley; B. M. Anderson, Tofield.

Substitute delegates were Mr. C. Bugge, Ryley, Mrs. R. Nordstrom, Viking, and Mrs. A. J. Thornley, Tofield.

EFFICIENT OPERATION OF THE COMBINE

(Experimental Farms News)

From studies being conducted at the Experimental Station, Swift Current, and in the United States, many losses incurred in combining can be considerably reduced by the correct adjustment and operation of the machine in the field, says J. L. Thompson of that Station.

Cylinder losses in most machines are small. Most operators keep the clearance to a minimum to get every kernel out of the heads. However if the straw breaks up badly, it is better to increase the clearance to a maximum and reduce as necessary, otherwise if the straw is broken up too much the racks and shoe become overloaded and more loss will result here than at the cylinder. Cylinder speeds should be set as recommended. High speeds break up the straw and overload the racks and shoe and crack grain, while slow speeds do not thresh thoroughly.

Cutting bar losses are usually high. If the grain is lodged, the cutting bar should be lowered and the forward speed decreased so as not to overload the straw racks and shoe. This is important because, if the cutting bar is lowered, more volume is handled and the forward speed should be reduced so as not to exceed the machine capacity. It is not much use putting the grain into the machine if it comes out the back end again. Where grain is standing well, the cutter bar can be raised thus saving power and doing a more efficient job.

Rack losses can be excessive if the cylinder is out of adjustment or the forward speed is too rapid. In the first case the straw breaks up too much and in the other the volume is too great. In either case it is impossible to separate all of the grain from the straw. Where the straw breaks up it is better to increase the cylinder clearance and thus decrease the rack loss. Where the volume of straw is too great decrease the forward speed.

Where the straw is broken up the fine material filters down from the straw racks and forms a mat on the shoe. It can be helped by directing the blast to the front of the sieve and lifting the material. If the blast is increased and is spread over the whole sieve, a lot of grain will be blown over. Better results can be obtained by increasing cylinder clearance and avoiding such conditions on the shoe. The rack and shoe speeds should be checked. Run them only at recommended speeds.

Reel losses follow if the reel is driven too fast or is kept too low. The reel should travel slightly faster than the forward speed.

The combine will do efficient work if the operators use good judgment and adjusts the machine to suit conditions as found in the field. It would be well to emphasize again the fact that cylinder losses are usually very small compared to rack and shoe losses if the machine is not adjusted and operated properly.

CHANNEL ISLAND SCOUTS CARRY ON

Despite the fact that throughout the German occupation Scouting was under ban on the Channel Islands, the Scouts held regular meetings. Their equipment was seized by the Germans but on VE Day the Scouts uncovered their hidden uniforms and appeared on the streets in them.

WEDDING

SWABEY—LAWRENCE

At St. Luke's church of England Saturday evening, Rev. W. H. Hatfield officiated at the [illegible] of Miss Laurian Lawrence, daughter of Mr and Mrs. A. Lawrence of Edmonton and Mr Ronald Swabey, son of Mrs R. D. Swabey of Tofield.

The church was adorned with peonies and carnations for the ceremony and the guest pews were marked with satin ribbon.

The bride wore a gown of bridal satin, with a lace panel down the front of the skirt and lace yoke and sleeves. Her floor-length veil was caught to a Mary Queen of Scots headdress, and she carried a sheaf of red roses. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, a family heirloom.

Miss Frances Lawrence was her sister's bridesmaid. She was gowned in blue sheer, with long blue mittens and a blue chapel veil falling from a wreath of tiny flowers.

Little Miss Sheila Adams was flower girl, wearing an old-fashioned gown of blue taffeta, with a small veil. She carried a nosegay bouquet.

Best man was Mr. Frank Swabey, brother of the groom, and ushers were Mr Arthur Innes and Mr. Donald Lawrence.

Miss Eleanor Luschsheiter was organist.

A reception was held in St. Luke's parish hall after the ceremony, where about 60 guests were present. Mrs. Lawrence received in a grey and rose redingote, with navy accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Swabey was in a navy blue dressmaker suit, with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was done in carnations and centred with a four-tiered wedding cake. Mr. Frank Swabey proposed a toast to the bride.

Out-of-town guests at the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Swabey, Mrs. D. Swabey, Mr. P. Adams of Dewberry, Mr. C. Spencer of Grand Prairie, Miss J. Swabey of Marwayne, Mr F. Swabey, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Leach, Chester and Ralph, Miss L. Devenport, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith and Marion, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leach, Mr. E. Nix.

Miss Sherwood was a week end visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Whitford.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Brown were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Swabey.

There will be a Social Credit picnic on August 8th at Westlake's beach. Good speakers will be there, so everyone come and have a good time and so make it a great success.

Ed Stevens is home on leave for a short time. We all hope it won't be long before you will come home for good, Ed, so chin up.

Mr. Frith is at Victoria, B.C., visiting his daughter, Mrs. Freeman.

Mavis Jacobson and Lina Anderson spent the week end at Jacobson's and at Hastings Lake on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaglesham, Mr. and Mrs. Othen, the Glen Bailey family, Wickenberg and Olson families and others, spent Sunday at Elk Island Park.

Mr. Olsen and son Glen left Wednesday morning for a 2-week visit with his father and sisters at Prince Rupert.

Mrs. C. Jones and grand-daughter Carol, spent Thursday and Friday at Edmonton, taking in the Fair on Thursday.

Jess Jones took in the Fair on Tuesday and Wednesday. Jack spent Friday in Edmonton.

Mrs. Eaglesham and Mr. and Mrs. Othen spent three or four days in the city last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Verlyn Moss and daughter took in the Fair on Thursday.

Lina Anderson arrived in Edmonton Wednesday morning of last week. She intends to make her home there for a while after staying with her aunt and uncle in Toronto for about four years.

WORLD OF WHEAT

By H.G.L. Strange

The outlook in Europe in general for sufficient food for this coming Fall and Winter is bad indeed.

Reports from all sides indicate that there will be a serious shortage. Fortunately, Canada has a large surplus of wheat. The problem will be in shipping the wheat to the people who need it. Unfortunately, the war is not ended, and large amounts of shipping are needed to make the long wearisome trip with fighting men, munitions, equipment, and supplies to the far-off Pacific.

Those in charge of operations have no enviable task. They are obliged to balance the requirements of shipping space needed to prosecute the Pacific war, against the needs for foodstuffs by the hungry people of Europe. So great will be the need for food for a year or more in Europe, particularly for livestock and livestock products, that our farmers will be assisting Canada's war effort in the Pacific, and moreover helping the hungry people of Europe, if they will produce as much as they can of these essential products.

LINDBROOK

A picnic was held Sunday, July 22, on the Woolake ball diamond. McKenzie won the first ball game, and [illegible] the second. In the final game, Lindbrook vs. McKenzie, Lindbrook won top money. Congratulations, Lindbrook and helpers. The picnic was very successful due to donations from the ladies and the efforts of the boys. Special thanks to the helpers in the booth and all those who supported the sports. The day was finished off with a bucking horse display by Jack Grey.

A dance was held by the Hall Board and the Orchestra Wednesday night for the boys home on leave who are going to the Pacific.

Mrs. J. H. Brown and family are spending the week at Lakeview.

S. Knudslien is making good progress with his new barn.

KINGMAN

Mrs. Harvey Bekerus of Sexsmith, Alta., and Doreen, spent a few days at the home of her parents last week, at the Melvik home.

Miss Rose Wolters has gone to the coast for a holiday.

Mr. Douglas Amp and Severn Heiberg came home from overseas last week on a month's leave.

Mr Jack Herron and family are moving to their farm near Lake De May.

Miss M. Dettwiler is staying at the J Kauffman home a few days this week.

There will be services in Kingman by Rev. Ostrom Sunday evening, July 29th, at 8 o'clock.

Beaver Council Work Late

The meeting was called to order at 10:10 a.m. by Reeve Anderson with the following members of Council present: Reeve J. A. Anderson, Councillors Nick Laskoski, Dep Reeve Ovens, E. A. Moen and Wm. Lucas.

Moved by Deputy Reeve Ovens that the minutes of the meeting held June 8th, 1945, be adopted as read. Carried.

Secretary explained the reason for the standing of Divisions and General Public Works Accounts not being shown in the Monthly Statement. A great deal of time had been required in bringing the accounts forward from the time the merger was effected and the work had not been entirely completed in time for this meeting, but was being continued as rapidly as possible.

Moved by Mr. Wm. Lucas that the Bank and Cash Statement for the month of June, 1945, be accepted as read. Carried.

Mr. E. A. Moen retires from the meeting.

Moved by Deputy Reeve Ovens that we proceed to make application to the Motor Vehicle Controller for a permit to purchase a new half ton truck. Carried.

Moved by Reeve Anderson that we strongly recommend to all [illegible] of the M.D. of Beaver No. 73, that they take care of their coal requirements before the commencement of cold weather in view of the warning conveyed by the Coal Controller as per letter dated June 14, 1945.

Councillor J. W. Swabey takes his place in the meeting at 10 35 a.m.

Mr. Gray of Concrete Products Limited spoke briefly on the cement culvert situation explaining that owing to shortage of labour some services previously given by his Company in respect of installation of culverts is not available at present, but his Company is still prepared to furnish culverts and to advise in regard to cement bridges, etc.

Mr E. A. Moen takes his place in the meeting.

Reeve J. A. Anderson reported noticing a telephone pole leaning over a road near Doeds partially obstructing traffic.

Notices were received from the Priorities Officer, that applications by the M.D. of Beaver No. 73 for permits to purchase a Cat. No 12 Motor Grader and an Adams No 412 Motor Grader had been refused.

A letter from the official Guardian regarding the Stone Estate was read and filed.

A letter from the Director of Surveys explained the requirements regarding the placing of telephone poles along public roads.

Director of Surveys outlines the position of the owner of land across which a roadway is being used by the public and pointed out that unless agreement to the contrary has been made between such owner and the Municipal District, such roadway (unsurveyed) may be closed at the will of the owner of the land, without notice.

Notice was received from Mr. A. R. Currie of Round Hill that he is closing the roadway across a portion of the South half of Sec. 6, T50, R20, W4M.

Letter from the Alberta Hail Insurance Board dated the 28th of June, 1945, was read.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that we offer to accept the sum of $100 from Mr. P. R. Kolodychuk as full settlement of hail tax arrears now amounting to the sum of $148.22 and standing against the S.E. 31-49-16-4, such insurance having been placed by him in 1942, such offer to be without prejudice, and failing settlement by Mr. Kolodychuk on that basis within ten days of the date of such offer to him, that action be commenced for the recovery of the amount in full of the said arrears. Carried.

Secretary was instructed to advise Mr. P. R. Kolodychuk accordingly, by registered letter, it being understood that he is farming the S.E. and the N.W. quarters of Sec. 31-49-16 W4M this year.

Moved by Deputy Reeve Ovens, that we accept the judgement of the Court in the case "Otto vs. the M.D. of Beaver No. 73," and that settlement of the amount found against us be made immediately, the figure being $190.00.

In regard to a letter received from Mr. Wm. Rea, K.C., the Estate of J. C. Phillips, Deceased, the Secretary was instructed to advise Mr. Rea as to the total claim of the Municipal District as balance of purchase price in connection with the sale of N.W. 20-51-20 W4th M. to Mr. Emery Phillips.

Moved by Mr. J. W Swabey that the C.P.R. be paid for roadway right of way on the S.E. 33-51-19 W4M. being 2.01 acres at the rate of $20 per acre.

Moved by Reeve J. A. Anderson, that the C.P.R. be paid for 3.81 acres in the N.W. 27-49-20 W4M, used for road way right of way at the rate of $12.00 per acre.

Secretary was instructed to enquire of the C.P.R. whether it is their policy to purchase roadways no longer required for the purpose.

Moved by Deputy Reeve Ovens that we adjourn for lunch. Carried.

The meeting was resumed at 1:25 p.m. Friday, July 13th, with all members of Council present with the exception of Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus.

Secretary reported that the By-Law providing for a hospitalization agreement with certain hospitals serving our territory had inadvertently omitted to mention the Vegreville General Hospital and the Viking Municipal Hospital and in view of no objection to the By-Law having been raised by any person and the very evident unfairness to those hospitals, if they wish to enter into such agreement, should they be excluded, that it is suggested such agreement be made to include the two hospitals mentioned.

Regarding a letter from Dr. F. D. Conroy requesting settlement of his account against Mr. Arthur Robinson, the Secretary was instructed to obtain information from Dr. F. F. Law as to the position of the Municipal District, Dr. Law having been instructed by Councillor Swabey to attend Mr. Robinson in the first instance.

Secretary was instructed to acknowledge a letter from the Edmonton General Hospital regarding the charge of 25 cents per patient day agreed upon in respect of hospitalization of Veterans.

Final completion of hospitalization agreement with the Edmonton Hospitals was reported by the Secretary, copy of such agreement now being filed as approved by the Minister of Health.

Word was received from the Eventide Home for men that accommodation for Mr. K. Hoyem is not available at the present time.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that the Secretary write the Bethel Old Peoples' Home, Banff to see if they are in position to take care of Mr K. Hoyem.

A number of Mothers' Allowance accounts were attended to.

Moved by Mr. J. W. Swabey that the application for Old Age Pension made by Mr William Herbert of Tofield, be approved at full pension. Carried.

At the hour of two o'clock, the Reeve declared the meeting would continue as a Court of Revision for the consideration of complaints against the 1945 assessment.

The Court proceeded to hear persons who had submitted complaints.

Councillor Giebelhaus takes his place in the meeting.

Moved by Mr. Henry Ovens that we renew our application for permit to purchase an Adams No. 412 Motor Grader.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus that complaints in respect of the 1945 assessment of lands, buildings, stock-in-trade and personal property within the Municipal District of Beaver, No. 73, be dealt with as follows:

[illegible]-50-15 W4M, such road to be an elevated grade for about a quarter of a mile and the balance to be a good graded road.

Secretary read the minutes of two meetings of the Building Committee.

Moved by Mr. Lucas that the minutes of the two meetings of the Building Committee be approved as read. Carried.

Secretary was instructed to advise the Committee as soon as word is received as to the fate of our application for building permit.

The question of Mr. Anton Morland's right to claim damages in respect of hogs impounded by him.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that Mr. Anton Morland be advised that the Municipal District is not permitted to allow damages in the case of the hogs held by him and not impounded.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Anderson that Councillor Giebelhaus investigate the damage claim in respect of the horses impounded at the A. Dorin Pound on July 5th, 1945.

A letter from Mr. Jas Fahy with a copy of his letter to Mr. Fred Giernt was filed.

A letter from Mr. H. W. Voigt of Poe was received and referred to Mr Nick Laskoski, Councillor for Division 2.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that we issue an additional amount of $10.00 monthly to Mr. Wm. Larsen of Poe for three months, such additional relief issue to be used by him in purchasing medicine. Carried.

Secretary reported that certificates as to the sign-up on the T.B. (Bovine) petitions will be issued within a few days, the campaign for signatures now being practically completed.

Secretary read the minutes of the meeting of the Agricultural Service Board held July 6th.

Moved by Mr. Wm. Lucas that we approve the minutes of the Agricultural Service Board held July 6th. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Henry Ovens that Reeve J. A. Anderson be appointed Chairman of the Agricultural Service Board. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Henry Ovens that Mr. J. E. Roddick, our Agricultural Service Board fieldman, be allowed 10 cents per mile for the use of his car whilst same is used on trips in connection with his work as Fieldman. Carried.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that we adjourn to 7:30. Carried.

The meeting was resumed at 7:30 p.m. Friday, July 13th, with all members present.

A letter was received from the Supervisor, Tax Recovery, regarding refusal of the Minister to approve the sale of S.W. 16-48-13-W4M, to Mr. Axel Lindstrom of Lavoy.

Secretary was instructed to write Mr Lindstrom explaining the position taken by the Minister in regard to the sale of the above land and suggesting that if Mr. Lindstrom wishes the M.D. to do so, in view of the circumstances, the deposit of $600.00 made by him on account of purchase price will be returned to him immediately.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus that we offer the N.E. 21-49-14-4 to Mr. Raymond P. Benson of Bruce, Alberta, at a cash price of $600.00, subject to the approval of the Minister, and that we advise Mr. Benson that if he is not interested in buying the land at that price, he may lease same from the M.D. at a rental of current taxes and $25.00 cash, for the year 1945.

An offer was received from Mr B. B. Starkey of Bruce, to purchase the E. half of 2-50-14-W4M.

Secretary was instructed to advertise the E. half 2-50-14-4 in local papers calling for sealed offers to purchase the same, subject to the approval of the Minister, such offers to be considered by Council at a meeting to be held August 10th, 1945, the N. E.31-49-13 W4M, also to be so advertised.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus that the Secretary be authorized and instructed to add $10.00 to tax arrears standing against each parcel of unsubdivided land standing in the name of the M.D. and as to which parcels, a Valuator's report has been obtained recently. Carried.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that By-law No. 97, being a by-law to provide for the sale of Lot 15, Block 2 in the Hamlet of Kingman, to Mrs. Jennie C. Wick, of Kingman, at a cash price of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars be read a first time. Carried.

Moved by Deputy Reeve Ovens that By-law No. 97 be read a second time. Carried.

Secretary was instructed to remove from our list of lands available for sale at this time, the portion of the East half of Sec. 35-48-15 W4M, which lies south of the Railway right of way.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Anderson that By-law No. 98, being a by-law to provide for the sale of 5.40 acres in the West half of Sec. 3-50-18 W4M to Mr. Marvin Moen of Tofield, Alberta, at a cash price of $100.00 be read a first time.

Moved by Mr. Henry Ovens that by law No 98 be read a second time. Carried.

Notice was received from Mr. E. H. Anderson of 10648, 130 St., Edmonton, that he is closing the roadway right of way across his land, the N.E. 3-50-20 W4M.

Reeve Anderson said he would look into the matter.

Secretary was instructed to obtain information as to the protection afforded by the Municipal Public Liability Insurance policy referred to by the Indemnity Insurance Co. of North America, Toronto.

Secretary was instructed to advise the Holden School Division that all members of the Council of the M.D. of Beaver No. 73, will be glad to have copies of any reports or other information from time to time as to the activities of the School Division and Holden Health Unit.

Secretary was instructed to stop payment on the Herman Maves cheque, in view of the question being raised as to the person or persons rightfully entitled to receive payment for the gravel taken from the S.W. 36-48-15-W4M

Mr Henry Ovens retires from the meeting at the hour of 9:30 p.m.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus that Mr. E. A. Moen, Mr. W. A. Anderson and Mr J. W. Swabey be hereby appointed a committee to investigate the gravel possibilities on the N.W. 33-49-20-W4M, with a view of purchasing the said land if it appears desirable, the committee to submit its report as soon as possible. Carried.

The Committee arranged to visit the N.W. 33 on Tuesday, July 17, at about 3 p.m.

Moved by Mr. J. W. Swabey that a wage advance of $300.00 be made to Mr. J. E. Roddick, Fieldman of the Agricultural Service Board of the Municipal District of Beaver No. 73, to enable him to purchase a car, and that his mileage fees earned while on Municipal Trips be applied on repayment of such advance, and provided further that such advance be secured by a promissory note due 12 months from the date of the advance, without interest. Carried.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen that the Secretary and Assistant be given three week's holidays and that the Stenographer be given two weeks, all with pay, such holidays to be so arranged that the office will be kept open and the usual service given to the public. Carried.

Moved by Mr Wm. Lucas that Mr J. W. Letourneau be authorized to sign Municipal cheques as Assistant Secretary during the time the Secretary-Treasurer is absent on holidays.

Mr. Wm. Lucas retires from the meeting at 10:20 p.m.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus that the resolution of this Council passed at a previous meeting of Council fixing rental of employee's cars used on Municipal business at fifty cents per diem be rescinded and that such rental fee be at the rate of 75c per day. Carried.

On the motion of Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus, a number of accounts were approved for payment.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus that the meeting adjourn.

SCOUTS KILL COBRA SNAKES

Boy Scouts of Kangra, India, spent two weeks killing cobra snakes prior to a religious festival. As a result only one person was killed by snake bite at the festival, as compared with an average of more than 100 at previous festivals.

It is possible for men or women discharged from the services to use their re-establishment credit due them to provide working capital for their civilian business or profession.

Today's veteran is able to use his re-establishment credit to pay premiums on insurance issued by the Dominion Government.

MEN FOR HOME BUILDING MUST BE SECURED

Home building is highly essential to overcome pressing housing shortages, and to provide dwellings for the Forces as discharged.

Shortages of workers for building homes and for producing the building materials are threatening to impede Canada's program for the construction of 50,000 homes as soon as possible.

All men experienced in home building or in producing building materials, who are not now working in either of these industries, are urged to apply to the nearest office of the National Employment Service immediately.

Men experienced at home building or producing supplies, if now in other essential work, will be given permits to work at jobs which will assist the house building program.

All men; not now at house building nor producing supplies, who can fill a job in this program, are urged to answer this call.

Apply at once at the nearest office of the National Employment Service.

WEDDING

BRIMACOMBE—OLSON

At Central Lutheran Church, Wednesday at 5:00 p.m., Rev. M. S. Johnson solemnized the marriage of Miss Gladys Irene Olson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Olson of Tofield, and Mr. Marwood George Brimacombe Jr., son of Mr. M. G. Brimacombe of Vermilion and the late Mrs. Brimacombe.

For the ceremony the church was adorned with peony blossoms in pink, white and red. Guest pews were marked with white bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin made with a fitted torso length bodice, a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves which tapered at the wrists. Her court length veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and sweet peas, and wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Doris Watt, the bride's cousin, was gowned in pastel green taffeta fashioned with a fitted bodice. She wore a yellow chapel veil, long yellow gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and sweet peas.

F.O. Gilbert Brimacombe, a brother of the groom, and recently returned from overseas, was best man and Flt. Lt. Douglas Brimacombe and Mr. Glenn Olson were the ushers. Mr. Wm. Elford of Vermilion played the wedding music and Mr. J. Botsford sang "Because."

A reception to more than 50 guests was held at the Corona hotel, where Mrs. Olson, mother of the bride, received in a black afternoon dress with a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Plaste, the groom's aunt, was in powder blue with contrasting fushia accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride's table was centered by a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded in white tulle and mock orange blossoms.

Flt. Lt. Robert Blackburn proposed a toast to the bride.

Musical selections were given at the reception by F.O. Gilbert Brimacombe and Mr. Elford.

The bridal couple left later for Jasper Park, the bride travelling in a beige dressmaker suit with brown accessories and a powder blue top coat.

DODDS

DODDS AIRMAN MARRIED AT LONDON, ONTARIO
YODER—BLACK

At a candlelight service in St. Matthew's Church last evening, Florence Mae, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David C. Black, was united in marriage to FO. Lorne Yoder, RCAF, Centralia, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Yoder, Dodds, Alta. Rev. A. A. Trumper performed the ceremony during which the bride and groom exchanged rings. With flowers on the altar and large baskets of flowers and candelabra, the church was effectively decorated. The organist, F. W. Wakefield, played the wedding marches and accompanied Miss Margaret Blake who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown of white satin was fashioned with a lace yoke, the full skirt ending in a slight train. A coronet style head-dress of illusion and white satin, held in place a finger-tip length illusion veil. She carried a shower bouquet of dark red roses, with white flowers knotted in the streamers. Her only ornament was a pendant.

Miss June Davies, the bridesmaid, wore a pink dress made with lace bodice with blue velvet bows at the neckline and net skirt with large blue velvet bows. Her headdress was of pink net and pink flowers and she carried a muff of flowers and pink and white ribbon.

The best man was FO. Jack Gerlen, RCAF, Centralia, and the ushers were FO. Fred Jones, London, and FO. Murray Gedes, Centralia.

A reception for 30 guests was given at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Black receiving in a British tan and eggshell mesh dress with hat to match, eggshell colored accessories and corsage bouquet of Johanna Hill Hill roses.

For going away the bride wore a red and white mesh dress, black and white accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias. FO. and Mrs. Lorne Yoder went to Detroit, Mich., and Bob-lo Island for their honeymoon.

An interesting letter was recently received by Mrs. Mehus which can give us some idea of the wonderful work which is being done by the Red Cross among the bomb stricken areas in England, and how it is appreciated. The following is a copy:

Mrs. Misselbrook,
22 Shalford House,
Law St., Southwark,

Dear Mrs. Mehus,

May I send my thanks for your kind gift of a blanket to "bombed out" people. I received yours, which was very acceptable. The thought that goes with it, is remembered even more. Everyone has suffered a great deal, but it is glorious to be alive. At the present moment we have had twelve nights of "beauty sleep" after nearly five years. It is hard to believe.

I have two sons, one in the navy, the other not old enough yet, but he will go in for that too, when he is old enough. My husband is too old, but he has been a voluntary Warden all the time, and has been out with every "Alert" and incidentally feels that he has taken part in this war too.

I trust if you have anyone in it, they will all have a safe return. Such things as you people are doing for us means a great deal, and we over here appreciate everything. Please thank all for their kindness and may this war be over soon and all families re-united again.

Best wishes from England to Canada.

Second World War Ends

The world war is over. A new date was blazed on the historic calendar of the world on August 14, 1945, as Japan accepted Allied surrender terms and brought to an end the Second Great War. From Washington, President Truman made the announcement at five p.m. (M.D.T.) press conference in the White House even as Prime Minister Attlee of Britain broadcast a similar message over the BBC from London. Moscow radio also carried the news for which the world had waited anxiously for days.

The Japanese note said the emperor accepted the surrender terms as outlined in the Potsdam declaration. Gen. McArthur will have high British, Russian and Chinese officers with him when surrender terms are signed. The terms decreed unconditional surrender to which Japan acceded. President Truman read the formal message from Emperor Hirohito.

In a broadcast to the Japanese people, the emperor is reported to have said the new atomic bomb was responsible for Japan's surrender. It was intimated that Japan's defeat may be regarded as temporary.

Broadcasts state that the Japanese war cabinet has resigned and the war minister had committed hari kari.

From Ottawa Prime Minister King announced Wednesday would be V-J Day in Canada, and next Sunday, a day of prayer and solemn thanksgiving for the victory over Japan and the end of the war.

Here the news was received with thankfulness. Little groups of people stood smiling and just simply saying how glad they were it was all over. The I.O.D.E. which was in session immediately made plans for a service at the Cenotaph Wednesday afternoon and a general celebration at night.

SERVICE AT CENOTAPH

Wednesday at 2:30 a special service was held at the cenotaph to commemorate the ending of World War II. Headed by the Tofield band, veterans of both world wars, South African war, the Boy Scouts, Girl Guides, I.O.D.E., and school children, marched from the C.N.R. station to the cenotaph. Service was conducted by the Revs. Krug and Richer, the music for the hymns being played by the band. The Last Post was sounded by Bernie Chandler and prayers and addresses were given by both ministers. After the service the band played a few selections.

In the evening quite a large crowd assembled at the fair grounds. Again the band delighted those present with several selections. A bonfire was lit and community singing led by accordian music played by Mr. Mike O'Donnelly. This gentleman, who only recently returned from overseas, also excellently rendered an Irish song. The I.O.D.E. served coffee and there was a supply of weiners for the youngsters. Private celebrations were also held in several homes.

While joy because of the cessation of hostilities was the keynote of the day, there was also a tinge of sadness because of those who in the service of their country, gave their all. May their sacrifice be not in vain and may their memory always remain green.

Mr. I. Lillo, Ryley, Passes

Funeral services for Mr. Ingrald Lillo of Ryley, who passed away at Vancouver on August 3, 1945, at the age of 44 years, were held from the United Church, Ryley, on August 8, at 2 p.m. Rev. T. J. Stainton of Edmonton conducted the service and interment took place in the Ryley cemetery. Beautiful floral tributes and Memory Cards attested to the wide acquaintance and regard in which Mr. Lillo was held. They were received from: His sorrowing wife and children; Bill, Bertha and children; Gust Olson, Leona and Harold, Clarence, Martha and Robert. Mrs Sundlie (Mother). Borghild and Gordon, Alfred, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burns and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. MINISTIK

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES SUNDAY, AUGUST 19

Memorial and V-J Day Service Ministik Memorial Hall, 3:00 p.m.

This is a combined service for all four points on the Ministik field. There will be no regular services at Looma Vista or Hastings Lake. This is the fourth annual Memorial Service held in connection with the student field. All veterans of the first World War and any servicemen or ex-servicemen of the present war are especially invited. There will be special music and the laying of wreaths. Veterans from Lindbrook, Looma, South Cooking Lake and Fultonvale and all friends are invited to share in this service. At this time of final victory, it is especially fitting that such a service should be held, in the spirit of thanksgiving and gratitude.

The Ministik Young People's will hold their regular meeting next Tuesday at the usual time. There will be ball at the school followed by the meeting at the Hall. All young people are very welcome.

The annual C.G.I.T. and Trail Ranger summer camps have just concluded at Lakeview. Lindbrook was represented by the Misses Carol Bracegirdle and Marion Smith, both back for the second time at the girls' camp. Gordon Self, young nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Hennessey from Bassano, and Don Griffin of South Cooking Lake, represented the field at the boys camp, while Mrs. Hennessey very ably filled the duties of camp cook at both camps. Ernest Nix directed the boys, and Rev. Dr. Stanley Scott of Brumner managed the camps. On Sunday August 5th, a very inspiring open air service was held under the trees in connection with the C.G.I.T. camp, to which the congregations of the Ministik field were invited. There was a good crowd, a beautiful day, and it was a heart-warming sight to see the girls taking part in the service in their trim uniforms.

A sight for sore eyes is Steele Murdoch, the first of the Ministik boys to arrive home from overseas. Steele is looking to be in first class shape, and in his usual good spirits. He is spending the remainder of his leave with his friends and relatives in the district, after which he expects to go east. Steele wishes especially to express for himself and all other servicemen their deep appreciation for the welcome home they have received across Canada. He feels that too much cannot be said for the way the people of Canada have been on hand with all manner of good things at every stop the troop trains made coming home. Even at the small stations, such as one where they stopped for only a few moments at midnight in Saskatchewan, there were crowds of people anxious to welcome them.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ferguson, proud parents of a new baby boy, born in Edmonton.

Visitors over the Civic holiday week end were Miss Marion Pratt, Miss Margaret Lailer and Mr. Jack Price, all of Edmonton. They were in one of Mrs. Hull's cottages, camping with E. Nix, student minister.

Mr. and Mrs. Sid Whitford and son Billy Dick of Calgary spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. William Whitford and Mr. and Mrs. Roddick and family. Miss Doreen Roddick has lately been to Killam visiting her aunt, Mrs. Sherwood and family there.

A very pleasant affair was the wedding shower held in honor of Mrs. Ron Swabey at the Ministik Hall recently. Laurie received many lovely and useful gifts. Most families of the district were represented.

The annual Social Credit picnic was held at Westlake beach, Hastings Lake, August 8th. Attended by a good crowd, the gathering was addressed by Mr. Anthony Hlynka, M.P., and Mr. Floyd Baker, M.L.A. The ladies had their share too, when Mrs. Hlynka and Mrs. Baker both spoke. It's getting so that a girl has to watch who she's marrying these days—it may turn out to be a career as well as a home! Everyone had a most enjoyable time, young and old.

Mrs. Stanley George has her niece from Vancouver as a visitor.

Mrs. Hamilton and family of McLeod are spending a few days with Mrs. Hamilton's sister Mrs. [illegible]land.

Mrs. D. R. Swabey has left for a two week camping holiday at Elk Island National Park. The camp is under the direction of the District Health Unit. It should be a fine experience.

Mrs. Mary Jones and Mrs. Elsie Ritzinger both of Edmonton, are at present visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Wright.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor:

The following is from the July 4 edition of the Liberator, for members of the allied forces, published in Amsterdam, and sent to me by my brother, Major N. W. Nix.

BRITAIN FEEDS EUROPE, HENCE SMALLER RATIONS AT HOME

Any Britons, or Canadians, or Americans, or Australians, who question the reason for continued rationing and greater food restrictions (which will affect these and other countries in varying degrees for months to come) should study the most recent report from Washington on the European food situation. And they should read a few of the reports from the parts of Europe where people are still hungry, and where they face the prospect of being still more hungry unless the people in more fortunate lands adjust themselves to a few minor privations.

But what if the retail price of old potatoes has been increased slightly in Britain? And what if the cheese and meat ration has been further curtailed? The feeding and restoration of Europe for the coming year or more—and no one question that this is an essential job if the peace is to last—is strictly a co-operative project. Every citizen of the United Nations will have at least in some small degree, a part in it.

Here are three paragraphs from the reports issued this month by the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"The outlook for local food supplies and requirements in Continental Europe definitely indicates a large import need for the remaining months of the current consumption year (ending July 30, 1945) and for the subsequent 12-month period. The United Nations face a situation which holds no prospect of early improvement.

"Continental Europe's supply of food from domestic sources in the consumption year 1945-46 will be the smallest since the outbreak of the war. The decline from the 1944-45 level may amount to from 5 to 10 percent for the Continent as a whole.

"Considering the requirements, not in terms of probable effective demand or availability of supplies and shipping, but only in terms of quantities necessary to bring about some improvement in liberated countries and to prevent large scale starvation in enemy territory, a total of about 12,000,000 tons of food would be needed for the Continent in 1945-46. This total could consist largely of wheat, but should also include substantial protein foods as well as sugar."

That is the problem in general outline. But broad statements and figures are cold and remote. Here are authoritative eyewitness reports of the position that has to be faced:

"One or two food parcels do not help these persons, however thankful they may be for the Allied preliminary help. They can only be helped if enormous supplies of bread, potatoes, fats and butter come into the towns without interruption.

"I made a tour of Amsterdam with some doctors of the Municipal Medical Service . . . I shall tell of one incident I witnessed myself. We entered a house somewhere in the east end of Amsterdam.

"The stairs are bare; the balustrade has been used as fuel in the stove. The first rooms we pass are stripped bare, even the picture frames have been used as fuel. We enter the living room. In a corner on a filthy mattress, without sheets and with only one blanket, lie a mother and her children.

"The woman stares vacantly into space, the elder child of 11, covered in vermin, cries pitifully; the younger, six years old, tries to smile and stretches a hand towards the chocolate the doctor produces.

"The three living skeletons are carried downstairs; they are no longer capable of walking that short distance."

Sir Jack Drummond, a member of the special committee appointed by SHAEF to advise on special feeding arrangements for Northwest Holland stated only a few days ago: "Reports of a large number of deaths in the western Dutch towns from starvation are quite correct. We saw hundreds of people as emaciated from starvation as any we had seen at Belsen concentration camp."

"That is the grimmest side of the picture. It is true that such drastic conditions do not apply in most countries---yet! It's the immediate aim of the United Nations food relief programme to ensure that they don't---ever!"

NOTICE TO FARMERS

As the thistle problem is becoming more and more serious, it is in the interest of all concerned to see that all patches of thistles are cut before starting to combine. If the fields infested with Canada Thistle are combined, the thistle seed will be spread at an enormous rate. Any farmer found combining or threshing grain with a lot of thistles on it is liable to have his parcel of land condemned. The condemnation notice prohibits the seeding of land to wheat, oats or barley without a permit from the M.D. Weed Fieldman. This action is necessary because many farmers are making an effort to control their patches and certainly do not want these patches to be re-infested with Canada Thistle seed from neighboring fields. The farmers must make an earnest effort to prevent the spreading of Canada Thistle seed. Any farmers or operators neglecting to pay attention to this item may find a condemnation notice issued against their land without warning.

J. A. RODDICK,
M. D. Weed Fieldman.

Meatless Tuesdays and Fridays are expected to save one million pounds of meat a week in Canada.

THE SASKATCHEWAN

O thou silent winding river
  Coursing through the prairies wide,
From thy birth upon the mountain,
  Towards the far-off ocean tide!

Thou art gather'd from the streamlets
  Sparkling children on the height,
Buoyant youth in feats of prowess
  Calling, foaming in the light.

Hast thou records yet unfolded,
  Misty legends treasur'd long,
Far behind our day receding,
  Sage's lore or poet's song?

Stealing round the pier and buttress
  Smoothing echoes of the mart,
Thy way is by the paths of nature,
  Unmindful of the human art.

The dripping paddle once was here,
  The teepees moved from shore to shore,
Strong voices broke across the silence
  The row-locks moaned beneath the oar.

Tacit wanderer through the spaces
  Awake to triumphs of today,
Catch some gleams of joy and virtue, too,
  Cheer the faltering on their way.

THE TOFIELD MERCURY
W. Worton, Publisher

KETCHAMOOT

Hello everybody! After a few month's rest from the "news" we'll try to send in a few more items again. At that we wish a younger person would carry on. We have missed the Mercury and many kind friends have told me they have missed the Ketchamoot news. We hope Mr. and Mrs. Worton and daughter, Winnie, had a nice holiday and will feel like taking up duties again.

Mr. G. W. Sears received word his mother had passed away at Prescott, Iowa, at the age of 86, but unfortunately was unable to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Peter Payd returned home one day last week from an Edmonton hospital bringing a brand new daughter with her.

At the stock show sponsored by the Rotary Club in Camrose, Mrs. Percy Sutton had the good luck to win a Hereford heifer. Congratulations.

It was with deep regret we heard of the passing of Mr. Harry Kleinschroth and extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Mrs. H. McGinitie returned home one day last week after a two week's holiday spent in visiting and sightseeing in Vancouver.

Mrs. Appleby and son Keith also enjoyed a holiday visiting relatives in different parts of B.C.

Mr. Charley Ingram left Monday morning for Victoria, B.C.

Mrs. John Brown entertained the Ladies' Aid at her home Wednesday afternoon of last week. We were pleased to have our new minister and wife with us, Rev. and Mrs. Ricker and their son Owen. We hope they will find us congenial to work with. The September meeting will be held with Mrs. Frank Shupe.

There were no church services on Sunday owing to the school house being re-decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Sears and family motored to Edmonton Sunday of last week. Mrs. Sears' parents, Mr. and Mrs. McLennan, returned home with them, staying until Monday evening when they went on to Ryley.

Miss Louise Carlson of Camrose is spending her school holidays with her aunt, Mrs. Donald Carlisle.

Mr. Lorne Lee shipped two carloads of fattened stock to Edmonton the first of last week which should help out the meat situation a bit.

A lawn social under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid will be held next Wednesday evening, August 22, starting at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Appleby. A cold plate supper will be served. Everybody welcome.

The Sears' families, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schultz, and Mr. and Mrs. William Davison, spent Sunday at Elk Island Park.

On Sunday evening of last week, some 75 friends and neighbors gathered at the Sears home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sears who had returned from their wedding trip spent at Banff and Jasper. On behalf of those present, Harold Schultz presented them with a purse of money as well as a lot of good advice. The usual treats were passed around and a nice lunch was served, which brought a pleasant evening to a close. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sears have taken up residence in the Chas. Ingram house.

The Ketchamoot picnic and sports day turned out a success in spite of delayed date and postponement on account of rain. It was held on Thursday, August 2nd, fortunately the only nice day of the week. Ball games and races were run off on schedule and there was plenty to eat at the table and booth. $106.46 was cleared at the table and $30.13 at the stand. We wish to thank one and all who in any way helped to make it a success. We are quite proud of our Ladies' Aid, thanks to so many young ladies taking an interest. We have now a membership of 30.

Mr. Billie Brick who spent several years of his childhood days in our district, visited a few days with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ingram recently.

Mrs. Harold Schultz and Mrs. Clifford Appleby were joint hostesses at a shower given at the Schultz home Monday afternoon of last week in honor of Mrs. Stanley Sears, nee Jennie McCrea. A beautifully decorated basket was wheeled in the room on a tea wagon by Barbara Appleby who presented and assisted in unwrapping the many useful and pretty gifts. The bride expressed her thanks for welcoming her into the community in such a nice way. A lovely lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Alvin Schultz, Mrs. Torvel Noneland and Miss Eileen Stirritt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ingram, Mrs. Wiley and children and Mrs. Nickerson and daughter, spent Sunday at Lakeview.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends who were so kind to us during our recent bereavement, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.

Mr. James Eaton and Mrs. Frances Mumford.

BARDO

At the Albert Haukedahl home, relatives, friends and neighbors numbering over 300 gathered Sunday afternoon, August 12th, to help Mr. and Mrs. Hans Jenson celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Hans Jenson and Agnette Christiansen were both born in Norway, coming to the United States in the nineties. They were married at Lacrosse, Wis., on the 10th of August, 1895, by Rev. Anderson. They made Lacrosse their home till the year 1901. Then with their three children, they emigrated to Bardo, Alberta, Canada, and homesteaded the farm on which they still live. The Jensons tried all the hardships and sacrifices so common to pioneer life. By their determination and courage they made a good home for themselves and children. They have, as good neighbors and citizens, been an asset to their adopted country. Their three daughters, Clara (Mrs. O. Flaaten), Agnes (Mrs. A. Haukedahl), Hannah (Mrs. N. Sand), as well as nine grandchildren were present at the festivities. A short program consisted of: Devotion and greetings by Bennie Anderson; Solo, Carey Breckan; a song composed for the occasion was sung by Andrew Finseth of Ryley; Presentation speech by Rev. Ostrem, when he presented the honored couple with two upholstered arm chairs, one from the community and one from the children, and a small table from the grandchildren. Then followed a song "Silver Threads among the Gold" sung by Illa and Doreen Moen. Mrs. Jenson made a speech of thanks for all honor and gifts bestowed upon them. Beautiful flowers and cards of congratulations were received by the honored couple. One bouquet of gladioli came from Mrs. Jenson's nephews at Vancouver. The golden wedding couple with their daughters and son-in-laws, had lunch at a table set on the lawn. A beautiful three-tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. N. Sand centered the table. A bounteous lunch was served to all guests cafeteria style, after which all extended their congratulations, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Jenson many more years of happiness.

Rev. G. Ostrem will conduct services on Sunday, August 19, at 11 a.m., in the Norwegian language.

All of Bardo were at Hastings Lake on Sunday for the picnic dinner and attended Bible Camp services.

Mrs. Clarence Rude and Mrs. Bennie Anderson were local delegates to the W.M.F. convention held at Bardo on June 28th.

Mrs. Geo. Hendrickson, District president of the W.M.F., is attending the convention in Minneapolis.

Parochial school at Bardo church for a week, Lucille Hanson of Weldon, Sask., is the teacher.

The teacher and pupils at the parochial school presented a program at the church last Sunday.

Bardo Ladies' Aid at Mrs. S. Cinnamon's on Thursday, August 30. Overseas boxes will be packed.

Mrs. Pete Bjornson, teacher at the Grand Forks school for the past few years has resigned.

Alice Broughton, who has taught the Bardo school for the past five years has resigned her position. Miss Broughton took an active part in church and social activities, and her ability in singing and music was a great asset to the community. She was director for the School Chorus, Ladies' Chorus, Mixed Choir and Male Chorus, and Miss Broughton will be greatly missed in the Bardo community. Miss Broughton makes her home in Camrose.

Local teachers and their schools for the coming term: Bardo High, Mrs. Loolah Lerbekmo; Jr. room, Ruby Grunde; Grand-Forks, Muriel Finseth; Manville, Corrine Haukedahl; Rose Garland (Viking), Wyenne Rude.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Marwood Brimacombe, (nee Gladys Olsen).

Our sympathy to the Lillo family in their recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Moen and family of Brooks, Alta., visited here with relatives and old neighbors.

Mrs. Amanda Haugen, Florence Haugen and Ralph Johnson, La Glace, Alta., are local visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lerbekmo spent two weeks camping at Alberta Beach.

Mrs. Alma Foshaug, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kindley, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bjornson and family, Mrs. Monrad Finseth, Eystein Heiberg and Geo. Foshaug have returned home from a motor trip in the Grande Prairie country.

Carey Breckan, Edmonton, is spending her holidays at her home here.

LAW Edna Steen and LAC Bud Steen, Calgary, were home over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Lerbekmo, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steen, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Haight, Eldon Moen, Leonard Stauffer and Eddie Steen attended the baseball tournament at Alberta Beach on July 28-29.

Leonard Stauffer played with the Dodds ball team in the tournament.

P. Bjornson's, E. Rude's, M. Finseth's, C. J. Rude's, O. Anderson's, and C. M. Rude's, attended a farewell party for Rev. Rude family at Armena recently. Rev. Rude and family are moving to Alma Lake, Sask.

Illa Moen has a position as bookkeeper at the Co-op Store in Tofield.

Nils Fulkeid has received word from his mother in Norway saying they were all O.K.

Pte. Merlin Foshaug has received his discharge from the army, and has returned home.

Nils Fulkeid is taking chiropractic treatments for a lame back.

The hail storm that struck this district July 28th, caused damage to crops and gardens ranging from 35 to 100 per cent. Poultry were killed and crippled and much roofing was damaged. Fifty-two panes were broken at the A. Foshaug farm.

Recent rains has greatly improved the pastures and feed situation, though crops will be light due to drought and hail.

Clarence Rude and Bennie Anderson have bought a quarter section farm from Albert Haukedahl.

Pete Bjornson and Ivar Moen have painted their houses. Eldon Moen is the painter.

Alvin Steen stuccoed the Co-op store in Tofield and plastered and stuccoed Henry McGinitie's house.

Jake King has purchased a new 2-ton Chevrolet truck. Mr. King is freighting for Woodland, to Edmonton and Calgary.

Rationing helps the FARMER
HERE'S HOW!

- Rationing assures everyone a fair share of scarce foods. Without rationing, farmers might get all the butter they need, they might not get sugar. City dwellers might get sugar but no butter.
- Rationing helps to keep prices steady.
- Rationing has assured farmers sufficient ammunition to protect their crops and livestock.
- Rationing makes it possible for farmers to get coupons to feed harvesters and other transient farm workers.

The FARMER helps Rationing
HERE'S HOW!

- By collecting and turning in the coupons acquired against the use and sale of butter and the sale of honey and rationed maple products.
- By writing to the Local Ration Boards for application form RB-77, as SOON as they [illegible] will be needed to feed extra help hired for periods of less than two weeks.

Rationing is not intended to add unnecessarily to the burden of Canadian farmers who, faced with shortages of labour, materials and machinery, have continued to respond to repeated calls for greater production.

It is a protection against waste . . . shortages . . . inflation.

COMMUNICATION

Room 4, Post Office Bldg.,
Medicine Hat, Alberta,
July 27th, 1945.

Mr. J. W. McMullen,
Sec'ty M.D. of Beaver No. 73,
Ryley, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

On my north trip quite a number of the various Municipal Secretaries requested information regarding procedure with regard to wheat acreage ploughed down.

You will realize that if this action becomes widespread it will create a problem for us in the determination of average yield of wheat of the townships.

I have taken this matter up with our Regina Office and have been instructed to advise you to request farmers in your district to leave one or two eight-foot strips, or strips of similar width, to indicate the width of the field, as well as to show what crop was ploughed. This would be particularly necessary in the case of wheat.

If much wheat acreage has been ploughed down prior to your receipt of these instructions, the only way I can see would be to secure verification from neighbors or possibly you, yourself, might have definite personal knowledge.

Yours truly,
J. P. Connors, Supervisor.

VALUE OF THE HERD SIRE

(Experimental Farms News)

The success or failure of any cattle breeder is largely determined by the bulls used. This does not mean that the owner of a few registered cows of medium quality should scour the country for a $1,000 bull, but if improvement is to be effected the bull must be superior to the cows, says E. Van Nice, Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Sask. By proper organization in most districts artificial insemination offers the owners of small herds services of high class bulls which they could not afford to purchase. In the meantime many owners of good herds, large and small, will be purchasing bulls which may either improve or damage their herds.

If there is any sort of yard stick by which to determine the price a breeder can afford to pay for a herd sire, it is the number and general type of the cows to be bred. A real good bull will sire a calf worth more than a calf from the same cow by a medium or poor bull (and many registered bulls are of the latter class). The difference in value of such a calf at 12 or 18 months may easily be $50 in an average pure bred herd and in special herds of $100 or more.

However, 20 calves at a $50 difference means that the good bull has made for his owner $1,000 more than the inferior bull could have done. Double the number of calves for a 40-cow herd and multiply by the number of years service the bull gives and the value of the sire soars to great heights. Perhaps a $300 bull would improve certain small herds while in other cases larger herds of excellent cows may demand the use of the best bulls available, with the price a secondary consideration. It should also be noted that the price may not indicate the value of a bull for some of the most famous bulls have been bought at comparatively low figures. The late James Douglas paid $710 for the Shorthorn bull Browndale and later refused $7,000 for him.

As the price does not always indicate the value of a bull and as so much depends upon a wise selection, an inexperienced breeder might do well to solicit the help of two or three honest friends qualified to assist in selecting a herd sire.

LOCAL & PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bray and family of Bruce spent their holidays at Tofield with Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bray.

HARVESTING MACHINERY SHORT COURSE

The Harvesting Machinery Short Course was held in Holden on July 26th and 27th, arranged by Agricultural Extension Service, Provincial Department of Agriculture. Mr. F. F. Parkinson gave talks on the operation of the threshing machine and the adjustment of the binder. Mr J. L. McKenzie spoke on the operation of the combine. He was connected with the research work on the combine since 1929. Commencing at Swift Current, he studied the problems of combine operations in Saskatchewan and Alberta. From his talk it was evident he was fully conversant with the operations of the combine.

About sixty farmers attended the Short Course which was appreciated a great deal. From the charts and figures Mr. McKenzie presented it was evident that two main problems in operating a combine are: 1. Not to overload it. 2: Not to overthrash the straw.

Massey Harris agents provided the Short Course with combine display and building facilities.

Canadian service men permanently incapacitated through enemy action in the field will be confirmed in acting ranks held when wounded, Defence Headquarters announced July 19. Under previous regulations, acting rank was relinquished after 90 days in hospital.

Important Notice

At the request of William S. Birks, National Chairman of the Clothing Collection Campaign, a public meeting will be held at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, August 28, at 8:30. The meeting is for the purpose of forming an organization to sponsor the collection of used clothing from October 1st to 20th.

As everyone knows there is a great scarcity of clothing in Europe and any garment that can be spared from a Canadian home will help relieve the real distress there. This drive is sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund which includes twelve national relief organizations and is the only campaign of its kind to be held in 1945.

It is hoped that representatives of service organizations will be present at the meeting to give what advice and assistance they can.

Tuesday night, 8:30 at the Town Hall.

Will Meet Father For First Time

A very rare experience and a truly happy one will shortly befall Mrs. Clara Rogers and Mrs. Susie Innes. For the first time in their lives they will shortly meet their father. To us here at Tofield, "Clara and Susie" are akin to the town hall, they just naturally belong, and as a paper, we feel privileged in being able to print this unusual story.

They are twins and were born at Yorkton, Sask. When only a month old their mother died and their father who was a farmer, was unable to care for them. They were legally adopted by Mrs. Fergus of Yorkton and were known until the time of their marriage by that name. When the girls were ten years old, Mrs. Fergus died and Miss Sinclair took charge of them. For two years they attended boarding school. Upon Miss Sinclair's marriage to Mr. A. J. H. McCauley, they made their home with Mr. and Mrs. McCauley at Tofield until the time of their marriage, both being married in 1926, Clara to the late Mr. E. W. Rogers, and Susie to Mr. Al Innes.

During these years and up until last year they had heard nothing of their father. His residence is at Portland, Oregon, and upon one of his periodical trips to Saskatchewan he learned of his daughters' whereabouts. He communicated with them saying that as he was getting to be well on in years, he would like to see them. At first he intended to meet them in Canada, but later it was decided that Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Innes and their daughters Muriel and Jean go to Portland, Ore., to meet their dad and grand-dad for the first time. Certainly we wish them a happy reunion.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Quite a number of ladies gathered at the United Church basement Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Stanley Sears, nee Miss Jeanie McCrea. Mrs. Patterson, on behalf of those assembled, presented Mrs. Sears with a lovely silver Teapot and Hot water jug. Mrs. Sears expressed her thanks for such a beautiful expression of kindness. The evening was spent in games and conversation and at the close a delightful lunch was served.

MORRIS MAHAFFEY PASSES ON

Word has been received that Mr. Morris Mahaffey, a former resident of Tofield passed away at Upland, California on August 5th. Morris will be remembered as a barber here. He is a brother of Mrs. R. Wilson and Mrs. J. Morton.

M.M. Citation For Paul Kallal

KALLAL, Paul Vincent, M.58562, Signalman, 25, Tofield.

"During the assault on the Lamone River and Canale Naviglio by 1 Canadian Infantry Brigade from Dec. 11-15, 1944, Sigmn. Kallal was employed as a lineman with 'J' Section, 1 Canadian Infantry Divisional Signals, in keeping open line communications from brigade headquarters to the forward battalions.

"Keeping these communications open during this operation meant carrying out endless maintenance tasks, but from Dec. 11 to Dec. 15, Sigmn. Kallal worked tirelessly on this vital and dangerous duty. Time after time he would repair a line, restoring vital communications, when a break would occur elsewhere without a moment's hesitation, this signaller would set off again, often under very heavy fire, to find and repair the break, and then report back ready for the next mission.

"On one occasion, on Dec. 15, Sigmn. Kallal had just completed the laying of a line to headquarters of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment when the battalion was forced to withdraw to a new location. It was most important that line be laid to provide constant communication, as further enemy counter attacks were expected all along that front. The road back to the new location, however, was at that moment under a defensive fire task from artillery and mortars, forcing Sigmn. Kallal to abandon his vehicle. Alone and on foot and under severe shelling throughout, he nevertheless laid line by hand until he reached battalion headquarters, a distance of a mile and a quarter away. The result was that direct control from brigade headquarters to the battalion was made possible at this critical stage of the operation.

"Throughout the entire period, Sigmn. Kallal displayed a sense of duty and an appreciation of his responsibility for the maintenance and communications of the very highest order. His efforts, made with a complete disregard for his own safety were outstandingly successful, and it was very largely owing to his bravery that communications at critical stages of the battle were restored and maintained. This played a very large part in the eventual beating off of the enemy counter attacks and maintenance of the bridgehead over the Canale."

A BAD WEED

A growing sample of Leafy Spurge is now on view at the Mercury Office. Several patches of this bad weed have been discovered within the M.D. of Beaver and farmers are urged to make war upon it at once. It was necessary to prohibit further cropping of one quarter section and men who have made a study of this weed say it is extremely difficult to eradicate.

RYLEY

INGVALD LILLO

Ingvald Lillo was born in Byron, Minn., U.S.A. on July 7th, 1897. At the age of four in 1901 with his mother and brother Albert, he moved to Wetaskiwin where they made their home for a few years before coming to Ryley where they had a homestead. His mother married Mr Winsness in the meantime and they continued farming until World War I when Ingvald joined up with the Armed forces and went overseas. After the war was over he worked in the Ryley Drugstore for a while until he went back on the farm to help his mother and stayed there until sometime after her death. He then started in the machine business and had continued to expand his business until the time of his death. In 1920 he married Martha Margaret Sundlie who has been a great help to him, and has taken a keen interest in his work also assisting him in his office. They have three children, Milton, Fern and Victor.

Ingvald had been failing in health for several months and it was hoped that a trip to the coast would improve it. But on Friday, August 3rd, he passed away in a Vancouver hospital. He was brought back to Ryley for burial. The funeral services were held in the United Church on August 8th at 2:00 p.m. conducted by Rev. T. J. Stanton of Edmonton. The large attendance and beautiful floral tributes and memorial wreaths attested to the wide acquaintance and regard in which he was held. Mrs Mehus was organist and she also sang "Abide with me" by request of his sorrowing wife and family. He leaves to mourn his loss, his loving wife and children, Milton, Fern and Victor, also a brother, Wm Winsness all of Ryley, a wide circle of friends and business acquaintances. J. E. Stimson of Tofield was in charge of funeral arrangements.

The agony and suspense through which our students have been undergoing the past week or two is practically over. In grade XII, nineteen subjects were taken with only six failures. Grade XI and X are still on tenderhooks to hear their reports. Grade IX had four who passed with A's and they deserve to be mentioned, Arthur Fast, Freda Fast, Milton Lillo and Nick Kordich. Out of a class of nineteen who wrote grade IX only two failed which is a pretty fair average for so large a class. We wish all Ryley students in all grades a very prosperous new school year and hope all will do their best not only for their own sakes, but for the sake of their parents, teachers, community and, they owe it to themselves to do their very best.

Loyd Thorsley leaves for Camp Borden again on Thursday evening.

Mrs Hay and Mrs Albert Kale and daughter Judith went to Edmonton on Tuesday morning by bus. Albert Kale who has been home on a 30 day leave has also returned to his station.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Letourneau and daughter Jacqueline have returned from their holidays which were spent in Miette in Jasper district.

Mrs. George Nerson, Robert and Patsy are back in Ryley for a while.

Mrs. Arlene Porter is the new cook at the Ryley hotel.

Mrs. J. D. McDonald went to Edmonton on Monday to join her husband for a short holiday before the school term starts. Mr McDonald has been taking some special course at the university during the holidays.

Mr M. T. Johnson, manager of the Ryley Branch of the Woodland Dairy has purchased the cottage formerly owned by Mrs. O. Eastman. He is remodelling it into a modern bungalow.

Amisk Creek supper and fancy work sale was held on August 15th. Quite a few from town attended the supper and sale, which day incidentally was also V-J day.

V-J Day has come and gone. August the fourteenth, by the grace of God, was the day the Japanese decided that they had had enough. One cannot help but wonder but for God's goodness and watchfulness over us we might have been where the people of Hiroshima and Nagasaki are today, if the atomic bomb had got into enemy hands. We should be thankful from the innermost recesses of our beings.

At 8:30 p.m. on August 17th, Rev Ostrem held a V-J Thanksgiving Service in the Lutheran Church. Considering the occasion one could wish that the church had been fixed with loudspeakers on the outside for the crowd. Members from Bardo, Amisk, Tronfjem congregations were present.

Mr and Mrs Adolph Aadland, business man from Bawlf was the guest speaker. His text was Col 3:15 "Be ye Thankful." He pointed out all the things we had to be thankful for, how we had escaped bombing on this side of the water and other privations, whereas so many other countries had suffered and would suffer for years to come to re-establish themselves to conditions as they were before the war. He also spoke of those who had been bereaved and those who had lost all their possessions and even their very lives so that we might have peace and security. Were we thankful to God for sparing us? It is impossible to give the full text of the words spoken, but I am sure young and old alike could not but help feel the challenge "Are we thankful?" Mr and Mrs Aadland sang a duet accompanying themselves with a guitar and mandolin, "Love Divine." Rev. Ostrem put up the same challenge "Are we really thankful to God." Henry Holte and Edwin Magneson sang a duet "God is Working out His Purpose." Mr and Mrs Aadland sang another duet followed by short session of prayer and testimonies by members in the audience.

On August 17th the Community put on their V-J day celebration, which after the inspirational celebrations of V-E day was a disappointment to many, as V-J day meant the END of war and we had even more cause to thank and praise God reverently for His goodness to us and this land of ours. The parade started at the Railway Station. Lloyd Thorsley mounted on a fine looking horse led the parade, followed by a group of servicemen and ex-servicemen. Then Mrs. Mehus carrying the Union Jack, she was followed by two ladies carrying a V for Victory, then followed the flags of Allied countries. The tiny tots taking part in the programme then followed carrying their flags. Then Mr Kordich's car followed by a group of people on horseback followed by a line of cars and the bus which was filled with women and children. After the parade a programme was given in the Community Hall which consisted chiefly of a Thanksgiving Service conducted by Rev. Geeson who gave a very challenging address on Peace. What peace really and truly meant. The Peace of God in each individual heart. Only in this way could there be true and lasting peace on earth, in our communities and among nations. As a nation is composed of individual people who help to form communities, cities and towns, etc., it is the kind of people who form these cities, communities, etc., who form the backbone of the nation and determine what kind of a nation or community we will have. I am sure all we Ryley people wish for a community we can be proud of not only in the progressive sense but the spiritual sense as well. May it please God that we may grow more thankful to Him for all He has done for us. Following the Thanksgiving service Mrs McDonald's little tots gave a flag drill which everyone enjoyed very much. It is always refreshing to see a bunch of little tots put on a number. This was followed by a skit given by men in the services and some who have been released from the forces. It was meant to portray incidents which take place during the day of a soldier's life. It is to be hoped that they were greatly exaggerated. After singing "God Save the King" a bonfire was lit out on the green west of the hall and free coffee, hot dogs and sandwiches were served. This part of the celebration was spoiled by an electrical storm and rain coming up.

Miss Bernice Magneson is on the Ryley Treasury Branch staff now.

Miss Ruth Alseth who with Eileen Gedes left a little over a year ago for the Ajax plants in the East, returned Monday morning. She is feeling fine and enjoyed her work very much. Eileen was able to secure a permanent position out "East" several months ago and she expects to be home when she gets her holidays.

A.B.S. Donald Ostrem left Sunday evening by the flier after spending a 60-day leave with his parents, Rev. and Mrs G. Ostrem and other relatives and friends.

JOHNNY HOME.

Fourteen years ago Sergeants Frank Shuster and Johnny Wayne (shown above in that order) began reversing positions as talker and typist for a complete collaboration in writing comedy, lyrics and tunes. They began early in high school, pursued it through college where they picked up B.A.'s, no little fame, and a radio contract. They went overseas as army writers and comedians in 1942 and are home at it again for "The Johnny Home Show". The new serial goes on the CBC Trans-Canada network, Fridays at 8:30 p.m., CT.

The Royal Canadian Air Force Benevolent Fund assisted 1,353 airmen or their dependents with $61,944 in loans and $10,614 in grants during the first six months of this year.

REBUKE, ANNIVERSARY LAST WAR INFLATION

Twenty-five years ago this summer Canada was experiencing all the disastrous effects of inflation. After the end of the first World War in November, 1918, in the absence of control, prices shot steadily upward as members of the public bid against each other for goods in short supply. Here are some of the prices which prevailed in the summer of 1920 compared with the average price effective today under price control.

	1920	1945
Sugar, lb	.25	.09¼
Lard lb	.42	.17
Butter lb	.67	.39
Potatoes peck	1.06	.30
Eggs, dozen	.84	.46
Flour, 24 lb. bag	2.00	.75
Milk, quart	.15	.10

Supporting price controls after World War II will prevent a repetition of World War I bank-breaking prices.

CANADA THISTLE

Now is a good time to work on the Canada Thistle, says H. J. Mather, Supervisor of Weed Control. The reserves which the plant has been storing in its underground stems are being used towards the production of flowers and seeds. A good summerfallow from now until freeze-up is one of the best methods of destroying Canada Thistle—but the fallow must be good, and it must be continued until freeze-up.

Another method of fighting weeds, including Canada thistle, sow thistle, quack grass and most annuals, is the use of fall rye. Fall rye, sown at the rate of one and a half bushels per acre from August 15th to September 1st will work while you are busy with other tasks around the farm. If seeded earlier than August 15th, the rye can be used for limited fall grazing. Care should be taken not to overgraze if the rye is to do its full share in the killing of weeds. Next year, cutting of the rye crop should be followed by thorough cultivation until freeze-up, or if the field is so polluted that more severe measures are required, another crop of fall rye may be sown.

V

USE OF OLLI BARLEY

Olli barley ripens very early, that is why we are interested in it. Olli ripens from 8 to 11 days sooner than Newal. In this area, Olli barley was sown on May 23 and swathed on August 10. The growing period was 79 days.

[illegible] seven year average, the yield for Newal was 51 bushels per acre, and for Olli 41 bushels.

What use can be made of Olli? Olli barley can be used to control wild oats. If one wishes to clean up a field of wild oats, it should be sown to Olli. The field that was sown to Olli barley on May 26 and swathed on August 10, the wild oats did not have a chance to shatter. It should be kept in mind that bindering is recommended instead of swathing. On this field a crop of wild oats was grown and not allowed to reseed again. If this procedure is followed for several years it is possible to grow out most of the wild oats and clean up the land.

After several crops of barley have been harvested, the field should be summerfallowed. By this time the field will be fairly free from weeds.

LOTS OF SHELLS FOR HUNTERS THIS FALL

Shortage of shells which has curtailed the shooting plans of Alberta nimrods for a number of years appears to be over, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Word from Ottawa is to the effect that hunters should have no difficulty in obtaining all the ammunition they need this fall. Small arms ammunition for civilian use is being produced in large quantities by eastern factories.

Now it appears that there is no reason to anticipate any shortage of shotgun shells or ammunition for hunting rifles.

Owing to wartime restrictions, there was a serious shortage of shells in the past few seasons. The supply was so scant that many hunters had to cancel trips to their favorite spots.

With the game seasons now set for this year and supplying of vital ammunition assured, there is no reason to doubt that this will be one of Alberta's biggest seasons for those who enjoy such sport as bird and big game shooting. Gasoline restrictions are off and everything points to an invasion of shooting regions that will exceed the highest expectations.

V

SET PRICES CANNED FRUITS 1944 LEVEL

Prices for canned fruits and vegetables from the 1945 pack will be the same as in 1944, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

Canned soup and canned pork and beans are brought under the order for the first time this year. Canners' prices for these two items are held to the price charged in June, 1941, unless special authorizations have been issued by the Board. Wholesale and retail markups are limited to those taken in the basic period, provided they do not exceed maximums provided in the Order.

V

Before the war aircraft production was a minor industry in Canada, employing only about 1,000 workers and producing about 40 airplanes a year. By 1943, the annual rate of output reached about 4,000 planes and more than 120,000 men and women were employed. By the end of May, 1945, a total of 15,906 aircraft had been produced.

FOR BETTER OR WORSE—

WHEN THE FULL and unconditional surrender of Japan is formally completed the world will be entering upon an entirely new era. Men and women now in their late fifties can remember the advent of many things that have affected their work, their play and to a considerable extent, their mode of life. Steam power was in its zenith 50 years ago and electrical power either from steam or tumbling water was just beginning to hit its stride. Fifty years ago the phonograph was beginning to reproduce the songs and music of the times and a phonograph record was considered a marvellous thing. Then the world was thrilled with moving pictures, to be followed by flying, radio and the talking film. As a youngster we attended Sunday School and among other beliefs acquired, was one that caused us to imagine that heaven was a place where everyone played a harp and a place where there was music all the time. Since then we have been where literally there was music all of the time, but it certainly was not heaven. Immediately prior to the first world war and even more so immediately after, all mechanism having as its source of power the internal combustion engine (the heart of the modern automobile) was vastly improved and a mechanical riding age such as the world had never before seen was born. It took a second world war to even dim its brilliance. The boys and girls of 60 years ago would have found it difficult to believe the story of mechanical and industrial progress to come, even if it could have been told to them.

With the signing of the peace treaties and the embarkation of the peoples of the world upon an era of peace, scientific and technical processes developed and used under the stress of war will be further perfected and no doubt used. At the moment two new super forces are on the world's horizon to play their part for good or ill among the earth's peoples. Radar and Atomic energy, both vastly contributing to Allied victory, may be and most probably will be, directed to peace time human activities.

The story of radar goes back quite a distance, to 1920 in fact, but during the last few years it has been brought to a very high pitch of excellence, and the things it can be made to do today are positively uncanny. It was radar that turned the tide in the Battle of Britain. Able to detect oncoming planes, it was not necessary for British fighter patrols to be in the air all the time. In the Mediterranean it worked on the side of the British fleet in the discovering and ultimate sinking of Italian war ships. During the battle of the Atlantic when submarines were a sufficient menace to jeopardize the whole allied cause, radar ultimately won out against German scientific ingenuity. Literally hundreds of submarines were destroyed because radar won out in the hide and seek game the submarines were forced to play. In the Pacific, much to the dismay of Japanese admirals, it has been responsible for the sinking of many Japanese warships. Able in daylight or dark to "spot" a ship miles away, calculate the distance and fire the guns resulting in the sinking of the enemy ship discovered, made radar an invaluable aid to warships. And to make it more uncanny still, the operator can see the enemy ship on a screen as a spot of light, can see the projectile travelling towards its mark, its contact and with the elimination of the speck of light on the screen, the sinking of the enemy ship hit.

What radar will do in peace is of course still mostly unannounced. That it will play a large part in aviation and navigation is certain. But it is also expected that many other uses will be found for it, including many within the home.

The use of atomic energy is still too new to permit very much conjecture. As a war weapon it is disastrous enough to be almost beyond human understanding. In peace time its potential power is incredible, yet no doubt in some way future generations will use this force. To what extent because of radar and atomic energy, men and women will become happier and more contented, remains to be seen. For better or worse, a new scientific era is about to be born.

A HUNDRED MILLION FACING FAMINE

(By Edna Jaques)

"I need a good argument to convince my family that there should be two meatless days a week in our house."

This was what a Prairie woman said at an Institute meeting last week. Below are a few answers, not only for her but for every housewife in Canada.

There are 100 million people in Europe who are in imminent danger of starving, unless we send food to them. These people are not just plain hungry . . . many are dying of starvation.

Forty-eight thousand acres of the best land in Holland was flooded just 17 days before the German surrender. This means that 50 per cent of the country is under salt water, some of it 60 feet deep. Starvation stares many Dutch people in the face . . . unless we send them food.

Farm lands stretching from the very beaches of Normandy to Berlin were sown with deadly mines to slow up the Allied advance. It will take 10,000 men, working 10 years to demine France alone. That is a major reason why food is so very short there. This goes for almost every field in Poland, Belgium, Italy and in Germany itself.

Coastal waters, from the tip of Norway to Gibraltar, were also sown with mines to prevent invasion landings. This practically stopped the fishing trade. Mine sweepers have been working to clear these waters but it all takes time . . . and hunger won't wait.

Because of the ravages of war, drought, lack of transportation, lack of fertilizers, insecticides and farm machinery, loss of stock and draft animals, Europe's food crop is likely to be the lowest of any year since the end of the first world war.

A hundred million human beings are facing FAMINE . . . that's a mighty good answer . . . don't you think so?

V

SAVE MEAT

100 million people are in danger of starving in Europe.

Save meat. Make Tuesday and Friday meatless days at home. Other days, stretch meat supplies.

Ground meat for pattie and meat loaves can be made to go twice as far by adding breadcrumbs as a stretcher. They can't be beat. Use soft stale crumbs—cup for cup with the meat. Season well; use milk or tomato juice for moistening. No one but you will know they're there.

M.D. Beaver August Meeting

The meeting was called to order at 10:40 a.m. with the following members of Council present: Reeve J. A. Anderson, Deputy Reeve Ovens, and Councillors Nick Laskoski and J. A. Giebelhaus.

Moved by Deputy Reeve Ovens, that the minutes of the meeting held July 18th, 1945, be adopted as read. Carried.

Moved by Mr. Nick Laskoski that the bank statement for the month ending July 31st, 1945, be approved as read. Carried.

Councillors Moen, Swabey, Lucas, take their places in the meeting.

Moved by Mr J. A. Giebelhaus that the Municipal Inspector's report dated July 5th, 1945, be accepted and filed, and that the Secretary acknowledge receipt of such report. Carried.

Moved by Mr. E. A. Moen, that we, the Council of the M.D. of Beaver No. 73, advise the Department of Municipal Affairs, Edmonton, Alberta, that in our opinion, the average wheat yield in every township within the Municipal District of Beaver No. 73, for the year 1945, will not exceed five (5) bushel, due to causes other than hail. Carried.

Notice was received from the Controller of Construction that the application made by the M.D. of Beaver, for permit to construct a Municipal office had been refused.

Moved by Mr. J. W. Swabey that the M.D. of Beaver No. 73, hereby consent to the cancellation of the plan of subdivision of Bainy Beach, plan No. [illegible] A.E. together with the closing of the streets and lanes contained in the said plan and the re-vesting thereof in the name of the original owner. Carried.

Moved by Mr. J. A. Giebelhaus, that we complete an application under the provisions of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act, listing all townships within the M.D. of Beaver No. 73, as likely to yield less than eight bushels of wheat to the acre. Carried.

WHAT IS THE NATIONAL CLOTHING COLLECTION?

The National Clothing Collection is a united effort on the part of the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund, and UNRRA (United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration) with the assistance of national, provincial and local organizations thorughout Canada. The purpose of the Collection is to secure used clothing for free distribution to needy and destitute children, men and women in war-devastated countries.

WHAT IS CUARF?

CUARF (Canadian United Allied Relief Fund) which sponsors this drive, is the co-ordinating body of the following relief societies:

Belgian War Relief Fund; Canada France Relations Committee; Canadian Aid to Russia Fund; Canadian Friends of Luxembourg; Chinese War Relief Fund; Czechoslovak War Charities Fund; Danish Relief Fund; Greek War Relief Fund; Netherlands Relief Fund; Norwegian Relief Fund; United Polish Relief Fund; Yugoslav Relief Fund.

WHO WILL CONDUCT THE COLLECTION?

National Clothing Collection will be conducted under sponsorship of CUARF by a National Committee of which Mr William M. Birks of Montreal, Chairman of CUARF, is Chairman and the Hon. Thomas Vien, Speaker of the Senate is Vice Chairman. The National Committee will be composed of representatives of participating allied war relief organizations, as well as Government officials, national leaders of civic organizations, representatives of industry, labor, education, religious and other important groups.

OFFICIAL NAME OF COMMITTEE AND NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS ADDRESS:

"National Clothing Collection"

The National Headquarters of the National Clothing Collection is 140 Queen Street, Ottawa. Mr William M. Birks is National Chairman. Mr. Karel Busek is Executive Director. The telephone number is Ottawa 9-5005.

DATE OF DRIVE:

The drive will be from October 1st to 20th, 1945.

THE GOAL:

The Canadian public will be asked to contribute in this campaign only such serviceable used clothing as can be spared from their wardrobes without replacement.

WILL THERE BE OTHER CLOTHING COLLECTIONS IN 1945?

This will be the ONE nation-wide clothing collection for allied war relief to be conducted in Canada in 1945.

WHY IS A CLOTHING COLLECTION NEEDED?

Throughout war-ravaged areas clothing is very scarce, or threadbare and worn out. More than 125,000,000 people in liberated European nations are in dire need. Of these more than 30,000,000 are children.

Because Canada is dependent on outside sources for a very substantial portion of her requirements of yarn and fabrics, it would not be possible to manufacture in Canada more than a very insignificant part of the total clothing requirement of these people. This means that needy children, men and women in war-devastated Allied countries must depend on the help of the Canadian people through their donations of used clothing which can be spared.

TRANSFER FARM WORKERS FROM EAST TO WEST

The transfer of a substantial number of farm workers from Eastern Canada to the Prairie Provinces for the grain harvest will be undertaken again this year by the Dominion Labour Department, according to an announcement made today by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour. Up to 8,000 farm workers from Ontario and Western Quebec will be involved in this movement.

The Dominion Labour Minister said that his Department had been working in co-operation with Provincial officials of the Prairie Provinces laying plans for the transfer. Men will be recruited voluntarily in the Central Provinces, and will be moved to distribution centres on the Prairies, from which they will be despatched to local points where their services are required for harvesting.

"The Railways have again this year agreed to give the Labour Department substantial reductions in fares as an assistance in operating this excursion," Hon. Mr. Mitchell said, "so much so that we will again move the men West free of charge and require only a nominal payment of ten dollars for the return trip."

It is expected that the departure of men from Ontario and Quebec will start late in August, although the heavier portion of the movement will probably not take place until September, as harvesting in Ontario and Quebec is late. The plan worked out between officials of the Department of Labour and those of the Provinces of Ontario and Quebec provides that men will not be removed from any area in those two provinces so long as their services are still required for the harvesting of local crops. Also, certain areas in Ontario may be excluded from the excursion—particularly in Southwestern Ontario—because of the continuing demands for farm labour even after the bulk of the harvest has been taken off. On the other hand, farmers from the Northwestern districts of Ontario will likely be included this year, although excluded a year ago. In the Province of Quebec it is planned to include in the area for the recruitment of workers to go West, only those counties adjacent to the Hull Area, and the Northwestern corner of the Province.

The 1,000th Canadian-made Mosquito airplane has taken off for the Pacific. It rolled off the assembly line at De Havilland Aircraft in Toronto and was on its way within an hour. The Mosquito travels at more than 425 miles and hour and carries 1000-pound bombs.

BANK OF MONTREAL CROP REPORT

General harvesting has begun at some points in the prairie provinces. In Manitoba, crop prospects generally are promising and they continue to be satisfactory in the west-central areas of Alberta and the north-central and eastern districts of Saskatchewan. Rains have improved conditions in north western Saskatchewan and have benefitted late sown grains and feed crops in some districts of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Prospects are now less favourable in south-western Alberta. In the Peace River District yields will be [illegible]. Sugar beets are progressing satisfactorily. In the Province of Quebec, continuance of warm, dry weather has been beneficial to all crops and, with the exception of fruit, average yields are in prospect. Grains are maturing well [illegible]. Canning crops are [illegible] good growth. Pasturage is in good condition. The yield of apples [illegible] very light and small fruits give indication of only a fair crop. A good average crop of tobacco is anticipated. Production of honey is expected to be below normal. In Ontario, conditions have been favourable and, on the whole, the outlook continues satisfactory. Threshing of fall wheat is well advanced in most areas and average yields of good quality grain are assured. Harvesting of spring grains is general, with less than normal returns indicated. Tomatoes, sugar beets and other roots continue to make good progress and corn has benefited considerably from recent high temperatures. Yields of most orchard fruits will be very light. Harvesting of tobacco has commenced, the yield per acre is expected to be less than average. In the Maritime Provinces, weather conditions have been favourable but additional moisture would be beneficial in most districts. The harvesting of a heavy hay crop of good quality is almost completed and pastures are in good condition. Grain crops are heading out well. The yield of early potatoes is below average. Other roots are showing good growth. The apple crop will be very light. In British Columbia, conditions generally are satisfactory, but vegetable and field crops in non-irrigated areas are showing the effects of the continued dry weather. Orchards are in good condition and fruit is sizing and colouring satisfactorily.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Alberta: Rains in districts where moisture was badly needed have benefited late sown grains and feed crops. Prospects are now less favourable in the southern, but continue to be satisfactory in the west-central areas. In the Peace River district yields will be light. Cutting has commenced at some points and will be general in two weeks. Growth of sugar beets is satisfactory.

Saskatchewan: Crop prospects remain satisfactory in the north-central and eastern districts and conditions have been improved in the north-west by recent rains. Prospects in the central, south-central, south-western and west-central areas are mostly poor. While recent rainfall at many points checked further deterioration, it was too late to benefit anything but late crops and only small yields can be expected. Cutting has commenced at many points.

Manitoba: Rainfall has been received over most of the province and conditions are now good. Clear, warm weather is needed to hasten ripening of crops. Cutting of some early coarse grains has commenced in some areas. Most grains are filling well and prospects are generally good. Sugar beets are developing satisfactorily.

RESIDENTS OF CANADA, SERVING WITH UNITED NATIONS FORCES, NOW COVERED BY REINSTATEMENT

Extension of the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act to include those on active service in the present war in the naval, military or air forces of any of the United Nations, who were employed in Canada prior to September 9th, 1939, is announced today by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour.

The Act, administered by the Minister of Labour through the National Employment Service, previously covered those who had left jobs to join the Armed Services of the British Empire, or the Corps of Canadian Fire Fighters, and the Merchant Marine of Canada and the United Nations.

The Act requires employers to reinstate their employees who had a specified length of service, after discharge, under conditions not less favourable than they would have enjoyed had they remained in their employment instead of going into the Armed Services.

Those who have been on active service with the Forces of any of the United Nations, may now apply for reinstatement in their former jobs upon the same terms and conditions as those who have been serving with the Canadian Forces.

"While the change now made in the legislation," stated the Labour Minister, "will not affect very many cases, it rounds out the operations under the Act so that it will apply uniformly to all who have directly aided in the war effort, whether through service with the Armed Services of any of the United Nations or in the Merchant Marine of any of our Allies."

Statistics indicate that every 11th person now living may expect to die of cancer. Each year cancer causes the death of 15,000 Canadians.

There are more men in Canada than women. Of the total population 14 years of age and over on April 1, 1945, 4,567,000 were men and 4,382,000 were women.

Second only to the United Kingdom, Canada has been a principal source of mechanized transport for the armed services of the British Commonwealth.

Before going back to Civvy Street, each serviceman or servicewoman is given a thorough medical and dental examination.

CBC WASHINGTON COMMENTARY

COMPLETE TWO YEARS OPERATION

A new method of fighting tuberculosis was introduced in Alberta on August 15th, 1943, when the first mobile chest X-ray unit commenced operations. Impressive figures released today show that in two years 140,[illegible] Albertans have had chest X-rays. Active cases of [illegible] number and also [illegible] inactive cases.

While designed primarily to discover early cases of tuberculosis, the mobile units' surveys have served another useful purpose in revealing 3,010 other abnormal chest conditions many of which were hitherto unsuspected. All persons found to have any abnormal condition were notified promptly.

Operated by the Alberta department of health, the two units were bought by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association and affiliated local committees, at a cost of $40,000. The annual Christmas Seal Campaigns provided the money.

VENTILATION IMPORTANT IN BARN CONSTRUCTION

Those building or planning to build a barn are advised not to overlook the importance of a proper ventilation system. Information on construction is readily available.

A proper ventilation system provides for the removal of moisture, carbon dioxide and other waste products given off in the breath and through the skins of animals. It allows a sufficiently frequent change of air to maintain a healthy atmosphere in the barn. It aids in the prevention of disease, to the spread of which poor ventilation contributes. Adequate ventilation removes stable odours, an essential in the production of first quality milk, and it maintains an even temperature in the buildings.

Information on the installation of a suitable ventilating system may be obtained by writing to the Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

SAILORS THANK NEWFOUNDLAND

St. John's, Newfoundland— Canadian naval ratings are not leaving here without an expression of thanks for the hospitality they received in Newfoundland.

As they were preparing to close up their canteen, the ratings found that they had $10,000 put away for a rainy day. Rather than keep it, they donated the whole amount to the Newfoundland Tuberculosis Association for its anti-TB campaign, thus helping to stamp out an enemy they could not fight with guns and torpedoes. —Montreal Standard.

NEW BOX CARS

Montreal August 14— The first of an order for 1,500 new 50-ton steel box cars being built by the National Steel Car Company, Hamilton, Ont., are being delivered to the Canadian National Railways, N. B. Walton, executive vice president announces. They are arriving at the rate of 25 a day and it is expected that all will be received by September 15.

Many new features have been included in the construction of the cars including a light-weight door of new design with an automatic handle which allows for easy operation and keeps the lock from moving out of place is one. The latest type of stabilized trucks is also used.

The C.N.R. monogram has been changed for use on these cars. On all of the 1500 cars, the customary Maple Leaf will be painted in light green instead of white. The slogan "Serves All Canada" will appear on the first 1000 and the other 500 will have a new slogan "Canada's Largest Railway" in white. The letters C.N.R. above the Maple Leaf will remain, as in the past, in white. The background will be the standard mineral brown color used on all CNR box cars.

A CONSECRATION

Not of the princes and prelates with periwigged charioteers
Riding triumphantly, laurelled, to lap the fat of the years—
Rather the scorned, the rejected—
The men hemmed in with the spears.

Not the ruler for me, but the ranker, the tramp of the road,
The slave with the sack on his shoulders,
pricked on with the goad—
The man with too weighty a burden, too weary a load.

Others may sing of the wine and the wealth and the mirth,
The portly presence of potentates, goodly in girth;
Mine be the dirt and the dross, the dust and the scum of the earth.

Theirs be the music, the color, the glory, the gold;
Mine be a handful of ashes, a mouthful of mould—
Of the maimed, of the halt and the blind, in the rain and the cold—
Of these shall my songs be fashioned my tales be told."

EDUCATION URGED AS ANTIDOTE TO BIAS

Toronto. Declaring that racial and other antagonisms are the product of environment, Prof. C. W. M. Hart of the Sociology Department, University of Toronto, asserted that scientists cannot find any inherent differences between races, "only politicians can do that."

Mrs. Percival Foster pointed out that there are 242 creeds listed in the Canadian census and made a plea for members to help bridge the chasms between them and make the way clear for a united world.

Prof. Hart was speaking at a meeting of the Council of Friendship in Metropolitan Church House.

Physicians treat people of all races, creeds, and colours in the same way for the same diseases and the effect of a drug is the same on all patients no matter what the natural colour of the patient's skin, Prof. Hart said.

He attributed variations in habit, language, etc., to the training to which children are exposed and said it made no difference where a child was born, that all are of a homogeneous nature at birth becoming heterogeneous by environment and in the acquiring of the habits and ideas of those with whom they are associated.

Prejudices which beset the world, Prof. Hart said, are largely attributable to the many educational systems, and he advocated the teaching of international history as a means of counteracting those unnatural views of people who owe allegiance to other flags and faiths than those to which we hold. By substituting knowledge of facts in schools, for history tied to the foreign policy of the teaching nation at the time, man has in his own hands the weapons to remove prejudices and make for brotherhood. —Youth Magazine.

MAKE MORE HAY

Due to the possibility of shortage of fodder to carry livestock through a hard winter, all farmers are urged to put up as much hay as possible. The second growth is coming along fairly well on hailed areas, so it is suggested that as much as possible be cut for hay. Also all the straw should be saved. Should there be a surplus of fodder, it appears that there will be a good market for it elsewhere.

CHOPS OFF FINGER TO SAVE LIFE

Assistant Scoutmaster D. P. Savage of Queensland, Australia, was recently bitten by a death adder. After killing the adder, Savage chopped off the little finger of his left hand, and thus was responsible for saving his own life. In the case of a bite by a death adder prompt action is absolutely essential.

Rural Electrification

Rural citizens are becoming greatly interested in the possibility of rural electrification. The following questionnaire prepared by the Calgary Power Company covers many of the questions which would naturally arise.

1. What is the plan of farm electrification for us farmers in this area?

It is a plan to build transmission lines as economically as they can be built to bring light and power to approximately 100 farmers in this area.

2. Why are these lines being planned now?

It is important to have the information so that a program can be drawn up and so that there will be no delay in executing it when material and labour are again available.

3. What are the conditions for getting electricity to my farm?

(a) Your place must be within the 100 farm block (an additional 100 farms would form another area); (b) The average length of line for the whole area must not be greater than three-quarters of a mile per farm; (c) The maximum length of line for any one farm must not exceed one and a quarter miles, (d) Your wholehearted co-operation is necessary.

4. If there are no farms for say two miles and then four farms quite close together, would you extend the line to serve these farms?

Yes, if there are a sufficient number of farms at the end of the line to maintain the average of three-quarters of a mile per farm, then the line would be built.

5. What is meant by co-operation?

It means you help to start the plan and keep it going. For instance, you, your councillor, or your neighbor can do a great deal of the organization work, passing around this information - helping to fill out the form and collecting it again.

When the lines are to be built, you can give free right-of-way for the pole lines along the fences of your property where this is necessary. You can permit trees along the line to be trimmed. You can read your own meters if this is found necessary. You can educate the neighborhood children not to shoot at the glass insulators on the line, and so on. It is readily seen that without this help, the cost to you would be increased.

6. What will I have to pay?

Each farmer desiring service will make a contribution towards construction, of $100.00 before construction is started in the area. This is a direct contribution and is not refundable.

7. What are the monthly charge and energy rates?

The minimum monthly charge will be $5.50 gross, or $5.00 net if paid within 20 days after the account becomes due. The monthly minimum includes twenty kilowat hours of energy—enough to light the average place but not for the use of any appliances.

All energy in excess of 20 KWH per month will cost 2c per KWH.

It is estimated that the total bill for the average farm will be $46.00 a year.

8. Are these rates the same for every farm in the area?

Yes, if the conditions in question 3 are met.

9. How many farms are required to make electrification in this area possible?

One hundred. Less than this number makes the plan uneconomical.

10. Suppose a line over one and a quarter miles is required to reach my place—what will it cost me?

We hope there will be very few of these cases. However, it will cost you $100.00 for the first mile and one quarter (as in 3 above) and in addition 10c a foot for each foot over the one and a quarter miles. Your monthly minimum will be increased by 5c for each 100 feet over one and a quarter miles.

11. When will these lines be built?

It is impossible to build until material and labor become available, but it is necessary to have the survey information to save delay when this condition of short supply eases.

12. Who will wire my buildings?

You will hire an electrician to do this work. However, when the plan is ready to go ahead we will endeavour to advise you on this matter.

13. Will my existing wiring be of any use?

It most certainly will. The laws of the Province require that all wiring jobs be inspected. Your existing wiring should be inspected by the Provincial inspector and any changes he suggests made.

14. Can I connect any size of motor?

No. Service is restricted to motors not over 3 h.p. single phase unless your need is for larger sizes, then special consideration must be given.

We have every confidence that the farmers will make more than minimum use of the power when they realize its value. Further, if you and we together can bring the cost down, the saving will be passed on to you in the form of a lower monthly minimum.

We feel sure that the minimum charge with the 20 KWH included will cover the lighting of most farms. It is interesting to see what the average cost of operating other appliances would be, over and above the minimum.

Black Market Firm Put out Of Business

Suspension of the business license of Beaudry Bonbons Ltd., Montreal Candy manufacturing firm, kingpin in an extensive black market in sugar and repeated offender against rationing and pricing regulations, is announced by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Donald Gordon, Prices Board chairman, said, "the Board means business in dealing with black markets. We do not intend to allow the public which has faithfully lived up to the rationing regulations to be victimized by racketeers. Even though the war is over, its devastation remains and with it the necessity of sharing food supplies fairly."

ENSURE SEED SUPPLIES NOW

There is likely to be a shortage of good seed oats and barley for the 1946 planting. Farmers are urged by the Field Crops Commissioner, A. M. Wilson, to make every effort to save good crops for seed purposes. During harvest, says Mr. Wilson, there is an opportunity to select and save the cleanest parts of the crop for seed. These parts should then be threshed and stored separately. Weed seeds are particularly difficult to remove from oats and barley, and unless the grain is relatively clean when threshed there is little opportunity to obtain seed of satisfactory quality by cleaning.

Farmers who have been unfortunate in the loss of their crops through hail, drought or other causes, should arrange, with neighbouring farmers if possible, to obtain the seed they may require for another year. Some may have sufficient grain held over from previous years that could be cleaned to suitable grades. If local supplies are not available the Alberta Department of Agriculture will make every effort to locate some.

Oats and barley are generally low in yield. There is an exceptionally strong demand, and unless prompt action is taken to obtain seed, difficulties may be experienced.

Compensation For Barley Producers Urged On Ottawa

Line elevator companies have forwarded a wire to the Dominion Government urging that barley growers be compensated for financial losses which they will suffer through the embargo placed on barley exports by the foods administrator. Following is the text of the telegram:

"J. G. Davidson,
Foods Administrator,
Ottawa, Ontario.

"With reference to your order of August twenty-third placing an embargo on exports of barley for the current crop season. We presume you realize this order will result in a direct financial loss to growers of barley on account of the premium, now amounting to approximately forty cents per bushel which the U.S. market shows over Canadian ceiling prices; also the farmer will lose the malting premium on a large quantity of malting barley now produced in Western Canada for export. Naturally we will do all within our power to co-operate with you in distribution of barley stocks but we must at the same time point out the discrimination against our Western farmers. Under your order how does Government propose to compensate the producer of malting barley who is forced to accept feed barley prices for his grain and what provision will be made for barley growers in general to compensate them for loss of export market values. We strongly recommend that you advise barley producers immediately as to what steps will be taken by the Government to compensate them for financial losses which they will suffer under this embargo on exports.

Cecil Lamont,
President,
North-West Line Elevators Association.

Motorists Prepare For Bird Shooting

Many thousands of Alberta citizens who are motorists are expected to take advantage of the opening of the bird shooting seasons this year.

The Alberta Motor Association has received word of steps being taken to provide needed ammunition for hunters, wartime restrictions having been removed. It is claimed that there will be all the ammunition that is needed this season.

The duck shooting season in Alberta will open north of the Athabasca river on Sept. 3 and close Nov. 24. South of the Athabasca, the season will open Sept. 15 and close Dec. 15. The bag limit is 20 per day and 150 for the season.

The same dates apply to shooting of geese with a bag limit of five per day and 25 for the season.

Season for shooting of Hungarian partridge is restricted to the southern part of the province. The shooting period is from Oct. 1 to Nov. 24. Part of the northern boundary of the area is the Highwood river and highways No. 1 and 9 to the Saskatchewan boundary. The bag limit is five birds per day and 25 for the season.

Open season for prairie chicken also is restricted to the southern part of the province, in the area south of Calgary. Bag limit is five birds per day and 25 for the season.

Cock pheasants may be shot throughout the province from Oct. 8 to Nov. 10, except in the Eastern Irrigation District where the season is from Oct. 8 to Dec. 1. Bag limit is five birds per day and not more than 30 for the season.

There is a closed season on ruffed grouse for the province.

Canada's trans-Atlantic air service to carry armed forces mail and official passengers between Canada and the United Kingdom was begun in 1943. At first only one aircraft was in service, but by the end of 1944 five were operating on a tri-weekly service.

Agricultural Conditions

Compiled from reports of correspondents by Agricultural Extension Service for the period ending August 22nd, 1945.

Issued under the direction of the Hon. D. B. MacMillan, Minister of Agriculture

General: Moisture conditions are poor in southern Alberta and crop prospects are being unfavourably affected by hot dry winds. Throughout the remainder of the province weather conditions are generally fair.

Field Crops: Condition of crops varies considerably. Fair prospects are still reported in the south west and west central areas, but poor yields are anticipated over a widely scattered area in the remainder of the province. Several reports are received of the cutting of crops for feed.

Harvesting is becoming general in the south and in the Peace River District. In Central and Northern Alberta cutting will be starting in most districts during the present week and is expected to be general within the next ten days.

Livestock: In Southern Alberta, the hot dry weather of the past few days has resulted in further deterioration of pastures, but livestock generally are reported in fair condition. In central and northern districts, the encouragement of pasture growth as a result of rain in many sections, has assisted materially in maintaining the condition of live stock in these areas.

Dairying: Pasture improvement as a result of recent rains has increased milk flow to a point where production is almost equal to that of a year ago. It is expected, however, that the shortage of coarse grains for winter feeding will have a detrimental effect on dairy production, particularly with reference to the specialized dairyman.

Canada has suffered 103,400 casualties in the armed forces, including 38,718 dead and 2,365 missing from the outbreak of war in September 1939, to June 30, 1945.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

FARMERS' BULLETIN

HUNGRY EUROPE NEEDS MEAT

The shortage of food in liberated Europe is desperate. Meat is one of the most critical needs.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can—and will—help to meet this emergency.

That is why slaughtering has been placed under strict control.

That is why ration coupons will soon be used again by Canadians to buy meat.

There is only one objective:—To reduce meat consumption in Canada in order to provide direct aid for the hungry peoples of Europe.

Slaughter Control

Farmers who slaughter meat for their own or their farmer neighbor's use are required to submit monthly reports (Form RB-61) and to surrender coupons for the meat they use and sell.

Any excess of meat over the farmer's or his neighbor's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit.

The minimum amount which a farmer may sell to such a permit holder is one quarter of beef or half a hog carcass. Sheep, lambs or calves slaughtered by a farmer for his own or his neighbor's use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Locker Operators

Under the meat rationing regulations, locker operators are required to submit a list of their patrons to the nearest Ration Branch Office.

A supply of Consumer Declaration forms is being forwarded to each locker operator who will, in turn, distribute them to his patrons. The patron is responsible for completing the form and filing it with the Ration Branch Office.

Consumers must surrender coupons for all meat held in lockers over and above 4 lbs. for each person in the household at a rate of 2 lbs. per coupon. However, no more than 50% of the "M" coupons in the ration books of the consumer and his household need be surrendered.

MEAT RATIONING FACTS

Amount of Ration will be roughly 2 lbs. (carcass weight) per person, per week.

Rationed Meats. All cooked, canned, fancy and "red" meats.

Unrationed Meats—beef brain, head, tail, blood, tripe; calf brain, head; pork brain, head, tail, pigfeet, spare ribs; lamb brain, head, tail, fries; poultry, game and fish (canned or fresh).

Coupons—brown "M" coupons in Ration Book No. 5. One coupon will become valid each week.

Coupon Values—Group "A", 1 lb. per coupon; Group "B", 1½ lbs. per coupon; Group "C", 2 lbs. per coupon; Group "D", 2½ lbs. per coupon; Group "E", 3 lbs. per coupon.

Tokens. Tokens, eight of which are equivalent to one coupon, will be used as coupon change.

Farmers must turn in to their Local Ration Boards a coupon for each 4 lbs. of meat (carcass weight) they use in their households from their own slaughterings. So that they may buy other meats from their butchers, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in the hands of the farmer and his household need be surrendered. Farmers who sell meat to a neighbour farmer must collect coupons at the rate of 4 lbs. (carcass weight) per coupon.

Rationing is your assurance of a fair share. is a protection against waste . . . shortages . . . inflation.

That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

CLOTHING COLLECTION—

THE MEETING CALLED for Tuesday night last at the Tofield Town Hall was very poorly attended, there were four persons present. Even so the meeting could not be called a failure because among those four was one who had seen and to some extent experienced the kind of tragedy now prevalent in Europe. Mr. Boise, representing the Mennonite Church located in Tofield was present on behalf of that congregation and said they had read the announcement in last week's Mercury and discussed it after church on Sunday and decided to send a representative to the meeting. He also said that after the 1914-18 war most of his congregation had seen many people hungry and cold and in dire need of food and clothing. They even in some degree received help and supplies of clothing from across the water and it was this experience that made them give more than passing attention to the announcement of the meeting published last week. Incidently as a congregation they have already forwarded boxes of clothing and wished to do more.

Since 1939 there have been many calls upon citizens for their time, talent and quite often their money. No one knows this better than we do. In time, one tires of campaigns and drives and would much prefer to be left to pursue his or her own round of business or pleasure without having to urge people to help in this, that or the other cause. We feel this way about it and rather expect many other people do also. Yet who is there so bereft of a sense of human responsibility who will refuse to give what assistance he or she can as long as stark tragedy stalks the earth? The war, thank heaven, is over, but the devastation left in its wake is still raw. Women and children as well as men will be hungry and cold in Europe this winter, and at the very best we can only relieve the situation—not prevent it. Many of the sufferers of course will have to share the guilt of encouraging Germany's 1939 war-like tendencies, others are as innocent of this as you or I. But hunger and cold is no respecter of persons, like rain it falls upon the just and the unjust.

The Clothing Collection Campaign can be the means of preventing much distress and at the same time the sacrifice of the average citizen need not be great. What is requested is not money or new garments, but discarded though still serviceable clothing. There are few homes but what could easily contribute something and there are few homes in which the occupants would not wish to do so. To make a worthwhile shipment from this area is more a question of organization than willingness, and to organize a committee to attend to this was what last Tuesday's meeting was for. Another meeting is being called for Tuesday, September 11th.

THE McMULLENS ARE LEAVING—

Something in the nature of a bombshell dropped last Saturday when we learned that J. W. McMullen had resigned as Secretary-Treasurer of the M.D. of Beaver. Having watched the progress of the M.D. of Beaver since its organization three years ago, of all the men we considered "set on the job" it was he. However, surprises are what make life interesting, albeit that they should always be pleasant ones.

"Jesse" and Mrs. McMullen have been around these parts for a long time now. We first knew him as secretary-treasurer of the Town of Tofield away back the Lord knows when. Then he farmed, did clerical work and went to Ryley to become secretary-treasurer for the former M.D. of Beaver Lake. He was appointed secretary-treasurer of M.D. of Beaver when the enlarged district was formed. As secretary during the re-organization period his work has been anything but easy. We are sorry to see the McMullen family go but wish them every success in their new location in B.C.

INVASION

Holland Landing, Ont.

It was after the day's work and supper was over when the farm commandos, 45 of them, marching in military formation, their weapons over their shoulders, came down the road and descended on their objective, a little Chinese market garden of five acres in Holland Marsh, near Lake Simcoe.

An astonished Chinese met them at the gate and attempted to bar their way, putting his body between them and his crops and the countless weeds that he and his single hoe could not hope to combat.

"I have no money," he told them. The little Chinese gardener was sure they wanted money and he had none. Two of them pushed him aside and then all of them invaded the five acres and spent the whole evening there tearing out weeds.

When dusk came they formed up again and marched off without ever mentioning money. The little man grinned and waved them good-bye. The commandos marched back to their farm service camp and went to bed, happy. —Saulte Daily Star.

Enough Blood Serum For The Present

With the end of the war and the need for blood serum among the Armed Forces practically eliminated, it has been decided to immediately close the National Blood Donor Service of the Canadian Red Cross Society, Mr. Norman C. Urquhart, Chairman of the Society's National Executive Committee, announced today.

At the same time, it was also decided by the National Executive Committee to make a three-month survey of the blood needs of all hospitals throughout Canada, looking to the possible early development of a peacetime National Blood Donor Service. For this survey, Mr Urquhart said, the Society had retained the services of Dr. W. B. Stanbury, who during the war has been in charge of the blood service throughout Britain under the British Ministry of Health and is one of the foremost authorities in this field.

We are confident, said Mr. Urquhart, that the donors who have so freely given of their blood during the war years, will be ready and willing to make this same contribution in the future when this peacetime blood service is inaugurated.

Mr. Urquhart pointed out that there is sufficient blood serum now on hand in Canada to cover veterans' needs and emergencies for the next six months at least.

"I would like at this time to express the Society's appreciation to the many thousands of donors who have given over 2,300,000 blood donations in the 662 Red Cross clinics and sub-clinics through the Dominion which are now closing. They have made a magnificent contribution," Mr. Urquhart said.

LABOUR SITUATION IN MEAT PACKING INDUSTRY

Shortages of workers by meat packing plants across Canada exceed substantially the one thousand mark, stated A. MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labour, today.

Mr. MacNamara said that the highest labour priority rating is being given to most of the packing plant labour demands, and that the regional and Local Offices of the National Employment Service are making special efforts to secure the workers.

Shortages are reported from Toronto, Kitchener, Hamilton, London, Stratford, Guelph and Barrie in Ontario, and from Montreal and Hull in the Province of Quebec.

Four plants in the Vancouver District of British Columbia are short of men, while shortages also are reported from Calgary and Edmonton in Alberta. Regina, Prince Albert, and Moose Jaw in Saskatchewan are all included in the cities listed as having shortages of packinghouse workers, while from Manitoba substantial shortages are reported at Winnipeg and a small shortage at Brandon.

One of the difficulties which the Employment Service has encountered, Mr. MacNamara pointed out, is that the number of men quitting jobs in the packinghouses runs to quite a figure each month, with the result that even if the Employment Offices provide workers, there is not necessarily any net gain for the industry.

Consideration is being given to the temporary employment of some Army personnel, to help out in the emergency, and as soon as harvests have been taken off in Eastern Canada, consideration will be given to securing men from the farms for the packinghouses in Quebec and Ontario.

Last year an appeal to farm workers, after the close of the harvest, was quite successful in securing men for the packinghouses, Mr. MacNamara pointed out, and once the point has been reached where the men can be spared from the farms it is to be anticipated that the same course this year would also meet with success. Mr. MacNamara further pointed out that the farmers, as producers of livestock, have a very direct interest in seeing that meat processing is not held back by labour shortages. He further pointed out that Canada's commitments for meat for Europe, together with the meat situation here in Canada, indicate the prime importance of keeping the meat processing plants going at full capacity.

CONTROLS SAVE MONEY

An indication of the dynamic nature of unfolding events has been the rescinding of a number of wartime orders, particularly those respecting the supply of certain commodities. Nevertheless, the Government remains firm in its plans to convert industry as rapidly as possible, and with as little temporary unemployment as possible, while at the same time retaining those controls which have prevented inflation during the peace.

Not enough publicity has been given to the success of the Government in this field, a success which has been of profound practical benefit to every Canadian.

If prices during this war had risen only as rapidly as they did in the last war, prices in Canada today would be at least 40 percent higher than they are now. That is an arresting fact. Moreover, the efficiency of the price control system has enabled the Government to fight this war at a tremendous saving to the people of Canada. If prices had been 40 per cent higher, during the past year alone the Government, which spent well over $5,000,000,000 on the war would have spent at least $6,000,000,000. In other words, without price control the Government would have had to find a billion dollars more revenue through taxes.

The very practical war benefits to Canada of the price control system is certain evidence that this system will be retained until its work has been done.

Back To School

Cool winds are stirring in the garden leaves,
The white and purple mingle o'er the row,
The farm youth lingers late among the sheaves,
The early lamp beams forth in kindly glow.

The queenly moon triumphant floods the night,
The cottage rests 'midst mem'ries bright or grave,
The morn returns with touch of Autumn light,
The fisher's sail speeds far across the wave.

A bell steals softly down the pleasant glade,
While youth and childhood throng the sunlit way,
Those sober walls have still their kindly shade,
Where voices wake and sounds of joyful play.

And the patient teacher shapes the fair ideal,
Whilst reverent thoughts unfold in youthful light,
That years mature may serve the common weal,
And faith and truth sustain the vision bright.

VEHICLE OWNERS PAY NEARLY $3,000,000

Alberta motor vehicle operators contributed nearly $3,000,000 to the Alberta treasury in the first three months of the present fiscal year, April 1 to June 30. This was an increase of nearly $100,000 over the same period of last year.

The statement of these huge receipts from vehicle owners will result in demands of the Alberta Motor Association for a general reduction in car licenses in the province being intensified, it is believed. Already officials are studying the matter with a view to renewing demands for a license cut.

The A.M.A. is continuing to register protests over the Alberta license scale for cars, maintaining that it is the highest in the dominion.

A STATEMENT REGARDING Gasoline
Quality

Imperial Oil Limited will commence supplying ESSO EXTRA and 3-STAR gasolines of their pre-war high quality to motorists, farmers and other consumers throughout Canada at the earliest possible moment.

Due to production and distribution problems involved, there will necessarily be some delay. Gasoline users can be assured that no effort is being spared to hasten this change.

Imperial Oil's extensive wartime research and development will result, as soon as possible, in Imperial gasolines surpassing pre-war standards.

Imperial Oil's production facilities are unequalled in Canada and motorists and others can consequently depend on Imperial Oil—just as they have always been able to depend on Imperial Oil—for the very best petroleum products available.

Care Of The Soil

The following is an extract from the Lacombe experimental station weekly letter, August 24th:

Alfalfa rotations at the experimental station planted in 1912 produced luxurious crops without fertilization until 1920. Thereafter the yields began to decrease and in order to correct this condition, phosphatic fertilizer was applied periodically to half of each field. These "halves" are today flourishing while their "sister" halves provide a clear demonstration of what should not be done.

Other farms in almost every [illegible] provide equally disgraceful [illegible] of mismanagement, [illegible] blown away to a depth of the [illegible] or eroded into deep gullies by uncontrolled flowing of water. Everyone recognizes these as great evils if not crimes but perhaps fewer people realize that if even one inch of topsoil is allowed to blow off one acre there is gone forever over [illegible] tons of soil containing hundreds of dollars worth of fertility if it had to be replaced by commercial fertilizers.

Under proper management our soils can be preserved and passed on to the next generation unharmed and full of potential production. Under poor management they will likely be inherited merely as a listing in the office of the Registrar of Mortgages.

Surely the evil is sufficiently apparent; and fortunately the solution is almost as evident. We know how to control soil drifting on any field. We know how to stop water erosion. We know a great deal about preserving fertility by intelligent crop rotation and soil management.

If all the information that has been gathered by observant farmers, experimental stations, and other research institutions could be put into practice we are convinced that our "soil" bank accounts would show a much more favorable balance. We think too that perhaps it would have the proper effect [illegible] those [illegible] bank accounts of ours—those which normally are our greatest concern.

SEED GRAIN

The supply of SEED GRAIN has been discussed at the meeting of the Agricultural Service Board held in Ryley. The following statement is brought to attention of every farmer concerned:

1. Each farmer that has seed on his own farm, should save enough to sow the land he intends to sow next spring.

2. Each and every farmer that has NOT seed of his own should contact his neighbours and try to obtain the required seed.

3. If no seed is available among his neighbors, he should contact his elevator agent and try to obtain the seed.

4. If no seed is available among the neighbours or in the elevator, then each and every farmer should watch the local newspaper. During the month of October in each issue, will appear an order form. This form is to be used to state how much seed oats and seed barley each farmer will need.

On October 31, all orders will be added and summary submitted to Alberta Department of Agriculture, Field Crops Branch will try to purchase the seed. As soon as it is available all will be notified. Seed Oats will be stored in a central municipal warehouse. Barley will be shipped in carloads and will be sold on the track.

No arrangements have been made to handle seed wheat. No arrangements have been made to extend credit.

New Weed Killer

Montreal, Aug. 27—The long-suffering gardener can look forward to relief from the backbreaking chore of digging weeds from his lawns, at long last. A revolutionary selective chemical killer of the toughest weeds with which he has had to contend is about to make its appearance on the Canadian scene, according to an announcement from the Naugatuck Chemicals division of Dominion Rubber Company Limited.

The new weed killer will be known as "2-4-D", a contraction for its proper name of 2-4-Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid and like another product, DDT, manufactured by the same company, promises to arouse considerable interest in the general public. 2-4-D as manufactured by Dominion Rubber will vary slightly from the product hitherto used for this purpose. Sprayed on affected areas, it is absorbed through the leaves of the weeds and is carried through the branches into the farthest root tip. Ordinary concentrations do not affect most grasses. Just what happens inside the stem is not known, but apparently it either breaks down the cell walls or paralyses them so that they can't function. Weeds so treated show signs of trouble within a day and in the course of time wither and die.

Up to the present it is known that 2-4-D definitely kills more than 30 varieties of weeds including bindweed, burdock, dandelion, and perennial sow thistle. A white powder in form, it can be dissolved in water, with the aid of a small amount of another chemical. It will be supplied to the general public in liquid form, requiring addition of water only. It is effective when used in such solutions at the rate of one to one and a half parts per thousand. Ten gallons of the solution will do a thorough job on 2,000 square feet of lawn. It will not corrode spraying equipment; it is selective in action, controlling the broad-leaved types of vegetation and not disturbing the grasses, it is non-poisonous to human beings and to animals when used as directed, it will not sterilize the soil. Economical, it will fit the public purse. It will not stain or damage clothing, it will not irritate the skin.

END RATIONING OF AMMUNITION

Rationing of small arms ammunition will be discontinued August 31, and production controls have been cancelled on new farm machinery and office equipment, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced recently.

Revocation of these controls follows the Board's policy of accelerating civilian production when materials and labour become available. In the durable goods field, rationing of 25 items of farm machinery and restrictions on metal for customers are the only two restrictive orders remaining.

Products returning to market must be sold at 1941 prices or at prices approved by the Board if they differ from 1941 types.

Revocation of the Board's production controls on office equipment allows resumed manufacture of metal desks, tables, cabinets and shelving.

Restrictions on the sale and delivery of new construction machinery and equipment, most of which is imported from the United States, have been lifted. Also removed is control over sales of wooden extension ladders and wooden stepladders over seven feet in height, and prohibition against the use of china ware as premiums or trade inducements.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES
SUNDAY, SEPT. 9th, 1945
Looma Vista 11:00 a.m.
South Cooking Lake 3:00 p.m.
Ministik 8:30 p.m.

In the absence of Mr. Ernest Nix, services this week will be taken by a group from Edmonton, the Gideons, the Christian business men's association. It will be remembered that the Gideons took several services last fall after the regular field season. Good support for these services is hoped for.

Mrs. Sherwood and daughter of Killam are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. Whitford and Mrs. Jack Reddick for a few days.

There was a nice attendance at Church last Sunday. All four appointments were represented. There were three children baptized and Dr. Scott gave a real good and interesting service.

Most of the [illegible] grain in this district has been cut. If we have no frost of 10 days or so a fairly good crop will be threshed.

We forgot to mention last week that Mrs. D. R. Swabey has returned home from Elk Island Park where she attended a rest camp for two weeks. She reports having a good enjoyable and instructive time. The camp was sponsored by [illegible] Health Clinic.

Miss Sheila Holland of Fultonvale who has been visiting Mrs. A. Kleinschroth for a few days, has left for home and taken Norma Kleinschroth with her for a few days.

Mrs. McIntosh celebrated her 81st birthday last week. Mrs. Barber and other ladies of her church gave her a real surprise party and a very happy day was spent.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. Francis Williams of Ministik Lake, at the Misericordia Hospital, on Sept. 3rd, a daughter, Catherine Frances.

The congregation will assemble for the evening service at 7.30 as usual. During the first 15 minutes favorite old-time and new hymns will be sung.

INDUCTION SERVICE WELL ATTENDED

There was a good attendance from town and country at the induction service of Rev. Ricker into the Tofield and district pastorate held on Friday night last. Rev. Geo. Steele of Jarrow addressed the congregation, Rev. R. Clegg of Edgerton addressed the minister and the formal induction was in charge of Rev. J. R. Geeson of Holden, chairman of the Wainwright Presbytery. All three ministers present had at one time been in the district where the [illegible] Ricker grew up as a boy. There were also addresses of welcome by the officers of the church and town and country residents. After the formal induction a social hour was spent at which the ladies' served a delightful lunch.

COST OF USING TYPICAL APPLIANCES

Brooding—1c per 6 weeks per chick, Churning—3c per 100 lbs. of butter; Cream Separating—1c per 1,000 lbs. of milk, Farm chore motors—about 1c per h.p. per hour of use, Grain cleaning about 3c per 100 bushels, Grain elevating—about 6c per 1,000 bushels. Milking 6c per cow per month (pipe line type of machine) 3c per cow per month (portable type of machine), Wood sawing 4c per cord, Feed grinding—half cent to 1c per 100 lbs.; Vacuum cleaner—3c to 4c per month, Electric clock—3c per month, Fan—3c per 20 hours of use, Iron 4c per month, Range 2.30 per month, Refrigerator 50c per month, Washing machine 4c to 6c per month, Pumping shallow well 1200 gals for 3c (this is for a 30-lb. pressure system)

One pint of milk will buy the power to pump water for 15 cows.

One egg per day will buy the light to light a 300-bird hen house.

A kilowatt hour is usually considered to be the energy of a strong man working hard for eight hours, and this is available to you at a cost of 2 cents.

The figures above are based on this rate and are the averages from many hundreds of tests made by agricultural colleges, utility companies and manufacturing companies both in Canada and in the U.S.

You will be interested in some of the costs of making electricity available to you. Since the whole scheme is impossible without your co-operation we feel that you should know the company's part in the plan.

It is estimated that material and labor for the construction alone will cost $600.00 per farm, with the farms not spaced farther apart than three-quarters of a mile on the average. If the farmer puts up $100.00 that leaves $500.00 for the company to find. Interest on the $500.00, depreciation charges on the line, maintenance and repair, operation, reading of meters, billing, etc., together make up slightly more than $5.00 per month. You can see that nothing has been included for the cost of energy, and it is quite true that the company will lose money on all [illegible]

The cost of energy is a small portion of the total—that is why we can sell it at 2c a KWH. However, the more the farmer uses, the more profitable it becomes for the company to break even on its operating expenses.

When a plan is drawn up and conditions permit, we would like to arrange a general meeting with you. Please come to this meeting prepared to ask all the questions you can think of and to make any suggestions that would help the plan.

HEALTH OF SEED GRAIN IN ALBERTA

(Science Service News)

As a result of testing hundreds of Alberta-grown samples of wheat, oats, and barley during the past five years, Dr. W. C. Broadfoot, Dominion Laboratory of Plant Pathology, Edmonton, found that there is considerable variation from year to year in both the health condition of these seeds and in their ability to germinate. For example, the percentage of samples requiring treatment for the control of smut varied from 2 to 7 per cent for wheat, from 4 to 11 per cent for oats, and from 5 to 22 per cent for barley, during this period. Also, it was evident that the seed-borne smuts of these crops are more prevalent in some areas of the province than in others. The conclusion is that seed treatment and other preventive measures are being carried out neither as uniformly nor as effectively in Alberta as they might be.

Seed infection by the root rotting organisms also varied considerably in different districts and seasons, depending mainly upon the weather conditions and cultural practices under which the seed was produced. For example, the percentage of seed samples requiring treatment with organic mercury dust for the control of rootrot varied during the past five years from 5 to 25 per cent for wheat, from 1 to 47 per cent for oats, and from 2 to 27 per cent for barley.

What can the farmer do to improve the health of his cereal crops? The fields from which he intends to select seed for his next crop should receive particular attention. That is to say, he should inspect such fields regularly to make sure the variety is reasonably true to type and free from disease. Bunt of wheat, covered and loose smuts of oats, and covered smut of barley, if present, can be controlled easily by treating the seed with organic mercury dust. However, if much loose smut of either wheat or barley is found it would be advisable to purchase disease-free seed instead of attempting treatment. The hot-water treatment (the only practical treatment recommended for the control of loose smut of wheat and barley) is not recommended for the average farmer, as special equipment is required and the detailed steps in the treatment must be followed exactly for good results.

A better plan is to purchase a small quantity of high quality seed, preferably registered, if this is available, and increase it in a special plot. This seed plot should be carefully and regularly examined during the season and all off-type and diseased plants rogued out. Of course the seed used in such increase plots should be treated with organic mercury dust, not only to control seed-borne diseases but to increase the stand. Significant increases in stand were obtained in experiments conducted at this laboratory during the past five years. This percentage increase varied between 5 and 25 for wheat, 10 and 19 for oats, and 0 and 11 for barley. In the average year this increase in stand, in the case of wheat and oats, would pay the cost of seed treatment, without taking into consideration the resulting reduction in seed-borne diseases.

WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strange

FEEDING HOGS ON WHEAT

It is considered by some that there may be in some districts this year a shortage of barley for hog feeding.

It is the rather general practice among feeders of hogs to increase gradually the barley ration until the hogs are ready for market at around 200 pounds. Some farmers, however, follow the practice of using wheat up to about 40 per cent of the ration. In recent years some quite large hog feeders on the prairies have adopted the practice of feeding wheat entirely, without any oats or barley, to the young hogs after they have reached what is called the feeder age, that is around 40 to 50 pound weight, grinding the wheat and adding to it, so that it is all thoroughly mixed, 8 per cent of tankage, and using self feeders, with lots of clear drinking water available. These hog feeders who are using wheat alone with tankage claim they are obtaining as high a percentage of selects as those who feed barley, claiming there is no virtue in feeding hogs barley and oat hulls which the animals cannot digest.

I have just visited one of these large hog feeding farms using wheat and tankage exclusively, and I must say that what I saw certainly appears to confirm the claims made for feeding wheat and tankage.

Meat Tokens—Smaller Units Of A Coupon

Blue, "Thermoplastic", nickel size, hole-in-the-centre tokens with "Canada Ration- Meat-Viande" stamped on both sides will be used for meat purchases less than one coupon's worth when meat rationing returns to Canada.

Tokens, eight to a coupon, each good for 2 oz. to 6 oz. of meat, depending on type, will be used only to make coupon change and cannot be exchanged for "M" meat coupons. No consumer may be given more than seven tokens at any one time.

Conservation, in pace with the whole meat rationing program, is the object of the token system. And conservation it will be, because consumers no longer need purchase to the full extent of one meat coupon—particularly beneficial to small families and people living alone. Also the token system makes it possible to include in the ration "fancy meats" and canned meats, necessarily small in coupon value.

First shipment of about 60,000,000 tokens is being sent to retailers in readiness for rationing. Compared to previous meat rationing system when two coupons became valid weekly the present system allowing division into eight tokens of the one weekly coupon is expected to reduce the work of people handling coupons.

Over 30 Canadian ratings were lost in the torpedoing of the Canadian-manned aircraft carrier, H.M.S. Nabob, off Norway last August. The carrier, though heavily damaged, managed to make port.

Mr. Ilsley's Warning

As Politics has pointed out again and again the Government resolutely intends to prevent inflation muscling into the private lives of Canadians, and this intention was doubly underlined last week by the joint radio broadcast of Finance Minister Ilsley and WPTB Chairman Gordon. There has been a sufficient number of examples cited to make the average individual know just what inflation would mean to him; there can be no debate about the necessity of the Government's insistence on maintaining control.

However, what is not commonly understood is that more than the Government and the various bureaus handling the return of Canada's economy from war to peace have a responsibility in this matter.

Every group in the community, and every individual within a group, must co-operate to relieve the pressure on our price-control system. There must be no privileged groups; no individual should try to chisel.

This is easier said than done, but one elementary responsibility is too frequently ignored by all concerned. The Wartime Price and Trade Board cannot operate to its full efficiency if it does not have complete information. And every citizen who comes into possession of information about other citizens, industries, or organizations which, blind to the common good, prefer to act selfishly in the hope of immediate gain, should pass that information fully and quickly to the authorities.

Inflation, like fire, is all-devouring; and inflation, like fire, is best stopped when it is small.

Fall Practices For Wild Oats

WILD OATS ON SUMMERFALLOW

As a result of weather conditions during the past season, germination of wild oats on summerfallow fields has not been very satisfactory, says H. J. Mather, Supervisor of Weed Control. Unless a wet fall allows germination and frost killing before winter, there is a possibility of severe wild oat infestation on these fields next year.

The wild oat seed, unlike commercial grains, contains a high percentage of moisture when it falls from the parent plant. Before the seeds will germinate a drying out process is necessary, which is accompanied by certain changes within the seed. This process is known as "after ripening". Following the after ripening period, the seed is then in condition to germinate providing sufficient moisture is available. The hot, dry weather of the past summer has been ideal for the after ripening of wild oat seeds on our summerfallows, but unless sufficient moisture is available within the next few weeks the seeds will remain dormant and germinate first thing in the spring. Farmers are advised to observe carefully throughout the fall, those summer-fallow fields where wild oats are known to be prevalent, and unless adequate germination occurs, to delay cropping next year until the weeds have germinated and can be destroyed by cultivation.

V

Canada's blood donor service began late in 1940. By the end of 1944, 1,758,967 blood donations had been received.

TREATMENT OF WILD OATS ON STUBBLE

Many crops this year are polluted with wild oats, and although fall cultivation is a sound recommendation for wild oat control on stubble, the time when that cultivation is undertaken is important. Shallow cultivation directly behind the binder is not a sound method for the control of wild oats, although it is very satisfactory for encouraging germination of most annual and perennial weeds. The after ripening process of wild oat seeds requires that they be left on the surface for some time after having fallen so that the hot sun and winds may take off the surplus moisture and bring about that condition in the seed which must precede the germination stage.

Much will depend on the weather this fall, but wild oats, left on the surface will have a much better chance of after-ripening than if covered by cultivation. If left on the surface until towards freeze-up and the field then given a shallow cultivation, there will be a strong possibility of luxuriant growth early in the spring which can be destroyed before cropping.

TO THE CANADIAN PUBLIC
WE SAY

Thank You

DURING the war, so happily ended, the Canadian National Railways, as Canada's greatest transportation system, had a gigantic task to do.

Our ability to fulfill this duty to the credit and satisfaction of the Nation is due, not only to the skill, devotion and zeal of those who are our workers, but in large measure to the Canadian Public who, by their generous responses to appeals for help and their uncomplaining acceptances of restrictions and controls, lightened our burden.

We wish to thank the Canadian Public sincerely for their help—the millions of passengers who used our trains and steamships, the shippers of freight and express, the guests in our hotels, the patrons of our telegraph and other services, and the unnumbered citizens who refrained from travelling needlessly as their contribution to the common cause.

The surrender of the last enemy has ended the fighting but it has not ended the war job of the Canadian National Railways. The men and women in the Services have to be brought home without delay and for that purpose we shall continue to employ all our available passenger equipment. Millions of tons of materials must be transported for industrial reconversion.

So in saying "Thank You" we express the hope that in carrying out these and other extensions of our war job, we may continue to enjoy the understanding of the Canadian Public.

WAR MEMORIALS—

WITH BOTH THE European and Asiatic wars now officially over and millions of men and women gradually, through a thousand and one channels, finding their way back to their homes, there will arise in thousands of communities the question of a suitable memorial to the noble sacrifice of the dead and the gallant deeds of the living. Many are the ideas and plans put forward ranging all the way from halls to recreation parks and arenas to swimming pools. Far be it from us to suggest that one worthy idea is any better than another worthy idea and after all is said and done, a war memorial, no matter what form it takes is only as good as the reverent thought it creates within the minds of this and future generations. Occasionally one reads references to "hideous monuments," a phrase we have absolutely no patience with. Monuments are rarely hideous and when one does become tiresome to look at, it is generally because it is a monument to some general long since passed on, whose deeds were glorified in bronze or marble while the deeds and sacrifice of the soldiery were taken for granted and in the course of time forgotten. Despite the criticism levelled by some at monuments and the praises being bestowed upon other kinds of memorials, we still feel that a suitable monument is the best form of public remembrance and reminder of what we, the living, owe to those dead, who stood between us and the force the sole purpose of which was to overwhelm. For many years now we have felt that the village of Holden deserved much credit for their choice of a memorial in remembrance of those who fell in the first great war. And moreover they erected it soon after hostilities ceased. Here at Tofield, there is no one but who takes pride in the knowledge that we have a cenotaph erected solely as a remembrance of those who gave their all.

One ofter hears it expressed that a memorial should be of some benefit to the living as well as honor the dead. If material benefit is meant, all we can say is, nonsense. The gallant dead have given their all. Before the altar of what we all hope is the stumbling road leading to world peace and a degree of brotherly love, these men and women have laid down all their flower be-decked springtimes, all their gurgling brooks and apple blossoms, all their harvests and the fruits of their season's toil, all their hope of family. Could they give more? Could they do more? Then why speak of useless monuments and useful community projects? To honor the war dead is an obligation in which material or pleasure benefit to the ordinary citizen plays no part. To those who are gone no help can be given, but we can revere their memory, keep green the story of their sacrifice and make this an inspiration for all those who may follow. We feel that a monument emphasizing duty and sacrifice of the common man in all the services rather than the glory of a great general would give to posterity the only thing posterity has a right to take, inspiration. A suitable monument set in a park small enough to be always well cared for, would be a constant reminder that the memory of Canadian men and women who left their homes to stand as a bulwark before Canada, is something altogether apart from everyday affairs, and something to approach with reverence and respect.

THEY DON'T CHANGE MUCH—

SEASONS COME AND GO with almost amazing rapidity and it seems that no sooner does summer come than it is time to bid it farewell. Due perhaps to the protracted cold weather this spring and early summer, the summer season this year seems shorter than usual. Certainly when the binders and combines are on the move and stooks (even if they are not as large as some years) stand in the field, there is no mistaking the fact that summer is on the wane and fall is practically here.

But for an unmistakable sign that summer has gone and autumn has come, there are the school children. Scribblers and rulers, books and paint boxes, pens, pencils, and erasers are all receiving critical attention this week. The best is none too good. Monday morning will see many bobbing heads from which hang carefully braided hair, and many sturdy shoulders from which will hang school books. Educational systems change, are improved, but the enthusiasm and expectancy of youngsters on the first day of the fall school term changes little. There could even be an apple for the teacher.

NINTH VICTORY LOAN OPENS OCTOBER 22nd

Ottawa, August 31—Honourable J. L. Ilsley, Minister of Finance, announced today that the minimum objective for the Ninth Victory Loan which opens on October 22nd has been set at $1,500,000,000 of which $800,000,000 is the minimum objective for sales to individuals. This is an increase of $125,000,000 over the individual objective for the Eighth Victory Loan. Because final victory will mean a material reduction in Canada's war costs, he said, it is possible for the Ninth Victory Loan to meet Canada's borrowing needs for a twelve month period.

A Big Job Well Done

Montreal, Sept. 4— In a message addressed to the Canadian public, Mr. R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, has expressed the system's thanks for the co-operation given it during the war by the millions of train and steamship passengers, shippers of freight and express, hotel guests, and patrons of the telegraph and other services. The Canadian National ability to fulfill its gigantic war duty "to the credit and satisfaction of the nation," he said, "is due not only to the skill, devotion and zeal of those who are our workers, but in large measure also to the Canadian public who, by their generous responses to appeals for help and their uncomplaining acceptances of restrictions and controls, lightened our burden." He made particular mention of "the unnumbered citizens who refrained from travelling needlessly as their contribution to the common cause."

From the outbreak of the war in September, 1939, to V-J day, Canadian National passenger train miles amounted to more than 139 million, according to the Bureau of Statistics. Passenger car miles totalled more than one billion, 217 million. It is estimated that more than 153 million passengers were carried; up to the end of last year, more than four million troops had been transported in 6,540 special trains. The movement of troops returning home from overseas is still continuing and figures are not yet available concerning it as yet, but two thirds of all troop trains required for those movements are being provided by the Canadian National. Special workmen's trains, operated to and from war plants, carried over 41 million passengers. Nearly 26 million meals were served to military and civilian passengers on Canadian National diners during the war period.

The Canadian National hauled more than 401 million tons of freight during the war. Freight train miles aggregated more than 346 million, freight car miles, nearly 11 billion, ton miles, more than 196 billion.

Vessels owned and operated by the Canadian National Steamships travelled four and a half million miles in war service and a number were victims of enemy action. Three were converted into fighting naval units and one, "The Lady Nelson" was Canada's first hospital ship.

Hotels, express and telegraph departments all contributed largely to the nation's war effort. Trans-Canada Air Lines aircraft flew some 45 million miles, carrying more than 600,000 passengers, approximately 14 million pounds of mail and two and a half million pounds of express. The railway's drydock and shipyard at Prince Rupert built minesweepers and freighters. National Railways Munitions Limited at Montreal constructed naval guns and carriages and other war equipment. Officers and staffs in the Canadian National architect's department, the real estate, law and development departments and others gave technical assistance to the government. In co-operation with RCAMC, the architect's department designed special hospital cars which were constructed by the car equipment department and shops of the company. Officers of the system organized wartime censorship and public information in 1939 and 1940. Nearly 25,000 men and women enlisted in the armed Forces, in the Merchant Navy or were on special war duty with the government. Many of them won decorations for gallantry and distinguished service.

"The surrender of the last enemy had ended the fighting, but it has not ended the war job of the Canadian National Railways," concluded Mr. Vaughan's message to the people of Canada. "The men and women in the services have to be brought home without delay and for that purpose we shall continue to employ all our available passenger equipment. Millions of tons of materials must be transported for industrial reconversion. In carrying out those and other extensions of our war job, we hope we may continue to enjoy the understanding of the Canadian public."

Farm Cash Income

Cash income from the sale of farm products in Canada for the first six months of 1945 totalled $702 million as compared with $764,000,000 for the first six months of 1944. The principal decreases occurred in the prairie provinces, the decline in Saskatchewan being $51 million, Alberta $25 million and in Manitoba $14 million. On the other hand Ontario showed an increase of $22 million.

The decline in income in the prairies was due mainly to decreased marketings of wheat and hogs during the first half of 1945 compared with the unusually heavy marketings during the first six months of 1944. However, increased marketings chiefly of cattle, calves and of oats helped to offset part of the decline.

The increase in income in Ontario was due chiefly to an increase in marketing of cattle, calves, field crops and dairy products. While the income from hogs declined, the reduction was not as marked as in the prairie provinces. —Wheat Pool Bulletin.

Bovine Tuberculosis Restricted Areas

The enlarged Municipal District of Lamont No. 32 has now been declared a Restricted Area for the eradication of Bovine Tuberculosis by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. The first general test has been made in this area covering 10,631 cattle from 784 herds.

Keen interest in the Bovine Tuberculosis Restricted Area Plan is evident throughout the province and the number of districts operating is steadily increasing.

Upon acceptance of applications by the Provincial Minister of Agriculture, veterinary inspectors are provided by the Dominion Health of Animals Branch and cost of transportation of veterinarians is borne by the Alberta Department of Agriculture. In addition to the Municipal District of Lamont, other enlarged Municipal Districts in Alberta now designated at Restricted Areas are M. D. Starland No. 47; M. D. Stettler No. 54, M. D. Camrose No. 63 and M. D. Strathcona No. 83.

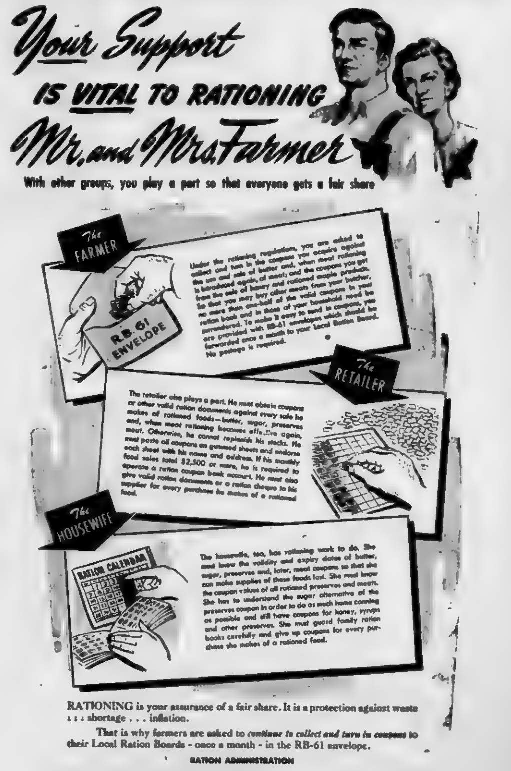
APPLE FAILURE UPS COST IN EAST

As a result of the apple crop failure in Eastern Canada, ceiling increases are allowed on all apples produced in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

At the end of July it was estimated that this year's yield was 43 per cent of last season's bumper crop and approximately 60 per cent of the 1938-42 five year average, with about 70 per cent of the total crop coming from B.C.

Ceiling changes will slightly increase consumer prices in Eastern Canada, but prices in the four western provinces will remain unchanged.

Apple exports will be curtailed this year to meet domestic needs.



Under the rationing regulations, you are asked to collect and turn in the coupons you acquire against the use and sale of butter and, when meat rationing is introduced again, of meat; and the coupons you get from the sale of honey and rationed maple products. So that you may buy other meats from your butcher, no more than one-half of the valid coupons in your ration book and in those of your household need be surrendered. To make it easy to send in coupons, you are provided with RB-61 envelopes which should be forwarded once a month to your Local Ration Board. No postage is required.

The retailer also plays a part. He must obtain coupons or other valid ration documents against every sale he makes of rationed foods—butter, sugar, preserves and, when meat rationing becomes effective again, meat. Otherwise, he cannot replenish his stocks. He must paste all coupons on gummed sheets and endorse each sheet with his name and address. If his monthly food sales total $2,500 or more, he is required to operate a ration coupon bank account. He must also give valid ration documents or a ration cheque to his supplier for every purchase he makes of a rationed food.

The housewife, too, has rationing work to do. She must know the validity and expiry dates of butter, sugar, preserves and, later, meat coupons so that she can make supplies of these foods last. She must know the coupon values of all rationed preserves and meats. She has to understand the sugar alternative of the preserves coupon in order to do as much home canning as possible and still have coupons for honey, syrups and other preserves. She must guard family ration books carefully and give up coupons for every purchase she makes of a rationed food.

RATIONING is your assurance of a fair share. It is a protection against waste . . . shortage . . . inflation.

That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards - once a month - in the RB-61 envelope.

SEED GRAIN

The supply of SEED GRAIN has been discussed at the meeting of the Agricultural Service Board held in Ryley. The following statement is brought to attention of every farmer concerned:

1. Each farmer that has seed on his own farm, should save enough to sow the land he intends to sow next spring.

2. Each and every farmer that has NOT seed of his own should contact his neighbours and try to obtain the required seed.

3. If no seed is available among his neighbors, he should contact his elevator agent and try to obtain the seed.

4. If no seed is available among the neighbours or in the elevator, then each and every farmer should watch the local newspaper. During the month of October in each issue, will appear an order form. This form is to be used to state how much seed oats and seed barley each farmer will need.

On October 31, all orders will be added and summary submitted to Alberta Department of Agriculture. Field Crops Branch will try to purchase the seed. As soon as it is available all will be notified. Seed Oats will be stored in a central municipal warehouse. Barley will be shipped in carloads and will be sold on the track.

No arrangements have been made to handle seed wheat. No arrangements have been made to extend credit.

MOVEMENT OF FARM WORKERS FOR WESTERN HARVEST BEGINS

Announcement was made today by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, that the movement of farm workers from Ontario and Quebec to the Prairie Provinces for harvesting work has already begun. The first of the men left eastern points on Saturday, and further departures last night bring the total so far en route to about 700.

Some of the men are leaving from the areas around Hull and Lachute in the Province of Quebec, while the balance are going from Ontario points—chiefly from the eastern and northern parts of the province where local harvests have progressed very satisfactorily up to this time, and the men can be spared. Ontario points despatching men to the West include Ottawa, Cornwall, Brockville, Bracebridge, Parry Sound, Smith's Falls, Lindsay and North Bay.

The Dominion Labour Department is carrying out the transfer of workers in close co-operation with provincial agricultural officials, and all precautions are being taken to see that men do not depart from Ontario and Quebec until the harvest in the locality they are leaving has progressed sufficiently far that the absence of the men will not interfere with food production in the East. Also efforts are being made to protect dairying and livestock farming, by not removing men whose services will be required in the Central Provinces on farms of that type.

It is expected that departures from western Quebec and areas in the Province of Ontario which are included will continue over a period of about three weeks, and it is probable that a total of about 6,000 men will be moved.

Distribution of the men in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta has been arranged through co-operation of provincial agricultural officials there and with the help of officers of the National Employment Service.

The men going West, who are expected to remain on the Prairies until after the peak of the harvest, are provided with free transportation for the outgoing journey, and are required to pay only $10.00 each for their return ticket. The Railway Companies have co-operated by providing the Dominion Labour Department, which bears the major share of the cost with low rates for this movement of workers.

Playing safe with TEXTILES

The supply of textiles is not adequate to the demand.
For six years, most of the world output has gone to war.
Victory has not improved the situation.
There will not be enough textiles in Canada for many months to come.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE REASONS

Canada depends largely on other sources for raw materials and for some yarns and fabrics.

A serious manpower shortage still confronts the textile industry of all Allied countries.

Shortages overseas must be met. It will take months before production is resumed in Europe.

Substantial quantities of all kinds of textiles are still required by occupational [illegible]

Domestic demand for textiles increased sharply during the war. It is still going up.

Civilian clothing needs of returning servicemen and women are swelling the demand here at home.

CONSERVATION IS THE KEYNOTE
This year, production directives have again been issued to the textiles industry.
They are intended to divert output to more essential goods.
But directives alone cannot cure a situation arising from world conditions.
The answer lies in conservation. More than ever, the need is to conserve, to take care of what there is, to mend, make-over and make-do.

TO PROVIDE CANADIAN WOMEN with guidance and practical assistance in maintaining the family wardrobe, the Board has prepared a series of advertisements, to assist Canadian women. Each subsequent advertisement will illustrate tested ways of styling new and fashionable clothing from outgrown and outmoded garments. For valuable hints on style, economy and CONSERVATION, watch these columns.

TOWN COUNCIL

Met Tuesday, Sept. 4th, 1945 at 8:00 p.m.

Members present: Mayor Swift, Councillors Scott, Allan, Patterson, Francis, Kallal.

Minutes of the last meeting were approved as read.

Communications: Standard Gravel and Surfacing Co. Ltd., quoting $2.55 per cubic yard for gravel, crushed, shipped, unloaded and hauled to the streets. Advantage has been taken of the quotation and 300 cubic yards since placed on the streets which greatly enhances the usefulness and appearance.

Highway Commissioner for Alberta stating that at the present time it is impossible for the Department to take any action on the project of the 14 miles leading North from Tofield.

Mr. John G. Baergen interviewed the Council concerning assessment on 30 acrs in S.W. 1-51-19-W4. He was advised that nothing could be done this year but the matter could be taken up later.

The Secretary was instructed to advertise for tenders for labor of painting the Town Hall roof, and the freshening up of the Rest Room.

Accounts were passed for payment and the July Statement ordered into the minutes.

Confirmation was given for the absence of the Secretary on two week's holiday. No meeting had been held in August.

The Secretary was appointed Enumerator to comply with recent changes in compiling Voter's Lists.

It was decided that tenders would be advertised in future for the cutting of hay on Town property. Cutting of weeds to be paid for as required.

Councillor Patterson was appointed Deputy Mayor for the ensuing three months.

Tax Sale date has been set for Friday Sept. 21, at 2 p.m. Reserve bid of $150.00 was placed on Lot 8 Block 10, Plan 9200S, others at the amount previously set considering location, etc.

M.D. Beaver No. 73, have advertised their No. 20 road maintainer for sale. The Secretary was instructed to place a bid for it.

Mr. M. C. Hammond has intimated his desire to purchase Lot 13, Block 10 Plan 9200S. Sale value was set at $50.00.

A letter from F/O Henry Hicks was perused in which a request was made for an area of about 120 acres. A map was also asked for, showing location, natural gas, electricity, drainage, etc. The purpose for which the land is required was not stated but it was assumed that same was for establishing a flying field. All possible information would be supplied. Meeting adjourned.

LAKESHORE

At a meeting of the War Workers' Club held on September 5th, at Mrs. V. Moss the members decided to help in any way possible with the clothing collection which is being sponsored next month by UNRRA, and to try to have ready any article of clothing that is wearable and warm that can be spared. Articles should be clean, but need not be pressed or ironed. Mrs. T. E. Seale was nominated to represent the club at the meeting in Tofield on Tuesday.

They also decided to fill four ditty bags for the Salvation Army, and to donate the articles with the exception of knitted articles which will be bought. Any time a member has an opportunity to pick up a game, a book, stationery, cards, wash cloths, tinned food or juices, etc., suitable for the bags, keep these donations in mind.

At the Tuesday meeting they decided to have donations brought to town on Sept. 29, but for the convenience of Lakeshore and McKenzie people, the War Workers have arranged for anyone with clothing to donate, to leave it whenever they can before the 29th at J. B. Warner's or Lorimer Hunter's.

Two Men Killed Near Lindbrook

A tragic accident occurred shortly after noon on Thursday, a mile east of Lindbrook, when two gravel truck drivers who had been working on the highway met their deaths after having been hit by a C.N.R. freight. The men, Dan Wilychki, and Elmer E Shaflo, were on their way to dinner at the home of Mrs. F. Kortuman, when the truck they were riding in was struck by the freight.

The force of the impact carried the truck quite a distance along the track, the freight travelling in an easterly direction.

One man was killed almost immediately and the other only lived a short time after being taken from the truck. It was necessary for Rasmussen and Lindgren to cut away part of the body of the truck in order to extricate one of the men.

The truck was smashed completely, the engine and even the wheels being torn off. After the truck was hit gasoline in the tank caught fire and one of the men was badly burned. Representatives of the RCMP from Tofield and Edmonton and Dr. McPherson of Ryley were at the scene of the accident and the bodies of the men were taken to Edmonton in Stinson's ambulance. As far as is known the men came from Winfield and were working for the Standard Gravel Co. who are gravelling the highway.

Secretary McMullen Resigns, Asst. Secretary J. Letourneau Appointed

At a special meeting of the council of M.D. of Beaver, held at Ryley on Monday, September 10th, the resignation of secretary-treasurer J. W. McMullen was accepted with regret and asst. secretary Jack Letourneau was appointed as secretary-treasurer. The filling of the position of assistant secretary together with the position of clerk was left in the hands of a committee composed of Reeve Anderson, Councillors Moen and Ovens and this matter will be again dealt with at an evening meeting to be held on Friday, September 14th.

The meeting on Monday opened at 10:45 with Deputy Reeve Ovens presiding for a few moments before Reeve Anderson's arrival. The minutes of the last meeting were adopted on the motion of Councillor Lucas.

The monthly financial statement was then given attention, it being brought out in discussion that there was a $64,000.00 bank balance at the end of August and the immediate payments in view amounted to about $45,000.00. The statement was adopted.

The resignation of the secretary then came up for attention, the secretary saying that in many ways he was reluctant to leave. It was, he said, more of a family decision than a personal one as he enjoyed working with the M.D.

Councillor Ovens voiced the regret of the council that Mr. McMullen was leaving, going on to say that he had found Mr. McMullen very courteous and helpful during the rather difficult period of amalgamation. He moved that Mr. McMullen's resignation be accepted with regret.

Some discussion then ensued as to whether Mr. McMullen should be given a two-year leave of absence or whether the resignation should be accepted outright. It was finally agreed that the resignation be accepted and Mr. Oven's motion carried.

The resignation of Harold McMullen as clerk was also presented and on the motion of Councillor Swabey, accepted.

The auditors interim report was received and adopted. In the report the auditor stated everything was in good order and there were no discrepancies.

There were a number of applications for the position of secretary and assistant secretary, and these were given attention. Among the applications received were from L. D. Fobes, Ryley; Lieut. Glover, Calgary, J. R. Greig, Ryley; N. J. Jevning, Ryley; D. R. Goshko, Inland; Finseth, Ryley; Blake Clutterham, Tofield; Raymond Hoveland, Holden.

It was plainly the wish of the council that asst. secretary J. Letourneau take over the secretaryship and Councillor Lucas formally moved that the position of secretary be offered to Mr. Letourneau. The resolution carried and Mr. Letourneau was called in and asked whether he would accept. He asked to be given until after dinner to make his decision. This was granted and the matter was tabled until after dinner.

Letter from Adams Machinery Co. relating to relaxing of some government regulations was read.

Letter from A. J. H. McCauley regarding insurance on the Tofield office was read.

On motion of Councillor Moen an advertisement will be inserted in the local papers advertising the Tofield office building, less vault, for sale.

Adjournment for lunch.

Reconvening at 1:30 the subject of office staff again came under discussion. It was mentioned that Mr. Burgar, a former M.D. secretary might be interested. On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus it was decided to contact Mr. Burgar and offer him the assistant secretaryship and if he did not accept, the matter be placed in the hands of a committee composed of Reeve Anderson, Councillors Ovens and Moen, with power to act.

Mr. Letourneau having expressed his willingness to accept the secretaryship, Councillor Swabey moved that he be engaged at $2400.00 per year. The resolution carried.

The stenographer now having been a year with the M.D. was in line for a $5.00 per month raise in salary. On the motion of Councillor Laskosky this was granted.

Further discussing changes in the office staff Councillor Laskosky moved that John Raymond Hoveland be engaged as clerk. The motion was lost.

Councillor Moen moved that Neil Jevning be engaged as clerk. This motion was also lost.

Councillor Lucas moved that appointment of assistant and clerk be left in the hands of the committee. Carried.

Letter from Town of Tofield offering $375.00 for No. 30 patrol grader. The offer was not accepted.

Mr. Morland interviewed council re a road out from his farm. Councillor Giebelhaus explained that this matter had been previously before council. It was a difficult problem as due to natural conditions it was not possible to build a road out except by acquiring land from other owners. He had tried this but the two owners from whom land could be obtained did not wish to sell.

On the motion of Councillor Swabey, it was decided to take the necessary steps to expropriate land required for a road.

Letter from Bawlf [illegible] re the care of an indigent. Councillor Ovens will make the necessary arrangements.

Letter from chief assessor, saying that a request had been made to have Mr. McLeod, one of the assessors, transferred to the M.D. of Minburn. On account of this he requested an extension of time to complete the M.D. of Beaver assessment.

On the motion of Councillor Moen, it was decided that assessment of M.D. of Beaver should be completed before any release of the assessors was granted.

Letter regarding weed infestation was read. Mr. Reddick will be informed of location and will investigate.

Letter from M.D. of Eagle stating that road agreement between the two M.D.'s was now completed and that they were ready to turn over road building unit to M.D. of Beaver on receipt of cheque for $3000.00. Councillor Giebelhaus who had managed this arrangement between the two M.D.'s reported that everything was in order for the final transaction.

On the motion of Councillor Ovens, it was decided to pay M.D. of Eagle amount of $3000 less the amount owing to the M.D. of Beaver for culverts.

Reeve Anderson announced that he had purchased a quarter section from the C.P.R. for the gravel it contained and believed he had made a good purchase for the M.D. On the motion of Councillor Lucas the reeve's action in purchasing this quarter section was approved.

Letter from A. J. Williams, Tofield, regarding road diversion. On motion of Councillor Swabey, it was decided that Mr. Williams may have road diversion back at cost.

Letter from North America Company regarding the cost of liability insurance. Council were in favor of carrying some liability insurance and will request that application forms be sent to the office.

Letter from Lymburn, Reid and Cobbledick, regarding a surveyor saying that so far they could not arrange for one. It was decided that secretary should write again and if a surveyor is still unobtainable to contact a Mr. Atkinson whom council understood was a surveyor and was available.

M.D. of Camrose wrote and offered $400.00 for No. 702 rotary scraper. It was decided to accept this offer.

An account due the Vegreville Hospital of $22.00 was ordered paid.

Mothers' Allowance and old age pension matters were dealt with.

J. E. Reddick's daily reports from August 4th to August 25th were presented to council.

Secretary announced that he had authorised the delivery of some [illegible] to Mr. Larsen of Poe. Also that a letter had been received from Mr. Voight on behalf of Mr. Larsen stating that Mr. Larsen intends to refund to the municipality the relief given him [illegible] the war years.

LAND DEALS

Mr. Henry Rasebaum's offer of $40.00 for Lot 1, Block 3, Dodds, was accepted.

Mr. M. C. Bissard's offer of $1250.00 cash or $1500.00 on time for N.E. 4-47-14 W4M will be investigated.

In 1933 Geo. Zouche of Bruce bought lots 1 to 4, block 8, Bruce, for $164.57. Up to the present time he has not received title. Council will investigate this.

Third reading of bylaws covering the sale of two parcels, the E half 2-50-14 W4 to R. B. Starky, at $800, and the N.E. 24-49-14 W4, to R. P. Bensen at $560, was given. Also the sale of a lot in Bruce to Mr. Stambaugh.

Communication was read from Peter Kilisht re water running on land. A committee was appointed to look into this.

Also one from Mr. Ed Thompson regarding a road work problem.

A petition from a number of ratepayers in Councillor Moen's division was received. They desired a road gravelled and Councillor Moen said he would have it done if at all possible as soon as equipment was available.

On the motion of Reeve Anderson it was decided to pay Mr. McMullen one extra month's salary in appreciation of his valued services.

The hospital, road work and general accounts were checked and passed after which council adjourned to meet Friday evening, Sept. 14th, at 8:00 p.m.

Clothing Collection Meeting Well Attended

There was really a splendid turnout at the Clothing Collection Meeting held at the Tofield Town Hall on Tuesday night. Representations from quite a number of different organizations were present and everyone seemed anxious that a worthy contribution to the national effort should be made.

W. C. Swift was elected chairman and W. Worton secretary.

In town the collection day will be Sept. 29, and will be conducted by the Girl Guides and Boy Scouts, with a possible collection check-up on October 13th.

In the country members of the different organizations are asked to take their contributions to the meeting of their organizations closest to the collection dates. Further arrangements will be made to bring the clothing into town for shipment. During the drive and immediately prior to shipment, clothing will be stored in the skating rink dressing rooms.

Those present at the meeting included. Mrs. Webb, I.O.D.E.; Mrs. E. Hardy, Eastern Star, Mrs. A. Herndon, First Baptist Church; Mrs. B. Seale, Lakeshore War Workers; Mrs. J. W. Robinson, W.A.; Mrs. H. Barden, W.A.; Mrs. McGinitie, Ketchamoot L.A.; Miss McGuffie, Girl Guides; Mrs. Patterson, Amisk Creek L.A.; Mrs. Haukedahl, Bardo L.A.; Mrs. Lewis; Mrs. Lerbekmo, Bardo L.A.; Mrs. A. E. Allan, Red Cross; Mr. A. E. Allan, Red Cross; Mr. Heidebrecht, Mennonite Church; Mrs. Appleby, Ketchamoot L.A.; Mr. Boyd Stauffer, Salem Mennonite Church; Mr. Heidebrecht, Mennonite Church; Mrs. Mary Whyte and Mrs. Ingrid Jacobs, Tofield United Church Junior Ladies' Aid.

The Junior Ladies' Aid have kindly consented to look after the packing and all indications point to a successful collection here.

KETCHAMOOT

Mr. A. F. Schultz started threshing Thursday of last week, he being one of the lucky ones in not getting hail.

Mrs. Stanley Suss and Miss Nellie Lindsay of Edmonton, two of our former school teachers, visited Mrs Roy Lee and Mrs. Stanley Sears Thursday afternoon of last week.

Misses Doris McGinnis, Ella Brown, Erna Lydia and Annie Boone are attending high school in Tofield this year.

Little Miss Laverne Ovelson is staying with her grandparents, Mr and Mrs J. H. Ingram, while attending Ketchamoot school.

A family reunion was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr and Mrs Joe Brown Sr., in honor of Mrs Brown's birthday anniversary. Relatives present were: sister Miss Edith Turner, brother Mr E Turner, Miss [illegible], Mr and Mrs Martin Lawson, Mr and Mrs L. McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs Joe Brown, Mr and Mrs Stanley Brown, Mr and Mrs John Brown and their families and Mrs Goetz.

Mr and Mrs Toop of Chilliwack, B.C., visited old time friends in the Woodlawn district last week. On Wednesday afternoon Mrs O Cookson entertained a few friends in their honor. These were Mrs. Yeager, Mrs Geo Yeager, Mrs Williams, Mrs McCowan, Mrs L. McGinnis, Mrs Earl Wilson, Corinne and Lois Wilson, Nola McGinnis and Nola Williams.

LAC Albert Sears returned home from Penhold one day last week and left on Tuesday for Calgary to get his discharge papers.

Mr and Mrs Roy Lee and family were Edmonton visitors Saturday.

A pleasant afternoon was spent Thursday afternoon of last week when Mrs Frank Stupe entertained our Ladies Aid. A goodly number were present and several visitors from town, including Mrs Geo. Cookson, Mrs Swift, Mrs Lovell, Mrs Hosier, and Mrs A Francis. The Oct. meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Lorne Lee.

Mr and Mrs. Stanley Sears visited Mr and Mrs McCrea in Vegreville on Saturday and Sunday.

By travelling around in our district you wouldn't know if it was spring, summer or fall. Some are ploughing their fields under, other fields are as green as grass with the second growth, while others are ripe and being threshed. Good thing we can not lay it man for it being so unevenly divided.

SHELTERS FOR HOGS

(Experimental Farms News)

The comfort of pigs has much more to do with growth and profit than may be generally realized. As pigs are very sensitive to cold and heat, a warm shelter for cold weather and a cool shady place in hot weather will pay the owner well in extra gains and general health of the pigs, says E. Van Nice, Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Sask.

Summer shade can be easily provided. Where natural shade of trees or buildings is inadequate, a few posts, a bit of scrap lumber or poles with a few bran bags is sufficient to provide greater comfort during the hot days. In the case of white pigs care is necessary with young stock in the spring, or after pigs have been housed for a time, to prevent sunburning and a retarding of growth.

Winter shelters for breeding or growing stock need not be expensive in fact a straw shed well constructed and liberally supplied with bedding is sufficient for sleeping quarters. Feeding may be done in the open in mild winter weather but a wind break is usually needed for the winters of northwestern Saskatchewan or pigs will frequently return to the sleeping quarters before they take a normal quantity of feed. A frame building large enough for both feeding and sleeping quarters is satisfactory for feeders in winter, but breeding stock benefit by more exercise.

A good arrangement for providing exercise for breeding stock is to have the sleeping quarters approximately fifty yards from the feeding shelter. If farrowing time is to come in winter some artificial heat is desirable, at least sufficient to prevent chilling temperatures in the pen until the pigs are a few days old. The common [illegible] may be too expensive when there are but few farrowings during the winter. For one or two [illegible] spare may often be [illegible] in a building where sufficient other stock is housed to prevent the temperature from becoming low. After a few days, the litter may be moved to another shelter if desired, but the newborn pig should be protected from cold temperatures at first.

The pig cabin is useful for farrowing in moderate weather and convenient for housing a few pigs at any season. By banking the cabin with manure and straw it can be made comfortable for growing or mature stock even in cold weather. It should be constructed on skids for convenient moving to clean ground so important to the health of young pigs.

Plans for a hog cabin or pig barn are free upon application to the nearest Dominion Experimental Farm, or to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Radios have moved from seventh to third place, following automobiles and refrigerators in the list of "big" purchases which Canadians plan to make after the war. In a recent survey, 42 per cent of the people polled said they intend to buy a radio after the war.

Aggregate sales by War Assets Corporation up to August 15 amounted to $28,826,220.

India is now Canada's third best customer. During the war the value of Indo-Canadian trade increased 19 times.

THE WHEAT SITUATION

On September 12th, the first government estimate of grain production in Canada will be issued. A number of organizations have already made estimates and it seems to be generally agreed that the wheat production of the prairie provinces will be slightly in excess of [illegible] million bushels. Total Canadian production of wheat may total [illegible] million bushels, a reduction of 115 million from last year. This is not the smallest crop produced by Canada during the war years as the 1941 production totalled just under [illegible] million and the 1943 production was [illegible] million.

The combined production of barley and oats in the prairie provinces is estimated at 442 million bushels this year compared with [illegible] million in 1944. This is a reduction of about 100 million bushels and is a serious matter where the size of the livestock population is concerned. There is a good demand for barley and oats for export at existing ceiling levels, but it is evidently the government's intention to retain most of this grain in Canada at least until the feed requirements of the Dominion are met. This policy entails quite a sacrifice on the part of those farmers who produce such grains for the commercial market.

It is anticipated that there will be a heavy demand for wheat during the present crop year as Europe needs all the food that can be produced and sent there. Meat is needed even more urgently on the continent as the only European nation with any surplus is Denmark and what she can spare for export is but a pittance.

By the end of the war in Europe at least 150,000 magazines were being sent overseas monthly from Canada. Requirements of merchant seamen and the Canadian armed forces stationed in the Western hemisphere were also met. This was all done entirely by voluntary citizens' committees and clubs.

MONTREAL TENOR

The tenor voice heard weekly on Serenade For Strings, Sundays at 6:00 p.m. CDT, on the CBC Trans-Canada network is that of Jacques Labrecque, one of Montreal's favourite gifts to radio. He has been singing regularly for CBC audiences since 1936 and has made several appearances among the distinguished company heard in Canada's Victory Star Shows.

Canada is in the sugar pool with the United Kingdom and the United States. Under the pooling arrangement, Canada gets 4.2 per cent of the total sugar available to the pool.

The International Service of the CBC is sending special shortwave broadcasts to South America in Spanish and Portuguese so that South Americans may keep abreast of the meetings of the interim council on civil aviation in Montreal.

CHINA'S CONVERSION

China's conversion from war to peace economy depends most intimately upon the amount of goods and services which China can import in the next few years. For that reason the visit of China's Prime Minister Soong, accompanied by several high ranking Chinese Government officials and engineers, occupied the centre of the Ottawa stage after de Gaulle and his lieutenants marched off into the wings.

Soong is a genial, quick-witted, open hearted Chinese gentleman, whose three lovely daughters smiled charmingly at Ottawans during the visit. It has long been a matter of record that Prime Minister King has been on extremely cordial terms with Prime Minister Soong, and the recent appearance in the Capital of Dr Soong amply demonstrated the depth of that cordiality.

Canada as a Pacific power, stands to reap many concrete benefits of this friendship. Naturally, nothing specific has been released by the Canadian Government, but it is well known in these circles that the Chinese Government requires substantial quantities of hydraulic equipment, ships and railway rolling stock, three heavy-industry products which Canada is eminently suited to design and fabricate. Indeed, Canada's record in these three fields is enviable. In due course, a brisk two-way trade can be expected between Canada and China, in fulfilment of the Government's postwar trade plans.

At the request of the British government a Canadian Corps of Civilian Fire Fighters was organized with a personnel of 423 men recruited from 107 municipalities. They arrived in the United Kingdom before the end of 1942 and were posted to six stations in four centres. They fought fires caused by incendiary bombs and explosives until they were returned to Canada at the end of 1944.

SCHOOL PATROLS ALL SET FOR TERM WORK

More than 150,000 Alberta children will be back in school on Sept 10 to commence their new term. The reopening of schools is a matter of interest to car drivers, because one of the first essentials is to drive with extra care in the vicinity of schools.

The reopening of schools also means that the school boy and girl patrols sponsored by the Alberta Motor Association again will be on duty.

These patrols now operating in many of the cities and towns of the province, did a splendid job last term and it is expected that they will strive to do even better this term. Their work has been praised by school boards, city and R.C.M. Police, provincial government and [illegible] authorities.

In seeing that children cross the intersections near schools with safety, either going to or from schools, these patrols are carrying out highly commendable work in the interests of safety and good citizenship. They have played a big part in keeping down Alberta's motor accident toll. Give them your support and co-operation.

Of the 68 Canadian servicemen blinded in the war against Germany, 33 have finished a training course at the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Its director says that blind workers have done war jobs in "hundreds of Canada's great war plants." There are 13,413 blind persons in Canada registered with the Institute.

Ninth Victory Loan Oct. 22

Ottawa, August 31st—Canada's Ninth Victory Loan will open on October 22nd and will be the biggest ever floated in this country, the Honorable J. L. Ilsley announced today. The Loan will cover Canada's borrowing needs for the next twelve months, the Minister of Finance explained, making it unnecessary to have another campaign next spring.

"One large Loan now instead of two smaller loans, one now and another in the Spring of 1946, means a real saving of time, effort and expense," he said. "It is possible to aim for a full year's needs in one Loan because Canada's borrowing requirements over the next twelve months will not be as large as they have been in recent years.

"Victory has been won in Europe and in the Pacific. The end of hostilities means the end of many war costs. But, we now face new tasks. And, these new tasks bring new needs. So, total outlays and borrowing requirements will continue at high levels.

"For instance, men in hundreds of thousands must be brought back to their homeland from overseas. This will take time because of shipping shortages and continuing operations in occupied areas. Meanwhile, they must be paid, fed, housed and cared for in a hundred-and-one different ways. This all costs money—large amounts of it.

"Then, the wounded and the sick must be restored to health. Veterans will be given a good start in civilian life. Many will be trained for new jobs. War service gratuities and re-establishment credits will be paid. These and other rehabilitation outlays involve hundreds of millions of dollars.

"People in war-torn countries need food, clothing, medical and other supplies to relieve suffering and distress. The United Nations, including Canada, are making gifts of essential supplies to these peoples. Canada is also lending money to countries in war areas to help buy supplies in Canada urgently needed to overcome the losses and devastation of war. The money Canada will spend and lend in these ways is an investment in the future peace and prosperity of the world.

"Then, there are outlays of various kinds to clean up the war program, and to start us on our way towards normal peacetime living.

"These tasks, and these needs, are reasons why Canada's borrowing requirements for the next year will remain at a high level even though direct war costs have declined with Victory in Europe and in the Pacific. They are reasons why Canadians are being asked to continue their present savings program for another year.

"Plans to win the peace—plans for high employment and prosperity in the days to come—are now being laid. Continued saving over the next year will help these plans succeed.

"War production has come to an end. Production for civilian use is on the way up. But, the supply of new things to buy at current prices is still very much less than the amount of spendable money in the hands of Canadians. As long as this condition remains, there will be upward pressure on prices—pressure which could lead to inflation, then to mass unemployment, misery and hardship.

"Spending increases this pressure. Saving reduces it. So continued saving, by the purchase of 9th Victory Loan Bonds, helps to keep the cost of living under control, and to maintain the buying power of our money. By helping to maintain stability, it will help us to win the peace.

"The minimum objectives for the new loan are the largest in Victory Loan history. They reflect the two Loans in one feature of the 9th Victory Loan, the continued need for saving, and the new level of borrowing requirements.

"As individuals, Canadians know the value of Victory Bonds—the value of a reserve of savings to meet future needs and wants. With twelve months to pay for 9th Loan Bonds, many Canadians will buy double the amount of their purchases in earlier Loans, and most others will buy more than before.

"The 9th Victory Loan will be Canada's Greatest Victory Loan."

LAMONT ELECTED PRESIDENT LINE ELEVATORS GROUP

Matters relating to Western agriculture and the grain elevator trade were reviewed at the forty-first annual meeting of The North-West Line Elevators Association held in Winnipeg.

Directors elected for the ensuing year were: C. E. Austin, General Manager, McCabe Bros. Grain Co. Ltd.; G. F. Copeland, Assistant Manager, Reliance Grain Co. Ltd.; W. J. Dowler, Secretary-Treasurer, Parrish and Heimbecker Ltd.; R. R. Emerson, Vice-President and General Manager, National Grain Co. Ltd.; J. G. Fraser, The North-West Line Elevators Association; J. M. Gilchrist, Vice-President, Searle Grain Co. Ltd.; W. A. Hastings, Manager, Lake of the Woods Milling Co. Ltd.; C. E. Hayles, President, Canadian Consolidated Grain Co. Ltd.; C. C. Head, General Manager, N. M. Paterson and Co. Ltd.; Cecil Lamont, The North-West Line Elevators Association; S. D. MacEachern, Winnipeg Manager, Federal Grain Limited; Wm. McG. Rait, President, Pioneer Grain Co. Ltd.; A. C. Reid, President Western Grain Co. Ltd.; V. W. Tryon, Vice-President, Federal Grain Limited.

At a subsequent meeting of the directors, officers appointed were: President, Cecil Lamont; Vice-President and General Manager, J. G. Fraser; Assistant Secretary, James Seaton; Director, Line Elevators Farm Service, Dr. K. W. Neatby.

The North-West Line Elevators Association was organized in 1899 "for the purpose of formulating rules to govern transactions between its members in the handling and shipping of grain, with the object of reducing the expense of handling the crop of the country to a minimum". Since the organization of the association grain handling charges have been reduced to the point where they are now recognized as the lowest prevailing in any grain growing country of the world, coupled with the most efficient and expeditious plant for the handling and movement of grain to market, it was pointed out. In addition the Line Elevator Companies have developed through the association an agricultural department to assist farmers in bringing about economies in farming operations and to assist them in meeting farming problems.

The North-West Line Elevators Association is comprised of the owners and operators of 3,400 country grain elevators located throughout the prairie provinces and terminal elevators at the Head of the Great Lakes and on the Pacific Coast with a total storage capacity of 274,000,000 bushels.

Canadians dug deep in their pockets to finance their own war effort. During the war with Germany, Canada spent more than $15,000,000,000 on war alone. Two-thirds of this amount was met by taxation and most of the remainder by borrowing from the public through war savings, victory bonds, etc. Revenue derived from personal income taxes in the year 1944-45 was almost 11 and a half times that of 1939-40.

P.F.A.A. ASSISTANCE

Under provisions of the Prairie Farmers Assistance Act the federal government may declare the present year an emergency one, and assistance may be granted to farmers operating land in townships where the average yield of wheat for the entire township is eight bushels an acre or less. Before assistance can be granted the municipal authorities concerned must make application by September 15th. Fieldmen of the P.F.A.A. will then conduct an investigation and complete acreage reports with each farmer.

Since 1939 when the P.F.A.A. was put on the statute books, about $11 million has been distributed to farmers with low yields. About $4 million has collected under the one per cent levy on grain sold by farmers and the difference of $7 million was made up from the federal treasury.

WORLD OF WHEAT
By H.G.L. Strange

NEW VARIETIES IN THE MAKING

Many new varieties of wheats, oats, barleys, peas and flax are in the making, and as soon as they have proved by test that they are up to the required high standards of quality they will be released and made available to our farmers.

I have just seen many hundreds of plots of new crosses and selections growing in controlled test plots at the various Dominion Experimental Farms, at our Prairie Universities and at the Dominion Rust Research Laboratory. I have seen varieties which hold the promise of being earlier in maturity, stiffer in the straw, larger kerneled, more resistant to rust and other diseases and some wheat selections even resistant to sawflies.

It was an inspiring and remarkable sight, and was a glowing tribute to the splendid system of plant breeding we have designed, and are using in Canada to provide constantly newer and better varieties for the benefit of our farmers.

All of us already owe a great debt of gratitude to our talented plant breeders for the production of superior varieties now in common use. This debt will be greatly increased in the future when some of the even better varieties have finally passed their tests and are named and released. In a few years I confidently predict, we shall see new varieties that will reduce costs of production and make famine less hazardous.

ALARMING CATTLE SITUATION

Ben S. Plumer, chairman of the Alberta Wheat Pool, told the Canadian [illegible] that the cattle marketing situation is becoming alarming and the Wheat Pool is becoming concerned over the developments. He predicted an extremely heavy run of cattle on the market this fall, due partly to lack of feed and partly to the fear of producers of a slump in price.

Mr Plumer said the situation called for a frank statement of government policy. The Federal government should say whether it wants a heavy production of beef in 1946 and 1947 and should tell the farmers what price may be expected. —Alberta Wheat Pool Budget.

WHERE WILL OUR MEAT GO?

Meat saved in Canada under meat rationing will be bound on missions of mercy to European countries where hungry eyes are turned to North America, the only continent that can help them. Ambassadors from Greece, Czecho Slovakia and Belgium stated the plight of their countries in Ottawa. Greece cannot boast a scrap of fresh meat for its people. Under Nazi domination, Greece lost 100 per cent of its pigs, 90 per cent of its dairy cows and over 50 per cent of its oxen, sheep and goats, horses, mules and buffaloes. Meat and dairy products are essential for a population ravaged by starvation diseases from which almost half a million people have died already.

Meat will go to Czechoslovakia, where people are starved for meat. In both Greece and Czechoslovakia, livestock was wholesalely destroyed under German domination. Remaining livestock is needed to rebuild herds and how to feed the people during the process remains a big problem.

Meat will go to Belgium where families have to save up a week's ration tickets before they can buy enough meat for one meal. Even then, meat is not always on hand for tickets to be honoured. Belgium wants to pay for any meat Canada sends, as it is paying for everything else it imports.

In all these countries, it's the children who offer the most concern, according to the embassies which released the above facts. The state of health among the children is very [illegible] with tuberculosis among [illegible] which have doubled since the war. Meats and fats are very essential for growing children if they are to become strong citizens of [illegible], the ambassadors said. They all agreed that any meat Canada can send will be very welcome, and will certainly fill an urgent need.

DOMESTIC WHEAT PRICE

While the [illegible] wheat board price for [illegible] wheat at the terminals is $1.25 a bushel, wheat manufactured into flour for domestic consumption in Canada is priced at only [illegible] cents a bushel. Consequently flour millers get a drawback of 47 [illegible] cents a bushel on such wheat. This practice has prevailed since October 16th, 1942, having been introduced by the government in order to keep bread prices down. — Wheat Pool Budget.

HONORABLE THOMAS VIEN, P.C., K.C., vice-chairman of the National Clothing Collection sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund, and one of the active workers in organizing the [illegible] campaign scheduled for October 1-20, for the collection of serviceable used clothing for distribution by UNRRA to needy among the [illegible] in liberated [illegible].

THE NATIONAL CLOTHING COLLECTION

"The National Clothing Collection, [illegible] take place throughout Canada from October 1st to 20th, is [illegible] that is the [illegible] mutual agreement [illegible] war relief organizations which have joined together [illegible] of Canadian United Allied Relief of which I have the [illegible] National Chairman," [illegible] Massey Birks of Montreal said [illegible] morning in an interview.

"Over 300 committees are already locally organized and 49 were added yesterday—the snowball is just beginning—and will cover the country with a demonstration of [illegible] sympathy and generosity [illegible] before.

[illegible] has been said about the appalling [illegible] in the liberated [illegible] of Europe and to some [illegible] the need of one particular [illegible] have a greater appeal [illegible].

[illegible] of used clothing must not be earmarked for any definite [illegible] area. The destination of [illegible] shoes and bedding [illegible] will be determined by [illegible] need among the peoples [illegible] countries involved.

Representatives of UNRRA are [illegible] the clothing [illegible] nations [illegible] the liberated countries. [illegible] where the need is greatest [illegible] suffering is the most [illegible] general, and it will [illegible] of this that the shipment and free distribution of the [illegible] clothing will be made.

"The most important thing," continued Mr. Birks, "is that a sufficient [illegible] of serviceable used [illegible] shoes and bedding be con[illegible] to assure the fulfillment of [illegible] needs. With this accomplished each will know that although his or her contribution may not go to a particular country or area in which he or she may be interested, other clothing will go there, while theirs is filling needs equally urgent among suffering peoples elsewhere."

Mr. Birks expressed satisfaction at the progress being made in the formation of local committees throughout the Dominion, and urged those communities that have not yet organized such committees to take steps to do so as quickly as possible. "To successfully create an organization that will ensure that from every home is collected some contribution of serviceable used clothing which can be spared and which the men, women and children in the liberated countries of Europe will welcome with heartfelt appreciation, takes time and effort. The sooner a start is made the more complete will be the campaign," he said.

"The Canadian people, enjoying a freedom from fear and want through the long years of war, may find it difficult to visualize the dire need of those who have suffered so much at the hands of the enemy. What can freedom be to those who lack sufficient clothing to protect their famished bodies? They can do little or nothing to re-establish themselves in useful, self-supporting occupations until they have at least a minimum of clothes and footwear necessary to sustain life and restore hope.

"On the basis of sample surveys, it is estimated that there are millions of pounds of used garments still serviceable, of still further useful wear, in the homes of Canada, that can be spared, which will save life and bring hope to the recipients."

FEEDS FOR WINTERING LIVESTOCK

(Experimental Farms News)

In considering suitable feeds for wintering livestock, two objectives should be kept in mind. The animals should be maintained in a thrifty condition so that growth and reproductive ability are not impaired and the feed costs should be kept as low as possible, says J. A. Bennett, Dominion Experimental Station, Swift Current, Sask.

Native grassland, when available, undoubtedly provides the cheapest feed for cattle and sheep but when the snow becomes crusted or too deep other feeds must be provided. Straw of good quality from the cereal grains will successfully winter mature cows that are in good condition, but it does not contain sufficient nutrients for sheep. If the straw is not of high quality, or if the cattle are not in good condition, it is advisable to provide additional protein such as alfalfa or sweet clover hay in moderate amounts. If such hays are not available, a protein supplement such as linseed oilmeal may be used.

Thin and young animals require better quality feed than do older animals. It is not economical to feed animals so well that they put on fat during the winter as experiments have shown that such animals weigh no more after the following summer grazing period than do animals that have been fed only enough to keep them in a healthy and thrifty condition.

Grass hays, legume hay and hay from the cereal crops, fed singly or in combination, are suitable for wintering cattle and sheep. Yearling cattle will require about three-quarters of a ton, mature cows about one fourth ton of hay under about ont fourth ton of hay under average conditions. If hay is scarce, one pound of oil cake will replace nearly five pounds of hay and one pound of grain will replace three pounds of hay in the winter ration of cattle.

The need for mineral supplements is much greater in the winter than in the summer. In most districts it is desirable to provide a phosphorus supplement such as bonemeal or mono-calcium phosphate. It is wise, also to provide iodine to pregnant ewes during winter months. Salt should be readily available to animals at all times.

RCAF men forced to bail out over Germany were equipped with compasses hidden in many ingenious ways. One might be concealed in the second button of an airman's tunic with the north pole marked in phosphorous dots, or it might be hidden in his pipe stem, his pencil or in the back of a comb. All aircrew carried an emergency kit containing concentrated energy food, a tiny razor, maps and foreign currency.

FARMERS COLLECT COUPONS FOR MEAT

Under meat rationing regulations this time, there will be two changes affecting farmers who slaughter meat for their own and farmer neighbor's consumption, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces.

Farmers will have to deposit monthly at the Local Ration Board, coupons covering meat consumed in their own household, and sales to farmer neighbours, at the rate of 4 lbs. per coupon. To allow variety in diet, no more than half the valid meat coupons in the farmer's household ration books need be deposited. The other half may be used to purchase meat.

This concession does not apply to farmers who buy meat from other farmers. They must surrender one coupon for every 4 pounds purchased, and are not allowed to retain half the valid coupons in their ration books.

Regent Wheat

According to the wheat variety survey conducted by Line Elevators Farm Service and, also, by the Manitoba Department of Agriculture, Regent is now the leading variety of wheat in Manitoba. This represents a very remarkable triumph for Canadian plant breeders, and for Dr. C. H. Goulden in particular.

The public is apt to delay its admiration of outstanding achievements until the hero retires or dies! Dr. Goulden cannot retire before old age because he, we believe, depends upon a civil service so-called salary. He is young enough to justify our hopes that he may live to improve upon Regent.

It is well to remember that Thatcher, still the leading variety in Saskatchewan, is a very good wheat. Its success was assured from the beginning. Surely, therefore, it is all the more credit to Dr. Goulden and his staff that Regent should now stand first in Manitoba. It does so for one reason only—it has stood the test on Manitoba farms. The individual characteristics of the variety need not concern us here.

Farmers will do well to remember that crop plants that really succeed do not just happen. They result from carefully planned and controlled breeding experiments that aim to combine the maximum number of desirable characteristics [illegible].

It is also fitting at this time to acknowledge the debt we owe to Dr. H. K. Hayes, University of Minnesota, who not only produced Thatcher wheat, but trained many of our leading plant breeders, including Dr. Goulden.

NATIONAL CLUB WEEK JUNIOR FARM CLUBS

With the approach of the fall season, members of boys' and girls' farm clubs in all parts of the Dominion are preparing for their local achievement days, district [illegible]tions and provincial competitions through which teams are selected to participate in the annual national club week, to be held during the week beginning November 18th. Some district inter-club contests have already been held. The national club event is conducted annually by the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Club Work. The club members taking part, provincial champions in various club projects, will meet at Toronto on November 18th. Oral examinations will be conducted at Toronto, judging contests at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, and after [illegible] competitions there will be a program of sight-seeing and educational features, concluding with a visit to Ottawa. It is expected that 32 or 33 teams of two members each, will attend national club week. This annual event is made possible by the contributions of a number of business organizations and associations which have joined with the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture as members of the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

Membership in boys' and girls' farm clubs has decreased to some extent in the past four years, as a result of war-time conditions, but expansion is anticipated in the near future. A great deal of thought is being given to the further development and improvement of junior farm club programs.

FEEDING HOGS ON WHEAT

Some think there may be a shortage of oats and barley for feeding hogs this coming year. Splendid results have been attained by skilled large scale hog producers by the method of feeding feeder hogs exclusively on wheat mixed with 8 percent of tankage. Those, therefore, who are short of oats and barley might well consider using wheat for hog feeding.

POST WAR EMPLOYMENT—

WITH SERVICE MEN and women being discharged from the services as quickly as routine procedure will allow them to be, the problem of the immediate future is how all these men and women are going to find their niche in life, a niche which will enable them to earn sufficient money to maintain themselves in reasonable comfort. And should the man be or become married, the problem will be to earn enough to maintain a home and family. With the memory of economic conditions during depression days of the early thirties hard to throw off, there are many predictions than an era of unemployment cannot help but follow the period of forced prosperity through which we have been passing. It is quite likely that in some degree at least there will be cities and areas where there will be considerable unemployment. Ever since the industrial age was born, long before the two world wars, there have been high and low peaks of industrial activity coupled with the ebb and flow of employment. To make the situation appear more badly still it was generally accepted as an economic truism that a major war increased prosperity, at least for some, while it lasted, only to have an economic slump almost immediately the peace treaties were signed. To be sure, the reasoning was based on experience and probably was accurate enough until the end of world war I. Those of us who can recall current literature and conversation of those days will remember that there was some expressions of surprise that the slump did not come within a few months of Armistice day. Even men who are classed as economic experts shook their heads as the volume of business reached more and more mountainous heights. The drop did come of course, but not until ten years after the guns of World war I had ceased firing. This would indicate that while it may have been sound reasoning in the nineteenth century to expect an economic slump at the end of each war it does not necessarily follow that the same thing will take place in the twentieth century. The slump having taken ten years to come after the last war, the same thing may take twenty or even fifty, to appear after this one. Certainly there are grounds for believing it will.

The early wars were affairs between soldiers and sailors with battles being fought in valleys and on plains, and of course the high seas. Only occasionally were cities ransacked and when they were, loot, more than structural destruction was the motive. In the war just concluded the amount of destruction has been immense and all of it and more, even if in a little different form will have to be replaced. This in itself will take quite a long time to do even when materials are available, and millions of man hours will be required to make the materials available.

Each war as it is fought apparently opens up a new era of improved facilities. Men under the stress of war will accomplish things that in peace time would appear insurmountable. While war actually retards progress in some lines, it speeds up progress in others. Five years hence, perhaps in less time than that, young folk now setting up housekeeping for the first time will be demanding things middle aged people never even thought of when they assembled their household goods. Electronics developed more or less leisurely during the past quarter century received a tremendous boost during World War II. For use where electric current is available there are gadgets, if you wish to call them that, on the assembly lines now almost ready for delivery. Even the transmission of electric current is being extended and this in itself will require thousands of men. Before the peoples of the world are as well fed, well clothed, well housed, well educated, well entertained and well transported as in pre war days, billions of man and woman hours of labor will be required. And if we are to believe the messages of our statesmen, the people of the world are going to be better off. It is quite conceivable that the technical and scientific advance made during world war I and carried over into peace time, deferred for ten years the immediate economic slump then expected. If this is in any large degree true, the technical and scientific advance of this war should do even more because there has been so much more of it.

It is hardly likely that the return to the labor market of so many men and women will be made without some difficult problems cropping up. If such a large switch over runs true to form there will be strikes, lay-offs, etc. No matter how carefully government, financial and industrial agencies plan,, the law of averages makes it easy to predict at least some slip-ups, but these agencies should, and no doubt will, plan with purpose and determination to the end that returning service men and women who believed their country good enough to serve under difficult conditions will find it a country good to live in and good to work in. We believe the time is coming when there will be state dividends of necessary food, clothing and shelter but until that time arrives and men accept in fact as well as fancy the dictum "I am my brother's keeper," the country's leaders, political, financial and industrial, have a sacred duty to perform.

For the farmer, periods after major wars have always been considered to be difficult ones. This was not strictly true of the period immediately following world war I, and need not be true of the period after world war II. One is almost forced to the belief that for some time at least, the opposite would be true. With millions of hungry people clammering for food, certainly the demand is there, it is really a matter of financial and transportation arrangements. There is one thing when considering our Canadian domestic economy which should not be lost sight of and that is Canadian agriculturists are exceptionally good buyers of manufactured articles. Therefore to have a financially healthy industrial section of Canadian citizenry, there must be a financially healthy agricultural section.

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES
SUNDAY, SEPT. 16

Looma Vista	11:00 a.m.
Hastings Lake	3:00 p.m.
Ministik	8:30 p.m.

Our guest preacher this week is the Rev. Professor D. J. C. Elson of St. Stephen's College, the University of Alberta. Mr. Elson, before entering the college work, was minister of the United Church at Lamont and Turner Valley. He is a graduate of St. Stephen's College and Columbia. Having him with us is a real treat and all who are able are urged to come out to hear him.

Mrs. Hamilton and children left for home in McLeod last Monday. She has been visiting her sister Mrs. J. Roland for the last few weeks.

Steele Murdock has left for Calgary where he will await his discharge from the airforce.

There was a very poor attendance at church on Sunday night. Mr. Nix Sr. took the service assisted by Mr. Wickens. Mr. Wickens gave a very interesting address which was well worth hearing. Mrs. Pugh rendered a solo.

We hear that Donald Grummett is home but have no definite information concerning this.

Jack Roddick was indisposed last week for a few days. He was at church Sunday and feeling better.

We hear that Mr. H. Holmes and family are moving onto their farm north of the Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dunn were visitors over the week end with Mrs. E. Stevens.

The picture show was well attended and a nice crowd gathered for the dance afterwards. The next picture show and dance will be in October. I will give the date later on.

Mrs. Sherwood and daughter has returned home to Killam after spending a pleasant week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Whitford, her mother, and Mrs. Jack Roddick, her sister.

We hear that Mrs. D. Miller, nee Muriel Barnes, presented her husband with a fine baby boy. Cigars, Dan.

The regular meeting of the Jr. U.F.A. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner which opened with "There'll always be an England." Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. The report of the dance was given, showing a profit of $15.90. Letters from Howard Curtis and Syd Rowlands were read thanking us for parcels. Roll call was answered by a name or make of radio. Bulletin was read by Jean Oliver. There were seven members and 4 visitors present. Meeting adjourned. A social half hour and a nice lunch closed our evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hennessy entertained the Jr. U.F.A. at their regular meeting on Sept. 5th, with nine members and one visitor present. The meeting opened with the singing of O Canada. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. The report of our last dance was given by the secretary. The bulletin entitled "Plastic Surgery" was read by Joan Hennessy and Doreen Roddick. The Roll call was answered by the name of a watch or clock. The next meeting will be held at the Davenport home on October 3rd. Meeting adjourned. Music and fun and a nice lunch brought another evening to a close.

FROZEN SHIPMENT

Vancouver, Sept. 11— The first carload of frozen products shipped from the fertile Okanagan Valley district of British Columbia, famed for its high quality fruits and vegetables, recently moved to Toronto in one of the latest-type Canadian National Railways refrigerator cars.

Weighing 60,000 pounds, contents of the car were 3,000 cartons of quick-frozen beans wrapped in wax paper, with a value of $9,000.

The C.N.R. freight and transportation departments gave special care to the shipment and the beans were frozen at five degrees below zero.

CALGARIAN WINS DRUMHELLER DRAW

Winner of the Drumheller Community Centre Association $8,000 bungalow draw on September 3rd, was Miss E. Bamborough of Calgary, Alberta. Her ticket number was B-631. It was sold by Mr. Robert Vallance of Nacmine, Alberta, who thereby won $500.00

Miss Bamborough had the alternative of taking her prize in Victory Bonds and did so

Funds were being raised for the Drumheller War Memorial Fund.

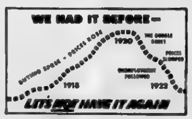
AND YOU'VE GOT INFLA[illegible]

Let's not deceive ourselves by the belief that the danger is over—just because the war is won. And let's remember that inflation is always followed by deflation with its misery of bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures and unemployment.



It's your job and your savings that are at stake.

The danger of inflation, with its black shadow—deflation,—will remain as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands. That may be 6 months, 12 months, 18 months. Only time will tell. As quickly as controls are unnecessary, they are dropped.

After nearly 6 years of war, industry cannot switch over to normal production of civilian goods by a snap of the fingers. Reconversion takes time. The whole system of raw materials, labor and production has to be re-geared.

In the meantime, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are the safeguard for every one of us. It's everybody's responsibility to help make them work.

SO—Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods. Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory Bonds and War Savings certificates.

Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing.

Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow . . . deflation.

This advertisement is issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

Alberta Swine Industry

By Geo. S. Black, Live Stock Supervisor

Alberta made the largest contribution to Canada's war time expansion in hog production of any of the provinces. Farmers of this province produced [illegible] as many hogs last year as were produced annually in the whole of Canada during the ten year period of 1925 to 1934. The gross annual revenue has increased from fourteen million dollars to that of eighty six million in 1944. Thus the Alberta swine industry has become a very essential part of Canada's bacon producing machine. This Canadian industry sent over six hundred and ninety-five million pounds of bacon products to Great Britain during the past year, and Canada hopes to keep a four to five hundred million pound slice of Great Britain's annual import for many years to come.

Let us face the facts [illegible] may also be a contributing factor in the present decline. However the hard facts of reality must be faced in the immediate planning for the future of this huge industry. Alberta can not afford to lose the revenue from such an industry either now or in the future. Steps will have to be taken across the Dominion to eliminate contributing factors which mitigate against the raising of hogs, and under no circumstances can Canada afford to lose the hard earned place she has won in the Old Country markets. The Danish competition Canada [illegible] markets of hogs.

There is [illegible] No other agricultural product can be produced so rapidly in so many countries as grain. The [illegible] carryover [illegible] is magnifying the future [illegible] Let us never forget the period just prior to the war when [illegible] across Canada and no market was in sight. A balanced agriculture for this province means both wheat and hogs.

Consider the following fact in a province producing two million good quality bacon hogs per year. There is a gross revenue returned which has amounted to two hundred and fifty million dollars during the past five years in Alberta. This is a net revenue to the farmer of from $5.00 to $10.00 per hog depending upon the size of the litter, economy of feeding, etc., which [illegible] to fourteen million [illegible] per year [illegible]

In addition, twenty bushels of barley or its equivalent fed to each hog [illegible] per [illegible] compared to [illegible] Making [illegible] at least $1.00 per [illegible] over [illegible] one year [illegible] barley [illegible] 25 bushels [illegible] elevator prices [illegible] $1.00 per acre whereas [illegible] over $20 per acre.

In addition the farm equipment [illegible] if allowed to [illegible] rapidly deteriorate [illegible] invested in [illegible] of hogs which can not be over-estimated would be lost. Truly many arguments can be placed forth to counteract the natural desire of grain farming only. Let us not forget that Canadian bacon has gained favour in Great Britain and has established itself there during war years. Can Alberta farmers afford [illegible] to take that [illegible] no guarantee of [illegible] future? [illegible]

WARN MOTORISTS OF DEADLY MONOXIDE

Deadly dangers of carbon monoxide gives cause for fresh warning to motorists at this time of the year, according to officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Recently, there have been reports of deaths in different parts of the country from these poisonous fumes. In one instance, deaths of two car occupants were reported.

Many old cars are now appearing on the highways, due to the abolition of gasoline rationing. That condition probably will prevail for some time, which calls for extra care.

Car experts advise that every care be taken to guard against carbon monoxide. When starting the car up in the garage now colder weather can be expected, make sure that at least one window is open to permit the flow of fresh air. Have the car checked over for any defects and thus check any poisonous fumes. [illegible] carbon monoxide [illegible] and reduce [illegible]

SEED GRAIN

The supply of SEED GRAIN has been discussed at the meeting of the Agricultural Service Board held in Ryley. The following statement is brought to attention of every farmer concerned:

1. Each farmer that has seed on his own farm, should save enough to sow the land he intends to sow next spring.

2. Each and every farmer that has NOT seed of his own should contact his neighbours and try to obtain the required seed.

3. If no seed is available among his neighbors, he should contact his elevator agent and try to obtain the seed.

4. If no seed is available among the neighbours or in the elevator, then each and every farmer should watch the local newspaper. During the month of October in each issue, will appear an order form. This form is to be used to state how much seed oats and seed barley each farmer will need.

On October 31, all orders will be added and summary submitted to Alberta Department of Agriculture. Field Crops Branch will try to purchase the seed. As soon as it is available all will be notified. Seed Oats will be stored in a central municipal warehouse. Barley will be shipped in carloads and will be sold on the track.

No arrangements have been made to handle seed wheat. No arrangements have been made to extend credit.

ROYAL WELCOME GIVEN TO RETURNING VETS

A cheering crowd and the Tofield band playing stirring music greeted three local soldiers as they stepped off the train last Friday evening. They were Harry Bowick, Walter Kendall and Wes Taylor. Harry and Wes have been over since early 1940 while Walter went over a little later. All three looked good and were broadly smiling. It was a nice gesture on the part of the people. All three have seen service in England and on the continent.

RECIPE FOR APPLE PIE

Moralizing in pictures—movies, that is—has its pitfalls. Sometimes it spoils good entertainment, sometimes it verges on propaganda. But sometimes just the right few words can be injected into a script which not only carry a punch but "do a job," if you know what we mean. For instance, in the current motion picture, "Over 21."

The editor of a New York paper hasn't time to write editorials while he drives himself 16 hours a day in an Officer Candidate School. So his wife secretly substitutes for him. She starts with a piece called "The World and Apple Pie." Wifey knows nothing about pie, but she can write. She says you make a world the same way you make a pie—with the right ingredients. For what comes out can never be better than the things that go into it. If the smallest ingredient is wrong—like Manchuria or Ethiopia or Munich—the pie can't come out right, if you get what we mean. You put in what you want to come out:

> Is it happiness you want? Then start by making certain of the happiness of two billion other souls on this planet. And prosperity? Then mix in prosperity for every other human being alive . . . Lasting peace? And a life of the spirit for yourself and children? . . . Is that what you want? Then add to those same things for two billion others, of every kind and creed. And finally, add this, too add the Sermon on the Mount as the rule of life. And add your voice and your means and your strength until there is mercy and justice for the humblest man on earth.

Sound philosophy and clear, and very appropriate just at this time when all of us are trying—or should be trying—to make a new world. Have we all got the recipe?—Christian Science Monitor

UNITED CHURCH SERVICES
SUNDAY, SEPT. 23

Looma Vista	11:00 a.m.
South Cooking	3:00 p.m.
Ministik	8:30 p.m.

These will be the last services of the summer field season. It is expected that Mr. Nix will be back from his trip east to take them. As usual, the last service takes the form of a harvest thanksgiving service. Folowing the evening service at Ministik there will be a congregational meeting at which plans will be made for services during the winter.

There will be a social evening at the Hall on Saturday, Sept. 22. It will be a farewell gathering for Mr. E. Nix, B.A. Please bring refreshments. Everybody welcome.

Miss Kay Barnes is visiting her parents for a few days. Nora and Kay have just come back from Banff where they enjoyed a few days holiday.

C. E. SHAW TRANSFERRED

Mr Chas. Shaw, manager of the Treasury Branch at Ryley, has been transferred to Granum where he will open a Treasury Branch about the first of October. Mr Shaw has been in Ryley for about three years and he and Mrs Shaw have been a welcome addition to the business and social life of Ryley and district and have made many friends who will be sorry to see them leave, but these things come and there is nothing to do about it but wish them well and hope they will return on visits in the future.

Mr. Shaw will leave Ryley about the 24th, but we have no knowledge of who will replace him at the Ryley branch.—Holden Herald.

MEAT OBLIGATIONS

Last spring the Canadian government undertook to export the following quantities of meat to help relieve the world's meat shortage.

	Pounds
Beef	200,000,000
Bacon	465,000,000
Canned Meat	114,000000

In the first six months the Canadian Meat Board exported the following:

	Pounds
Beef	90,000,000
Bacon	225,000,000
Canned Meat	51,000,000

It may be thus seen that the Meat Board is going to have quite a struggle in obtaining enough meat to make up Canada's commitments. It is just possible the bacon commitment will be met before the year-end but with very little to spare.—Wheat Pool Budget.

Announce Award To Heroic Flier

A former member of the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Aero club, Sqdn. Ldr. J. R. Beirnes, DFC, who was killed in an air accident in Germany in June, 1945, was awarded a Bar to the DFC Wednesday.

One of the top RCAF "trainbusters" using Typhoon aircraft, Sqdn. Ldr. Beirnes was commanding officer of the City of Montreal Wildcat squadron. Decorated before for outstanding skill in an attack on a bridge on the Orne river south of Caen, the flier was responsible for the destruction of 22 German locomotives.

Sqdn. Ldr. Beirnes was a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Beirnes of Tofield. His wife, the former Miss Gwendolyn Firth, Tofield, and son Gordon, reside at Ste. 6 Whitmore apts.

A COLUMN for SERVICE PEOPLE

Here are a few more of the questions that service people are asking about the rehabilitation program.

How do I apply for my Re-establishment Credit?

After discharge visit the District Supervisor of Re-establishment Credit at the local (or nearest) office of the Department of Veterans Affairs. He will want to see your War Service Gratuity Statement. His approval must be given for the use you intend to make of the credit. If you want, say, to purchase furniture for your home, he will be easy to convince. In this case you would then go to your merchant, pay one third of the bill and get an invoice for the other two-thirds of the cost. This invoice, together with a formal application for your credit should be sent to the District Supervisor, who will pay it. You will later get a receipt. Be sure to contact the Supervisor before you make any commitments for your credit.

What happens to my pay if I have to continue hospital treatment after discharge?

You will still get your pay. If you are discharged because of sickness or wounds resulting from your service pay of rank and dependents' allowances are continued for up to a year. If you are granted pension entitlement for your condition, this payment may be continued longer, where necessary.

Is the D.V.A. University grant paid only for special courses, or will I have a free choice of my subjects?

There is only one string attached—you must satisfy the rehabilitation officials that the courses and subjects you enroll for will actually help you make a living later on and that you are adapted for the training. If your course is a technical one there won't be much doubt about it. On the other hand, some people, those planning to teach for example, would certainly be eligible to take subjects which might not look very "practical" at first glance.

I expect to be discharged in hospital. Does this mean that I lose my thirty-day repatriation leave?

Evidently you returned to Canada physically unable to take your repatriation leave and, being discharged in hospital will never get it. However, when you leave the hospital, you will find waiting for you thirty days pay and allowances in lieu of that leave. This is in addition to your rehabilitation grant.

(If you have a problem, write to Rehabilitation Information Committee,
Wartime Information Board,
Ottawa.)

SEASONAL REDUCTION MOTOR CAR LICENSES

First reduction in motor licenses in Alberta this year will take effect Oct. 1, when there will be the usual 40 percent cut in the annual license fee, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

In the case of cars which were manufactured in 1935 or in earlier years, the reduction will be 50 percent of the annual fee.

Through the lifting of wartime restrictions on gasoline, it is expected that there will be a spurt in applications for new licenses this fall. Many owners who have had their cars out of operation for the duration intend to have them in service from now on providing weather conditions are satisfactory.

On Jan. 1, the reduction in the annual license fee will be 75 percent, which is the usual decrease at that time for those who wish to operate their cars for the last three months of the license period, from Jan. 1 to March 31.

SNATCHED FROM DEATH

Winnipeg, Sept. 18.—Quick action on the part of the crew of a Canadian National Railways train saved the life of an eighteen months old child who was snatched from the rails a split second before the locomotive passed. The infant son of a worker at [illegible], about 75 miles east of Winnipeg strayed from home and was crawling over the tracks when noticed by the engineer.

The train was travelling about 15 miles per hour and as he set the emergency brake, the engineer called to the fireman and brakeman. Brakeman A. E. Rice jumped from the cab, ran ahead of the train to grasp the child, and both rolled clear of the track just as the engine passed that point. Meanwhile the fireman had made his way along the running board to the front of the locomotive.

The mother, who was chasing the child at the time the train approached, witnessed the dramatic rescue.

KILLING WILD OATS

Shallow cultivation directly behind the binder or combine is not a sound method for the control of wild oats although it is satisfactory for encouraging the germination of most annual and perennial weeds. H. J. Mather, provincial supervisor of weed control, points out that wild oats seed contains a high percentage of moisture when it falls from the parent plant. Before the seeds will germinate a drying out process is necessary. He suggests leaving the wild oats on the surface untouched until after freeze-up, then giving the field shallow cultivation and a luxuriant growth of wild oats will likely develop next spring. These can be destroyed by cultivation before seeding the crop.—Wheat Pool Budget

The federal government will develop and beautify Ottawa and Hull as Canada's national memorial to those who sacrificed their lives in World War II. Premier King received permission from General de Gaulle during his recent visit for the release of Jacques Greber, noted Paris architect, who will undertake the work.

Joint Meeting

(By H. E. Nichols, Secretary, Alberta Farmers' Union)

The Executives of the United Farmers of Alberta and the Alberta Farmers Union held a joint meeting at the office of the Alberta Farmers Union in Edmonton, and matters of serious concern to farmers were discussed.

The feed and livestock situation was thoroughly canvassed and the situation is regarded as serious.

There is every wish to co-operate in the endeavours to provide sufficient meat to the people of Great Britain and those of other lands who are in desperate need, but meat rationing should not be allowed to work to the detriment of the producer, either in the marketing of his livestock or the price he receives for it. We advocate a temporary removal of the embargo against cattle and sheep going to the United States. This would provide an outlet for any extra ton and also prevent the market becoming unduly depressed in price and enable the producers to obtain fair market value. In view of the fact that a large number of farmers will not have sufficient feed to finish their cattle, we regard this action as necessary immediately.

The Meat Board should be ready to immediately step in and buy surplus stock whenever an over supply tends to lower the market below the floor price.

The measures already adopted to conserve feed supplies are not regarded as adequate. A lot of farmers will not be in the position to buy their feed requirements before Sept. 15th which is the date set for the expiration of the freezing order.

It will be necessary to make a provision to retain all feed grain supplies within the Province until a survey reveals the amounts which will be required and arrangements made to ship these supplies to those districts where they are needed. Resolutions dealing with these matters have been sent to the Alberta Federation of Agriculture for presentation in the proper quarters.

P.S.V. LICENSES

It was agreed to press the Government to enforce Section 19 of the Highway Traffic Act which calls for a public hearing prior to the granting of new P.S.V. Licenses.

The Government is being asked that the Grain Exchange be closed to all trading in grains and remain closed and that the Canada Wheat Board be converted to a Canada Grain Board to handle all grains.

The disposal of war equipment was discussed and recommendations made that no valuable material should be destroyed.

A press report to the effect that the Government was not going ahead with such projects as the irrigation works for Alberta until they were needed as an outlet for labor but were going ahead with beautifying the Ottawa River and the Gatineau district as a war memorial, brought strong protest from the two executives and the Government is to be urged to reverse its decision in this matter.

Rural Electrification, another matter of vital concern to the rural population, was considered and a committee has been appointed to prepare a brief for presentation to the Provincial Government.

In Ontario, the Provincial Hydro-Electric system has been an outstanding success in bringing power to the farms. We can do much the same in Alberta if we go about it in the right way.

FOOD SHORTAGE AHEAD?

The people of Canada have been fortunate in that food production was at the highest level in history during the war years. The Ontario Federation of Agriculture issued a statement a short time ago pointing out that this condition was liable to end, and predicting that even with all the possible help in the production program in the next nine months Canadian people will feel the food shortage as they have not done before.—Wheat Pool Budget.

LOST TICKET SYSTEM

The passenger traffic department of the Canadian National Railways has adopted a new system to assist the travelling public in the recovery of train tickets lost in the Central Station, Montreal, or on trains destined for that city.

When a lost ticket is turned in to the passenger department, full particulars concerning the ticket and name and address of the finder, are recorded on a special form in triplicate. The ticket and original form are sent to the ticket office and copies of the form to the general passenger agent's office and the terminal passenger agent.

All station officials know which tickets have been found and are able to answer inquiries promptly.

POST WAR FINANCE—

A RATHER UNUSUAL meeting was held at Holden on Monday night. Unlike most meetings of its kind it was not held in support of this movement or that cause, but conversely, the deliberations centred around ways and means of helping people to help themselves. The meeting was the result of an idea which came to W. A. Moisey, District Agriculturist, and no doubt the idea arose out of his experiences while contacting farmers and others. There were present at the meeting, Mr. Craig, Alberta Educational Supervisor for War Finance; Mr. English of the Department of Agriculture; Mr. Thunnel, publisher Viking News; W. A. Moisey, District Agriculturist; Mrs. Foran, publisher Holden Herald; and W. Worton, publisher Tofield Mercury.

Mr. Moisey in his opening remarks, by means of graphs showed the trend of farm prices and economic conditions during the years of World War I and those immediately following. He said that many of the causes which led to disaster for so many farmers then, were now, and had been brewing for some time. With more money than usual to spend, prices of land had risen and land of poor quality was changing ownership. Extremely high prices were being paid at auction sales for machinery and often a farmer would buy more machinery than he actually needed. He realized some degree of progress was advisable, even inevitable, but felt that an economic balance was necessary if the future of the farmer was to be safeguarded. His idea in asking the editors to meet was to talk over the problem with the thought in mind that through the press people might be persuaded to look to the future as much as to the immediate present. The meeting was quite informal and of the round table kind, each person spoke as thoughts came to them. The editors were of the opinion that too much importance was being attributed to them, the city men thought differently, but all agreed that there was a useful service to perform, even if the results were not as completely successful as desired. The above is something of an introduction to what follows.

Never before has just the same economic situation developed in Western Canada, certainly not to the same degree. Here we have thousands and thousands of farmers with, figuratively speaking, money in their pockets and a restricted market in which to spend it. We all know this because during eight Victory Loan campaigns in Alberta $319,019,600.00 have been invested in bond savings, and while of course all of it does not represent farmer purchases, much of it does. In the Tofield district the sales of Victory Bonds in the eight drives totalled $805,950.00, with the greater proportion of this farmer purchases. This brings in $24,178.50 per year in interest. This knowledge, and a great deal more besides, is in the hands of a large number of people who would very much like to get their hands on a goodly portion of these Victory Bond Savings. Already oil and other mining promotion companies have sent out circulars offering doubtful stock. In a short time equally aggressive even if more scrupulous companies will be advertising almost everything that can be manufactured. There will be a splurge of buying, or will there? This was one of the things that was discussed Monday night. It was mentioned that the people who spend money most freely are those who have but little to spend. A person who would easily let go of a ten dollar bill is most likely to sit tight on a thousand dollar bond. Time alone will prove this.

Monday night's conference was not a war finance meeting, this was emphasized over and over again. Yet it was remarkable how time and again conversation drifted into war finance, it being recognized that for simplicity, safety, security for a loan, ease of sale or even pride of possession, there was nothing known that was any better. Being a bond purchaser and a bond holder even has the advantage of being fashionable as it is a fairly safe guess that the neighbor on the next quarter section has a neat pile. It would be presumptuous to assume that the conference on Monday accomplished much. All it could possibly accomplish for those present was a greater mental activity along post war economic lines. But if it did that it did something, and that is the very thing that we would like this writing to do to the reader. We do not wish to assume the attitude of advisor, the Lord knows we need plenty of it ourselves. If you have bonds they are yours to do with as you please. If you have money, its yours to spend as you wish. But in this transition period from war to peace, economically speaking, almost anything can happen, but regardless of what does happen, the farmer with a nice little reserve in Victory Bonds is going to be in a much better position than one who hasn't!

After the conference we all went to Mrs. Foran's residence and had coffee and sandwiches.

[illegible]

A girl entered the manager's office to apply for a job, and when asked if she had any particular qualifications or unusual talents, stated that she won several prizes in crossword puzzle and slogan contests.

That sounds good," the manager told her, "but we want somebody who will be smart during office hours."

"Oh," she explained brightly, "this was during office hours." —Montreal Daily Star.

MEMORIES

His early home was near the river side,—
Those frequent streams that cross'd the country way
And merg'd at length with floods of ocean tide—
The racing currents of the narrow bay.

And varied aspects touch'd the scenic view,
Of farm and grove and bridge and intervale,
Till distant waters on the vision grew,
With dreamy isles and cliffs and spreading sail.

And twice each day the restless tide came in
From ocean's mighty fountains far behind,
Sometimes the surf and foam and roaring din,
Sometimes the moving dream and voiceless wind.

And one could follow westward with the eye,
The parting shores—succeeding bluff and cove,
Til lines were lost and came beneath the sky—
A mountain blue with sloping farm and grove.

And isles were there like anchor'd ships at rest
Where round each holding base the waters swirl'd,
The sea-worn reef where noisy seagulls nest,
The leaning craft with tugging sails unfurl'd.

The fisher's skiff, toss'd lightly in the foam,
While burden'd nets revealed the shining scale,
And some spread canvas for the shore and home,
With light of hope and prospect in the sail.

—S. C. Vance, Kingman.

Be boss of your farm

FOR many a farmer the farm is boss . . . it runs him, instead of him running it.

Too many farmers underestimate the worth of their time; too few know what they are being paid for their work.

Maybe we can help you here, for our manager will gladly supply you with a simple farm account book which will show you exactly what your farm is paying you from year to year—whether you are going forward or backward. Call or write for your copy. It is yours for the asking.

Your B of M manager is ready to help you if you need money for the improvement of your farm, barn repairs, fixing fencing or drainage, road building, buying new breeding stock, implements or equipment. If you want to speed up ploughing, cultivating, seeding and harvesting, he is the man to see. You will find him friendly, a good listener, and very much interested in your plans and problems. Give him your full confidence. It will pay you.

All consumers who store rationed meat in lockers must declare in writing to the nearest Ration Branch Office the quantity of rationed meat they had in storage on September 10, 1945.

Rationed meats include all cooked, canned, fancy and "red" meats. For a full list of rationed meats, see the Consumer Meat Coupon Value Chart. Copies are available at all Ration Branch Offices.

COUPONS MUST BE SURRENDERED FOR STORED MEAT

Consumers must surrender coupons for all meat held in lockers over and above 4 lbs. for each person in the household at a rate of 2 lbs. per coupon. However, no more than one-half of the "M" coupons in the ration books of the consumer and his household need be surrendered.

"R.D." AT ST. ANDREWS

"... And now I have just time to gather up my family and go along to church, and I hope you will all be doing the same. Good morning" In thousands of homes throughout the prairie provinces, this familiar Sunday morning message has been heard week after week for nearly five years, as R. D. Colquette, CBC's genial Neighbourly News Editor concludes his broadcast of news culled from the weekly newspapers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The other day, "R.D." visited Western Canada's oldest church, known affectionately to Winnipeg people as "old St. Andrews", on the bank of the Red River, twenty miles below the city. Here the faithful still gather for Sunday services, as they have done on the same site since Selkirk Settlement Days. The Sexton, Mr. James Morwick, is the grandson of a Red River settler who worked on the building of old St. Andrews in 1844. The original log church on this site was built in 1832. St Andrews was consecrated in 1849 by the first bishop of Rupert's Land, Rt. Rev David Anderson It became the mother church of many thriving congregations along the Red and Assiniboine Rivers. The centenary of the church, and of Bishop Mountain's visit to it in 1844, was marked by a visit from the Primate of All Canada, Most Reverend Derwyn T. Owen, on June 25, 1944.

POTATO PRODUCTION

Production of potatoes in Canada is estimated at 42,000,000 hundredweight as compared with 49,409,000 hundredweight last year Average yields per acre in Ontario, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan are slightly higher than those of last season, but yields in the Maritime provinces and Alberta are considerably below the 1944 level. —Wheat Pool Budget.

SEED TO RUSSIA

Hudson Bay Junction, Sept. 17—An important industry involving the production of alfalfa seed is developing at Hudson Bay Junction, according to A. G. Sinclair, district supervisor, department of Colonization and Agriculture, Canadian National Railways.

Mr. Sinclair recently visited the area and states that three carloads of alfalfa seed were shipped direct from Hudson Bay Junction to Moscow, returning the local growers $66,000.

H. E. ROGERS

YOU CAN'T GAMBLE WITH DEFLATION
INFLATION
THE DICE ARE LOADED AGAINST YOU

Canadians are lucky. So far we've prevented inflation and avoided deflation.

It's not been just good luck.

Your support—everybody's support—of price ceilings, rationing and other controls alone has made it possible.

BUT NOW COMES THE REAL TESTING TIME.

The danger of inflation and its black shadow, deflation, will last as long as goods are scarce and insufficient to meet demands.

With the war over and plenty of money in our pockets it's easy to overlook the danger.

It's easy to think that paying just a little more to get something we want is unimportant now.

It's easy to think that what you do can't hurt—and to forget that careless, extravagant buying is a sure way to help a general rise in prices.

That's how inflation gets going.

BUT INFLATION IS ALWAYS FOLLOWED BY DEFLATION.

And deflation brings cancelled orders, bankrupt businesses, mortgage foreclosures, unemployment and distress—distress you can't avoid.

Until industry gets back to normal, price ceilings, rationing and other controls are our safeguard.

SO— Keep on watching your buying. Don't rush to buy scarce goods.
Keep on saving your money. Put it into Victory bonds and War Savings certificates.
Keep on supporting wage and price controls, and rationing.
Keep on fighting inflation and its black shadow... deflation.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and deflation and unemployment later.

Thanksgiving services will be held next Sunday, Sept. 30, at the usual time. Ladies are requested to come early and bring grain, vegetables and flowers to decorate the school house. Maybe many of us feel we haven't much to be thankful for, but I think if we count our blessings we will find that we have. So let's show our appreciation by being present at this service.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held next Wednesday, October 3, at the home of Mrs. Lorne Lee. Please bring any donation you have for the National Clothing Collection. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. J. McCrea of Vegreville and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Watts and two children of Edmonton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sears Sunday of last week.

Mr. A. F Schultz left Tuesday morning for a holiday at the coast. He expects to go as far as Victoria.

Miss Joyce Williams of Edmonton is recuperating at the home of her parents after a recent operation for appendicitis.

Mrs. J. Morton, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Annie Lee visited Mrs. Henderson and Mrs. W. A. Mitchell at their home Friday afternoon of last week.

We are glad to welcome Gordon Williams home from overseas where he spent some five years in the army.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McCall and children and Miss Gladys Coombes were guests of Mr and Mrs. C. Coombes.

Mr. Albert Sears returned home from Calgary where he got his discharge papers from the RCAF.

Mrs. Kletnschroth returned home one day last week from Edmonton where she had been a patient in a hospital.

Mr Young of Edmonton has been making his annual trips buying the surplus poultry.

Mrs Les Ovelson and daughters are visiting at the home of Mrs. Ovelson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ingram.

Two of our energetic young men, Clifford Appleby and Stanley Sears, bagged three geese and four ducks before breakfast the other morning. Whee! such sportsmen.

Mr Chester Chinneck of Edmonton was looking after business and visiting old time friends in our district last week.

Mr. and Mrs. McCowan are building themselves a new house. We haven't seen it or heard the size, but believe it is two storey and a full size basement with all the modern conveniences. Real swanky, we wish them many years to enjoy it.

McKENZIE

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steen and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Haight have moved to Edmonton to stay for a while.

Miss Pauline Walser is in training for a nurse at the Misericordia hospital.

Leonie McIntyre and Lawrence Swift spent part of their summer holidays with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Booth.

We are having poor threshing weather, some did not get started before the rainy spell. Kudski and others have started up again, but the grain is not dry. We hope the weather will clear and stay dry so everybody can get at it and get done.

Gardens in general are poor this year and potatoes are not going to be plentiful.

Elmer Geogiein was threshing Tuesday—seems as if they had less rain up that way.

Vivian Myers spent the week end with Mavis Jacobson and Lina Anderson in Edmonton. They were supper guests of Marjory Jones and Irlene Nesmith Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jacobson, Mrs. Moos and Marilyn, and Margaret Myers were city visitors Friday and Saturday.

Mr. Jacobson was laid up with a stiff neck for a couple of days, but is better again.

Rae Anderson returned from overseas the 25th of August. Lina spent the Labor day week end with Rae and her father at the farm at St. Ann. Mr. Anderson purchased a farm there recently and Lina works at the Walk Rite store in Edmonton doing sewing.

Mr and Mrs Charley Othen spent the week end at Engleham's.

Matt Engleham is staying on the farm to help with threshing.

Lyla Bailey is in Edmonton attending normal.

McKenzie school has had quite a time getting the new furnace in, and it has been so cold they have not been able to have school every day.

Miss Childs is teaching the Junior room and is boarding with Mrs. Lottie Moos.

Verlyn Moos has been on the sick list with a bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatten spent several days in the city last week.

Mrs. Engleham spent Friday and Saturday in the city a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth spent the week end in Edmonton with McIntyre's. Lawrence Swift went home to Leslieville. He stayed on a couple of weeks hoping to help with threshing but had to go back for school.

NOTICE

Anyone found trespassing or shooting on the property of Mr. L. Glans and Mr. A. Peters, will be prosecuted. Penalty $50 fine.

That Hall

A special meeting of the Tofield Community League was held in the Town Hall on Sept. 20 with some twenty-five members present. The purpose of the meeting was to decide just what can be done this fall toward the erection of that Memorial Hall, now so badly needed in Tofield.

The president opened the meeting with a summary of the league's activities during the past few months, the main concern of the executive during this time has been to secure a Cowan steel hut. The secretary then reported the most recent negotiations, as a result of which it was decided to begin work on the foundation at once. A committee was appointed to start this work as soon as materials and equipment are available.

From the secretary's report, too, it was apparent that more money will have to be raised if there is to be no delay in getting the hall completed. Ways and means of raising the necessary sum of $2500.00 were discussed. Some members favored canvassing the community for donations while others preferred to borrow the money from individuals at 6 per cent interest. The final decision was to borrow the money in amounts of $50.00 or more from individuals in this community, or if a person feels he cannot lend this amount, he may be able to make a donation of a smaller amount.

Now this is where we all come into the picture. Do you feel that a community hall is needed in Tofield as a place of recreation for the boys and girls, the young men and young women, many of whom are now returning from overseas? Do you feel that this would be a fitting memorial to those who will not return? If you do, the best way to express that feeling is through a loan or donation which will help make that hall a reality. Simply place your loan or donation with one of the following committee: Graham Allan, Jack Whyte, Walter Bellamy, Allan Bigland, Jim Secord, or with the president, Herb Chandler, or secretary, Geo. McFadzean.

Remember these loans of $50 or more pay 6 per cent interest, so let's put this community loan over the top. Watch the sign board on main street for progress of the loan and let's not ease up until we've "raised the roof" on that Memorial Hall.

TOFIELD YOUNG PEOPLE'S SOCIETY ORGANIZE

Special services for the young people were held in the Tofield United Church Charge on Sunday with a good attendance. The young people, under the leadership of Rev. Ricker, gathered Tuesday evening in the Sunday school room of the church for a social and organization meeting. A scavenger hunt started the evening's proceedings. The business meeting followed with the election of officers. Elected were: Arnold Swift, Pres.; Bernard Chandler, Vice-Pres.; Joyce Innes, Sec-Treas.; Edna Shaw, Press Correspondent; Organists, Betty Stinson and Doris McGinitie.

Meetings will be held every second Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The next meeting will be October 10. The evening was brought to a close with a most delicious lunch and the singing of "Taps".

ALBERTA CROP REPORT

An average of grain crops cut throughout the province shows wheat, 86 per cent; oats, 78 per cent; and barley, 83 per cent. In the south and central districts threshing is well advanced but in the north reports give only from 2 per cent to 20 per cent as far completed. Average yields of grain crops in Alberta are estimated at wheat, 12.5; oats, 24.0; and barley, 18.1 bushels per acre. The decline in production for the current year is due to drought, hail, sawfly loss and in some sections early frosts.

Feed shortage has resulted in the heaviest cattle marketings on record. Milk production in the north compares favourably with last year but serious decreases are occurring in the central and southern parts of the province. Production is expected to improve with harvesting completed when stubble fields will be available to dairy herds.

Canada's 1945 wheat crop is placed at 321,409,000 bushels. This is 114,000,000 bushels less than in 1944.

4,500 MINERS STAGING STRIKE

Southern Alberta again Thursday was the scene of a coal miners' strike —the second in less than two years —as about 4,500 men left their jobs in protest against meat rationing.

Declaring the 1½ pounds of meat weekly, allowed by the coupon and token rationing system, was inadequate for hard-working coal-diggers, they carried out previously announced plans to strike if the dominion government did not allow them an increase.

The miners demand a double ration of fresh meat and lifting of restrictions on such sandwich meats as bologna, and ham. The government's policy insofar as the miners were concerned is "unrealistic and stupid," they declare.

Members of the United Mine Workers of America (C.C.L.) held meetings Wednesday night and after a 9:00 o'clock deadline passed and no word was received from federal authorities, took strike action.

Their decision affected about 2000 miners from 18 coal mines in the Drumheller valley; about 2000 in the Crowsnest Pass bituminous field and 500 in the Lethbridge domestic field.

The men's views were voiced by Enoch Williams, U.M.W.A. secretary at Blairmore, who declared the ration for miners was "ridiculously low and wholly inadequate."

President Tom Mackie, of the Drumheller miners' union, announced a meeting was being called in Drumheller Thursday afternoon when it was expected resolutions would be passed. Similar meetings will be held at Rosedale and East Coulee. Mr Mackie said no satisfactory replies had been received to telegrams sent a week ago to the federal government when strike action was threatened

Mackie added that the miners felt meat rationing was necessary but that it is being administered in a "stupid" manner. He made it clear that the miners are acting on their own and are dissociated from the action of the butchers. The miners' strike is to be indefinite, he said.

Mines at Michel and Fernie, B.C., were working Thursday. The B.C. locals are affiliated with district 18, U.M.W.A. with headquarters in Calgary.

Clothing Collection in Town Saturday

On behalf of the National Clothing Collection campaign, a collection will be made in Tofield town on Saturday, September 29th. At 1:30 the Girl Guides will commence and canvas of the town reminding people of the collection and a little later the Boy Scouts will call around to pick up the articles to be given. The official opening of the campaign is October 1st, but local conditions made it more convenient for the town canvas to be held Saturday.

Most everyone knows of the campaign, realizes the sorry plight of thousands of Europeans, and will endeavor to give something to lessen their distress.

DUTCH PEOPLE NEED MILLIONS OF SHOES

No one, even in the average or higher income brackets has two pairs of shoes, according to the Ministry of Trade and Commerce in the land of wooden shoes, Holland. There is such a shortage that 83 per cent of the people earning an average income do not own one wearable pair of shoes. In the higher income brackets 30 per cent do not own a decent pair.

Lack of clothing is superseding food as the most acute Dutch problem. Shipments of food are now arriving regularly but to clothe people it is estimated that more than ninety-four thousand tons of cotton and wool, over five million yards of broadcloth and several million pairs of shoes will be required.

The National Clothing Collection in October is giving Canadians an opportunity to help the Dutch in their predicament.

WORLD OF WHEAT

FARMERS URGED TO WRITE TO OTTAWA

This "World of Wheat" column in the last two issues has drawn attention to the greatly increased income that has come to prairie farmers from the new varieties of wheat, oats, barley and flax that have been created and produced by the Dominion Experimental Farms, the Rust Research Laboratory and our Prairie Universities.

I am obliged myself to come to the most definite conclusion, however, that this work of providing additional valuable and money making varieties for our prairie farmers could be stepped up if larger grants were to be allocated by Parliament to the Dominion Experimental Farms and to the Rust Research Laboratory. Parliament is now in session, and I suggest that if any farmers, or any other persons reading this column, agree with this view, that they could do a great deal of good for themselves and their fellow farmers if they would simply write a letter to their Dominion Member of Parliament or to the Hon. Mr. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, Ottawa, requesting that increased grants be made available this year to the Dominion Experimental Farms and to the Rust Research Laboratory. I am convinced myself that this is about the only way that such necessary grants can be obtained. I am sure they can be obtained if as many farmers as possible will write such letters at once to Ottawa.

GOVERNMENT WHEAT POLICY

The government's wheat policy was announced in the House of Commons on September 14th. The main features were the guaranteeing to Canadian wheat producers of a price not less than $1 a bushel, basis 1 Northern in store Fort William, Port Arthur or Vancouver up until July 31, 1950, the maintenance of an export price of $1.55 a bushel, basis 1 Northern at the head of the lakes and the continuation of the initial wheat board price of $1.25 a bushel, basis 1 Northern at the terminal.

In announcing the policy, Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, stated that the Canadian wheat price might rise higher than the $1.55 now in effect because of the demand in the war devastated countries but in the long run it was the opinion of the government that a much higher price would be to Canada's detriment. Higher wheat prices would encourage the wheat importing countries in a hurried return to wheat production. They would probably also return to nationalistic policies of growing their own wheat, Mr. MacKinnon said. He said further that it is in the interest of Canada and Canadian wheat growers that importing countries should continue to obtain Canadian wheat at prices not in excess of those prevailing at the end of hostilities. It is for that reason that the government passed an order-in-council instructing the Canadian Wheat Board to fix the export price at $1.55.

P. E. Wright, member for Melfort constituency, asked if the wheat board would remain in operation until 1950. Mr. MacKinnon said in reply that the government believed the board would remain in operation indefinitely. —Wheat Pool Budget.

Why Attlee is Leader: Laborite Analyses Man

By the RT. HON. J. R. CLYNES in the Christian Science Monitor

London, Sept. 19—I can recall the first time, about 20 years ago, when I heard the name of Mr. Clement R. Attlee mentioned in the House of Commons for some work in the public service.

Mr. Ramsay MacDonald, first Labor Prime Minister, then at the head of a government without a majority, had in thought some small but difficult job and said to me, "I have heard good accounts of a fellow named Attlee; do you think he would do it?"

I said I was sure he would.

He [illegible]

Thereafter he held a number of minor posts. He did everything well and in 1931 became Postmaster General.

The Prime Minister without a majority could not then have imagined that this humble colleague would now be the Prime Minister Attlee, with a great majority of enthusiastic supporters empowered to carry out the public will.

Mr Attlee touched everything with a hand of unqualified efficiency. Little has come to him by way of gifts. What he has, he has won.

His growth in authority and position has left unchanged his uniformly modest manner toward his colleagues, and nothing which he does or says makes them feel that they are subordinate to him.

His father was President of the Incorporated Law Society. The son found his way to University College, Oxford. He studied law, was called to the bar, and practiced for some years.

Mr Attlee always felt that the poorer folk were most in need of aid, and as they lived in large numbers in the East End of London, he went to live there himself.

There he became Secretary of Toynbee Hall, an institution rich in its offerings of fine educational opportunities, if poor in the possession of worldly goods.

He became lecturer of Ruskin College, Oxford, and at the London School of Economics. He was a ceaseless worker. From his days at University College, he gathered educational advantages not common among the forefront figures in the service of Labor. These college benefits, however, were the beginning and not the end of his education, and if he did not know to start with, he soon learned at Toynbee that the greatest of all teachers is experience.

His unquestioned sincerity was disclosed when in early life he turned from Conservatism, which offered good prospects of advancement, to socialism, with its drudgery for social reform, coupled with the certainty of hard work and slight reward.

As it turned out, however, he was soon either at the top or near it in any group in which he worked, and he quickly assumed positions of leadership in municipal and local activities.

He became Mayor of Stepney 25 years ago, and when in London, Labor mayors grew to a large number and formed an association, he was elected chairman of that. His contacts multiplied and he had a hand in many good causes.

In World War 1, he was in France, Gallipoli, and elsewhere and reached the rank of major.

Mr. Attlee's most valuable asset for the advancement of his side is his judgment. He has shown rare penetration, and it is seldom that any decision has to be revised after he has reached it. Mr Winston Churchill is sparing in his praise of men, but after Mr Attlee had acted with him for long in the War Cabinet during the trying years of the Coalition Government, Mr. Churchill quite often commended the high qualities of his colleague both for his service in the House of Commons and his value to the nation as a counselor of state.

The place of Mr. Attlee as public speaker has long been established in the House of Commons. His oratory must be assessed on the basis of what he says and not on how he says it. There are men who can, with much satisfaction to the listeners, utter "an infinite deal of nothing" and, with the aid of some tricks of emphasis and manner, leave the impression of having spoken well. He is not of that class. He says little with his hands and never bangs the table. The English language is his medium, and logic the core of every considered utterance. He reasons with his hearers by weight of argument.

The Road Ahead

A COLUMN FOR SERVICE PEOPLE

Next week, this column will try to give a picture of "who to [illegible]" [illegible] the various rehabilitation benefits. In the meantime, here are some more answers to questions service-people and ex-service-people are asking about "rehab".

Am I exempt from Income Taxes for six months after my return from overseas?

The service pay and allowances you receive during your first six months after repatriation are tax-exempt. If your discharge comes before that six months are up, your civilian pay immediately becomes a subject to Federal income tax at normal rates. The rehabilitation grant, clothing allowance, war service gratuity, re-establishment credit, and rehabilitation training benefits paid to all ex-service personnel are exempt from taxation.

What trades or occupations, aside from office work, can a veteran of the Women's Services enter?

There are quite a number—photographer, X-ray technician, dental receptionist, florist clerk, dressmaker, hairdresser, are only a few of the trades for which women veterans are particularly well adapted and for which she may train under the "rehab" program. There is also an urgent need for nurses in Canada today. Women are eligible, equally with men, for all the vocational benefits provided for veterans. You might discuss this with your in-service counsellor or with counsellors the nearest "rehab" centre of the Department of Veterans Affairs.

How do I qualify for full-time farming benefits under the Veterans' Land Act?

A man who has been honourably discharged from the Canadian Armed Forces is eligible if he has served in a theatre of actual war, or if he has had at least 12 months service in Canada or if he was awarded a war disability pension. Just as important, he must satisfy the Veterans' Land Act officials that he has had real experience in farming. With these qualifications, a man may receive financial assistance of up to $6,000 of which no more than $1,200 may be used for farming equipment, livestock, and the like. The veteran makes a down payment of 10 per cent of the cost of Land and Buildings. In addition he contracts to repay two-thirds of the cost of Land and Buildings over a period of not more than 25 years with interest at three and a half per cent. The remainder of the cost of land and buildings plus any amount authorized for stock and equipment becomes a free grant to the veteran if he fulfils the terms of his contract for ten years. You will be interested to know that there is a Regional Supervisor, Veterans' Land Act, in about 40 cities across Canada. He is the man you will finally have to deal with.

HOW CROP ROTATIONS PAY

(Experimental Farms News)

There is a common belief that the rotating of crops is not profitable on the Canadian Prairies although considered essential in Eastern Canada and Europe. Investigations at the Brandon Experimental Farm and on Dominion Substations in Manitoba has definitely proved that the alternating of mixtures of grasses and legumes with grain crops and periodic summerfallows is more profitable than alternating grain and summerfallow, says M. J. Tinline, Superintendent at the Brandon Farm.

In the first place weeds can be controlled with much less cultivation where the land is in sod for two years out of six or eight than where only grain is grown. The growing of the two crops reduces labor in seeding, and lengthens the harvest season because the hay can be removed in July and the grain in August and September; also the period for preparing the land for crop is extended. Sod land can be broken in early June, thus reverting to the practice so profitable to the pioneer settlers. Cultivation of the sod land can often be done when wet weather makes the working of ordinary fine textured summerfallow difficult.

Farm planning is greatly simplified once a good rotation is established. However, changing from grain growing to systematic cropping creates a number of problems that have to be solved. The staff at the Brandon Experimental Farm will be prepared during the coming winter to plan rotations for farmers who furnish the necessary details regarding their farms.

In all ranks of the Canadian Army, university and college students are now eligible for immediate discharge to return to their scholastic studies provided the university has accepted their application.

WINTER CARE OF CATTLE

(Experimental Farms News)

While feed supplies will generally be abundant throughout North Eastern Saskatchewan this fall crops are very poor over a large percentage of the provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta. Accordingly it will be necessary to make a special effort to conserve feed this fall and winter so that supplies will be available to areas less fortunate, says M. J. McPhail, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Melfort, Sask.

Careful tests have shown that it costs four times as much to put a pound of gain on cattle when in the barn as it does when they are on pasture. This fact is particularly important in this area where the winter feeding period is so long. Accordingly it is sound business to see that cattle have ample pasture as long as the grazing period lasts. In many cases there will be good grazing on the stubble field after threshing has been completed. Care should be exercised to see that the cattle are not left to rustle unduly late in the fall. If they are the animals will quickly lose the reserve flesh and stamina they have built up before the weather becomes really severe. When this happens, the herd will require particularly good care and expensive feeds if losses are to be avoided before spring arrives.

Most, if not all, the cattle in Western Canada have lice and as winter progresses, the lice multiply rapidly and become a source of great irritation to the animals. Biting lice chew off the hair with the result that very often by Christmas bare patches begin to appear on the animals. Lice can be kept fairly well under control by sprinkling a good louse powder along the back, around the neck and from the tail head down over the rear of the udder once a week. There are various effective powders on the market, but one containing Derris has the advantage of being effective against both sucking and biting lice.

Other suggestions are as follows: See that the cattle have access to iodized salt daily and remember that iodine evaporates from the salt and therefore do not prepare too much salt at a time. Use a tank heater to take the chill off the water. See that the cattle are outside for a time every day. Feed plenty of bran to cows in calf prior to calving.

DEADLY INSECTICIDE

A pyrethrum plant has been developed with insecticide properties as successful as the widely advertised DDT and which acts with sixty times greater speed. Pyrethrum is a daisy-like plant which yields an extract that is a powerful insecticide, harmless to men and warm-blooded animals. Prior to the war Japan produced 90 per cent of the world's pyrethrum while the United States provided half the world's market, importing twenty million pounds from Japan in 1937. When the Japanese supplies were shut off, Dr. Brooks Drain, head of the department of horticulture, University of Tennessee Agriculture experiment station, produced a pyrethrum plant with an insecticide power twice that of the Japanese plant. He also increased its yield from 300 to 500 pounds per acre. To obtain supplies for North America, plantings were made in Kenya Colony, East Africa, in Tennessee and in Haiti. Best prospects for future production are in Haiti which has a nine month blooming period.

DDT spray makes people cough and their eyes water. Pyrethrum has no bad effects—does not stain clothing and it has no odor. DDT [illegible] ten minutes to kill insects. Pyrethrum does it in ten [illegible]

SPEED UP SURFACING CALGARY-EDMONTON ROAD

Hard surfacing on the Calgary-Edmonton highway will be completed this season so far as the major sections are concerned, according to information which the Alberta Motor Association has received from the public works department.

The "seal coat" or final stage of surfacing will be applied before the season ends to the highway between Edmonton and Millet. As the section between Wetaskiwin and Ponoka has been surfaced already, this means that the hard surface coating now will extend from Edmonton to Ponoka.

The section from Calgary north to Crossfield was completed earlier in the year.

In the Peace River district, work is about finished on the 54 mile road between McLennan and Peace River town, which is being reconstructed and graveled.

Some road projects also are under way in other parts of the province and it is believed that the major ones will be completed during the present construction season.

SEEDTIME and HARVEST

By [illegible]

Director
Line Elevators Farm Service
Winnipeg, Manitoba

Seed Testing Service

In accordance with a promise made nearly two years ago, Line Elevators Farm Service now offers a complete seed testing service to growers of wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax. Examination and testing of samples will include consideration of five important factors.

1. Germination. Tests will be made as heretofore.
2. Weed Seeds. The presence of noxious weed seeds will be reported on request.
3. Smuts. All wheat samples will be tested for bunt (stinking smut) and tests will be made on oats or barley if requested. Reports will include recommendations as to seed treatment.
4. Other Diseases. As samples are removed from the germinator, they will be examined for the presence of other diseases.
5. Mechanical Damage to the seed will be determined since it has an important bearing on the method of seed treatment.

Farmers should instruct elevator agents as to which tests are required. Wheat samples will be grown and examined for varietal purity next summer if the farmer so desires.

This is the only single laboratory in Canada equipped to perform such a service. The equipment is first-class and the staff well trained. No effort has been spared to insure that methods of testing shall be similar in all essentials to those developed in Dominion Government laboratories.

Samples must be at least 4 ounces and not more than 6 ounces. Line Elevator agents will provide envelopes and send the samples in to Line Elevators Farm Service, Winnipeg.

". . . AND THE GREATEST OF THESE IS CHARITY"—

THERE IS AN ironic touch to the fact that individuals who have spent years on these prairies and who having built up homes and farms from the sod shack era to the present time, and who in due course saw their boys and girls go away to fight an enemy bent on destroying, or at the very least, subjugating them, should now be asked to render the enemy help. It seems strange that even Britons who endured all the punishment the enemy could inflict on them should now be speaking of building up continental Europe. There is tragedy somewhere in the knowledge that a nation which could allow a Belsen death factory should now be naively expecting help and succor from the very people whom they set out to conquer. But the war is over, the battle has been won by allied arms and we hope with its winning a new era of international relationships have been ushered in. Whatever we believe and whatever we know of our former enemies we cannot escape the knowledge that Europe as a peopled continent, is staggering under trials which before spring time again comes to the northern hemisphere, will cause thousands and thousands of people, young and old, to experience much suffering and to die. This America-Europe connection is something that only a few people understand. America, which in this sense includes Canada, is to many millions of Europeans a fabulously wealthy place, a place where many of the evils of the old world are unknown, a place peopled by intelligent, progressive, kindly folk, but withall a place that lacks something which Europe possesses. Be it culture, titled wealth, antiquity, we do not know, but we believe the average European still feels he or she is closer to the center of things than anyone else.

To look across Europe today, one sees a sorry mess. Political scheming followed by wars of aggression have left the continent industrially and financially speaking, in shambles. Even structurally as regards many of its cities, this is true. For hundreds of thousands of people, devastation commenced in 1939 and still continues. Ordinary means of work, of doing business, of earning a living, have been lost and for sheer existence and for the strength and sustenance to withstand a European winter which while unlike ours, is a cold, damp, penetrating and perishing thing, outside help will be necessary. Fuel is scarce, food is scarce and clothing is scarcer still.

Commencing October 1st and running to October 20th there will be conducted all across Canada, a National Clothing Collection Campaign. Under the chairmanship of Mr. Wm. Birks of Montreal, there has been set up national, provincial and local organizations, the whole plan being sponsored by the Canadian United Allied Relief Fund which is composed of relief organizations of 12 different nations. This in turn is sponsored by United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration with headquarters in the United States and composed of many different nations and commonly known as UNRRA. Clothing collected during this period is for free distribution to needy and destitute children, men and women in Europe. It is not intended that Canadians give new articles or even articles that have to be immediately replaced, but there are, no doubt, thousands and thousands of garments hanging in the clothes closets of Canada that can well be spared in the interests of a good cause. In this area an organization has been set up and it is hoped that the sufferings of a goodly number of human beings may be lessened this winter due to the charity of residents here. "And the greatest of these is Charity."

THE HOG SITUATION—

IT IS GENERALLY conceded that the marketing of hogs in Alberta this year will be considerably below that of 1944. Estimates vary, but a 35 per cent drop is generally believed not to be very far from the mark. Canada having made the bacon commitments to Great Britain, there is no question of the market, therefore price and other factors must be contributing causes to the drop. Any writing about hog raising in this paper, circulating as it does among almost 100 per cent hog raisers is bound to be critically read, but we believe the expressions of opinion are fairly sound.

The returns from farming vary greatly, not only from year to year but between products. Some years hogs are very profitable, other years grain brings in the money, and again there are years when cattle, and hay have their innings. The farmer, as far as he is able, engages in whatever appears to him the most profitable with due regard to labor involved. In the early days of the war, hog prices soared upward, grain then was comparitively low and the time had not arrived when farms, due to the exigencies of war, had been depleted of so much help. Consequently, it was the most natural thing for farmers to go all out in the production of hogs. Everybody knows there is considerable labor involved in the raising of hogs, and also that the ultimate price does not fully govern the amount of profit. Cost of production enters into hog raising as well as other things and as the value of grain increased, the profit in hogs decreased. And as the war years followed one another, labor became more scarce until this year when the high mark of labor scarcity was reached. The government could have done this or done that, we don't know, but we do know that if Mr. Average Farmer is finding grain growing and marketing, either wheat or coarse grains, easier and more profitable than raising hogs, there is going to be a swing away from hogs to grain. Left alone, farm prices rarely stay stable for very long, there is always something that causes a shift up or down, in fact, pre-war reasoning was that the farmer who could anticipate these shifts and govern his farming operations accordingly was both wise and clever.

AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

Compiled from reports of Correspondents by Agricultural Extension Service for the period ending Sept. 19, 1945

Issued under the direction of the Hon. D. B. MacMillan, Minister of Agriculture

General: Cool wet weather is delaying harvest operations over a wide area, although cutting is well advanced and threshing started in all districts. Threshing is nearing completion in the south eastern portion of the province and in the Peace River District.

Yield Crops: An average of grain crops cut throughout the province shows wheat, 86 per cent; oats, 78 per cent; and barley 83 per cent. Threshing is well advanced in many areas in the south and south central districts, although farther north the percentage of wheat reported threshed is 2 per cent to 20 per cent only. Yields of grain crops vary widely, but grade of wheat in most districts is expected to average 2 to 3. Frost in some areas and severe drought in others has reduced yield and quality. Grade of coarse grains vary between 2 C.W. and feed.

The average yields of grain crops in Alberta are estimated at wheat, 12.5; oats, 24.0; and barley, 18.1 bushels per acre. Drought, hail, and wheat stem sawfly caused considerable loss during the year, and early frosts in some sections have resulted in further damage to the grain.

A shortage of both feed grains and fodder is evident. Yields of forage crops are below normal, and the reduced yields of coarse grains will be inadequate to satisfy the keen domestic and export demand.

Live Stock: Pastures have held up exceedingly well considering the limited rainfall, but the occurrence of frosts will discourage further growth. The heavy second growth in grain fields over Central and Northern Alberta will provide valuable pasture.

A shortage of feed has resulted in the heaviest cattle marketings on record. Unfortunately, the bulk of the cattle are unfinished. Swine marketings continue to decline, and the heavy marketing of good type Yorkshire sows will be reflected in a further decline of next spring's litters. Movement of range lambs from range to feed has not yet started.

Dairying: Milk production in the northern areas compares favourably with that of a year ago, but serious decreases are occurring in the central and southern sections of the province.

Production is expected to improve with the completion of harvesting, when stubble fields will be available to the dairy herds. The second growth, particularly of oats, will provide good pasture as soon as the cut grain is removed from the fields.

DAIRY SHORT COURSE FOR EX-SERVICE PERSONNEL

Application may still be made for attendance at the diploma course in dairying which will commence on November 5th at the University of Alberta. A number of commercial firms have indicated their willingness to offer employment to persons having the necessary qualifications in dairying, and the course mentioned offers to ex-servicemen an opportunity to obtain the requisite training.

Applicants with at least one season experience in dairy factory work will register on November 5th. For those without practical experience a preliminary course will be offered commencing September 24th. Those wishing to avail themselves of this training should write to Dr. H. R. Thornton, Department of Dairying, University of Alberta, or to D. H. McCallum, Dairy Commissioner, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

A.M.A. ROAD POLICY WINS ENDORSEMENT

For many years the Alberta Motor Association has contended that revenue from gasoline tax and motor licenses should be set apart exclusively for the [illegible] and [illegible] tenance of highways. It was recognized that this was a sound request, but no provincial government in Alberta has accepted the principle.

Recently a delegation of Montana business [illegible] road experts who drove over the highway from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Dawson Creek, B.C., and then over the Peace River highway to Edmonton, a total distance of 2,000 miles, expressed criticism of the Alberta section of the road.

Members of the deputation stated that roads in their state at one time were similar to those in Alberta. But through the gasoline tax revenues being devoted entirely to road requirements, Montana has built up a system of paved highways that are equal [illegible] the high standards [illegible] any other western state.

Through having made a great improvement in its road system, Montana can make a strong a[illegible] to the tourist trade. It is able to do [illegible] because road revenues went back into the roads, just what the A.M.A. has been advocating for years.

POULTRY AND SALES APPEAL

[illegible] present offers an excellent opportunity to poultry producers, says C. W. Traves, Poultry Commissioner. Whether or not meat rationing continues, many meat producers will be in short supply for some time. Now is the time to develop public consciousness of the value of poultry. Poultry should be considered as a source of regular diet instead of being viewed in the light of an occasional luxury for the Sunday dinner.

If this poultry meat consciousness is to be created, producers must see that the consuming public get what they want for their money. What is required, is a well fleshed and at least reasonably fattened bird, a bird that has an attractive sales appeal as soon as the housewife sees it on display.

If poultry producers will prepare a small pen and finish the birds before marketing, a steady market and better price will be assured. Make sure that the finishing pen is free from mites and is well lighted. Handle carefully every bird to be marketed, and treat for lice. All very thin birds should be given a worm capsule and allowed to range until in better flesh. Fairly well fleshed birds should be well finished in the pen or in crates until in top grade for market. Birds with crooked breasts or birds that will not finish should be killed for [illegible] use only.

A leaflet, "Poultry Prepared on the Farm for Marketing" can be obtained on request from Grading Station operators, District Agriculturists, or direct from the Extension Service, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton.

GUM AND A RING

Winnipeg, Sept. 17—The time-tested method of using a piece of chewing gum on the end of a stick to recover lost articles from narrow spaces succeeded in getting back a valuable diamond ring which was lost by a passenger on a Canadian National Railways train bound for Grand Beach, Manitoba.

Miss Helen Moss of Winnipeg, was pulling off her gloves on the train when the ring dropped from her finger and became wedged behind a set of pipes.

C. C. McSwain, trainman, obtained some gum and soon recovered the ring.

Since the discovery of radium at Eldorado in northwest Canada in the early 1930's, the price of a gram of radium has decreased from about $100,000 to $30,000.

W. J. JACKMAN DIES

William James Jackman of Buenos Aires, Argentina, who formerly farmed at Bremner, Alberta, died on August 22nd as a result of a stroke. He was a former member of the Alberta Wheat Pool board of directors and also former representative in Buenos Aires of the Canadian Wheat Pool. His wife and two sons survive, Mrs. Jackman being in Buenos Aires one son being on the home farm at Bremner and the other son in the RCAF.

The late W. J. Jackman was born in England and as a youth spent some time in Argentina where he learned the Spanish language. He came with his family to Alberta in the early years of the century and settled at Bremner, near Edmonton. He was quite active in the farmer movement and was elected a member of the first board of directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool, having taken a leading part in its organization. In 1927, the Canadian Wheat Pool appointed Mr. Jackman as its agent at Buenos Aires. In late years he has been the Argentine correspondent for the Canadian Bureau of Statistics. For some months prior to his death, Mr. Jackman was in poor health and had planned to resign and return to his home in Alberta. —Wheat Pool Budget.

RCAF personnel counselling statistics show that only one per cent of RCAF male personnel want to be aviators in a commercial capacity.

WORLD WOOL SURPLUS

A report from London, England, states that there is a wool carryover of 3,215 million pounds and that in order to protect the producers in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, a pooling organization has been formed to handle the marketing of British Empire wool stocks. The aforesaid carryover is equal to more than two years' production in the British dominions. To permit indiscriminate marketing would bring complete chaos. It is planned that the stocks will be held in partnership by Great Britain and the dominions with marketing done by the pooling organization. —Wheat Pool Budget.

SHOULD HOLD MARKET

George S. Black, provincial livestock supervisor, says [illegible] will lose over $36 million gross revenue this year because of the decline in hog production in this province. He points out that for every four hogs exported from Canada one comes from Alberta and that there is a pressing demand for pork products in Great Britain. Mr. Black says that under no circumstances can Canada afford to lost the [illegible] place she has won in British markets, and that it will be a calamity to agriculture in this province if such a thing happens. —Wheat Pool Budget.

THEY CAME BACK

She was one of Society's most glittering matrons. She was giving a formal dinner party, and haughtily 'phoned the local Navy headquarters and asked them to send along a few staff members.

Two men of the rank-and-file arrived and were indignantly requested to eat with the servants in the kitchen.

Furious at such an occurrence, the hostess rang the Naval Commander next day, and demanded to know the reason for sending such low-ranking men to her party. The Commander explained that one was an earl, the other a viscount.

"Goodness!" gasped the matron. "Won't you please apologise to them for me, and ask them to call again?"

They did. They went to the back door and took her two maids to the pictures. —Tit-Bits.

MAGIC!

What can be made from a man's worn out shirt? Six handkerchiefs are one thing, two from the front, four from the back. Out of it can instead appear a dress for the one to three year old. The dress front comes from the back of the shirt while the dress back is cut from the front of the shirt, putting the seam down the dress back. Sleeves and little collar are cut from the shirt sleeves. With the addition of some gay embroidery or coloured ric-rac braid, a pretty little dress emerges.

DDT

The importance of DDT in controlling insects is well known to most farmers. At least, it soon will be, since limited quantities are now or soon about to be available for use in dusts, sprays, etc. If preliminary experiments are confirmed, 2-4-D, or if the reader disdains nicknames, 2, 4 dichlorophenoxyacetic acid, will be equally important in weed control. It will destroy a wide variety of annual and perennial weeds but appears to be harmless to grasses. Extensive experiments by Provincial and Dominion Departments of Agriculture are in progress and we await the results with interest.

Farm Granaries, Again*

At this season, with most granaries empty, farmers may do much to prevent later losses from heating and infestation of farm-stored grain. Empty granaries should be thoroughly cleaned. Brush down walls and sweep floor with damp sawdust; then sprinkle a little hydrated lime over the floor and sweep it about to fill all cracks. Repair leaky roof, walls, and especially floors. Where floors, either wooden or concrete, rest directly on the ground, a covering of moisture-proof paper over the floor and extending up the walls for a foot or so will help to exclude ground moisture. Provide for good ventilation over the surface of the grain. A little effort now may save a lot of trouble later.

COMMUNICATION

[To The Editor]

Reading the many letters regarding Old Age Pensions, also attending the meetings of the Social Security Council who are asking allowances of $60.00 per month for people at the age of 55 years, one wonders why such drastic demands are made for people who are in good health, have money or a job, and not in need of anything.

Why do we not demand adequate pensions for the Blind, disabled, and the aged first?

We have in Canada a class of citizens that appear to have been forgotten by the public, who are more handicapped in life than any other people, and many are suffering for the want of the indispensable and necessary things of life. Many aged and unable to get around. They suffer in Canada through an unjust and unfair law.

They are the Blind citizens we have in Canada. The law is so drastic, every blind person must be poor, and forty years of age before they may receive the miserable and meagre pension of $30.00 a month.

No two married blind people may receive a pension each, only one pension for the family of two people.

Any blind person that receives a pension and did a little work that enabled him to earn over $300.00 a year, his pension would be cut down all earnings above that sum.

The $30.00 pension will buy, if one pays $12.00 a month for a room, just two thirty cent meals a day. Not one cent left to buy soap, tooth powder, razor blades, shirts, shoes or clothes. A blind person may get help if they apply to the Lions Club, the I.O.D.E. or some charitable institution of course.

May we ask how many of our readers would care to give all their money to some needy person, tape up their eyes so they cannot see daylight, go out into the world and try to make a living, carrying a white cane to feel your way along the curb?

Many people think the Canadian National Institute for the Blind is a home. That is not true. The C.N.I.B. has a home in Brandon, Man., where young blind people may be sent to learn a trade, profession and handicrafts. In [illegible] and Calgary the C.N.I.B. has an office where application may be made for eye treatment, also a workshop where blind people can receive tuition in braille reading, basket weaving, etc.

Each person must have less than ten per cent eye sight.

Though these people live in darkness, is it not up to you and I to make an effort to brighten up their lives, and have them feel the world is still beautiful, that nature is willing to give her best for them, even though they cannot see their loved ones, we can let them know they are loved by their fellow citizens.

How many people have we in Alberta that would help build a home for the blind? A home that would be surrounded with trees and a garden, where each blind person may have a room free of any cost to themselves, with a trained orderly in charge.

These circular letters are being mailed to our government, M.L.A.'s, City and Town councils, municipalities, churches, the 75 weeklies and 6 daily newspapers in Alberta, organizations, clubs, etc., in an effort to find how many people are interested in our blind citizens in Alberta.

Some of the blind are now trying to live in rooms where no human being should be allowed to live.

Please write and tell us what you think about this projected home for blind people. Talk it over with your friends, and tell us what they say. Thank you.

J. W. CHAPMAN,
510-1st St. West, Calgary.

THE FAREWELL!

Submitted by Robert Fletcher, Edmonton, formerly of Kingman

It was a' for our rightful king
That we left fair Scotland's strand,
It was for our rightful king
We e'er saw Irish land, my dear,
We e'er saw Irish land.

Now a' is done that men can do,
And a' is done in vain,
My love and native land farewell
For I maun cross the main my dear,
For I maun cross the main.

He turned him right and round about
Upon the Irish shore
He gave his bridle reins a shake,
With adieu for ever more, my dear,
With adieu for ever more.

The soldier frae the war returns,
And the sailor frae the main,
But I have parted frae my love,
Never to meet again, my dear,
Never to meet again.

When day is gone and night is come,
And a' folk bound to sleep
I think of him that's far away
The ice long night and weep, my dear
The ice long night and weep.

& ENDS

Under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, 131,553 airmen from the British dominions and many allied countries were trained and graduated in Canada. The Royal Canadian Air Force contributed 55.1 per cent, the Royal Air Force, 32 per cent, the Royal Australian Air Force 7.3 per cent and the Royal New Zealand Air Force 5.2 per cent.

Canadian war veterans who have been paralysed for life have formed an association to help out civilians in a similar plight. It will be known as the Canadian Paraplegic Association. As a clearing house for paralytic cases, it will provide paraplegics with training, education and suitable work.

A large number of the prefabricated, barrack-type huts that sheltered United States Army soldiers and civilian workers during the building of the Alaska Highway will be used this winter to house 800 returned service men and their families in Edmonton. Each unit will have its own living room, a small dining room off the kitchen, bathroom, utility room and one or two bedrooms.

During the past seven months, the CBC's International Service has been beaming shortwave broadcasts to Germany. Many of these programs were made with the help of German prisoners-of-war in Canada, some of whom recorded talks which were broadcast to Germany.

Canadian war veterans are looking after their future. During the past six months, the Department of Veterans' Affairs has received 1,317 applications for $4,142,000 worth of insurance. Veterans Insurance is available without medical examination in amounts of up to $10,000.

Co-operative farmers' associations in Canada now number 2,618, with Quebec accounting for 27 per cent of the total. The first co-operative in Canada was formed 155 years ago when Nova Scotia farmers decided to form an agricultural co-operative society in 1790 to develop a better market for their beef.

Discharges from the Canadian army have now reached a rate of more than 1,000 a day. Between the beginning of May and September 11, almost 90,000 members of the three services have been discharged. During the same period, 108,577 men and women of the armed services have been repatriated from overseas.

During the recent London meeting of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration council, Canada was unanimously voted in as a member of its central committee along with France. Previously only the United States, the United Kingdom, China and the U.S.S.R. were members.

Boy Scouts all over Canada have been asked by John A. Stiles, Chief Executive Commissioner to give every possible assistance in the National Clothing Campaign which opens October 1st to provide needed clothing for Europe's ill-clothed millions.

Canada's Scouts will take an active part in Fire Prevention Week across the Dominion. During that week Scouts are given special training in fire prevention. During the last year more than 1,200 Scouts were awarded their Fireman's Proficiency Badge for efficiency in this work.

LINDBROOK

Mr. Erickson, superintendent of the Holden School Division, took Miss Storey, Supervisor of Correspondence Courses to Woolake School. Mr. Erickson also paid a short visit to the Lindbrook school.

The highway from Bruce to Cooking Lake has received two coats of gravel.

Annie Warkentin is back at school after helping with the harvest at home.

Mr. Stanley Cowden made an interesting visit to Lindbrook High School. He gave a lecture on the flying operations he made over Germany.

Susie Froese is completing High School at Yarrow, B.C.

The threshing has been delayed due to snow and rain storms for the past week.

The first and only Rifle Brigade of the Canadian Army, which forms part of the Canadian Army Occupation Force in Germany, held its first ceremonial parade on the former German Marine parade square in Aurich. The brigade consists of the Queen's Own Rifles of Canada, Toronto, the Royal Winnipeg Rifles and the Regina Rifles.

By virtue of her important position as a key producer of manufactured goods and food for the United Nations, Canada was the only nation accorded membership with the United States and the United Kingdom on the Combined Production Resources Board and the Combined Food Board. These agencies plan the distribution of vital manufactured products and food throughout the world. They will continue operating until present world shortages of many essentials ease up.

To donors and others who have contributed in any way to the RED CROSS WARTIME BLOOD DONOR SERVICE IN ALBERTA DIVISION CLINICS

Dear Friends

This letter is to say "THANK YOU!"

The volunteer Blood Donor Service of the Canadian Red Cross Society was established on January 29, 1940. Since that time, we have received over 2,300,000 blood donations in Canada. As we are now closing the service from a war standpoint, we would like to express to you our sincere appreciation for the blood donations you have so generously given.

There is always a joy in doing something for another but there is a special joy when it means the saving of a life. This service has been the means of saving the lives of hundreds of our men in the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, so you, by your co-operation, have had a part in it. We know this thought will fully repay you.

Now regarding the future. It is most unfortunate that many deaths occur in the hospitals in Canada annually because of the lack of a proper transfusion service. The Red Cross is an organization of mercy and we are now surveying the field in Canada with a view of setting up a service to provide blood for transfusion purposes in all hospitals.

It is anticipated that it will take at least three months to complete the survey; so we again say "Thank you" for your assistance during the war period and we most earnestly request that you join with us when the new service is established in continuing to play a part in the saving of human life—something so dear to us all.

Yours sincerely,
DR. R. C. RILEY,
Chairman, Blood Donor Committee.

Victory Loan Sales Appeal Strong

As far as actual combat is concerned, the war is over. For some of the gallant lads and lassies there have been welcome home parades, cheering, shouting, band playing, and all that goes with triumphant home coming troops. But as the principal speaker expressed it at a day and a half conference held at Calgary this week, "after the last shout has been given, after the last band has played, after the last bell has been rung, there is still a tremendous amount of work to be done, before Canadian life, interrupted by the war, may flow freely again." There are hundreds of thousands of rehabilitation problems, some simple, some intricate and some painfully tragic. There are tremendous expenditures, compulsory expenditures pressing upon government officials, there is the long drawn out care to be bestowed, and never let it be slighted, upon those who in fighting our battles as well as their own, were maimed.

The delegates to the conference from the Tofield—Ryley area were Geo. H. Bruce, chairman; A. J. H. McCauley, unit organizer; and W. Worton, public relations. The object of the conference was to inform and enthuse and this was done so well that there were no doubts in the minds of the delegates when they left for home as to the success of the loan.

In addition to the officials of the Alberta Victory Loan committee there were two eastern Victory Loan officials, Mr. Cochrane of Ottawa and Mr. Don Henshaw of Toronto. Mr. Cochrane was the facts and figures expert and Mr. Henshaw was the guest speaker, who over and over again held his audience enthralled with his oratory. This is the last loan of the particular kind that we have known for the past few years. There will be no further financial loan appeals by the government for a year at least, which, as we have been accustomed to expecting a new loan every six months, really makes this coming loan a two in one affair.

There is abundant evidence that there is plenty of money available to float another loan, both over the whole dominion in general and in the province of Alberta in particular. There are many straightforward appeals. In addition to the most important one of all, rehabilitation of our combatant forces in all its phases, there is the appeal of self interest. To enable farmers to continue to enjoy present foreign markets, huge credits must be given to prospective purchasers, thus farmers, when they purchase a Victory Bond are laying down a foundation for their own future welfare. Time payments will loom large in the coming Victory Loan campaign, it now being possible to buy bonds on a twelve-payment basis instead of six as formerly. The Victory loan campaign opens on October 22nd and continues for three weeks. The Tofield-Ryley quota is $245,000.00

Memorial Hall News

The Memorial Hall is not up yet, nevertheless considerable progress has been made during the past week. The necessary money has begun to come in and the amount obtained so far is $[illegible].00. The objective is $2500. The committee in charge of construction, Fred Imler and Ag Dodds, has everything ready to begin the foundation just as soon as the ditching can be done. They now expect this to be done this week.

Do you think this project is worthy of your support? If so, get your loan or donation in this week. The loans are accepted in amounts of $50.00 or more and pay 6 per cent interest, while the amount you donate, of course, is your choice. Please don't wait for someone to interview you; anyone of the following committee is ready to accept your loan or donation at any time: G. Allan, W. Bellamy, A. Bigland, J. Secord, J. Whyte, H. Chandler and G. McFadzean. It might be mentioned here that in the collection department, Walter Bellamy has met with the greatest response from the community with Jim Secord second. Come on folks—lets show these fellows that we can be public spirited too. Get those loans and donations in today.

We hope to have that list of names ready for next week

Special Arrangements For Release Of Men From Armed Services For Farm Employment

In a statement issued today Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, pointed out that special arrangements have been made for some time to insure the speedy release of men from the Armed Services for employment on the farm. The Labour Department has learned that some question has arisen from certain quarters that arrangements made through the Industrial Selection and Release Committees provide better facilities to industry for securing the early release of men, than is the case with arrangements for agriculture. The Labour Minister said that this was definitely not the case as special committees were set up last winter to assist in the release of men from the Forces for farm work.

Agricultural Labour Survey Committees have been set up in each of the 13 mobilization divisions under the sponsorship of the Agricultural Employment Division of the Department of Labour at Ottawa. Committees consist of provincial directors of Farm Labour, Regional Employment Advisers, representatives of the Mobilization Board and representatives of the Armed Services. Therefore, the Committees are aided by men who are conversant with the problems of agriculture, including farm labour problems.

While the Committees deal mainly with farm workers, they also advise in some areas on the release of men for logging, fishing and food processing plants.

The Committees have close contacts with the Armed Services, and have been successful in reducing delays in securing the actual release of men. Since July 1st this year the Committees have reviewed more than 5000 applications for the release of farm workers.

The Committees also advise farmers and other basic industries on the procedure involved in securing men from the Services who are anxious to take up work in any of these lines.

The men in the Services who are particularly interested in returning to farm work or to other basic industries are usually those who are related to the farmer or who have worked for the employer for some time. But this is not always the case, and arrangements have been made for quite a number who have volunteered for jobs of this type.

Market Milk & Cream Free From Weed Flavours

Milk and cream patrons are advised to guard against the possibility of low grades for cream and milk as a result of weed flavours. Inspectors of the Dairy Branch report that considerable cream having stinkweed flavour is again being received at creameries. This cream is graded "off-grade" and the producer takes the loss.

Dairy producers can increase their revenue and at the same time help to increase the production of edible dairy products by adopting the following methods suggested by D. H. McCallum, Dairy Commissioner.

1. Whenever possible, keep all milk cows off pastures and fields infested with stinkweed.

2. Remove or burn all screenings from around threshing machine settings before allowing cows to pasture in such fields.

3. Remove cows from stinkweed infested fields at least 3 hours before milking. The longer the interval the less possibility of tainted milk.

4. Milk each cow into an empty pail and determine by taste and smell which cows are producing tainted milk, this milk can be separated by itself or used for feeding live stock on the farm.

5. Check carefully by taste and smell the cream from each individual separation before adding to the shipping can. Market the tainted cream separately.

Grapes As Character Ingredient Gives New Flavour To Desserts

The last of the perishable fruits, grapes, is one of this season's best fruit crops and it is a crop we will all want to make the most of.

Not many people use grapes extensively to make desserts, yet a number of delicious ones, both hot and cold, can be made with grapes as the "character" ingredient.

Here are recipes for three grape desserts from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

GRAPE DIPLOMAT PUDDING

2 cups milk
2 tablespoons sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 tablespoon gelatine
¼ cup water
2 cups seeded blue grapes
¼ cup sugar
1½ cups soft stale bread or cake crumbs

Heat 1½ cups milk in top of double boiler. Combine the 2 tablespoons of sugar, salt, and slightly beaten egg with remaining half cup of milk. Add gradually to hot milk and cook, stirring constantly for 2 minutes. Meanwhile soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes and add to milk mixture, stirring until gelatine is dissolved. Pour half the sauce into a greased mould and allow to cool slightly. Wash grapes, cut in half using a sharp knife and with point of knife remove seeds. Mix sugar with grapes and add crumbs and grapes in alternate layers. Top with remaining sauce, chill until set and unmould to serve. Six servings.

GRAPE BROWN BETTY

3 cups blue or white grapes
½ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons mild-flavoured fat
2 tablespoons brown sugar
2 cups soft stale bread crumbs
Dash of salt

Wash grapes and press pulp from skins. Heat pulp to boiling point and boil gently 5 minutes. Rub through a sieve to remove seeds. Combine pulp, skins and the half cup sugar. Melt fat, add remaining sugar, crumbs, and salt and mix together. Place alternate layers of grapes and crumb mixture in a greased baking dish having last layer crumbs. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot. Six servings.

GRAPE UPSIDE-DOWN PUDDING

3 cups grapes, preferably blue
one-third cup sugar
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
Dash of salt
Plain one-egg cake batter

Wash grapes and press pulp from skins. Heat pulp to boiling point and boil gently 5 minutes. Rub through a sieve to remove seeds. Combine pulp and skins and cook together 5 minutes. Mix sugar, cornstarch, and salt. Blend with a little of the grape mixture then add to remaining grape mixture and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Pour into a greased baking dish (one-quart size) and leave to cool. Meantime, make a plain one-egg cake batter and spread carefully over the cooled grape mixture. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees F., for 30 minutes, then reduce heat to 350 degrees F. and bake 15 minutes longer. Turn out on a large deep serving dish and serve hot. Six servings.

Busy Station

More than 35,000,000 persons, equivalent to nearly three times the population of Canada, have passed through the C.N.R. Central Station at Montreal during the past two years, A. A. Gardiner, general passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, announced on the second anniversary of the opening of Montreal's big, modern railway terminal. Of this number, 13,325,000 were passengers on 71,830 trains.

Strikes And Lockouts During August, 1945

A decrease of nearly two-thirds, 66.36 percent, in time lost due to strikes in the first eight months of 1945, compared with the same period of 1944, is announced by Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, today.

Figures for this year to the end of August show 126 strikes as having occurred involving 44,343 workers with a time loss of 179,334 man-days. This compares with 187 strikes with 66,509 workers involved and a time loss of 464,884 man-days, for the same period in 1944.

The month of August this year showed a reduction to about a third of the number of man-days lost due to strikes compared with the same period last year. Thirty-one strikes were reported in August, involving 13,150 workers and a time loss of 41,297 man-days, as against 26 strikes involving 12,566 workers and a time loss of 120,383 man-days in August, 1944. Only two strikes were reported as still continuing at the end of August.

Feed Grains Reserved For Farmers During October

As a result of a recent order of the Canadian Wheat Board, reserves of oats and barley will be held in many Alberta elevators from October 1st to October 31st.

Areas in which these coarse grains must be retained lie chiefly within the eastern section of the province from the International Boundary to the North Saskatchewan River. Other restricted areas are those around Rimbey, Hoadley, Rocky Mountain House, Mayerthorpe, Bluesridge, Stony Plain, Thorsby and Hythe. Within these areas a minimum of 2000 bushels of oats or barley must be held in the elevator during the period mentioned so that farmers may have an opportunity to obtain their feed and seed requirements.

Farmers who will have to purchase oats or barley for feed or seed are advised by the Field Crops Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture to make immediate enquiries from their local elevator agents, and to arrange for their requirements as soon as possible. It is pointed out that the order for retention of these grains by elevators at points named by the Wheat Board remains in effect only until October 31st.

Value of Feeding Vitamin A To Hogs

Rapidly growing hogs kept from an early age in confined quarters and fed grain—tankage—mineral rations often develop symptoms of paralysis caused by a deficiency of Vitamin A, says C. H. Anderson, Dominion Experimental Station, Beaverlodge, Alberta. Many such hogs are lost or at best develop into chronic runts. At various times since 1934 it has been observed that peculiar symptoms have developed among rapidly growing pigs kept at the Beaverlodge Station. These symptoms have varied with individual cases, but among the most common have been strained facial expression and peculiar position of the ears, giving a wild-boar appearance; nervous derangement; incoordination of muscular movement usually developing quickly into posterior or more general paralysis; inability or disinclination to feed normally, contortion and miscellaneous ailments such as strangling and a foamy discharge at nostrils. An occasional pig may walk in circles.

After considerable experimental work, the trouble was diagnosed as a Vitamin A deficiency. Pigs fed fish oil high in Vitamin A and those receiving green or cured alfalfa have not developed any of the symptoms in question. Prostrated pigs paralyzed in posterior and otherwise ailing were in most cases restored to good health and sent to market in normal condition by the feeding of skim-milk, fish oil and greens. In other cases alfalfa alone or fish oil alone has effected marked improvement, only one or two advanced cases failing to recover under such treatment.

Green or well-cured alfalfa would appear to be the most economical source of Vitamin A for hogs but other green stuff is also good. Should green stuff not be available, fish oil given in tepid water may be substituted. Fish oil has the advantage of furnishing Vitamin D as well as Vitamin A.

Pigs farrowed from sows that have been fed a sufficient supply of Vitamin A in one form or other are born with more resistance to prevalent disease germs.

Fish oil when used should be fed at the rate of one tablespoonful per sow daily throughout pregnancy. In fattening hogs the same dose should be given until the pigs reach a weight of 100 pounds.

HELP NEEDED

The Dominion Experimental Farms, our Universities and our Rust Research Laboratory have produced valuable new money-making varieties of grains for farmers. These institutions can create even better varieties, and more of them, if they receive additional grants. Farmers, we suggest, should write now and ask their Members of Parliament to press the Government to make additional grants to these worthy institutions.

THE CHALLENGE OF AN EMPTY PLATE

In most liberated European countries, there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation, Canada must, can — and will — help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

* * *

This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

* * *

To do our part, we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also ensure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells, the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember — your butcher may have inexperienced help.

Floor Price For Wheat

The outstanding event in the world of wheat in recent months was the announcement made by the Canadian government that a floor price of a dollar a bushel, basis 1 Northern at the terminal, would be maintained in this Dominion for five years until 1950. At the same time the minister of trade and commerce stated that the ceiling price for exports from Canada this year would be $1.55 a bushel, basis 1 Northern at Fort William.

While there may be arguments about the [illegible] of the floor price, the most important thing is the fact that for the first time in the history of wheat production in this country an effective long-time floor price has been established. That objective has been strenuously striven for by farm organizations for many years.

Orthodox business, and particularly the grain trade of Western Canada, has shown little enthusiasm about the plan. The Financial Post points out that commodity price-fixing schemes have run into trouble in the past. It cites the instance of coffee stabilization in Brazil, rubber control in the East Indies and so on. It ventures the point that competing wheat exporting countries may undersell Canada in the export markets.

As far as the export price of wheat is concerned, the Post must admit that $1.55 a bushel for 1 Northern at Fort William under present conditions is a reasonable price. Furthermore, the [illegible] to importing nations are lenient. With regard to the five-year floor price of a dollar a bushel for 1 Northern at Fort William and Vancouver, that figure means an average farm price of around eighty cents a bushel for Alberta farmers. Last year the basic terminal price for 1 Northern was $1.25, and the average farm price in Alberta as given by the Dominion bureau of statistics was $1.04, or 21 cents less.

The greatest economic calamity which ever occurred in Western Canada was the fall of wheat prices to as low as 38 cents a bushel for 1 Northern at Fort William in the autumn of 1932. The day that happened 1 Northern wheat in Alberta netted the farmer around eighteen cents a bushel. During those years the Wheat Pools and farm organizations of the prairie provinces maintained over and over again that a floor price should be set for wheat, but the advice of the supporters of the speculative marketing system prevailed. They said all would be well if the wheat surplus disappeared. The Canadian and the world wheat surpluses were back to normal in 1937-38, but one good world wheat crop brought prices tumbling once again.

It may be said that competing countries may undersell Canada in world markets but Australia is likely to take a much more forward-looking policy than that, and even Argentina may change its mind about the value to its own economy of low wheat prices. —Wheat Pool Bulletin.

Report Growth In School Patrol Work

School boy patrols sponsored by the Alberta Motor Association have commenced on their season's work as a result of opening of the school term on Sept. 10.

In various cities and towns, these patrols wearing the A.M.A. sash may be seen directing small groups of children across intersections near the school.

Motorists have shown their co-operation and invariably they keep a sharp lookout to see if there are children preparing to cross the highway if it is near a school.

Undoubtedly the work of these patrols has resulted in a great reduction in the number of car accidents in the vicinity of schools in the province.

In Edmonton, officials report that there are good prospects of the number of schools organizing patrols reaching a record figure this term. More principals and teachers have become interested in the work and are encouraging boys and girls to give it their time and attention.

Make Journey Over Blue River Highway

Opening of the Blue River highway to general motor traffic does not appear likely before 1946, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

While the road was "cut through" in the fall of 1944, there still is considerable work to be done to smooth out and improve certain sections.

An Edmonton man, T. J. Jacobs, who has driven over the highway, says there are 20 miles between Valemount and Blue River that need grading and widening. In the meantime, he advises anyone attempting the trip to take along shovels, axe and saw. He found it necessary to clear road slides and also to cut trees that had fallen on the highway.

Some other sections of the road were in splendid shape, but on the whole it appears that it will be some time before this can be regarded as a highway able to carry general traffic. A lot of work will have to be done next year before the road will be in proper condition.

Meantime, many car owners are looking forward to the day when the opening of the Blue River road will give a northern outlet to the Pacific and provide a new "circle route" for motorists.

The Road Ahead

A COLUMN for SERVICE PEOPLE

Here is the Alphabet of Rehabilitation—the line-up of organizations designed to assist the veteran in finding his way around some of the corners of Civvy Street.

"D.V.A." The Department of Veterans' Affairs. This department handles the administrative details of Re-establishment Credit, educational and technical training grants, post-discharge medical and dental treatment or hospitalization, Veterans' Insurance, and the various angles of pension disbursement.

"N.E.S." The National Employment Service. Provides the machinery for arranging a meeting between people looking for jobs and jobs looking for people. Has more than 200 local offices throughout Canada. This service is also equipped to handle any problems encountered by a veteran desiring to be reinstated in his old job.

"V.L.A." Veterans' Land Administration. This is the agency you must see if you want a farm or a small holding. VLA maintains local offices in about 40 cities, and is also represented in the DVA Rehabilitation Centres.

"W.P.T.B." Wartime Prices and Trade Board. The activities of this Board affect the veteran, and every other Canadian in a thousand ways, since the price of everything you buy has at some time or other come under the scrutiny of the WPTB. However, the ex-serviceman and woman will probably make first hand contact with this department only if he or she is contemplating starting a small business. In such a case, the WPTB is the authority by which the venture is begun. It supplies the operating license as well as vital information on supplies and local business permits. The Board also informs the prospective small business man on matters of price control, rationing, and so forth. In other words, it is his business adviser.

"N.H.A." National Housing Administration. Through this administration loans are made to vets who want to build their own homes, the down payment being met by means of the Re-establishment Credit, if necessary. NHA has Regional Offices in principal cities across Canada.

"C.V.T." The Canadian Vocational Training plan, which involves close co-operation between Federal and Provincial governments, provides technical, tutorial or occupational training for vets whom the DVA authorizes to take such training. Inasmuch as the training grants and living allowances are paid by the DVA, application must be made to that department before the ex-serviceman will be permitted to proceed on a course.

Farm Machinery Restrictions Lifted

Ration restrictions on farm machinery and equipment including tractors have been removed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. However, dealers are expected to honor outstanding ration certificates before filling orders from new accounts. It is anticipated that in the current production year supplies of new implements will be twenty per cent greater than in the previous year. Returning service men will be given preference in the sale of same.

U.S. Wheat Purchase Program

A wheat purchase program that offers farmers the full parity price for 1945-crop loan wheat was announced on August 25th by the department of agriculture, in accordance with provisions of the Stabilization Extension Act of 1944.

Farmers putting wheat under Commodity Credit Corporation loan will have the option of selling the wheat next spring to the Production and Marketing Administration at 15 cents a bushel above the applicable loan value, less charges. The 1945 loan averages nationally $1.38 a bushel or 90 per cent of the July 1st parity of $1.53 a bushel. The purchase program is applicable to both farm-stored and warehouse-stored wheat.

All unredeemed farm-stored loan wheat on April 1 next, which is delivered to the Production and Marketing Administration by the producer in accordance with the instructions, will be purchased by PMA. The purchase price will be the applicable loan value for the wheat delivered, plus 15c per bushel, but not more than the ceiling price. The producer will be paid the difference between (1) the purchase price and (2) the unpaid amount of the note plus interest to the date of delivery to PMA. No storage payment will be made by PMA on farm-stored loan wheat that is purchased.

All unredeemed warehouse-stored loan wheat in the southwest will be purchased as of April 1, 1946, and in other areas as of May 1, 1946. The purchase price will be the applicable loan value for the wheat represented by the warehouse receipts, plus 15 cents per bushel, but not more than the ceiling price. The producer will be paid the difference between (1) the purchase price and (2) the unpaid amount of the note plus interest through the date of purchase and including the amount of accrued unpaid warehouse charges through the storage year under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement. —Wheat Pool Bulletin.

Big Paint Job

The Canadian National Railways purchased enough paint and varnish last year to coat both sides of a solid five-foot fence stretching along the railway right-of-way from Vancouver to Montreal.

Specifically the railway used 348,000 gallons of paint products in 1944. The C.N.R. paints an average of 120 locomotives, 816 freight cars and 70 passenger cars each month. A passenger car gets a paint-up job once every three or four years, a locomotive every two years, and a freight car whenever it goes into the shops for a general overhaul. Passenger cars also receive a finishing coat of clear varnish.

"Hospital On Wheels"

More than 325,000 persons visited the "Hospital on Wheels" exhibit which featured a full-scale replica of a Canadian National Railways hospital car during its recently completed tour of five cities from Montreal to Vancouver, where it was shown in leading departmental stores.

Some 150,000 pieces of descriptive literature were distributed to visitors during the tour and the exhibit was officially opened by military authorities in Montreal and Toronto and Red Cross Society officials in Winnipeg and Vancouver. The Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta officiated in Edmonton.

Boys Town In Canada

We've all heard of the famous Boys Town, Father Flanagan's community has been the subject of stories in the newspapers and films featuring Spencer Tracy and Mickey Rooney. But have you heard of an unusual Boys Town?

On the shores of Lac des Francaise, near Joliette, Quebec, 60 delinquent boys have established a camp under the direction of Father Albert Roger of Montreal, and his two assistants. The boys organize their own election campaign, and elect their own mayor and aldermen. Each alderman has charge of one of the six log cottages which comprise the camp.

Besides the mayor and council, the campers also elect each year a chief of police and a chief fireman and a ministry of roads. Infringements of camp rules are taken up in the regular Saturday morning court in the council hall, where cases are heard and defended.

The original site of the camp was purchased by the Quebec government. The Chambre de Commerce des Jeunes de Montreal handles the expense of the boys, which come to about $1 a day for the three-month camp period.

The boys from the camp, taken from the ranks of those in their early teens who have been in trouble with juvenile court officials, are selected by Father Roger.

Its an idea that will pay rich dividends in citizenship.

Farmers Can Buy Victory Bonds On Convenient Deferred Payments Through Any Bank

. . . just sign a short form letter which Victory Loan Salesmen carry (banks have copies) ordering the Bank to buy Victory Bonds for you. Pay 5% when ordering and the balance at any time during the next 12 months. The interest the bonds earn pays the interest on the bank loan.

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time — the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

MINISTIK

The picture show which was to be held at the Hall last Friday night failed to turn up to the disappointment of the people, especially the children. However Mr. Mossey and Mr. Roddick gave an interesting talk on their different departments, and the evening ended up with a dance.

The Rev. E. Barnes of Victoria, B.C. is visiting at his brother's, Mr. W. C. Barnes, for a few days.

Mr. Sid Whitford of Calgary was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whitford for a few days.

Steve Baumgartner Jr. is doing the chores for Archie Boss while he is away on his honeymoon at Banff.

A few of the Ministik people attended Archie's wedding and reception on October 3rd, but as the writer was not present he cannot report it.

A shower was held at the Hall in honor of Miss Williams, daughter of Mr and Mrs F. Williams of Fultonvale on Saturday, September 29th. The bride received some lovely and useful presents. Both Archie and his bride expressed their thanks.

Some of us around here were lucky enough to get threshed. Now the rain has come it will put things back again for a while.

The lumber is at the Hall for the forms for the foundation. Now the thing is to get it in before freeze-up.

Kay Barnes went back to Edmonton after spending a few days with her father and mother, Mr and Mrs. W. C. Barnes. Kay had to go back to work on Sunday. She is a nurse at the Royal Alex hospital.

Mrs A. Leach spent a few days in Edmonton at the home of Mr and Mrs Nix.

Mrs S. Baumgartner spent the week end in Edmonton visiting her son, John and family.

Last Sunday the service was taken by Mr. S. Loree, student. The next service will be taken by Mr. J. Law, student, two weeks from last Sunday.

BRITISH BACON QUOTA

Canada's bacon commitment to Great Britain is 450 million pounds this year. It is not likely to be filled due to a drop of 20 per cent in hog production. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, said the decline in production can be attributed to heavy marketings a year ago and shortage of farm help, but mainly to reduced feed supplies.

It was because of limited supplies of feed grains that the embargo was placed on exports of barley. The minister of agriculture said Canadian feeders need all the barley available. While feeders in both Eastern and Western Canada are anxious to see as much feed grain as possible made available to them, farmers who depend on the sale of oats and barley for cash returns are not so pleased about the embargo on exports. The latter feel that good markets have been opened for both feed and malting barley in the United States and if such markets cannot be supplied right now the probability is that they may be closed later on when surpluses of such grains again develop in Western Canada. —Wheat Pool Budget.

TENDERS WANTED

Offers for the purchase of the old Municipal Office Building at Tofield (less vault) will be received up to October 12th, 1945. Please state whether your offer is cash or down payment and terms on balance. Highest nor any tender not necessarily accepted.

Dated at Ryley, Alberta, this 14th day of September, 1945.

MAY BLESSINGS CROWN THE YEAR

The Autumn eve is stilling to its rest
The day-long roar is hush'd upon the farm,
The lines of gold are fading from the West,
The mighty piston stays the pulsing arm.

The empty racks are speeding down the trail,
The heavy mists still loiter in the shade,
The lamps of twilight brighten in the vale
The deeper shadows settle o'er the glade.

The cottage home with cheer is all alight,
The cordial spirit soothes the faltering powers,
While slumber calm restore through grateful night
'Till labor calls again at early hours.

O'er regions broad the winnowing mists hang low,
The western towers are gathering stores of grain,
And from two shores the great ships come and go
While mutual commerce functions o'er the main.

—S. C. Vance, Kingman.

SHOES SAVED A LIFE

LONDON. A well known firm of United Kingdom shoe manufacturers has received an unusual testimony to the hardwearing qualities of its goods. The testimony comes from a Belgian who bought a pair of golf shoes from them in 1941. Soon after, he was arrested by the Germans, he says. For twelve months he did hard labour—building concrete roads, digging and coal loading. Throughout the year he wore his golf shoes. At the end of 1942 he managed to escape because "thanks to my shoes nobody could hear me when I started running." Determined to reach England he set out on a long march. He walked through France, over the Pyrenees and into Spain. That he did not lose his life on this formidable climb, he says, was due to the toughness and nonslip qualities of his shoes. Eventually he reached Britain and the shoes proved good for another year's wear.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO FARMERS

The Municipal District of Beaver No. 71 of Ryley, Alberta, and the Alberta Department of Agriculture are planning to assist farmers to obtain seed grain for 1946. All efforts will be made to locate the supply of seed. It appears that the quality seed is not plentiful. Therefore, we urge immediate request, as soon as your requirements are known. These requirements will be considered in rotation as they are received. All farmers are asked to send the completed form as soon as possible. The cut off date is October 31, 1945. Do not delay, if you expect us to help locate and ship the seed grain. No financial responsibilities are assumed. Each farmer expecting to purchase seed will be notified as soon as it is available. (Remember, try to locate seed locally if possible.)

Many Matters Dealt With By Council

The M.D. of Beaver held its regular monthly meeting at Ryley on Friday, October 12th. There were present at the meeting, Reeve Anderson; Councillors Giebelhaus, Laskosky, Lucas, Moen, Ovens and Swabey.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and duly approved.

The monthly financial statement was duly received and filed.

Mr. Voice wrote asking if the council were interested in purchasing a gravel crusher saying that he wished to know that day. Council did not wish to make a decision immediately.

One tender for the purchase of the Municipal Office at Tofield was received from C. Kallal Jr. It was for $700 cash or $250.00 per year for three years. This tender was not accepted and the advertisement announcing the building for sale will be continued.

On the motion of Reeve Anderson it was decided to advertise for a lady stenographer, the secretary being given power to engage one if and when a suitable application came in.

Councillor Ovens announced that he had made arrangements for an aged ratepayer to enter a home at Bawlf.

Regarding a complaint by Mr. Kilishtoff, a committee of councillors arranged to meet and investigate this on Thursday Oct. 18. This complaint is in regard to some grading which allegedly caused some land to flood. It is in Councillor Lucas' division.

Regarding a settlement with Mr. Maves and his sons for gravel, it was decided to ask Mr. Maves and the boys to attend next meeting of council as there were matters which council wished to make clear before settlement was made.

With reference to the sale of the No. 20 patrol grader, it was announced that an offer of $700.00 had been received from the Town of Wainwright. Council believed the machine should be worth at least $750.00 and the matter of its sale was allowed to stand over.

The Department of Agriculture wrote that they would be willing to pay fifty per cent of the weed field man's salary providing there is continuity of policy of Agricultural Service Board.

A lot at Bruce came in for some attention. It appears that the lot once owned by a former Municipal District had been owned by two or three different people at different times without title actually being issued. Councillors Ovens and Mr. Campbell of Holden will endeavor to straighten this matter out.

Mr. Bissard wrote offering $1250 cash for N.E. 4-47-14. This land is under lease, and council were informed that the lessee was holding it so that some boys now overseas who wished to purchase it could do so. The matter was tabled until April 1st, 1946.

Letter was read from Dept. of Municipal Affairs approving the appointment of J. Letourneau as secretary treasurer.

The title to a fraction of the East half of 15-49-20 issued to Mr. James F. Aubrey was announced to be incorrect. It should have read Johan F. Aubrey. On the motion of Reeve Anderson the title will be sent back for correction.

A petition signed by about 20 ratepayers near Tofield requesting that John L. Jones be engaged to operate the new Austen Western Patrol Grader was read. Council decided not to consider making any changes at the present time. The minutes of the Annual Conference of the Wainwright Association of Municipal Districts were read in full and filed for future reference.

Letter of appreciation from Dept. of Public Welfare re tax arrangement concerning the Miles Barrow land was read.

R. D. Rowland, Tofield, wished to resign as pound-keeper, the resignation being formally accepted.

Notification of a seed grain lien release on some land was given. The lien it was announced, had been paid off a long time ago.

Letter from Viking Hospital regarding ordinary hospital agreement. The hospital questioned whether there would be sufficient patients residing outside of the Viking Municipal Hospital district and still in the M.D. of Beaver to make the agreement worth while. On the motion of Councillor Ovens the Viking Hospital was recommended to accept the same agreement as in force between the M.D. of Beaver and other hospitals.

Adjournment for lunch.

Editors Note: The meeting continued throughout the afternoon and evening until nearly midnight. We are crowded for space this week and the report of the meeting will be continued next week.

RYLEY

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Young, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kaies and daughter Judith of Edmonton and Miss Lorna Hay of Edson visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hay during Thanksgiving.

Miss Helen Van Norman spent the Thanksgiving holidays at her home at Rocky Mountain House.

H. J. Hill has taken over the management of J. Eaton's butcher shop, recently purchased by Mr. Wm. Pepper. We wish them all kinds of success.

The Community League held a meeting on October 15th, when it was decided that $300.00 would be given to the skating rink. A committee of three was appointed to draw up the plans for dressing and waiting rooms. Mr Bob Greig, Mr. J. L. Hay and Bob Ireland were appointed. We cannot help but feel proud to see how our youngsters are turning out to do their bit to help this project along. But, pardon me for saying so, their enthusiasm shouldn't carry them so far as to working on Sundays as well. Remember what the Bible says "Remember the Sabbath and keep it holy." It is important we as a nation and a community should remember this if we expect to be blest.

Herb Thomas has received word that his brother Elvide, who has been a prisoner of war at Hong Kong has arrived at San Francisco by plane from Hong Kong.

Mrs. Mumford and daughter Laura left last Saturday evening for her home in the east.

Val Greig has gone to Calgary to be discharged from the army.

Donald Ostrom arrived home last Saturday evening from the east where he served in the navy. He has received his discharge and will be enrolled as a student in Ryley High. We all welcome you, Donald, and

APPLE CROP

Canada's apple crop for 1945 is estimated at 7,600,000 bushels or 63 per cent less than last year's production. British Columbia's production is placed at 5,810,000 bushels or 66 per cent of the 1944 crop. Production in Ontario, Quebec and Nova Scotia is away down from last year. Quebec is the worst off with only 80,000 bushels—91 per cent down from the 1944 yield. —Wheat Pool Budget.

Rev. D. K. Allan of Edmonton was in town on Tuesday and performed the marriage of Miss Eileen Stirritt and Mr. Angus Michell.

Miss A. Sheiler of Edmonton spent the week end as the guest of Miss Edna Shaw.

IS SUMMERFALLOWING ENOUGH?

(Experimental Farms News)

The standard grain-fallow rotation generally practiced in Western Canada has served to store up moisture, release plant food and reduce the weed population but it has been wasteful of fibre and has done much to induce erosion by wind and water. With straight grain farming there comes a time when fibre must be returned to the soil.

As the fibre disappears and the plant food supply levels off, the moisture efficiency lowers. The nutrient solution becomes thinner and the dust-like structure does not hold the moisture successfully.

When the first stage of this so-called "run-down" condition is recognized, commercial fertilizers are called on to restore yields. They may serve well for a time but are not a corrective, especially with the small quantities generally used.

Sooner or later we must fall back on the uses of grasses and legumes. These are soil building crops and were largely responsible for the fertility of the soil when it was first broken. To use them judiciously will serve to maintain the fibre content, which in turn provides plant food and the sponge-like structure which absorbs and holds moisture so effectively. Legumes are much alike as soil builders and their residue is easily converted into plant food. Grasses such as Crested Wheat Grass and Creeping Red Fescue produce a matted, fibrous root system which is easily killed and which decomposes fairly readily. Brome on the other hand, has coarse roots which do not yield so much fibre and like timothy, has a high crude-fibre content which is slow to rot.

AUSTRALIA'S RAILWAYS

Montreal—"If plans now being considered by the state and federal governments are approved, Australia will soon have its first through trans-continental railway system," J. A. Green, general passenger and freight agent, New South Wales Government Railways, Sydney, Australia, said here while inspecting the facilities and equipment of the Canadian National Railways at Turcot, Canada's largest railway yard. While Australia's wartime transportation needs had brought about some improvements, Mr. Green added, the main problem, the varying gauges, still remained.

There are five different railways across the country and no two running together had the same gauge although there were only three sizes: five feet three inches, four feet, eight and a half inches and three feet, six inches. To move freight from coast to coast necessitated the loading and unloading of freight five times.

GAME ON THE MENU

The sound of the gun and the enjoyment of the well cooked game bird are now being appreciated by many Alberta hunters and their families. The thrill and enjoyment of good shooting is experienced a second time as the hunter takes up the carving knife and distributes, together with tales of the kill, the choice of morsels to the diners.

Game meat is a wholesome and nourishing food and has a distinctive flavour which differs from the meat of domestic animals. Whether or not it is necessary to draw the game immediately after shooting depends on the weather. Mrs. Macdonald, Supervisor of the Home Economics Service, says that game birds may be carried through the day without cleaning, but if they are to be kept for more than one day in warm weather without refrigeration, they should be drawn as soon as possible. The feathers should be left on until the hunter returns home. Skinning of game birds is sometimes done, since this is easier than plucking, but some of the flavour is lost by skinning. Freshly killed game should be bled, and allowed to age in a cool place at least 24 hours before cooking.

In the domestic fowl, the older birds will be the tougher, and will require more cooking. Young tender meat may be boiled or fried, but mature carcasses should be aged for several days and may be par-boiled first and then cooked slowly.

Pheasant meat is similar to chicken but dryer. Most chicken recipes are quite suitable for preparing pheasant. Cooking in a covered roaster helps to retain the moisture. Any moist heat method for preparing fowl is desirable.

C. H. WHITMAN NAMED MEMBER ALBERTA REGIONAL WAR LABOUR BOARD AND WESTERN LABOUR BOARD

Appointment of C. H. Whitman of Edmonton, as a member of the Alberta Regional War Labour Board and also of the Western Labour Board, was announced today by the Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour.

The appointment, made by recent Order-in-Council was effective from September 26. Mr. Whitman will be member in place of Mr. H. G. MacDonald, Employers' Representative, recently resigned.

The Regional War Labour Boards along with the National War Labour Board are charged with the administration of the Wartime Wages Control Order.

Wild duck is darker and dryer than the domestic variety. The flavor of wild duck may be lessened by placing a small peeled carrot in the duck, plunging in boiling water and simmering for ten minutes before roasting. If the duck is young, omit the parboiling and rub with an onion cut in two. Put four or five uncooked cranberries in each before cooking. Onion stuffing will also help. The Mallard Duck is dry when roasted. A recommended method is to stuff with bread stuffing, baste with bacon drippings, and roast for an hour.

Recipes and directions for serving game meat may be had from the Home Economics Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. Directions for preserving game meat by canning or freezing are also available.

You Have TWICE AS LONG TO PAY

So many times you hear people say "I wish I could buy more Victory Bonds."

Well, it has been announced that there will be only one Victory Loan in the next 12 months.

People who buy Bonds now will have a whole year to pay for them.

You Can BUY TWICE AS MANY BONDS

Bear this in mind when the Victory Loan salesman calls on you.

The same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12-month period.

So, buy double this time.

Sign Your Name FOR VICTORY

Farmers can buy Victory Bonds through any bank . . . on convenient deferred payments.

Victory Loan salesmen have copies of the letter at the right. (Banks also have copies.)

When you sign this letter . . . and pay 5% of the cost of the bonds . . . the bank buys the bonds for you. You have 12 months to pay for the bonds and the interest the bond earns pays the interest on the bank loan.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO FARMERS

The Municipal District of Beaver No. 73, of Ryley, Alberta, and the Alberta Department of Agriculture are planning to assist farmers to obtain seed grain for 1946. All efforts will be made to locate the supply of seed. It appears that the quality seed is not plentiful. Therefore, we urge immediate request, as soon as your requirements are known. These requirements will be considered in rotation as they are received. All farmers are asked to send the completed form as soon as possible. The cut-off date is October 31, 1945. Do not delay, if you expect us to help locate and ship the seed grain. No financial responsibilities are assumed. Each farmer expecting to purchase seed will be notified as soon as it is available. (Remember, try to locate seed locally if possible.)

GRAVEL ROADS—

THERE ARE a good many people living in the rural sections of Alberta at the present time who can recall the early methods of municipal or local improvement road building. Thirty or forty years ago rural road building was pretty much of a neighborhood gang affair. Working out some of the taxes was looked upon as important by some, while to others having a road out from their place was the lure that caused them to cease farm work and labor on the road. In those days most of the work was done by fresnos, hand fresnos at that. The art of being able to fill a fresno on the move and flip it over and empty it, must be almost a lost one, as there is so little of it done today. Since that time rural road building and rural road building machinery has undergone a transformation. From fresnos it went to horse drawn graders, from horse drawn graders the tractor drawn graders emerged, following these came elevating graders, these being superceded by patrol graders of different types. When the need is to move much dirt in a hurry, the Letourneau, which is really a greatly enlarged and improved adaptation of the old type fresno, is brought into play. Lately patrol graders that are so versatile that they can almost scrape the paint off the side of a barn have been developed and are being constantly improved.

Unlike rural roads of thirty or forty years ago over which buggies and wagons mostly travelled, rural roads today are subjected to much wear and tear by fast moving traffic. Heavily laden trucks moving along at speeds unthought of in past years, give punishment to dirt roads and quickly wear them out. Now, following the high grade, low grade, or what have you type of dirt roads, comes gravel roads. For rural districts to do gravelling is now becoming commonplace. A few years back this was considered solely a project of government highways department. Of course gravel roads are fairly expensive, no matter under what system they are constructed. Roads can be gravelled under contract with little need of thought or worry on the part of any councillor concerned. Or they can be done by the district itself, using its own machinery and engaging its own help. But whatever system the gravelling of rural roads is done under, it is rather an expensive business. Some of the gravelling is done as part of the regular road work program of the M.D. and part is done under an arrangement whereby the government spends a dollar for each dollar the municipality spends. But this fifty-fifty arrangement carries with it a provision that the government, through its roadwork representative, decides to a large extent the road upon which government grant money can be expended. The cost of road gravelling running between $750 and $1000 a mile would make some of the early pioneers gasp for breath. No matter what type of machinery is used, road gravelling is not a cheap operation. Yet there is a distinct demand for it. Some months back we learned that the desire for gravel roads is so keen among certain individuals that they were not only willing to pay the high cost of gravelling by ordinary procedure of taxation but were willing to contribute 50 per cent of the cost directly out of their own pockets. A week or so later we actually drove over 3 miles of road that was gravelled under just such an arrangement. How wide spread this practice is among farmers we do not know, but we were given to understand that more than one group of farmers had used this method in order to get a gravel road. This summer the M.D. of Beaver and the Tofield Coal Co. made an arrangement whereby the road running south from Tofield to the mine was gravelled on a 50-50 basis, the M.D. paying half and the Coal Company paying half. In any municipality the cost of road construction which includes the cost of machinery to work with, is one of the most important items in their budget. It is an ever recurring expense, as both the roads which have been built and the machinery that was used to build them, is always in a state of wearing out. Therefore it would appear to be sound business not only to have a yearly money appropriation for actual road work but also a yearly money appropriation for new machinery. Any councillor desires to give his ratepayers the maximum in road construction and road maintaining service, but even so, it is amazing how many miles of road, which for financial reasons, cannot receive attention, and how few can. We have no accurate figures on the exact road mileage in the M.D. of Beaver, but it is well over a thousand. The M.D. of Beaver council this year has spent considerable money in buying machinery, perhaps they were wise, perhaps for one year at least they overshot the mark, it is not our duty to say, but we would like to see the purchases made according to a previously prepared budget rather than desire or even believed immediate need.

STATE SPENDS ALL OF GAS TAX ON HIGHWAYS

Renewed efforts will be made by the Alberta Motor Association to ensure that motor revenues of the province are used entirely for the maintenance and construction of highways. This is expected to be one of the main subjects for consideration when annual meetings of branches of the A.M.A. are held in Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge later this year.

Particular attention has been drawn to the matter through the disclosure that the state of Montana, which some years back had highways that were far below standard, [illegible] has built up a fine system of hard surfaced roads. This has been accomplished to a great extent by passing a law which states specifically that all gasoline tax revenues must be expended on highways.

When a delegation of Montana business men and road experts motored over Alberta roads recently, they told of what Montana had accomplished. They also found some sections of Alberta highways in inferior condition.

For many years the A.M.A. has campaigned for the objective of having revenues taken from motorists in gasoline tax and motor [illegible] diverted specifically to highway purposes.

Memorial Hall News

The past week has seen considerable activity on the site of the new Memorial Hall. The excavating for the foundation is now well under way and the construction committee, Fred Imler and Ag [illegible] expect to be pouring the cement in a few days. The executive of the Community League has now been reasonably assured that the steel hut will be available when the foundation is completed.

Meanwhile the loans and [illegible] have continued to come in [illegible] total $610.00 or [illegible] per cent of the $2000.00 objective. It might be mentioned here that the Memorial Hall loan drive was not intended to conflict or compete with the Victory Loan. However, we feel that a loan to the Memorial Hall fund is an investment in the future of your community just as the Victory Bond is an investment in the future of your [illegible] both.

Following is a list of those who have already contributed:

Ryley

feel that you will be an asset to our High School and Community life.

Jim Geddes is expected back Sunday after serving overseas these past three years. And Ernest Brown is expected back soon, we are glad to know that E. W. Brown will have his son back with him in business, which will enable him to take things easier. God has truly been merciful to us here in Ryley sending so many of our boys home safely, and we honor the memory of those whom God called "Home".

Miss Kathleen Bendiksen, our Wren is also on her way home.

Martin Finseth who went to Vancouver on account of his health, has returned home again. The damp air did not agree with him. We hope he will soon be feeling better.

Miss Myrtle Anderson, who has taken over the Beauty parlor business from Mrs. Freeman, has been extremely busy. Both Mrs. Freeman and Golama have been busy helping her as she has been so rushed.

Last Friday evening the Skating Club put on a barn dance. It was very well attended, folks coming from Viking, Holden, Roundhill and other outlying points. The profits were over $71.00. This will give the club a boost in their finances.

Miss Helen Kirkelund entertained the BDRDR Club in her home Tuesday evening. They discussed plans and work to be taken up this year by the club, "Interior Decorating."

The High school boys and quite a few of the business men who were able to spent Wednesday afternoon erecting the framework for the new skating rink building and also other necessary work to improve the rink. The size of the skating house will be 12x40 ft. The floor of the building and also the south and west 2x4's were erected. Mrs. Bendiksen, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. Gough, Mrs. Jevning and Mrs. Ireland were down to the rink in the afternoon and helped Mrs. Dan Bendiksen serve lunch to the hungry workers. One couldn't boys at work that "where there's a will, there's a way". Mr. Butler, Mr. Greig, Mr. Oscar Knudslien, Lloyd Fobes, J. Jevning and Rev. Ostrem were amongst the seniors who helped the boys this afternoon.

UNITED CHURCH

Sunday School at 10 a.m. All children welcome.

A Hymnspiration Service will be held in the United Church Sunday evening at 7:30. Everybody welcome.

The W.M.S. of the United Church met at the home of Mrs. J. Hay last Wednesday. Mrs. C. Young was hostess. There was a good attendance.

BETHEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday School at 10:00 a.m. All children not attending any Sunday School welcome. We also have a Bible class in connection with the Sunday school under Mr. Henry Holte's leadership. Those who have attended have really felt spiritually blessed by these glimpses into God's Word. Those who can come are cordially invited.

Rev. Ostrem will conduct an English service at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

On a Sunday afternoon recently, the Luther League gave a program in Holden. Quite a number of members went down and took part.

In the evening Bardo Luther League gave a program in our Church which was enjoyed by all. The church was well filled. "Blest be the tie that binds our hearts in Christian love."

THIRTY-ONE YEARS OF WHEAT PRICES

A correspondent has asked us to figure out the average yearly price of wheat since the start of the first great war. Here it is. The average annual price for 31 years has been $1.21⅝ a bushel for 1 Northern in store Fort William-Port Arthur. The highest average yearly price was $2.63 for the year 1920, and the lowest was 54⅝ cents for the year 1932. Of the 31 years, 20 years have been over $1.00 and 11 years under $1.00. Eliminating the 6 depression years from 1931 to 1936 inclusive—all under a dollar—wheat fell below the dollar cash only 5 times. —Searle Grain Company, Ltd.

CULLING OF YOUNG POULTRY STOCK

(Experimental Farms News)

When the birds in a poultry flock have been in lay a sufficient length of time, weaknesses in certain individuals will appear and culls will show up. In many cases these birds will die, says B. F. Cheney, Head Poultryman, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville, N.S. Many of these birds could have been removed from the flock at an earlier date, with considerable saving in feed, labor and housing space.

There are three particular periods when this can be done conveniently. The first culling should be as day-olds when all small, poorly developed chicks should be disposed of without any hesitation. During the brooding period there will always be some stunted chicks which apparently have not the ability to utilize their feed to advantage. These should be removed as they appear.

When the pullets are being put out on range there is an opportunity to handle the pullets individually. Considerable saving will result if all small pullets and those lacking in pigment of the yellow leg varieties are taken out.

The third and most rigid culling should take place when the birds are being housed for the winter. Many are put into the laying house that should be marketed for meat, thus saving months of useless feeding, as well as effecting a reduction in the future mortality of the flock.

A considerable proportion of adult mortality is not the result of faulty management in the laying house, but rather dates back in most cases to faulty incubation, brooding and rearing, or poor stock. The sooner these faults are recognized by the producer, and rectified, the greater will be the saving.

A Message From The Chairman and Unit Organizer

Our government's system of financing is bound up with the issuing of interest bearing bonds to its citizens. By this means each citizen has a financial, as well as political stake in his or her country. No person or Company has a preference, there are just two kinds of bonds, long term and short term at different rates of interest, and both are open to purchase by any Canadian anywhere. No government has ever been rated perfect, and we do not claim perfection for our government now, but we do know, and so do you, that few, if any people, have fared better than Canadians during the past six years. To our armed forces we owe much, regardless of how pacifist we may be, because if Germany and Japan had not been stopped, Canadian business and Canadian homes as we now have them, would have ceased to exist. Primarily it is to bring the war to a successful conclusion by arranging a proper return to the paths of peace of the armed forces that the money from this loan will be used. To prepare export markets for our products is another important use to which the money will be put.

The Tofield—Ryley area has, for the past eight loans, more than justified the faith placed in it. We are confidently expecting it will again meet the challenge laid down. Help the salesmen by buying readily and freely, and once again may we see the pennant flying from the flagstaff signifying the quota has been reached.

GEO. B. BRACE, Committee Chairman

A. J. H. McCAULEY, Unit Organizer.

Child—Foran Nuptials

The marriage was solemnized Tuesday evening, October 2nd, in Christ Church Cathedral of Muriel Foran, only daughter of Mrs. T. L. Malcolm, 1429 Monterey Avenue, Victoria, and late T. L. Malcolm, and Maj. Frank Albert Edward Child, P.A. Vols., son of Mrs. Ruth Child of Loreburn, Sask., and the late Mr. Child. Rev. H. J. Jones of Qualicum Beach read the service and the traditional wedding music was played.

The bride chose a dressmaker suit of powder blue with blue fox fur cuffs, matching feathered hat and white blouse. Her ensemble was complemented by a strand of pearls and a corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Lt.-Col. M. D. Robertson, commanding officer of P.A. Vols., gave the bride in marriage, and she was attended by Miss Beatrice O'Connor of Toronto. The bridesmaid wore a hunter's green suit, tiny hat of yellow feathers, brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Maj. J. A. Taylor, P.A., Vols. supported the groom and ushering were Capt. George Anthony and Capt. George Huston.

A reception was held in the Princess Charlotte room at the Empress Hotel, where the bride's mother assisted in receiving. Rev. M. C. Ellis and Mrs. [illegible] Ellis presided at the coffee urns.

Taking leave of the guests, the bride wore fingertip length coat of powder blue trimmed with black Persian lamb over her wedding suit and black hat with blue ostrich feather trim. Maj. and Mrs. Child will reside in Victoria following a honeymoon at Harrison Hot Springs.

The Tofield United Church Ladies Aid will hold a sale of dressed chickens, home-cooking, and a tea, in the church school-room on Saturday, October 27th, from 3 to 6 p.m.

RYLEY - Ph. 34

O. KIRKELUND, PROP.

Tomorrow is Another Day

THE future of Canada is bright. Now that Victory is ours and peace has returned to the world, all of us have a definite obligation to our service men and women.

The best medical care and treatment must be given the maimed and the wounded. Thousands of others to be clothed and fed and paid while they learn new peace-time trades and professions. Pensions to be paid the next-of-kin of those who made the supreme sacrifice. These and other rehabilitation outlays involve hundreds of millions of dollars.

Our Allies in liberated countries need food, clothing and other supplies to relieve suffering and distress, and they look to the United Nations, including Canada, to help them.

The money for all these things must be raised through the sale of Victory Bonds. You are again asked to buy Victory Bonds. Victory Bonds, backed by all the wealth of our great Dominion and its people. Remember, Canada will repay you for every dollar you invest in Victory Bonds. The same rate of savings as in previous Victory Loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

There are 4 ways you can buy Victory Bonds:

1. For Cash.
2. By regular monthly payments over a period of 12 months out of your pay envelope.
3. By deferred payment plan. It is a way you can buy more Victory Bonds with money as you get it.
4. By personal arrangement with your bank, trust or loan company.

IT WILL COST MONEY TO WIN THE PEACE

The War is won. In times past when that happened armies were demobilized, taxes were reduced and each nation tried to help itself without regard to the welfare of others. We tried exactly this policy after the last War, but as we all know, not only did that policy get us into serious difficulties but it also sowed the seeds of another War. Apparently, then, it is not only necessary to win the War, but it is also equally necessary to win the Peace, and unless the Peace is won, we shall certainly fall into the same state of world-wide depression and despair as we fell into after the last War. Benefitting by past experiences, however, we can win the Peace, but it will cost a great deal of money, much more, for this year at least, than we can collect in taxes; so once again the Government has to borrow a large sum from the people. Those who subscribe, therefore, to the Ninth Victory Loan—and everyone should do so generously—will help to win the Peace, and so avoid inflation, depression and perhaps another War in our lifetime. Buying Bonds will also help to rehabilitate the Returning Men of the Fighting Forces who won the War for us, and to whose valiant deeds we owe everything we now possess and enjoy.

HALF-TON MOOSE

Montreal—One of the largest express shipments of its kind was carried by the Canadian National Railways the other day from the northern hinterland of Quebec. It was a moose with an antler spread of 54 inches, weighing nearly half a ton. The carcass was being shipped to Ellington, Connecticut.

A NEW TYPE OF COMBINE

A despatch from England tells us that a new simple Combine of special value for small farms is being tried out in Central England. The machine does not cut the crop, but merely cuts off the heads, which are guided to a miniature drum and there threshed. The grain is then laid either in bulk or passes into sacks. It is said that the cost of this little Combine is no more than an ordinary binder. Naturally, the straw is left standing in the field, and while the despatch does not mention it, it is possible that the straw may be subsequently burned or cut and baled.

This seems like a most modern invention. The truth is, however, that it is no more than a copy of a similar device that was used by the ancient Romans to harvest the wheat crops in Gaul and Britain some 1700 or more years ago. The machine then was pushed by a number of oxen, the heads nipped off with a wide knife, guided into a box on a cart, and threshed by hand as the whole machine walked along. The threshed grain was passed behind to something resembling a fanning mill, where the chaff and weeds were cleaned out. This illustrates once more the truth of the old adage, "And there is no new thing under the Sun."

OXYGEN PLANT

The first plant to be erected in the province of New Brunswick for the manufacture of oxygen, or liquid air, on a commercial scale, is now in operation in Moncton, and oxygen is being turned out for use by the Canadian National Railways and other customers. A pipeline conveys the oxygen direct from the plant to the shops of the railway where it is used for welding purposes.

EMPLOYERS PLAN FOR PROBLEMS OF VETERANS' REINSTATEMENT

A study of the plans of industrial and commercial firms across Canada for the re-establishment in employment of former employees who are now being discharged from the Services indicates that Canadian employers are going far beyond the requirements of the compulsory Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, according to Arthur MacNamara, Federal Deputy Minister of Labour. This act, passed in 1942, accompanied by the Reinstatement Regulations of 1945, guarantees the re-employment rights of Canadians who served in the Armed Forces of Canada or any of the United Nations, their Merchant Marine and the Corps of Civilian Fire Fighters in the United Kingdom.

"The attitude of the Canadian Employer" he stated, "is not, 'How much am I required to do?' but rather, 'Now how much more can I do?'"

The reinstatement of the war veteran is recognized by employers everywhere as the "number one" personnel problem of postwar reconstruction. The Deputy Minister emphasized the delicacy of the problems the employer had to face in re-adjusting his staff to fulfil with minimum dislocation the obligation to provide jobs for those who left to enlist. In this connection, many employers have instituted group discussions of veterans' problems for the guidance of their civilian wartime personnel including foreman and senior executives.

A Message TO FARMERS from a Farmer

H. H. Hannam is President and Managing Director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. In a message addressed to farmers, Mr. Hannam says:

"The farmer who is wise will look ahead and plan carefully.

"And in these years when prices and returns are more satisfactory than they have been, when labor is scarce, when farm machinery is restricted, when building materials are not readily available, a good course to follow would be that of putting a substantial share of the year's earnings into sound securities such as Victory Bonds. These reserves will not only provide a measure of insurance against difficulties in less favorable years, but at such time when supplies are favorable and costs will probably be lower, their purchasing power will be greater and return from them correspondingly increased.

"We believe this is good planning from the farmer's standpoint. At the same time, it is the very best of planning from the standpoint of the Nation."

9th Victory Loan Launched

Monday morning, in common with thousands of salesmen from coast to coast, Tofield-Ryley district salesmen started out to sell bonds. The ninth Victory Loan flag was hoisted and the campaign was on. As in previous loans, the first few days selling has not been spectacular but it is expected this unit will roll up an imposing total before the curtain falls on November 10th.

The nation's quota is one billion, five hundred million and of this vast sum, the Tofield-Ryley unit has been asked to sell $243,000. For several years now loans have been launched every six or eight months, but this loan we are informed, will be the only one for twelve months, and is probably the last of this particular type of campaign.

The Tofield-Ryley organization is as follows:

Geo. B. Brace, Chairman.
C. E. Shaw, Vice-Chairman.
A. J. H. McCauley, Unit Organizer

COMMITTEE

A. E. Allan, W. Bellamy, M. C. Hammond, W. C. Swift, (W. Worton, B. Clutterham, W. Moisey, publicity.)

Pte. and Mrs. Don Hardy spent a few days of this week in Calgary. Don reported there to receive his discharge.

Miss Betty Stinson spent the week end visiting in Edmonton.

Mrs. D. K. Allan from Edmonton spent several days in Tofield last week.

Messrs. Jim Secord Jr., and Edwin Cross, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Secord sr.

Mrs. R. Wilson returned home from Edmonton on Saturday. Faye returned with her and will remain for a time.

A. B. Clutterham attended the 49th Battalion banquet held at Edmonton on Saturday last.

Mr. J. E. Stinson attended the funeral of his aunt in Winnipeg recently.

Mr. Louis Gieau left this week for Oklahoma where he will spend the next six months or so.

Mr. Geo. Glover is working in Edmonton at present. Mrs. Glover and daughter Anne are up there also.

CLOTHING DRIVE SUCCESSFUL

The district really "went to town" as far as the recent clothing drive was concerned. There were very few local and district organizations that did not enthusiastically help. Clothing donated was of every kind and description and ranged from a fur coat to a man's formal dress suit. Most of it was more commonplace, but on the whole was of excellent quality. There was one man's navy blue serge suit, excellent serge, which had never been worn, many suits of underwear and hundreds of other articles.

He has seen things : : : : done things : : : : suffered things : : : : that he won't talk much about. But he is doing a lot of thinking. He is thinking of comrades who will not return and of others who have yet to spend months in hospital. He is thinking about dependents of those who died. And he is thinking of his own future and what it holds for him: He realizes that he has a handicap of years to overcome to catch up with those who held civil jobs while he was away fighting.

When he was in the service, he too bought Victory Bonds, because he realized what the aftermath of war would mean to him and countless thousands of his comrades.

WILL YOU Purr ABOUT THE 9th, TOO...?

FOR this Blue Persian—as for every member of the feline family—the traditional ninth life is just as much a matter for purring as any gone before.

Investment-wise Canadians feel just the same about the 9th Victory Loan . . . they are just as keen about the investment value of Victory Bonds as they ever were. With each new loan, they realize—these thoughtful Canadians—that they have made about the finest investment in the world.

Dollars you put into Victory Bonds are double-duty dollars . . . they work for you, the investor—and for your country in her reconversion from war to peace—bringing home our fighting men, taking care of the wounded, aiding in their rehabilitation plans. These dollars are an investment in Victory itself.

Make the most of this ninth opportunity . . . make your dollars work for you and for your Canada. Draw on your savings account—on your future earnings . . . SIGN YOUR NAME FOR VICTORY BONDS—TODAY.

DO YOU NEED FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE TO BUY BONDS? . . . With a small down-payment, you can easily arrange to purchase your bonds through our Time Loan Plan, and pay the balance in easy monthly instalments over the next year

KEEP YOUR BONDS SAFE! Your Victory Bonds are as valuable as cash. For 10c per $100 per year (minimum charge 25c) we will place your bonds in our vaults for safekeeping, clip the coupons and credit you with the proceeds.

Reason enough?

EVEN if there were no other reason for buying all the bonds you can in the 9th Victory Loan, it should be reason enough that men wounded and disabled in action must continue to have the best of care.

Our debt to them is but one of Canada's obligations to all who served, and are still serving, in the armed forces.

Investing our money is after all a small way of repaying a debt which cannot be measured in money. But it is concrete evidence we recognize the debt and that we will not fail to meet the obligation it brings us.

Put all you can into the 9th Victory Loan. Set your personal objective higher to reach and pass the higher objective of the loan.

Miss Dawe of the Ryley Treasury Branch was transferred last Saturday to the Ponoka branch.

Mrs. J. L. McPherson and Mrs. Jean Boyle motored to Bardo to visit Mrs. Arnold Steen.

Mr. Eaton held a sale of household goods last Saturday. He was able to obtain good prices for his effects.

A social will be held jointly by the Oddfellow and Rebecca Lodges next Tuesday evening. Each member is entitled to bring a friend.

Rumor has it that Dan Cupid has been pretty busy lately firing his darts in Ryley and district. Do not be surprised if wedding bells ring out soon.

Mr. Wm. Hughes, a nephew of Dr. J. L. McPherson, is here from the east on a visit with his uncle.

Kay Bendiksen, Jim Geddes, and Ralph Alseth arrived last week and in Halifax and are expected home this week end. Welcome home.

Alseths have been remodelling their house prior to Ralph's return from overseas.

Mrs. Killian and Bernice were Edmonton visitors last Friday.

The Carnival sponsored by the Ryley Curling Club and Skating Club opens Thursday evening.

This past week has seen a great change in the Skating rink Club house. The boys have been busy everyday working on it after school till dark. Larry Butler, we regret to report, contracted a cold and is on [illegible] sick list, after working in the bitter cold Tuesday afternoon. We hope to see you around there again soon Larry, hurry up and get well. Wednesday afternoon, the high school boys, Rev. Ostrem, Mr. Butler, J. Jevning, and Mr. McDonald, turned out and did considerable work on the Rink Club House, the high winds slowed up the work considerably. Ladies serving lunch this past week to the boys were Mrs. Ostrem, Mrs. Butler, Mrs. D [illegible] and Mrs. Ireland.

THE UNITED CHURCH

The Song Service held last Sunday evening was a great success. During the evening, the story of the hymn "The Ninety and Nine" was told.

Sunday School will be held a 10 a.m. as usual. All children not attending any Sunday School are welcome.

Morning Service at 11:00 a.m. conducted by Rev. Geeson. All are cordially welcome.

BETHEL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday School at 10:00 a.m. All children not attending Sunday school anywhere else are welcome. We had two young men in our Bible class who had not attended before, and we earnestly hope that it will not be long before some more young men and ladies join the Bible Class. They are very interesting. The writer speaks from experience.

Luther League will have their regular service Sunday evening at 8 p.m. All are very cordially invited. It has been gratifying to note that more young people have been attending the services. Keep it up as that is where we all belong. And while I think of it I want to say "[illegible]anks" for not working last Sunday.

Professor Moi will speak in the Lutheran church on Sunday, Nov. 4. His service will be in Norwegian and he is substituting for Rev. Ostrem who is attending some special services to be held in the Peace River district.

The Edmonton Circuit convention will be held in Kingman, Nov. 16, 17, and 18th, in the Lutheran church. All who are able are invited to attend.

The Bardo and Ryley Confirmants will have a joint session at 10:00 a.m. Saturday in the Lutheran Church.

The Columbia S.A. rally day will be held at Trondhjem Lutheran Church on November 21st. All are cordially invited.

DOODLEBUG ALLEY

Jasper—Sgt. R. E. Richardson, who was a locomotive fireman with the Canadian National Railways operating out of Jasper, carried his peace-time occupation right into the war with him when he enlisted in 1940. He was made a locomotive engineer with the 2nd Railway Operating Company, R.C.E., in France and ran trains down what he called "Doodlebug Alley" which is in the Antwerp area where V-2's were dropping hourly.

"The RCAF did a thorough job of wrecking the railways in France," says Sgt. Richardson, "in fact, more damage than the V-2's did to the railways in Holland."

He was also in the last war, when he was wounded three times, but this time escaped without injury.

STERLING—

CANADA'S NINTH VICTORY LOAN campaign is now in full swing. Publicity connected with it has been spread from coast to coast. Radio has given some of its highlights, the press has fired some of its big guns, publicity men have arranged rallies, and salesmen are hustling to obtain signed applications. All the above is necessary to create interest and enthusiasm, but all the above would be of little use if the last link in the chain, the most important link, the individual Canadian citizen, did not respond by purchasing Victory Bonds. There are few grown men from the British Isles who did not in their youth possess a silver watch chain. At the turn of the century they were not particularly expensive as we compute prices today, but they were a prized possession, and were subject to much polishing and frequent inspection. But there were different kinds of silver, Mexican, German and Sterling, so if a youth proudly displayed his silver chain to his friends, he had to be sure that it was sterling silver, any other kind just didn't make the right impression. And in the manner of boys there was no subterfuge either, the chain was really inspected and if it was sterling there would be a lion stamped on every link, bar and connecting ring. Be the matter of the chain important or unimportant, only that sterling mark would impress as to its quality, and it had to be on every link, bar and connecting ring. It would seem that a thought is expressed here concerning Canada's Victory Bond Campaign. The sterling hall mark of citizenship is the participation in the country's affairs, and it requires very little inspiration to make one believe the very best sterling hall mark of Canadian citizenship, is the purchase or possession of a Victory Bond. On the links in the chain of world nations, the marks are not all the same. On the links in the chain of Canadian citizenship the marks are not all the same, but one mark that can be standard—and sterling—to every citizen of large or small means, is the possession and purchase of a Victory Bond. This signifies financial participation in the affairs of one of the best nations in the world and is a participation that should be, among Canadian citizens, unanimous and complete.

THE CLOTHING DRIVE—

THE CLOTHING COLLECTION drive which has just been concluded turned out to be a very successful venture. Under the chairmanship of Mr. W. C. Swift, many local and district organizations took the matter up vigorously and while at time of writing, the exact weight of the Tofield and district shipment is not known, there must have been well over a ton. Many a shivering mortal in Europe this winter will be glad of Canada's generosity in which this district played its full part. The assembling, sorting and packing of the many articles of clothing was quite a task, but was cheerfully and willingly done.

LINDBROOK PRIZE ESSAY

By Carol Bracegirdle and Margaret Schmalzbauer

WHY SHOULD I BUY A VICTORY BOND?

People all over Canada have been asking themselves this question. Here are [illegible] the reasons why we should buy a bond in the Ninth Victory Loan which will test our honesty and sincerity in trying to make Canada and the world a better place to live and in fulfilling our obligations to those who did the fighting for us to save civilization.

While this is the Ninth Victory Loan, it is really the First in Vic[illegible] objective is one and a half [illegible]lars. There will be only one [illegible] instead of two this year. It can and will succeed, and I want my name along with those who gave the supreme sacrifice or served overseas, as one who also served.

The money from this loan will be used for three things: 1. To bring home as quickly as possible our boys and girls in the armed services and to demobilize them. 2. Rehabilitation we have promised and must see that the sick and wounded have the best of care and are supplied with artificial limbs and trained to take their place in society and not feel handicapped.

The others whose education was interrupted must be given a chance to complete it. Farm boys who wish to return to that work must be given a chance to establish themselves with government aid. Others must be trained to useful occupations.

Some of the things that our government is doing by which we benefit daily that require money: 1. Family Allowances cost money, but will be a great help during the change. If you can spare it, invest some of this in a bond. 2. Old age and widows' pensions are being raised. 3. Our government must supply credit to countries that need our food but haven't the money to buy it. We must lend our government money to pay back to us the present high prices for our products.

By all pulling together and lending our government money, we help ourselves much more.

When the Victory Salesman calls at your door, invest with a smile in your future.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatton spent several days in Edmonton last week, attending the 49th banquet on Saturday evening.

Mrs. Engleshom and Matthew, and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Roberge and daughter motored to Edmonton on Saturday and also attended the banquet.

Matthew Engleshom had the misfortune to break a bone in his foot when the trailer pole dropped on it while threshing at Schmidt's. He has been unable to work for the past 2 weeks or so.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steen and Mr. and Mrs. Russel Haight left for Lethbridge last Thursday morning and arrived there Friday. The men started to work on Saturday. They expect to be there for the winter and perhaps longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Martens had a sale at Wembley last Thursday. They are leaving for the coast and spent the week end here.

The Lakeshore Ladies' Galloping tea visited Mrs. Jacobson last Friday, three of them, for a cup of tea. Since they are the willing workers, Mrs. Jacobson put them right to work. Well done.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson motored to Edmonton Saturday. Truman and Mavis visited with their parents on Sunday.

Jack Jones was in the city with Ivan Phillips on Friday and helped with the work at home with Bert and Jess on Monday.

Tuesday was innoculation day for scarlet fever at McKenzie.

Mrs. Lars Olson and son Glen spent a week visiting her sister at Camrose and her mother at Wetaskiwin. She returned last Friday.

Mrs. Wickenberg and Janet, and Mrs. Vivian Jones spent several days in the city last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Jones purchased a trailer to live in while Ole works at the coal mine. It will be easy to move around with.

Born: To Mr. and Mrs. John Schmidt, nee Kristine Schroeder, a daughter. Congratulations.

Mrs. Booth was out collecting for the Bible Society this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bailey and the Wickenberg family have been enjoying Sunday picnics lately.

Mr. Olson is busy out selling Victory bonds again.

Ivan Phillips has been busy lately hauling. Sometimes he has to make two trips a day to Edmonton.

Mrs. Ivan Phillips assisted Mrs. Fred Schacher during threshing.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Othen motored down and spent the week end with Engleshams.

LINDBROOK

Ralph Kertzman accompanied by his parents has gone to an army camp in Saskatchewan to obtain his discharge from the army.

Mr. Wellington Glenn left Tuesday for the Fraser Valley to see if the houses there really have golden windows, but being a realist with his feet firmly planted on the sod, he bought a home in Edmonton before going.

The Henry Hoobert family is moving to the Fraser Valley. They held a sale on Wednesday.

Miss Margaret Brady, accompanied by a girl friend from Viking, spent the week end at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. McKenna.

Earl Wilson is holding a sale on November 5, and is moving to the Nelson district in B.C.

Ken Bailey who has been helping his brother in law, Ralph Coonsy at Ross Creek during harvest, is home.

Mr and Mrs C. White of Rowley, and Mrs. L. Richardson of Strome, were visitors at the Richardsons this week.

Mr. E. M. Erickson and Mr. I. B. Moen visited the school this week on [illegible] inspection.

SPEND WISELY

The advantages of reserves in the form of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates are now evident. Compelled to limit purchase of goods when prices were high, unable to buy as a result of limited production, a considerable saving will be effected by those who use their financial reserves wisely.

Each of course will have to decide if present purchase is necessary or whether it will be preferable to wait a while and make do. Excessive demand for goods will send prices soaring—it is necessary only to consider prices paid at some of the recent auction sales. To refrain from spending is sometimes difficult when money is available, but unwise spending usually brings regret.

A feeling of security is fostered by having some reserve with which to face the hazards of the future. Savings in the form of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates can prove a valuable factor in the stabilization of agriculture, and careful thought should be given before too quickly depleting these reserves.

It is nice to know everybody is through threshing around here, and we are sorry to hear of places where the stooks are about snowed under.

CAKE FLOWN OVERSEAS

So that their son, Lt. S. B. Moore, RCNVR, might have "a bit of Canada" at his wedding in England, Mr. and Mrs E. B. Munro of Port Credit, Ont., air-expressed a 17-pound wedding cake. Picked up by Trans-Canada Air Lines at T[illegible] it was delivered to Foynes, Ireland, and then to the express [illegible] of the Canadian National [illegible] at London.

Lt. Munroe and his bride, Leading Wren Eileen Thomason of [illegible], Cheshire, are expected to live in Canada in the near future.

SAVE BABY PIGS

Out of 1,000,000 baby pigs born in Alberta last year 292,000 were lost. A large percentage of the loss of these baby pigs was due to anemia and its prevention is simple. The Alberta livestock supervisor says that the third, tenth and seventeenth day after [illegible] each baby pig should be given a dose of reduced iron. The dose is one-half the quantity which will cover the flat surface of a ten-cent piece—not heaping. This will prevent anemia. It should be remembered that an overdose is dangerous. —Wheat Pool Budget.

FROM "POP" TO MILK

The sugar shortage has brought about an increased consumption of milk due to reduction in the manufacture of soft drinks which consumes large quantities of sugar. The Agricultural Department of the Canadian National Railways reports that in Nova Scotia, restaurants are purchasing more milk from the dairies and offering milk drinks to the public as a substitute for the soft varieties.

DOMINION GOVERNMENT APPOINTS MEAT CONTROLLER FOR BURNS PACKING PLANT

The Minister of Labour, Honourable Humphrey Mitchell, announced in the House of Commons today, that effective from twelve noon, October 12, the Dominion Government had taken over control of the packing plants of Burns and Company located at Winnipeg, Prince Albert, Regina, Edmonton and Vancouver.

By order in Council the Dominion Cabinet has appointed Mr J T Taggart, Chairman of the Meat Board, as Controller for the strike-threatened plants.

The Dominion Government acted swiftly when it became apparent that strike action was contemplated for Monday, October 15. The contemplated action and the reasons for same were explained to the management and to the President of the United Packinghouse Workers of America, Mr Fred Dowling and to Mr A R Mosher, President of the Canadian Congress of Labour.

The Order in Council requires that the company and the union shall proceed with negotiations towards a mutually satisfactory settlement of the dispute without delay in accordance with regulations. It was further stated by the Minister that one or more commissioners shall be appointed to assist in the negotiations.

In all probability, Deputy Controllers will be appointed for each branch plant.

The Minister explained that this prompt action to prevent the threatened strike was taken by the Dominion Government because of the grave consequences which would result from any interruption of meat shipments to Britain and other European countries.

Even if Canada succeeds in keeping up the present volume of supplies there is a danger of many lives being lost this winter through starvation in Europe. A breakdown in the negotiations between employers and employees in respect to working conditions in packing plants, which would develop into a stoppage of work, would not only create a national emergency, but would be considered by most Canadians as little less than criminal.

This exercise of the Dominion Government's authority in the interest of the nation at large makes it obligatory that the employers and the men give serious attention to negotiations and focus attention on the consequences which would result from a stoppage of work.

The obvious parallel to the present situation, the Minister noted was the Richards settlement in a similar packing house dispute last November when agreements were concluded through the mediation of the Government Commissioner.

The Minister was convinced that both parties to the dispute would accept the intervention of the Dominion Government and the plants would continue to operate.

VICTORY LOAN RALLY WELL ATTENDED

The Victory Loan Rally arranged for Saturday night last and held in the Variety Theatre drew a good crowd. The meeting was held under the chairmanship of Mr. Lars Olson, and included quite a number of excellent selections by the Tofield band under Mr Herb Chandler. The band is one of Tofield's spectacular successes and is well worth hearing. The band selections were interspersed with impromptu accordian numbers by Mr. Pat Donnelly.

Addresses were given by Mr. Olson, Mr Geo. B. Bruce, Committee Chairman, and W Worton, publicity member. Two very good films were shown due to the kindness of Mr. Elliott operating the machine, and the program ended with the singing of the National Anthem.

PROTECT THE SOIL

Warning that soil drifting may present a serious problem during the next few months, A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner, points out that with limited rainfall during the past year the stage is being set for a repetition of former wind erosion losses.

No section of the province is immune, says Mr Wilson. Brown soils, black soils, and even the grey wooded soils may drift badly when cleared of their protective covering of trees. The prevention of soil drifting is of equal concern to farmers living in every part of Alberta. Cultivated lands with loose soil, irrespective of their location, are more or less subject to soil drifting. Summerfallow, and those fields where crops were short and the stubble light will need particular attention. Where sufficient trash cover is not available, the fields should at least be ridged to provide a lumpy surface as a protection against erosion.

M. D. Meeting Report

Mr. McKernan of Lakeview waited on the council asking for help to make some improvements at the Lakeview summer resort, the cost to be shared equally by the M.D. and Mr. McKernan. This matter was left in Councillor Swabey's hands with authority to spend up to $200.00 for this project.

A letter of complaint from Mr. M. Moreland re a road allowance at his farm also a letter from R. Kay of Edmonton stating that he would refuse to sell a roadway but would be willing to rent for a roadway out from the Moreland place.

Deputy Reeve Ovens moved that the whole matter be set before the Dept. of Public Works and ask their advice and recommendation for this roadway. Carried.

A letter from Olaf Erickson re the ownership of certain lands was tabled for investigation.

Moved by Councillor Giebelhaus that the canvases to be used to cover the machinery be purchased from the Union Tractor Co. Carried.

Mr. Pete Osadchuk waited on the council re gravel taken from pits on his farm by the Golka Gravel Co., to ascertain who was going to pay for said gravel.

A representative of the Watrous Machine Co. of Edmonton called with news of the new two-cycle Diesel Allis Chalmers tractors and other machines.

Moved by Councillor Swabey that an order for two power mowing machines be ordered. Carried.

Mr. Sam Hamilton of the Adams Machine Co., called and stated that windshield wipers, shatter-proof windshields and extra heavy tires could be secured for the No. 420 on order for the additional sum of $140. It was decided to have these put on the new machine.

Mr. J. E. Stinson of Tofield called to enquire about the purchasing of the Tofield office. He was informed that the tenders were still open and to put a bid in on same.

Representative from the Union Tractor Co. called to say the Cat D8 with road patrol would be delivered November 15th.

Councillor Swabey moved that the old D8 be taken in on the new unit. Carried.

Mr. Mosby interviewed the council re the taxes and share of crop on the SE 16-46-17, and was informed that council could not cancel taxes on any land, but if relief were needed, that would be considered later.

Notice of one mother's allowance being cancelled was received.

The appointment of delegates to the Alberta Association of M.D.'s was left until the November meeting.

Fred Lashaski was granted tax exemption on SW 32-48-16 for 1944-45.

One old age pension application was approved by motion of Councillor Giebelhaus. Asst. Sec. was bonded for $10,000 by motion of Deputy Reeve Ovens.

A letter from the Calgary Power Co. drawing attention to the dangerous condition of some of the power lines after road grading had left poles with insufficient dirt to hold in case of a strong wind, and asking that more co-operation be given. Councillor Moen moved that a letter be sent to the Power Co. advising them that in future all power lines must be placed inside fence lines, so ditches would not be too close and make a hazard of the power lines. Carried.

Lots 7, 8, 9, 10 Block 1, Kingman, were sold to Green Pruden for $60.00 and given first reading by motion of Reeve Anderson, seconded by J. Swabey.

A request for relief was given to Councillor Swabey to be attended to. Mr. L. E. Jacobson of Strome was informed that the taxes on SW 6-47-14 were not payable by him.

John Romanuck wanted pay for mail box destroyed by the gravel trucks when working for the Municipality. He was informed that this could not be done by the M.D.

Price per hour for custom work by the D8 was set at $2.00 over the price paid by divisions when used by them.

Councillor Lashaski moved that the price per hour for the Austin-Western be set at $4.00. Carried.

Adjournment for supper.

The Income Tax Department notified the office that their representative would be in the municipal office shortly to inspect the books for acreage of each ratepayer in the municipality.

By-law No. 168 was given 3rd reading by motion of Dep. Reeve Ovens.

War Assets Corporation sent a letter saying that they had trucks and jeeps for sale to farmers.

Moved by Coun. Ovens that the caveat against NW 4-48-14 be cancelled and seed grain lien on NW 35-48-14. Carried.

The matter of seed grain lien on 25-47-15 was tabled.

1st and 2nd reading to the sale of lot 27, blk. 6, Bruce, to Frank Mincher for $10.00 was passed.

Sale of lots 12 and 13, Bruce, for $10.00 to Dan Teske was given first and second reading.

Two old-age pensions were approved by motion by Reeve Anderson.

Pound fee due Richard Loney was ordered paid less $4.00 broadcasting fee that was not ordered.

A letter from Andrew Finnell, Assessor, re the progress of the assessors was read.

Reeve Anderson appointed Fred Wall as pound-keeper at 26-49-21. Carried.

Councillor Lucas moved that payment for damage by horse be refused as price asked was far in excess of damage done.

Councillor Moen moved that the Salvation Army be asked to care for an indigent lady from the district. Carried. Reeve Anderson moved that the Provincial Training School be asked to care for invalid boy. Carried.

Wage for Edon Ray was set at 60c per hour.

Councillor Giebelhaus moved that Mrs. Grinde be given the land that was purchased by the M.D. for the gravel on said land, but that not any money be given.

Hospital accounts were passed.

Representatives of the Golka Gravel Co. called to make final settlement for work done for the M.D. during the summer, and to thank the councillors for the business and the assistance given them while at work in the district. Councillor Giebelhaus moved the payment of all bills and accounts. Carried.

Next meeting to be held in Ryley on November 9th at 10 a.m.

THE LUNCH BOX

Are your children getting half a hog's chance? asks Miss B. Joyce Lewis, Nutritionist for the Home Economics Service. Miss Lewis points out that protein supplements for hogs have been widely stressed and that more attention could be well given to the diet of our children. Milk is good for hogs, says Miss Lewis, but don't forget that your children need it too.

Youngsters need to start for school with a proper breakfast under their belts, and a well planned lunch box under their arms unless they come home at noon. The lunch box should contain milk, muscle builders, a fruit or vegetable, and dark bread or bread made with Vitamin B approved flour.

Milk is essential for growth, and for strong bones and teeth. Protein food such as meat, fish eggs, cheese, dried peas and beans or peanut butter, are needed to build muscles and supply minerals and vitamins for growth and health. Fruits and vegetables supply more of the much needed minerals and vitamins. Wholesome bread provides extra iron for good red blood, and B vitamins for steady nerves, good digestion, and a good disposition. Our Alberta boys and girls are entitled to much more than a hog's chance in their diet.

Information on planning the school lunch is readily available from the Home Economics Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, and enquiries will receive prompt attention.

I.O.D.E NOTES

The local school children will be selling out Hallowe'en Shell Out tickets as in former years. As the Milk for Britain Fund is now closed, the money obtained from the tickets will be used for school purposes. The I.O.D.E. is giving prizes to the individual girl and boy in each of the rooms two, three and four, selling the largest amount of tickets. We feel certain we can depend upon the public being as generous in this Hallowe'en campaign as in former years.

THE ROAD BACK IS LONG AND HARD

THOUSANDS of men and women, who gave the best years of their lives fighting for us, are now going out into the world as normal, peace-loving Canadians.

But the road back to civilian life is long and hard. The transformation of a man, trained in the science of killing, into a peaceful citizen cannot be accomplished overnight. The period of re-adjustment and re-establishment is extremely difficult.

That is why Canada is carrying on an extensive rehabilitation programme. It will better equip our returned men and women to open the doors to opportunity in a world at peace. But our rehabilitation programme costs money — a lot of money.

Canada must borrow this money from people like yourselves—loyal, hard-working, patriotic Canadians—out of incomes and savings.

Your purchase of bonds carries with it the highest prestige. It places you alongside the fighting men who have "Signed Their Name For Victory". So buy two instead of one and put your dollars to work to help our fighting men along the long road back.

WESLAKE

(Delayed)

A dance was held at the Beaver Hill Hall on Friday, the 12th, in honour of Doreen Ellis and Arthur Tiedemann who were celebrating their birthdays. A good time was had by all.

The next meeting of the Weslake Home Makers' Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Ed Tiedemann on Wednesday, Nov. 7th. Everybody welcome.

Ducky Goubault and George Robinson are out threshing with the Bert Dunn outfit.

Mr. Young, the poultry buyer from Edmonton was in the district buying poultry this week.

The Herbert threshing outfit is in full swing. Mel Wood and Pat Weslake are assisting.

Little David Bailey is staying with his grandma Bailey while his mother is helping a sick friend in the city.

Hunters have been doing good work lately shooting in the district, which means we are in for some good weather for a spell. Here's hoping.

Miss Lila Story was an Edmonton visitor on Saturday. So also was Mrs. Emile Goubault.

Mrs. Schmalzbauer returned from the city on Saturday with a little boy, 3 years old.

TUESDAY, 23rd

Threshing is finished in the Weslake district, and not too soon, by the look of the weather. Some of the wheat yielded 31 bushels to the acre, that being better than some on the higher priced land.

Miss Murray and Miss Fodchuk, the school division nurses, were inoculating the children of the district for scarlet fever recently.

Rolland Herbert got gassed when he was working around the tractor at threshing time. We hope he has quite recovered.

V

SMALL BUT MIGHTY

Scout Dick Carney of Longview, Texas, was too small and light to pass his Red Cross Life Saving tests. This did not stop him plunging into 20 feet of water and saving a woman and her seven year old son, after the husband drowned in a vain attempt to save them.

MINISTIK

Mr. J. Law took the services last Sunday. There was a fair attendance and Mr. Law gave a fine address. He has the makings of a good preacher. The next service will be held two weeks from last Sunday, Nov. 4th.

Don Miller, Muriel and baby, were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Barnes.

We hear that Ed Stevens has got his discharge and he is expected home in the near future.

Grandpa Kleinschroth had a pleasant surprise the other day when he opened a half pound of Chateau tobacco he found a fifty-cent piece on top then when he emptied the last out there was another fifty-cent piece here.

All the threshing is cleaned up in this district. It would be nice if this nice weather would last for a month yet.

There was a nice attendance at the dance on Friday night, but as your writer was not there, he cannot report it.

Quite a few of our young people attended the dance at Lindbrook on Saturday night.

By the time this is in print, Mr Ernest Nix, Student, will be in London England, where he has been sent by the Young People's Societies as their delegate.

Miss Gross is visiting Mr and Mrs. A. Kleinschroth for a few days.

LARGE ORDER FOR CANNED MILK

The Central Alberta Dairy Pool creamery at Red Deer has received a contract from the dairy products board at Ottawa for 100 carloads of especially made evaporated milk of a high percentage of cream (9 per cent butterfat). The first shipments will be made to India and others will go to the Middle East and Europe.

Some 10,000 farmer members of the Central Alberta Dairy Pool will benefit as a result of this large order. The big dairy co-operative operates creameries at Alix, Bentley, Eckville, Delburne, Elnora, Ponoka, Olds, Edberg, Stettler, Coronation and Red Deer. —Wheat Pool Budget.

HASTINGS LAKE

Chris Champion and Duncan Tough arrived home from Overseas on Thursday. Welcome home, boys.

Pte. Jack Vice was home on leave from Vancouver.

Miss Doreen Ellis is now attending school in Tofield.

The Monthly Red Cross meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ellis on Wednesday, Oct. 17. They are gathering funds to welcome home the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Vice are now living in their new home.

The week-end visitors to the city were: Mr. and Mrs. Gladue, Mrs. A. Rowland, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Tough, and Mrs. J. Vice.

Their Names Are Held In Lasting Praise

With joy they come,
And doors are open wide,
While patient hearts with fervour thrill
To hail them home.
With hush profound
The traffic stills along the street,
For thither come the khaki-clad
With honor crown'd,
And steps of martial feet.
The thousands throng the city square
And lamps are brilliant in the tower,
A tender grace pervades the air
And music softly soothes the hour.
And noble words in messages well
To those whose form again we see,
For those in memory—love that dwell
Who gave their all to keep us free.
Through parting clouds broad wings expand,
But some are ag'd and bullet-torn;
They cheer'd the ranks in many-a-land.
Their valor glistens as the morn.
And vision holds the boys in blue,
In double convoy night and day;
They kept the loyal standard true,
And held the subtle foe at bay.
The kindly ensigns grace the stern,
With ships to windward and the lee,
While lofty funnels darkly burn,
In joyous freedom of the sea,
May friendship broaden more and more,
In light of Christian faith and love
And bind the near and farther shore,
Inspired by wisdom from above.
—S. C. Vance, Kingman.

'THE TOFIELD MERCURY

Vol. XXX, No. 25 Thursday, November 1st, 1945 $2.00 Per Year. In U.S.A. $2.50

LOCAL VICTORY LOAN COMMITTEE FIND GOING TOUGH

The Victory Loan salesmen will really need to step on it if the Tofield-Ryley quota is going to be reached. So far, there have been few large purchases but by steady canvassing the total is gradually rising. At time of writing (Thursday afternoon) it has probably reached over the $50,000 mark.

Throughout the Dominion the loan is going over well and in the Alberta cities good progress is reported. In some rural districts the returns are not encouraging, but in others the results are good.

HOW WE ARE DOING

5th Day, 22 applications for $5800.
6th Day, 22 applications for $9150.
7th Day, 14 applications for $3450.

Memorial Hall News

The snow storm on Saturday halted temporarily the work on the new Memorial Hall. However Messrs. Dodds and Imler of the construction committee believe that, given favorable weather, one good day will finish the foundation so that the building may be erected this year.

In the meantime, don't forget those loans and donations. A complete list of subscribers will again be published after conclusion of the Victory Loan.

8th Day, 8 applications for $2000.
9th Day, 9 applications for $1550.
10th Day, 17 applications for 10,750.00.

This makes a total for the 10 days of 170 applications for $64,400.00.

Bring These
100 Million Dollars
TO ALBERTA
During the next twelve months hundreds of millions of dollars must be loaned to foreign countries so that they can continue to buy in Canada.
It is estimated that over 100 Million Dollars will be spent right here in Albert for the products of Alberta Farms.

How It Is Done

Two of us were privileged to drive through the country Wednesday afternoon. Our mission was to sell victory bonds. We called in at a typical Alberta farm home. The house was well kept, the home comfortable, the man and wife in their early thirties, a little girl of four or five, two cats, a dog, and to make it complete, a freshly killed coyote on the outside steps in the process of being skinned. As we said, a typical Alberta home. On this trip the writer was more or less excess baggage, useful for opening gates and giving the car a shove to get out of a tough spot. But at this call there was the pleasure of being entertained by the four-year-old, her three dolls, one with a badly cracked head which was beyond the scope of aspirin, and the cat which was quite content to be stroked. While thus entertained, the selling process proceeded.

At first this young farmer wasn't sure whether he wanted any bonds or not. Then he thought a hundred, then five hundred, then a thousand, all the time the salesman was explaining how easy it was to borrow against them and how the deferred payments worked. "Well", said the young farmer, "Make it fifteen hundred cash." "May as well make it two thousand" said the salesman, "making the other five hundred deferred payments." "What do you say, Mother?" said the young farmer. "Please yourself," Mother said. "Well," said the young farmer, "make it two thousand cash." The application was filled out and signed. By this time the writer knew the history of the dolls, how Mama mended her (the dolls) head, the cat was anxious to get moving and the mission was accomplished.

WESLAKE

Visitors to the city this week were Miss Adele and Leon Goubault, and Mrs. Everett.

Bob Herbert returned from Fort Smith and is visiting home folks. He reports Fort Smith a grand country to make money but not so good to live in.

Lloyd Smith, Mrs. E. Tiedeman's nephew, has arrived back from overseas.

The Weslake school children had a grand time today ducking for apples.

A Box Social and Dance is being held in the Deville school in aid of the Christmas concert.

The Weslake Homemakers Club are raffling a quilt in aid of War funds.

To Our Mennonite Friends

It is many years since I first met a Mennonite. It is many years since I first heard a Mennonite minister preach. But even though more than half a life time has passed, even though two world wars have been fought, even though the west has changed from oxen, horses, tractors wagons, buggies, automobiles, there is still the old sense of satisfaction in having met them.

Mennonite doctrine and war are, we know, poles apart, and for this reason Mennonites have always preferred to make any national contribution in a manner chosen by themselves. But the war is now over, this is the dawn of another and we all hope, better day. The Dominion of Canada is appealing to all its citizens to buy bonds, the Alberta Provincial Committee does not want any of its units to fail, and the Tofield-Ryley Unit certainly does not want to be one of the failures. Mennonites in this area constitute a goodly portion of our population, they are good land choosers, they are good farmers, by and large they are good money makers. And to these people whom it is given to be able to cooperate with nature, Canada has been good. So how about it, fellows. How about a hundred thousand dollars from the Mennonites alone. Wouldn't it be a wonderful tribute to the cause of religious freedom? Wouldn't it be a wonderful tribute to those through whose efforts all our homes were kept free of the oppressor? Wouldn't it be a wonderful tribute to those who gave their all? Hospitalization, rehabilitation, education, all have to be attended to and Canadians must do it. Come on, fellows, we need your help in this victory loan for rehabilitation purposes. Be one with us as well as one of us.

LOCAL & PERSONAL

Stan Snell, who has been serving with the Canadian Army overseas for several years, arrived home a week or two ago.

Sgt. Wendell Wiley, another of our men serving overseas, arrived home on Wednesday from overseas. Mrs. Wiley and two children were in Edmonton to meet him.

Mrs. Johnston Ferguson arrived home from the hospital this week.

Messrs. Jim and Chas McAllister spent the week end here.

The Teachers' Convention is being held in Edmonton this week. Our local teachers are attending it, and the school children are happy with a two-day holiday.

Mrs. Denny was a visitor in Tofield and district this week.

Mr. McGuire and Jean were in Edmonton on Thursday last to welcome Clarence home from overseas.

Miss Minnie McFadyn of Viking spent the week end at the McGuire home.

Paul Kallal, M.M., arrived home from overseas on Tuesday night. Paul had spent four years overseas and was a dispatch rider with the Canadian army. Enroute home he visited his sister Margaret at Ottawa, who is a member of the CWAC and is stationed there, and also his sister Connie at Toronto, who is an x-ray technician in that city.

RONNING LEAVES FOR POST IN CHINA

Making the first lap of a journey by rail and air half way around the world to Chungking, China, Sqdn. Ldr. C. A. Ronning, former provincial leader of the CCF party, left Edmonton early Saturday for New York.

In Chungking he will be attached in a civilian capacity to the Canadian embassy.

For the past five years, Sqdn. Ldr. Ronning has been in the intelligence division of the RCAF, in a special decoding capacity. He was born in China, the son of a missionary.

He will fly to China from New York by way of the Azores and Egypt.

Prior to the war he was principal of the Camrose Lutheran college and from 1932 until 1935 was a U.F.A. member of the provincial legislature. He later became active in the CCF movement and besides being provincial leader for the party at one time, [illegible] an election as a party candidate.

DISCHARGED PERSONNEL
MAY RETURN TO OLD JOBS
The Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act, passed by Parliament in 1942, sets forth conditions under which employers MUST REINSTATE their former employees in their employment after discharge.
This Act and its Regulations are administered by the Dominion Minister of Labour, through the National Employment Service. Reinstatement Officers are available in the National Employment Offices to answer inquiries, and assist in adjusting cases.
Employees—either men or women—are to be reinstated if:
(a) they worked for their employer 3 months immediately prior to enlistment, and were not replacing another employee who has since been reinstated;
(b) they left their employment to join the Armed Services, the Merchant Marine, or the Fire Fighters Corps;
(c) they apply to their employer for reinstatement, verbally or in writing, within 3 months following discharge in Canada or 4 months if discharged Overseas.
Provision may be made for extension of time if the employee's health prevents him or her from returning within the specified three months. In this event, the employer must be advised within the 3 or 4 months, as the case may be.
The following points in the legislation are also important:
1. Discharged men and women upon reinstatement are to be given conditions not less favourable than would have been enjoyed had they continued in employment instead of joining the Forces.
2. The period of time spent with the Armed Services is to count for seniority rights, pension rights, vacations with pay, and certain other benefits.
3. Discharged personnel who cannot perform their former duties are to be reinstated in the most suitable employment available, at which they are capable of working.
4. If an employer dismisses a reinstated employee within 6 months, he must be able to prove in court that he had reasonable cause for so doing.
ALL EX-SERVICE MEN AND WOMEN ARE URGED TO USE THE FACILITIES OF THE NATIONAL EMPLOYMENT SERVICE WHEN LOOKING FOR WORK.

ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY
11:00 a.m. Lakeshore
2:00 p.m. Ketchamoot
7:30 p.m. Tofield
11:00 a.m. Tofield Sunday School

This is the 51st anniversary of the Tofield United Church. For this occasion, Rev. Clifford Elson, M.A., will preach the anniversary sermon. Special music by the senior choir is being arranged and all are cordially invited to attend.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

A very successful Sunday School Institute was held in the United Church on Friday afternoon beginning at 3:00 p.m. with key workers from all appointments present as well as a group of workers from the Holden and Ryley charges. Leaders were Rev. Otto Rollis, convenor of Christian Education of the Alberta Conference, of Turner Valley and Rev. Arthur Morgan, Boys' Work Secretary for Alberta. Some very worthwhile discussions were held pertaining to the home, the school and the church. A supper meeting was held at the church basement, followed by a sing [illegible] led by Mr Chandler. The discussions were carried on during the evening and all workers were challenged to give more attention to boys and girls and youth. The evening closed with a very inspirational service conducted by the Boys' Work secretary. It has been a long time since one of these meetings have been held in this area and was believed to be a most worthwhile venture.

KINGMAN

There will be confirmation services at the Lutheran Church on Sunday, November 11th, at 11 o'clock. The class consists of Leroy Bjergum, Norman Hovelson, Billie Christensen, Gordon Johnson, and Arlot Johnson.

There will be Circuit Meetings held at the Lutheran Church on November 16, 17, and 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. Wick spent the week end at Meeting Creek, and they spent Monday in Ferintosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingvald Ness and children were visitors at Hughenden last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wempe, Eileen and Mark, were Sunday guests at the W. E. Fenwick home.

There will be a Luther League meeting on Sunday, November 4th, at 8 o'clock in the evening.

THE LOYAL EDMONTON REGIMENT (49th) REUNION

On Saturday, October 20th, exactly two weeks after the return of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment from overseas, a reunion of the 49th, veterans of the two wars—the old 49th and the Loyal Edmonton—was held at the Prince of Wales Armoury. All arrangements for this were made by the 49th Battalion Association of Edmonton. Approximately 1,000 veterans were present, coming from all parts of the province. It was regarded as the largest, most successful and most enjoyable military reunion ever held in the City of Edmonton.

The programme started about 7:30 p.m. Later the guests went to their places at the banquet tables as Bonnie Dundee—regimental march of the 49th and The Loyal Edmonton—was played by the pipe band of the 2nd Bn. (R) Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

Guests at the head table included Mrs. Griesbach, wife of the late Maj. General W. A. Griesbach, C.B., C.M.G., D.S.O., V.D., Brig. J. C. Jefferson, D.S.O. and bar, Lt. Col. W. T. Cromb, D.S.O., Lt. Col. W. G. Stillman, E.D., A. L. Smith, 49th Bn. Assoc. President, A. J. Hidson, Earle Hay and Mr. and Mrs. John Michaels.

Special souvenir programmes were issued to all guests and were passed from hand to hand for autographs. The original entertainment which included speeches had to be cancelled in favour of the more important business of reunion and meeting of old friends after the passing of many years. Colourful decorations decorated the great drill hall, particularly the banqueting tables, which created an impression to be long remembered. The evening will always stand out as a special chapter in the expanding history of The Loyal Edmontons, now famous in many lands, and the pride of Alberta's capital city.

LAKESHORE

A Hallowe'en party was held by the Lakeshore School children and their teacher on Wednesday, October 31. A good time was reported by all.

Walter Eaton left for Winnipeg on Tuesday night after spending the past month at his home here.

The War Workers planned to have their final meeting on Friday, October 26th, but it was postponed because of the condition of the road.

Mildred Seale and Ardis Wood visited Edmonton on Tuesday last.

Mrs. Bertha Seale spent the week end visiting with Miriam in Manville.

The Ladies' Aid will hold their annual chicken supper at the Lakeshore school on November 2nd.

Mrs. T. D. Ferguson was an Edmonton visitor one day last week.

Mrs. Owen Eaton attended the funeral of her uncle in Lamont on Friday last.

Geo. Abernethy has been doing some building lately.

Mel and Lloyd Wood attended the Hereford sale at Rosalind last week.

MR. AND MRS. EARLE WILSON HONORED

A farewell service was given for Mr. and Mrs. Earle Wilson and Bobbie at the First Baptist Church in Tofield on Tuesday, October 30th, followed by refreshments in the parsonage. Favorite selections of the Wilson family were sung by everyone present. Mrs. Barber of Ministik rendered a solo and Mrs. Alan Herndon left an appropriate verse of scripture with the family. Rev. and Mrs. Seamon Krup sang a duet and Mrs. A. N. Booth gave a reading. Mrs. Wilson, who has resigned her position as church clerk and Sunday school superintendent, spoke a few words in leaving.

Gifts were presented from the church and Sunday school to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Bobbie. Mrs. George Francis closed in prayer, after which all in attendance enjoyed lunch in the parsonage. There were about thirty-two present.

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H.G.L. Strange

CANADA RAISING TARIFFS

Those who believe in freer trade between the nations, hence in enlarged worldwide markets for our wheat and other Canadian products, were shocked indeed when they noticed that the Canadian Government instead of decreasing tariffs, as we all felt it was about to do, has actually increased the tariffs by substantial amounts on several important items. Steel tubes, a most important material for almost every industry in Canada, have had the tariff increased from 5 to 20 percent; and Diesel engines, which are used by many factories, and by country elevators, and which hitherto have been imported free of duty, are now to have a duty impose, against them of 25 per cent.

This is putting the economic [illegible] back with avengeance. We all know that imports give foreigners Canadian dollars with which to buy our wheat and other export products. As we decrease imports, so therefore do we automatically decrease exports. Surpluses then arise, weigh on the market and so reduce prices. Tariffs too, sow the seeds of war. The world can have peace and freer trade, but it can only have tariffs at the expense of eventual war. We have been told this over and over again by great authorities. All farmers should protest strongly against these new Canadian tariffs.

WELL CURBING

We now have a quantity of well curbing. Also all kinds of construction and finishing material.

THE NINTH VICTORY LOAN—

AS THIS IS BEING WRITTEN (Thursday afternoon) we realize that Canada is now in the tenth day of the Victory Loan drive which is just a little better than half way, as in a three week selling campaign, there are but eighteen actual selling days. We also realize that the Tofield-Ryley Unit, at time of writing, is quite a long way from half way as regards to the total amount of the objective to be reached, and unless something is done and done quickly, the Tofield-Ryley unit is not going to be among the Alberta units to attain their goal. It may not be general knowledge just how the quotas for the different units were set for the ninth loan, and a simple explanation as regards this might help our readers to understand that $245,000.00 figure. The total amount of bonds sold within the unit during the seventh and eighth loans were added together and fifty-five per cent of this was taken as the quota for the ninth loan. Originally quotas were worked out on some other basis and have in common and in proportion to the Provincial and Dominion quotas, been increasing with each successive loan.

There are many reasons why folk should buy ninth Victory Loan bonds. They have been enumerated in the press and over the air time and time again, and we will not attempt to bore the reader by going over them in detail now. These reasons embody all the emotions, thankfulness for victory, gratitude for services rendered, patriotism for love of country, care of the wounded, rehabilitation of the sound, some provision for export markets and a number of others. They are all good reasons, each one by itself being sufficient and grouped together should be irresistible. But there is one outstanding reason that salesmen of and customers for Victory Bonds should keep in mind, namely, that the money is available. And the few cases where it is not available, the deferred payment plan takes care of. It may or may not be news to the ordinary reader, but the deposits in Canadian banks were higher at the commencement of the ninth loan than they were at the commencement of the eighth loan. .This statement is also true of deposits in Alberta banks and to get really close to home, is also true of deposits in the Tofield bank. .Then why the hesitation? Is it fear? If so, there need be none because a Victory Bond is as good or better than your money. Is it failing to realize the factor of pride of possession? If so, you can depend upon it someone not very far from your home feels a sense of satisfaction through owning a sheaf of bonds. Is it because the war is over and there is a let down feeling? If so, remember only as regards fighting is the war over, there is a huge amount of work yet to be done. Is it because you believe the big fellows will put the loan over? If so, and assuming the large corporations could put it over which is doubtful, it would be folly on the people's part to allow them to do so. Everything written and said about the "forty big shots" may not be true, but for heaven's sake, don't let us play into their hands. The truth is, the government of Canada wants these bonds spread over the entire population, anyone who has or who can earn money can buy one. Owning Victory bonds is a step towards financial security, it is a mark of citizenship, (all are not privileged to wear service ribbons), it is a sign of a financially and socially sound community to appear in the list that have met their objective, and finally there is that debt to those whom you can never see again, whom you cannot welcome home, those whose hands you cannot shake.

Herein lies a challenge to every resident of the Tofield-Ryley area, and to every salesman within that area. Our objective will only be met by salesmen putting forth every effort and residents meeting them better than half way.

The following is a letter received by the Edmonton Victory Loan Office from Mr. J. W. Stambaugh of Bruce, and shows what can and is being done in a district as close as the Holden area is to us. This letter was just received by the Tofield office this, Thursday, morning and incorporated into this writing this afternoon.

Edmonton Office,
Edmonton, Alta.
Dear Sir:

You asked me what in my opinion are the principal reasons that we have been able to get over 50 per cent of our quota the first week.

In the first place when we heard that our quota was increased 47,000 over the 8th Victory Loan quota, we were plain scared, being hailed out and dried out, prospects did not look very good, however the Committee felt whatever the quota was, we would dig in and do our best. We had two Salesmens' meetings, both attended and addressed by our Divisional Organizer, Mr. McDonald, and after listening to Mr. McDonald we decided our quota was too small and set our objective up another 40,000 and went to work.

The Committee figured this was a real challenge and have accepted it. We believe it would be humiliating to fail on the Ninth and greatest Victory Loan, and we know that the longer we put it off the harder it would be.

We have had amazing success with the deferred letter. We have in some cases been able to increase purchases from Fifty up to Five Hundred Dollars. You can readily see with lit-

BARDO

MITCHELL—STIRRETT

Miss Eileen Stirrett, only daughter of Mr. Sam Stirrett and the late Mrs. Stirrett and Mr Angus Mitchell were quietly married on Tuesday, October 16th, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. D. K. Allen, Edmonton. Rev. Allen performed the marriage rites.

The bride wore a gold dressmaker suit with brown accessories, and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The only attendant of the bride was Miss Rebecca Eide, niece of the groom. She wore a rose dress with blue accessories and a corsage of rose buds.

Mr. Eston Stirrett, brother of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Younie of Edmonton, to immediate relatives. The young couple left later for a honeymoon at Vancouver and Victoria. On return Mr. [illegible] Mrs. Mitchell will reside temporarily on the Reuben Eide farm at Bardo.

Out of town guests at the wedding were, Mrs. W. Mitchell, Mrs. A. Kindley, and Miss Norma Kindley. Their many friends offer congratulations and best wishes.

Hallowe'eners made their annual visit on Wednesday night.

A number from Bardo attended the Ryley carnival and dance last Friday night.

Mrs. Arnold Steen, Mrs. Nils Falkeid, Irene Rude, Muriel Finseth, Carey Brochan, Leroy Finseth, Bonnie Finseth, Eddie Steen and Milton Jevning were in Edmonton to hear the Don Cossacks Russian Male Chorus at the Empire Theatre on Oct. 18.

Mrs. O. Vested, New Westminster, B.C., (the former Miriam Hendrickson) is here visiting with relatives. Mrs. Vested is a niece of Mrs. B. Anderson, Geo. Hendrickson and Ivar Moen.

LAW Edna Steen, RCAF, Calgary, and Earle Kindley, Edmonton, were home over the week end.

Leonard and Gordon Johnson of La Glace, Alta., are local visitors.

Cpl. Milton Jevning has gone to Lethbridge where he is doing guard duty at the prison camp.

Mrs. Juliette Johanson and family moved to Edmonton on Tuesday. Geo. Hendrickson trucked her household effects. Mrs. Johanson has resided on the P. B. Anderson place for the past year and a half.

Arnold Steen is doing carpenter work on Mrs. Johanson's house in Edmonton.

A building has been moved onto the Bardo school grounds to be used as a garage.

Ivan Foshaug, Leonard Stauffer, Herman Lawson, John and Henry McGinitie, are away on a Moose hunt in the Edson country.

The recent heavy snowfall has left a wintry appearance, and we are looking forward to a good old-time chinook.

Pete Larbekmo has purchased an aircraft motor for his snowmobile, which he is remodelling. This motor will increase the speed and power to his snowmobile.

Threshing outfits completed their runs last week. Finseth and Rude outfit threshed eleven jobs in twelve days. Highest oat yield was 40 bus. per acre, on a 30 acre field of Ivar Moen's.

Henry Holte, our milk man upset his truck last Friday with a load of milk while on his way to Edmonton. The accident occurred near Cooking lake, when Mr. Holte had to wheel his truck into the ditch to avoid hitting an oncoming car. Mr. Holte escaped injury, though the truck box was smashed and some of the milk went flowing down the gutter.

AMISK CREEK

Rev. G. Ostrem conducted service at the Amisk Creek Church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Amisk Creek Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. A. Patterson, November 13. Members are requested to come early as this will be our "Ingathering Day" as well as the yearly meeting.

What makes a little farm a BIG FARM?

It has been said that "a rich man is only a poor man with money". You have also heard that "money makes the mare go" and that "nothing succeeds like success".

Old sayings like these tell you to see the manager of the Bank of Montreal if you need money to make your farm a better farm—if you see opportunities for increased income from increased production.

You do not ask a favour when you ask for a loan at the Bank of Montreal. Lending money is our business and our manager will welcome the opportunity of discussing your plans with you. He will be glad to study your prospects with you, plan with you, discuss actual and promised revenue, and work out with you a plan of convenient repayments.

Many big farms—successful farms—in all parts of Canada were little farms once. For their development many of their owners have relied on timely loans from the Bank of Montreal. Your B of M manager invites you to share their experience.

DO YOU KNOW HOW MUCH A KILOWATT HOUR IS?

YOU CAN'T DO IT!

No man can make a kilowatt hour in a day with his muscles alone, but Reddy Kilowatt supplies you with unlimited kilowatt hours at very low cost.

Take advantage of his low wages and let him do as much of your work as possible.

It is said in order to learn the value of anything, try to make one yourself. In the case of a kilowatt hour of electricity, you'll find it quite a task to make even one.

Several years ago a stationary bicycle was built to drive an electric generator. At numerous Electrical Shows many tried their hand, or rather legs, at generating electricity. At one show, 213 people pedaled the machine until they were tired, and their combined work produced only 2½ kilowatt hours of electricity!

At Madison Square Garden a champion six-day bicycle rider pedaled this same machine in a desperate sprint of one minute. The meter showed that he made about five-hundreth of a kilowatt hour. If he and his team mate had kept up this sprint for six days and nights (impossible of course) they together would have made about 47c worth of electricity — poor pay for a week's work for two famous athletes.

REAL ACHIEVEMENT

Try and recall any service farmers have to purchase, the charges for which were lowered during the war years and prior thereto. Can you think of more than one?

Yet grain handling charges in country elevators were reduced to the lowest point in history during the war years.

The reason therefore was the fact that the Wheat Pools, the farmers' own organizations, are in business.

The Wheat Pools have earned the whole-hearted support of every farmer.

tle or no crop and a great many of our Farmers purchasing both feed and seed, we must count on next year's crop in order to pay for these Bonds, and this is exactly what the deferred letter allows us to do. We have increased our take a little over 50 per cent by using the deferred letter and the Salesmen who are really enthusiastic over the deferred letter are away out in front.

It is a little early to state just what effect the Honour Roll has on the buying public, but it is very well received by the Salesmen and of course anything which we can do to inspire the Salesmen is all to the good. We are also receiving excellent co-operation from our Bank and from the local Business men and from our Newspaper, the Holden Herald.

We expect to make our quota by the end of the second week and make the extra 40,000 the third week."

Yours truly,
J. W. STAMBAUGH.

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

FARMERS' BULLETIN

FARM MACHINERY OFF RATION LIST

All rationing controls have been removed from sales of farm machinery, and restrictions on the production or importation of such machinery have been lifted.

Price controls remain. Generally, maximum price for farm implements is the price at which such items sold during the basic period, August 15—September 11, 1941. Quoted prices do not include cost of delivery to the purchaser.

Under Consumers' Credit Order No. 225, section 10, terms of sale for farm machinery are: 1/3 of quoted price paid in cash; the balance of the credit price to be paid within two years of the date of the contract in stated amounts at specified dates. Any allowance for a trade-in is to be deducted from the unpaid balance.

Despite the lifting of production restrictions, it is expected that the shortage of components such as malleable castings and sheet steel will limit the maximum output of farm implements during the year July 1, 1945, to June 30, 1946, to a 24% increase (on tonnage basis) over the output in the preceding 12 months.

Farmers' Poultry Prices

Farmers selling all types of poultry, except turkeys, direct to consumers are permitted a 25% markup over the wholesale ceiling prices established for the area in which they are located. Turkey producers are allowed a 20% markup over the wholesale level.

Potato Storage Allowance

(Order A-1560 now in effect)

A storage allowance of 5c per 75-lb. bag of potatoes and 7c per 100-lb. bag is allowed on November 1. Another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 6c per 100-lb. bag may be added on December 1, and another 5c per 75-lb. bag and 7c per 100-lb. bag on January 1, 1946. There will be no storage adjustment for February but monthly increases will be resumed on March 1.

FARMERS' RATION COUPONS

Coupons covering farmer sales or farm household consumption of meat and butter, and sales of preserves must be forwarded to Local Ration Boards in primary producers' envelopes (RB-61). Reports for November should reach the Local Ration Boards not later than December 10.

Following are the valid coupon dates for November:

	MEAT	BUTTER	SUGAR	PRESERVES
November 1......	M 9	128	..	..
" 8......	M 10	..	..	..
" 15......	M 11	129	64, 67	P 20, 21
" 22......	M 12	130	..	..
" 29......	M 13	131	..	..

Farmers are required to send in "M" coupons to the Local Ration Board for meat they consume, and meat they sell to farmer neighbours at the rate of 4 lbs. per coupon. Farmers who slaughter meat need not turn in at the end of the month more than half the valid meat coupons in the ration books of their household. Farmers who purchase meat from other farmers must surrender to the selling farmer one meat coupon for every 4 lbs. of meat purchased, even if this means surrendering coupons not yet valid.

FARM SLAUGHTERERS

Farmers who slaughter for their own household consumption or for the consumption of their farmer neighbours, are not required to hold a slaughter permit. Any excess of farm slaughtered meat over the farmer's or his neighbour's needs may be sold only to the holder of a regular slaughter permit in quantities not less than a quarter of Beef or a side of Pork. Sheep, lamb or calves slaughtered by the farmer for his own or his neighbours' use may not be sold into the meat trade.

Licensed slaughterer's quotas for cattle have been temporarily suspended and until further notice a licensed slaughterer may slaughter all the cattle needed for his requirements.

Rationing is your assurance of a fair share.
is a protection against waste . . . shortages . . . inflation.
That is why farmers are asked to continue to collect and turn in coupons to their Local Ration Boards—once a month—in the RB-61 envelope.

For further information apply to the nearest office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

TOFIELD—RYLEY VICTORY LOAN CAMPAIGN PICKS UP

From a slow start which made it almost the "low" in all Alberta units, the Tofield-Ryley unit is gradually pulling up. To-night's (Thursday) report will probably give us fifty per cent of our quota and by working strenuously the salesmen may pull us up to the finish line by Saturday night. By neglecting to take advantage of the good weather at the beginning of the campaign, canvassing through the country is doubly hard now. Country residents can make it easy for salesmen by buying [illegible] loan. The bank, town office, post office, McCauley's office, Wilkie's store, all have salesmen in them. There are other salesmen too, Brace and Bellamy. Mr. Ivor Moen has taken some of the south country and is meeting with good results. Albin Anderson is out on the jump. Lars Olson of McKenzie and W. Richardson of Lindbrook are going over their territories with a fine tooth comb. Bill Webb is casting an appraising eye over the west country. Mr. Bowman of Round Hill wants all the applications he can get. Kordich and Motrey have reinforced Ryley sales force and things are moving. Come on Tofield-Ryley, let's put it over.

HOW WE ARE DOING

11th day, 7 applications for $1100.00
12th day, 18 applications for $[illegible]
13th day, 26 applications for $11,250.00.
14th day, 26 applications for $[illegible]
15th day, 46 applications for $[illegible]550.00.
16th day, 43 applications for $[illegible]200.00.

This brings the total to 344 applications for $127,[illegible], which is [illegible] per cent of our quota.

The Job's Not Finished

Tofield—Ryley people who have bought Victory Bonds, to help Canada's war effort, have learned the value of saving money.

We have learned that we can save.

We have learned how to save.

WE HAVE OUR BONDS. Dividends, twice a year, remind us that we are better off because we have invested in Victory Bonds.

Now, we are asked to buy Victory Bonds again.

Yes, the war has ended . . . but a lot of war costs remain to be paid. Canada still needs all the money that every Canadian can save and lend.

Starving allies look to Canada for food. Devastated countries need so many things that we can supply. Canada must extend credits to these countries to help put them back on their feet . . . to enable them to purchase from us the things they need . . . food from Canadian farms . . . products of Canadian factories. In this way the Victory Bonds we buy will help to ensure a higher level of employment by providing markets for Canadian goods.

Men and women who have served in the Navy, Army and Air Force must be re-established in civil life. This is a big job and it will cost money to do, but it must be done and done well. Victory Bonds will help to pay the cost.

And . . . by putting off buying everything we can do without . . . and using our savings to buy more Victory Bonds . . . we will help to keep down prices of things we have to buy . . . we will help to prevent inflation. This, too, is important!

It is announced that there will be only one Victory Loan in the next 12 months. So all of us are expected to buy double this time. The same rate of saving as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12-month period.

How To Feed Turkeys For Christmas Trade

The Christmas market is generally considered as the best for turkeys. At that time, they have reached market development and weighing, when dressed from eight to twenty-five pounds, can consequently meet the needs of a family of almost any size, says A. G. Taylor, Poultry Division, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.

The term fattening is applied to the finishing or conditioning of poultry for market and yet the housewife does not buy a bird because of the fat it contains. What is wanted is abundant flesh and a little fat. Fat enough to [illegible] the bird is all that is required. Excess fat supply [illegible] out and is the expensive part of the turkey. How then can turkeys be conditioned for the Christmas trade so that they will have a maximum of flesh and little fat?

The answer is found in the method of feeding practised on the modern turkey farm of to-day. The practice of rearing turkeys has changed very [illegible] during the last ten years. Turkey growers are now confining their growing birds to limited quarters (inside or on range) and keeping proper feeds before the birds [illegible] so that the poult or growing turkey is in good flesh at all times. The bird does not have to waste its fat and wander to find food enough for its daily needs and uses the food which has been supplied to grow frame and muscle.

Young turkeys are usually started on turkey starter mash for six to eight weeks then changed to turkey [illegible] mash and mixed grain and fed these feeds until market age. The mash and grain are fed in separate feed hoppers. As these hoppers are self feeding the birds eat what they require at leisure. In this way they are never hungry and seldom eat a full meal at any time. As the weather gets colder in the fall the birds eat a greater proportion of grain than mash and consumption increases.

[illegible] always aids in inducing the turkeys to increase the intake of feed and from about the middle of [illegible] when the supply of grain feed is getting scarce is a good time to add any extra feeding which may be desired. Moist mashes are palatable and most acceptable to turkeys when fed in limited quantities in the middle of the day. These are merely the regular growing mash moistened for each feeding with skim milk or water although milk is better. To keep the birds with good appetites, they should be fed slightly less than they will eat up clean at each feeding.

About three weeks before the birds are to be killed for market, give them light feed of whole corn just before they go to roost at night, says Mr. Taylor. Make sure that the corn is dry and free from mould, he says, warning that new corn should be fed sparingly at first and particularly so unless it has been well ripened. As the weather becomes colder the intake of food will increase and the amount of corn can also be increased for the evening feeding.

Water, grit and shell should always be before the birds.

More Railway Cars

Montreal: R. C. Vaughan, president of the Canadian National Railways states that plans and specifications for new sleeping cars are in preparation but more cars will be available when troop movements ease off. There should be plenty of sleeping cars for everyone within six months or a year.

Mr. Vaughan also said that the Canadian National Railways will have an increased surplus this year, but in the months ahead some recession from wartime traffic is to be expected. However, there is evidence there will be more work in Canada than before the war and this naturally will mean more work for the railways.

Cereals In The Diet

Cereal foods are the backbone of diets in every land. Whatever else we eat, we all need our "daily bread". Miss B. Joyce Lewis, Nutritionist with the Home Economics Service, suggests that this is a good time to check up on the amount of flour and cereals needed for the winter. According to Canada's food rules, one serving of whole grain cereal and 4 to 6 slices of whole grain or Canada Approved Bread is required each day. More than this may be eaten, of course, after making sure of other daily essentials.

The high or low cost of diet depends on what is added to these essentials. With the use of an abundance of whole grain cereals, the cost can be kept down and good nutrition assured at the same time. Essential vitamins and minerals are found in the germ and in the outer layers of grains. When cereals are refined, these are removed. Whole grain cereals (and Canada Approved Flour in the milling of which some of the important parts have been left) are store houses of many good essentials.

The winter supply of flour and cereals may be planned from the following guide, using the larger amounts for a low cost dietary.

The Scout wristlet indentification owned by the late Wing Commander Guy Gibson, V.C., the noted "dam-buster" has been presented to the Boy Scouts of Canada. Wing-Commander Gibson wore the wristlet on all flights over enemy territory except the one on which he was killed.

Britain Leads In Farm Mechanization

London: Today British agriculture is the most highly mechanised in the world with more than two tractors to every square mile of territory and seven tractors to every square mile of arable land. One important feature of this wartime development has been the stress laid on the mechanisation of small holdings. The National Institute of Agricultural Engineering has recently been demonstrating farming equipment which included machines specially adapted for use on small farms. The demonstrations covered machines for sugar beet harvesting, grain harvesting, drying and handling, and ploughs and cultivators. Machinery exhibited included new types of potato diggers, sugar beet drills, binders and harvesters. The Institute has recorded many advances in the use of ploughs, harvesters and cultivators. To take one example, up to now farmers using combine harvesters have experienced difficulty in ploughing in straw which tends to wedge under ordinary coulters. To obviate this handicap the Institute has developed a corrugated disc coulter which by continuously rotating easily works in straw and long stubble.

Reopens Resorts

Montreal—Following the announcement made at Ottawa by R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, that Jasper Park Lodge, Minaki Lodge, and Picton Lodge would be re-opened next year, it was reported at the railway's headquarters here that the three famous summer hotels had been well maintained during the three years they were closed and that a number of changes and improvements had been effected. All three of those popular resorts were closed at the end of the 1942 season in order to aid Canada's wartime economy by conserving manpower, foodstuffs, and transportation facilities.

Single Licence Plate In Use Next Year

Single license plates will be displayed on Alberta motor cars in the new license period opening next April 1, according to information received by the Alberta Motor association from the provincial secretary's department.

The single plate was restored during the past year, after the sticker system was tried out for a year as a war measure.

Officials say that the new 1946-47 plates have been ordered and they will be available to applicants in good time before April 1.

When the old two-plate system will be restored is a question, though there are some suggestions that it will come into effect in the 1947-48 period, as more steel will be available then for civilian needs.

Tariffs On The Increase

The Atlantic Charter, to which Canada so enthusiastically subscribed provided for the futherance of the enjoyment by all states, great or small, of access in equal terms to the trade and to the raw materials of the world needed for their economic prosperity. It was thought at the time that the Charter provided for a reduction in trade barriers and the encouragement of international commerce.

It would appear however, that the first post-war Canadian budget gives indication that the government of Canada is still adhering to the high tariff policy for this Dominion. Unless the trend is reversed Canada is still going to be a high protectionist nation.

This is a matter of great importance to the farmers of the prairie provinces. If high tariffs persist it is a certainty that overseas markets for Canadian farm products will be greatly reduced; also the cost of things farmers must buy are going to go higher.

Great Britain is the best market in the world for surplus farm products, but Britain has cashed her overseas financial resources in her war effort and is now a debtor nation. Only grim necessity will permit her to buy where she cannot sell. If prairie farmers are going to participate extensively in the British market, Canada will have to greatly enlarge imports of British manufactured goods.

A writer in the Winnipeg Free Press points out that the tariff on imported Diesel engines was increased by the Ilsley budget to the extent that the 10 horsepower English diesel laid down in Winnipeg will be increased in cost from $1,275 to $1,575. The English diesel engine is the best in the world and is used for power in Canadian country elevators, by railways, mines and by small towns for power plants. The idea of the tariff is to prevent the purchase of the efficient British engine in favor of the inferior Canadian product.

It will be indeed unfortunate for western agriculture if this economic trend persists.

WORLD OF WHEAT

By H.G.L. Strange

Wheat Quality Improving

The results of the 1945 examination by the "Crop Testing Plan" of many thousands of farmers' wheat fields have now been compiled. The records reveal no less than 47 per cent (a high record) of the wheat fields tested classified as "A" which means that the grain was good enough to be used as seed by the farmer or by his neighbors. It was also shown that only 20 per cent (a low record) of the samples tested classified as "C" and "Mixtures". This means that 20 per cent of our farmers are needlessly losing money because of lower grades and lower yields, caused by admixtures in their crops of poor and low-yielding varieties. Such farmers can cure this situation very quickly by buying better seed from their neighbors who have "Crop Testing Plan" "A" stocks, or by purchasing a few bushels of good Registered seed sealed in the sack and then by sowing this on a few acres of clean summerfallow; then next year such farmers would have from 16 to 20 times as much good seed to sow on a larger acreage.

"Crop Testing Plan" tests reveal, therefore, that while there is room for still further improvement, the prairie wheat crop, as a whole, is year by year steadily improving in quality, which information should serve to add to the reputation of Canadian wheat on world markets.

22ND BIRTHDAY

It was on October 29th, 1923, that the Alberta Wheat Pool came into physical being, so last Monday was its twenty-second birthday. The successful inauguration of the Alberta Wheat Pool encouraged the organization of similar Pools in Saskatchewan and Manitoba. The combination of these three farmer co-operative grain handling organizations occupy a dominant position in the grain trade of Canada. A long list of accomplishments on behalf of the farmers stands to the credit of these organizations.

The Alberta Wheat Pool, which started very modestly twenty-two years ago, now owns 438 country elevators, which, with annexes have a total storage capacity of 27,556,750 bushels. The Alberta Wheat Pool also owns two terminal elevators, one at Vancouver and one at Port Arthur, and leases a government terminal at Vancouver, the total terminal storage capacity being 12,800,000 bushels. The grand total of Alberta Pool Elevators grain storage is 40,356,750 bushels. In the 1943-44 crop year the business turnover of the Alberta Wheat Pool was approximately $45,000,000.

The main objective of the Wheat Pool Movement has been in the direction of price stability for grain producers. The recently announced federal government policy of a floor price of a dollar a bushel for 1 Northern wheat at the terminal until 1950 is in direct line with the agitation of the Pools over many years. The Wheat Pools also obtained many protective privileges for farmers and have been successful in narrowing spreads in grain handling charges, and setting a standard of service for country and terminal elevator operation.

Features of the Wheat Pool movement include: democratic control through the election by the farmers of delegates, who, in turn, elect the directors; payment of patronage dividends, the encouragement of co-operation in general; and the reduction in grain handling charges inaugurated by the Wheat Pools in the 1944-45 crop year saved prairie farmers a total amount of money in excess of $9,000,000.

The Wheat Pools in the twenty-two years of their existence have made an invaluable contribution to the welfare of the farmers of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Feed Grain Situation

Times have changed, says A. M. Wilson, Field Crops Commissioner. Not so long ago, farmers and feeders could buy grain from neighbours or local elevators at any time during the year. Last year, elevators were bulging with excellent quality oats and many bushels of barley. Large quantities of lower grade wheat were also available for live stock feed. These times are gone. Demand has depleted our once plentiful supply. Crops are short, and oats are poor in quality.

Now that the crops are in, the farmer is in a position to estimate his requirements for the year ahead. If there is not sufficient on hand, this is the time to buy while chances are good. If facilities will not allow storage of a year's supply of grain on the farm, arrangements might be made for storage either in the elevator or in granaries rented for the purpose. Equalization payments of 10c on oats and 20c on barley still apply on feed purchases from licensed elevators. The drawback of 25c per bushel on wheat for feed is still in effect. Elevators agents can supply details.

Feed grains can be bought now. Farmers and feeders are urged by Mr. Wilson to take advantage of this opportunity before it is too late. World demand is heavy, and there is little chance of local feed supplies being available throughout the year.

THE WEATHER—

THERE IS ONE SUBJECT that is non-controversial, namely the weather. As one wit expressed it, we have weather, whether or not, and again as Mark Twain wrote it: "everyone complains about the weather but nobody does anything about it." Our references to the weather are intermittent and can be summed up as mere observations, as when it comes to weather, we are just guessers, and poor guessers at that. Our comment this week is caused not so much because below zero temperatures have already been recorded here, as the fact that weather predictions are always a source of interest and conjecture. The other day the daily papers printed a dispatch from Toronto reporting that a meteorologist had forecasted a series of cold winters due to the increasing accumulation of sun spots on the face of the sun. The sun spot theory and its relation to weather conditions is now well enough known. The spots, supposedly huge masses of gas, are supposed to shut off sufficient rays of the sun to make old mother earth a few degrees colder. The spots appear and disappear on the face of the sun in cycles of approximately eleven years duration and when they are most numerous it is supposed to be coldest and conversely when there are the fewest number of them, hot summers and mild winters are supposed to prevail.

Today, weather men know more about the weather than was ever known before. But even yet weather vagaries both as regards short and long time predictions have a habit of fooling the experts. There probably is some degree of truth in the sun spot theory, else the scientists would not give it so much prominence in their writings, but the sun shines on all the earth and winters and summers in all parts of the world are not uniform as to being above or below normal temperature. In fact of two different areas in the same hemisphere one may have a "hard" winter, and the other an "easy" one. Even in Canada there have been years when the winter in the eastern provinces was exceptionally cold, stormy and long and the opposite in the west. Then another year the situation would be reversed. So how much we can rely upon sun spots as a guide to future weather conditions, we do not know.

One budding scientific enthusiast thought the sun spot theory was alright and that the occurence of cold and mild winters in the same continent in the same year clinched the theory. A sun spot casts a shadow, right; the shadow tends to make the earth cooler, right; where the shadow hits the earth it would naturally be cooler than normal, right; where the shadow didn't hit, it would be warmer than normal, right. All of which would be good reasoning if the earth would stand still, but it makes a complete revolution on its axis every twenty-four hours and waltzes around the sun every 365 days, some odd minutes and some odd seconds. We somehow believe those shadows would be hard to find.

Anyway as regards weather, we freely admit we don't know what we are going to get, but we do know what we would like to have. On occasions we have had long open falls right up to and past Christmas. For weeks on end the sun would rise and set in an almost cloudless sky and the temperature would remain quite moderate. The kind of winter that brought about the baseball game at Tofield on January 1st. They told us it was not particularly healthy, but it certainly was pleasant. Even then there was plenty of cold, stormy weather packed in between January and the opening of spring.

Employment In Agriculture For Workers Engaged In War Industries And Returning Service Men

The Honourable Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, outlined today opportunities for employment and for re-establishment in agriculture for workers formerly engaged in war industries, and returning service men. He stressed particularly, dairying and livestock farming.

Said the Minister: "The wartime increase in income enjoyed by the farmer has resulted in better rural living standards" In this connection, he noted, "the national cash income from the sale of farm products totalled 684 millions of dollars in 1938, rising to a peak of 1,790 millions of dollars in 1944. Figures for the first half of this year indicate a continuing high level of farm income. Similarly, the wages of the farm worker are more than double the pre-war standard. Total earnings of the farm worker today compare favourably with the returns of his fellow in industry."

The Minister expressed satisfaction with the assistance given to agriculture during the present harvesting period. He noted, however, that further help is needed particularly on dairy and livestock farms.

The Department of Agriculture has stressed the urgent need to maintain and increase wherever possible the production of farm products, if post-war food export requirements are to be filled.

In view of the continuing need for men in agriculture, it is desired to approach those workers whom the reconversion from wartime to peacetime industry has left temporarily unemployed, and service men returning to agricultural employment, including those wishing to re-establish themselves as farm operators under the provisions of the Veterans' Land Act. With regard to the industrial worker, it was emphasized that those entitled to unemployment insurance benefit may retain their right to qualify for benefits up to a maximum of two years from the time their right to draw benefit was established.

LISTEN TO THE FARM AND HOME FORUM PROGRAM

Farmers are encouraged to tune in to CKUA radio station on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday to listen to Farm and Home Forum program at 9:15 p.m. Interesting local items are being submitted from the district so let's all tune in.

THE WHEAT SITUATION

World wheat production for the current year is estimated roughly at 5,400 million bushels, which is a decline of five per cent from 1944 production and a decline of eight per cent from the 1935-39 annual average. The huge wheat crop in the United States of around 1,150 million bushels has maintained the production of this continent at a high level in spite of the decline of around 115 million bushels in Canada's wheat production this year as compared with last year. The available wheat supply in these two North American countries totals 2,013 million bushels or only about 168 million bushels less than the supply a year ago even in the face of large exports from Canada and substantial exports from the U.S.A. (350 million and 145 million bushels respectively).

Grain production in the United States this year has been at an unusually high level. Not only is the 1,150 million bushel wheat production a record but the production of oats, now placed at 1,575 million bushels, exceeds the previous record set in 1921 by 130 million bushels. Furthermore, corn production is placed in excess of three billion bushels.

The United States and Canada together will probably export around 550 million bushels of wheat this crop year, of which about 250 million bushels will originate in Canada.

It is probable that Australia will have between forty and fifty million bushels of wheat available for export from the current year's crop. In Argentina crop conditions are generally favorable although the acreage is down to 14.1 million, the lowest in six years. The carryover there will be nominal as the bulk of the wheat on hand has been disposed of for future shipments. The exportable surplus figure on October 15th was around 55 million bushels, but it is understood that Spain and other countries have already contracted for a considerable amount of that supply.

Cold and snow over the prairies have put an end to threshing but the bulk of the harvest in Western Canada has been cleaned up. —Wheat Pool Budget.

The Need For Food

Even before the war from twenty to thirty per cent of the population of Western Europe was undernourished. Largely because of the low nutrition standards in India the life expectancy at birth was just a shade shorter than 27 years. In New Zealand, on the other hand, where good average nutrition standards prevail, the life expectancy at birth is 65 years.

Throughout the world about two-thirds of the population, which totals around 2,200 million, are lacking in proper food. Even in such advanced nations as the United States and Canada there is malnutrition.

These facts were pointed out at the Food and Agricultural Conference held in Quebec City. The objective was to discover some means of increasing food production so that more would be available for all. In order to raise the world nutrition standard it was stated that cereal production would have to be increased by 50 per cent, the production of meat, fish and poultry about 100 per cent, of vegetable oils about 125 per cent, of milk and milk products about 150 per cent and of fruits and vegetables 300 per cent.

Every informed person in this country has been well aware of the fact that hunger existed in the world. The amazing thing to the farmers in the prairie provinces of Western Canada, however, was that Europe, China and even India would put substantial duties and other regulations calculated to prevent the free import of cheap food during the depression years. The [illegible] was that huge quantities of food piled up in such exporting countries as Canada, the United States, Australia, Argentina and New Zealand.

The Food and Agricultural Organization will have no direct power or authority in the field of food production and distribution. Instead it is intended that the organization will play the role of teacher and guide. It will maintain a staff of experts in various fields of agricultural production, distribution and nutrition. The information will be passed on to the members of the United Nations. It will be up to the individual governments to decide whether or not the recommendations will be adopted.

It is all very well to talk of greatly increased food production, but farmers know that in the past if they produced even a reasonable surplus the price went down. The Food and Agricultural Organization thoroughly understands this situation and hopes that it can be overcome through an increase of jobs and earning power of people engaged in other occupations. —Wheat Pool Bulletin.

War Loan Important To Farmers

Farmers have a greater stake in the success of the present war loan campaign than any other class in the national community. A substantial percentage of the money raised is used for the purchase of agricultural products for the feeding of the people of Europe. If this money was not available surplus farm production would back up on domestic markets. Every dollar the farmers invest in Victory bonds comes back to them, and much more besides. Every farmer in the province of Alberta should be deeply interested in the success of the Victory loan drive. —Wheat Pool Budget.

VARIETIES OF WHEAT

The popularity of different varieties of wheat is a matter of interest to all farmers, and of importance to those intending either to buy or to sell seed. According to the annual survey made by Line Elevators Farm Service, the changes in acreages of different varieties between 1944 and 1945 are simply a continuation of changes apparent between 1941 and 1944.

Prairie Provinces

The 1945 percentages of the total area occupied by the different varieties, with 1944 percentages in brackets, are as follows: Thatcher 53.3 (52.5), Red Bobs, 11.7 (17.3); Marquis, 10.9 (13.2); Regent, [illegible] (7.5); Renown, 3.5 (4.2); Durum 2.9 (2.5); Apex, 2.7 (3.0); Garnet 2.6 (2.0); others, 1.7 (1.7).

Similar data for individual provinces are set out below:

Alberta

Red Bobs, 40.1 (44.2); Marquis 23.8 (27.3), Thatcher, 22.2 (16.4), Garnet, 7.7 (6.0); Canus, 1.6 (1.8); Renown, 0.7 (1.2), others 3.3 (2.[illegible])

Saskatchewan

Thatcher, 77.0 (74.1); Marquis 7.5 (10.[illegible]), Apex, 4.6 (5.0); Regent, 3.4 (4.0), Renown, 2.1 (2.6); others, 5.1 ([illegible])

Manitoba

Regent, 40.1 (31.6); Thatcher 37.4 ([illegible]); Renown, 13.7 (15.4); Durum, [illegible] (7.5); Apex, 1.0 (0.7); others, 1.1 (0.9)

Even in Alberta Marquis appears to be losing ground steadily. It is fitting, at this time, to remember, that even when Marquis disappears its influence will be profound because it appears in the ancestry of Thatcher, Regent, Renown, Apex and Canus.

TARIFFS - The Farmer's Enemy

Tariffs are enemies of the farmer just as are weeds, insects and plant diseases. Tariffs curtail imports of goods into Canada, hence curtail exports going out of Canada. Farmers and all of us should demand a sharp lowering of Canadian tariffs.

SEARLE GRAIN COMPANY, LTD.

EQUITABLE TREATMENT

The farmer patrons of Alberta Pool Elevators are treated with a degree of fairness and equity that is obtainable only under the co-operative system.

It happens some times that competitive grain handling organizations give preferred treatment to a very few farmers and at the expense of all the rest of the farmers as a group.

A little thought on what the Wheat Pools have done for the farming community should convince all farmers that it is to their advantage to patronize, wherever possible.

WEDDING

GOUBAULT—WOOD

Robert Goubault, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Goubault and Lucille Wood, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wood, were married on Friday, November 2nd, in Edmonton. Congratulations.

Miss Lila Story is home with blood poisoning in her ankle. We hope she will be able to return to school soon.

Private Leslie Bailey is expected to arrive from overseas on Saturday, November 10th.

The Sale at Morrows, Deville, went off very well, considering the bad roads. Mr. Morrow had some very fine cattle which sold fairly high.

We hear that Susan Froese is sick in Vancouver and may return home soon. We hope it's nothing serious, Susan.

A FAREWELL

(Submitted by Mr. R. Fletcher, Edmonton, late of Kingman.)

Flow down cold rivulet to the sea,
Thy tribute waves deliver.
No more by thee my steps shall be
For ever and for ever.

Flow softly flow, by lawn and lea,
A rivulet, then a river.
Nowhere by thee my steps shall be
For ever and for ever.

But here will sigh thine alder tree,
And here thine aspen shiver.
And by thy side will hum the bee,
For ever and for ever.

A thousand suns will stream on thee,
A thousand moons will quiver.
But not by thee my steps shall be
For ever and for ever.

BIG GRASS SEED CROP

Canadian growers have been harvesting record forage seed crops this year. Timothy seed production is around 16 million pounds—5 million pounds up from last year. The production of Kentucky blue grass, Canada blue grass and creeping red fescue are also much higher than last year. Alfalfa production is down. Production is sufficiently abundant to provide Canadian requirements and also a surplus to meet the needs of various European nations.

In Great Britain the typical farmer owns between fifty and seventy acres which, with a dozen cows provide his chief source of income. Before the war the average British farmer made about $12 or $14 a week. In the post-war years a somewhat higher income is anticipated.

THE FARMER AND HIS WEEDS

A farmer is a funny man,
His land he farms whate'er he can,
His weeds grow fast, and some grow slow,
But in his toil, all weeds must go.

Each year his mower he must fix,
For cutting roads, there are some tricks.
The roads are rough, and steep and wide,
And o'er the ground the machine must glide.

Sometimes with tractors fast and slow,
To cut those weeds he out must go,
Out each year, he must not fail,
It is nice to see a clean, straight trail.

In the fence they grow so tall,
But with his machine, they all must fall.
And after days and days of sweat,
His farm looks better, oh! you bet.

A lot of praise is due this man,
For he never grumbles, oh! yes, he can,
The debts we owe this man are great,
To keep our Canada alookin' straight.

—Fieldman.

CONTROL PRICE FARM MACHINERY

Price ceilings and credit regulations still operate on farm machinery although restrictions on production and distribution were removed recently, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board points out.

The Board's Consumers' Credit order specifies that one-third of the purchase price of machinery must be paid in cash at the time of sale, and the balance paid in stated amounts at specified dates within two years of the contract. Allowances for trade-ins must be deducted from the unpaid balance.

BACON EXPORTS

Writing from London, England, R. T. Richardson reports to the Winnipeg Free Press that Denmark has shipped twenty million pounds of bacon to Britain since the end of the war, and current shipments are running at well over two million pounds weekly and are increasing.

Mr. Richardson suggests that Britain will take as high as 1,000 million pounds of bacon imports annually which is about a third above the pre-war average. He thinks Canada should supply 500 million pounds annually but must compete for that share of the market. The Danes are driving ahead, are quite willing to accept British exports in payment for their bacon, and Danish bacon is well advertised in Britain. He remarks that Canadian bacon, which is quite equal to Danish bacon in quality, suffers from lack of advertising.

The bacon trade will remain under strict government control in Mr. Richardson's opinion, which means that the Canadian Meat Board will have to be continued in Canada. Value of imported bacon has increased nearly thirty per cent over pre-war prices so that British customers face the problem of obtaining less bacon for the same money as before the war. —Wheat Pool Budget.

PARTRIDGE FLOCK DIVES AT ENGINE

It's not news when man hunts Hungarian partridges but when the hardy feathered fellows reverse the situation it is at least unusual, not to say somewhat painful, if the experience of CNR engineman M. McMallan, 12827 122 street, is taken as a criterion.

As his passenger train neared Viking on the return run from Wainwright last week, a large flock of "huns" apparently of the feathered suicide squadron, hurtled to their deaths against the side of the engine. One, aiming for the cab window, plunged through and struck Mr. McMallan's left eye. While the injury was reported not serious, it was severe enough to require medical attention.

Finding himself in a strange atmosphere of levers, gauges and mechanical noises, the bird paused only a few seconds and took off through the opposite window, leaving only a few feathers as evidence of his uninvited entry.

Wearing a bandage over the injured optic Mr. McMallan Wednesday expressed disappointment over not having caught the elusive bird for a meatless Tuesday table delicacy.

M. D. of Beaver Hold Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of the council of the M.D. of Beaver was held at the District's office on Friday, November 9th and after transacting considerable business the meeting adjourned until 10:00 a.m. Tuesday, November 13th.

There were present Reeve Anderson; Councillors Giebelhaus, Laskoski, Lucas, Moen, Ovens and Swabey.

Minutes of the October meeting were adopted.

Monthly financial statement was perused and filed.

The resignation of Councillor Swabey was read but as Mr. Swabey had been unavoidably delayed, this matter was left until later in the day.

An offer for the Tofield Office of $1000.00 was received from Mr. J. E. Stinson, Tofield, and was accepted.

Two divisions purchased motor graders, each out of their road work allocations.

Adjournment for lunch.

The Kilishtoff complaint that grading of a road caused the flooding of land was left over until next year as it would be next to useless for councillors to make an investigation now. Arrangements had been made earlier in the year for an investigation but the committee appointed had not been able to get together.

Mave's Bros. interviewed Council regarding a cheque issued to their father in payment for gravel supplied to the M.D. They said the cheque should have been issued to them or applied on taxes. They held title and claimed the money for the gravel should go to them. On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus a new cheque is to be issued and applied on taxes.

Mr. Stambaugh of the Holden-Bruce Victory Loan Unit and Mr. Brace of the Tofield-Ryley Victory Loan Unit interviewed Council requesting that the M.D. council purchase a substantial amount of bonds. Both gentlemen gave addresses covering the advantages of Victory Bond purchases and left it to the Council to make a decision later in the day.

Mr. Hamilton of Adams Machinery Company called on Council to get some documents signed with reference to a former machinery purchase.

Mr. McNichol of Canada Iron and Ingot Co. interviewed Council and said his company was only able to deliver 50 per cent of the summer's culvert orders but now have them in stock in Edmonton. Councillors needing culverts re-ordered them.

Mr. Crummy of the Industrial and Road Equipment Co. called on Council. His company sold tractors and road building equipment. No orders were given.

The engaging of Miss Keith as junior stenographer by the Secretary was formally ratified.

The lot at Bruce which seemed to have got itself into a titular tangle was handed over to Mr. Norman Campbell to straighten out. He is looking after some of the owner's business.

The letter of resignation from Councillor Swabey then came up for consideration. Councillor Swabey gave an unsatisfactory road work policy as his reason for resigning.

Councillor Moen, speaking to the question said he hoped Councillor Swabey would reconsider his decision. We all had to take our little and sometimes big disappointments in municipal council work and he, Councillor Moen, felt sure that a satisfactory solution to the problem could be worked out.

Councillor Swabey said he did not wish to withdraw his resignation but he would reconsider it if a well understood plan of road construction was worked out, and suggested that a special meeting be held for this one purpose alone.

On the motion of Councillor Moen, a special council meeting for the sole purpose of formulating a road work policy and machinery management is called for Thursday, December 13th at 10:00 a.m.

Councillor Ovens moved that Councillor Swabey be given permission to withdraw his resignation. Carried.

Mr. and Mrs. Place interviewed council regarding a tax problem. It appeared Mr. Place leased a quarter from the M.D. several years in succession but one year did not lease it but carried on the following year. The office, being under the impression there had been no break in the leasing arrangement, took the money for the lease from a remittance intended for taxes on the other land. A credit of $39.00 was given Mr. Place which straightened the matter out.

Letter from the Dept. of Municipal Affairs regarding the Moreland road problem, stating that it was definitely a municipal problem, but offering no suggestions as to how it could

Ryley Notes

Miss Gladys McLennan who has been visiting friends in Ryley, returned to her home last Saturday.

A large number of friends gathered in the Parish Hall last Sunday afternoon to honor Mr. and Mrs. Bob Geddes on the occasion of their 25th Wedding Anniversary. It was an especially happy occasion for them as Jimmie was able to be present on this occasion having just recently returned from overseas where he has been serving with the Signal Corps the past five years. Young Bob and his wife and baby were also present, the only absentee from the family circle being Eileen, who is employed by the C.N.R. out east. The Cavel Rebeccah Lodge had charge of the arrangements. Mr. Lance Umphrey was chairman. A poem composed by Mr. Fawcett was read by Mr. McRae. Greetings from Rev. Ostrom, (who was unable to attend on account of services elsewhere) were read by Mr. Edwin Magnusson. Several popular songs were sung by those assembled A duet "Till the end of Time" was sung by Mrs. Audrey Gough and Ruth Alseth. Lance Umphrey made a speech and made the presentation of a set of silver, also a pair of silver candlesticks, to which both Mr and Mrs. Geddes made a response. Our congratulations and best wishes go to both Mr. and Mrs. Geddes who have both served the community so well and faithfully, Bob in his capacity as Station Agent and also community interests, Nell in her Red Cross work and overseas parcels for our boys these past few years. May God continue to bless you through the coming years as He has in the past.

The Community Hall was crowded last Friday evening when the Amateur Hour, sponsored by the United Church Ladies' Aid, took place under the chairmanship of Dr. McPherson. It was more like a school program, as practically all the items were given by school children. In the 1st group Miss Wallen's pupils took 1st prize with their Cossack Dance, 2nd prize went to Kay Solberg who recited the "Moon" very beautifully. Third prize went to Mrs. J. D. McDonald's pupils who gave an action song I would like to mention Lila Skakum's of Holden, little Lullaby song. It was very sweetly sung and beautifully ennunciated. In the second group (the Rural Schools) The Kolodychuk boys took first prize with their wonderful preformance of the "Rooster Song." Second prize went to the Hrabec boy who recited "Winter" Third prize went to Ruth Manderson who recited "A Prayer." In the third group, Greta McPherson got first, Mrs. Gough and Ruth Alseth, second, and third prize went to Larry Butler and Bob Ireland who sang "Old Black Joe." The harmony and actions were really good, boys, and you looked the part, too bad you forgot some of the words, otherwise I am sure you would have got first. The last item on the programme which was not a contest number, was a couple of numbers given by Mr. Parson's chorus. First song sung was "I had a little talk with the Lord", followed by "Now the Day is Over", after which stage lights were turned off and the children grouped on each side of a V for Victory about which were draped the flags of the allied countries. The spot light was turned on the Flags and V and the Lord's Prayer was sung by Mrs. Ireland, followed by "God Save the King." Another Ryley Amateur programme had come to an end.

We regret to report that Mr. Ruddy has been confined to his home having had a siege of pneumonia. We hope you'll soon be about again, Mr. Ruddy.

Mrs. Lily Thomas of Portland Ore., has been visiting with her niece, Mrs. Wm. Pope Jr.

The Ryley Skating Club executive wish to express their appreciation through this column to all who so kindly supported their Tag day last Saturday by donating so generously. And to the boys and girls who gave their time in selling tags. Work is progressing slowly but surely and we hope we will soon be able to announce the Opening Night.

There was excitement in Toone's at noon today (Wednesday) when a fire was started in the kitchen by grease which caught fire. Fortunately a truck was outside and an extinguisher was brought in which quickly extinguished the flames. The Cafe was closed for the afternoon in order for the staff to clean up the mess made by the smoke.

Remembrance Day Service Held Sunday

The annual Remembrance Day service was held on Sunday last, November 11th, in honor of those who fell in the first world war and also in honor of those who fell in the war just concluded. This year arrangements were in the hands of the Canadian Legion, Tofield branch, and included the laying of wreaths upon the cenotaph.

Veterans, I.O.D.E., Girl Guides and others paraded under the leadership of Bert Lovell, M.M., to the cenotaph and laid the wreaths, returning to the Variety Theatre where the Remembrance Day service was held.

Mr. H. M. Bennett presided over the gathering and after a brief introduction, the usual two minute's silence was observed which was followed by the sounding of the last post by Sgt. Bernie Chandler. Hymns were sung and an address given by Mr. A. B. Clutterham. Mr. Bennett outlined the aims of the Canadian Legion and thanked the I.O.D.E. for the splendid work they had done during the absence of many of the boys.

The Tofield band rendered a number of excellent selections after which the service closed with the singing of "God Save the King." Mrs. Stinson presided at the piano.

Special Meeting

Starting Sunday, November 18th, and running through Sunday, Dec. 2, Rev. Krup will conduct a series of special meetings nightly at 7:30.

These messages will be timely, interesting and educational.

It is also hoped that Rev. Carlson and Rev. Sawtell, both of Calgary, will be with us some of these nights, or some of the returned missionaries that have been featured on their radio programs.

There will also be special musical numbers by the Mennonite Choir and other local talent.

Lindbrook

Mr. Kortzman has returned with one moose from his hunting trip.

Mr. [illegible] has recovered from his illness and has returned home from the hospital.

Miss Anne Ewert is home visiting her parents. She has been working at Olds for some time.

The proceeds from the Saturday night dances held at Lindbrook Hall on November 17 and 24, will be donated to the Lindbrook Christmas fund.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Evans are going to Edmonton for the winter.

Mr. Henry Heubert and family are moving to Tofield. Mr. Heubert now owns the chopping mill which was formerly owned by Mr. Mike Shewchuck.

Pte. Leslie Bailey is in the Belcher Hospital in Calgary but is expected home any day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Evans helped his mother celebrate her 90th birthday at Athabasca. She has lived in that district since 1911.

Edwin Gould is going into the pig business in a big way.

Lindbrook extends its congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goubault, newlyweds of Weslake.

We are sorry to hear that our genial councillor, Mr. Jack Swabey, had the misfortune to have his car burned.

Pete Goertz Jr. is moving onto the Dirks' farm.

Mr. Wellington Glenn has returned from a trip to the coast and says he will stay here a while yet.

Men Needed In The Woods

Winnipeg. An extensive campaign to meet urgent labour needs in the woods industry has been developed by the Department of Labour. At least 50,000 more men than are now engaged in this industry must be secured as soon as possible, it was stated.

Fred J. White, Regional Superintendent, Unemployment Insurance Commission, Winnipeg, revealed that in the Prairie Region alone, 8,000 men are needed for lumbering or pulpwood cutting. "Canada's number one item on its peacetime programme is the construction of homes for our returning veterans. Lumber is needed for these homes and every person who accepts employment in the woods industry is making a real contribution to this programme. Never in the Nation's history has the wealth of our forests been in such urgent demand as it is today," he said.

In addition to the need for lumber for home building in Canada and for the reconstruction of Europe, huge quantities of pulpwood are required for the pulp and paper industry. "The manufacture of paper and newsprint is most important both for our own use and for our export trade," Mr. White said.

The recruiting campaign will be carried through the National Employment Service with the assistance of Provincial Agricultural Officials working under the Dominion-Provincial farm agreement. The appeal is being directed both to urban and rural workers with a particular emphasis to farmers and agricultural workers who can be spared from farms during the winter slack season.

"Wages are good and operators have greatly improved camp accommodation during the war years. In most cases employers are paying the cost of transportation to the place of employment," the Regional Superintendent stated.

World Wheat Pool

The British Sir John Boyd, the newly elected director general of the Food and Agricultural Organization, held a press conference in Quebec City on October 29th. He was asked, "If farmers respond to the call to produce more food and produce more than the world will buy, what will the FAO do to prevent surpluses in wheat, for example, bringing about a ruinous collapse in price?" Sir John said he hoped the stupid policy of past years limiting the movement of wheat from surplus countries to deficit countries on a purely economic basis was a thing of the past. He hoped that some branch or department of the international organizations that are being set up would take the surplus and move it to where there was a deficit, and a World Wheat Pool take it off the market when below a certain level and hold it as a world reserve of food until it was needed; and also that a floor price be set up to protect the producers. If farmers grew too much wheat the world price could be reduced and the production of other food products stimulated.

Sir John said that world trade in food was greater than in any other commodity, and stabilized world trade in wheat would be a very important factor in stabilizing the world food market. He was definitely of the opinion that wheat was the first commodity to stabilize. Do this with wheat and in two or three years it would stabilize everything.

"The Food and Agricultural Organizations is the answer to the atomic bomb", said Sir John. "If the governments of the world cannot agree to feed their people properly, there is no hope for the world."
—Wheat Pool Budget.

Famine In Europe

Some 100 million people in Europe are on the boarder line of starvation according to Herbert Lehman, director of the United Nation Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. He says it is a race against time to save millions of people from starvation and plague. There are about 150 million people in Canada and the United States combined. This will give an idea of the extent of the possibilities for disaster in unfortunate Europe.

Ordinary decency would suggest that Canadian people should curtail their consumption of food to provide the government with surpluses for shipment to the terribly distressed Europeans. Canadians have enjoyed a standard of nutrition even in the worst of the war years higher than almost any nation in the world. The livestock population is at a high figure and there is an abundance of poultry and dairy products.

While war may have hardened humanitarian feelings, it is believed that if Canadian people fully understand the danger of the wholesale extermination of Europeans through starvation there would be a much greater effort to supply food for export thereto. —Wheat Pool Budget.

Obtain Leave

The plan is designed to enable war workers and service personnel "to get into the swing" of normal civilian peacetime employment. Soldiers may obtain leave from their military district to undertake work of this nature and while the period of leave is naturally without Army pay and allowances, this is more than compensated by the increased civilian wages they obtain. District Officers Commanding have arranged the showing of films illustrating opportunities in these various types of work for the men under their command. The Employment Service is co-operating in this regard. Conducted tours through various industrial plants to stimulate interest in particular industries are being carried on.

Christmas Is Christmas

Toys of all descriptions are reaching Prices Board Offices through the country for pricing before they find their way to bulging Christmas stockings or to mysterious packages under the festive tree. There are kiddy cars and tiny metal wagons, metal scooters and sleighs, tricycles, doll carriages, roller skates, musical box radios and toy pianos equipped with playable music, drums, ukeleles and xylophones, stuffed animals in their hundreds and dolls of all varieties.

Toy-making has become a native art, for from a nation almost wholly dependent on toy imports, Canada in two years has become nearly self-sufficient in providing toys for her three million children.

There will be decorations this Christmas also, Canadian-made since supplies from Europe and the Far East have been cut off. New this year are real pine cones, gathered in Canadian forests, tinted, frosted, and coated with phosphorus to make them sparkle. Popularized last year, lucite trinkets made from a plastic will be plentiful. Wrapping paper, paper bells and ropes should be adequate while there are large supplies of tags and seals, wreaths, crackers and candles of red and green variety.

For the housewife, doing Christmas planning ahead, sufficient supplies of turkeys and chicken are predicted though meat rationing is expected to heighten this year's demand. Currants and peel, maraschino cherries and brazil nuts will be short, but supplies of raisins and mincemeat, spices, cranberries, grapes, bananas, figs, peanuts, filberts, walnuts, almonds, pecans and prunes are expected to be about the same as last year, perhaps a little more plentiful. Candy will be short, with manufacturers restricted to 80 per cent of their 1941 quantity of sugar compared to 80 per cent last year.

On the Christmas gift front, china and jewellry will be abundant but woollens, cottons and linens are expected to be rather scarce because of difficulty in procuring yarns and fabrics from the United States and the United Kingdom. Since rayon has been finding its way into the civilian market, rayon articles have been available in greater quantity.

With peace on earth again, Christmas fare in Canada promises to be adequate enough to fill any needs.

Dehorning Cattle

(Experimental Farms News)

The annual loss to the cattle industry in Canada due to horns has been estimated at well over a million dollars. Dehorning of cattle is of great economic importance and is a matter to which every cattleman should give serious consideration. Horns on cattle not only make their handling more difficult, and are a source of danger to other cattle and to the cattleman, but they account for injuries, which, on dressed carcasses, can be seen as large bruises, necessitating trimming and loss.

The simplest, easiest, most humane and best way to dehorn is to use caustic potash when the animal is about ten days old, states H. E. Wilson, Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta. At that age the horns may be detected as small buttons or scurs which are loosely attached to the skull. The caustic potash is sold in pencil form and is procurable at drug stores at small cost. In addition to the caustic potash, a pair of scissors, a small jar of vaseline and a tumbler of water are needed to perform the operation. This practice of dehorning the calves might not apply to range conditions because of the time involved in the operation but it does apply on the average dairy or stock farm.

At the Lacombe Station where a herd of purebred Shorthorn cattle is maintained, all female calves are dehorned with caustic potash at about ten days of age. First of all, the hair surrounding the young horn or button, covering an area of about two inches in diameter, is removed with scissors. To prevent the caustic from spreading to the surrounding skin or running into the eyes, a ring of vaseline is applied to the area immediately surrounding the horn button. Heavy brown paper is warpped around the stick of caustic to prevent it burning the fingers. After the skin is prepared the end of the stick of caustic is dipped into the water to moisten it. The calf is then made secure and the moist stick of caustic potash is rubbed gently over each button, allowing a few minutes to elapse between rubbing. Rubbing is kept on until the skin ruptures and begins to bleed slightly, an indication that the button has been injured to such an extent that it will not develop further. This method of horn removal will stop horn growth with a degree of certainty if performed with care and not done too hurriedly. A good burning job is imperative, if the button is to be destroyed so that no stubs or misshapen horns can develop.

Calves should be kept separated from other calves while they are being treated and for a few days afterwards. If the caustic is used properly, a scab will form over the button and drop off a few days later, after which the wounds should be smeared over with vaseline.

Annual Meeting

ALBERTA MOTOR ASSOCIATION

Masonic Temple, Edmonton

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 21st, at 8:00 p.m.

Having in mind the interests of motorists and particularly A.M.A. members, the annual meeting this year will be conducted more along business lines than in the past.

A suitable highway programme and policy, adequate for the needs of the people of Alberta, will be discussed. A constructive practical road programme should be of vital concern to every motorist in the province.

A resolution outlining a proposed highway programme for Alberta will be introduced and opportunity given for discussing it.

Municipal officers and representatives of municipalities, chambers of commerce and others interested in highway development will be welcome to attend as delegates.

Those A.M.A. members having constructive suggestions are particularly requested to be present as they will be given an opportunity to express their opinions.

Membership and Financial reports covering the year's operations of the Alberta Motor Association will be given as usual.

Be sure and come early as meeting will commence promptly at 8 p.m.

DR. G. J. HOPE, Chairman.
W. C. CATON, Secretary.

Put more LIGHT on the SUBJECT!

Don't strain your eyes unnecessarily. It is poor economy to save on light at the expense of your eyesight. Use adequate light at all times, and have it correctly placed so that it falls on your work or whatever you are doing.

Move lamps and furniture together so that the light is working for you, not you for the light. Also be sure to provide adequate light, correctly placed for children to study by. Don't let them strain their eyes using a light that is either too harsh or too dim.

Be sure to clean lamps and reflectors regularly. You will get from 25% to 50% more light. A damp cloth will clean bulbs (be sure they are dry before switching the light on) and soap and water is best for dusty bowls and reflectors. Discard those dark lampshades and replace them with light colored ones which reflect the light.

A HOPEFUL SIGN—

ONE OF THE MOST hopeful signs of late years appeared as a heading on an Edmonton daily of Tuesday's issue. "World Tariff Conference Proposed" or some such heading with the same meaning was spread right across the page. The people of the world have become used to disappointments of one kind and another and perhaps this announcement is only another one of those brilliant enough plans to make a better world which for a short time burn with a brilliant light only to fade away with little accomplished. Concurrently with the announcement above referred to we noticed a report that our own Canadian government had withdrawn some tariff imposition only recently announced in the budget, and the two coming together makes one wonder just what is coming.

Tariffs have always been recognized as bones of contention. A tariff placed on a product by one country almost invariably brings about some kind of a counter move by another and the imposition of tariffs goes merrily on, getting more and more complicated the farther it goes. Finally there comes a time when tempers reach a breaking point and war clouds gather.

There is no denying that protective tariffs are a potent source of immediate material benefits to a nation or a particular section of a nation, but how much lasting benefit they bestow is debatable. Climatically and agriculturally, the world is by nature divided into zones. Each distinct area has an advantage over other areas and at the same time has to submit to inferiority to other zones in some other product. For instance the prairies excell in wheat and most grains, British Columbia in fruit or lumber, Ontario in manufacturing, California, citrus fruit, Pennsylvania, oil, Colombo, coffee, South Africa, diamonds, Belgium, glass, the complete list is a long, long one and is forever changing. But running contrary to nature's boundaries as regards natural products are mankind's political boundaries embodying the desire for wealth and power and that ever present urge to have something better than one's neighbor, be the neighbor a country or a person. It is this desire on the part of statesmen to benefit their own people at the expense of the people of other countries which has, through the centuries, brought so much grief into the world, and tariffs seem to be the handiest thing to use when statesmen really want to make a showing.

The result was that the world tariff structure had reached such gigantic and complicated proportions that it actually defeated its own ends, namely, instead of making conditions better for a few nations of the world, it made it worse for all of them. To say that there should be no tariffs is easy enough and one can feel righteous enough while saying it, but the truth is to have even an average intelligent grasp of the subject requires many hours of intensive study. Perhaps some tariffs are justified, perhaps some tariffs are beneficial to all concerned, but generally speaking, tariffs are designed to benefit some country at the expense of another, and the less there are of this kind, the better it is all round. We hope the World Tariff Conference whenever and wherever it takes place, will prove to the peoples of the world it is not nature that has fallen down in regards to the impoverishment of world food stocks, but man's mismanagement of her bounteous gifts.

OH! OH!

WHILE THE M.D. OF BEAVER Council was in session on Tuesday, just prior to adjournment the lights went out, plunging the council chamber in darkness. Coming unexpectedly, for a moment or so there was dead silence, then a voice born of long experience said "Watch Your Money."

Floors For The Pigs Sleeping Quarters

A. J. Charnetski, Livestock Supervisor, suggests that the following excerpt taken from the 'Journal of the Department of Agriculture of Australia', August issue, should be worthy of consideration by farmers who plan to build sleeping floors in their swine quarters:

SAWDUST CONCRETE RECOMMENDED

(W. S. McAuliffe, Pig Husbandry Adviser)

"Providing suitable impervious floors in the sleeping quarters of the piggery has always been a problem to pig producers. Sanitation is essential and so is warmth during the cold winter months. Whilst concrete is ideal from a sanitary point of view, it is much too cold for the farrowing sow or young piglets.

Not only is ordinary concrete very cold, but it sweats cold during wet weather and for that reason is unsuitable not only for floors in the piggery but also for division walls, unless special provision is made for ventilation.

From New Zealand comes evidence of the suitability of concrete made from sawdust, for this purpose. After several years of use it is claimed for concrete made from sawdust that it is more sanitary, more durable, drier and warmer than gratings or false board floors.

The method recommended is as follows: The sawdust concrete mixture is put on top of an ordinary concrete floor, in the sleeping quarters only. Three parts of sawdust to one of cement by measure, are the quantities recommended. For an area 8 feet and 2 inches thick, three bags of cement are required. Sawdust should be as coarse as possible, sawdust from a break down saw being the most suitable.

The mixing should be done by hand and thoroughly worked to a good moist consistency. The most satisfactory way of doing the job is to start at the back of the sleeping quarters in a width which can be worked comfortably with a wooden float. Sawdust concrete should be applied in half-inch layers and worked well in until the required two-inch level is reached. A dusting of pure cement is then applied to the surface and smoothed over with a float. Finally the floor is dusted over with pure sand. This gives a waterproof covering on the gripping sawdust concrete surface.

It is advisable to put a ledge 4" wide of pure concrete on the doorway leading into the pen to prevent the sawdust concrete breaking away. The floor should be given three weeks to harden before being used.

Servicemen's Forum

Servicemen's Forum goes on the air in a London studio of the BBC, so that the discussions of Canada's servicemen and women in Britain can be recorded, flown across the Atlantic and rebroadcast over the CBC Dominion network on Thursdays at 7:30 and 10.30 p.m. Here, while the show is on, are seated left to right, Lt. Donald MacDonald, RCNVR, Toronto, regular chairman of the program; Sgt. Bill Darnell, RCAF, Regina, and Cpl. Harry Johnson, RCNVR, Toronto and Ottawa. In the background, Wren Georgina Murray, RCNVR, formerly of CBC's Vancouver staff, and Sgt. Joe Kidmore, RCAF of Vancouver, the program's announcer.

Price New Cars At 1941 Level

Prices of new motor cars will be set at the 1941 level, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces. The new procedure for establishing maximum retail prices for cars will not result in increased prices, Board officials point out. Any commission, reward or premium including used cars or goods turned in or taken in exchange must form part of the retail ceiling price for the new car.

After November 19, manufacturers and importers must obtain from the Administrator of Motor Vehicles the maximum retail delivered prices and notify dealers before selling, the Board order states.

Allow Ration School Meals

School teachers wishing to serve hot lunches to school-children during the cold weather can apply at the ration office for coupons to cover rationed goods. Applicants should state the number of children and the number of days on which meals will be served.

BLACK FLAGS on U Boats

When Nazi U-boat commanders hoisted black flags of surrender, it was a "go ahead" signal to the three out of every eight Canadians who normally depend for their livelihood on export trade.

For five years the flow of foreign trade has been largely a government responsibility. But now, to help create peacetime jobs, Canadian enterprise must do its full share in finding customers abroad. This means doing business all over the world, in strange and distant cities, in a hundred languages and currencies.

Canadian banks have a key role in this complicated but essential peacetime task. Every day their foreign branches and correspondents arrange credits, handle documents and perform other intricate operations to bring buyers and sellers together across the obstacles of distance, language and custom.

This banking service is of primary importance to business and to every Canadian worker as Canada turns to the task of recreating trade abroad to provide jobs at home.

Victory Loan Drive Drawing To A Close

Alberta Units not making their quota were given another week to come up and the Tofield-Ryley Unit have been making good use of the extra time. A selling spurt over Friday and Saturday of last week put the unit over the two hundred thousand mark and brisk selling Monday boosted the total still further. It will all be over by the end of this week and Victory Loan drives as we have known them for some years will have passed into history.

HOW WE ARE DOING

17th day, 14 subscriptions of $1,650.00

18th day, 14 subscriptions for $13,050.00

19th day, 45 subscriptions for $14,150.00

20th day, 45 subscriptions for $12,150.00

22nd day, 12 subscriptions for $2,850.00

This makes a total of $220,860.00 being just about 90 per cent of our quota.

Poultry Meeting

Attention is drawn to the advertisement of a poultry meeting to be held at Tofield on Tuesday evening next. Mr. McDaniels, who we can say with assurance "knows his poultry" will address the meeting. A good turnout is expected.

LEGION SMOKER

The Tofield Branch of the Canadian Legion held a smoker at the Tofield Curling Rink on Monday night. Quite a number of veterans of both world wars were present and an enjoyable social time was spent.

NOTICE

Anyone wishing to curl this winter that was not present at the Curling Meeting held Tuesday, Nov. 13, should leave their name with Fred Imler or Jack Whyte before Tuesday, November 27, so they will be placed on a rink.

Mrs. G. Chapman and Mrs. Emery are visiting in Edmonton and Camrose.

Graham Allan has been buying poultry for the Woodland Dairy this week. He bought at Vermilion and Kitscoty.

Letter from M.D. of Eagle asking for records of culverts taken by councillors. M.D. of Beaver councillors will turn a report into the office.

Mr. Olaf Erickson of Bruce requested a soldiers' tax exemption on the N half 25-49-14. Councillor Ovens will attend to this.

Letter from M.D. of Eagle regarding settlement of machinery arrangement. This was left over until Thursday, December 13th.

On the motion of Councillor Moen all councillors that wish to go to the Alberta Municipal Districts Convention at Calgary which is to be held this month be allowed to do so, and that the expense allowance of each councillor be $30.00.

The following councillors expressed their likelihood of attending: Reeve Anderson, Councillors Giebelhaus, Laskoske, Lorne and Ovens. Secretary-Treas. Letourneau will also be allowed to go.

Councillor Ovens moved that we notify the Edmonton Union of M.D.'s that we endorse the resolution re rural electrification.

Afternoon adjournment.

Re-assembling at 4:30 the question of purchasing Victory Bonds was considered. Considerable discussion took place and different suggestions were considered. It was finally agreed to purchase $10,000.00 worth of Victory Bonds on the deferred payment plan, it being explained that even if it was not convenient to pay for these bonds with money, they could be paid for with some of the earlier issues of Victory Bonds the M.D. now held. The purchase will be divided, Viking, $2000.00; Holden-Bruce $4000.00; Tofield-Ryley, $4000.00.

A bylaw covering the above was given its first, second and third reading.

On the motion of Councillor Laskoske paysheets and documents regarding road work are to be sent to the councillor concerned by the first of each month if they are to be paid at the next meeting.

A number of hospital, road and ordinary current accounts were passed.

Meeting adjourned at 6:00 p.m.

A report of Tuesday's meeting will appear next week.

SOIL DRIFTING

Dr. Wyatt, head of the soils department of the University of Alberta has issued a statement to Alberta farmers regarding the dangers of soil drifting. It is necessary to be on guard against this very real calamity. The loss from wind erosion is incalculable, for the loss of one inch of topsoil from one acre removes sufficient phosphorus to produce twenty crops of wheat, each yielding fifty bushels to the acre. Soil drifting is the greatest menace to Alberta agriculture.

1945 Crop Season

Alberta has, on the whole, experienced one of the driest years on record according to a recent report of the provincial department of agriculture. This has been reflected in light crops and short feed conditions, resulting in very heavy cattle marketing and the liquidation of breeding sows.

Grain production was considerably lower than in 1944 and below the long-time average, the yields being as follows:

	Yield	Long-time average
	—bushels—
Wheat	12.5	17.2
Oats	24.0	34.1
Barley	18.1	25.2
Rye	12.6	13.4
Flax	6.7	8.9

Milk production in 1945 will show a decrease of five per cent under the 1944 production. Creamery butter production is estimated at 24 million pounds for 1945, a decrease from the previous year of around ten per cent. Factory cheese production is estimated at four million pounds and will exceed that of 1944.

The production of baby chicks was down about ten per cent. The six-cent bonus on better grades of poultry had the effect of carrying over more yearlings than was the case in 1944.

Feed supplies are not plentiful and this will have an effect on dairying particularly as less coarse grains will be fed during the winter which will result in lower milk yields.

The honey crop is estimated at six million pounds for this year, an increase of one million pounds over 1944. —Wheat Pool Budget.

Mrs. W. Worton spent the past week visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Worton of Rimbey.

Of Interest To Dairymen

Something new in the way of 'pin-ups' has been prepared by Dr. J. E. Bowstead, Department of Animal Science, University of Alberta.

Dr. Bowstead, who has been in charge of the dairy section at the University for over 23 years, has prepared a barn sheet that can be posted on the wall and referred to for almost any kind of dairy information needed. This sheet contains simple rules for the feeding of cows and calves; suitable grain mixtures; suggestions on the use of minerals; special treatment for cows at calving time; advice on disease treatments; common causes of low grade milk and cream; a gestation table, and even suggestions on the best way to milk cows.

A copy of the barn sheet can be obtained from District Agriculturists the Extension Service of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, or the Department of Extension, University of Alberta.

BARRED PLYMOUTH ROCKS IN DEMAND

There is a strong swing by Alberta poultrymen towards Barred Plymouth Rocks. C. W. Traves, Poultry Commissioner says that there are not nearly enough approved flocks of this breed to take care of the demand for Barred Rock chicks during the coming season.

Those who have flocks of at least one hundred or more good quality Barred Rock females, can make extra profit next spring by having these birds approved for the shipment of hatching eggs. Application forms and instructions can be obtained from the Poultry Branch, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Edmonton. Barred Rock breeding flocks to supply chicks, are in greater demand than any other breed at the present time.

Poultry Meeting

On November 20th, Tofield poultry producers of the district met at a meeting held at the Varsity Theatre under the auspices of the Poultry Branch Department of Agriculture. Mr. Traves, Poultry Commissioner, and Mr. McDaniels, Fieldman, gave reviews of the Poultry Industry and were instrumental in organizing a Poultry Association, hereafter to be known as Tofield Poultry Producers' Association.

During the course of the meeting, election of officers took place. Mr. Jim Francis was elected president; Mr. H. M. Bennett, vice-president; and Mrs. T. Nomeland, secretary. Mr. Jim Francis was elected delegate to Alberta Federation meeting to be held in December. A committee of six, Bob Smith, J. Francis, C. Appleby, T. Nomeland, Mrs. J. Appleby, Bill Davison, were appointed as a membership committee. The association decided on a $1.00 yearly membership fee.

After deciding on holding our next meeting shortly after the new year, the meeting adjourned.

Holden Health Unit

The Holden Health Unit will hold its regular infant, pre-school and pre-natal clinic on the first Thursday of every month in the Home Economics room, Tofield, opposite the Telephone Office. The next clinic will be held December 6th. Parents are invited to bring their infant and pre-school children in for free immunization, inspection and advice.

Second Day Session Of Beaver Council Meeting

The meeting re-convened on Tuesday morning at 10:30, four councillors being present. In a short time there was a full council in session.

Communication from the AAMD re War Surplus Material was read and filed away. Also one from the Indemnity Insurance Company.

The funeral expenses amounting to $85.00 and a grocery allowance of $20.00 was allowed an indigent ratepayer.

There was no reply from the Calgary Power Co. regarding a suggestion that the posts carrying power lines be taken off the roadways.

The third reading of bylaws concerning tax lot deals, previously reported, were given.

Councillor Ovens was authorized to investigate a seed grain lien claim on some land in his division.

A letter was read from the Salvation Army saying that their homesteads in Edmonton and Calgary were full and that there was a waiting list. The M.D. had made an enquiry regarding an aged lady.

A report from the Provincial Training School re an invalid boy was received. Forms were enclosed to fill in, but the communication did not hold out much hope for an early admittance.

Letter from the Department of Agriculture re financial assistance to the Agricultural Board was read. The Department is much in favor of these boards and in addition to paying half of the fieldman's salary, are willing to render whatever assistance they can.

A relief recipient wished to have his relief in the form of a cheque instead of an order on a certain store. On motion of Councillor Laskoske, this was allowed.

On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus Mr. Kenneth and Mrs. Hilda Fields will be paid [illegible] per hour, this to be divided 60c for Kenneth and 30c for Hilda. Mr. and Mrs. Fields were working on a road construction gang.

A bill was presented from Dr. Smith of Camrose regarding professional services rendered Mr. Matthew Hostland. Council could not accept responsibility.

A request was received from Jens Christofferson to have weeds cut to prevent the piling of snow on road past Ryley Coal Mine.

A letter from the Tofield Coal Company was read expressing disappointment that the gravel put on the road running from Tofield to the mine was so fine. Some discussion took place regarding this, it being the opinion of council that a fine gravel if in sufficient quantity was superior for road purposes to coarse gravel.

Letter from J. W. Smith, Viking, regarding a board bill. Council believed it was responsible and payment was ordered.

Driving Hazard Stressed

Warning to drivers to operate their vehicles carefully under winter conditions has been given by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Streets and highways have slippery surfaces and it is well known that there are many driving hazards this season. Consequently, the safe driver is one who takes full account of dangers that lurk along the traffic lanes and at intersections.

What is all important is to see that the car's equipment is in good condition. Make certain that the brakes are in efficient condition just in case a sudden stop is necessary to avoid possibly a serious accident. Check over the other parts of the car and be satisfied that they will stand the test of winter. Make sure the lights are in A-1 shape.

It is a well known fact that the careful driver, who insists on the vehicle being in satisfactory condition, is one who seldom if ever has an accident where the responsibility can be placed on him.

May Regard Future With Confidence, says S. M. Wedd

Toronto, November 8—Canadians may regard the future with confidence "so long as they retain their perspective and the ready common sense basic in the national character," Stanley M. Wedd, President of The Canadian Bankers' Association declared today at the annual meeting of the Association.

Despite the toll of war, the Canadian people stand on the threshold of peace with $4,763 millions more money than they ever had before. This has piled up since 1939—$1,131,000,000 representing an increase in savings deposits in the chartered banks, $211,500,000 in war savings certificates, $1,600,100,000 in individual savings invested in Victory Bonds and $783,000,000 of extra cash lying in men's pockets, women's purses and the tills of business.

This great volume of money, Mr. Wedd said, carries with it definite risks and dangers, as well as definite advantages, but "if Canadians will look at their savings, realize their strength, and move with confidence, their future prosperity upon a sound and ordered basis lies in their own hands." Without their national common sense, he added, Canadians could impoverish themselves in a disastrous inflationary spiral.

Mr. Wedd, Vice-President and General Manager of The Canadian Bank of Commerce, who is retiring after two years as President of The Canadian Bankers' Association, pledged the banks through their branches across the country "to furnish sympathetic counsel and understanding advice to all returning men and women who seek it. Every branch manager is eager to aid in the rehabilitation of Canada's returning soldiers, sailors and airmen in civilian occupations and peaceful civil life. As for the banks, he said, "we shall see to it that none of our [illegible] ent employees lose through having given of themselves to their country's service."

As long as it is necessary to avert inflation, some residue of wartime controls must remain in Canada, Mr. Wedd declared, "but I am sure it is the studied conclusion of all thinking Canadians that the ideal national policy would be one which aims to get all business, as well as the men and women of the armed forces, out of uniform as soon as the exigencies arising from war will safely permit. There should be de-control as rapidly as order will allow and as the danger of inflation recedes."

Individual enterprise is the backbone of business and employment in Canada, said Mr. Wedd. There was talk from time to time of state planning and management of the peacetime economy, but "such a view ignores the essential fact that the plans which will do most to shorten the period of reconversion and get people back to useful and self supporting work are the plans of business men themselves."

Poor Soil Produces Poor Food

(FARM FORUM GUIDE)

In a certain area of North Carolina the people are very poor and isolated. As a first step towards their rehabilitation a road building project was started. Then it was discovered that the men in the area were not strong enough to help build the roads. Their bones were soft because there was no calcium in the soil.

A similar story regarding phosphorous is told by Professor J. H. Ellis of the Soils Department, University of Manitoba, in his booklet, Soils and Health. Dr. Ellis says:

"A farmer in a certain district in Manitoba wrote stating that in his district there was hardly a man over 40 years of age capable of doing a full day's work. This had caused him to suspect that the soil was responsible. Our work has shown that the soils in that district are low in phosphate. Consequently we recommended the application of phosphate for the garden crops. Unfortunately we have no data on the mineral content of the vegetables grown in the gardens, but the medical officer to whom we referred this trouble, recently informed that the use of phosphate as a mineral supplement in the diet of certain of the affected persons had apparently overcome the difficulty."

THE SOIL AND USE

These two stories illustrate the vital relationship between soil and health. The connection is easy to understand. We eat plants that have drawn their nourishment from the soil or we eat the flesh of animals which have fed upon plants grown in the soil. To quote Professor Ellis again, "Soils determine plants; plants determine animals; and plants and animals [illegible]".

The human body is composed of various chemical elements which are found also in the air, water and the soil. The air and water elements constitute 95 per cent of our bodies, the soil elements only 5 per cent. The 95 per cent gives us bulk and energy. It represents our fuel and fat. The 5 per cent which is soil gives us our ability to grow and reproduce. Without this precious 5 per cent we could not live. It consists mainly of minerals which we must get from the soil—calcium, phosphorus, sodium chlorine, potassium, sulphur, magnesium, iron, and essential traces of iodine fluorine, manganese, copper, cobalt, and some other elements.

Without any one of these a human being will be sick. Familiar forms of sickness are: Anemia caused by a lack of iron; tooth decay caused by a lack of calcium, and phosphorous and either too much or too little fluorine; goitre caused by lack of iodine.

Plants and animals likewise require these mineral elements for healthy life. Plants which are deficient in them make poor food for animals or humans. No matter how good the seed, plants cannot be healthy if the soil is not right. Soil is more important even than rainfall. It is not the water that makes the soil fertile, it is soil fertility that makes the water efficient. "That is why," says Dr. William Albrecht of the University of Missouri, "a 40 bushel crop wheat can be grown in Western Kansas with 25 inches of rainfall and yet 40 inches of rain will not guarantee a 25 bushel crop of wheat in Missouri."

ANIMALS AND THE SOIL

The bodies of animals are made up of air and water and soil in almost the same proportions as the bodies of humans. Healthy animals must be able to replenish their supply of minerals or they will become sick just as human beings do. Well-known examples of deficiencies with their consequent diseases are:

CALCIUM AND PHOSPHORUS

Calcium and phosphorus deficiencies cause bone disorders. Horses and goats develop skeletal deformities with a disease known as 'big head". Calves may have rickets; poultry will have bone deformities and will produce soft-shelled eggs.

IRON

Iron deficiency causes nutritional anemia in animals as in humans. In Florida a disease known as 'salt sick' is common among animals in large areas. This disease is characterized by anemia.

COPPER

Copper deficiency in the diet of pregnant ewes may cause "swayback" in lambs, a disease [illegible] ized by nervous symptoms. In Northern Europe a wasting disease of cattle called "lechsucht" seems to be caused by a copper deficiency in the pasture.

COBALT

Cobalt is required only in very small amounts—1 milligram a day for sheep. Yet the small amount will keep in health sheep that would otherwise die. Tens of thousands of grazing animals in certain areas of the world have wasted away because their forage lacked cobalt. Losses have been prevented in some areas of deficiency by an application of only 8 ounces of cobalt per acre.

IODINE

Iodine deficiency causes goitre in sheep and results in litters of hairless pigs.

All these elements are required for health. In Florida where [illegible] is much poor soil and much sickness among animals, investigators have found that the surface soil in healthy areas contains approximately ten times as much iron, twice as much copper, and five times as much phosphorus and calcium as that in the sick areas.

Animals instinctively choose food which is rich in minerals. This has been proved by turning hogs and cattle loose on [illegible] which have been partly treated with lime or phosphates. Invariably they prefer the pasture where the field was treated.

OUR FOOD AND THE SOIL

The most common food need of animals is for calcium and phosphorus—a need which they pass on to humans. Milk and butter, for instance, vary in these elements according to the diet of the cows which produce them. Milk cannot have its regulation quota of calcium if the cow's food was deficient in calcium. Then you may drink milk [illegible] still have a calcium-deficient [illegible] and suffer from decaying teeth.

Butter is a valuable source of Vitamin A but it varies greatly in the amounts which it yields per pound. The average pound of butter contains about 15,000 international units of Vitamin A. Winter butter, however, may contain only 9,000 units per pound while summer butter may contain as much as 25,000 units.

It is known that the Vitamin A potency of milk and butter depend upon the quantity of carotene in the cow's diet. The cow's principal sources of carotene are the fresh green pasture grasses and other good quality roughages. Dairy farmers could farmers could right the balance between winter and summer by adding appropriate quantities of "salad" to the cow's winter diet.

Eggs are likewise affected by the ration of hens. Soft-shelled eggs come from hens whose diet is deficient in calcium. The vitamin A and Vitamin D content varies with the ration. Eggs today are said to have a higher nutritive value than those of a few years ago because of our more scientific ways of feeding hens.

WHAT ABOUT VITAMINS?

We are all vitamin-conscious these days so the question naturally arises. Can vitamins be traced to the soil as minerals can? The answer is that on the basis of studies made so far the connection between soil and vitamins is not so apparent. It has been proved however, that the vitamin content of plant foods is affected by two things—climate and variety.

Tomatoes grown in the greenhouse in fall and winter produce fruit containing only half as much Vitamin C as plants grown outside in summer. The intensity of sunlight seems to be the controlling factor.

Different varieties of tomatoes are richer than others in Vitamin C, regardless of soil or climatic conditions. This has been proved at the Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland, B.C. Varieties of high Vitamin C content are: Signet, Clark's Early, Sugawara, Earliana 4040, Master Marglobe and Stokesdale. Similar experiments at the United States Breeding Laboratory of South Carolina have shown that the Vitamin C content of certain varieties of tomatoes grown side by side in the same soil, ranged from 11 to 22 milligrams per 100 grams. Thus it would take twice the weight of the poorest compared with the best to meet dietary requirements.

Apples show an even greater range in the Vitamin C content of different varieties. An extreme example is the Northern Spy which may contain as high as 11 milligrams per 100 grams, while the McIntosh Red may contain as low as 2 milligrams per 100 grams.

These illustrations make one think. In Canada our food is notoriously low in Vitamin C (ascorbic acid). We depend a great deal on citrus fruits which are expensive. Neither apples nor tomatoes yield as high a proportion of Vitamin C as oranges do. But suppose we could develop new varieties richer in Vitamin C? In New Zealand a variety of the Nelson apple has been produced which will yield 36 milligrams per 100 grams. No such Vitamin-producing apple is yet known in America.

Wheat is a valuable source of Vitamin B1 but it is not generally known that the best varieties of hard wheat vary by nearly 400 units per pound. The following table is based on research on Canadian Wheat by Dr. Tisdall and others.

VITAMIN B1 CONTENT [illegible] SOME CANADIAN WHEATS

Variety of Wheat	Vitamin B1 Units per lb.
Regent	830
Renown	880
Reward	906
Thatcher	700
Marquis	648
White Fife	470
Garnet	486

In the past, varieties of wheat, other grains, fruit and vegetables have been selected for high yield, disease resistance, drought resistance and frost resistance. Yields have been increased by so many bushels per acre. But we have given little thought to the real reason why protective foods are needed, namely to supply the nutrients otherwise lacking in our diet. From this standpoint we need to learn how to increase the yield of nutrients as well as of bushels or tons per acre.

FARMER'S RESPONSIBILITY

The farmer has a responsibility in all this. He can choose the varieties of grains, fruit and vegetables, which he plants. He can watch the fertility of his land. Soil fertility on an individual farm may be depleted through failure to return manure, crop residues, etc. "The same crops still growing after fifty years of farming may have shifted from protein-producing, mineral-supplying, health-giving sustenance to vegetation mainly of fuel value, with nutrient deficiencies. The shifts may occur without changes in tonnage output," Dr. Albrecht warns.

"But", some people may say, "Is there any need for farmers to change their farming practices in order to improve the nutritional qualities of food produced, if minerals and vitamins can be provided easily and cheaply in the form of attractive little pill's?"

Nutrition experts tell us that we do not yet know enough about the complicated question of foods to be able to substitute with safety, pills for natural foods. Just as vitamins are a fairly recent discovery so other essential food elements as yet unknown, may be discovered in the future.

The farmer's responsibility may be summed up as follows:

- To keep his soil up to par in mineral content.
- To safeguard against erosion by water which carries away valuable minerals from the soil.
- To plant the most nutritious varieties of seed where these are known.

CBC Outlines Application Method For Broadcasting Messages To Far North

Through CBC's Northern Messenger broadcasts (CBK and CKX, Fridays, 12:15 a.m. CST, 11:15 p.m. MST), traders, trappers, miners, missionaries, government officials, and other inhabitants of the Northwest Territories and the Canadian Arctic are able to hear messages from their families and friends at home.

This is a free service. Following are the regulations regarding messages:

(1) All messages should be addressed to: Northern Messenger, Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, 354 Jarvis Street, Toronto, Ontario.

(2) Messages must be of a strictly personal nature, written in simple language, either English or French.

(3) Occupation of persons to whom messages are addressed must be stated.

(4) Code messages will not be accepted under any circumstances.

(5) Messages should not be longer than fifty words, or about four typewritten lines; the CBC reserves the right to strike out words or phrases, should the volume of traffic be heavy.

(6) In order to serve the greatest number of northern listeners the CBC may limit the number of messages to any person in any one broadcast whenever the traffic is sufficiently heavy to warrant this action.

(7) Messages cannot be accepted for transmission to any point which is already served by any recognized commercial or government system of electrical communication, such as telephone, telegraph, radiophone or radiograph.

NARRATOR

JOHN DRAINIE won himself a reputation for acting in radio drama circles of Vancouver, his home town, which he has maintained since his move to Toronto as CBC announcer in 1943. Now free lancing, he has starred in many of radio's most notable plays, and currently is narrator on the "Electric Hour", Mondays, at 7:00 p.m. CST, over the CBC Dominion network.

A FORGOTTEN PEOPLE—

MR. J. W. CHAPMAN OF CALGARY, recently wrote a letter to the Premier of Alberta, cabinet ministers, city officials, churches, six daily newspapers and 78 weeklies, explaining the plight of the blind people in this province and asking for suggestions for the establishment of a home for them. The letter appeared in the September 27 issue of the Mercury. The response to the letter was not very gratifying to Mr. Chapman, as only clubs, social service and welfare organizations took much interest in it. The government was not interested in building homes for blind people but were trying to get better pensions for them. The response from newspapers was meagre, only a few commenting upon the suggestion and in interest as to helping blind people the churches were lowest, not a single reply from an official, pastor or minister having been received. We cannot say anything regarding any other group but in fairness to the newspapers, Mr. Chapman should understand that his mimeographed letter was just one of scores, one can truthfully say hundreds, received during the year. From somewhere, almost every morning, newspapers receive requests for publicity from individuals with ideas and intentions that are either good, bad, or in-between. At the time Mr. Chapman's letter arrived, most newspaper men were working up interest in the clothing collection campaign to relieve human suffering in Europe and no sooner had this been done than we were in the midst of the Victory Loan Campaign, the success of which was necessary in relation to the public good.

We believe it correct enough to say that very few people have given very much thought to those afflicted with blindness. Not that the average person does not fully appreciate the great handicap blind people live their lives under, but rather that they appreciate the handicap so much that they subconsciously gather the impression that in a land of plenty these blind people would be taken care of somehow, most likely by a beneficient government. Thus, Mr. Chapman has done a really fine thing by making known the needs of the blind people of Alberta. That their pension should be increased goes without saying. $30.00 per month is far too small an amount to live on if one has no other resources at all. At the same time were one to investigate one hundred blind pensioner cases, it would most likely be found that no two cases as regards material means and the opportunity to procure material means would be exactly alike.

We are not enamored of the suggestion "Home for the Blind," except it be some sort of a technical training centre. As far as possible we believe blind people should be left among their own loved ones. Missing much of life's beauties, it would seem to us to be robbing them of what individuality they now retain to have them boarded in "homes" with regulations such an institution would have to enforce. Certainly their plight should not be forgotten and genuine effort should be put forward to see that no case of hardship among blind people is allowed to continue or even exist.

UNIFORM BOUNDARIES—

AT A RECENT convention of school trustees held in Edmonton, the subject of uniform boundaries for School Districts, Municipal Districts, and Health Units was discussed. This is not a new subject, it having cropped up very soon after the Alberta government caused the formation of enlarged school districts or divisions as they are called, and a little later organized the health units. Local government, (or perhaps secondary government would be a better term to use as municipal districts are now so large as to make the word "local" meaningless), has with the development of the country, undergone a transformation. It is not necessary to relate here the successive steps that were taken to change the local government set-up of early days to the present set-up, this has been previously done, but it is necessary to understand that the old, somewhat easy going system is passing out and a new and more efficient, even if more expensive, system is on its way in. In the change over, school division, municipal district, and health unit boundaries were not kept uniform, but the advantages of having them uniform are so obvious that for some time now suggestions have been forthcoming that they be made so. We believe there is nothing to lose and much to gain by having the boundaries of all three made uniform. The focal centre of secondary government is the Municipal District Office, for it is here that the money changes hands. It is here that ratepayers come to pay and varied interests come to collect. It would make it easier for the office and more understandable all round if Municipal, School and Health organizations, and for that matter, even hospital districts had the same territorial boundaries.

THE VICTORY LOAN—

THE TOFIELD-RYLEY UNIT didn't quite make it as far as reaching the quota was concerned, but we do feel that a very creditable showing was made. The quota was quite high and the unit came within a few thousand dollars of reaching it. The final figures were 546 applications for $226,450. The quota was $245,000.

THEY WANT A CHEF'S TALL HAT: For the first time in this country an apprentice cooks' school, established in the Canadian Pacific's coast-to-coast hotel chain, is giving Canadian youth an opportunity to learn the art of cooking. It opens up to them a chance to enter a profession which will not be overcrowded for years. Their practical training will allow them to assist in kitchens, thus releasing experienced cooks for other duties, such as staffing the C.P.R. summer hotels, when these resorts reopen. Under the direction of Ernest J. Weth, (lower left) catering supervisor of Canadian Pacific hotels, 11 young men have begun the two-year course at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto with 10 of the embryo cooks who are undergoing training shown above. Mr. Weth is now organizing the school at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec and will line up similar courses in C.P.R. hotels at Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary and Victoria in their turn.

Freedom From Want

Help from the farmer will be asked again within the next few days. Not much is required this time in the way of actual work, but in view of present world food problems the help requested is very important.

Farmers all over the Dominion will soon receive the annual live stock survey card on which are listed questions dealing with live stock numbers and other farm facts. Canada is doing her share towards making food available to the people of Europe but in order [illegible] what can be offered, a knowledge of agricultural products [illegible] the farm is essential. The more of these survey cards that are completed and returned promptly, the more effective will be our stock [illegible].

The Agricultural Branch of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics is the authority on agricultural facts for Canada, but efficiency of that branch must depend [illegible] co-operation of farmers [illegible] the facts [illegible] farmer in Canada can be [illegible] important work by answering the questions asked and returning the card as requested. The Importance of Planting Trees In Alberta

The Forestry Division of the Department of Lands and Mines again emphasize the importance of planting trees for shelter belts, windbreaks and woodlots in Alberta and their value.

Since the spring of 1902 many hundreds of thousands of trees have been distributed throughout the Province for these purposes by the Alberta Forest Service and many agricultural areas have been benefited by this policy.

The results are becoming increasingly gratifying as the trees distributed several years ago are now affording protection against soil drifting, the high winds that are prevalent on the prairies and also in improving living conditions and beautifying the home surroundings.

Woodlots planted on marginal and sub-marginal parts of the farm are proving very beneficial in providing part, and in some cases all, of the farm requirements for fuel, as well as of the lumber required from time to time on the farm.

A great many Bur and Red Oak trees have been distributed by the Alberta Forest Service in past years and these species have proven hardy in a great part of the Province.

A large number of Bur Oak and Red Oak trees have been distributed by the Alberta Forest Service in past years and these species have proven hardy in a great part of the Province.

Trees free of charge, the recipient paying the express charges covering shipment, are to be given by the Forest Service to farmers in the Province for the following purposes:

(1) For planting within natural Poplar or Willow bluffs.

(2) For replacements in established windbreaks or shelter belts.

(3) For rural schools, churches and cemeteries.

Trees are not available for beautification only, nor for the establishment of new windbreaks and shelter belts. Persons requiring trees for the former purpose shall secure them from commercial nurseries, and for the latter, application should be made to the Dominion Department of Agriculture, Tree Planting Division, Indian Head, Saskatchewan.

Trees available for distribution in the spring of 1946 include the following: White Spruce, Lodgepole Pine, Scotch Pine, Douglas Fir, Bur Oak, Red Oak, Green Ash, American Elm.

In addition to the above, cuttings of Laurel Leaf Willow, Golden Willow and North west Poplar will be available.

All applications must be filled in and received in the office of the Director of Forestry, Administration Building, Edmonton before January 31st, 1946, otherwise they will not be given consideration.

Land Stewardship

Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk, Assistant Chief of the United States Soil Conservation Service, who will address the Convention of the Alberta Association of Rural Municipalities at Calgary on November 22nd and 23rd, has travelled widely in the interests of soil conservation. "Man's methods of inducing accelerated soil erosion," he says, "are the same in the Far East, Near East, old world and new world. Erosion is a destroyer; not only of sloping lands but of standards of living. The immediate offspring of an erosion wrecked landscape is a decadent population."

While in the Near East, Dr. Lowdermilk was gravely impressed with the evidences of suicidal agricultural practices which had resulted in the man made deserts and ruined civilizations of the Mediterranean area. In 1939, when at Jerusalem, he suggested that "if Moses had foreseen the impoverishment, revolutions and social decadence of billions of people through thousands of years, he doubtless would have been inspired to deliver an ELEVENTH COMMANDMENT to complete the trinity of man's responsibilities to his Creator, to his fellow men, and to Mother Earth."

"Such a commandment," wrote Dr. Lowdermilk "should read somewhat as follows:

> XI. Thou shalt inherit the holy earth as a faithful steward, conserving its resources and productivity from generation to generation. Thou shalt protect thy fields from soil erosion and thy hills from overgrazing by thy herds, so that thy descendents may have abundance for ever. If any shall fail in this stewardship of the land, his fertile fields shall become sterile stones and gullies, and his descendants shall decrease and live in poverty or vanish from the face of the earth."

---V---

The duty of man is plain and simple, and consists but of two two points: His duty of God, which every man must feel; and his duty to his neighbor, to do as he would be done by. —Thomas Paine.

Can't Spend Enough

Edmonton: How to keep from spending too much money is the worry of most people, but it wasn't so with Major H. A. Tucker, Loyal Edmonton Regiment, when the unit was enroute home on a Canadian National Railways troop train special.

The Major was custodian of $375 of the unit's regimental funds and his aim was to spend it all before arrival in Edmonton or the money would go to the general fund. He bought everything of which he could think for distribution among the men. At Halifax, Montreal, Winnipeg and Saskatoon, through the co-operation of the commissary department of the CNR, cases of soft drinks and oranges were put aboard for the men. Major Tucker even wired ahead to Saskatoon for six hundred bricks of ice cream.

He did a good job, but there was still a little money left over when the unit reached Edmonton which he gladly turned over to the regimental fund's board.

Beaver Agricultural Board Meet

The Agricultural Service Board of the M.D. of Beaver met at Ryley on November 19th. There were present: Messrs. J. A. Anderson, J. W. Swabey and W. A. Moisey.

Mr. Roddick, field man gave his yearly report on weed control. This included detailed reports of specific lands that were badly infested with weeds. Discussion regarding individual and specific cases took place and treatment will be accorded these lands according to the nature of the infestation.

Mr. Moisey explained the effect of cultivation and cropping on prairie soils. The best way to increase the fibre contents in soil is to seed it to grass. It was suggested that if land is not being farmed to produce good crops, Mr. Roddick be authorized to sow the land to grasses to fibre it up.

It was also suggested that a meeting be held in Ryley for soil conservation and that Dr. Wyatt, Professor of Soils be asked to address the meeting.

It was suggested that the Municipal District of Beaver No. 73, Council discuss the problem of short term leases on lakeshores (with special reference to the west end of the Municipality) and refer it to the Department of Lands and Mines for devising a more suitable arrangement to assist the lessees in controlling the thistles by cultivation and sowing same to cultivated grasses.

Moved by Mr. Swabey that the Weed Fieldman make a complete survey of all Municipal lands and take complete supervision of same to improve the weed situation, this to include the renting, farming, etc., of all such lands.

The Agricultural Service Board discussed the matter of the Dominion Provincial Farm Labour Agreement and it was the unanimous feeling of the members that such an agreement should be extended and carried on. The members felt that the present set up of directing the available labour to points where it is needed, should be continued. An opinion was expressed that more attention could be given to members of the Armed Services that are undertaking farming, also the war workers. It was felt that more frequent visits to these farms could be of material benefit. Also some attention could be given to farm visiting of the so-called poor farmer.

Moved by J. A. Anderson that the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labor Agreement be continued.

Mr. Moisey received a letter from Mr. Gandier, Supt. of Schools, stating that the Department was trying to continue the same set up in regards to a farm machinery repair school as was last year. This School would be held in Ryley and Mr. Moisey said that Mr. T. Bendicksen had offered his garage for the purpose. This school will be held after Christmas, and the fee will be $1.00, the student to provide his own room and board.

Mr. Moisey also reported that three Agricultural Short Courses had been held last year, with much success, and that the Department was wondering what was going to be done this year.

Moved by Mr. Swabey that the Weddings

EAGLESHAM—DOLINSKY

A quiet wedding ceremony took place in Edmonton on the 22nd of November, when Elizabeth Dolinsky, daughter of Mr and Mrs Stephen Dolinsky of 10126, 98 street, Edmonton, Alberta, and Allan Gibson Eaglesham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Eaglesham of Tofield, Alberta, were united in marriage.

The bride was dressed in a two-piece suit of light blue wool, with a hat and accessories to tone. She wore a corsage of roses.

Miss Sophie Kenyluke attended the bride and was frocked in a green silk dress with accessories to match and corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Marshall Nay was best man.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for all the friends and relations

The young couple will reside in Edmonton.

ELAINE THOMAS EVENING BRIDE

At Highlands United church early Saturday evening, Miss Elaine Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Paul Thomas of Edmonton, became the bride of Mr. Lewis William Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Derkson of Edmonton.

Rev. D. K Allan performed the ceremony

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown in traditional white made with a full double net skirt. It had a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves ending in lily points over the wrists. Her chapel veil was caught up by a headdress of flowers and she carried a bouquet of deep red roses. Her only jewelry was a gold locket

Recently discharged from the service, the groom was in naval uniform.

Mrs. David Simpson, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. Mrs. Simpson was gowned in a blue taffeta model with matching jacket. Her headdress was of bronze baby mums and daisies and she carried an identical bouquet

Best man was Mr [illegible] of Edmonton. Wedding music was played by Miss Mary Clement, church organist.

Following the ceremony, a reception to immediate relatives and friends was held at the Masonic temple. For receiving, [illegible] bride's mother, Mrs. Thomas, was frocked in a dusty rose model with a brown hat with veil. Her corsage was of cream carnations. The groom's mother chose an afternoon dress in deep purple complemented by black hat and accessories and a corsage of cream carnations.

An Emergency Year For Many Farmers In Canada

Hon. James G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, has announced that under the provisions of the Prairie Farm Assistance Act the 1945 crop year has been declared an Emergency Year under Section 3 of the Act. The Minister stated that over 2,000 townships in the eastern half of the province of Alberta and the western half of the province of Saskatchewan have suffered this year from the severest drought conditions experienced in the prairie provinces since 1937. Without the benefit of this declaration thousands of farmers in this area would otherwise be unable to carry on until the next crop was harvested, said Mr Gardiner.

The purpose of the Act, which makes this possible, is to provide aid to prairie farmers whose crops have been reduced by means beyond their control. Assistance payments under the Act come from a fund to which each farmer contributes one per cent of the amount he receives on grain sales each year. These farmer contributions to date have constituted over one-third of the assistance payments which have been made since the Act came into force in 1939, the balance of the amount being provided by funds from the Treasury of Canada.

Assistance payments are allotted to farmers on the basis of the average yield in the respective townships.

Since the Act was passed in 1939, the only crop year not declared an emergency year was that of 1942-43.

To the end of the 1944 crop year, expenditures under the Act since 1939 have totalled $43,741,382.23, of which $17,215,339.57 has been made from the funds built up by the one per cent levy on all prairie farmers' sales of grain and the balance of $26,526,042.76 by contributions from the Treasury of Canada.

Jeeps on Farms

A display of the agricultural jeep has been given by manufacturers at an experimental farm in Ottawa. A large crowd attended the event. The speed transmission had been lowered from that of the military jeep. Additions included speed controlling governor, belt pulley, draw bar and a power take-off. In the demonstration, the jeep pulled from its draw bar a plow, seed drill and disk harrow in turn. Its belt pulley was used to operate a silo filler and a circular saw while its power take-off was employed to operate a sprayer. On the front of the jeep was a winch devised to enable it to pull itself from mud holes or ditches, or to pull another unit towards it.

Imported Sheep

Saskatoon- For the purpose of improving the quality of live stock in Western Canada, five high-bred Scotch sheep have arrived in Saskatoon over Canadian National Railways lines from Glasgow. The animals, each valued at $75.00, travelled in individual crates in care of the C.N. Express, whose representatives saw to their feeding and watering enroute.

During their 23 hour stay over in Montreal, the animals were cared for in the express facilities at the Central Station, their quarters being cleaned and the stock of food replenished.

Change December Ration Procedure

Consumers are assured of the same amount of sugar for the month of December although the ration procedure will be slightly changed, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces. Instead of one sugar coupon and two preserves coupons becoming valid the third Thursday in December, four preserves coupons P22, 23, 24, 25 each with an alternative value of one half pound of sugar, will become valid.

As well as allowing a greater choice of preserves to consumers wishing to substitute preserves purchases for sugar, use of the two extra preserves coupons will finish up the "P" coupons at the end of the calendar year.

Field Bindweed Destroyed

The success of a farmer of the Pincher Creek District in eradicating field bindweed will be of interest to those who are familiar with the persistence of this weed.

W.R Hanson, District Agriculturist at Cardston, reports that D.J. Cyr of Pincher Creek successfully eradicated bindweed by using the field as a hog pasture. The weed was first discovered in the garden where it was thought to have been introduced with flower seeds. It soon appeared in an adjoining field and rapidly spread over several acres. The field was fenced and sown at different times to annual and perennial pasture crops. The hog did the rest.

Although plants of field bindweed still persist outside the fence and along the road in spite of intensive efforts to destroy them, no plants were found in the pasture during the past summer.

German Engine

Montreal—Captured by the First Canadian Railway Operating Group, one of the latest German condenser type locomotives, is being sent to Canada for experiments by the Canadian National Railway's motive power engineers, E. R. Battley, chief of the motive power and car equipment said here. The tests will determine if this novel type engine will be practical in Canada.

While the design of the locomotive might possibly suggest some ways by which Canadian engines may be improved, the main feature of interest will be the condenser, Mr. Battley added. It is an invention which carries the steam released in powering the locomotive to the tender and by a turbine-driven fan converts it to water for use again. The Germans claimed that the engine could be operated one mile on a gallon of water, but during the period of operation by the Canadian Army in Europe, the results were not nearly as good.

Vitamin A For Poultry

The necessity of stepping up on vitamins A and D for poultry has been emphasized. On the first sign of colds or unthriftiness in poultry, it is stated that a good practice is to strengthen the diet by the addition of extra fish oil. An easy and efficient way to feed it is to place the night feeding of grain in a pail, pour over it one cupful of fish oil per hundred chickens, stirring the grain thoroughly, and feed the oil-coated grain into troughs. In cold weather both grain and fish oil should be warmed before mixing. This procedure should be gone through once each month throughout the winter.

Onions Relished In Bermuda

In Bermuda, where especially fine quality onions grow, nurtured by the rich, coral-reef soil, and slowly developed in the mildly warm and moist climate of the Gulf Stream, they take on a glamour all their own. With a deft, understanding touch, Bermudians prepare onions in unusual ways to bring out their tangy goodness. Here are a few Bermuda recipes contributed by residents of Bermuda, and to be found in "Bermuda's Best Recipes," by Louise Hutchings Smith.

BERMUDA ONION SOUP

5 small Bermuda onions
3 tablespoons fat
6 cups stock (meat, chicken or dissolved bouillon cubes)
3 tablespoons grated cheese
Salt to taste

Slice onions very thin and cook with the fat in a saucepan until tender. Add stock and simmer with cover on for 45 minutes or even longer. Add salt. Pour soup in bowls over rounds of toast. Sprinkle grated cheese on top. Serve immediately. Sufficient for 6 persons. --From Mrs. A. Frith.

BERMUDA BAKED ONIONS

Parboil six sliced onions until not completely tender. Drain. Lay on slices of buttered toast in a baking dish. Sprinkle over them three tablespoons grated cheese. Pour over all three eggs beaten into a cup of milk. Salt and pepper and dot with butter. Bake 45 minutes in slow oven 250 degrees. — From Mrs. J. T. Zuill.

STUFFED BERMUDA ONIONS

Parboil onions for 20 minutes. Scoop out a cavity in the tops and put in chopped nuts, celery and salt. Sprinkle grated cheese generously over the top. Bake in a slow oven 250 degrees, 15 minutes. Garnish with slices of red and green peppers. — From Miss M. Harvey.

MADRAS CURRY

4 oz. butter or lard
2 large onions
6 cloves or 2 bay leaves (broken up)
1 tablespoon curry powder
1 pound raw mutton; also bone
1 lemon (juice)
3 tablespoons unsweetened apple sauce.
1 tablespoon grated coconut

Place fat in a deep frying pan. When hot put in thinly sliced onions and fry to a bright brown. Add curry, bay leaves or cloves and applesauce. Simmer together a few minutes. Remove to another dish. Cut the mutton meat in pieces while boiling the bone in a small quantity of water about half an hour. Put the mutton in the fat left in the pan and fry well. Salt to taste. Add coconut and lemon juice and simmer. Add onion mixture previously removed. Moisten with a little stock. Simmer one hour in the pan with the cover on. If it gets dry add more stock. Serve with boiled rice. — From Mrs. R. Darrell.

Help Yourself

Farmers have available to them an abundance of scientific knowledge accumulated over long years by universities and provincial and federal departments of agriculture. Farmers can benefit from this reservoir of scientific experience by contacting their district agriculturists and by writing for booklets and circulars distributed by the department of agriculture and the universities. The progressive farmer will take advantage of all these facilities which are readily at his disposal.

Canadian Radium

It was in January 1944 that the Canadian company producing radium was expropriated for war purposes by the Dominion Government, and a Crown company was established on its operation. Last week the Government released its study of radium production, both in Canada and in the Congo, and there is general satisfaction about the implication of the report.

The production of radium, until 1944, was under cartel control, and there was plenty of evidence to show that the monopoly had been dominant in the market since sales were usually based on individual tender and contract.

The development of high-grade radium-bearing ore in Canada modified the monopoly to some extent, but in 1938 there was an agreement between the Canadian and the Congo companies to avoid further competition. However, the war intervened before the agreement could have its full effect and then the Government took over the Canadian radium industries.

There is a paragraph in the Government study which is significant and reveals the future plans of the Government. This paragraph reads: "Until recently secrecy has necessarily surrounded wartime development in this field but the disclosure of the production of the atomic bomb leaves no possibility of a return of radium production to the control of a private cartel."

It is reassuring that the Canadian Government in this way indicates it will retain close supervision over the production of this vital raw material.

Forest and Soil Conservation

New York Times in its editorial of November 14th, dealt with the restoration of the nation's natural resources and spoke of the number of man-power years needed to halt erosion and re-build the lost fertility of the country's soils, as reported by the Soil Conservation Service. Some 50,000,000 of the 417,000,000 acres under cultivation should be reforested immediately with a possible additional 25,000,000 acres which were so eroded, stony or rough that they could be used most efficiently in growing timber. Reference was made to the annual loss by forest fires in the States and to the fact that during the war lumber was cut at a rate which experts estimated to have been more than twice the rate of natural growth. These observations should be of particular interest to Canada, and especially to Alberta, where the problems of soil erosion, fire losses and re-forestation are very real and serious. Wide publicity of these facts, with a view to informing the public in greater detail than ever before, is a most important preliminary step to be taken to creating a remedy for the situation.

11th Annual Social Credit Convention

The eleventh Social Credit League Annual Convention will be held in Calgary at the Palliser Hotel on December 4th, 5th and 6th. The first day is reserved for the women's auxiliary when reports will be read. The following two days will be open for the convention. Speakers will include Premier Manning, Hon. Solon Low, National Leader, two cabinet ministers whose names have not yet been announced and Mrs. C. R. Wood, M.L.A for Stony Plain. On the 6th, the last day of the convention a banquet will be held starting at 6:30 p.m. in the Palliser Hotel. Speakers will be Hon. Solon Low, Mr. Gordon Taylor, M.L.A. for Drumheller and Mrs. R. Wilkinson, M.L.A. for Calgary.

BANK OF MONTREAL Reports-

"MY BANK" TO A MILLION CANADIANS

B of M

More than a million Canadians keep their money safe at the B of M. Each of the Bank's 1,400,000 deposit accounts is an expression of trust in this 128-year-old institution. The money on deposit, totalling $1,613,000,000 is being constantly employed for the financial needs of the nation, of business, and of citizens in every walk of life.

Business firms and private citizens from the Atlantic to the Pacific have, during the year, borrowed and repaid many millions of dollars from the B of M. Now standing at $220,000,000, the Bank's loans oil the wheels of commerce and industry . . . speed their expansion . . . create employment . . . and help Canadians in their personal day-to-day financing.

Well over one hundred thousand individual Canadians—plumbers and postmen, truck drivers and trainmen, doctors and dentists, business men and business women—turned to the B of M during the last twelve months for a Personal Loan when extra money was needed to take advantage of an opportunity or meet an emergency. Ninety-four people out of every hundred who asked for money got it.

To buy seed, to market crops, to improve their farms . . . grain growers, cattle and poultry raisers, fruit growers and fur breeders—farmers in every line of agriculture—borrow at the B of M. Money which farmers borrow not only brings comfort and prosperity to agricultural communities, but, by enabling farmers to produce more, contributes to the prosperity and welfare of the whole nation.

In financing the needs of government and of business, the Bank shares heavily by investment in government and other bonds and debentures. Throughout the war these investments have increased tremendously and today they amount to well over a billion dollars. The majority of these are gilt-edge securities, maturing at early dates, and are readily marketable.

RESOURCES WHICH THE B of M HAS TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS:

CASH The B of M has cash in its vaults and money on deposit with the Bank of Canada amounting to	$ 161,907,891.42
MONEY in the form of notes of, cheques on, and deposits with other banks (payable on demand or at short notice)	124,053,290.42
INVESTMENTS: The B of M has well over one billion dollars invested in high grade government bonds and other securities, which have a ready market. The majority of them will be paid in full at early dates. Listed on the Bank's books at a figure not greater than their market value, they amount to	1,117,404,882.86
STOCKS of industrial and other companies form but a small part of the Bank's holdings (actually only 1/30 of 1% of all its investments). Valued at no more than the market price, they amount to	333,893.40
CALL LOANS: The B of M has call loans (loans payable on demand) which are well protected by quickly saleable securities. These loans amount to	60,417,305.51
QUICKLY AVAILABLE RESOURCES: The resources listed above, all of which can quickly be turned into cash, cover 89.44% of all that the Bank owes to its depositors and others. These "quick assets" amount to	$1,464,116,345.00
LOANS: During the year, millions of dollars have been loaned to business firms, to farmers, to fishermen — to citizens in all walks of life, and to Provincial and Municipal Governments and School Districts. These loans now amount to	220,364,341.15
BANK BUILDINGS: In hamlets, villages, towns and large cities from coast to coast the B of M serves its customers at 470 offices. The value of the buildings owned by the Bank, together with furniture and equipment, is shown on its books at	10,571,440.18
OTHER ASSETS: These chiefly represent liabilities of customers for commitments made by the Bank on their behalf, covering foreign and domestic trade transactions, totalling $16,895,827.58.	20,772,129.36
TOTAL RESOURCES WHICH THE B of M HAS TO MEET ITS OBLIGATIONS	$1,715,934,320.49

WHAT THE B of M OWES TO OTHERS:

DEPOSITS: Business firms, manufacturers, merchants, farmers and private citizens, numbering well over a million, have money on deposit with the B of M. These deposits amount to	$1,613,438,705.96
BANK NOTES: B of M bills in circulation, which are payable on presentation, amount to	6,619,036.90
OTHER LIABILITIES: Miscellaneous items, representing mainly commitments undertaken on behalf of customers in their foreign and domestic trade transactions, totalling $16,895,827.58.	17,144,633.89
TOTAL OF WHAT THE B of M OWES ITS DEPOSITORS AND OTHERS	$1,637,192,386.05
TO PAY ALL IT OWES, THE B of M HAS TOTAL RESOURCES, AS SHOWN ON THE LEFT SIDE OF THIS STATEMENT, AMOUNTING TO	1,715,934,320.49
WHICH MEANS THAT THE B of M HAS RESOURCES, OVER AND ABOVE WHAT IT OWES, AMOUNTING TO	$ 78,741,934.44

This figure of $78,741,934.44 is made up of money subscribed by the shareholders who own the Bank and, to some extent, of profits which have from time to time been ploughed back into the business to broaden the Bank's services.

PROFITS: After making provision for contingencies and after providing $379,240.46 for depreciation of Bank premises, furniture and equipment, the B of M reports a profit for the twelve months to October 31st, 1945, of	$5,719,601.98
Taxes under the Income and Excess Profits Taxes Acts are estimated at	2,785,000.00
Leaving a net profit of	$2,934,601.98
Of this amount, shareholders (paid dividends at the rate of 60 cents a year for each $10-share of the Bank) received or will receive	2,160,000.00
Thus, the net amount to be added to the balance of profits from previous years' operations is	$ 774,601.98
Balance in the Profit and Loss Account at October 31st, 1944, amounted to	2,415,831.32
Leaving the balance in this account at October 31st, 1945, at	$3,190,433.30

DEPARTMENT TAKES ACTION—

IN THE FORMER nine township municipal districts there was generally one town which was commonly accepted as the most logical place for the municipal office, and even if it was not the "centre," business was done and time passed on without very much fuss or bother over the M.D. office location. With the establishment of the enlarged municipal districts more than one town was included within the area and competing interests began to lobby for Municipal District office location. In most of the enlarged districts the problem was solved without too much fuss and bother, as in the case of M.D. of Beaver when, after the district had been in existence some time, it was formally decided to make Ryley the official centre. Both Holden and Tofield were competing locations.

In the Municipal District of Vermilion River there was no such happy ending. In that municipal district the M.D. office question has had a stormy passage, in fact it never reached port. The M.D. of Vermilion is a fairly large M.D., ten divisions we believe, and there are four towns striving to become the centre, Lloydminster, Marwayne, Kitscoty and Vermilion. There being an even number of councillors, tie votes on the question were common and delegations to Edmonton frequent. Finally, a vote of the ratepayers was taken which proved unsatisfactory as most of the ratepayers failed to make a second choice. Then the Minister suggested that Vermilion be the centre, only to bring upon himself more delegations, but no council decision. After giving the council several weeks to straighten things out, and no decision having been arrived at, the Minister dismissed all the council, and to make it complete, office staff as well. An administrator has been appointed and will carry on temporarily. This action on the part of the Minister may appear undemocratic, but it was obvious that something had to be done. The error was in making such a large district and a ten man council in the first place.

ROAD WORK PLANNING—

The enlarged municipal districts brought about problems the smaller districts did not have, or if they did, it was in a lesser degree. One of these problems is the method in which road work is to be managed. In the M.D. of Beaver council this problem has come up from time to time, but so far no permanent satisfactory arrangement agreeable to all councillors has been made. The problem centres upon the length of time large machinery units may be kept in one division and to what extent divisions are self-governing as far as the purchase of road work equipment is concerned. At first, considerable emphasis was placed on the unity and harmony of council. It was explained that if due care was not exercised a condition would be created in which there virtually would be seven municipalities instead of one. At the time this belief was expressed we were in hearty accord with it, but time has caused us to modify our views. From a belief that the less machinery each division had of its own, the better, we have veered around to an opposite view. But we do feel that in changing our belief something good and of a unifying nature has been lost, but if the gain is more efficiency in road work and economy of operation, the gain is probably greater than the loss. At the present time, we believe we are correct in saying that there are in the M.D.'s possession and on order, enough patrol motor graders, or very near it, to provide one for each division. They are not all alike or equally efficient, nor are they all owned by divisions, but they could be. There is then left the two elevating graders, one acquired from the former M.D. of Patricia and the other acquired from the former M.D. of Cornhill. To complete the picture there is the recently purchased Letourneau and a Carrymore. The two elevating graders, Carrymore and Letourneau, are all considered too expensive for separate divisions to own and are used in the different divisions by prior arrangement among councillors. It is a policy or plan by which each division will receive a fair proportion of working time from the big units which is now in the process of being worked out. With a patrol grader apportioned or owned by each division, the grader problem is solved. There are left two elevating graders, two Letourneau type machines, seven divisions and five months of road building season with which to make a smooth running and efficient road work organization. Anyway, the whole question is going to be reviewed at a council meeting to be held on Thursday, December 13th, when an endeavor will be made to plan a permanent road work policy for the whole municipal district.

NO! NO! NOT YOUR COUNCIL

At a meeting of rural district council a deputation of farmers asked to be received. They wished to complain about the state of the main road just outside the village.

They found, however, that their arguments did not receive a very good reception. In fact, the members of the council objected with emphasis and much noise.

"Look here," said the chairman, "the road is fairly good as a whole."

"Yes," replied the spokesman of the party, "but we want to use it as a road." —Exchange.

Annual Report Of Holden Health Unit

STAFF

Miss Marion Murray, B.Sc., R.N.
Miss Eugenia Podchuk, R.N.
Mr. John Donnan, Sanitary Inspector
Miss Elsie Saiamandick, Secretary-Technician.

HEALTH BOARD MEMBERS

A. Leferud, Viking; R. H. Reddick, Viking; Chas. Barber, Viking; A. Dupuis, Bruce; Hans Hasoby, Holden; A. W. Foran, Holden; John Brown, Tofield; J. E. Stimson, Tofield (town); J. P. Rozmahel, Viking, (town).

EXECUTIVE BOARD

A. Leferud, Chairman; A. Dupuis, Acting Secretary.

To the District Board of Health,
Gentlemen:

It is my pleasure to submit the fourth annual report of this Health Unit. It summarizes briefly the work done during the past year.

PERSONNEL:

Several changes in the staff have occurred. Dr. Cuts left the employ of the Health Unit at the beginning of June and since that time we have been without the services of a Medical Health Officer. Miss Salnes resigned as Secretary-Technician, with Miss Saiamandick taking over her position. Miss Murray was given a three-month leave of absence to act as Travelling Instructress in Public Health for Alberta Nurses' Association. During this time no substitute nurse was employed.

CHILD WELFARE:

This branch of our work has been stressed, with a total of 137 clinics. Regular clinics are still held at Kinsella, Viking, Holden, and Tofield.

Home visiting of babies born within the Unit is continuing. Though we receive the Vital Statistics from the registrars within the district, many babies are born at outside hospitals and registered there. This problem has been partially solved through a system of stamped cards which the teachers fill in and return to us, giving the infant's name and the location of the home. We hope that with further knowledge of our services the parents themselves will notify the Unit of these births.

TUBERCULOSIS:

Our work along these lines was aided greatly due to the extensive work done by the Mobile x-ray Unit which covered this district last fall, holding Clinics at four different points. As a matter of interest some of the findings of the survey are repeated below:

Number x-rayed	5437
Number films interpreted	5429
X-ray Interpretations:
Negative	5328
Abnormal	101
Abnormalities.
Pulmonary Tuberculosis (probably active)	7
Pulmonary Tuberculosis, probably inactive	29
Re-examination	9
Pleurisy inactive	24
Non-Tuberculosis	32

Follow-up work has been completed on the active, inactive and re-examination cases with Mantoux tests being done on the contacts. Financial aid was obtained to assist an individual in getting to Edmonton for further examination.

The project for having the Municipality of Beaver become a Bovine Tuberculosis restricted area has been continuing. This will be completed as soon as a Provincial Veterinarian is available to do the testing.

COMMUNICABLE DISEASES:

	1941-42	42-43	43-44	44-45
Scarlet Fever	41	5	10	20
Measles	27	10	16	16
Mumps	12	77	17	28
Rubella	20	5	3	1
Chickenpox	25	44	9	279
Whooping Cough	14	6	24	56

As will be readily seen from the above comparison, communicable disease has been on the increase, with Chickenpox being prevalent through the entire district. Case of Whooping Cough and Scarlet Fever were generally mild with few complications arising.

SANITATION:

Sanitary conditions are steadily improving throughout the district. With some easing already noticeable in labor and equipment obtainable, enforcement of regulations will become stricter.

Respectfully submitted,
Marion Murray, B.Sc., R.N.,
Public Health Nurse.

The Legion Calls For Total Victory

In 1941, when the fate of civilization was hanging in the balance, we addressed to the Prime Minister of Canada "The Legion's Call for Total War," urging the immediate, complete and scientific mobilization of all our resources—spiritual, intellectual, financial, agricultural, industrial. Many of its proposals were afterwards carried out by the Government.

We now address ourselves to the people of Canada because Total Victory is still to be won. Victory in the field must be matched by victory at home, over everything that weakens and divides the nation. The things that weaken can be found in everyone; every Canadian, therefore, can start with himself. Every Canadian must accept his responsibility. Our greatest task lies ahead. Total Victory demands a total effort for a new world, worthy of the sacrifice our comrades have made. We, as veterans, believe that we must fight for this new world here in Canada.

The Legion issues this Call for Total Victory in the name of the hundreds of thousands of Canadian men and women who, in past wars and in the war just ended, have served their King and Country. As Canadians and members of the British Empire Service League, we are proud of the role played by the British Commonwealth and Empire in the struggle for freedom and pledge ourselves to do our part in creating the great moral forces required for Total Victory.

After the First Great War most of us felt that our efforts were finished with the winning of the war. Now we know that the job is not over because military victory has been achieved. The conflict will continue with the forces of good and evil arrayed against each other. For Canada, having won the war of arms, has still to achieve the ideals of peace. Total Victory will come only when these ideals have been achieved.

Our fathers, inspired by a vision of Canada devoted to the service of God, chose as their motto, "He shall have dominion from sea to sea." This is the heritage we have received, and on this heritage we must build our nation.

The children of our country, who are its great potential wealth, must grow up in this fighting faith. They will then respond to the challenge to live and make their country great. This purpose will give them the incentive to learn the dignity of work, the value of a task well done and the dynamic qualities of teamwork. Only thus can national unity be achieved.

Hundreds of thousands of houses will need to be built. Yet homes are more than houses, and Canadians have the challenging task of creating the kind of homes and family life that will make this nation strong, clean, united.

To build the Canada we want is an enterprise which requires the work of all. It will need the combined initiative and imagination of government, management and labour, freed from the menace of fear and greed.

Made rich by the special gifts of every race within it, Canada will then demonstrate its answer to the chaos of conflicting races which, throughout history, has challenged the peace of the world. Thus will Canada fulfil the vision of our King who said: "With God's grace, you may yet become the example which all the world will follow."

In the faith that the people of Canada are with us, we issue this Call to Action for Total Victory.

Lieut. Govenor Endorses Christmas Seal Sale

His Honour J. C. Bowen, Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, today issued a statement endorsing the annual Christmas Seal Sale of the Alberta Tuberculosis Associations, which commenced this week.

Mr. Bowen said, "I have no hesitation in expressing my unqualified approval of the campaign to raise funds for anti-tuberculosis work in Alberta.

"Our young people deserve that we make every possible effort to remove this stealthy, murderous enemy from their path. The Alberta Tuberculosis Associations, through the program financed by Christmas Seals, are making a wonderful contribution to the province.

"Let me add that an early response to your Christmas Seal appeal letter will make your gift twice valuable."

100,000 Plates Are Ordered This Year for Cars

New motor license plates for Alberta cars have been ordered and will be available for applicants early in March, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

For the new license year which opens on April 1, the color combination for these Alberta plates will be black numerals on an orange background. This is a reversal of the 1944-45 color scheme.

The province has placed an order for 100,000 plates which are to be delivered early in the new year so that arrangements can be made for distribution in March.

As in the past year, a single plate to be attached to the rear will be used on Alberta cars during the next year

EMERGENCIES arise in any family

Banks are continually making small loans to meet those emergencies which can upset the best-planned budgets.

Three out of every five bank loans are for less than $500. Many of these are used to take care of such expenses as doctor or hospital bills, temporary embarrassment at tax-time, a sudden journey, the winter's coal bill.

Again, educational needs of the family often are financed by small bank loans.

These small loans enable individuals to consolidate debts, and to pay back from income.

Small loans furnish just one more example of the service available to you at your bank.

Bank of Montreal Issues Popular Financial Story

Montreal---Striking evidence of the modern trend in banking methods is contained in this year's annual report of the Bank of Montreal which is issued in the form of a well-illustrated, easily-understood financial story ... lifted out of the class of the conventional bank statement.

Departing from all precedent, the B of M tells its 1945 story with illustrations which interpret the financial developments of the past year in terms of people, and in simple statements which take the details of the report out of the terms of the banker and put them into the language of the man in the street.

The story is one of record deposits, [illegible] high resources and a break down showing just how the bank contributes to the economic life of Canada through its services to well over a million customers.

In the old assets' column---now appropriately labelled "Resources which the B of M has to meet its obligations"---are explanations, in simple language, of the various items of the balance sheet---cash,money, investments, stocks, call loans, quick assets, resources and liabilities.

Featured in the report is the fact that the B of M has more than one billion dollars invested in government bonds and other high grade securities which have a ready market and, therefore, are described in bank parlance as "liquid resources".

HEAVY WAR FINANCING

Investments of this kind account for $1,117,604,000 of the bank's resources, almost two-thirds of the entire total assets of the bank. The total of these investments indicates how heavily the bank has shared in the financing of the government's war effort.

Other "liquid resources" include cash of $161,907,000, money which other banks owe B of M totalling $124,063,000 and call loans---loans payable on demand---of $69,417,000. Noteworthy is the fact that stocks of industrial and other companies total only $333,903 of the bank's assets which works out to one thirty-third of one per cent.

Total resources are given as $1,715,934,000 which is a new peak in the 128-year-old history of the bank.

The "liabilities" of the bank---now described simply as "What the B of M owes to others" are highlighted by deposits of $1,612,428,000, another new high in B of M operation which reflect the general prosperity of the country. These deposits represent the savings and current accounts of business firms, manufacturers, merchants, farmers, fishermen and private citizens, and the statement shows that these deposits have risen by some $200,000,000 during the last year.

An illustration accompanying the statement shows how business firms and private citizens from coast to coast borrow hundreds of millions of dollars every year from the B of M and how these loans---now standing at $220,000,000 oil the wheels of commerce and industry, encourage their expansion, create employment, and help Canadians in their personal day-to-day financing.

PERSONAL LOANS OVER 100,000

Another illustration reveals that more than 100,000 individual Canadians---persons in all walks of life---turned to the bank during the last year for a personal loan when extra money was needed, and the statement adds the enlightening information that 94 people out of every 100 who applied for loans got them.

Still another shows how the money deposited in the bank is loaned out to Canadians in every sound pursuit---for instance, farmers who, by the use of bank credit, improve their farms, increase production and, besides bringing comfort and prosperity to agricultural communities, contribute to the well-being of the country as a whole.

A brief "profit and loss account" shows that profits for the year totalled $3,719,681 before provision for income and excess profits taxes. Estimates of such taxes, however, cut the profit almost in half, leaving $2,934,681 out of which payments to shareholders in the form of dividends were made totalling $2,160,000. It is noted that the shareholders received 60 cents for each $10 share of the bank.

The net amount left after deductions for taxes and payments to shareholders totalled $774,681, representing the balance of profits for the year.

Bardo

A filled church attended the confirmation services at Bardo last Sunday. Rev. G. Ostrem had charge of the services, and a duet was sung by Muriel and Leroy Finseth, with Mrs. I Moen as accompanist.

Dinner was served in the church parlors, the confirmands were seated at a table, others were served cafeteria. The confirmands were: Irene Hagen, Violet Knudsllen, Iris Bjornson, Eula Haukedahl, Norma Kindley, Carmen Rude, Lester Kragen, Allan Anderson, Olaf and Barney Erickson.

An offering was taken for the Columbia Mission. Communion services were held in the afternoon and Rev. E. J. Heuer spoke on behalf of the British Bible Society. An offering was taken for the society.

Christian Service Group of the Camrose College will have charge of the services at Bardo church, on Sunday, December 9, at 2:30 p.m.

Bardo Luther League, Sunday School and the choirs are rehearsing for their Christmas concert on December 26, at 8.00 p.m.

Many from Bardo attended the church sessions of the Edmonton Circuit convention, held at Kingman last week end.

Bardo Ladies' Aid annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Joe Stauffer on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 29th.

The marriage of Margaret Luella youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T Rudd of Camrose and Spr. Peter Mathison, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nels Mathison of Round Hill, took place at the Ansgar Lutheran church, Edmonton, Saturday, November 17, with Rev. Thorsley officiating. The bride wore an olive green dress and brown accessories. Gardenias and sweetheart roses formed her corsage. Her attendant, Mrs. Lloyd Rudd, sister of the groom, wore a brown crepe dress, and her flowers were American Beauty roses on corsage.

Mr. Lloyd Rudd, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride has been with the Camrose Five to a Dollar store for the past two years.

The groom has recently returned after three year's service overseas.

Our best wishes to the newlyweds, Mr and Mrs Peter Mathison.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. John Giebelhaus, (nee Beulah Hillerud).

Neighbors and friends met at the Reuben Eide home on Thursday night to welcome the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs Angus Mitchell. On behalf of those present, Bennie Anderson presented Mr and Mrs. Mitchell with a purse of silver. Refreshments were served by the ladies.

Mr and Mrs Angus Mitchel entertained friends at a wedding dance in Lindbrook Hall last Wednesday night. Harold Schultz made the presentation, a purse of silver. The large crowd were treated to lunch, candies and cigarettes.

Relatives here have been informed of the death of Mrs. R. Stokes, Cloverdale, B.C., resulting from a car accident. Mrs. Stokes was an aunt of Mrs. Geo. Hendrickson, and Bennie and Olaf Anderson. Our sympathy to the family.

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Alma Hesselberg, nee Jevning, of Bremerton, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hagen and Donna, Mrs. Hans Kragen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lief Foshaug and Larry and Alice Sandahl attended the wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Pete Mathison at the home of Mr and Mrs. T Rudd, Camrose, on Thursday evening.

Beaver Agricultural Board Meets

Agricultural Service Board work in conjunction with business men, boards of trade, etc., and the District Agriculturist, in sponsoring Agricultural Short Courses at the following places: Viking, Bruce, Holden, Ryley, Tofield, Ministik, Kingman and Hay Lakes.

Mr. Meiney, speaking on Seed Grain, reported that to date, 6,000 bushels of Seed Oats and 2,000 bushels of Seed Barley had been ordered.

Moved by Mr. Anderson that the M.D. of Beaver, No. 73, take care of the cost of advertising the Short Courses to be held throughout the Municipality this winter.

A discussion on the appointment of two more ratepayers to act on the Agricultural Service Board took place. Two of the members do not attend the meetings and Mr. Anderson and Mr. Reddick had two men in mind to take their places.

A discussion on the Fieldman's salary, one half of which is paid by the Department of Agriculture, took place, and a form in this regard was submitted to the Secretary to be filled out by him.

Moved by Mr. Anderson that the Fieldman go ahead and have his desk made at a cost of $35.00.

Moved by Mr. Swabey that the next meeting of the Agricultural Service Board be held on December 11th, at 2 p.m. in the Municipal Office at Ryley.

The New Ship

The proud ship swings from moorings in the bay,
The smoky tug lines outward with the tide,
The city towers reflect the sunset ray,
The hungry gulls above the ripples glide.

Farewell strong mart, the seamen know thee well---
Emporium high where tide and river meet,
While zephyrs breathe, or roaring billows chide,
The sea-worn hull finds shelter at thy feet.

The stately form with ropes and sails untried,
The pilot drops in safety to his rail,
Her future home shall be the oceans wide,
The shrouds are calling for unfolding sail.

One by one the pure wings loose their fold,
The top sails lift and strain the cordage new,
Experienc'd hands the rudder's axis hold,
Eastward eyes scan the dim horizon blue.

The wind is piping from the cooling West,
The youthful captain views his decks with pride,
The bow is foaming through the billow's crest,
With radiant smile beside him stands his bride.

God bless the friendly commerce of the sea,
And light and guide the ships to havens fair,
Enlarge the faith to broad humanity,
Give grace and hope to those who do and dare.

Gordon Williamson Back on Air

To sport fans of this district, the news that Gordon Williamson is back on the airways will come as a welcome announcement "Gordie", prior to his enlistment in the RCAF in 1942, was one of Northern Alberta's most widely-followed radio personalities, and his sport news and play-by-play broadcasts always had wide local following

Williamson also made quite a name for himself in the air-force. He served as Public Relations Officer for the famous City of Edmonton Squadron, and was overseas for three years Most recently, he has been posted as P.R.O. at Northwest Air Command.

Flight-Lieutenant Williamson is resuming his duties as Sports Editor and Commentator with CFRN. He plans to broadcast three sports programs each day, with a special sports round-up on Sundays. From Gordie we learn that he'll be glad to publicize all of this district's sporting activities on these shows All he asks you to do, is drop him a line at CFRN in Edmonton

Tofield Young Peoples' Society Meet

A meeting of the United Church Young Peoples' was held on Wednesday, December 5, with a record attendance of 42. The meeting opened with a sing song. Jean Torrie then gave an informative talk on the purpose of "The Crusade for Christ and His Kingdom," the foundation of which was laid by the United Church in London in 1944.

The chief business of the meeting was concerned with a discussion of a Christmas party which is to be held on December 19. The admission to the party is a gift which will be distributed during the evening.

The meeting closed with an enjoyable social hour and lunch.

Magpie War To Start

More than $12,000 has been earmarked by the Alberta government for magpie, wolf and cougar control this winter.

An amount of $2,500 has been set aside to start a winter campaign on magpies. This brings to $10,000 the amount the government has contributed this year to the work of reducing the crow and magpie menace

The government also will continue to offer bounties of $10 on wolves and $15 on cougars. The policy of allowing the hunter or trapper to keep the wolfe or cougar pelt after the bounty has been paid will also be continued. This means the hunter will get the cash value of the pelt as well as the bounty.

Band Concert On Wednesday

Don't forget the band concert to be held in the Variety Theatre on Wednesday, December 12. An all around program has been arranged to provide a full evening of entertainment. University Diploma Course In Dairying

A six-month Diploma Course in Dairying opened on November 5th in the Department of Dairying, University of Alberta, with a full registration. This course is offered jointly by the University, the Dairy Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, and Canadian Vocational Training. Facilities are available for a total of 20 students and registration is limited to veterans of this war. Each of the armed services is represented.

This is the first sub-collegiate course of longer than one-month duration which has been offered in Alberta. It is double the length of the traditional courses of this nature offered in Canada. [illegible] It is hoped that it represents a very important step forward in providing sound technical training in provincial dairy plant operation.

All of the common Canadian dairy processes are covered in the course including butter, cheese and ice cream making, concentrating milk, grading and testing milk products, dairy chemistry and dairy bacteriology. A significant amount of general agriculture is incorporated in the time-table along with English and mathematics. Provision is made for the students to meet in discussion with representatives of the industry and dairy officials.

A month is to be spent in Calgary at the steam plant of Canadian Vocational Training and arrangements have been completed for the inclusion of theoretical and practical work in artificial refrigeration.

Members of the Department of Dairying point out that the competition which Canadian dairy products have to meet makes it necessary that our operators receive a technical training no less extensive than that provided elsewhere in the world. The results of the present course may well prove of such advantage that a similar course will develop as a regular annual activity.

Labour Dept. To Help Santa

This year again, the Labour Department will assist Santa Claus during the Christmas Holiday Season in delivering the masses of letters, cards and parcels from the Post Office Department and the multitudes of Christmas gifts from retail stores throughout the Dominion, according to an announcement by Arthur MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labour. National Employment Service controls requiring prospective workers to obtain permits, and employers to [illegible] their requests through the Employment Offices, are being relaxed to allow direct employment of temporary Christmas and New Year's help in retail stores and in the Post Office Department.

It is expected the volume of Christmas trade will be heavier this year than at any time since pre-war years. Consequently, the period of employment has been extended from November 26, 1945 to January 12, 1946 inclusive, and students, housewives, persons temporarily awaiting employment and others are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain additional remuneration at a period when their services are urgently required.

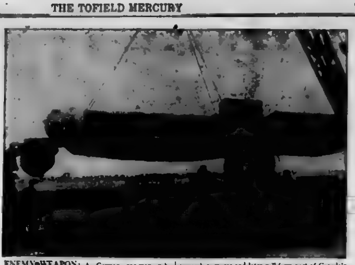
Employers may advertise for help directly but if willing to avail themselves of the professional services of National Employment Offices across the Dominion will obtain ready help and guidance in meeting the problem of increased staff for the festive season. Applicants too, are recommended to use their National Employment Service to the fullest extent in this connection.

Inflation Takes Toll

"Inflation comes disguised as a wonderful friend. Employment is high, more people have more money and want to spend it freely. Give way to inflation and prices leap up wildly with wages lagging behind. The result is that the wealthy can grab what they want, while the middle class an poor suffer misery with savings gone, life insurance worthless and businesses wrecked."
—Byrne Hope Sanders, Director Consumer Branch, WPTB.

Alberta Sugar Beet Industry

The beet fields of Alberta, on irrigated land in the Lethbridge district, will yield about 107 million pounds of sugar this year. The estimate of beet production is 360,000 tons 8,000 higher than the previous record crop in 1943. The sugar content of Alberta beets, according to information reported regarding the processing at the Picture Butte and Raymond factories, is averaging 17 and one half per cent. All sugar from the 1944 crop has been sold and the new crop is already going to market.



ENEMY WEAPON: A German one-man submarine, the first to arrive in Canada, is pictured being carefully loaded on a Canadian Pacific flatcar at Montreal, for shipment to Ottawa after its arrival in the Dutch ship Blommersdyk. Along with an extensive collection of captured enemy weapons it will be used for research purposes and later will form part of Canada's projected World War II museum. Experience gained through war years in handling cumbersome munitions shipments ("high and wide" loads to the railroader) enables the C.P.R. to transport safely these prized trophies of war.

The Holiday Bird And His Stuffing

The rules of modern poultry cooking are few and easy to follow. First, when buying your holiday bird watch for signs of a young bird, suggests Mrs. Macdonald, Supervisor of the Home Economics Division. Look for soft cartilage at the end of the breast bone, dark yellow legs and feet, smooth skin, well-fleshed breast and a good layer of fat under the skin. Allow at least ¾ pound dressed weight per person and of course you will want extra for salads and sandwiches during the holiday week. Dressed weight is described as weight before the bird is drawn and including head and feet.

TO ROAST TURKEY OR CHICKEN

Place breast side down on a rack or crossed skewers in an uncovered pan with no water added. If you haven't a roaster large enough, the bird may be wrapped in parchment paper or brown wrapping paper, greased. If the bird is not very fat, rub with mild drippings and baste during the roasting. Bake in a moderately slow oven about 300 degrees F. allowing 30 minutes per pound dressed weight for chickens, 20 minutes for turkeys and 25 minutes if the turkey weighs 16 pounds or less. Avoid high temperatures in roasting as this toughens the meat, causing it to shrink and lose its juices. Turn bird on back to brown uniformly during last hour of roasting.

TO ROAST GOOSE OR DUCK

Choose one not too fat—place breast side up on rack in roaster. Add one cup boiling water and cover tightly. Roast 325 degrees F, for one hour, then pour off water and fat and continue roasting uncovered until done. (Twenty to twenty-five minutes per pound dressed weight.)

Note: Frozen poultry should be thawed slowly at a low or room temperature. Do not hurry thawing by soaking meat in water, either hot or cold. Soaking causes reckless loss of good juices. Poultry will keep longer if not drawn.

To Stuff Poultry: 1. Turkey and chicken should not have a dressing too strongly flavored—bread or cracker crumbs, oyster, sausage, chestnut, etc., are ideal.

2. Duck and goose take a fairly highly seasoned dressing or fruit dressing. Since they are fat they require a dry stuffing to soak up fat during roasting.

3. Sprinkle inside of bird with salt before dressing. Allow approximately three-quarter cup dressing per pound (dressed weight). Ordinarily, 1 one-pound loaf of bread will make about four cups medium dry bread crumbs.

Directions for dressing and trussing poultry, recipes for stuffings and for cooking poultry, as well as a special leaflet "Best Dishes for a Merry Christmas" can be had by writing to the Home Economics Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, Parliament Buildings, Edmonton.

Lowdermilk's Message

Modern civilization depends upon the conservation of the earth's arable land. Mankind inherited the Garden of Eden in the form of four billion acres of land suitable for cultivation but mankind has exploited this invaluable resource. A continuation of wastefulness may lead to the end of civilized life even without the atomic bomb.

The above quotations were made by Dr. W. C. Lowdermilk, assistant chief, soil conservation service, United States government, in an address delivered in Calgary to a combined meeting of the delegates attending the Convention of Rural Municipalities and members of the Calgary Board of Trade.

Dr. Lowdermilk emphasized the importance of food production. Man cannot live by bread alone but must have bread to live and to partake of civilization. The world's arable land resources are limited. The good land has been mostly taken up and the only new areas available are in the tropics with all the drawbacks to agriculture that region offers.

"Hungry people will do desperate things", the speaker said, "and if war is to end there must be a continuous increase in food production. This can be achieved only through taking care of the land."

"Where man has lived in organized society the longest the land is in the worst shape," Dr. Lowdermilk stated. In parts of Asia which have been farmed for over seven thousand years, man has skimmed the cream of the earth's fertility and left the skim milk behind. The wastage of the earth's resources has been visited upon succeeding generations. In the last reckoning all things are purchased with food. When food fails, all else fails.

"In the nineteenth century the population of the world increased from 600 million to over two billion. There are now only about 1.5 acres to grow crops for each single person in the world. A way must be found to make use of all good acres and to make them produce to the limit."

In the United States, over 57 million acres of land has been destroyed through ill-usage and neglect (an area larger than the state of Kansas). On around 200 million other acres erosion has proceeded faster than new land has been formed. A determined effort is now being made in the United States to halt the destruction of the greatest resource of that nation. All over the world conservation of land should attract the attention of statesmen and leaders in the communities and in the nation. A strong, industrial civilization can only be built on good land and on good agriculture. Everything begins on the land.

Dr. Lowdermilk demonstrated by means of pictures how continuous cultivation and the cutting down of forests causes water erosion which easily and quickly ruins the countryside. He maintained that forests must be preserved and farms must be operated to slow down the run-off and permit the water to penetrate the earth's surface. — Wheat Pool Budget.

Chinese visitor: "Funny people you Canadians. You take a glass—you put sugar in it to make it sweet and lemon to make it sour; you put gin to warm you up and ice to keep you cool—you say: 'Here's to you,' and then you drink it yourself."

Youth Training Key to Rural Progress

F. N. Miller, Supervisor of Junior Club Work in Alta., who has recently returned from a conference on Canadian Boys' and Girls' work in Ontario, was particularly impressed with the spirit of initiative and progress shown by Junior Club Leaders throughout the Dominion.

In the opinion of those attending the conference, the greatest progress in extension work can be made by helping and encouraging the young people. "Boys' and Girls' club work in Canada has been carrying on in much the same way for the past 15 years," said Mr. Miller. "Much of value has been accomplished and a solid foundation laid, but the time has arrived for us to take stock and to build on that foundation." A special conference has been arranged for March of next year, at which representatives from all provinces will meet to discuss Junior Club activities from start to finish.

Particular attention will be given to the formation and expansion of Girls' Clubs. There was a unanimity of opinion that emphasis should be placed on providing home-making activities for the girls rather than encouraging them to join with the boys in live stock and crop club work. Projects that appeal especially to girls will receive greater encouragement and support. In 1946 a project on clothing will be introduced, and three more projects: clothing, nutrition, and garden and home beautification, are being considered.

Governments, industrial firms, co-operative societies and other farm organizations are intensely interested in the progress and training of rural youth, and are providing splendid financial support and encouragement towards extension of these Junior activities.

Fair Grading of Farms

The question of rail grading of lambs has been raised in Alberta on several occasions, and will no doubt receive further attention in the near future. Breeders and those who champion the cause of better quality and of larger per capita consumption of mutton, are advised by A. J. Charnetski, Live Stock Supervisor, to consider this matter carefully.

Carcass grading would tend to eliminate the 'guess factor' as it affects the degree of finish on fat lambs in our feed lots. As an example, Mr. Charnetski mentions that at the last Calgary sheep sale one of the lamb classes called for market finished lambs to be judged alive, and later to be slaughtered and judged on the rail. A lamb placed fourth in the live class became first on the rail; the lamb placed third alive was second on the rail; and the first prize live lamb was third on the rail.

In Nova Scotia optional lamb carcass grading is in effect. In 1944, out of every eight lambs marketed in that province, seven were rail graded. That rail grading of lambs has the approval of Nova Scotia growers is evident. Mr. Charnetski suggests that Albertans could well give consideration to the introduction of a similar plan in this province.

The Challenge Of Tomorrow

By O. S. Longman, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Edmonton, Alta., in the M.D. of Red Deer News

I consider it a special honor to be invited to contribute to the first issue of the Red Deer Municipal News. The publication of the News, as a medium of information as between the residents of your Municipality and Municipal officials and your Agricultural Service Board, is a commendable enterprise. I sincerely hope for its continuing success.

Those who serve the public effectively have not an easy task. Positions of public responsibility demand action [illegible] to be effective must be [illegible] by a sincere conviction that the job in hand is worthwhile. To attain a worthwhile objective, action must be supplemented with knowledge, sound reasoning and experience. Those who assume the responsibility must admonish as well as encourage. They must restrain as well as tolerate. The News therefore has an opportunity to perform a great service on your behalf.

You are surrounded with great resources. You have fertile soil. You have agricultural advisors, experimental farms, universities and research institutions available to aid you in your work. The great responsibility of the Municipality and your Agricultural Service Board is to utilize these resources, to pave the way and direct these institutions [illegible] the problems that are paramount, and to end a helping hand in solving the problems immediately at hand. As officials of your Municipal District and Agricultural Service Board it has been your good fortune to serve those who have to gain their living from the soil, to have studied and experienced the vicissitudes and fortunes of the rural way of life, to have seen the conquest of the virgin land, to have witnessed its waste and exploitation. It is now your duty and responsibility to turn the tide and direct those dependent on the fertility and productivity of the soil to the necessity of its conservation and preservation. It is one of your duties to develop a concept of land stewardship—a spirit of pride for the land that is ours. The possession, preservation and utilization of land is a challenge to our intelligence, our skill and perseverance.

A great problem confronting rural life is that land is all too frequently acquired not for use but for abuse. We are prone to converting the virgin land and its fertility into cash. To that end we have invented all kinds of ingenious devices to hasten the extraction of fertility. Such devices include high yielding crops, tractors and tractor implements, and a cultural technique to fit the equipment. In certain older regions, where such practices have been perpetuated, the last vestage of productivity has been extracted from the soil.

Who is the custodian of this great heritage? Who is to place the restraining hand upon those who exploit it? Who will preserve, rehabilitate and see that its usefulness to humanity shall be perpetuated?

This is a great task, there are many to be added, but may the Municipality of Red Deer and its Agricultural Service Board lead the way, not solely for the material accomplished, but for the confidence and satisfaction that may be created in making agriculture a better way of life. By displacement of the narrow, selfish, materialistic concept for a broad, human outlook upon the relationship between land and life.

You have made an excellent start. I wish you every success. Do not hesitate for:

"Every noble work is at first impossible."—Thomas Carlyle.

"It is now a question of whether human culture, which rests upon the use of the soil can derive and enforce ways of dealing with the earth which will preserve the source of life so that it may support man for the ages to come. If this cannot be done, we must look forward to the time—remote it may be—yet clearly discernable—when our kind, having wasted its inheritance, will fade from the earth because of the ruin it has accomplished." —Nathaniel Shaler.

White Man Much Crazy

Two pictures, one showing a dilapidated house, the other a field washed out, were printed in the Oklahoma Farmer Stockman, which offered prizes for the best essays suggested by the pictures. First prize went to a Cherokee Indian who wrote:

Both pictures show white man crazy. Make big teepee. Plow hill. Water wash. Wind blow soil. Grass all gone. Squaw gone, papoose too. No chuckaway. No pig, no corn, no hay, no plow, no pony. Indian no plow land, keep grass, buffalo eat. Indian eat buffalo. Hide make teepee, moccasin too. Indian no make terrace. No build dam. No give a damn. All time eat. No hunt job. No hitch hike. No ask relief. Great Spirit make grass. Indian no waste anything. White man much crazy.

F.A.O. And The Farmer

Planning food supplies for the world is an immense task, but with the formation of the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization a real step forward has been made. The success of the Food and Agriculture Organization will mean much to Canadian farmers.

During the past few years Canada has shown what she can do, but every once in a while, it is advisable to take stock. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is now distributing the annual December 1st survey cards. It is hoped that as soon as these are received, they will be completed and returned promptly. Prompt return of the survey cards will present a picture of the food supplies available now, and will indicate what we may expect to provide in the future.

"A NEW HEAVEN AND A NEW EARTH"—

THERE IS IN NATURE, a phenomenon that causes millions of small rodents, lemmings we believe they are called, to band together and in one wild journey, race and plunge into the sea to their deaths. There is also in nature, a phenomenon, that by accident or design, cause on occasion, schools of whales to come ashore to die. And it would almost seem that there is a phenomenon in nature connected with the affairs of humans, that slowly, yet surely, is drawing mankind into a vortex from which there is no escaping. There appears to be a sublime fatalism of a compelling nature which causes men to move relentlessly toward war, one side or the other, or both, believing that right is on their side and that to win means gain. Without the prospect of gain in one or more of its myriad forms, it is doubtful whether war would have run such a long, torturous and destructive course through all history. Territorial gains, political power, raw materials, world markets, even the making of converts to religious fervor have spurned leaders and men on to victory or defeat. Since the dawn of history men have been striving to build. Whether it be massive monuments in Egyptian deserts, magnificent palaces in ancient Rome or highways of marvelous durability in South America, mankind's urge has been to build. From the Tower of Babel and the Roman Colleseum down through the ages to the Empire State Building and the Lions Bridge, the temporary glory of man was in his handiworks. Wars bred of passion or greed, or both, as the centuries passed, came and left their mark. There was fighting and killing and destruction, but mankind, though oftimes puzzled, was diligent, and with the help of kindly nature built greater than ever. Boulder Dam, Panama Canal, Radio City, and a host of other achievements on land and afloat, on wheels and in the air, the world o'er, kept construction ahead of destruction and in a material way the world made progress. From a battle axe to a block buster bomb is a far cry and it it just as far from a equine charger to a Lancaster bomber. As men travelled this distance by the process of being born and living and dying, there were always a number of a more enquiring mind than the rest, who were always searching for the hidden mysteries of nature, in the hope, if not always the expectation, that their discoveries would vastly benefit mankind. Many discoveries did benefit mankind, such as medical serums, anaesthetics, curative drugs, food treatment, plant breeding and disease prevention, and to those scientists who gave us all these things and more, we owe an everlasting debt of gratitude. But the work of all scientists was not so obviously beneficial. It was the work, and no doubt the desire, of these men to discover and prove; it was the use men of the world made of these proven discoveries that made the discoveries a blessing or a curse. It has been said that the Wright Bros. were saddened at the combatant use made of the aeroplane, and it is no doubt quite true to say that practically all true scientists want their work and discoveries to add to the happiness of mankind and not to increase the world's miseries.

There is at the present time in the United States an organization known as the "Federation of Atomic Scientists." This is a group of scientists who have worked on the discoveries leading to the manufacture of atomic bombs. Less than a month ago, four young men, representing more than 1000 physicists, chemists, biologists and engineers, who in turn represented six affiliated groups, were present at a large joint press conference and expressed a desire that the public be told the "truth" about the bombs. They claimed that:

1. There is no fundamental natural scientific "secret" about the bomb;
2. There is no specific defense, and no remote possibility of stopping and detonating the bombs in advance.
3. The United States is still ahead of most nations in the "industrial know-how" but, and on this the four spokesmen were positive, Britain and Canada fully share the "know-how" and are as well prepared as the United States to start making bombs so far as possession of natural scientific knowledge goes;
4. Finally declared the spokesmen, "We unanimously feel that no satisfactory control is possible except on a world level."

The spokesmen were apologetic for making what statements they did but stated they had been anxiously thinking about this problem for the past two years and felt it was their public duty to step forward with their scientific and technical knowledge so far as security restrictions permitted.

It is not the intention of this writing to go into the technical aspects of atomic energy, but it has occurred to us that whereas prior to World War II, mankind could build as fast or faster than it could destroy, the release of atomic energy through bombs have brought about a condition whereby mankind can destroy inconceivably faster than it can build. A scientist connected with the work, writing in a recent issue of the Christian Science Monitor says:

> "There should be no doubt about the terrible destructiveness of the atomic bomb. It should also be realized that this can easily be increased a thousand fold. It is also within the realm of possibility that the explosion bomb would start reactions in the atmosphere which would wipe out life completely in a few minutes. This is not said to scare anyone any more than they should be scared by such a possibility. It must be realized that there is no more important issue facing the world today than the control of atomic power."

Will humanity, now knowing full well that in modern war there can be no victory and no gain, still, like the lemmings of Norwegian forests rush to its doom in an "atomic race," or will human wisdom and Divine Mercy prevail and "a New Heaven and a New Earth" emerge as an answer to the prayers of millions of those souls who reached a higher level of existence in the convulsions of a world beset with evil.

Inflation Pressure Greater Now Than During War Declares Bank of Montreal President

GEORGE W. SPINNEY TELLS BANK OF MONTREAL SHAREHOLDERS OF ANTI-INFLATIONARY NEEDS

Montreal: George W. Spinney, President of the Bank of Montreal, told shareholders at their recent 128th annual meeting that inflationary pressures were probably greater now than at any time during the war and urged continued voluntary restraint as a means of offsetting this danger to the nation's economy. He declared that it was desirable to have some of the wartime controls remain in operation, but that these controls should be constantly watched to make certain that they do not interfere with rapid reconversion to peacetime economy.

Speaking at the same meeting, B. C. Gardner, general manager, reviewed the most active year in the history of the bank and told of the B of M's contribution to the financing of the war effort and of the many "human relationships" arising out of the financial problems of customers, both of large and small means, particularly the latter.

STIMULUS TO PRODUCTION

Mr. Spinney said he knew of no better stimulus to production than healthy competitive effort, free from unnecessary restrictions, seeking to fulfil the myriad desires of consumers at home and abroad.

"As never before," he said, "Canadian business and industry in the years immediately ahead will need men with new ideas and with the capacity to put these ideas into effect."

Speaking of social security projects and suggestions, Mr. Spinney said it would be very nice if "we could all live on government cheques, but life on this planet being what it is, someone has to plough and reap, to plan and build, to exercise qualities of initiative, foresight and daring; and only this totality of productive effort can provide a real and enduring basis for material welfare and economic security."

"Nothing could be further from my intent," he continued, "than to argue that social security measures are without value to the community, but," he added, "we would deceive ourselves and others if we accept and promulgate the idea that security can emanate effortlessly from government, acting in the role of benevolent and bountiful provider. Government can distribute no benefits that individuals, through their labour, do not provide."

PROBLEMS OF PEACE

Canadians, both those in the fighting forces and those at home, had a right to be proud of their mighty war effort, he said, adding that after six years of conflict a certain amount of war weariness was not unnatural. "But although we are war weary," he continued, "the problems of reconstruction will not bide our time. The 'post-war era', about which so much has been written and said, is no longer a theoretical abstraction. The post-war is here and now; and with it comes the realization that, in its own way, peace will make its demands no less than war."

NEW PEAKS RECORDED

A new high in total assets of $1,715,234,000 was reported by B. C. Gardner in a review of the recently released annual statment. He noted also that deposits had reached a new peak at $1,613,429,000 during the year, an increase of almost $200,000,000 over last year's total. Quick assets for the Bank were reported at $1,464,328,000 and holdings of government and other securities at a total of $1,117,328,000 were announced.

Mr. Gardner said that, in the absence of an adequate demand for commercial loans, the bank also made some purchases of securities in the open market, thus helping to maintain a ready market for Victory Bonds and other government securities in the hands of the public.

He made it clear, however, that the function of the bank as a purchaser of Government securities had arisen from circumstances largely beyond the bank's control, in that the wartime expansion of industry had been accomplished largely through direct Government financial assistance and without the aid of bank credit in form of loans.

"We are hopeful," he said, "that as industry resumes its normal patterns, and as civilian business replaces government contracts, the lending function of the bank will take on increasing importance and scope."

PERSONAL LOANS INCREASE

He noted that there had been a welcome increase in personal loans and stated, "It is not our policy to encourage people to incur unnecessary debts but we believe that our personal loan facilities may play a useful part in a well ordered financial programme and may be used by borrowers in a manner fully consistent with the principles of thrifty and sensible management of their affairs."

"This bank does not deal in money alone. In our day-to-day dealings our managers and staff are concerned with the many human relationships arising out of the financial problems of our customers, both of large and small means, but particularly the latter, who seek assistance from a reliable and trustworthy source."

Mr. Gardner said that the problems of the returning war veterans were receiving special and sympathetic attention.

NO MORE, NO LESS!

The Wheat Pool advocates parity prices for agriculture. This is one important distinction between the Pool and other grain companies. There is nothing mysterious about parity prices. The term means that farm prices should be on a fair level with the prices of goods and services which farmers must buy. Farmers should not expect greater prices than that, and, in all fairness, should not be satisfied with less. —Wheat Pool Budget.

Present Malting Barley Situation Temporary

The present price system whereby producers of feed barleys receive the same equalization fund payments as producers of malting barley, is temporary and concerns this year's crop. In a letter from the Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, which was read at a special meeting of the Marketing Committee of the National Barley and Linseed Flax Committee held in Winnipeg on November 16th under the chairmanship of Prof T. J. Harrison, it was stated, "This is only a temporary thing having to do with this year's crop. It will be made very plain before the seeding of the next crop that farmers cannot rely upon this price for any barley other than malting barley." The Committee reviewed the present barley situation and was pleased to have the assurance of the Hon. J. G. Gardiner that the price situation is temporary and that farmers will be informed officially to this effect. Although the current shortage of feed has prevented the export of malting barley, farmers would be well advised to at least maintain and even expand the production of malting varieties for which malting premiums will again be paid.

Identify Farmers Hogs

The Hog Carcass Grading regulations require that all hogs delivered for slaughter at stockyards and packers' yards be carcass graded and that those who deliver the hogs must conform to certain conditions. These are that all shippers, drovers, and truckers who deliver hogs to grading centres for slaughter are required to (1) Identify each hog in each farmer's lot. (2) Furnish the grader with a record of identifications and farmer ownership. (3) Provide the farmer with a record of the transaction, showing grade, price, and any premiums or deductions. (4) Make settlement on the basis of the official carcass grade. Packers are required to pay for hogs on the basis of the official carcass grade, and to keep proper records of all transactions. An official hog carcass grading service is maintained at 30 packing plants in Canada.

The first Scout meeting held in Tokyo since the conclusion of hostilities was staged by Rover Scouts of the crew of H.M.S. Indefatigable.

Northern Expedition

Winnipeg—To prepare the base camp for the Canadian Army's Operation "Musk-Ox" a group of 25 soldiers left Winnipeg over Canadian National lines late in November to travel to Churchill, Manitoba.

Part of the modern camp, four and one-half miles south of Churchill, recently vacated by United States forces will be used for the base camp, and is expected to be ready for use by an army expedition before the middle of December.

Winterized vehicles, including four closed-in jeeps, bedding, kitchen supplies and rations were also taken along by the camp construction group.

Girlie: Do you believe in love at first sight?"

Sailor: I gotta. I only got two days leave.

New Equipment

Cornwall—Canadian railways are prepared to spend a large amount of money during the next few years for the improvement of their roadbed and tracks, as well as equipment, Mr. J. F. Pringle, vice president and general manager, Canadian National Railways, central region, indicated in a luncheon address to the Kiwanis Club here outlining post-war plans of the C.N.R. he said that these monies were to come from a fund for deferred maintenance set up during the war years.

"In order to meet increased competition for passenger and freight traffic it will be necessary to give most efficient and expeditious service at the lowest possible rates. To do this, our equipment must be up to date," he added.

"Our older and poorer coaches will be discarded, and we already have plans for light weight, stronger passenger cars which will provide greater passenger comfort in the way of seating, fluorescent and indirect lighting, air conditioning tightly locked couplers, improved springs and many other features, impossible to obtain in war time.

In freight service, Mr Pringle pointed out, special types of cars will be developed for handling particular commodities while spring and draft gears will be improved so that freight will be handled with less damage and freight trains will operate on faster schedules.

Provides Seeds For Britain

For the third year in succession Canadian Boy Scouts will sponsor a Seeds for Britain Fund. This fund provides hundreds of pounds of Canadian garden seeds for British Boy Scout victory gardens. Imperial Headquarters of the Movement in London reports remarkable crops from the Canadian seeds.

Heavy Registration in Applied Science

The following registration figures are announced for the Faculty of Applied Science in the University of Alberta. In the first year, 208 students are registered; of these, 48 were direct from high school and 160 from the military services. In the second year, with a total of 140, the proportions are reversed, the figures being 96 to 44. The numbers entered in the third and fourth years are also larger than usual, being 72 and 84 respectively; but the percentage of returned men is, in each case, about 20 per cent.

The normal first year registration of high school graduates has, in recent years, been roughly three times the number accepted this year. Unfortunately, through lack of sufficient space, equipment and teaching staff, a number of these had to be asked to wait their turn, for it seemed only right that every returned man who had the qualifications should be given that chance for which he has waited so long.

Need Seed Oats

Farmers in districts where carlots of seed oats are required are advised by J. E. Birdsall, Supervisor of Crop Improvement Service, to see their elevator agents at once. Arrangements have been completed for elevator agents to ship in and distribute good quality seed oats at a uniform price. There is a strong demand for Alberta oats, so if the good oats are to be kept in the province orders must be placed early. Late ordering may mean disappointment.

[illegible] the aid of the radar "magic eye" apparatus (M 28) Allied bombers were able to pin point their targets and bomb with maximum effect and accuracy through dense cloud or in complete darkness. This apparatus relies for its operation on the discovery that a beam of short-wave electric energy is "echoed" back to its point of origin in varying degrees of intensity by objects on the ground. Water gives no echo, and the strongest echoes come from built-up areas such as towns and cities. From the installations in the aircraft, a beam of radar waves is transmitted, the returned "echo" passes through several stages and finally appears on the face of a cathode ray tube in the form of a map. How accurate these echo maps are is shown by comparing the ordinary map section with the map recorded by M28.

Mrs. V. Moss was a city visitor on Thursday and Friday of last week and Mrs. Lottie Moss on Wednesday and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaglesham attended their son Allan's wedding and reception at Edmonton on the 22nd of November.

Our deepest sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. C. Naumitz in their sad bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatton were city visitors last week. A returned soldier has been staying with them the last couple of weeks.

Mr. Lars Olson drove to Wainwright to attend a teachers' meeting there.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson of Cadogan visited with Mr. and Mrs. Olson on Sunday.

Glen Bailey returned from his visit on Friday evening and reports a good trip.

The Walker men were busy last week making a dug out or reservoir to get water for the stock on the farm by the lake. They used the big cat and Letourneau behind it.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobson attended the Silver Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. John Yoder at the Joe Stauffer home last Sunday.

Westlake

Mrs. Emil Goubault was in the city for a week taking medical treatments. We are pleased to say she is a little better.

The dance given for Charlie Herbert at his home was a big success. Everyone reported a good time.

We hear that Robert Goubault has purchased the Herman Tiedeman place and intends moving on to it in the spring.

Mrs George Lust, also Robert and Dead Goubault were Edmonton visitors. Dead was attending a shower given in her honor by her former girl friends. She received many useful gifts.

George Robinson has been on the sick list for the past week but is now back on the job again.

A horse belonging to Bob Meers was killed on the railway track, a mile east of Lindbrook crossing.

The young folks who left Deville for the big dance at the Beaver Hill hall on the 16th apparently lost their way as nothing as yet has been heard of them.

The Westlake Home Makers Club held their meeting at the [illegible] of Mrs. Bill Herbert. Names had been drawn previously for Christmas presents. Next meeting to be at the home of Mrs. M. Riley.

We are sorry to hear that Mrs. Bill Tiedeman and Mrs. Riley had their geese stolen. Tough luck, ladies.

Ministik

This Community is somewhat dead for news. There seems to be nothing doing just now, or if there is I do not get to hear of it.

The picture show turned up on Friday night at eight o'clock. There was nobody there to open the door for him so he went home to Edmonton, but the dance was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner spent a ten-day visit to Regina last month. They were down there to see their brothers and sisters, some of them they had not seen for 25 years. They had a nice time visiting old friends.

Mr. Homes went to Calgary on Sunday to attend a cattle sale.

There was a telephone meeting at the Hall on Friday afternoon.

We are very glad to hear Mrs. Hennessy is doing well after her illness.

There will be a Basket Social and Dance held at the Hall on December 7th in aid of the children in this district for their Christmas Tree to be held at the Fultonvale Schools.

The truck drivers seem to be busy just now. There were a couple of 'guys' delivering coal at 1:30 a.m. at Ministik. Let's hope the rush will soon be over.

There seems to be a wave of misfortune of burning cars just now in this district. First J. Swabey, then Nels had to set fire to his truck. However both are going strong again now.

Kingman

There will be church services at the Lutheran Church on Sunday evening, December 9th, at 8 o'clock.

There was a large crowd at the Ladies' Aid Sale on Saturday evening. They took in approximately one hundred and twenty dollars.

Mr. R. Peterkin has built himself a new garage.

Mr. Douglas Asp of Edmonton was at home for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Simonson, Vernon Horte of Edmonton visited relatives in Kingman over the week end.

Mr. Hugo Hovelsen is away on a hunting trip this week.

Congratulations to the newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Schmidt.

On Monday evening last, November 26th, a shower was held in the Church basement in honor of Mrs. E. Campbell, nee Miss Adeleine Simonson, who was recently married.

A farewell party was held last week for Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Simonson as he is moving away on another farm.

EAT MORE FISH

Montreal---If figures don't lie, American appetites for Canadian fish are getting bigger. In September, more than 1,816,000 pounds of frozen fish were shipped from the Maritime Provinces to the United States over Canadian National lines. H. H. Sparling, chief of transportation announces. It is a record for any 30-day period. Ninety CNR refrigerator cars went 194,000 miles, some as far as San Francisco.

Canadians were eating more fish too. In the same period, 302,446 lbs. were carried in CNR "reefers" to all sections of the Dominion. Shipments have been showing a continuous increase each month since the return of meat rationing.

Starvation In Europe

The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (U.N.R.R.A.) is set up to afford relief to people in distress in countries---not including Germany---devastated by the war. The U.N.R.R.A. is financed by 31 countries, and each agreed to contribute 1 per cent of its national income of the year 1943. Most countries have paid up in full, including Britain and Canada. The United States, however, still owes 550 million dollars of its share.

The need for funds is much greater than originally expected, so that the Director of the U.N.R.R.A., Mr. Lehman, an American, and General Eisenhower recently pressed the United States to pay up what it still owes. They have further asked all countries to contribute still another one per cent "to alleviate widespread suffering, hunger and cold." One hundred shiploads of foodstuffs a month are now being shipped, but in spite of this the Director stated to Congress a few days ago that "during the month of November, 10,000 people will die of starvation and disease in Warsaw alone."

Mr. Lehman further affirmed that "there is a serious risk of deaths by the millions this winter in Europe from starvation and disease unless considerably more funds are at once made available; that in Europe 100 million people are actually starving or are on the border line of starvation.

Tofield Community League

The December meeting of the league was held in the Town Hall Tuesday December 11 with quite a good attendance. Reports were given on the activities for November which included a Dance in Kallal Sales Co. Store and the Carnival at the last of the month. The total amount swelled the Hall fund by $560.00 which was quite gratifying. Votes of thanks were extended to Kallal Sales Co. and to the Carnival Committee particularly S. Glover for making the carnival a success. Correspondence was read from the Adult Education Association of Alberta re the Leagues interest in Making a Community Centre Here. This association offered material and will send a speaker to address the league on the promotion of community centres, which offer will probably be taken up later.

The following is a report on the Dance and Carnival.

Band Concert Much Enjoied

On Wednesday night the Tofield band, under the leadership of Mr. Herb Chandler, rendered an excellent concert before a good crowd of town and country folk.

Following the concert the local I.O.D.E. sold articles of home cooking and sewing.

W. C. Swift was chairman and very fittingly introduced the band, commenting upon its splendid progress and bestowing well deserved praise on the leader, Mr. Chandler and all the band personnel.

All the numbers were well rendered, the band selections being interspersed by vocal selections and instrumental numbers and duets.

The Program:

O Canada; band selections, Col. Bogey, march, Marjorie Waltz, Washington Post March; Solo, Geo. Holmes; Clarinet Duet; Shirley Stinson, Keith Appleby; Band Novelty Number, Sliding Easy, featuring Rex Boyles and his trombone; Saxophone Duet, Mr. Chandler and Mr. Elliott; Band Selections, Field Day, Nugget Nell, Nifty; Saxophone solo, Mr. Chandler; Duet, Betty Stinson, Norma Scott; Tap Dance, Helen and Jennie Kamaryko; Band; Operatic Mingle, Woodpecker's Song, W.M.B., National Anthem.

Mr. Imler then sold a variety of articles by auction after which a splendid lunch was served.

BAND PERSONNEL

H. Chandler, leader; Geo. Holmes, Geo. McFadzean, Rex Boyles, Bergie Chanler, Leonard Worton, Arnold Swift, Benny Tiedemann, Keith Appleby, Ralph Harrison, L. Abbott, A. Elliott, Jimmie Yakabuski, Don Stinson, Shirley Stinson, Betty Stinson, Jean Torrie, Harvey McGinitie.

Ryley Notes

Mr. Fred Londes, Mrs. Fred Johnson and Mrs. George Nernan were hostesses recently at a shower given in honor of Miss Helen Medwid who was married to Francis Pope on December 1st. The shower was held in the home of Mrs. Fred Londes, quite a number of ladies were present. Helen received some lovely gifts and the good wishes of all who know her. A dainty lunch was served by the hostesses.

Another shower was held at the home of Mrs. Dan Bendiksen last Wednesday afternoon when the ladies got together and 'showered' Mrs. Leonard Johnson, a war bride who has joined our midst. She received some lovely gifts and our good wishes. The ladies served lunch and a good time was had by all.

Mrs. O. Johnson has left to spend several months visiting her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Johnson.

Mrs. Ted Graftaas and Mrs. Lloyd Fobes were hostesses to the United Ladies Aid last Wednesday afternoon. There was a good turn out.

Mrs. Ostrem and Mrs. Lawrence Anderson served in the Parish Hall when the Lutheran Ladies' Aid held their annual meeting and election of offices. Mrs. Krogan was appointed president, Mrs. Killian, vice-president, Mrs. Glenecross secretary, Mrs. Normanson, treasurer.

The Ryley senior hockey team played Mundare on Tuesday evening. This was the first game of the season and on our new rink. Sad to relate Ryley was trounced, the score being 7-2 in favor of Mundare. Better luck next time lads. Line-up Ryley, Donald and Bob Bendiksen, Nick Runka, Neil Jevning, Eddy and Murray Lyons, Bob and Arnold Chappel, James Nichol, Harold Hjelter and Sultan (Seadie Grain Elevator.)

Viking is playing here on Sunday.

Only a fair crowd attended the "Sadie Hawkins" Dance sponsored by the Skating Rink Club.

Mrs. Gilkes of Calgary, President of the Assembly of Rebecca Lodges, visited the Cavell Rebecca Lodges, Tuesday evening, December 4th, and while in Ryley was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo W. Lyons.

Manpower In Agriculture

(Talk by Mr. A. MacNamara, Deputy Minister of Labour, to the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Production Conference, Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, Dec. 3, 1945)

It is a pleasure to be with you again this morning to discuss farm manpower. After listening to me for three years, I thought this year when many of our manpower regulations are being put on the shelf, that you might relegate me to the same position. It is reassuring to know that you have not.

There have been rapid changes in the manpower scene during the last twelve months. We have moved all the way from a most acute shortage of labour last spring and early summer, to a situation of considerable unemployment in some localities today.

Last spring we faced the most serious farm labour shortage of any year of the war. I have no hesitation in saying it was our "number one" problem.

Through the redoubled efforts of farmers themselves and provincial and federal farm labour officials throughout Canada, we were able to meet the outstanding seasonal needs with less difficulty than we had anticipated.

I shall not give you a detailed record of work performed, but it may be of interest to cite a few highlights.

With a more smoothly operating recruiting organization and continued assistance from the railways, we were able to move more than twice as many men as in 1944 from the Prairies to the central provinces for haying and other farm work. More women from the Prairies were transferred, at the same time, to British Columbia for fruit picking.

We also moved, again through our joint program with the provinces, between five and six thousand harvesters from Ontario and Quebec to the Prairies.

As some of you already know great care has been taken in these excursions to select competent workers and those who could be spared from their own farming communities. This has been done through sending individual postcards to farmers and through screening volunteers by local, provincial, and federal farm labour officers. Occasionally misfits have slipped through, but on the whole there has been high praise of the westerners who have come East and of the easterners who have gone West.

Throughout the whole season we have received excellent co-operation from the Armed Services. At the peak of harvesting in September there were over twelve thousand Servicemen, of whom we have record, helping on the farms. Many thousands more, we know, assisted while on furlough or on short term leaves.

The establishment early in the year of Agricultural Labour Survey Committees greatly facilitated the release of men both on leaves and discharges from all three Services. These Committees have reviewed to date over 7,000 applications for the release of Service Personnel to work in agriculture. They have also advised farmers and servicemen on matters concerning release procedure and have served as a valuable liaison between farmers and Service authorities.

In the Maritimes, as well as in other sections, there would have been serious losses of crops had not the Services responded so generously to our appeals. I am sure you will all agree that we owe them a warm vote of thanks for their "all-out" assistance in harvesting our crops.

Appeals to urban workers and students have again received timely responses; not always, it is true, from the most efficient workers but at least from those willing and anxious to help out in increasing food production. Farmers may still be chuckling over incidents which accompanied the first efforts of some of these green, or at least soft, recruits but the farmers, I am sure, appreciated their efforts, and the fresh air and "honest sweat" did the townsfolk good.

Over the year in response to increased needs, we greatly expanded the employment of Prisoner of War both in groups and on individual farms.

Once again with our United States neighbours, we have in effect erased the international boundary. Large numbers of skilled tobacco workers from the southern States helped us, and Canadians from Quebec and the Prairies aided in harvesting potatoes and grain in eastern and western States.

"... and so we'll have to do everything possible to keep little Randolph from learning the truth," Mrs. Hobson announced with prim vehemence to her husband. "After all, what's Christmas without Santa Claus?"

"Golly Neds!" Charles exclaimed, borrowing Butch's favorite expression. "I didn't think any kids believed in the old boy nowadays. And Butch, of all kids! He's so manly—"

"Randolph isn't just any kid, he's my nephew," Helen Hobson replied tartly. Her only sister was now indulging in a prolonged hospital rest. "Randolph is our responsibility for the time being and we simply must give him the finest Christmas possible. Manly or not, he's still a little boy and, Charles," she finished grandly, "we must protect his faith in Santa Claus!"

The next afternoon Helen proudly took her place among the fond parents who watched their children cautiously approach the bearded, red-robed figure seated on a white throne in Kerbinger's toy department. She nearly cried when Butch, a wide grin on his round face, marched straight up to Santa Claus and engaged him in earnest conversation. "Did you tell Santa what you wanted?" she asked in a tremulous voice when Butch rejoined her.

"Did you tell Santa what you wanted?"

The boy smiled up at her, and Mrs. Hobson's heart nearly melted from the warmth in his black eyes. "Sure I did, Aunt Helen," and he recounted the long list.

"These children around here are so sophisticated," she told Charles that evening. "I'm afraid one of them will talk about Christmas and Santa Claus and ruin everything."

Charles rubbed his head. "Children will chatter, Helen," he reminded her. "You can't change Butch into a clam overnight."

"If Randolph doesn't discuss Santa Claus with his friends, he won't learn the truth," Helen explained with jubilant impatience.

"It might work, at that," Charles admitted doubtfully.

It was with misgiving, therefore, that Charles, on a Saturday afternoon when Helen was downtown, heard Butch and a playmate venture a few words on the approaching Yuletide. Charles was reclining on the couch near the bay window and could plainly hear the words through the glass. "Did you see that machine gun in Kerbinger's toyland?" Butch's companion asked.

"You mean the one over near Santa Claus?" Butch parried. "Sure, I saw it. It was swell!"

Santa Claus! Charles held his breath as he heard Butch's playmate laugh. "That Santa Claus," the boy giggled. "What a clown! How can they expect a guy to believe in Santa Claus? As if there could be any such thing!"

Charles scrambled for the front door. Poor Butch—the poor kid—and just a few days before Christmas, too. Charles jerked the door open and bounded to the porch. "Butch!"

"Yes, Uncle Charles," came the slow reply, and Butch peered around the corner of the house. His dark eyes were solemn. Gone was his familiar smile.

"Aw, Butch," Charles mumbled, stumbling down the porch steps to meet the boy. "Butch, I wish this hadn't happened. I don't know what to say—" his voice threatened to break, and he stopped.

Butch looked at the ground for a moment, then raised his eyes. "I'm sorry too, Uncle George," he said. "I forgot I was so close to the house. I didn't want you and Aunt Helen to know."

Charles' brain thumped as if he had received a blow between the eyes from the hoof of one of jolly old St. Nick's reindeer. "Wh—what's that, Butch?"

"Why, I didn't want you and Aunt Helen to know about me and Santa Claus," Butch went on in serious vein. "I was sure you could take it, Unk, but Aunt Helen—aw, shucks, I've been having a great time with her, Uncle George. She gets a big kick out of me acting as if I believe in Santa Claus, so don't tell her the truth." Golly Neds, I don't want to spoil her Christmas!"

Alberta Pool Delegates Meet

Operations of Alberta Pool Elevators for the business year ending July 31st last, resulted in net surplus earnings of $753,966.97 on handlings of 42,798,358 bushels of grain. This information was given the annual convention of Alberta Wheat Pool delegates by R. D. Purdy, manager of the Pool, in presenting his annual report at Wednesday morning's session.

The above financial results were obtained after deducting $622,014.62 for depreciation and $147,716.67 being one year's interest payment to the Alberta government in connection with indebtedness incurred by the 1929 Pool over-payment.

Total earnings showed a decline of approximately $611,000 from the results of the previous year due to the reduction of two cents a bushel in handling charges. Grain handlings of Pool elevators in 1944-45 were up by about a million bushels over handlings in the 1943-44 season.

Mr. Purdy estimated that earnings in the present crop year would be on a diminishing scale in spite of the fact that the two cent cut in handling charges has been restored. Wheat board stocks in store are going down rapidly and the present year's crop is a light one.

The report showed that the Alberta Wheat Pool owns and operates 436 country elevators, one terminal at Vancouver and one terminal at Port Arthur. A second terminal at Vancouver owned by the federal government, is leased by the Pool.

During the past year a sacking plant was constructed in connection with Pool Terminal No. 1 at Vancouver to meet substantial orders from trans-Pacific sources for sacked grain.

The convention opened on Tuesday morning. By the time Wednesday's session was under way all of the seventy delegates were present. Chairmen were selected as follows: John Fowlie of Bindloss, J. M. Wheatley of Chancellor, H. J. Montgomery of Nanton, and Uri Powell of Sexsmith.

The report of the Board of Directors occupied most of the first day's session.

Ben S. Plumer, chairman of the board of directors, stated that a meeting of the boards of directors of the three prairie Wheat Pools would be held in the near future, at which the main point of discussion would be the report of the McDougall commission on co-operative taxation.

Feed Brood Sows Well In Winter

Many inquiries are made by farmers each year about weak and dead pigs in the spring litters and of sows without sufficient milk for their pigs. These conditions generally result from the improper feeding of the bred sows. It is good business to make sure that the bred sows will be well fed this coming winter, says E.B. Fraser, Division of Animal Husbandry, Central Experimental Farm Ottawa.

The main essential in the winter feeding of brood sows is to supply bone and muscle building feeds in ample amounts to maintain the sows in medium flesh. Bone building material in the form of a swine mineral mixture should be included in the sow's feed unless a mixed protein-mineral supplement is used. Muscle building protein is essential to the development of the unborn litter. The milk by-products, mixed protein concentrate, tankage, and fish meal are all good protein feeds for this purpose. Vitamins are also necessary, and here the most easily available feeds are well cured alfalfa and clover hay. One of the simplest ways of feeding the hay is to give the sows free access to it in a hay rack outdoors. When hay is not available or is of poor quality some other vitamin feed should be supplied. An even better, though more expensive vitamin feed, is a feeding oil such as cod liver oil. Then lastly, the major portion of the brood sow ration will consist of common farm grains such as oats, barley, and wheat. A mixture of the grains is desirable and care should be taken not to include too great a proportion of barley and wheat, as these might make the sows overfat and clumsy.

There are many combinations of feeds suitable for the winter feeding of brood sows. The problem in each individual case is to make use of the feeds available and combine with these such additional feeds as are necessary. Literature on swine raising which indicates suitable feed mixtures for swine can be obtained by writing to Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

TEST SEED OATS FOR GERMINATION

Warning that disappointment may result from next years oat crop unless germinating ability of the seed is assured, J. E. Birdsall, Supervisor of Crop Improvement, Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that special precautions should be taken in those districts where frost damage occurred this fall. A germination test can be made at home, but those who desire an offical test may prefer to send a sample to the Plant Products Division Dominion Department of Agriculture, Immigration Building, Calgary.

Mr. Birdsall advises those who intend to have seed tested in this way to forward their samples as soon as possible. If left until January or later the staff of the laboratory will be so busy that it may be some time before the report is received. A one pound sample of seed to be tested should be provided, and a fee of 75 cents to cover costs should be sent at the same time as the sample.

Great Christmas Carols Work of Inspired Clergy

Since that first Christmas when the angels sang "Glory to God on Highest," music has been a vital part of the holiday season, schools, churches and homes ring with joyous hymns and songs. The first singing of carols in the streets, we are told, was in the year 1224.

When we think of Christmas we think of the pictures you see on Christmas cards of houses almost buried in snow, candles burning in windows, and carolers grouped around a doorway, singing with all their hearts to the distant peal of church bells. Christmas must have been picturesque in those days, no automobiles whizzing by, just the merry jingle of sleigh bells.

"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" was written in 1739 by Charles Wesley, younger brother of John Wesley, who founded the Methodist denomination, but was not published until 1856. Inspiration for the poem came to Wesley as he walked to church one Christmas morning.

Bishop Phillip Brooks, rector of the Holy Trinity church in Philadelphia, was asked by his Sunday school children to write a Christmas song, so in 1868 he produced "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem." After writing the hymn, he went to the church organist and asked him to furnish a tune. The organist, Lewis H. Redner, says the air came to him in a Christmas dream, and it was finished for the next day's services.

Origin of 'Silent Night.'

But most beloved of all Christmas music is "Holy Night, Silent Night," written, we are told, by Father Josef Mohr, who found himself without means of music for the Christmas services because mice had eaten the bellows of the church organ. Father Josef was greatly troubled over the calamity, and as he returned from administering rites to a dying woman he stood on a hilltop, at midnight, and it came to him that it must have been just such a silent night that the Christ child was born, so he went home and composed the words to our famous Christmas hymn.

Then, of course, it needed music, so he went to his old schoolmaster, Franz Gruber. And so Franz played his guitar and Father Josef sang a Christmas hymn that will never die.

Few think of this lovely hymn without remembering how we watched our radio dial at Christmas time for its rendition by one of the most beloved of singers, Madame Schumann-Heink.

Oh, those were days of simplicity, when rectors casting about for suitable Christmas programs turned poets, and organists turned composers to furnish the music, music that goes on forever.

They would, indeed, be gratified if they could hear our present Christmas day programs, pouring out of a little cabinet in the corner, their labors of love have come a long way from that steel guitar and a gentle voice replacing a nibbled bellows, they'd be surprised to learn their flock now does its Christmas shopping to their inspirational tunes.

St. Nick Shied From Attention for His Gifts

The stocking custom is said to have started with St. Nicholas, original of Santa Claus, a Greek bishop, Nicholas of Myra, who lived in the fourth century. He was both generous and shy, and hated to be thanked for the presents he was continually making to those in need.

Once he climbed to a roof top and dropped a purse of gold down the chimney so that he would not be seen. The money, instead of falling in the fire, lodged in a child's stocking that had been hung up to dry on the mantelpiece.

His act became known, and thereafter whenever unexpected gifts came from unknown sources they were attributed to St. Nicholas.

THE TOFIELD MERCURY

W. Worton, Publisher

FAREWELL TO THE DEAN—

IT WAS THE LAST THURSDAY in July 1918 that the first issue of the Tofield Mercury came off the press, cranked out by hand by brute strength and perhaps with some ignorance. Realizing the importance of country correspondence to a country weekly newspaper, and to the districts within which a country weekly newspaper circulates, we commenced to enquire as to whose aid we could enlist. We were very fortunate, as while during the intervening twenty-seven years, there has been many different correspondents to the Mercury, we were able in the first year or so of our business existence here, to have four or five who "stayed with us" for very many years. We cannot remember just in what sequence they came but we do recall that we felt ourselves under an obligation to Mrs. W. Sears, Ketchamoot; the late Mrs. Hill, Bardo; Mrs. Flaaten, Amisk Creek; the late Mrs. Zoe Phillips, Lakeshore and Pete Holland, Lindbrook. They all recorded the doings of their respective districts in the columns of the Mercury for a long, long time, and by so doing not only were an invaluable aid to this newspaper, but no doubt rendered a valuable service to their respective districts. The service is all the more creditable because it was of a purely voluntary nature.

This writing appears because this week we publish Ketchamoot News from a new writer and learn that Mr. and Mrs. W. Sears have left for Edmonton and will reside there at least for some time. We are, of course, very sorry to know that Mrs. Sears has laid her correspondence pen down, but we are quite sure that having kept the community informed of the happenings in her district for so many years, she can do so with the full satisfaction that a service exceptionally well rendered, gives. In saying farewell to the "dean" of Mercury correspondents, we extend our thanks for the many favors rendered and express the wish that Mr. and Mrs. Sears may have many years of happy retirement before them.

CHRISTMAS DAY AT HOME—

FOR THE FIRST TIME in many years, postmasters and staffs will be able to spend the whole of Christmas day at home. As is well known, the Tofield, and most likely other small town post offices, have always opened for an hour or so on Christmas morning for last minute callers for mail. This year the offices will be closed up tight all day. No doubt there will be some mail come in on Christmas morning regardless of what is said or done, but the general public are urged to get all their Christmas mail away several days before Christmas. It is surprising how quickly the Day creeps up on a person and the only sure thing, if you haven't already done all your Christmas shopping and mailing, is to do it now.

Now we are on this post office mailing topic, we can say something that has been on our mind for a long, long time. Year in and year out, Tofielders have had more than average small town post office service. We refer particularly to box holders. From shortly after eight in the morning, to well on into the evening, mail can be taken from boxes any day except Sunday. The evening service is the little extra we refer to because to do this the postmaster or assistant has to make an extra trip from his home each night. At six o'clock down comes the wicket, and the west bound mail is left in a state of readiness to be taken to the train. The staff goes home for supper having to be back in time to get the mail down to the train. The train comes in about seven o'clock and the in coming mail is taken to the post office and sorted. The staff then goes home again leaving the outside door open for the benefit of box holders. A special trip has to be made each night to lock the outside door.

Planning The 1946 Farming Operations

(Experimental Farms News)

Farming at its best involves many hazards, says G. E. DeLong, Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta. Planning is as necessary and important in farming as in any other business enterprise. Farm planning assumes increasing importance for the abnormal conditions which may prevail during the post war period, during which the price cycle may take an inflationary whirl and later dip to low levels.

Seed, live stock and equipment are a farmer's operating capital. Costs are higher and profits are less than they should be on many farms because the operators lack sufficient working capital and are using inferior seed and live stock and are trying to farm with obsolete and worn out equipment.

Off type and under finished live stock have glutted the market at some marketing points and are in the downward phase of the price cycle. Other off grade farm products which have no Government price support may find themselves in a similar position. All of which should be a warning that all operations should be planned in such a way that only the best grain, live stock and other farm products will be produced.

High cost of production will probably continue for some time after prices drop. Farm incomes may decline and profits may shrink. Cost of production should therefore be reduced in every way possible.

Information compiled at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, indicates that the best way to reduce cost of production is to do everything possible to increase the yield and quality of farm crops. The use of the best seed of the most suitable varieties, the use of suitable commercial fertilizers, the use of cultural practices which will control weeds, the treatment of seed to control disease and the adoption of a diversified crop rotation which makes use of grasses and legumes to increase root fibre in the soil and improve tilth and fertility are all involved. In brief, the practice of improved and modern farming methods will reduce cost of production to the lowest possible minimum under existing conditions.

A sound plan which takes into consideration the possibilities of drought, frost, lower prices, the weed problem, labour difficulties, and all the other difficulties to which agriculture is heir may result in a farmer not being one of those who may be forced to liquidate when markets are low or when drought or hail strikes.

The next few years may be the most critical in the history of agriculture. A workable and efficient plan of operation for the farm is the best safeguard against any uncertainties the future may bring. Farm planning will pay big dividends both in money and in the satisfaction which comes as a result of having accomplished something worth while. The Experimental Station, Lacombe, or your nearest Experimental Station or other Agricultural Institution or Service will be glad to help you evolve a workable plan for your farm.

Christmas Suggestions

The outburst of Christmas cheer, the chiming of the bells, the worship, the feast, the fun and all that goes to make a Merry Christmas, are customs inherited from a long line of ancestors and from many countries. Warm hospitality at this season is a tradition of long standing, so we gather our families, our friends, and those for whom we are making Christmas, to share the happiness of the day.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, offer a few suggestions to simplify some of the homemakers problems.

In keeping with the Christmas colour scheme the salad should be red. The choice is between cranberries, tomato juice and beets. A jellied salad will be the easiest to prepare and serve, since it requires only garnishing with greens and dressing at the last minute.

Dessert will probably be plum pudding or mince pie, but it is wise to have an alternative dessert for the children and those who may have already indulged rather heartily in the first course. An old-time homemade vanilla custard ice cream served with a red fruit sauce is just right. If the ice cream cannot be made at home, it may be purchased the day before Christmas if the weather is cold enough to keep it outdoors, or there is other suitable storage.

JELLIED BEET RING

1 tablespoon gelatine
one-quarter cup cold water
1 cup juice from canned beets or water
2 tablespoons light corn syrup
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons prepared horseradish
one-third cup vinegar
1 cup diced celery
1 cup diced cooked beets

Soak gelatine in cold water for 5 minutes. Bring beet juice or water to boiling point. Add soaked gelatine and stir until dissolved. Add corn syrup, salt, horseradish and vinegar. Chill. When mixture begins to thicken, stir in celery and beets. Pour into a moistened ring mould and chill until firm. Unmould on salad greens and fill centre with cabbage salad. Six servings.

MINCEMEAT UPSIDE-DOWN PUDDING

This pudding requires more mincemeat than pie, therefore is luscious and juicy but easy on the shortening.

1 and a half cups sifted pastry flour OR one and a third cups sifted all-purpose flour.
2 and a half teaspoons baking powder
Half teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons shortening
one-quarter cup granulated sugar
1 egg, well beaten
Half cup milk
Mincemeat

Sift together the dry ingredients. Cream shortening slightly, add sugar and egg. Blend well. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk, to make rather a thin batter. Decorate the bottom of a well-greased pudding mould with a few toasted almonds. Spread with a generous layer of mincemeat. Fill mould no more than two-thirds full with batter. Cover and steam over rapidly boiling water about one and three-quarters hours. Turn out and serve hot with hard sauce or a hot pudding sauce. Six servings.

COLD "PLUM" PUDDING

2 tablespoons gelatine
one-quarter cup cold water
one and a half cups boiling water one-quarter cup brown sugar
one-eighth teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
1 cup dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoon granulated sugar half teaspoon cinnamon
one-quarter teaspoon ground cloves
1 orange, juice and grated rind
1 lemon, juice and grated rind
one-quarter cup chopped nuts
one-half cup raisins
one-quarter cup citron or mixed peel

Dissolve gelatine in cold water. Add boiling water, brown sugar and salt. Let it stand until partially set. Melt butter, add crumbs and granulated sugar. Stir over low heat until well browned. Beat jelly until light. Add other ingredients, pour into a greased mould. Chill until set. Six servings. Serve with foamy or custard sauce.

NEED MORE PEOPLE

Montreal—Canada's first postwar immigration movement is made up of the 40,000 wives and children of Canadian soldiers, J. S. McGowan, director of the department of colonization and agriculture, Canadian National Railways, said in an address at the Montreal regional conference of the Canadian Conference of Business Newspaper editors. "And a very welcome and constructive one it is too," he added.

"This country of ours cannot develop and progress as it should without more people. The admission of more people, far from creating problems for us, would increase our prosperity and assist in our future development," said Mr. McGowan.

What Was Legend of Star in the East?

"The New Testament does not guide us in attempting to identify the Christmas star," Dr. Dinsmore Alter, director of the Griffith observatory, Los Angeles, Calif., states.

"We know what the heavens appeared like 2,000 years ago and there is only one reasonable theory for the announcement of the Wise Men, who said, in Matthew II, 2:

"'Where is He that is born King of the Jews, for we have seen His star in the east and are come to worship him?'"

"In 6 B. C., there was a grouping of three planets—Jupiter, Saturn and Mars—which might have provided the ancients with their long-awaited sign of the Nativity.

"One year earlier—7 B. C.—Jupiter, Saturn and Venus were similarly grouped.

"What makes the astronomer pause at accepting this theory is the passage in Matthew which reads, 'The star went before them.' That, many scientists assume, must have been a psychological rather than an actual visual impression."

Mince Pies Were Symbolic Of Magi's Visit to Manger

The Christmas mince pie had a Christian symbolism in the beginning. The pies represented the gold, frankincense and myrrh brought by the Three Wise Men to the manger; the crust symbolized the gold, and the mixture of spices the frankincense and myrrh. Originally the pies were made oblong and followed the shape of the manger.

There was a superstition that there was no luck in store for the man or woman who did not eat a mince pie at Christmas. To eat one, it was believed, was to be sure of having at least one happy month. To enjoy a year of happiness, a person had to eat one pie on each of the twelve days after Christmas.

Chimp Christmas

The two performing chimpanzees of the Philadelphia zoo are guests each year at a Christmas party. Here one of them finds that the apples and carrots decorating the tree are very tasty. One of the chimps plays Santa Claus at the annual affair.

Serving of Boar's Head One of Old Yule Customs

Of the customs that grew up around the Christmas festival in Merrie England, the serving of the boar's head was one of the most stirring. It endures to this day at Queen's college, Oxford, where the 50-pound tusked head—a lemon in its grinning jaws—is borne in on a great silver dish, escorted by trumpeters and candle bearers. It is served up with a wonderous flourish of music and mustard at the high table where sit the dons.

In the olden days there was an appropriate chant, half carol and half ritual, that the gentlemen used to bellow at the moment the dish touched the board:

Then set down the swineyard,
The foe to the vineyard,
Let Bacchus crown his fall.
Let this boar's head and mustard
Stand for pig, goose and custard,
And so ye are welcome all.

God Rest Ye . . .

God rest ye merry, gentlemen,
Let nothing you dismay,
For Jesus Christ, our Savior,
Was born upon this day
To save us all from Satan's power
When we were gone astray.
O, tidings of comfort and joy
For Jesus Christ, our Savior,
Was born on Christmas day.

Late Christmas

There are still millions of Christians who observe January 6 or January 7 as Christmas. They allow for the 12 days difference in the old calendar and the new. The Eastern Orthodox observes January 7. In North Carolina one church group observes January 6, as do a number of other sects.

Theme Changes

The Nativity theme in Christmas carols gave way to the sentiment: "Bring us in good ale."

PENICILLIN FROM CANADIAN FARMS

Canadian farmers will soon be playing an important part in the control of such diseases as typhoid and dysentery. Milk sugar extracted from whey and fed to the penicillium mould from which penicillin is retained, will be used to produce the new wonder drug, streptomycin, the Dominion Department of Agriculture has announced.

Canadian drug manufacturers are understood to be planning full scale production of streptomycin in the near future. The drug is outstandingly effective against diseases caused by gram negative bacteria, comparatively few of which are suppressed by penicillin.

Production of both drugs in Canada has been made possible by the Dominion Department of Agriculture's organizing the collection of whey from cheese factories in parts of Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec. Transported in tank-trucks to a condensary in New York State, the whey is processed into milk sugar and whey powder. Most of this milk sugar and some of the whey powder returns to Canada, the sugar for use in drugs and baby foods and the powder for enhancing the vitamin content of livestock feeds.

Tens of millions of pounds of Canadian whey have been converted to these special products in the past two and one-half years.

A 500-TON JOB

Winnipeg---Chipping away at a five-hundred-ton block of concrete suspended some sixty feet high is no small job but it was done on the Assinaboine River high-line bridge of the Canadian National Railways at Winnipeg. A crew of ten men, with the use of air drills, broke down the huge concrete counterweight of the lift span and the bridge has now become a fixed structure.

The men crawled over the big weight like ants, breaking off pieces of concrete which fell into a large wooden shute and slid to the river bank below. Inside the concrete was a steel truss work which also had to be dismantled and taken down. The bridge carries all the freight and passenger trains of the C.N.R. to and from the West, and the trains were not interrupted in the slightest during the operation.

BUNGALOWS FROM SCRAP

London---Five great United Kingdom bomber factories are now turning out the world's finest prefabricated houses. This was revealed recently by Mr. Arthur Woodburn, Parliamentary Secretary of the Ministry of Aircraft Production. Mr. Woodburn who was opening the first aluminum house erected in Blackpool, England said: Beating bombers into bungalows is the modern version of turning swords into ploughshares". Fifty thousand bungalows will be produced in the United Kingdom in the next year or two from a thousand tons of aluminum scrap recovered from obsolete aircraft.

Ministik

Don't forget the Xmas Church service on Sunday, December 23rd. I believe Mr. E. Nix is to be the preacher. He is on his way back home from England and Europe now.

Betty and Sheila Barnes are taking music lessons from Mrs. S. George. She say they are both very promising pupils.

Our expert turkey killer was kept busy last week killing. Mr. Young the buyer said that Mrs. E. Stevens birds were a splendid lot.

We are glad to hear that Ralph is doing well after his accident. He cut his knee with an axe.

Miss M. Oliver is spending the winter in the city.

Mrs. A. J. Leach had her grandchildren staying with her over the week end while their parents were in the city doing Christmas shopping.

We hear that Bill George has sold his car. He is waiting to get a more up-to-date one.

Gordon Bell has sold his truck. We are glad he has got rid of that bunch of trouble.

J. Swabey has traded his engine No. 1 for some lumber which will go towards his new barn in the future.

C. B. Leach is having a furnace put into his house.

Leslie Whitford is on his way home from overseas. He has landed in New York.

Listen for messages from Bruce George at Fort Graham on "Hello the North' program. He is coming home for a holiday next summer. He was married last summer.

Shorty (Walter) George is still somewhere near the Artic Circle with an oil company.

Sid Whitford expects to come back to this district and start farming again. At present he is in Calgary.

If Mrs. Carr, late of Ministik, now in B.C., sees this news in the Mercury, will she write to the ladies of the U. F. W. A. They have not heard from her for a long time and are wondering if she is still alive.

The U.F.W.A. meeting of this month had to be put of. The secretary, Mrs. D. R. Swabey has not come back from the city yet, which together with sickness caused it to be called off until next month.

The basket social and dance put on by the Fultonvale schools at Ministik hall last Friday night was a great success. They made about $45.00 clear, which is to go to buy the school a gramaphone. The Department will supply the records. The baskets fetched a good price, several went up to $5.00.

The annual meeting of the Memorial hall will be held on Thursday, December 27th at 8:30 p.m. Come everybody as there is a good deal of business to attend to. Don't forget the date.

The social which was to have been held by the UFWA ladies on Monday, December 17th, is cancelled until further notice.

On December 5th the regular meeting of the Jr. UFA was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kleinschroth with seven members and six visitors present. The meeting opened with the singing of Carry-On. Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Account of our last dance was given by the secretary and a motion was passed to discontinue our dances until after the New Year. The amount turned over to the Hall Board for the building fund was $86.67. We are holding a whist drive on Wednesday, December 19th.

Weslake

We hear Mrs. Wm. Herbert is confined to bed with a bad leg. We hope you will be up and around soon Mrs. Herbert.

Edfonton visitors this week were Mrs. E. Tiedeman, Victor Gouboult, Mrs. Hooper and Mrs. Robinson.

Pte. Geodge Weslake has been visiting his brother Pat's farm and riding some of his old pet horses. Just like old times George eh?

It seems we are to have a new neighbor, Mr. Charley Cook is moving into the Shupe place.

Miss Lila Story is pretty busy training the children for the Christmas concert which is to be on the 19th of December.

Mr. Young is collecting many of the turkeys in the district. Some real good birds are ready.

"... SO NOW WE'LL HAVE A BANKER IN THE FAMILY!"

"Well, Bob has finally decided! When he's finished school he wants to go to work in a bank. And I'm glad—for a lot of reasons..."

He'll get a thorough training, and can even receive university instruction in banking and economics while he is working. Banking isn't learned in a day, but he'll get lots of help—and every opportunity to move up as he proves himself. The road to the top is wide open, and offers:

SECURITY AND PEACE OF MIND

Social security is a phrase prominent in public discussions these days, but the practice of it is not new. Consider the banks and their employees:

1. Pension Funds, to which, with their employees, banks themselves contribute substantially, make it possible for employees to devote all their business lives to banking, sure of an income for life when they reach the age of retirement.
2. Annual vacations with pay.
3. Ordinary sick leave with pay, and special sick leave arrangements in special cases.
4. Group life insurance contributed to jointly by banks and employees.
5. Good working conditions.
6. Unlimited opportunity for enterprise and advancement.

Banks and their staffs, in co-operation with each other, have made it possible for the latter to enjoy a well-founded sense of permanency and security.

The regular December meeting of the M.D. of Beaver was held on Friday, December 13th and 14th. The Council adjourned on Friday at 5:15 p.m. and will meet again Wednesday, December 19th to finish up business for the year.

Thursday's meeting was devoted to road work and road machinery problems, apportioning the larger road building units between the seven divisions. There were no press representatives present but the following is a general outline of the arrangements arrived at.

The new caterpillar tractor and 14 yard scraper goes to divisions four and five, Councillors Anderson and Swabey. The D8 cat and 10 yard scraper at large between divisions 1, 2, 3, 6, and 7, Councillors Ovens, Lucas, Moen, Laskoski and Giebelhaus.

The former M.D. of Patricia elevating grader and caterpillar tractor between divisions six and seven, Councillors Giebelhaus and Lucas.

The former M.D. of Cornhill elevating grader and caterpillar tractor between divisions two and three, Councillors Laskoski and Moen.

The new 99 Austen Westen between divisions three, four and five, Councillors Moen, Anderson and Swabey.

No. 12 Caterpillar grader between divisions one and seven, Councillors Ovens and Giebelhaus.

A new one on order between divisions six and seven, Councillors Lucas and Laskoski.

The old No. 20 is in process of being sold.

Friday's meeting got under way in the forenoon and the formal adoption of the minutes of the previous meeting and the monthly financial statement was proceed with.

A number of items of business on the agenda were attended to prior to the arrival of the Mercury representative, but nothing of outstanding importance.

The secretary explained it was necessary for purpose of office records to cancel some taxes from time to time and on motion of Councillor Swabey this was formally attended to.

Letter was received from Mrs. Arbon referring to a previous letter. Mrs. Arbon's first letter had by mistake been filed away and had not come before previous sessions of council. Mr. Arbon was hurt while working in an Edmonton packing plant and is now unable to carry on his farming operations.

On the motion of Councillor Moen Mr. Arbon's case will be taken up with the Workman's Compensation Board people. The same motion requested Reeve Anderson to visit the Arbon farm and issue temporary relief if necessary.

Afternoon Session:

A machinery salesman interviewed council re purchasing some road maintainers.. Council did not buy any.

Mr. Sutherland, reeve of the M.D. of Wainwright made a courtesy call on Council, to see as he expressed it, "if he could learn anything." He was introduced to council by the reeve and after a few brief remarks just sat in and listened.

Mr. Tomlinson of Bruce interviewed Council regarding title to a lot there. This was the "titular tangle" refered to in our last council report. It was finally decided to sell Mr. Tomlinson the lot for "taxes paid", as a way out of a peculiar property problem. A bylaw governing this was given three readings and the deal will go to the Minister for approval.

Mr. Peter Osadchuk interviewed council re the non receipt of a gravel cheque. There was some question of ownership of the land involved and Council to be sure in the matter had withheld the cheque for a time. Mr. Osadchuk was given the cheque after stating that there was no question as to his ownership of the land.

Letter from M.D. of Eagle asking that road machinery and culvert deal be closed. On the motion of Councillor Lucas, the M.D. of Eagle will be paid $3000.00 for their share in an elevating grader and tractor less $713.00 for cement culverts supplied the M.D. of Eagle.

On the motion of Councillor Moen an agricultural relief lien filed against the S.W. 30-49-17, w4, was cancelled.

Mrs. Winder wrote regarding people using a road across her farm and not closing gates, thereby causing her great inconvenience. This will be investigated.

Mr. Harvie, Edmonton, submitted a plan for a new M.D. office. A building permit was applied for early this year.

Letter from hospital re Mrs. Nickerson. Mr. Nickerson owns property both in M.D. of Beaver and Town of Tofield, but actually lives within the limits of the Town of Tofield. For hospitalization purposes Council considered the Nickersons town residents.

Letter from Woods' Christian Homes. On the motion of Councillor Moen a Christmas grant of $10.00 will be sent to them.

The Viking News wrote offering to supply copies of the News to M.D. of Beaver residents within its area at the regular price of $2.00 per year. Council had previously approached the News and because of newsprint and other problems the News had expressed itself as being unfavorable to any such arrangement. On the motion of Councillor Giebelhaus secretary was requested to write the News saying that Council did not wish to accept the offer.

Letter from Calgary Power re fire hazard to posts due to stubble burning. Council promised to co-operate.

Reports of the recent convention were given by the reeve and some of the councillors attending. Mr. Roddick, fieldman, also gave his report. On the motion of Councillor Moen, the reports were adopted.

The secretary stated that a need existed for a new calculator. On the

"OUT OF THE STRONG"—

No matter what other thoughts surge around us this Christmastide, and to all of us there are many, the outstanding thought is that this Christmas is a peaceful one. Six successive Christmasses have gone by, each beclouded by the shadow of war, and now at long last, with the sun of good will breaking through the clouds of suspicion we celebrate a Christmas season with guns silent and swords sheathed. And as this peacetime Christmas draws closer, the memory of a picture on a syrup can, incongruous as it may seem, forces itself upon our mind, for at the bottom of the picture was the biblical quotation, "out of the strong came forth sweetness." For while perhaps there is a different meaning, yet it is quite as true that "out of the strong came forth sweetness," the sweetness of this peacetime Christmas.

The Mercury hopes that all its readers may enjoy all the good things of the season to the full.

Messages From The Churches

Rev. Seamon Krup, B.A., Pastor,
Tofield First Baptist Church.

CHRISTMAS is a season of rejoicing and well it may be, for it is the time when we think of giving, a time of sending friends messages of cheer. Today I want you to think of something deeper than these things, the real meaning of Christmas. Bethlehem is the scene of God's greatest gift to man, His beloved Son, "The Gift of Gifts, all other gifts in one."

Bethlehem is the scene of the angel's glad message: "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

Is is any wonder there is a universal celebration of the Saviour's birth!

Nazareth is the scene of the only perfect life ever lived on this earth.

But Calvary is the scene of the finished work of the Saviour. There the infinite price of our redemption was paid in full. And what a price that was!

This greatest gift is still waiting to be received at Calvary's tree. Will you receive God's greatest gift?

Rev. H.B. Ricker, B.A., B.D.,
United Church

THE SUPREME GIFT

After six years of war, this peacetime Christmas should have special significance and meaning for us all. That song of the angelic host, "Peace on earth, good will toward men," will sound a little less strange this year and will strike a more realistic note in our world.

Christmas has come to be a time when we give and receive gifts, but let us not forget about the greater gifts of the spirit which cannot be wrapped—such gifts as truth, honour, humility, peace and love. These are so needed everywhere. And most of all may we remember with deepest gratitude, God's supreme gift to our world, that of His Son, the Saviour of Mankind. Without the joy of possessing and sharing this precious gift Christmas loses its warmth, its glow and its divine meaning.

There was no room for the Christ in the inn at Bethlehem but they did not realise as we do the true nature of that life. May we truly open our hearts wide at this Christmastide to receive Him, that like the shepherds of the Judaean hills, we too may return from our Christmas pilgrimage, glorifying and praising God for all the things we have heard and seen.

A White Christmas? A Green Christmas?
No Matter the Color!
Our wish is that Your Christmas May Be a Truly Happy One!

Ministik

We were sorry to hear about Henry Heitman's illness. However, he is much improved and expect to come home some time this week.

Mrs. Heitman's father and sister is staying with her sister, Mrs. H. Heitman while Henry is in the hospital.

We hear that Fred Singer is back in this district for the winter.

Mr. F. Williams is in the city under the doctor's care. He expects to be home by Christmas.

Eddie Wensel is working for Mr. Horlick up on Ministik.

Mrs. S. Baumgartner spent the week end in the city visiting her son John and family.

John Henye was a visitor to the city last week.

We have had a letter from the Church Students Supply that there will be no student available for our Christmas service as they are all going home for the holidays. So services will be cancelled until further notice.

Last Sunday a nice bunch of our boys and girls were at a skating party at C.B. Leach's slough.

We are glad to hear that Joan Hennessy is getting along fine after her illness.

Mrs. D. R. Swabey is home again after spending a few weeks with friends in the city.

Don't forget the Hall annual meeting on December 27th at 8:30 in the hall.

On behalf of the community we wish the editor and staff a Very Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year. We hope to see him in his new location by this time next year.

Some of Mr. H. Heitman's neighbors hauled firewood for him this week. Henry is on the sick list so that will be a great help to him.

Bardo
